The following despatches have been received by R. M. Poussett & Co. from Moore & Marshall, of New York and [illegible]:

New York, Dec. 27th, 12.40 p.m.—The tone in the general stock market, late yesterday, while mostly due to coverings of shorts and buying by the traders' clique for a rise, was fairly well maintained to-day, despite the fact that the speculation continued largely professional, and the bank statement was disappointing. The fear of continued high rates throughout next week for call money had a restraining influence, and in some quarters caused profit-taking and selling for a re-action, but despite all these things, the market maintained a good undertone, and closed in fairly good shape to respond to any new bullish developements. The good effect of a favourable settlement of Venezuela episode is regarded as considerably important among the larger operators and banking interests and it is believed it will be further manifested in speculation when money market permits of operations on long side on more liberality than at present. In the meantime underlying conditions surrounding general market are in favour of ultimately higher prices.

M. & M.

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Prices Were High but the Buyers Were Chary.

This morning's market was not very large, but the prices at which the produce was held, were high. The buyers were slow in buying, perhaps, because of the abundance consumed at Christmas. Turkeys were held at from $1.25 to $2 each; chickens, 60 and 70c per pair; geese, $1 and $1.25 each; no ducks were offered; butter went at 20c per lb., and eggs at 20 and 22c per doz.

George Street Church.

The Christmas music to be given in George street Methodist church to-morrow promises to be of a most interesting character.

The Christmas music to be given in the George street Methodist church to-morrow promises to be most interesting. At the morning service the choir will sing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," by Stainer; Solo by G. W. Mulligan; Hymn, "Hark the Glad Sound, the Saviour Comes"; Lesson Anthem, "Break Forth Into Joy," by Sir Arthur Berridge, full choir; Hymn, "Joy at the Redeemer's Birth"; Offertory Anthem, "The Birthday of the King," by Neidlinger; solo by Mr. Bert Turner; Hymn, "The Star in the East"; Organ Postelude, Transcription of Acteseteficles.

Evening Service—Organ Voluntary, "Festival March," by Dunster. Mrs. Mowat; Doxology; Hymn, "Glory to God in the Highest"; Anthem, "O Come All Ye Faithful," Novello; Lesson Anthem, "The First Christmas Morn," by Ernest Newton, full choir; Hymn, "Hark, What Mean Those Holy Voices," Solo and Quartette, "Calm on the Listening Ear of Night," Masston, the Misses Chasity and Messrs. Miller and Turner, Mr. Turner taking the solo; Offertory Solo, "The Pilgrim's Dream," by Adam Gelbel, Mr. G. W. Mulligan; Hymn, "Angels From the Realms of Glory"; Organ Postelude, "Hallelujah Chorus," Messiah.

FAIRBURN VS. QUINN.

The Examiner neglected during the time the non-jury sitting was in progress, to mention the case of Fairburn vs. Quinn. This was an action that was brought by M. Fairburn, A. Smith against Quinn for trespass and damages alleged to have been committed to the crop of the plaintiff. The plaintiff was awarded $5.00, and the defendant was ordered to pay the costs of the action. Mr. George Edmison for plaintiff; R. E. Wood and E. B. Stone for defendant.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

The Woman of Forty.

"To be beautiful should be the object in a woman's career until she is forty, after which she should become a power," was the dictum of a modern French writer. It was also a Frenchman who remarked that a woman past forty should either take the veil or be abolished. Miss Janet Achurch, the well-known actress, rather inclined to the former view in a lecture which she delivered at the Pharos Club on "The Woman of Forty or Thereabouts." The woman who has passed the confines of youth, said the lecturer, had come to be regarded as of much greater importance than she was, say, twenty years ago. The changes in her status could best be seen by consulting the novelists. From the period of Fielding to that of Thackeray the girl of seventeen was always the centre of attraction, and she always disappeared after her wedding day. After Thackeray came the long innings of the woman of thirty.

The woman of forty ought to be the happiest of women. She had peculiar privileges possessed by no other woman. She was not troubled with anxiety like her younger sisters at crossing the borderland of youth. Her future was more clearly defined—for at forty had she not chosen and settled down in her career—irrevocably chosen, too, her man? (Laughter.) Loneliness was a bogey. Remorse was the only thing she need beware of. If she had a profession she was at her best at forty. She could act better, paint better and write better. In conclusion Miss Achurch thought that the age of forty should be looked forward to as an inheritance rather than dreaded by every woman.—London Chronicle.

The Policeman's Dilemma.

A London newspaper tells this anecdote: "Last evening a strolling policeman was passing the barrow of a costermonger who was weighing out plums to a customer. The coster, as costers do, quickly chucked off the top plum as overweight. The policemen, as policemen do, took a casual plum as his perquisite. But the biter was bit, for his teeth ground hard upon the iron simulacrum of a plum. It was the very one the coster had thrown off the balance. Now, what could a policeman do? As a gentleman he could neither prosecute, for the situation was a delicate one, nor steal a business asset. He took the right course. He returned the iron plum to the stall and took a real one."

* * * *

Some very interesting figures are given in the following report on the death rate in the British Army. The British army loses more soldiers by death in peace time than any other first-class power.

General Andre, the French War Minister, deplores the fact that the death-rate among soldiers of the Republic is nearly four times that of Germany. Great Britain, with only one third the number of soldiers has an annual average of deaths only 300 fewer than that of France.

Taking the average of the three countries for the ten years immediately preceding the South African war we get the following figures—

	Average peace strength	Annual deaths.	Per cent.
Britain	200,000	1,804	1.1
France	650,000	2,174	0.3
Germany	600,000	741	0.1

Cases in the British army admitted to hospital for ten years up to 1899 totalled 1,970,000, or nearly 200,000 per annum, so that numbers equalling nearly the whole strength of the army are sick during the course of any given year.

The ratio of deaths per 1,000 from 1890 to 1899, when the average strength for the ten years was 2,005,379, work out in the following fugures.

	Percentage.
Admitted to hospital	592.5
Died	3.96
Invalided	97.06
Discharged as invalids	15.63
Constantly sick	59.15
Average sick time to each soldier	21.59 days.

The French death rate is due partly to tuberculosis, and for ten years past that disease, and affections of the circulation and respiratory organs, have accounted for a large proportion of the British home casualties.

Tuberculosis is on the increase in the army, the ten-year average to 1899 being .70 deaths per 1,000. It is now .78. The invalids for this disease have also increased, and young soldiers contribute largely to the high death rate.

It is believed that much of the evil is caused by the unhealthy barrack-system, with its frequently imperfect sanitation.

Another reason urged is that the men are improperly clothed, wearing almost the same garments at Christmas as at mid-summer. Serges are made so tight that any winter addition of underclothing or a thick vest at once becomes uncomfortable, and is not attempted, while overcoats are worn as sldom as possible, not by order alone, but because they are unhealthy and suffocating to the wearer when belted round the body.

SUMMER TOURIST TRADE.

The Bobcaygeon Independent, in reviewing last season's summer tourist trade, says:

The returns of last season's summer tourist trade are now being reviewed and arrangements made for meeting the trade of next year. In many of the resorts in the States, and at some in Canada, the untoward weather last summer was disastrous, but a review of the reports from every point on our Kawartha Lakes shows that the season was the best on record. That the popularity of the Lakes is assured is a fact beyond question. The advertising for them, thanks to the work of the Association that took the matter in hand so successfully a few years ago, has now been put in such form that it is now united, and continuous, and influences have been enlisted that are sentimental in extent. The trade is certain, and the proposition that demands immediate attention along the entire length of the Lakes, is the construction of accommodation. The limit of the trade is simply the limit of accommodation. The present houses and resorts should all be enlarged, doubled or trebled in capacity and means provided for amusements. And if some persons accustomed to the business at winter resorts, or who have hotels in cities could be induced to build resorts at the many magnificent sites on the Lakes, their success would be as certain as such prospects could be. The C. V. Navigation Company that has for the last three years covered the lakes with a boat service from Coboconk to Burleigh, last season carried within a fraction of one hundred per cent. more passengers than it did the first year. This indicates the development that has taken place, and what can certainly be done in the future. Every year, enlargement and expansion has been urged in these columns, and once more the attention of those interested is called to this point. Now is the time to prepare; it is too late in June. Get to work now, at once. Life is short, and while Hesitation sits dabbling a toe at Kawartha's margin, Nerve and Sheer Bluff, at far less favoured districts, are blowing themselves throughout the winter on the fruits of summer.

Thread in Surgery.

Modern surgery employs dozens of different kinds of thread for sewing up cuts and wounds. Among them are kangaroo tendons, horsehair, silk and very fine silver wire. Many of these threads are intended to hold for a certain number of days, and then naturally break away. The short, tough tendons taken from the kangaroo, which are used for sewing severe wounds, will hold for about four weeks before they break away. Silk thread will hold for much longer, sometimes six months, while the fine silver wire is practically indestructible. With the entire outfit a surgeon is able to select a thread that will last as long as the wound takes to heal, and will then disappear completely. To accommodate this assortment of threads special varieties of needles are required. Besides the needle craned in different segments of a circle, surgeons use needles shaped like spears, javelins and bayonet points. Some are as long as bodkins, with a point like a miniature knife blade. Others have the sharpened end triangular.

MAYORALTY FOR 1903.

Card to the Electors of Peterborough.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—In response to the numerous representations which have been made to me upon the subject—personally, by requisition, and through the press—I place my services at the disposal of the public as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the approaching municipal elections.

My association with the important municipal advances, which the Town has been making during recent years, will enable me to give continuity to the aggressive forward policy which the Council has sought to pursue, and to bring experience and information gained therein to bear upon the work and problems which still more immediately confront us.

While I cannot lay claim to all the qualifications which have been flatteringly ascribed to me, such capacity for the office as I do possess is cheerfully placed at your service, and I ask your sympathy and support in the effort to maintain the position and standing, and advance the welfare, of our already prosperous and progressive Town.

Respectfully yours,

Reciprocity In Gifts.

There are two classes at Christmas, like other days—those who have had too much and those who didn't get any. Hundreds of Peterboronians, overjoyed by the remembrances of their friends, will be looking around this week for gifts to reciprocate their kindness. Others will be actuated by a laudable desire to make some one happy who is unable to give. Others, like the Scotch and French, reserve their present giving entirely to the New Year.

The Golden Lion is still abundantly stocked with beautiful and serviceful Gifts at Extra Special Values. This week will be a short, but a telling one at Fair's, as scores of chances, such as the following, await you for

INQUEST ON ONE VERDICT FOR ALL.

Inquiry to Fix Responsibility of Awful Wreck at Wanstead.

KILLED NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT

Scenes of Horror When Crash Came in Blinding Snowstorm at 10.10 Friday Night—Lists of the Dead and Injured—Station Agent Carson of Watford Blamed for the Appalling Catastrophe.

London, Dec. 29.—The inquest at Wanstead to-day promises to be a striking feature of the tragedy. Dr. A. E. Harvey, the coroner, has retained at the scene of the wreck the body of Fireman Ricketts, which will be viewed by the jury at noon Monday. The verdict in one case will be accepted as the verdict in all. To this point Operater Carson and Despatcher Kerr were the first witnessed subpoenaed. All the officials who can cast light on the case will be present and several passengers who were aboard the car. The responsibility for the affair will be definitely fixed and arrests are expected to follow the jury's report. None will be made, however, before that time.

The investigation is expected to take a wide scope in view of the magnitude of the tragedy.

Agent Carson's explanation is that he thought the passing order had been cancelled, and there are circumstances in favor of this assumption, though it was incorrect.

The Cause of the Accident.

It will require the coroner's investigation to definitely fix the responsibility for the disaster. Meanwhile it is said that Station Agent A. Carson of Watford failed to deliver to Conductor John McAuliff of the express, west bound, an order from Train Despatcher J. G. Kerr of London for the express to pass an extra freight, east bound, at Wanstead. Carson received this order at 9.48, and as a result of his error the head-on collision occurred at Wanstead at 10.10, just 22 minutes later.

During those intervening minutes Despatcher Kerr, Chief Despatcher Hayward of London, Agent Carson of Watford, the operator at Kingscourt Junction, and the operator at Wyoming were making vain efforts to rectify the mistake by catching either the passenger or the freight on signals. When the passenger rushed past Kingscourt Junction the last chance was gone to avoid a collision, unless the engineers should see the headlights in time, and this they failed to do. In four different instances it was the fraction of a second by which the express got away, and even when the two trains came together, one mihute's more time would have seen the passing of the two in safety.

STORY OF THE WRECK.

Twenty-Eight Killed Instantly and a Score and a Half People More or Less Seriously Injured.

London, Dec. 29. — Twenty-eight killed instantly and a score and a half of others seriously injured is the net result to date of the most terrible railway accident in Ontario known to railway officials in the past decade. It took place at the little hamlet of Wanstead on the Sarnia branch of the G.T.R., at 10.10 Friday night. The trains in the crash were the Pacific express and a freight.

The express was running nearly two hours late and was making fast time. The freight was endeavoring to make a siding to get clear of the express. It failed by a minute or two.

There was an awful crash, the locomotives reared up and fell in the ditch, the baggage car of the express telescoped the smoker, and the shrieks and cries of the wounded and dying filled the air.

The loss of life is twenty-eight. The injured number considerably more. These latter include many who may die from their injuries. They sustained all manner of hurts, and when they reached the hospital at London were so covered with blood that they could not be recognized. Their appearance simply beggars adequate description.

Many of the dead had suffered frightful hurts, heads were cut off, legs were wrenched from the bodies, blood flowed like water, and the scene of the carnage became more like the floor of a slaughter house than a mere stretch of snow-covered level highway in the midst of a sleeping farmland.

The express should have left London at 7.57, but she was over an hour late.

There was not a house to be seen anywhere through the storm, and it proved when daylight came that there were none within a distance too far to carry the maimed. Most fortunately the two Pullman cars on the train did not sustain any damage. They were warm and comfortable, and what were a few moments before palatial sleeping compartments for scores of weary travelers, became a temporary hospital. They were placed in the berths, and what was possible to assuage the bleeding wounds, which were sustained by nearly every one, was done.

This was, however, very little; there was scarcely any water to be had. Snow was brought in in the endeavor to quench the terrible thirst of the suffering.

The fear of fire breaking out led to a determined watch being early instituted, but in spite of this vigilance the wreck was scarcely saved from a fire that would have added untold horror.

One of the passengers, who was no more a hero than his fellows only that he had presence of mind and knew the better how to work, organized a snow brigade. To their unremitting struggles is due the fact that the fire was kept in check and did no damage.

The fire broke out in the very midst of the wreckage on one occasion and as there was nothing with which to quench it but the snow the extent of the battle in which those heroes engaged can better be imagined than described. They scraped the snow from the side of the tracks and they brought it in handfuls from between adjoining tracks and the side of the railway. With the snow they fell upon the flames, literally smothering them with their hands and their coats, which they had flung from their shoulders.

The tiny fire broke out again and again, fanned by the winds. Again and again the brigade returned to the struggle and they finally succeeded

MANUAL TRAINING.

Manual training has been begun in the schools of Halifax, Wolfville, Pictou, Antigonish, Bridgewater and Lunenburg, and arrangements for following the example thus set are in progress in Windsor, Kentville, Bridgetown, Annapolis, Digby, New Glasgow, Sydney, Sydney Mines, North Sydney and Glace Bay. The idea has evidently appealed to the Nova Scotia mind, and in regard to things educational the Nova Scotia mind is rather more than ordinarily acute.

FRUITS OF MONOPOLY.

John D. Rockefeller has presented another million to the Chicago University, and of course the toady press has been raising a chorus in celebration of his great "philanthropy." But as nobody around this way profits by the gift, perhaps it will be neither ungrateful nor discourteous to look this gift horse in the mouth.

The head of the Standard Oil trust gives away a whole million to a university which teaches the brand of political economy and sociology that Mr. Rockefeller approves of. Can he afford it? Does the gift involve much self-sacrifice on his part? Let us see. The coal strike increased the demand for coal oil. Taking advantage of this demand the Standard Oil Company increased the price of its product to jobbers by 3 1-2 cents a gallon, with the result, of course, that the retail price has risen. This year the company makes a dividend of 45 per cent. on its capital. Mr. Rockefeller owns 40 per cent. of the Standard stock, and his share of the dividends "earned" this year amounts to about $18,000,000. His income from Standard Oil stock is a comparatively small part of his total income, for he has hundreds of millions invested in other securities. What is a gift of a million to a money magnate like Mr. Rockefeller?

But his ability to give away even such a very small part of his annual income as a million dollars, "without feeling it," constitutes a menace to the United States. A social system under which one man can accumulate such vast wealth through his power to command the services of others, and to levy toll on the general public, cannot be a sound system. The people are beginning to find this out, and to think about remedies. The danger is that the injustice of the system cannot be rooted out without violence.—Hamilton Herald.

HEALTHY LONDON.

Stories of London's famous fog have probably convinced everybody that London is a horrible place for lung diseases. And yet here come statistics to show that London has less lung disease than any other great city. Tuberculous statistics quoted in a Toronto paper show that the deadly plague carried off the following number of people on the average in each 10,000 in 1901:

City	Population	Deaths per 10,000
St Petersburg	954,000	44.2
Paris	2,424,000	41.6
Breslau	321,000	34.9
Bordeaux	252,000	28.5
New York	1,925,000	24.1
Berlin	1,763,000	22.3
London	5,200,000	17.3

In Toronto last year, 230,000 people, the deaths from tuberculosis were 21 per 10,000—lower than in any of the above cities, save London.

A PRESENTATION

To Miss Flo. Robertson, of South Monaghan, by Her Pupils.

On Monday afternoon the school house, where Miss Flo. Robertson has faithfully fulfilled her duties for the past three years, being decorated for the occasion, was filled with the parents and friends of her pupils. After a lengthy programme rendered by her pupils, the following address was read:

Miss Robertson:

Dear teacher,—We feel particularly sad, even amid the joyful suggestiveness of the festive season, when we know that Christmas will close the delightful relations we have enjoyed for so long, as teacher and pupils. Young as we are we know that the realities of life, and the call of duty, make such parting the common lot. Still we would do something, be it ever so slight, to show the high respect which we entertain for you.

As a teacher, we find that you have done your duty by us nobly, and as a friend you have won a warm place in our hearts, and when we are far separate we shall remember gratefully the many good things you have taught, and the many kind acts you have done us. In token of our good will kindly accept this manicure set.

Now, in formally bidding you goodbye, allow us to wish you, not only a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, but many, many years of happy and prosperous life.

Signed on behalf of the school,

MAY LANG,
SADIE MIGHT,
LUCY BAXTER,
JESSIE LAING.

Miss Robertson made a feeling reply, though taken by surprise. She thanked her pupils for their kindness, regretting having to part with such dear friends. She expressed an earnest wish for their future progress.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. A. Campbell has gone on a visit to his parents in Bruce county. On returning he will go to the Central Smith cheese factory, and occupy the position so long and successfully held by Mr. Gillespie.

James McCall, of Oxbow, N. W. T., was a visitor in town last week. He was formerly a resident of the Township of Cavan, but says he would not come back here to live.

Mr. Wm. Greig has returned from a visit to his former home at Brougham, Ont.

Messrs. W. T. McLean and A. P. McLean of Peterborough, spent Xmas day under the parental roof in Mount Pleasant.

Our public school teacher, Mr. Mills, has gone a visit to his relatives.

Mr. Arthur Fee, student at the Business College, at Peterborough, is home visiting his parents during the Christmas holidays. Favourable reports of the successful teaching of the principal, Mr. Pringle, have been the means of drawing many young people from this vicinity to attend that institution at Peterborough. Encourage home institutions.

Weddings are the order of the day. Those requiring marriage licenses will find James McLean, Esq., ever ready at his dwelling house in Mount Pleasant to furnish the necessary papers.

NOBODY IS EXEMPT.

A New Preparation Which Everyone Will Need Sooner or Later.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing that they can do for it, is to take some one of the many so called purifiers, which ,in many cases, are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help, and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels, and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two Tablets—give them needed help, and you will have no trouble.

It's a common sense medicine and a common sense treatment and it will cure every time; not only cure the disease but cure the cause. Goes about it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However, Mrs. E. M. Faith, of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for I feel altogether like a different person. I do not doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. E. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says:—"Mr. White of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia from which he suffered for eight years. As I am a sufferer myself I wish you to send me a package by return mail."

Phil Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your Dyspepsia Cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from Dyspepsia, but am now entirely cured, and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost fifty cents to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide."

Killed By a Negro.

Greenwood, S. C., Dec. 29.—W. K. Jay, a prominent young farmer of the Troy section of this county, was murdered Saturday in his own yard by a negro, Oliver Wideman, or his wife, both of whom lived on the place. The two negroes were lynched by the infuriated neighbors.

Dr. Salmon's Statement on Exterminating Cattle Disease.

1,300 CATTLE SLAUGHTERED.

Answer of the Chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry to Those Persons Who Have Tried to Work Up a Sentiment Against the Killing of the Herds Affected.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 29.—Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, has issued a statement regarding the prosecution of the work of exterminating the foot and mouth disease, and especially in answer to the efforts of certain persons who have systematically tried to work up a sentiment against the killing of the herds affected.

He says: "We are obliged to face the fact that there are only two courses to pursue. Either the diseased animals must all be killed off and the contagion stamped out immediately, thus relieving the State quarantine restriction at the earliest possible moment, or we must sit down and watch the disease and try to prevent its spreading by quarantine.

"Up to the present time 1,300 head of cattle have been slaughtered in Massachusetts, and if the work goes on as it should, with the co-operation from the State official, and with a friendly public sentiment, all of the known infected herds should be killed and disposed of within the next week or ten days."

PROF. GIRON'S AMBITION.

He Would Marry the Crown Princess of Saxony to Make Her Position Regular—Her Arrest Ordered.

Berlin, Dec. 29.—It is stated that the Italian police have been ordered to watch the movements of the Crown Princess of Saxony, and if she should attempt to enter Italy to arrest and keep her under observation. The reason for this is that any child born to her in the next few months will be recognized officially as a member of the court of Saxony.

Would Marry Princess.

London, Dec. 29.—A Geneva despatch to The Central News says Prof. Giron wishes to marry the Crown Princess of Saxony in order to make her position regular. The princess and M. Giron intend to remain in Geneva until the accouchement of the princess, which will probably take place in May.

Will Not Expel Her.

Geneva, Dec. 29.—Newspapers here allege that the Swiss Government has refused the request of the German Legation to expel the Crown Princess of Saxony from Switzerland.

REGISTER BOOK MUTILATED.

Coroner's Jury Investigating a Railway Wreck Is Checkmated.

Trinidad, Col. Dec. 28.—The coroner's jury investigating the cause of the freight collision near here Wednesday evening, has examined ten witnesses, including Conductor Bronson of the extra and Conductor Harriman of the regular trains.

The evidence was to the effect that Conductor Bronson checked up the register, but a sensation was created when the register book used in the yard office here and the one Conductor Bronson checked from Wednesday night, were produced and the sheet bearing the date of Dec. 24 for the Northern Division, the one that the jury want, was found to be missing. It had evidently been torn out. It has a vital bearing on the case.

So far eight bodies have been recovered from the wreck, and, although the wreckage has not been entirely cleared away, it is not believed the death list will be increased.

DIED FROM A BLOW.

Christmas Eve Fracas Near Belleville Results in a Death.

Belleville, Dec. 29.—A Christmas Eve fracas, which resulted fatally, is reported in this city. It took place at Queensboro, in the northern portion of Hastings County, at the close of a Sunday School entertainment. Two young men, named Phillips and Caskey, had some words, when the former struck the latter a blow behind the ear, knocking him down and rendering him unconscious. The victim never recovered his senses, but died on Christmas morning. His assailant is reported to have left the country. Both parties are said to belong to well-known families.

Ticketed For Toronto.

Windsor, Dec. 29.—Mrs. E. J. Pennington of Detroit has asked the assistance of the local police department in ascertaining the whereabouts of her husband, who disappeared mysteriously in this city on Christmas Day. He was ticketed for Toronto, and she is afraid that he has met with foul play.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhosone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhosone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhosone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhosone. HAD TEMPESTUOUS VOYAGE.

Allan Liner Bavarian Delayed by Fogs on Nova Scotian Coast—She Brought the Scottish Curlers.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 29.—The Allan Line steamer Bavarian arrived at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. She had a tempestuous voyage and was much delayed by fogs on this coast. For the last three days the sun was not seen. It is believed among the passengers that the steamer almost struck White Rock, off Eastern Nova Scotia, but that she was in the slightest danger the officers deny. The team of Scottish curlers, representing the Royal Caledonian Club, arrived by her for a tour in Canada and the United States. One of the curlers, Andrew Smith, had his kneecap fractured four days ago and will not be able to play. He went to the hospital here. This will leave five rinks, with three spare men. The first competition between Halifax and Scotland will take place on Wednesday. On Thursday and Friday it will be all Nova Scotia against Scotland.

Peruvian Storm Stayed.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 29.—Another furious gale has been raging here for the past 48 hours, and has caused much damage along the coast line. It is feared that the shipping will suffer considerably. The Allan Liner Peruvian passed Cape Race Saturday morning, but she has not yet been able to make port because of the storm and the fog. She has on board a shipment of 800 Canadian cattle from Halifax, shipped from there because of the embargo of American ports. It is feared the cattle will suffer because of the heavy weather.

Cause of Splitting Headaches.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache.

Ferrozone is Nature's own remedy for headaches; it is a blood strengthener and purifier of uncommon merit, a lasting potent tonic and the greatest invigorant and health maker known. Headaches never bother people who take Ferrozone after each meal. Buy a box from your druggist for 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

KILLED 300 CHILDREN.

Horrible Baby Farming Discovered in the Orient.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 29.—Correspondence received from Yokohama by the steamer Tartar last night includes details of a horrible baby-farming conspiracy in Osaka. An elderly woman, her married daughter, husband and two others have been arrested for infanticide, and it is learned that since they started operations they killed 300 children, 80 this year.

Imperial Moors Fled.

London, Dec. 29.—The complete rout at Taza of the Moorish Imperial army by rebels under the leadership of the pretender to the throne, which was reported Dec. 23, has now been officially confirmed. The Imperial forces abandoned their guns, rifles, ammunition tents and beasts of burden and fled precipitately to Fez.

Lawyer Walbridge Dead.

Belleville, Dec. 29.—Frank Walbridge, for many years one of the leading lawyers of this city, died yesterday in his 86th year. The cause of death being heart failure. The late Hon. Lewis Walbridge, Chief Justice of Manitoba, was his brother. He is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Wiarton Beet Sugar.

Wiarton, Dec. 29.—The plant of the Wiarton Beet Sugar Manufacturing Co. is now in full operation. They are now turning out an average of from 150 to 200 barrels of fine granulated sugar a day.

AWFUL AVALANCHE.

Razes the Molly Gibson Miners' Bunkhouse at Nelson, B.C.

PROBABLE DEATH OF EIGHT MEN

Several Others, Sleeping Inmates of the Place, Maimed and Injured—The Slide Was Totally Unexpected, and the Miners Counted on Fast Immunity for Safety—Jules Labelle's Story.

Nelson, B.C., Dec. 29.—One of the most destructive snowslides that has occurred in the Kootenay took place Christmas night, resulting in the razing of the Molly Gibson bunkhouse, probably the death of eight men, and the maiming of several others. The slide was totally unexpected, as since the mine buildings have been erected no slide has ever threatened them. The bunkhouse, which was a two-story frame structure, stood on a small ridge at the lower edge of a basin, sloping gradually up to the glacier that can be seen from Nelson, below the Kokanee peaks. The mine is above the timber line, and is about ten miles from Kootenay Lake.

The men who were in the bunkhouse and have not yet been accounted for, although possibly some of them are alive, as given by one of the survivors, who reached the landing yesterday are: L. Bronlee, M. E. Hall, assayer, Nelson; W. G. Murphy, Ainsworth; T. Rouse, Silverton; W. Collins, Nelson; two Italians, unknown; Geo. Chip, Chinese cook. Those accounted for are: J. A. Campbell, dead; O. McLaughlin, shoulder dislocated and leg broken; J. P. Dunlop, uninjured; J. McGinnes, slightly hurt; John A. Bell, Toronto, one arm cut; McCreath, safe; Harris, safe; Johnson, safe; "Billy," safe; J. McDonald, safe; Italian, safe; unknown; Jules, safe.

The first information as to their being anything wrong at the mine was received at 1.30 Friday afternoon, when Jules Labelle staggered into the house of Robert McGuire, at the Molly Gibson Landing. McGuire, getting a few of the chief particulars from him as quickly as possible, telephoned to Nelson for assistance. A relief party was quickly formed at Nelson, and, accompanied by the mine physician and the coroner, left on the Canadian Pacific Company's steamer Kokanee for the scene of the disaster. According to Labelle's story there were nineteen or twenty men in the bunkhouse at the time of the slide. only one shift is worked, and as it was Christmas day they had knocked off at noon and stayed in all afternoon. After supper an impromptu concert was held, which was kept up till a little after 10 o'clock.

Then all turned in but Labelle, and all lights were extinguished, except a candle, which he stuck up at the head of his bunk to read by. After reading for a short time he blew out his light and turned over to go to sleep. The weather was very stormy; it was snowing and a regular gale was blowing. As he was sinking off to sleep he heard a distant rumble, which rapidly grew louder. He knew it was a slide, but never dreamed of it coming close until a sudden crash came and the building seemed to go to pieces.

The bunkhouse was about 30 by 40 feet in dimension.

HATTIE GAUGE'S SUICIDE.

Reprimanded by Her Employer on Saturday in Buffalo This Canadian Girl Deliberately Hanged Herself.

Buffalo, Dec. 28.—Angry because she was reprimanded by her employer, Hattie Gauge, 15 years old, hung herself to a gas pipe in the basement of the apartment house at No. 212 Maryland street late Saturday afternoon.

The dead girl was one of eleven children, and up to the time of the opening of the Pan-American Exposition lived with her parents at No. 179 Church street, St. Catharines, Ont. Then she came to Buffalo and secured employment as a servant with Dr. R. Feetham in the Maryland street apartment house.

Last night Mr. Feetham told the police the girl had been inclined to be wayward, and he had occasion to reprimand her frequently. After the scoldings she had always been in a bad humor, and several times Mr. Feetham had threatened to let her go.

At noon Saturday he came home from work for his dinner. Mr. Feetham found her out in the street, throwing snowballs with a crowd of boys. She had on Mr. Feetham's ulster, and when she saw him coming she dashed into the house. Mr. Feetham followed her, and when he saw she had neglected her work he reprimanded her severely. Finally he threatened to send her back to her parents in St. Catharines, and at this she began to cry, saying that he would never do that.

Then the girl prepared his lunch for him, and about an hour later Mr. Feetham returned to his work.

Nothing more was seen of the girl until just about 6 o'clock when Janitor George P. Fales visited the basement and found her hanging to one of the gas pipes along the ceiling. She had fastened one end of a clothes-line about her neck and then, standing on a small soap box, had secured the other end to the pipe. Then she had kicked the box away and slowly strangled to death.

Her mother is a widow living in St. Catharines, Ont.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of the mother says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially women's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and ensures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak, and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

Gratuity Pay Paid.

Kingston, Dec. 29.—In November, 1901, Trooper Charles Hooper of the 2nd Imperial Light Horse was killed at Vischgat, South Africa. From facts stated there were reasons to believe that Charles Hooper and Vere Hooper, a former Kingston resident, were the same persons. Sir Frederick Borden, at request of friends, had an investigation made, and the Minister became so fully satisfied that the identity was proved, that he ordered the payment to Mrs. Vere Hooper of this city of the gratuity and back pay due her husband at the time of his death.

Both Wrestlers Hurt.

Milton, Dec. 29.—While attending a threshing at Mr. McCowan's, Esquesing, R. Levins and Calvin Fleming, Milton, got wrestling in the snow, and in the struggle for supremacy fell through the loose flooring on to the next floor, crashing through that and down to the next floor, about 20 feet in all, the result being that both were badly bruised and shaken up, Fleming's hip being severely injured and the muscles torn.

Son of English Captain.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 29. — Papers found among the effects of George Plevdell, who was frozen to death on Christmas eve almost within reach of his own doorway, indicated that he was the son of Major Thomas B. Pleydell of Acton, Middlesex, England, formerly of the Royal Army, and a man of wealth.

Drydock Goes Under Water.

New Orleans, Dec. 29.—The "Good Intent" drydock at Algiers, opposite New Orleans, sank yesterday. The dock started to sink during the night, and tugs in the harbor were summoned, but were unable to save it. It was built 35 years ago, and cost originally $38,000.

Without Opposition.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 29. — The Hon. Edward Morris, the newly appointed Minister of Justice in the Bond Cabinet, was re-elected without opposition in Saturday's bye-election in St. John's City. Mr. Morris is a strong advocate of reciprocity.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

MAYOR-ELECT ROGER.

The election of Mr. G. M. Roger by acclamation as Mayor of Peterborough for the year 1903 is an occasion for double congratulation. Mr. Roger is to be complimented upon the flattering mark of confidence his election implies and the people of of the town are to be congratulated upon having secured the services of a gentleman who, we are sure, will make a model first magistrate. As his nominator, Mr. Fair, said at the nomination, "in Mr. Roger the ratepayers have a clean man and a safe man." This is high praise and the best part of it is that it is richly deserved. Mr. Roger is a native of Peterborough, has passed all his life amongst us and, earned a high reputation for uprightness, integrity and public spirit. His years of service in the Council have shown him to be careful, painstaking and conscientious, and at the same time prudently progressive. His neat little speech in accepting his election by acclamation shows that Mr. Roger has faith in the future of the town and its possibilities, and his pledge that he would direct his efforts to promoting the material advancement of the town will, we have every confidence, be literally fulfilled. He had an active share in promoting the establishment in Peterborough of new industries, and his policy upon this point is an energetic and progressive one. We may count upon Mayor Roger using all his influence and all his efforts to give the Town of Peterborough clean, effective administration, and a careful protection of its interests, and to continue an energetic policy of practically developing Peterborough's splendid facilities for the establishment and home of new industries. We may be sure that Mr. Roger will do this because he has said he will do it. Whatever pledge or promise he makes, Mr. Roger can be trusted to do all in his power to fulfil.

WAS INSTANTLY KILLED.

Wm. Emory, a Deaf Mute, met Death This Morning.

He was Struck by the Lrkefield Train —No Inquest to be Held—How it Occurred.

William Emory, a deaf mute, about 26 years of age was killed on the Grand Trunk Railway, at about half past eight o'clock this morning. The accident occurred on the Lakefield branch, just a short distance above Auburn. Emory followed the occupation of a peddlar, selling lead pencils, etc. He travelled around on foot, and it is supposed that he was on his way towards Lakefield. The engineer of the train saw him on the middle of the track, and blew his whistle, at the same time sharply slowing down. The unfortunate man stepped to the left hand side of the track, and the train men not knowing he was deaf, and thinking he had heard the whistle, thought that he would step completely off the track. This he did not do, however,, and the beambead of the engine struck him, knocking him to one side of the track, and killing him almost instantaneously. His skull was badly fractured.

Coroner Gray was notified, and after enquiring into the circumstances he decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Emory was a married man, living with his wife on Lake street, Ashburnham. His mother and two sisters also live in the village. The deceased was a steady, industrious man, and he worked satisfactorily for several persons in town. This morning was his first trip in his new line of business.

THE LOCAL EPIDEMIC.

The Provincial Health Authorities to Deal With the Situation.

The Hon. the Provincial Secretary, having learned of the prevalence of an epidemic of scarlet fever and measles in town, is sending down Dr. Hodgetts, of the Provincial Health Department, who will arrive to-morrow, to deal with the situation. There seems to be reason to fear that sufficiently energetic measures have not been taken in regard to the isolation of residences, nor sufficient precautions in the matter of funerals, and it is said, that the placarding of residences has been neglected.

Dr .Hodgetts will consult with the town authorities, and if his investigations show that more stringent measures are necessary, they will, of course, be adopted, even to the extent, perhaps, of postponing for some time, the re-opening of the schools after the holidays. Preventive measures in the form of isolation and disinfection efficiently taken, have an important effect in preventing the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. The action of the Provincial Secretary shows that the Provincial Board of Health keeps a vigilant eye upon the conditions affecting the health of the people.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS

Which Will Shortly be Made to Peterborough's Post Office.

Mr. J. H. McClellan this morning showed the Examiner a letter he had just received from Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, stating that plans were now being prepared for the re-modelling of the Peterborough post office, and that the work would be done under the supervision of Mr. Blackwell, architect, Peterborough.

There will be two delivery wickets under the new arrangement, and there will be an extra entrance on Water street. The plumbing will also be renovated, involving an expenditure of $4,000 or $5,000.

Mr. McClellan has been most persistent in urging upon the Government the necessity for the changes, which are now about to be undertaken.

BASKETBALL.

On Saturday evening last one of the swiftest and most interesting basketball matches that has been seen for a long time was played at the local Y.M.C.A. between the Peterborough seniors and the Toronto Central Y. M.C.A. senior team. Although the visitors won by 33—13 the score was in no way whatever any criterion of the play for throughout the game was clean and fast, with close checking on both sides. This was especially the case during the first five minutes when neither team was able to score. At half time the score was 15—5 in favour of Toronto, and at the close 33—13. The teams lined up as follows:

Toronto—Brant and Hay, forwards; Harding, centre; Smith and Henderson, defence.

Peterborough—N. Miller and G. Robertson, forwards; S. Hall, centre; W. Richardson and W. Campbell, defence.

For Toronto a fine game was played by Harding at centre. Out of the the 33 points scored by that team he was responsible for 23, including points from fouls. For Peterborough played well, but when the average weights of the visitors (156 lbs.) and that of Peterborough (121 lbs.) are considered, it will be seen that the local men were up against a hard team. The Peterborough forwards notched 13 points, while those of Toronto did not come anywhere near that number. The centre of Toronto's can be said to have virtually won the game. On Thursday next there will be another game at the Y.M.C.A. between the West End Boys and the Brownies. This game, too, should call out a large crowd.

G. M. ROGER ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

To-Day's Nominations For Municipal Honours.

MANY CANDIDATES ARE OUT

Messrs. Matthews, Denne, Hill and McDonald Nominated for Water Commissioners—Dr. Burnham and J. J. McBain, Trustees, by Acclamation.

The nominations for the positions of Mayor, Water Commissioners, Aldermen and School Trustees of the Town of Peterborough, took place today, and resulted in Alderman G. M. Roger being elected Mayor by acclamation, and a list of candidates for aldermanic honours.

The nominations for Mayor and Water Commissioners took place between ten and eleven o'clock, the following gentlemen being placed in nomination:

FOR MAYOR.

George Morris Roger, barrister, nominated by R. Fair, seconded by V. Eastwood.

FOR WATER COMMISSIONERS.

William Henry Hill, insurance agent, by R. B. McKee and H. C. Winch.

Thomas Henry Gerald Denne, merchant, by J. Stevenson and Erasmus Green.

Thomas Francis Matthews, manufacturer, by Peter Hamilton and R. Fair.

Alfred McDonald, lumberman, by Michael O'Brien and Jas. Bogue.

There bein gno other nominations for the office of Mayor, Mr. Armstrong declared Mr. G .M. Roger elected by acclamation.

There are four nominations for Water Commissioners, the new candidate being Mr. Alfred McDonald.

At the close of the nominations for Mayor and Water Commissioners, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, remained in the chair, and invited the candidates for municipal honours to address the electors present.

MR. ROGER'S NOMINATOR.

Mr. R. Fair, who nominated Mr. Roger for the office of Mayor, spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, I have much pleasure this morning in nominating Mr. G. M. Roger as a candidate for Mayor for 1903. I feel no hesitation in saying that in Mr. Roger the ratepayers have a clean man, and a safe man, and a tried man. It is a pleasure to know that men of Mr. Roger's standing can be persuaded to come forward and assist in the management of our municipal affairs, more especially as it must be at considerable sacrifice to his professional duties. Mr. Roger has filled the post of alderman the past two years, and on both occasions has been selected by his fellow aldermen to fill the important position of chairman of the Finance Committee, in which capacity he has familiarized himself with the financial position of the town, and other matters affecting the town's interests. Besides Mr. Roger is a young man, born in Peterborough, and lived here all his life, and I can truthfully say has always been on the tongue of good report. Peterborough has always shown wisdom in the selection of Mayors, each retiring one showing some work of progress made during his term, and the gentleman who now retires, is no exception to that rule. He with the assistance of excellent aldermen, were instrumental in inducing the Cordage Company to locate in Peterborough, and the American Cereal Company, a concern which would be a credit to any town.

MAYOR-ELECT ROGER.

Mr. G. M. Roger was warmly greeted by those present. He made a capital speech, in which he reviewed the civic legislation of the town during the time he had been in the council, and made a glowing forecast of the future of Peterborough. He began by thanking his nominator for the flattering remarks made concerning him and the electors for the honour they had conferred upon him in electing him to the highest office in the gift of the people of Peterborough. He deemed it a greater honour in view of the fact that he had been elected by acclamation. He would endeavour to fulfill to his utmost the duties of the office and to carry out the forward policy of the Council of the present year. He was of the opinion that municipal government could be made most effective in advancing the interest of the town. Two years ago he ventured to predict that we were on an era of prosperity and he was glad to know that his predictions had come true. He was prepared to say that he would not be surprised to see the population of the town doubled within the next four years. It is time we had laid aside our swaddling clothes and assumed the dignity and responsibility of a city. He hoped that who ever were elected as Aldermen would give him all the support possible, as it must be remembered that a Mayor was only one out of twelve. Mr. Roger thought that the interests of the town had been very well looked after during the past few years.

Speaking as to the future; the Mayor elect considered it would be in the interests of the town to induce manufacturers to locate in Peterborough and he mentioned that the two important factors in bringing this about were that of power and transportation. We have great facilities in the form of power, not hardly half of which is developed.

Speaking as to transportation facilities, Mr. Roger hoped for the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal, the double tracking of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk, and the diverting of the transcontinental traffic of the new Pacific road through Peterborough. He referred to the reduction in freight rates that was bound to follow the completion of the canal, and the great traffic that would surely follow from the north. He asked for the united support of the council in any matters of a forward movement he might undertake and he promised to do all in his power to promote the best interests of the town. Mr. Roger concluded amid much applause.

Mr. T. F. Matthews then addressed the electors present. His report of the work of the Water Commissioners will be seen in another column.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The Kindergarten and Primary Classes are holding their annual Christmas festival to-night. To-morrow night the Senior Class will have their Christmas celebration. Tea will be served at six o'clock. Parents are reminded to send refreshments during the afternoon. Public concert at eight o'clock. A special collection for the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, will be made by the school next Sunday.

The music at St. Andrew's church yesterday was appropriate to the festive season, and was very well rendered by the choir. In addition to the special hymns the following items were given:—

Morning — Opening voluntary, "Largo Cantabile," Dr. Hinton; Anthem "Arise, Shine, for Thy Light is Come," Maker; Christmas carol, Miss Nellie Davies, "This Happy Morn. a King is Born," Spinney; concluding voluntary, "Offertorie in D." A. Graham.

Evening — Opening voluntary, "Cansonetta," Neils W. Gade; Carol by choir, "It came upon the Midnight clear;" Anthem, "Sing O, Heavens," Dr. A. R. Gaul; Solo, Miss Davies, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," Rathburn; concluding voluntary, "Hellelujah," from Messiah, Handel.

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH.

Two splendid sermons were preached yesterday, the morning subject being "The Massacre of the Innocents," which was well turned in application to the evils besetting child life in the present day. In the evening the subject was "The Sun Dial of Ahaz," and was most appropriate to the closing of the year. The music at both services was of a festival character, and was most creditably rendered. Miss Brundrette, Miss Mary Rush, and Mr. Shepherd were the soloists. Next Sunday the music will be repeated. At the Sunday school in the afternoon Mr. A. W. Beall gave a splendid address on Prov. iii, 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge God, and He shall direct thy paths." The work of decorating for the anniversary will be proceeded with to-night. On Wednesday evening there will be a watchnight service at 11.30 p.m. Rev. Canon Richardson, M.A., of London, will preach at the anniversary on Jan. 11th, and will also lecture on Jan. 12th on "From London to London."

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The services in St. John's last night were of a festival character, the singing being especially effective and spirited. The service—Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis—were Turner's and two fine anthems were sung —Tours' "Let us go even unto Bethleham" and Pergolesi's "Glory to God in the Highest." The singing of these anthems was exceptionally excellent. They went with a grandly spirited swing, and the time and attack were perfect in their precision, the shading was beautifully delicate and the general effect such as to constitute them among the most, if not the most, successful choral productions ever given in St. John's.

PARLOUR SOCIAL.

The Charlotte Street Ladies' Aid are holding a parlour social in the parsonage on Tuesday evening next. A first-class programme has been arranged. Refreshments. Tickets 15c, or two for 25c.

WHY ?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

SENSATION IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Joseph Boone, Seven Years a Hopeless Invalid, Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Discharged From Hospital as Incurable. Given up by Doctors. He is now Back at His Work Again.

Cottel's Cove, Newfoundland, Dec. 29th.—(Special.) — Among the lobster fishermen here the wonderful cure of Joseph Boone, one of their number, has created a sensation. They look on it as approaching the miraculous.

For eight years Joseph Boone was a hopeless invalid. For seven years he was unable to work. He was discharged from the hospital after seven months treatment as incurable. Several doctors tried in vain to give him relief from these terrible pains and aches arising from Kidney Complaint. The cure of a friend by Dodd's Kidney Pills tempted him to try them. He used three dozen boxes and to-day he is working at lobster fishing and doing as big a day's work as any of his mates.

This in brief is the story of Joseph Boone. He has to tell it often to people who never expected to see him do a day's work again, and he always adds:

"I am still using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I find a great benefit in every box I use. I can scarcely believe it is myself at all, after seven years of such suffering from complicated complaint of the Back and Kidneys."

WHO MAKES MOST?

An Inquiry Into Certain Modern Methods of Looking at Things—What Really Is True Success?

The man who introduced John D. Rockefeller to the coal oil business died recently, and it is said that he used to tell about it, concluding with the remark: "But he got more out of oil than I ever did." The man who used to say this himself made a good living in the oil trade, but he had not piled up an immense fortune, as Rockefeller had done. And yet, maybe he got as much out of oil as Rockefeller did. If he kept himself busy, enjoyed good health, made a good living for himself and family, enjoyed the boon of being alive, and possessed the good will of his kind, perhaps he got as much out of oil as Rockefeller did. After all, the best that oil can do for any man is to burn for his comfort—to throw a cheerful light where otherwise darkness would have been, to enable the tired worker to read his book. When one figures right down to the bed rock of values, it may be that some hermit in a lodge in the wilderness, living on confidential terms with nature by day and spending his evenings beside a cheerful lamp reading the best thoughts of all time, gets quite as much out of oil as Rockefeller does. This man may have got from his coal oil lamp all that he previously lacked to make him content, and if he got that what man on earth could have more? When a man sees wealth a little way ahead of him he starts in pursuit, and as a rule never rests again as long as he lives. Few, if any, can resist the temptation to pursue wealth if they see it and think they can overtake it; they begin the race in the hope of acquiring enough money to protect them against want and to purchase comfort and pleasure, but they press on and on ever unsatisfied. When they are young man they work because they must; when they no longer need to do it, they have forgotten what other use to make of life.

There is a vacant lot in Toronto that was for years owned by a childless couple. They bought it for ten dollars per foot frontage, and rented it for enough to pay interest and taxes. As the years went by it increased rapidly in value, but the old couple would not sell, and worked laboriously, as they had ever done. They scraped along, getting a meagre living, but counting on the increasing value of their vacant corner lot as so much wealth for their comfort in old age. They were already old, if they could but have realized the fact. Yet late in life they refused $250 per foot for the land they had paid $10 for. Then they both fell ill, and died within a year. They had paid $1,000 for the lot, and could have sold it for $25,000, but never got a cent of the increase. Instead of making a profit of $24,000, they actually lost the $1,000 they had invested, for while they lived it never came back, nor did any of its fruits. So far as they were concerned, it was like a purely fictitious corner lot. Even their distant relatives—the only ones they had—did not get what they expected out of it, for the piece of land greatly decreased in value after the last land boom. But the point is that this old couple had no other thought in buying and keeping that land than to ensure comfort for their own old age. Like many others, thinks The Toronto Star, they strove too long and died in harness.

INDIAN SUMMER CAROL.

By Agnes Maud Machar.

"All day the dreaming sunshine steeps
In gold the yellowing beeches;
In softest blue the river sleeps
Among the island reaches.

"Against the distant purple hills
The autumn tints are glowing;
With blood-red wine the sumach fills,
Rich lines of carmine showing.

"Upon the glassy stream the boat
Glides softly like a vision;
And, with its shadow, seems to float
Among the isles Elysian.

"About the plumy golden-rod
The fireless bees are humming;
The aster's clusters star the sod
And wait the rover's coming.

"The birch and maple glow with dyes
Of scarlet, rose and amber;
And like a flame from sunset skies,
Bright tangled creepers clamber.

"The oak in Tyrian purple dight
Burn, where the sunlight presses;
The birch stands like a dryad bright
Beneath her golden tresses.

"So still the air, so like a dream,
We hear the acorn falling;
And o'er the scarcely rippled stream
The loon's long quavering calling.

"The robin softly o'er the lea
His farewell song is trilling;
The squirrel flits from tree to tree,
His winter storehouse filling.

"Like him we, too, may gather store
From all this glorious nature.
Then leave, my friend, dry booklish lore
And dreary nomenclature.

"Leave the old thinkers to the dreams
That have been dreamed for ages;
Leave dry old scientific reams,
And study Nature's pages.

"Haste to the woods, throw books away!
They'll wait the tardy comer;
For 'them' there's many a winter day,
But brief's our Indian summer."

Sketch of Miss Machar.

Miss Machar is the daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Machar, the second Principal of Queen's University, and is a resident of Kingston, Ont. Her writings have long been familiar to Canadian readers over the pen-name of "Fidelis." She is active, also, in philanthropic and reform circles. The above lines are quoted from a volume of her verse published in 1899 under the title of "Lays of the True North"—a phrase taken from Tennyson. They are a fair specimen of the substance, manner and spirit of her work, which, though always earnest and sincere, is not of a high poetic order. I quote them for the instruction of young readers as illustrative of a large body of writing produced in Canada, and constantly appearing in the daily press, which is only distinguished from average prose by its quality of rhyme—not rhythm, mark you, the former being a non-essential of poetry, the latter as much a part of its form as our muscular system is of our bodies.—Pharos, in The Globe.

Tragedy of a Northern Winter.

Signs, unnoted by the denizens of the city, serve to guide the trappers over trackless wates of illimitable snow. A whitish haze of frost may hide the sun, or continuous snowfall blur every landmark. What heeds the trapper? The slope of the rolling hills, the lie of the frozen river beds, the branches of underbrush protruding through billowed drifts— are hands that point the trapper's compass.

One imminent danger is of accident beyond aid. A young Indian hunter of Moose Factory set out with his wife and two children for the winter hunting grounds in the forest south of James Bay. When chopping the hunter injured his leg. The wound proved stubborn. Wrapping her husband in robes on the long toboggan sleigh, the squaw placed the younger child beside him, and with the other began tramping through the forest, drawing the sleigh behind. The drifts were not deep enough for swift snowshoeing over the underbrush, and their going was not half so speedy as the hunger that pursues northern hunters like the Fenris Wolf of Norse myth. The woman sank exhausted on the show, and the older boy, nerved with fear, pushed on to Moose Factory for help. Guided by the boy back through the forests, the fort people found the hunter dead in the sleigh, the mother crouched forward unconscious from cold, stripped of her clothing, which was wrapped round the child she had taken in her arms to warm with her own body. The child was alive and well. The fur traders nursed the woman back to life, though she looked more like a withered creature of eighty than a woman barely in her twenties. She explained with a simple unconsciousness of heroism that the ground had been too hard for her to bury her husband, and she was afraid to leave the body and go on to the fort lest the wolves should molest the dead.

Completely Fagged out.

The world is full of sickly, despondent, tired, enefvated people, all hoping to be well some day. The surest road to health is along the way of taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone is a great appetizer and enables one to eat plenty of wholesome food without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia. This results in the rapid formation of an abundance of red, vitalizing blood, which will restore the nerves, increase flesh and vigor, and nourish and feed every organ of the body. Ferrozone is an ideal restorative and invigorant. It is a tonic of unequalled merit that anyone can use with benefit. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50; at Ormond & Walsh's.

The Food System the Source of Life

Any Derangements of Liver or Kidneys That Interfere With Digestion and Assimilation of Food Rob and Deplete the Body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It matters not how good your appetite, how you relish your food or how much you eat, so long as there is anything to interfere with proper digestion and assimilation of the food by the body, strength and vigour will gradually decline and weakness and debility take their place.

The most frequent cause of disordered digestion is sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. The whole alimentary canal, through which the food passes on its way through the body, becomes choked and clogged, and the system is poisoned and diseased.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been marvellously successful in exactly this class of disease, principally because they act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, regulating and invigourating their action, and restoring them to health.

Mr. R. Beach, 225 Sherbrooke street Peterborough, Ont., states: "About two years ago I became subject to cramps, which were caused, I was told, from acute indigestion. I was so bad that I would be laid up for weeks at a time. These attacks came on periodically, and distressed me greatly.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and have found them a wonderful medicine. They have entirely prevented a recurrence of my trouble, corrected the derangement of my digestive organs, and made me feel like a different person."

HONG KONG PIRATES

HABITS AND METHODS PURSUED BY THE CHINESE BUCCANEER.

Though He Has Fallen Upon Evil Days, He Occasionally Shows Some of the Courage of His Ancestors—A Dangerous Neighborhood—Looting of the Names—Some Notable Examples of Daring Piracy.

Although piracy upon a large scale has ceased to exist upon the China coast, it is still carried on in a small way, and that right under the nose of the British authorities at Hong Kong, and within shot of the fleet lying quietly at anchor in the shadow of Victoria Peak. Only a few months ago a daring piracy took place in the waters of Hong Kong harbor — at least, the first part of the little drama was acted there. A ferryboat, a small steamer of some thirty tons, plies between Hong Kong and within shot of the fleet lying opposite the mainland. The whole trip only takes fifteen minutes, and all the while the ferry is well in sight of the fleet. One night the ferry left the Hong Kong side at nine o'clock and failed to turn up at Yau-ma-ti, the suburb to which it plied. Enquiries were made, and nothing was heard of the craft until some couple of days afterward, when she returned with her crew and passengers, and a romantic tale of piracy. It appears that when the launch was in the middle of the harbor some of the passengers drew revolvers and held up their fellow-travelers and the crew. They then forced the native engineers to run the engines, and, having battened the rest of the crew and passengers down below, headed for the Canton River, where three of four large junks were pirated one after another. The pirates having obtained sufficient loot to satisfy them, ran the launch ashore in a small creek and abandoned her, the crew taking possession once more and bringing her back to Hong Kong when she floated with the rising tide.

Though it is not often that launches or junks are pirated in Hong Kong harbor, they are by no means safe when once its limits are passed. Piratical attacks on launches or steamers are usually made by men who go aboard in the guise of passengers, and, as a general rule there is no bloodshed unless resistance is offered. The pirates do not seem to take that delight in sanguinary fights that their cousins of the Spanish Main did, and hence the small river steamers plying on the Canton and West Rivers are usually left severely alone if they happen to have Europeans on board. The European has a nasty habit of not putting his hands up when told to, and this the pirates know. Still, there have been numerous instances of these boats being fired upon from the river bank, and those that are commanded by Chinese are frequently held up as described above.

The Canton and West Rivers are policed by British and French gunboats not to mention numerous Chinese junks in the pay of the Canton Viceroy heavily armed with old muzzle-loading guns, but which are, as our American cousins would say, about as much use as a sick headache. Humiliating as the confession may be for a Briton to make, the British river gunboat is not very much more effective in the suppression of piracy than the antiquated junk. The hands of the commanders are so tied that they cannot interfere unless they find a piratical attack actually in progress, and this the pirates take very good care shall not happen. There are very few gunboats and many hundreds of miles of river to patrol. The pirates have an excellent intelligence department, and always manage to carry out their little coups in the absence of the war vessels.

As a case in point it is said that in 1899 a British torpedo boat employed on patrol duty on the West River anchored one day just above a small island to clean her boilers, and as soon as she was in a helpless condition from this cause the pirates made a raid just the other side of the island, almost within sight of the war vessel. The gunner in command of her was helpless, for he only had a small collapsible boat, and could not make an attack on her. Only once have the British bluejackets on the West River come within striking distance of the pirates, and that was when Lieut.-Commander Forbes Semple, of Her Majesty's ship Tweed, chased a launch, which had just been pirated and had the ruffians still on board, in his steam cutter. The pirates fled up a creek, abandoned the launch, and went ashore, and Lieut. Semple had not sufficient force with him to pursue them further, though he had a very warm quarter of an hour's brush with them.

On the West River gangs of pirates terrorize certain districts and levy blackmail, which all boats have to pay unless they carry sufficient force to make a bold fight. It is no uncommon thing to see a heavily laden junk going up or down stream flying as many as three pirate flags as a sign that she has paid blackmail and received safe conduct. The writer one saw a large timber raft floating down which had not only taken the precaution to hire a special guardboat for its protection, but had also hoisted flags belonging to no fewer than four different pirate chiefs. A guardboat as often as not accompanies these large rafts, but they are utterly useless, and are usually only hired to appease the Mandarins to whom they belong.

It is now some ten years since the Namoa was pirated outside of Hong Kong; but her case shows that the Chinese pirate still has some of the pluck of his ancestors. The Namoa left Hong Kong, bound for Swatow, Amoy, and Foo-Chow, at about 9 o'clock one morning. She had among her passengers a large number of Chinamen who were returning to their homes in Fokien Province from California and the Straits Settlements, and they were bringing their accumulated savings with them. It was also said that she had on board a considerable amount of specie, but this, it fortunately turned out, had not been shipped by her. All went well until tiffintime, when, in descending into the saloon to that meal one of the passengers, pointing to the arm rack in the companion way, asked the captain why rifles were carried, and was laughingly told that they were relics of the old days when China coasters were wont to be held up by pirates. The meal had hardly commenced when it was interrupted by revolver shots fired down the skylight, while come stinkpots found their way into the saloon by the same entrance. Capt. Pocock sprang from his seat and commenced a parley with the pirates, who promised not to harm him if he would come on deck and make terms with them, but no sooner had he come up the ladder than he was shot and mortally wounded. The passengers and other officers were taken and locked in the captain's cabin with the wounded man, and there they found the rest of the Europeans on board, with the exception of one passenger who had been left on deck sick, and the engineer, who was on watch, and who managed to find a hiding place.

It seems that the pirates had come on board disguised as passengers and with revolvers concealed about them. They divided into two gangs, one of which attacked the saloon and held the after part of the ship and engine-room, while the other took charge forward and held up the officer on watch on the bridge. The Malay quartermasters who offered resistance were promptly shot and dropped overboard.

The ship was then kept nearly on her course, the pirates forcing the Chinese greasers to work her engines, and although another vessel of the same line was passed shortly after, nothing suspicious was noticed. The pirates proceeded to a small bay behind an island and there they anchored, junks came alongside, the Chinese passengers were relieved of their money, and the vessel was ransacked for valuables. Then, in the true old Spanish Main style, the main brace was spliced, and they had a fi brace was spliced, and they had a fine carousal. The refreshments having been made short work of, the ship's boats were all stove in, her remaining anchor dropped, her lights, signals, and rockets dropped overboard, and the winches disabled so that the anchors could not be raised. The pirates having departed, probably to return, the engineer, who had concealed himself in some out-of-the-way corner of the engine-room, came out and released the other Europeans, who got up steam again, slipped both cables, and brought the vessel back to Hong Kong. Some months later 11 of the pirates, who had been caught by the Chinese authorities were beheaded outside Kowloon City in the presence of British officials.—London Globe.

A BAD CASE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Kidney Troubles, no matter of what kind or what stage of the disease, can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of these wonderful pills. Mr. Joseph Leland, Alma, N.W.T., recommends them to all kidney trouble sufferers, when he says:—I was troubled with dull headaches, had frightful dreams, terrible pains in my legs and a frequent desire to urinate. Noticing DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS recommended for just such annoyances as mine, it occurred to me to give them a trial, so I procured a box of them, and was very much surprised at the effectual cure they made. I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble sufferers.

"FRUIT OF THE LOOM."

Men and women of taste and judgment go into ecstacies over the wonderful patterns, textures and colors which are "the fruit of the loom." But there is one fruit of the loom they rarely consider, and that is the frail and faded woman, old before her time, because necessity compels her to work under conditions, which send her more favored sister to bed and the doctor's care.

The diseases which weaken and torment women, may in almost all cases be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 846 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ills. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I should lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

to bear on it, or I should remember nothing of the hideous monster at all. As we wandered down an uninteresting street of shops, each shoppier than its neighbor, but supposed to be remarkable for something not in evidence, we met a school of little girls in grey, with very wide-open eyes, indeed, improving their harmless little minds under their mistress's guidance, in a quaint row of two-and-two. Thackeray stopped when he saw the little maidens, and they stopped, too, and bobbed.

"How many little girls are there?" he asked the mistress.

"Four-and-twenty, sir."

"Four-and-twenty little girls. They must have four-and-twenty little sixpences to buy four-and-twenty little things with."

And the procession was stayed till he had got all the change from himself and himself deposited a bright sixpence in every tiny hand. The eight-and-forty eyes grew very bright and the chorus of "Thank you, sir," very sweet and general. Then the procession passed on and so did we.

A New Type of Cruiser.

The British admiralty has sent to the leading Clyde shipbuilders specifications for a first-class armored cruiser of an entirely new type. The cruiser, which will have a displacement of 13,800 tons, will have all her guns placed in a citadel instead of in casements. The gun powder is greatly increased, several 9.2 inch guns being fitted. The speed will be twenty-two knots.

They Need the Truth.

Millions have been spent in colleges and millions in libraries, and the money has been well spent. Sure as you live, the time is at hand when farseeing men will come forward prepared to spend millions in placing the truth, so far as it can be ascertained, before the people of these United States—the truth about politics, the truth about finance, the truth about art, the truth about business—a true statement of news of the world, not to bolster up a cause, not to make a fortune, not to push a party, but the truth for its own sake because the cause of humanity, which is the cause of democracy, can live by nothing else than the truth.—Rev. W. S. Rainsford of New York, formerly of Toronto.

The Wise Gamekeeper.

An Englishman who was a keen sportsman but a very bad shot had the misfortune last year to half cripple a gamekeeper, who, previous to another visit this season from the sportsman, took every precaution for his own safety. During the morning of the first day the sportsman shot nothing whatever, and later on was told that his ammunition was expended. On seeing a bag containing cartridges, he asked the keeper who they were for. "Them's not for you, sir," said the keeper; "them's for another gentleman. They've got shot in them."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Pousett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Dec. 29.—There will be further money flurries, but as they are generally expected towards the end of the year, and large speculative accounts have been fairly well adjusted, the effect will not be as radical as bearish operators and the ultra conservative bulls imagined. Am. Copper, Sug. and St. P., which are the recognized specialities of the Standard Oil contingents, will continue to be the market pivots. The Gould factions talk 130 for M.O.P. This stock will sell at its 2 1-2 per cent. semi-annual dividend this week. There is steady buying of the coalers and the low priced issues amongst these Manh. may be taken hold of. Directors of R. I. will declare the dividend on pfd. with the dawn of the New Year. These Rock Island issues will be the strong favourites. Buy Ill. Cen. Hold Steels and Erie. Last London cables 1-8 to 1-4 easier.

JOSEPH.

New York, Dec. 29th.—Developments favour an improvement in prices to-day, although published financial writings this morning will probably cause some realizing on account of their pessimism. The Venezuelan situation seems to be relieved as a factor now. The unfavourable bank statement was not a surprise. High rates for money this week are likely. Do not ignore reasonable profits like those presented in American Copper. We expect to see R.I. pfd., Atch., B.O., and Can. Pac. go higher.

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

Mr. T. F. Matthews Made Report This Morning

At the Nomination Proceedings in the Council Chamber—Improvements to the Service.

The following is the report of the Water Commissioners that Mr. T. F. Matthews presented at this morning's nomination proceedings;

During the year the Commissioners held forty meetings, the first on Feb. 4th, at which I was present at all but three or four. We have tried to conduct the affairs of the Water Works Department in an economical manner, always consistent with efficiency, and our instructions to Superintendent Henderson were to maintain the plant in as perfect a manner as possible, which instructions he has faithfully carried out. The best of relations have existed between us, and between the Commissioners and the staff.

We have had a fairly busy season as far as new work was concerned, although considerably hampered with delay caused by failure to obtain supplies, such as valves, hydrants, etc. Had we received these in reasonable time, all street work would have been finished bfeore the hard frost set in.

The new work was distributed as follows;

	Lin. Ft.	Total
4 inch Pipe, Hammond Avenue	72
4 inch Pipe, Waterford Street	54
4 inch Pipe, Rubidge Street	270
		396
5 inch Pipe, Perry Street	229
5 inch Pipe, Water Street	638
5 inch Pipe, Charlotte Street	880
5 inch Pipe, McDonel Street	563
5 inch Pipe, Park Street	875
5 inch Pipe, Dublin Street	473
5 inch Pipe, Hydrant Con.	74
		3,732
8 inch Pipe, Lake Street,	44
8 inch Pipe, Water Street	28
8 inch Pipe, Quaker Street,	380
		452
Total Lin. Feet Laid		4,570

Approximately 87-100 of a mile, as against 2012 lineal feet in 1901, being an increase of 2558 feet. There were seven hydrants placed this year as against two in 1901, also six large street valves, as against four in 1901.

We have laid this year, seventy-six house services and five factory services, in all 1780 lineal feet, exclusive of work inside the street line. Full particulars of all construction work will appear in the Superintendent's report, which will be published at an early date.

It is impossible as yet to give the correct of revenue for 1902, or the cost of maintaining the plant. The estimated revenue for the year, including $1660.68 collected by the Water Company in January is $24,240.28. To compare this with the previous year, as operated by the Water Company, it would be necessary to deduct the $1500.00 additional rate received from the town.

We have spent on new construction work about $6,000.00, which includes the cost of service, pipe laying, as well as costs of mains, hydrants, etc.

We have handed to the town so far $10,660.68, which includes the $1660.68 collected by the Water Company in January. We will hand them over $8,500.00 in addition to this, which will give the Town Treasurer a credit balance or surplus on Water Works Revenue account of about $2,500.00, which amount, I understand, will be applied to the liquidation of the shortage on sale of debentures.

For the information of the ratepayers I would say that all the cost of taking the vote on the Water Works By-law, of advertising, of printing, and of selling and delivering the debentures has been charged on the Town books to the Water Works Revenue account, which amount the Commissioners have been asked to provide for, so you will understand that the ratepayer who is not a water consumer has not contributed a single cent toward the purchase of the Water Works, which in time will be a most valuable asset of the Town, providing, of course, that they are properly managed.

The water consumer is asked, under the present arrangement, to pay sufficient rates to cover cost of maintaining the system, to pay the interest on debentures, and to provide a sinking fund that will at the end of thirty years redeem the debentures. This can all be done and the rates can be reduced, but it cannot be expected that the water consumers will pay, in addition to maintaining and purchasing the works, a sufficient rate to create a surplus to be handed over to the Town for the reduction of the taxes of the ratepayer who is not a water consumer.

During the year we made arrangements with Ashburnham for their water supply on satisfactory terms.

In comparing the cost of construction and maintainance this year with previous years, it will be necessary to take into consideration the enhanced cost of all material, also the fact that we have paid higher salaries to the permanent staff, which are not now too high, considering the quality of and the quantity of work done. Also that for ordinary labour, we paid 16 2-3c per hour, whereas the old company paid but 12 1-3c per hour, or an increase of 33 1-3c.

If elected for the coming year, we intend to thoroughly inspect each service, and to adjust each rating. We hope to be able to reduce materially the rate for medium and small sized houses, as we feel it is necessary to get more services on existing mains, in order to bring up the revenue. We confidently expect to extend the system fully as much as was done this year.

The Day of Miracles

Is past, but many who are cured of itching, bleeding or protruding piles by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment look upon their recovery as next thing to miraculous. It is not uncommon for persons who have undergone painful, risky and expensive operations in vain to be finally cured by this wonderful ointment. It is the standard the world over and the only guaranteed cure for piles.

John Sawers, by J. B. McWilliams and G. M. Roger.

Ward No. 4.

William Pringle, by E. Green and John Sawers.

William Langford, by Geo. E. Elliott and E. Green.

BY ACCLAMATION.

It was necessary to elect two trustees for No. 1 Ward. Mr. McBain's term had expired and Mr. Bamford, whose term would not have expired for a year yet, resigned upon his leaving town some months ago. McBain was elected by acclamation, and Messrs. H. P. Kennedy and B. F. Ackerman were nominated to succeed Mr. Bamford.

In No. 3 Ward, Dr. Burnham was elected by acclamation, the other two candidates having withdrawn.

Candidates wishing to withdraw have until to-morrow evening until 9 o'clock to do so. Their signatures to their withdrawal must be witnessed.

NOMINATIONS IN ASHBURNHAM

The nominations for Reeve, Councillors and School Trustees for the Village of Ashburnham for the year 1903 took place this morning. A large number of the ratepayers attended and the meeting was interesting and at times entertaining. This year's business was thoroughly thrashed out and the council had convincing explanations to offer in answer to many questions, and the majority of the ratepayers were apparently well satisfied with the manner in which the business of the past year had been conducted. A number of gentleman were nominated for the various offices, their names being proposed and seconded as follows:

FOR REEVE.

Geo. Stevens, by A. McCarthy and J. T. Craig.

F. Adams, by R. B. Rogers and R. Pollock.

FOR COUNCILLORS.

Wm. Scott, by P. Glover and R. Pollock.

R. Pollock, by P. Glover and Jas. Fowler.

Jas. Hourigan, by R. Pollock and Jas. Fowler.

John Agnew, by R. Pollock and T. W. Fowler.

J. A. McWilliams, by J. T. Craig and Allan McCarthy.

A. McCarthy, by J. T. Craig and J. Agnew.

Wm. Faint, by R. B. Rogers and Frank Adams.

R. Sheridan, by R. B. Rogers and E. A. Peck.

T .B. Maniece, by R. B. Rogers and E. A. Peck.

Of these Mr. J. A. McWilliams withdrew, and possibly some of the others may before the twenty-four hours allowed for withdrawal are up.

The trustees were this year elected by acclamation as follows:

R. B. Rogers.

James Fowler.

W. H. Thompson.

During the morning some speeches were made which amused those present very much. One man well known in the building trade, stated that he had been called a liar by a member of the present board, nad that if he could not depend himself with his tongue he could do so at any time or place with his fists. Nearly everyone connected with the council fell under the lash of this gentleman's wrath, on every subject from stray cows to an error of 7-10 of a cent in the finances.

Several others made short addresses, and shortly after 1 o'clock Mr. Wood, the clerk, declared the nominations closed.

OTONABEE.

The council was all elected by acclamation as follows:

Reeve—John Deyell.

Councillors—John Moore, W. J. Porter, John H. Fair and John Carew.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

THREE DECEMBER WEDDINGS

Many Happy Brides at Christmas Time.

Mr Thos. Greer of Smith, Weds Miss Staples of the Same Township.

Greer—Staples.

The wedding took place on Christmas Day, at the residence of Mr. Samuel Staples, Cavan, of his niece, Miss Minnie Staples, and Mr. Thomas Greer, both of Cavan. The bridesmaid was Miss Percer, of Port Hope, and the groomsman Mr. M. Comstock, of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. V. Mounteer, in the presence of about sixty friends and relatives.

After the ceremony those present sat down to a bumptuous wedding dejeuner, and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

The bride is a sister of Miss Lillian Staples, of town.

McConkey—Elliott.

A very pleasing event took place at the residence of Mr. Isaac Elliott, on the 12 concession of Smith, on the evening of the 24th inst., when his eldest daughter, Miss Annie, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred McConkey, of the same township. The bride looked very pleasing in a gown of cream cashemere, and carried a beautiful wreath of white roses and carnations. Miss Edna Middleton, cousin of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid. She wore a dress of India lawn and carried a wreath of roses. Mr. Allan McConkey, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Emma Blaker, the bride entered the beautifully decorated parlour on the arm of her father. The Rev. Mr. Bunner performed the marriage ceremony and after the usual congratulations, the guests, which numbered about 60, sat down to a handsome feast. The presents were both costly and numerous, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. After a pleasant social evening the newly married couple left for their home, amid the best wishes of their friends for a long and happy wedded life. The fact of it being Christmas Eve seemed to make the occasion of more importance as the festivities of the following day were begun quite early. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet and to the bridesmaid a brooch.

McBrien—Blake.

On Wednesday, December 24th, a very pretty wedding was solemonized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. S. McFee, when her sister Miss Annie Blake, fourth daughter of Mr. Thomas Blake, of Asphodel, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles R. McBrien, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. Secombe, of Keene, in the presence of about ninety guests. The wedding party entered the room to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Aggie Comstock. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Norton McBrien, also of Peterborough, and the bride by her sister, Miss Maggie Blake. After the usual congratulations, the guests partook of a sumptuous repast. The evening was spent in social enjoyments. The presents were numerous and costly. In future the happy couple will reside in Peterborough. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and prosperous married life.

Reciprocity In Gifts.

There are two classes at Christmas, like other days—those who have had too much and those who didn't get any. Hundreds of Peterboronians, overjoyed by the remembrances of their friends, will be looking around this week for gifts to reciprocate their kindness. Others will be actuated by a laudable desire to make some one happy who is unable to give. Others, like the Scotch and French, reserve their present giving entirely to the New Year.

The Golden Lion is still abundantly stocked with beautiful and serviceful Gifts at Extra Special Values. This week will be a short, but a telling one at Fair's, as scores of chances, such as the following, await you for

WANSTEAD CALAMITY

Despatcher Kerr and Agent Carson Tell Their Stories.

AT VARIANCE ON "BUST" ORDER

Revelations at the Coroner's Inquest at Wyoming—Events Leading Up to the Railway Disaster—Both Men Tell Succinct Tales of the Various Orders and Incidents of the Fatal Night.

Wyoming, Ont., Dec. 30.—It was 10 o'clock yesterday morning when Coroner A. E. Harvey called the jury to investigate the G.T.R. disaster at Wanstead together. They are: William Culbert, constable; Robert Rae, shoemaker; William Goghill, merchant; Rev. J. M. Gunn; Pierce Parker, blacksmith; Rev. W. G. Richardson; O. H. Smith, merchant; Rev. E. J. Haines; J. W. Smith, retired merchant; Rev. W. G. Andrews; Simon Casey, Justice of the Peace; Alphens McKay, undertaker; G. G. Hartley, machine agent, and John Gibson, all of Wyoming. J. W. Smith was made foreman.

The jury viewed the body of Fireman Ricketts of Sarnia as a preliminary to the investigation. The mutilated corpse had been sent to a local undertaker's for that purpose, and a trainman was called to identify the remains as having been killed Friday night in the wreck where the express and freight collided one hundred yards west of Wanstead. Then Train Despatcher Kerr was called to the stand.

Story of Despatcher Kerr.

The Pacific express, or No. 5, as the ill-fated train was called, he said, left London down the Sarnia branch one hour and fifteen minutes late at 9.08. It would require one hour to reach Watford. At the same time an extra freight, carrying a consignment of dressed beef, left Sarnia for the east. These two trains he had to get over the road as fast as possible, and he figured out a meeting place at Wanstead. He expected No. 5 to reach Watford at 10, but she got there at 9.46. Just before her arrival I had sent an order to Watford and Wyoming to be delivered to the conductors of these two trains requiring them to meet and pass at Wanstead. The Wyoming operator reported the signature of the freight conductor to his order first, and I completed it and it was O. K.'d. At the same time I wired the agent there to wait a minute that I might cancel the order, using the phrase "I may bust it." This was in response to the information Wyoming had given me that the freight was not getting out of the yards, and I knew the connection would be close, and I did not desire to hold the express for the freight. At that moment I was contemplating holding the freight at Wyoming until the express reached there. I then called Carson at Watford and asked him about No. 5. She had not arrived, but was coming, he reported. I then called Wyoming again and started with the abbreviation 31, which is the signal to the operator that a train order is coming, and which requires him to immediately set his order board, which, showing a red light, prevents any train passing until given permission. Wyoming hesitated to receive the message, saying the freight had left the station.

I then told him to hold extra, and he rushed out into the yards to try and catch her. In the meantime I was expecting Carson at Watford to announce that the conductor of the Flyer had signed the order, which is the preliminary course to getting my O. K. and making same operative. Not hearing anything, I asked Watford where No. 5 was. He replied instantly that the express had gone. I instantly called that he hold No. 5, and asked him why he permitted her to pass without the order being perfected. He replied that I had busted the order. In the meantime I began calling Kingscourt Junction to stop the express there. I must have called him for five or seven minutes before a reply was received. At the same time Carson was calling that station over the commercial wire. Before I received a reply from that quarter the Wyoming agent announced that he could not stop the freight. When Kingscourt did answer my call it was to report the Flyer approaching, and I called on him to stop her. He replied that he could not, and about the same time announced that No. 5 had passed.

I then begin calling the operator at Wanstead in the vain hope that he might be there at that hour. Wanstead is not a night office. I called to Chief Despatcher Hayward and told him I feared trouble at Wanstead, as No. 5 had gone past with no orders. Mr. Kerr was called upon for explanations of a mass of technical information. He said that an order when issued and completed could not be made imperative except by the transmission of another full order formally cancelling the first order. He never cancelled an order by saying "Bust it." Of that he was sure. Therefore it was not possible that he could be mistaken, and that Carson could be accurate in his statements that this order had been cancelled in this manner. He asserted that the cancelling of an order once given was even a more elaborate affair than the issuing of the original order. The rules required Watford to make three copies of the order touching the passing of the extra and No. 5, two of which he gave to the conductor and the third being kept undetached in his order book for a complete record in the event of the order being cancelled, the entire three copies previously made out must be destroyed. Telling an operator to bust an order would be wholly irregular, the cause of endless confusion, and would never be done by a despatch in the regular course of business. All this he was positive of, he said, as far as the relation of these trains to each other was concerned they were under special orders until they had passed. "If there had been a night operator at Wanstead the wreck would have been avoided," asked the coroner. "Well, if there had been an operator there, and I could have caught him at that time the wreck might have been avoided." was the cautious reply of Mr. Kerr.

Continuing he said: "I expected No. 5 to make Watford by ten. She got there at 9.46. I sent the order at 9.48. One minute later Wyoming sent in the signature of the extra conductor to this order, then I O.K.'d same, and it became complete. At 9.50 night operator Watson wired me that the train was not getting out. I then called Watford and asked if No. 5 was coming. He said yes. I said "minute." may bust it, meaning that I might cancel the order. I then called Wyoming several times before I got an answer. He then answered and said extra 5 going, shall I stop it? I said no, then I called Watford and he said extra had gone. I then called Kingscourt Junction before I got an answer and told him to stop 5. He said he could not, and I replied that he must. I then asked Carson why he let No. 5 go. He said you told me to. I said, oh! my, no. I then told Mr. Hayward, my chief, I expected trouble. A little later Wanstead called me and asked if the flyer was to meet a train there. I told him

WILL KILL TYPHOID GERMS.

An Authoritative Announcement From the Chicago Board of Health.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—That lemon juice will destroy the typhoid germs in water is authoritatively announced by the Chicago Health Department after careful experiments extending over the last three days.

One teaspoonful of the juice to half a glassful of water is known to be a good combination, and repeated trials have invariably produced the same result—every germ was killed.

The investigations followed, and their result confirms the announcement made on Christmas Day by Dr. Asa Ferguson, a London physician, to the effect that lemon juice was a deadly foe to typhoid.

Snow and Lightning.

Vienna, Dec. 30. — Severe snowstorms, accompanied by thunder and lightning, are reported throughout Galicia. At Skowina, Sunday, lightning struck a church and killed one person. Many people were injured at Saybunch, where lightning set fire to a church. Trains are snowed up, and traffic practically is suspended.

4,800 Earthquake Victims.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 30.—Further advices from Andijan say the earthquake victims number 4,800, of which 1,600 were killed in the town of Andijan, and the balance in the adjacent country.

FLOUR AND APPENDICITIS.

Where Coarse Breads are Used the Disease is Unknown.

Dr. H. C. Howard of Champaigne, Ill., a practitioner for half a century, is credited in the Chicago Tribune with having stated that changes in milling processes are responsible for appendicitis. The publication named says:

"To prove this assertion the physician points to the fact that where coarse breads are used the disease is unknown, but as soon as the fine breadstuffs are introduced appendicitis comes along as a sequence. By this reasoning it is shown that the people of agricultural communities, who secured their flour from small mills, did not have the disease until the small mills were crowded out by the larger ones, and fine white flour supplanted the coarse. Then the negroes of the South so long as they ate corn bread, were free from the disease, but when the new process began to be used the disease soon came among them. The same results attended the departure of the German folks from their coarse bread to the refined flour. I can remember that prior to 1875," said Dr. Howard, "there was little or none of the ailment among the people. In twenty-five years of practice among the people before that time I do not think I saw more than forty cases of appendicitis. Now they are common. Large and extended changes in the diet of the people have contributed to this. For example, about the date mentioned there began to be a general change from the old method of grinding grain to the present method of roller mills and excessively fine bolting cloths. This plan of milling began first in the large cities, and appendicitis began to increase first there. Later the new process crowded out the small mills in the country, and the people could not get flour made by the old processes. They bought the products of the larger milling establishments, and then the farmers began to have appendicitis. Still, the negroes of the south did not have it, but in time they began to get away from their plain corn bread and they, too, began to have appendicitis. So it goes. They did not have appendicitis in Germany, until they began to eat our fine white flour and put in the new process of milling after our fashion. Now, they have appendicitis in Germany just as we do. Experienced millers will tell you that the fine flour is a less desirable flour than that made by the old process, but the trade demands it, chiefly on account of its whiteness. On account of its indigestibility the disarrangement of the digestive organs of the people eating it has greatly increased. The prime cause of appendicitis is found in this disarrangement. Quite small children have it. I know one boy who has had thirteen well-defined attacks of the disease, and came out of all of them without a surgical operation. He changed his food to corn bread and mush, with coarse breads in general, vegetables, little meat, and some fruit, and he has taken on flesh, and has not had a symptom of the disease for three years."

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhosone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionised. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhosone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhosone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhosone. ONTARIO PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR.

The Attendance Was Much Larger Than Ever Before.

IMPORTANCE OF AGRICULTURE

Some Advice on Our Export Trade—Finishing Range Cattle in the East

The recent Ontario Provincial Winter Fair at Guelph demonstrated once more that an educational show, without any of the so-called "attractions," can be made an unqualified success. The attendance was much greater than ever before and although the vast building had been considerably enlarged during the summer the accomodation was again found to be inadequate. Hundreds of farmers' wives and daughters were present, and took as keen an interest in the exhibits, especially the poultry, as did their husbands and brothers. The practical lectures were again the most attractive part of the show, and as before the wisdom of this feature was demonstrated beyond all doubt. The lecture room was at all times too small to accommodate the crowds who wished to hear the addresses and it will evidently be found necessary to again enlarge the seating capacity of this room, if the highest possibilities of the Show as an educational medium are to be achieved. Indeed the good City of Guelph was so crowded with visitors that it would seem as if the limit had already been reached and that it would be wise to start additional shows in other parts of the province, to meet the wants of those who cannot conveniently reach Guelph, and to relieve the congested state of affairs in the Royal City. The Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst, N. S., and the big Spring Show and Sale at Calgary, Alta., are doing good work along educational lines, and another similar show will be started in Ottawa in February next. It requires no prophetic gift to foretell the establishment of great educational shows for the benefit of each and every province in the Dominion within the next two or three years. The convention at Guelph was a magnificent assemblage of the leaders in agricultural thought, gathered from all sections from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the United States and Great Britain as well. If as Andrew Elliott, of Galt, remarked, Canada were suddenly deprived of the services of all her agricultural leaders who were present at the Show, a blow would be struck at our prosperity, from which it would not recover in ten years.

THE IMPORTANCE OF AGRICULTURE.

"In this Dominion," said the Hon. Sydney Fisher, in one of his addresses, "Agriculture interests are paramount; they supply the greater bulk of our exports. It is the payment for these exports with which we pay our bills all over the world. It is our agricultural production, which supplies the great bulk of the things which our transportation companies carry, which our mercantile agencies handle, and by which our people have to make their living. As long as this is the case it is well that our people should be generous and wise in their expenditure in the interests of this great country. I am disposed to urge our farmers to produce more and more, because our experience in the last year or two has been that the only limit to our sales has been our own capacity for production, and the more rapidly and the more earnestly we can increase that capacity, the greater will be the prosperity not only of agriculture but of our whole Dominion.

SOME ADVICE ON OUR EXPORT TRADE.

Some good advice from a disinterested standpoint was given by Mr. Arch. MacNeilage, of Glasgow, in a talk on Canadian live stock products exported to Great Britain and how to improve that trade. He said that Great Britain must consume the surplus products of other countries. Canadian cattle and beef were good, but not as good as the best beef from the United States. The demand in Great Britain was altogether for "baby" beef. At the Smithfield show they had no classes for old animals. Many were putting steers on the market at 22 months old. Baby beef was lacking in flavour perhaps but the public wanted it and it was more profitable to produce. In cheese Canada easily led, great credit being due to Prof. Robertson for his efforts to secure better transportation facilities. Canadian butter had not as good a reputation; the Danish and New Zealand butter surpassed it; the Irish was about equal to it, and the Siberian was rapidly approaching it. A weak point in Canadian butter was that many samples of it contained too much moisture. The manner of packing was also defective, especially as regards the parchment paper which was found inferior, flabby and soft when the packages were opened. The keeping qualities of the butter might also be improved.

As to horses there was a universal feeling in favour of Canadian horses, draft, van or express horses, and carriage horses. The trouble was that they could not get enough. Canadian horses were well mouthed, well broken, docile, full of spirit, and singularly handsome. Prime draft horses weighing 170 0pounds, and upwards, would command as high as $400 to $500 in Glasgow. Carriage horses, for which there is an unlimited demand, range in price from $300 to $375 for first class animals, $240 to $275 for seconds, and $150 to $225 for cobs. "Van" horses, used by the railway companies, brought $325 to $375 for first class, and $260 to $275 for seconds.

FINISHING RANGE CATTLE IN THE EAST.

One feature of the show which attracted a good deal of attention was a bunch of 25 range cattle from the Northwest, exhibited by the Territorial Department of Agriculture. These cattle were grade Shorthorns, Herefords and Galloways, and will be stabled and fed at the Agricultural College and at Major Hood's farm, at Guelph, Ont., with a view to ascertain whether a successful business can be done by Ontario farmers in "finishing" Western cattle. Only 15 per cent. of the American range cattle are shipped directly to the market. The rest are shipped East and fed grain until they are in condition for better prices than ours. In shipping our range cattle to England they are so unaccustomed to confinement that they usually reach the Old Country before they begin to eat. As they have to be slaughtered within ten days of their arrival the loss in weight and price is very heavy. It is believed by Western men that if range cattle were shipped east and sold at one central point, such as Toronto, they could be laid down at $35 to $40 per head, leaving a good margin for the Ontario farmer.

GREAT BEEF PACKING CENTRES NEEDED.

In speaking of the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in the United States, and of the necessity of protecting Canadian herds from contagious diseases, Hon. Sydney Fisher drew attention to the advantages of having a dressed beef trade, rather than an export trade in live cattle. Among other things he said: "The Americans have a dead meat trade. They have all the facilities of immense abattoirs, and they can turn the stream from the live cattle to the dead meat trade in a very little time. But if there were to occur a case of contagious disease in Canada tomorrow and the markets of the Old Country should be shut against our live stock trade we have no organized dead meat trade, no abattoirs here to slaughter our animals, no facilities for the transportation of that meat if it were prepared for the Old Country market, and that would be an almost fatal blow against the live stock trade of this country. Such a thing might occur in Canada at any moment; it matters not how careful the authorities may be. Such things have occurred in the old land. I believe the day has come in Canada when the ordinary dead meat trade must be organized, must be established, so that if such an incident should occur in this country, we should not be put to the enormous loss that we would be to-day. We have an example of what can be done in the success of the bacon trade of Canada. The same thing can be done in the dead beef trade. It will require the same business capacity, the same organization, the same capital that was required for the organization of the packing houses and for the establishment of the bacon trade, the organization of the abattoir system in Canada, and a transportation system to carry the meat forward. I want to call the attention of the stockmen and capitalists of this province to this problem. I am quite sure the difficulties which have hindered it up to the present time have largely disappeared. One of these was the lack of a market for the offal. There will soon be a market here that all the parts of the animal can be utilized. This being the case I feel the time is now ripe for the establishment of a meat trade with the Old Country and that it must be brought about in the interests of the live stock of this country. Unless we take steps we are shortsighted, and we are closing our eyes to a danger with which we are face to face.

Hon. John Dryden emphasized what the Dominion Minister of Agriculture had said and added: "I hope that a year hence I shall be able to make an announcement concerning the establishment of an industry that will relieve us from the danger with which we are now confronted. Influences are even now at work which may bring this about, and it should be brought about."

BIG VOTE FOR LIQUOR ACT.

Majority Almost One Hundred Thousand.

Out of a Total Vote of 301,268 the Temperance People Secured 198,630 and Lack Only a few Thousand of Carrying the Act.

(Toronto Telegram.)

With the exception of two constituencies, these of Fort William and East Nipissing, all the returns of the recent vote on the Liquor Act are now in, and have been compiled by Lieut-Col. Clarke, Clerk of the Legislature. The strength of the vote thus shown in favour of the act will be somewhat of a surprise to both sides. Aside from the fact that Premier Ross' limit was not reached, it is a distinct triumph for the prohibitionists. Out of 301,268 votes polled, 198,630, or 65.9 per cent. were in favour of the act, and 102,638, or 34.1 per cent., against it. With a majority of 95,992, it will be seen that had the conditions been upon any other basis, say of 60 per cent. of vote, the act would have carried. As it is the vote lacks only about twelve or fourteen thousand, and it is by a good margin the strongest vote ever polled for prohibition in the Province of Ontario, as the following figures show:

1902.

Total vote cast	301,268
Total votes "Yes"	198,630
Percentage of total	65.9
Total votes "No"	102,638
Percentage of total	34.1
Majority of votes "Yes"	95,992

1898.

Total names on voters' lists ...	571,696
Votes "Yes"	162,297
Votes "No"	114,246
Total vote polled	276,577

Yeas obtained 57 per cent. votes cast.

1894.

Total male votes on lists	561,289

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever,. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

THE CARE OF HORSES.

An Interesting Article on Ills of Horseflesh.

The Terrible Spavin—Some Advice to Buyers—Broken Horses.

The ills which horseflesh is heir to form an important part in the market value of man's faithful friend. These ills, too, are of quite a numerous and strongly marked character, being part and parcel of the anatomy of a considerable percentage of the equine family. A perfect horse physically, is enough of a rarity to cause comment and much boasting on the part of his owner, while the perfect horse in form, action, manners and disposition is an invaluable creature to his fortunate master.

In the regular sales conducted in horse centres the dealers become so expert in judging the animals that their parts are passed upon with lightning rapidity as the offerings appear in the rings to be sold at the head, or, rather, at the mouth, of the auctioneer. A subject is then listed as having this or that blemish, or is simply sold to the halter at the buyer's risk.

Putting aside the blemishes of a horse in disposition or in training, which may properly be called blemishes in the abstract—like viciousness, balkiness or awkwardness—and looking solely to the deformities which mar figure and concrete usefulness of the four legged servant, it is found that one of the most common blemishes is the splint—a small bony formation or button, more or less elongated, which is found usually just below the knee on the inside of one or both legs, and lying between the two main bones of the fore legs.

The splint is a minor blemish that is chiefly an objection in that it mars the smoothness of the leg in the eye of the horseman. It is interesting, too, as a study in evolution, many regarding it as merely a rudimentary remnant of what was once an extra member in the prehistoric horse—the undeveloped horse of early creation. Quite certain it is that in a number of strains of the horse family the splint is regularly inherited and appears on nearly every foal. A splint can be all reduced or in part by early manipulation or later surgery.

THE TROUBLESOME SPAVIN.

One of the first blemishes looked for by the horse buyer is the spavin, commonly called a "jack." The hind leg is the home of the spavin, and a bad tenant it is indeed. There is the bone spavin, and then there is the "bog" spavin, which is not of bone. The former is the bad one, and as a rule makes the horse lame. The spavin comes on slowly, and increases in size and its power to cripple its possessor as the time passes. It grows on the hock inside and just below the big joint. In rare cases it appears on the outside. Cures are claimed for it but are generally discredited.

A bony growth sometimes appears between the fetlock and the hoof of the horse and is known as the ringbone. It may be scarcely apparent, or it may come to entirely fill up that space with a rough, unnatural growth of bony substance. The blemish is a bad one, quite incurable, and makes the victim lame. The hind feet are more commonly affected than the front.

A little lower, next to the hoof, oftener in front than behind, is the seat of sidebone, a blemish less familiar to ordinary eye than any of the foregoing. It has come into notice in this country more conspicuously with the advent of the heavy draught breeds. Heavy weight and work on hard pavements are conducive to the sidebone, which is not more or less than the upper and new growth of hoof rendered tender and diseased. In extreme cases it leads to the quitter, when it renders the worker useless. Taken in its early stage it submits to treatment and rest. Pasturage often puts the hoof back to its normal growth and effects a cure.

ADVICE TO BUYERS.

A disease that ends in a queer growth on the very poll or top of the head of the horse is called "poll evil." The trouble is quickly observed, owing to the habit of the horse in stretching his neck straight out in front, and makes a pitiable spectacle of the patient. There is little left to do for the poor creature except to put it out of its misery.

A common blemish is the curb—a rounding of the bone of the hind leg, just below the back point of the hock. This formation does not injure the serviceableness of the driver appreciably. If patiently rubbed when it first appears the curb can be reduced, the bone absorbing the growth, if not too prominent.

A wind-broken horse is one that has been permanently injured in breathing power by overdriving. Violent exercise reveals the weakness to the horseman who listens to the breathing. In extreme cases anyone can hear the brute roar a block away.

In purchasing a horse the careless man may neglect to note whether or not the animal is deaf; his eye may not be expert enough to see that the offering is a "swayback," is notched out where the collar rests, blistered shoulders, "string halt," so-called "capped hocks," is a cribber—as he will find out when the purchase is taken home and eats the mangers.

Overheating may [illegible] the blind staggers, and [illegible] end sudden cooling off may develop sweeney—a soreness and stiffness of shoulders and front legs that cripples a horse sufficiently to ruin him as a member in good standing among his kind.

The heaves come on as years go by, like asthma in man, and is incurable. The ailment is not necessarily fatal and considerable service may be exacted from Old Dobbin if care is exercised in driving slowly and in feeding him only dampened food.

A horse may be "blue" or blind in one or both eyes; he may have wire marks as remembrances of his days pastures fenced with barbs; he may have a breach; he may have corns; he may be sore-footed from various causes, or his ears may not be mates; or his tail may be carried to one side—all these defects which debar him from sale or show ring constitute "blemishes" in the vernacular of the horse dealing profession and are taken into account in the buying and selling of the noblest and greatest of all the animal kingdom—man's best friend, the horse.

THE LATEST FEAT OF SCIENCE

Once more has science shown how the apparently impossible can be performed. Marconi has sent messages from Cape Breton to Europe by wireless telegraphy; the British King and the Italian King, among other persons, have answered them. So that there is no longer doubt that this marvellous feat of signalling with success through nearly three thousand miles, through no other medium than the atmosphere, has been successfully performed. It awes one to think of it. The reverent attitude of Samuel F. B. Morse, when in sending his first message through the Atlantic cable, he chose the words, "What hath God wrought!" can be understood in the presence of this still greater marvel. Yet again the forces of Nature have been utilized by genius for the benefit of mankind. It is to the credit of Canada that her rulers early showed sympathetic and practical interest in the experiments of the young Italian. Upon our shores his apparatus was erected by which results have been achieved, and Canada must always be associated with wireless telegraphy.

PRIVATE BANKS.

(Monetary Times.)

The recent failure of two private banking firms, doing business in the prosperous counties of Halton and Wellington, Ontario, have startled the community. They came within two or three weeks of each other, and both have caused grievous trouble and loss to depositors, not a few of whom are poor people. Unhappily there is some reason to think that speculation on margin had to do with at least one of these failures, though unwise investments and lock-ups of capital are given as the principal reason. It is too early to learn the condition of the estates or to estimate how much in the dollar creditors may expect, but their loss will probably be serious. In any case, it is undeniable that private banking receives a shock from these occurrences, which must affect the confidence felt, and deservedly felt, by their clients, even in many private bankers, who do their business well and keep their funds well in hand. The effect can scarcely fail to be an agitation for some sort of supervision of private banks which will so expose their actual position and determine their responsibility as to protect depositors from ruin or privation.

A GRINDING KIDNEY PAIN

Prostrated Mrs. Readon, Simcoe, Ont., so That she was Unable to Attend Her Work.

A Bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Completely Cured Her.

In the town of Simcoe, Ont., there are many people who have a good word to say on behalf of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets—a remedy which has done wonders curing backache and serious kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Mrs. Jennie Readon, who lives on Agricultural street of that town, writes as follows:

"For more than six months my back has bothered me a great deal. I have had to get some one to do my work at times (ironing and washing.) The pain was of the grinding variety. I laid it to overstrain and the kidneys. Pain in the side was also very bad. I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from J. Austin & Co's drug store, and I am very much pleased with them. I do my own work now, and can scrub if necessary without trouble. The pain is a thing of the past. I found the Tablets gentle in action and am pleased to recommend them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are chocolate coated and easy to take. Price 50c. a bottle, or 3 for $1.25. at all druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont. 6

THE WATSON VERDICT

Samuel Exonerated by Coroner's Jury of Shooting Wesley.

DONE WHILE IRRESPONSIBLE.

Story of Torture by Burglars Weighed Strongly With the Twelve Good Men and True—Found No Evidence of Malice or Premeditation—Fully Expected His Victim Was a Burglar.

Brantford, Dec. 30.—The inquest into the death of Wesley Watson, who was shot at his home, near Middleport, Brant County, early on Tuesday morning last by his brother, was resumed at Middleport yesterday morning.

Dr. Fissette, coroner of Brantford, presided, A. J. Wilkes, K.C., of Brantford, represented the Crown, and W. C. Livingston of the same city was present to look after the interests of James and Samuel Watson.

Albert Harris was the first witness. He testified that about nine o'clock on Tuesday morning James Watson came to his place, and told him that they (the Watsons) had been scared out of their house the night before, and had gone back in the morning. Harris, his brother Theodore and James Watson and Samuel Watson and Tim Dawson, whom they picked up on the road, went together to the Watson homestead.

The witness first went into the room where the dead man lay, but it was so dark he could not distinguish objects. He went and got a lamp, and immediately recognized the remains as those of Wesley Watson. When he said so the two brothers became almost frantic. This was the first intelligence they had that the man shot by Sam was their own brother. After the shooting had occurred the Watsons had run out of the house, and Samuel went to Dawson's and James to Harris'.

The next witness was Henry Preiss, a neighbor, to whom the Watsons had first applied for help on the Monday night when they supposed their house was about to be burglarized. About 9 o'clock of the night in question Samuel Watson had gone to his house, and was in a very excited condition. He carried a loaded shot gun. He said, "For God's sake get your gun, there are robbers in the house!" He was in his stocking feet, and was minus hat, coat and vest. About 10 minutes later James Watson arrived. He was minus hat and coat. Preiss gave them clothing to put on, but did not accompany them back. Shortly after the two brothers left the house. Both had guns, and the witness supposed that they were loaded.

James Watson was the next witness. He was greatly agitated when he began to give his evidence, and was allowed to sit down during the hearing. He narrated fully the occurrence of the burglary on Nov. 22. On the morning of that day he and his brother Samuel both left home. Witness returned home about 11.30 a.m. He was met by a masked man who seized him. A moment afterward another robber appeared, and the two bound and gagged him and put him in the cellar. Here they demanded to know where the money was hid, and, after subjecting victim to various tortures, he gave wrong information, and one of the men went out to follow it up. He came back shortly and told witness he was lying, and threatened to kill him. Soon after Samuel Watson came home, and he was similarly bound and ill-treated. He told the truth about the whereabouts of the treasure and where hidden, and one of the robbers went out and dug up a jar containing $225. They took Samuel along with them to find the larger which contained $250. After the three had gone James Wilson got loose, and went after them with a gun. He shot the gun off twice and scared the men away.

His reason for taking the money out of the bank, and hiding it on the premises was because they did not intend to pay the $500 rent which fell due on Jan. 1 until the owner had repaired the buildings. The owner of the farm is Cyrus Kearns of Caledonia.

James Watson's account of the events that happened on Monday evening and Tuesday morning last was identical with that already published. The other witnesses were Thomas Higgins and Zeno Seagle, who testified to speaking to deceased after his arrival by train at Onondaga. He was in excellent spirits The remaining witnesses were Henry Creswell, at whose place the Watsons remained all night, and Timothy Dawson who was one of the first to view the remains.

The jury was absent about half an hour and returned with the following verdict:

That Wesley Watson met his death from a gun shot wound inflicted by Samuel Watson during a period of irresponsibility induced of excessive nervous and mental fear bordering on mania due to the maltreatment previously inflicted by burglars, and the belief that they were again to be subjected to more abuse by the same parties, we find no evidence of malice or premeditation, and believe that he fully expected his victim was a burglar.

Samuel Watson will appear before Squire Leitch at Brantford to-day for commitment.

Creditors Will Meet Jan. 6.

Oakville, Dec. 30.—A meeting of the creditors of Anderson's insolvent bank has been called for Jan. 6 in the Town Hall here. At this meeting a complete statement of affairs will be presented, and the auditors asked to decide as to the disposition of the estate. In all there are 502 creditors.

A GUARANTEED CURE For all Forms of Kidney Disease.

We the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys:—

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrattrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

Lots of Good Cheer at Henry & Co's.

Now for the great feast day of the year! Do not let your New Year be blighted for want of good cheer. Welcome the coming guest right royally. If your custom is to have something good to drink, as well as something good to eat, in temperance and in moderation, leave your "requisitions" at Henry's. We have imported some very fine wines for the holidays, that will give zest to the meat. Also medicinal liquors for winter emergencies—sudden attacks of colds, chills, etc. A glass of Allen's cider is a nice drink. Get your New Year's groceries and fruits at Henry & Co's. All the good things which go to make up the holiday feast. Henry & Co.

ANNUAL GOLF CLUB DANCE

Held in Bradburn's Opera House Last Night.

Was a Success Socially if not Financially—57th Regt. Band.

The annual dance of the Peterborough Golf Club took place last night in the Opera House and will go on record as one of the most successful social functions in the history of the Club.

The Opera House was decorated very prettily, and the arrangements throughout were most complete. The novel feature of the dance was the presence of the 57th Regimental Band, which occupied a place on the stage, and presented a very striking appearance in their scarlet uniforms. They supplied the entire programme for dancing. The music may have seemed a little loud to some, but the time for the most part was excellent and the two-steps throughout were particularly enjoyable.

The opening set of honour was composed as follows:

Mrs. John Crane and Mr. A. H. Stratton.
Mrs. W. H. Hill and Mr. H. D. Burnett.
Mrs. A. H. Stratton and Mr. A. P. Choate.
Mrs. Peter Campbell and Mr. John Crane.
Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun and Mr. Peter Campbell.
Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Mr. C. B. McAllister.
Mrs. Richard Hall and Dr. Eastwood.
Mrs. H. D. Burnett and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.

The programme was very satisfactorily arranged and refreshments were served beginning at the 8th dance. The catering was done by Mr. Harry Long in his most excellent style.

Mr. C. H. Bradburn was the efficient Hon. Secretary of the dance.

SMOKER AND SUPPER

Given by the Carpenters and Joiners Last Night.

It is through social intercourse that a great deal of work is done in this world. Friendlier relations are established, and everything runs smoother in actual life, if we spend sometimes a short while in pleasant intercourse. Old friendships are strengthened, and new ones formed, and old questions and exploits retold. Such an evening was that spent at the smoker and supper of the Carpenters and Joiners Union in their hall on Simcoe street last evening. The first part of the evening was spent in conversation and smoking, after which the following programme was rendered:

Violin solo.....Prof. Tucker
Song.....Walter Wesley
Recitation.....Col. Miller
Violin selection.....Mr. Metheral and Mr. Cochrane
Song.....Mr. J. Powell
Brush horn pipe.....Mr. Long
Song.....Alf. Kingscote
Mouth organ solo.....Fred Andrews
Stiff legged dance.....Mr. J. Robinson
Violin solo.....Napoleon Trombley
Recitation.....Mr. Tivey
Song.....Mr. Garside
Brush horn pipe.....Mr. John Long
Song.....Mr. J. O'Brien
Clog.....Mr. J. Montgomery
Song.....Mr. Ringer
Jig dance.....Wm. Watt
Sand jig.....Fred Andrews

The pleasant evening was closed by God Save the King.

Don't forget to-night the social at the Charlotte street parsonage by Ladies' Aid of Charlotte street church. Admission 15c, or two for 25c. Good programme and refreshments.

TOWN MILK TESTING.

Dr. Bingham now Equipped With First Class Instruments.

During a visit to Toronto at Christmas, I received instruments for a scientific examination of the milk supplied to the town, and if either water or impurity of any kind, should by accident, or in any other way, get into the milk, these instruments will detect it at once. It is assumed that the milk vendors of the town are doing their best to supply a pure article, but in Toronto and in other cities a scientific examination of milk is adopted, and it is thought that Peterborough should be even with the best of them.

J. BINGHAM,
Medical Health Officer.

Don't forget the turkey shoot at Chemong Park on New Year's Day. A large number of turkeys to be shot for.

Give Flowers at New Years

Flowers are always an acceptable gift, but especially at the holiday season. The Aylmer street greenhouses are at present radiant with bloom. The loveliest flowering plants, flowering bulbs, and cut bloom for everybody. Beautiful Roman hyacinths, Chinese Sacred lilies, paper white Narcissus, Calla lilies, flowering begonias, palms, ferns, etc. Large collection of ferns in pretty fern pots. Ex-President E. B. Edwards Sends Greetings

To Scottish Curlers and Received a Reply—Some Hockey News of Interest.

CURLING.

The Scottish curlers are on Canadian soil. They landed in Halifax on Sunday morning by the Bavarian. They were welcomed by local and Montreal curlers. Past President E. B. Edwards, K.C., of Peterborough, chairman of the Ontario Curling Association, sent the following message of welcome to Rev. John Kerr, the captain and chaplain of the Scottish team:

A hearty welcome to our curling brethren from across the sea. Keen ice and warm hearts await you.
E. B. EDWARDS.

Colonel Edwards received the following reply:

Scottish curlers thank you much for kindly telegram. Already we feel that brethren in Canada mean to overcome us with hospitality. Keen and clear.
JOHN KERR.

The curlers had one accident on the voyage. Andrew Smith of the Stenhouse and Carron Club, had his knee cap fractured about a week ago. The Scotsman were curling when Smith ran down the deck with a fellow player close after him. In his haste Smith struck the corner of a skylight with the result stated. He will be unable to take part in the proposed tour. Smith was removed to the hospital immediately on arriva lat Halifax. This will leave the team with five rink and three spare men and will not impair the success of the games.

* * * *

At the curling rink last night a couple of close and interesting games were played. The centre ice will be opened it is expected, on New Year's Day. The following are the rinks:

R. Sturgeon,	H. C. Winch,
W. Smith,	W. Stocker,
D. Cameron,	W. Pringle,
R. Kerr, sk.....14	G. Giroux, sk...13

This match was a tie until the very last end was played.

HOCKEY.

The Kingston Whig says: The executive of the Frontenac Hockey Club have brought matters to a terminus, so far as connection with the O.H.A. is concerned. For years past Kingston clubs have been in the habit of visiting Pittsburg and playing exhibition matches. This month the Frontenacs, before the O.H.A. mandate was issued, entered into a contract the same as last year. Their request to the O.H.A. executive to treat their case with consideration, resulted in a waste of energy, as that body, which has yearly been paying from $200 to $300 a year for an "amateur" secretary, could not think of permitting their clubs to become contaminated by going to Pittsburg, and playing against "professionals," who from all accounts have to work pretty hard at their various mercantile employments, hockey being their nightly pastime.

The Frontenacs had no other alternative but to resign from the Ontario association. The latter has now no authority over them, and as the Frontenacs will make sure to play against no officially declared professionals, while in Pittsburg, consequently no organization in Canada dare professionalize any of them. The Frontenacs are now accountable only to the officers of the Quinte District Hockey League, and if its president decides to give the Frontenacs a permit to visit Pittsburg, his authority is as absolute as that of John Ross Robertson, and each player will return as Simon-pure an amateur as when he left.

RUGBY.

It is the desire of the management, and also Mr. Whiten that the members of the Rugby team should visit his studio at the earliest date possible in order that the picture may be completed.

BASEBALL.

Ex-president Mack, of the Toronto Baseball Club, will make a tour in January in the interests of a Canadian Baseball League for Canadian players. He thinks a league such as the one proposed could be made a success with clubs in Hamilton, London, Woodstock and Guelph in the west, Peterborough, Kingston, Gananoque and Ottawa in the east.

ASHBURNHAM REEVESHIP.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Having been nominated as a candidate for the Reeveship of the Village of Ashburnham, I have decided to accept the same.

While I shall be pleased to have the support of the electors — freely and voluntarily bestowed — I wish to have it understood that I am opposed to personal canvassing, preferring to leave my candidature in the hands of the electors, without solicitation or promise.

If you think that my ability to serve you justifies you in according me your conscientious support, I shall, if elected, endeavour to justify your confidence by a faithful, economical and business-like management of our corporation affairs.

Wishing all the electors — whether they vote for me or not — and their families, a very happy New Year, I remain,

Yours truly,
GEORGE STEVENS.
Ashburnham, Dec. 30, 1902.

VERY GRATIFYING.

Our customers have taken us fairly by storm again this winter. Never before have we been favoured with so much selling of so much of the better class of Furs to such a large class of influential and desirable patrons.

The store is still bountifully full of HIGH-CLASS FURS—altogether different to what is ordinarily offered. And yet the prices are not different to the extent of being extravagant. You will be surprised at the many handsome things you can get with little-priced tickets on them.

yes, to stop her. He replied that he had heard a noise and feared there was a wreck. Then Assistant Superintendent Costello, who had been on the wrecked train, broke in at that station and said there was a bad spill there and for me to get out the auxiliary.

"If Kingscourt Junction had replied when you called him the first time could the wreck have been prevented?" the coroner asked.

"It might. I don't know why he did not reply. He said he was in his office all the time, but did not hear me call."

Continuing, he said that No. 5 left London on this order—No. 5 will run one hour late from London to Watford and fifty-five minutes late to Sarnia.

"Do you never annul an order after it is O. K.'d," inquired Mr. Bucke.

"It is then a perfect order, and I don't remember having done so."

"I have no knowledge of using the word bust to cancel orders."

In reply to a cross-question he said: "I meant by minute spoken to Watford that I might contemplate changing the order, but I wanted to see first if Wyoming was holding the extra. Then I would have sent a new order simultaneously to Watford and Wyoming."

This closed the testimony of Mr. Kerr, after he had read extensively from the book of rules governing agents and operators at the suggestion of the company's legal representative.

Andrew Carson's Story.

Andrew Carson, operator at Watford, was then called, and gave testimony as follows:

"I am agent and operator at Watford. For the last six weeks I have been doing all the station work alone. Generally I have an assistant. I have been in the railway employment 35 years, all with Great Western and Grand Trunk. I was on duty the night of Dec. 26. No. 5 was due at 8.47 at Watford. She arrived at 9.45. I first learned that 5 was late at 7.30 from despatcher asking where she was. He replied 'hour late.' I got an order relating to No. 5 at 9.48, and here is the original order," as he pulled out his original copy. "Before I got this order I displayed my signal board to stop No. 5 and then copied the order in my book. That meant that the station had an order for a train and none must pass without an order or a clearance. Next thing I hear Wyoming telling the despatcher 773 can't get out. Immediately the despatcher called my office. No. 5 was getting close at that time. I called the despatcher and he said 31, meaning 'give me order,' when he broke me and said bust it. I heard Mr. Kerr's evidence. He did not use 'may bust it,' but simply 'bust it.' I wrote 'busted' across the order. Then the conductor of No. 5 came in and he asked 'what have you got there?' I replied I did have an order set out here for you, but the despatcher just busted it. The conductor said 'write me out a clearance, the boss is on the rear.' I repeated to conductor what despatcher had said to me. I then wrote a clearance for No. 5. 'Have no orders for you.'"

I told conductor exactly what the despatcher said, merely a word from him to bust the first order. I have had orders cancelled with the words "bust it" before, but can't give instance when; can't say exactly. I have had some within a year, and have seen my operator get them in that form. They came from the London despatcher; can't say how many orders I have had busted. As to the number, in my own experience in a year, I should say three or four in that time. Yes, these orders to bust were acted upon. Kerr has been despatching at London a year or two, but on this particular track only a few weeks.

"Can't tell from the despatcher's signature who is handling the trick. I didn't know that I was talking with Kerr that night. I gave Mr. Costello the top copy of this order, after the accident. I understood the order was cancelled, and sent No. 5 on just as if the order had not been received. I supposed from what I heard that the despatcher had the extra freight at Wyoming secure. Yes, that order was annulled. I did not receive the formal order as prescribed by the rules to annul the order. There is no such word as 'busted' in the rules, and if the order had been annulled according to the rules I should, to obey the rule, destroy all copies of the order which had been annulled. I did not give a copy of this order to Conductor McAuliff. I gave him a clearance card. If there had been any doubt in my mind I could have asked the despatcher about it. Despatcher don't like suggestions from operator very kindly. Having heard the conversation between despatcher and Wyoming, I felt the matter entirely safe. If I had not heard Wyoming say that the extra was unable to get out, followed immediately by order to "bust it," from the despatcher, I would have given No. 5 the order, which would have held her at Wanstead.

On cross-examination by his own lawyer, he said: "This has happened in my experience six or seven times. The word 'busted' has come into use on the road during the past two years. I had gone on duty at 7.30 o'clock that morning, and I should get off at 10 at night. They were my hours. I had an assistant until the past six weeks; scarcity of men caused me to lose my operator. I was given a 16-year-old boy instead of a competent man to do the work. His hours were from 7 to 7. After I handed the clearance to No. 5 I heard despatcher say, 'Go ahead, Sig.' I repeated '5 has gone.' After he told me to bust it he was told by Wyoming that it had gone. Then the despatcher called me, and said 31, meaning complete my order. I said No. 5 has gone. He then told me to stop No. 5, and I ran to throw the semaphore, but it was a mile past there. I did not tell him I could not stop No.5, but began calling Kingscourt Junction on the commercial wire.

"I was then greatly excited. The despatcher asked why I let No. 5 go. I told him because he busted the order. He said No, oh, no. I don't remember well what happened after that; I was in such a state of mind. I continued to work right along. In fact was on duty two days and nights without relief. I never heard until to-day that the despatcher insisted that he said 'may bust it,' meaning the order or admitted using the word bust. At that time he denied it."

The crown attorney said: "Then you gave an excuse for not having given order 93 to No. 5, that you had acted on instructions to bust order in several cases?"

"Yes."

"Have you ever made known to others that you had acted on 'bust' orders?"

"No, I will cite you cases. I have orders set out for No. 5 several times to meet extras at Kingscourt Junction."

"No, no; give a specific case," the attorney insisted.

"I can't; the company officials came into my office and grabbed up all my books and records. I don't know what they have done with them."

At this point the books were handed in in evidence by the assistant superintendent.

A wordy war followed between the lawyers as to the witness being forced. Carson continued: "I can prove it about the 'bust' orders. Only yesterday Assistant Superintendent Costello called in my assistant, George Hicks, and asked him if he had ever known of the word 'bust' to be used. He said he had. Hicks is 16 years old. But I think he is better than some agents. Still, he has not passed an examination, therefore, I won't let him work the wire. I said 'O.K.'" or something to indicate to the despatcher. I understood when he told me to bust it. It was my duty under the rules to repeat back to the despatcher the full message. I endorsed the order, 'Bust it' the moment I got the 'bust it order.'"

Carson was then ordered by the company's lawyer to read from the book of rules, and he read: "An operator's first duty is to make himself thoroly familiar with the rules," etc.

Rule No. 2 is: "In addition to these rules, the timetables will contain special instructions, as may be found necessary. Special instructions, not in conflict with these rules, which may be given by proper authority, whether upon timetables or otherwise, shall be fully observed while in force."

"Do you know any rule that justified you in cancelling order 93, as you did?" Carson was asked.

"Yes, Rule No. 2." This created a sensation.

Carson was asked as to his duties.

"I have various duties. Sometimes I shovel snow around the station, in addition to other duties. I am frequently 'called out' for three or four hours, in addition to working from 7 to 10. I do not recall peculiarly when my station has been without an assistant. At one time the station had a force of four men. The duties have not fallen off any since then."

The coroner said in explanation of a lawyer's remark at this juncture: "That word 'busted' destroyed that order and left Carson without any order for No. 5." This was his assumption, but it indicated that Dr. Harvey was in sympathy with Carson's contention, and closed his examination.

Other Witnesses.

G. Watson, night operator at Wyoming, told the story of how he attempted to stop 773, and said he had used the word "bust" to his despatcher. He did not hear despatcher tell Watford to "bust" anything that night, but he was out of the office some.

Horace Harkness, brakeman of 773, rear man; Conductor Graham of 773, and Conductor McAuliff of No. 5 told their stories, the latter swearing that Agent Carson of Watford said he had an order for him but that it had been "busted." "I will give you a clearance," said he, which he did.

The inquest was then adjourned till to-day.

Injured Are Recovering.

At the London hospital the wounded are progressing favorably. However, a number are threatened with pneumonia, and the physicians express some alarm. It is inconceivable that some of these unfortunates do not expire from this cause since many of them were exposed for at least an hour to zero weather while practically naked.

SENSATION IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Joseph Boone, Seven Years a Hopeless Invalid, Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Discharged From Hospital as Incurable, Given up by Doctors—He is now Back at His Work Again.

Cottel's Cove, Newfoundland, Dec. 29th.—(Special.)—Among the lobster fishermen here the wonderful cure of Joseph Boone, one of their number, has created a sensation. They look on it as approaching the miraculous.

For eight years Joseph Boone was a hopeless invalid. For seven years he was unable to work. He was discharged from the hospital after seven months treatment as incurable. Several doctors tried in vain to give him relief from these terrible pains and aches arising from Kidney Complaint. The cure of a friend by Dodd's Kidney Pills tempted him to try them. He used three dozen boxes and to-day he is working at lobster fishing and doing as big a day's work as any of his mates.

This in brief is the story of Joseph Boone. He has to tell it often to people who never expected to see him do a day's work again, and he always adds:

"I am still using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I find a great benefit in every box I use. I can scarcely believe it is myself at all, after seven years of such suffering from complicated complaint of the Back and Kidneys."

Itching Piles Most Annoying.

Cause Uneasiness and Often Keen Suffering—There is one Positive Cure—

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a question whether there is another preparation for sale in this country that is so heartily endorsed by persons who have used it as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Professional and business men and women, farmers, mechanics, railroad men, miners, labourers, all classes of men and women, use and endorse Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only actual cure for piles.

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 382 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried very many treatments, remained uncured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mr. John Harvey, Mayor of Arnprior, Ont., states:—"Only persons who have experienced the torture of itching piles can form any idea of what I suffered from this horrible disease. I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can positively say that it has completely cured me. I had tried very many so-called cures for piles, and can truthfully say that there is no remedy on the face of the earth like Dr. Chase's Ointment for this purpose. I would not be without it for any amount of money, and can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, as it is the best thing I ever used."

VICEROY OF INDIA MAKES STATE ENTRY.

Mighty Pageant in Opening the Durbar at Delhi, in Proclaiming King Edward Emperor of India.

Delhi, India, Dec. 30.—The Viceroy, Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, made his State entry yesterday morning into the capital of the Moguls. This constituted the official opening of the durbar held to celebrate the accession of King Edward as Emperor of India. It was a splendid pageant, probably unparalleled in its magnificence. At the head of the elephant procession rode Lord and Lady Curzon on the State "Grand Tusker," twelve feet high, the largest elephant in India. Their howdah was decked with gold and silver and the elephant itself was almost hidden beneath a gold-worked saddlecloth. Surrounding them were footmen in scarlet and gold liveries and bearing massive silver staves. The Duke of Connaught, who represented King Edward, and the Duchess of Connaught, followed. Their elephant was equally gorgeously caparisoned. Then, in order of precedence, came the Nizam of Hyderahad, the Maharajah of Travancore, and other ruling chiefs, seventy in all, their huge elephants forming a line a quarter of a mile in length.

The glittering procession started from the railroad station preceded by dragoon guards and artillery, the Viceroy's escort, and by heralds and trumpeters. The route was entirely lined by British and native troops. From the saluting battery posted at the fort commanding the Lahore gate, guns thundered out a royal salute as the Viceroy passed with the standards and trumpeters sounding at intervals spirited fanfares. The cortege passed in front of a magnificent line of 150 elephants, which bore the brilliantly-dressed retainers of the ruling chiefs. The beasts all saluted by trumpeting and throwing their trunks in the air, presenting a truly imposing sight, and afterward fell in line behind the official procession as the cavalcade traversed the broad road leading to the Jumma Musjid Mosque, with its white domes and gilded minarets gleaming in the sunlight. Huge crowds of onlookers witnessed the spectacle, which, it is claimed, never has been surpassed in magnificance even in this country of oriental splendor.

The heralds, pursuivants and trumpeters who followed the escort and immediately preceded the viceregal procession were conspicuous by the splendor of their attire. They were followed by the newly constituted Imperial Cadet Corps, comprising thirty Maharajahs, headed by Sir Portab Singh, looking superb in their white coats, blue turbans and decorations.

Excitement was at fever heat as the first elephants, with gold and silver howdahs, of the staff officers came in view, and commenced to circle around the mosque. The finest elephants in Asia passed in front of the great Jumma Musjid, the steps of which were thronged with distinguished personages, including the Viceroy's American and British guests and the delegates from the colonies and from other parts of the Empire. The enormous animals shuffled slowly by, many of the massive howdahs of quaint and rich design being surmounted by magnificent canopies of gold-embroidered and bejewelled tapestry. The bodies of the animals were almost hidden by their trappings of crimson, purple and gold. Bands of gold encircled their tusks, golden bracelets were on their ankles, gold and silver bells were hanging from their neck chains, and their heads were painted and decorated in every conceivable color. The mahouts (elephant drivers) were clad in the brightest attire, as were the attendant spearmen, who marched by the elephants' sides. In the rear of the procession rode General Lord Kitchener, the Commander-in-Chief in India, surrounded by a brilliant staff, and followed by the heads of the Provinces, with escorts of Indian cavalry, and tribal leaders from beyond the border line.

Down the main street moved the cortege, through lines of saluting soldiers, and excited, surging, salaaming throngs of natives; through the ancient city, with the balconies and housetops teeming with life, and through the Moree gate, into the open park beyond. There, after a four-mile march, the elephants of the Viceroy and the Duke of Connaught halted side by side, and the pageant was concluded with the great Princes filing by, their elephants trumpeting a salute. The Viceroy was in State uniform, Lady Curzon was dressed in grey, the Duke of Connaught had on a Field Marshal's uniform, and the Duchess of Connaught was attired in blue. They received a flattering welcome at all points. The Viceroy and the Duke of Connaught subsequently drove to the main camp. The roads, after the passage of the procession, presented a scene of chaos, as the camel carriages, mule carts, landaus, bicycles and bullock carts pressed onward in strange confusion. There were many breakdowns, and many hours elapsed before the people were able to return to their camps.

"PUDDING DAY."

No Amount of Money Could Purchase the Recipe of the Pudding.

The London Daily Mail, in an article dealing with the passing of old London, says that the spirit of change, so marked in recent years, has left untampered a few ancient customs. One of these is "Pudding Day" at several of the inns in the neighborhood of Fleet street and the Strand. No amount of money, it is said, could purchase the recipe of the pudding. Mr. Charles Moore, the present holder of the secret and the proprietor of a well-known hostelry, having often been tempted in vain. The hand of the proprietor himself compounds the ingredients — beefsteaks, kidneys, oysters, larks and mushrooms. Then there are various spices and gravies known only to himself. The boiling process takes about sixteen to twenty hours But it is not in the making or eating of the pudding that any old practice survives—though it might be argued that one of these operations antedates the first pudding that ever was—but in the manner of the serving. Fitting ceremonial attends the appearance of the pudding in the dining-room. The head waiter, with stately step, bears in the steaming delicacy, followed by all the other waiters in single file, the proprietor himself bringing up the rear. Only a man of exceptional trustworthiness and proved fidelity is allowed to carry in the pudding. It is wisely regarded as a position in which temptation is ever before the man who occupies it. The pudding—which weighs about eighty pounds—is directly under his nose, and the delicious steam is wafted into his face as he marches along. What if some day he should be very hungry, and succumb to the temptation! If the head waiter at the "cheese" were not, there survive quaint old customs which were observed in the same place a hundred or more years ago. To assist at one of these functions is inevitably to court imagination's play. One peoples the surroundings with the greater men who figured there. Only one accident has befallen the pudding in the whole of its long and distinguished premiership over all other puddings. Tom, the head waiter of former days, tripped on the stairs and rolled to the bottom, man and pudding and sawdust commingling at the foot! Mr. B. A. Moore, the father of the present proprietor, went to the wine office and said to his son, the tears the while gathering in his eyes:

"Charles, the pudding is down."

"Well," replied Charles, "why aren't you carving it?"

"Yes, but it is down on the floor. Tom has dropped it down stairs."

Then the overcome proprietor sank into a chair, while a crowd of disappointed guests trooped dejectedly away.

"Old William," for many years the head waiter, was never so impressive as on pudding days. He would walk round the tables urging the diners to have a second or a third helping.

"Any gentleman says pudden?" was his repeated inquiry.

"No gentleman says 'pudden'," was the unkind retort of many customers.

But William died in happy oblivion of the point of that joke.

From the earliest days the proprietor himself has always carved the pudding. The late Mr. B. A. Moore was restrained with difficulty from rising from his bed when stricken down with illness and driving to "cheese" to serve out the pudding.

THE STARS.

Once, lying on a bed of juniper,
I watched the passing of a northern light
That stole, a pale and shadowy eremite,
From the dark mystery of pine and fir
And, leaping upward from the mountain's spur,
With tenuous fingers waged celestial fight
To snatch the star gold blossoms from their height,
Then, failing, waned into the things that were.
So we, with passioned strife or anguished wait,
Reach eager hands toward those unseen bars,
Like children at some noble pleasuuce gate,
Seeking the untold glory of the stars
Ever inscrutable inviolate
That view our deadly wounds, our cruel scars.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Doctor Pierce's medicines."

AT KHARTOUM.

Long Speech by Gen. Lord Kitchener at the Opening of the New Gordon College—Founders' Hope.

When Lord Kitchener opened the Gordon College at Khartoum, recently, he made what was probably the longest speech he ever made in his life. His dislike of public functions, especially those at which he is expected to say something, is well known, and usually his remarks, if reported verbatim, occupy from one to two inches of space in the papers.

But at Khartoum the famous general delivered quite a long address, and an address which showed that he does not object to speak in public because he is unable to do so well. His remarks were all that could have been desired—gracefully worded, containing much good common sense, and describing excellently the purposes for which the college has been founded.

There was a large attendance of native notables and European officials and residents at the ceremony, which took place on the spot where Gordon died. The college will, it is expected, be a centre of civilizing influence in the Soudan, and will in time serve other purposes as well as that of educating the natives. Already it has been arranged that it is to include bacteriological and research laboratories, for which funds were provided by Henry S. Welcome. The equipment for these laboratories has been prepared, and is most complete in every detail, being equal to anything of the kind in existence. Dr. Andrew Balfour, a well-known Edinburgh expert, will be the director of this department.

The Soudan presents exceptional opportunities for the study of tropical diseases, especially typhoid, dysentery, and malaria, and it is expected that the results of the work of Dr. Balfour and his assistants will be of the greatest importance.

Lord Kitchener, in the course of his speech at the opening of the institution, said:

"When I was summoned from the Soudan to South Africa I had to leave to the Sirdar's care the scheme for giving the Soudanese a higher education which the liberality of the British people had enabled me to formulate. One of my greatest pleasures on returning was to find how well advanced are the steps taken for attaining that object, and how energetically and ably the original design has been interpreted and carried out. I feel sure that if the same spirit which has hitherto directed the destinies of Gordon College is continued, there is no fear that the result will not fully equal, if not greatly exceed, what I originally hoped for in my most sanguine anticipations.

"We now see the Soudan people of all classes anxiously desirous of education for their children, also that the steps which we have taken for their future in this respect meet entirely with their approval, and that they encourage us by every means to push forward the scheme. In the Soudan primary schools we find excellent material to work on. During the short time they have been established I am informed that they have become already fully equal in efficiency to the primary schools of Egypt; therefore, we cannot fail now to recognize that there is no lack of room for developing education in the Soudan, nor of youths eager to and capable of learning. I am delighted to see those who are here to-day. They are an excellent type, and clearly show the fruitful field there is here for work which, if developed, will surely result in making this country a prosperous centre of civilization instead of what we all remember it to have been formerly.

"But, though great steps have been made, we must still look forward for the actual realization of the original scheme. This memorial to Gen. Gordon has not been called a college without due consideration. It was hoped and fully foreseen that it would in the future become the head and centre of secondary and more advanced scientific training and education of the youths of the Soudan in literary and technical knowledge. Here they will be brought up and taught so as to be able to go out into the world equipped to fill many posts for which they are already required in this country. I, for one, am quite willing and happy to wait patiently for that result, which is undoubtedly the future of the institution."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, December 30. — Liverpool spot cash prices hardening; mid 4d2, advances 4 points; sales 7,000; receipts 49 000; Arms 47,000; futures opened firm, and at 12.30 were four points advanced. These cables full response to our market, and there seems no doubt that a higher level of values will be reached.
M. & M.

Wheat and corn 1-8 lower. Feature of wheat yesterday was liquidation of one or two large local lines. While we feel rather friendly to wheat we hardly think the bulls will make much headway as long as stocks increase and outside support is so indifferent. There will be no change in grain storage rates in Chicago during the coming year. The elevator interests had meeting yesterday and agreed to continue existing rates. It is expected that the Agricultural Department report will be issued to-day its final estimates on 1902 crops. It is not likely that to-day's final figures will differ much from those given out last time. At 11 wheat was steady, prices about where they left off yesterday, but the crowd turned on the market and sold heavily. Quite a bit of December offering and practically no support.

DENISON.

New York, Dec. 30th, 1902.—The Western party is bullish to-day, and will probably advance stocks. We expect to see some irregularity. A favourable feature of the money situation is that the banks are gaining from the subtreasury, and shipments to the interior are offset by receipts at present. There will probably be special advances and in this connection we get bull points on Sugar, R.I., Copper and U. S. Realty. There is bullish information circulated on Am. Ice., Erie and Rdg. Don't ignore moderate profits, distribute your purchases. London irregular.

HAIGHT & FREEZE COY.

New York, Dec. 30th.—Topics.—Scarcely an ideal condition a holiday market with little money. Pretty well understood that trust legislation will be shelved at this session of congress which will be satisfied with the $500,000 appropriation bill. Hold steels and buy sugar on dips of a point or so, taking quick profits. Erie should go higher. The pool in M.O.P. is still intact and only awaits a chance to express itself marketwise. There is a good borrowing demand for Rock Island Com. These Rock Island issues will make new records presently. Buy St. Paul, Atch. or Union Pac. Moderately average if necessary.

JOSEPH.

New York, Dec. 30,—Decision on Union Pac. labour matters expected to-day. Better weather for grading and helping grain exports. Rumours of Penna. opposition to Gould entry into Baltimore. Unsatisfactory showing at Railroad Commission inquiry in over crowding selling of Brooklyn. Present weather making good business for rubber company. Tightness in money market continues and high rate expected up to Wednesday.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

New York, Dec. 29, 1902.—To-day's dealings were marked by considerable realizing in those stocks which scored the heaviest advances last week but the reactions were perfectly natural and go along ways towards making a healthy market. There is no news of consequence, with the situation practically unchanged. Money on call loaned as high as 13 per cent., with small demand. Stocks are evidently in hands well able to take care of them. Banks are in good condition to handle the dividend disbursements and gradual improvement in prices may be looked for, with usual reactions from time to time. This reaction to-day has put prices in a good condition to score further advances. The less active stocks will, in all probability, be taken in hand and put to higher levels shortly. It would seem as if stocks could be picked up around present prices for good profits. Would not advise buying indiscriminately as this is no market to buy anything and everything on the certainty that flood tide will carry them up. We would suggest the purchase of Southern Railway, Wisconsin Central, Chicago & Great Western, Toledo, St. Louis & Southwestern common and preferred. The Street is bullish on Louisville & Nashville. The situation is undoubtedly very bullish for the long pull. The market in the meantime may sell off a little just before or shortly after the first of the year as the present bulge came sooner than expected. Not much rallying power to stocks to-day, but on the other hand no heavy liquidation; simply a gradual melting away of prices on profit taking. The close was steady at about the low prices of the day.

Chicago,—Wheat reacted fractionally but recovered before the close. Corn showed a tendency to harden. Both grains will sell materially higher before the market has any further reaction.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years, prior to his death, never travelled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realized that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into Pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple anti septic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendancy to Pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburg writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded steam heated school room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room.

The sleighing was never better and farmers are taking advantage of it.

We have had a great many holiday visitors, many of whom are staying until after New Year's.

The news of the terrible calamity near London caused some anxiety here, some parties having gone from here in that direction on their holidays. However, the only one known here was J. Ramplin, who organized the Woodmen of the World here.

The nominations for both the town and township took place on Monday, and there will be an election for both reeve and councillors. There was considerable enthusiasm.

The arrangements are now quite complete for the New Year's tea and concert. Parties wishing to enjoy a pleasant evening will not be disappointed if they attend. A great array of talent.

BOY OF 16 YEARS A G.T.R. OPERATOR

Jury Blames Hiring Inexperience for Wanstead Tragedy.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN AVERTED.

Responsibility For the "Busted" Order Not Determined Between Despatcher Kerr and Agent Carson—Accident Would Not Have Happened If More Experienced Assistants Had Been Employed.

Wyoming, Dec. 31. — The following verdict was returned at 11.40 last night:

"We find that Arthur W. Ricketts was killed in the collision at Wanstead on the evening of Friday, Dec. 26, 1902.

"That said collision was caused by wrong orders being given No. 5 at Watford. Responsibility for this issuance of wrong orders we are not agreed upon as between Operator Carson and Despatcher Kerr.

"That after No. 5 had left Watford by the issuance of wrong orders, we consider that the accident could have been averted by the operator at Wyoming or Kingscourt Junction had the railway company had more experienced operators at these points, one being but a boy of 16, at each of which places the despatcher having ample time to do it endeavored to get the opposing trains stopped."

The jury engaged in a warm discussion of the evidence for three hours before arriving at their verdict.

Was Opening the Switch.

James Smith, the head brakeman of Extra 773, with which the Flyer collided, was the first witness. "I was opening the switch at Wanstead to admit the freight when the wreck occurred. The freight ran a few cars past the switch. I lost some moments in opening the switch on account of the snow. We lost two minutes in backing the train to enter the switch. The locomotive's pilot was at the switch when No. 5 struck us. The switch was open. The impact drove the freight about two car lengths back. We were delayed at Wyoming about eight minutes. I was on the engine as we passed out. The semaphore showed green, not red. I saw the rear brakeman giving us the stop signal as we started out. That was before the semaphore was passed. Had the semaphore showed red it would have stopped us. I told Conductor Graham, who was in the engine, that we had a stop signal from the rear. We both got on top and gave a 'high ball,' which meant that the conductor was on the engine. He did not reply. If the rear brakeman had signalled stop again it would have stopped the train. I did not see a stop signal from the platform. It was storming. Fifteen seconds I should say elapsed from the time the Flyer's headlight came into view before the crash came. The light from the mogul engines cannot be discerned as far as those on the smaller engines. There was no doubt that the Wyoming semaphore was not showing red. I know the operator swore the semaphore was up and showing red, but that is not true. We were in the engine when we passed the semaphore. I was on the locomotive side where the semaphore is located. We were delayed at Wyoming by frost in the locomotive's works when we took water."

Second Night at Work.

James Tryer, night operator at Kingscourt: "I went to work at 6.30. My duties were attending to the wire, putting out the switch lamps in the yard and keeping up the fire in the station. I am supposed to be in the office all night. Between 9.45 and 10.15 that night I was in my office. I could hear messages passing over the wires between London and Sarnia. Just as No. 5 was almost at my station the despatcher called and said 'Stop 5.' I replied 'Going through,' and at the same time threw the semaphore up. No. 5 was passing the semaphore at the time. I am not sure the locomotive had not passed the semaphore. Had the crew looked up they could have seen the red light. It was 10.05 when I got Kerr's call to stop No. 5. I had been reading a time table in the office for half an hour prior to receiving the call. The semaphore is 700 yards west of the station. The Flyer was going very fast as she passed me. If the despatcher was calling me seven or eight times before, I did not recognize the call. The instrument was sounding several minutes before I caught the call, and that was just as No. 5 was passing. I was in a position to hear 'KC,' which is my call. I was not used to this call, since I had only heard this call a few times. The call would come 'KC,' or 'KC' in frequent repetitions. I got this call on the train wire.

"If Carson called me on the commercial wire I did not hear it. It was my duty to report No. 5 as she passed. My instrument was in proper condition.

"My experience as an operator consists of two nights at the Strathroy office and these two nights at Kingscourt.

"I got employment after an examination by the chief despatcher at London. I went to his office and was examined. I am 16 years old. I think my salary is $40 a month. I have not drawn salary, but that is the rules. I was studying telegraphy seven months. I did not go to sleep that night. In my examination I received two messages, but did not send any. I also wrote two train orders. I went into the despatcher's office at 3.30 in the afternoon and remained until 7 at night. Then he told me to go to Strathroy and take the night trick. I learned telegraphy at Aylmer in the G.T.R. office. Three months ago I asked Chief Despatcher Goodwin for a position. I copied some for him. and he said my work was not good enough. The first night at Strathroy I had no orders. The second night I took four orders. I went to Kingscourt. I did not understand the Kingscourt call very well.

"The night of the wreck the first call got was from the despatcher. He asked me to report No. 5 on its arrival, and I handled it all right. The next call I had to report was an extra east at 9.30. My instrument was then all right, but after No. 5 passed I noticed that my sounder struck once or twice. This means that I could not use it. Before No. 5 passed my sounder was apparently working properly. I did not know why the relay machine struck."

Andy Carson Recalled.

Andy Carson was recalled, and Solicitor Pope for the company asked: "Now give us the date on which you know of the word 'bust' being used to cancel orders."

"I can't." You have my files and books."

"Here are your books," said the lawyer handing the witness a bundle of train orders.

"Now, show the jury were you annulled an order by using the word 'busted.'"

"That file is not complete, you know all my papers are not there. I asked for them yesterday, but could not get them," replied Carson with much warmth.

The witness was asked to examine different sheets of the books showing the annulment, across each order was endorsed, "Annulled by order No. —." which indicated generally that it was customary to annul orders only by receipt of another order properly numbered in succession.

The order book, commencing Dec. 16 and continuing to the night of the accident, was exhibited. Every cancellation was regularly cancelled. Carson said he endorsed the fatal order No. 93, that night with the words "bust it" as he received the words from the despatcher and before he issued the clearance to Conductor McAuliff.

Asked how he accounted for the failure of the books to show any other order cancelled with word "busted," Carson hotly replied: "If that wreck had not occurred, that order, too, would probably show that it was 'completed' in the formal manner like the other. It is only when trouble follows that these matters are brought into question. As long as wrecks do not occur everything appears correct on the face of it."

Carson's solicitor vigorously protested that the witness was not being treated fairly, and a roar of approval came from the crowd.

Physicians at the Wreck.

Dr. W. D. Chapelle of Wyoming testified about scenes at the wreck. The immediate deaths resulted from the injuries received in the collision, many others expired as a result of the exposure incident to being held down in the wreck. All the railway employes were doing their best to relieve the victims.

Dr. James Newell, the first physician to reach the scene, said it was probably an hour after the collision that he arrived. The shock, lacerations and cold, he said, caused the deaths. He explained that the wounds were mostly around the chest and head. The first dead man Dr. Newell saw was Alexander Cameron of Strathroy.

His Duties Multifarious.

Agent Carson was recalled to explain that his salary is $55 monthly, and fuel. He was express agent, ticket agent, station agent, baggage agent, operator, had to keep numbers of cars in yard, keep up fires in station and keep his station clean.

Agent Carson's Assistant.

George Hicks, for the past six weeks the only assistant Carson had at Watford, a student in telegraphy, was sworn. He had been at Watford five weeks, but had never taken the official examination. "I have been doing telegraphing, however, at Watford. For thirteen months I have been studying telegraphy. The night of the wreck I was at the office working. I uploaded baggage from No. 5. As I came in from the platform I heard Carson get up from the key with the remark: 'It's busted.' Then he gave No. 5 a clearance. I did not hear the conversation over the wire relating to 'busting,' the order. I heard the order 93 coming to Carson, but was not in the room when the words, 'bust it' were alleged by Carson to have been received by him. I do recollect train orders being cancelled by the words 'bust it' were alleged by Carson to have been received by him. I do recollect train orders being cancelled by the words, 'bust it,' but I never saw that kind of an endorsement on a cancelled order."

Knew Not Busted.

William F. Mylne, agent at Wyoming, said he had been in charge of the station 16 years. He said all train orders were cancelled by another regular order. He was not aware that the word "busted" was used by the despatcher in cancelling orders. He had never received anything of the kind. He said that if he should receive an order to cancel a train order by the words "bust it," he would ignore it. The order No. 93 was exhibited to the witness. Across the face of the order were the words "bust it." The witness declared that as the order read, in spite of the words "bust it," it would not prevent the holding of No. 5. In other words, as it reads now, he said, it should have been delivered to Conductor McAuliff of No. 5 and then the express would have stopped at Wanstead and the wreck would not have happened.

But It Was Usual.

George Hicks, being recalled, said that at Wanstead he had seen and heard train orders cancelled with words "bust it." He had observed this within the past three months. Operator Pook was in charge and had cancelled orders in this way by the direction of the despatcher. The blanks were then torn from the book and destroyed. He had also seen orders cancelled by the word "busted" from the despatcher at Watford. The witness observed that he knew it was not in the rules, but supposed it was a way of saving time.

"Carson called to me a moment after No. 5 left Watford to throw the semaphore and stop her, but the express had passed beyond the signal lamps, and the engineer could not see it," continued the witness, in reciting the frantic efforts made by Agent Carson to correct the mistake. He said Carson began calling Kingscourt on the commercial wire to have No. 5 caught as she passed, but could not raise the man there.

Hugh Galbraith, formerly operator at Watford, and now relieving Carson since the wreck, swore that he had never known train orders to be cancelled, except by the issuing of another formal order in its correct serial number. He had been an operator for 11 years.

Louis Teeple, laborer, who discovered the body of Fireman Ricketts, the last body taken from the debris; testify to those details.

Costello's Evidence.

W. E. Costello, assistant superintendent at London, controlling the 17th district, which is composed of the G.T.R. from Niagara Falls to Sarnia, testified in relation to the rules governing movements of trains. The order which caused the wreck was exhibited, and the witness explained the regular manner in which it should have been cancelled, if at all, by another order numbered and scheduled. In the old days, prior to 1899, he said, orders were cancelled by the despatcher using the word "bust," and the change was made to protect the operators as well as the public, since it was formerly a question of verity as to cancelling orders; now everything is a matter of record, and each train order is a complete record. He said that Carson's record was good with nothing against him. Mr. Costello said he had received orders not to interview any of the employes connected with the accident until after the coroner's jury settled the question of responsibility. He explained the taking of order books from Carson's office by saying that he had gone to Watford Sunday with the reporters, who wanted to interview him. At that time he asked the operator for the old records to see if any showed the endorsement, "busted."

"Had order No. 93 been delivered to Conductor McAuliff of No. 5 by Agent Carson, the wreck would not have occurred, as the express would have stopped for the passage of the freight at Wanstead," emphatically asserted Mr. Costello.

The Jury Gets It.

It was 8 o'clock before the jury received the evidence from the coroner. Messrs. Pope and Hanna addressed the jury, on the part of the company's agent, Carson, whom the officials charge with the responsibility for the accident.

The Injured Will Recover.

The physicians assert that all the wounded will recover, and that they are no longer in danger of pneumonia.

SINGLE TAX.

The Single Tax Association has Sent out a Circular.

The following letter has been sent by the Single Tax Association of Toronto, to the Members of the Dominion Government:

Sir,—The rapid development of the North West with its enormous increase in the production of grain has made the construction of a new Pacific Railway necessary to relieve the traffic congestion and to facilitate the opening up and settling of that part of the Dominion.

In response to this need the Grand Trunk Railway is proposing to build a line and is asking for Government aid in the shape of money or lands.

We most emphatically protest against granting any further aid to private corporations for any such purpose, and urge the Government to construct the road as a national work.

In order to do so without unduly burdening the country, we respectfully suggest the following plan:—Let a strip of land fifteen or twenty miles wide, upon each side of the proposed road be reserved for the purpose of building the road, and let the Government borrow the money upon land bonds redeemable by the sale or leasing of these lands. Let the Government lay out all town sites, selling or leasing town lots to actual improvers only, and farm lands to settlers only; the price of lands being, of course, graded according to the advantages of location. This increased value of the lands caused by the railway would thus contribute to the building of the road instead of swelling the fortunes of speculators.

The roadbed, once built, may either be operated by the Government or leased for a term of years to the Grand Trunk, or any other railway company, subject to absolute control of rates by the Government.

In this way the road may be built without adding a dollar to the tax burden of the people, as the increase in value of the lands in the reserved strip alone would suffice to build the road, and the returns from the disposal of the lands would be ample for the redemption of the bonds, both principal and interest.

The advantages of such a plan are numerous and obvious. There would be no reservation of alternate blocks, which has done so much to isolate settlers in the older parts of the North West. The Railway itself will be worth its cost, and without any increase in the net debt of the country. In less than twenty years the sale of lands would pay for the road and leave it a clear addition to the assets of the Dominion, while the new outlet for the North West trade will contribute materially to the prosperity of the whole country, besides inducing a great increase in the number of settlers in our new territories.

Yours respectfully,
The Single Tax Association,
MILTON KERR,
President.
A. W. ROEBUCK,
Secretary.

PEER OF ALL AGRICULTURAL PAPERS.

Ames, Iowa, December, 22, 1902.
The Farmer's Advocate,
London, Ontario, Canada.

Gentlemen,—A copy of your Christmas number of The Farmer's Advocate is to hand. I desire to congratulate you upon its appearance. It is, without doubt, one of the very best Christmas numbers which has ever come to my desk. I think that your paper has made great improvement during the last few years, and I consider it to be the best agricultural paper out of the some sixty or seventy that come to my office. Some of the other papers perhaps are stronger in live stock lines, but when it comes to a combination paper that furnishes the average farmers up-to-date information along the many lines, I think The Farmer's Advocate to be the peer of them all.

Wishing you abundant success in your present good work. I am,

Very truly yours,
W. J. KENNEDY.

OUR WONDERFUL NORTH WEST.

Romantic Past and the Tremendous Potentialities of the Future.

PARTING OF PAST AND FUTURE

The Enterprise of the Manitoba Free Press—The Parable of the Pemmican—A Significant Christmas Gift.

It would require very eloquent words to express the kindness of the Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg, which seems determined to supply the Examiner, both bread and meat. A few days ago the Examiner received from the Free Press a bag of No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat, and to-day this journal is in receipt of a "Christmas present," consisting of a package of pemmican "made at Fort McPherson, a Hudson Bay Company's post, sixty-five miles within the Arctic circle, and two thousand nine hundred and seventy miles Northwest of Winnipeg." The double gift of bread and meat, wheat and pemmican, are full of significance. They mark the practical end of the romantic past, and the practical beginning of the mighty future of the great Northwest. Pemmican was the "piece de resistance" of the voyageurs who traversed the imperial area of the Nortwest, of the hunters and trappers of the Hudson Bay Company, in the days of the buffalo, when the future granary of the Empire was regarded as practically a desert. And Manitoba wheat is a type of the tremendous future of the most fertile and potentially fruitful connected area in the world. A country that is growing by "leaps and bounds," as shown by a few eloquent figures as supplied by the Free Press. Ten years ago the total value of the products of Manitoba was of the value of eleven million dollars. In 1902 the total value had grown to forty-four millions of dollars. The average wheat yield of Manitoba last year was 26 bushels to the acre, double the average yield of the four great wheat-producing states of the American Union, Minnestoa, the two Dakotas, and Kansas, which was 13 bushels to the acre. The city of Winnipeg thirty years ago had a population of 213; to-day it has a population of 51,000, with a wholesale trade of $6,000,000 a year, the third city of Canada in point of postal revenue, and in volume of bank clearings, and the Manitoba Free Press is the most prosperous newspaper, in proportion to its constituency, in Canada, as it is absolutely one of the most enterprising — doing the greatest work in propagating the story of the immense resources of the great West.

With the gift of pemmican came a neat little brochure, a part of the "Christmas present" from the Manitoba Free Press. It is a little treatise "concerning pemmican," and is of sufficient interest to bear reproduction:

CONCERNING PEMMICAN.

In the days, not yet two score years ago, when supplies were brought in from Hudson's Bay to the little Red River settlement where the city of Winnipeg now stands, the stock of pemmican was the first indispensable provided for the long journey of the hardy voyageurs; who, by way of river, portage and lake, traversed the distance from York Factory, where the Hudson's Bay Company's ships ended their annual voyages from England. And when the trains of Red River carts started out on the trail to St. Paul laden with furs, to come back carrying supplies, pemmican was in like manner the first indispensable to be provided for the journey. In those days the buffalo in his countless herds was still in the land. He is vanished now, and his vast grazing grounds are being turned to the service of man. The days of the voyageurs and of the Red River cart are vanished with him into the irrevocable past. They belong to a historic yesterday, which is a remote epoch. The Red River region that knew them has become a land of history and of romance.

The last herd of buffalo east of the Red River was seen by Sir John Schultz in 1860, then a young man of nineteen on his first journey to this Western country, in whose history he was destined to play such a conspicuous part.

With the

DISAPPEARANCE OF THE BUFFALO,

the making of pemmican was transferred to the far northern posts of the Hudson's Bay Company, deer's meat being used in place of buffalo meat, and the total quantity made yearly amounting to little, in comparison with the great stores of pemmican made in the days of the buffalo hunts as described by Hargrave. Pemmican is still made every year at those Hudson's Bay Company's posts for use by trappers and voyageurs who penetrate beyond the Arctic Circle, and whom the outside world thinks of, when it thinks of them at all, as being neighbours of the Esquimaux. To the average person nowadays, pemmican is known only as a thing read of. It is a word bringing to mind something of the romance of the fur-trading days as pictured in Ballantyne's stories or in the pages of the writer of "The Lords of the North." One associates it, too, with the search for the pole. It is as remote from one's everyday life as the Esquimaux in his kyack amid the Arctic bergs and floes.

At the request of the Winnipeg Free Press, instructions were sent early this year to the Hudson's Bay Company's post on Peel River, known as Fort McPherson, within a hundred miles of the Arctic Ocean, to have a quantity of pemmican specially prepared and sent to Winnipeg for the purpose of being put up here in small sacks to be sent out as Christmas remembrances by the Free Press. This pemmican was prepared by an old trapper who has been for many years in the Hudson's Bay Company's service, and who in his time has made many hundreds of pounds of buffalo pemmican. In making this supply for the Free Press he has used the meat of reindeer exclusively. Some of it he has made plain; some of it is berry pemmican. It has been prepared with the greatest care, and the Hudson's Bay Company guarantees it to be genuine reindeer pemmican of the very best quality. Fort McPherson, the Hudson's Bay Company's post where it was made, is on Peel River, a few miles from its junction with the Mackenzie River. To be exact, Fort McPherson is between parallels 67 and 68 of north latitude and a short distance east of the 135th meridian; it is sixty-five miles within the Arctic Circle, and eighty-five miles from the coast of the Arctic Ocean. The pemmican was brought from Fort McPherson. The total distance travelled from Fort McPherson to Winnipeg being 2,978 miles. In the winter the distance from Fort McPherson to Edmonton is covered by dog trains, a regular packet service being maintained along the entire line of the Hudson's Bay Company's posts or "forts" as they are still called.

After being received in Winnipeg, the pemmican was divided up and packed in little sacks, one of which is presented herewith. This reindeer pemmican is procurable only in the far North. The pemmican carried by Arctic explorers who outfit their ships at their port of departure is, as described in "The Rescue of Greeley," by Schley and Soley (page 132) "made from the round of beef cut in strips and dried, then shredded or mixed with beef tallow and currants." As will doubtless have occurred to the reader, pemmican of the far Canadian North and biltong of the Boers on the South African veldt are cousins. Both contain the largest amount of nourishment in the smallest space.

As for the

whether eaten just as it is, or cooked, there is nothing can be said that will begin to make as lasting an impression upon the reader as an actual test of the contents of the accompanying little sack. The late Bishop of Saskatchewan, as we have seen, declared before a distinguished audience in London that eating pemmican was like chewing a tallow candle. The reader may be inclined to take this jocular remark of the Bishop's seriously, especially after trying a mouthful of the real article. Be it remembered, however, that pemmican is a thing to which the Latin proverb about hunger being the best sauce has a pre-eminent application. Of many testimonies that might be cited, take this from Fonseca's "On the St. Paul Trail in the Sixties":

"After some hours of steady travelling, as the sun stood high in the sky, the welcome stop took place.....The kettle was soon simmering. While this was occurring the Red River bannock was in course of preparation. It was simply flour, water and salt. The dough was kneaded on a bag spread out on a buffalo skin, the cakes were flattened and baked in a frying pan over the fire, and were soon ready. When the water had boiled in the kettle, the pemmican bag was broached,' a quantity of it was stirred into the boiling water, flour and salt were added, and thus resulted the celebrated 'rubaboo,' as it was called. When the mixture was thickened it then was called 'rowschow,' but for the journey the former was preferable. Hot bannocks and piping hot 'rubaboo' were served around, the latter in cups, and the tea in tin cups soon began to disappear among the hungry company. The appetite, stimulated by fresh air and exercise, was surprising, and a dyspeptic being looking on at such a meal would turn green with envy."

Let us turn over a few pages of Fonseca's interesting narrative, and read again:

"The afternoon journey was usually continued for about twelve or fifteen miles, when the cheerful word, both to man and beast, was given to halt for the night. The cuisine was again put into operation, though the menu was somewhat changed. Instead of 'rubaboo,' 're-chaud" was served, commonly corrupted 'row-schow,' from the Latin 're' and the French 'chaud' heated over. Pemmican cooked in a frying pan, a little grease, pepper, salt, with a trace of onions and potatoes added, constituted this a dish to set before a king. If the night was clear, and the moon flooded the prairie with her silver light, robes were spread. The sound of the fiddle invited the dance. The Red River jig was struck up, and one after another exercised himself to his heart's content, as the shouts of the audience stimulated him."

In the days dealt with by the chronicler whose pages we have just been turning over, the spot where the Free Press building stands, in which this is written, was on the open prairie. Near by ran the Red River trail, which is now Winnipeg's busy Main street, with its massive buildings and its hurrying crowds. The Free Press—which is now in its thirty-first year, having begun publication, as a weekly, in 1872—rocked the cradle of the infant city. It is to-day one of the oldest and best established newspapers in Canada.

It enjoys the distinction of having a larger circulation than any other newspaper published on the continent in a city of equal population with Winnipeg, and of containing a greater number of classified advertisements than any newspaper published in any city twice the size of Winnipeg. It enjoys also the distinction of covering more territory in point of circulation than any other daily paper on the continent, and is found on the shores of Hudson's Bay and in the most remote places of the great Canadian West. Covering as it does a territory extending from Port Arthur on Lake Superior to Victoria on the Pacific Ocean, it is known as the Great Western Daily. The steady growth of the paper's importance and influence has been part of the wonderful growth of Western Canada, whose resources it is untiring in advertising and whose development it has never ceased to promote.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

DISQUISITION ON DYNAMITE.

A Clash of Scientific and Common Sense Opinions.

A Blairton Correspondent Elucidates Explosive Conditions.

Rather amusing are the fads, fakes and whims so plentifully indulged in in the newspapers at the present time. As a matter of course, we are in conscience bound to say, "present company excepted," for it is with clenched teeth, in way of emphasis, and a merry twinkle of the eye in earnest approval and appreciation of the fact that the Examiner, in its manful attitude, steers clear of all such nonsense. Some time ago a notable city paper, whose columns are open for scientific controversy, published an article on the wonderful freaks of dynamite. Many other papers, together with our locals, thinking it was so wonderful and fat looking for their own columns, copied it, and in greedy ambition to have the credit of so grand a production, failed to credit it to any contemporary. The article, "Dynamite explodes so rapidly that its force is exerted in the direction from which the greatest pressure comes. If dynamite is placed on the ground, the explosive force is down; if it be hung against a wall, its force attacks the wall; if it be hung under an object, its force is upwards." If the above is the decision resulting from some new experiment at Woolwich arsenal, or from some such source as the Scientific American, we might then (if we could recover our equilibrium, so paralized by the dumbfounder) make an effort to lend the article a little credence pro tempore; but, judging the murky brain of some inexperienced person, dreamy, and in thoughtless fancy, guided the quill in the construction of the article so grossly questionable, we must, and do, set it down as condemnable.

If kindly allowed space I will try and show up the article to be a whim, or else my argument to do so will constitute me the father of a greater one. The great "rapidity of dynamite" I fully endorse. In it, and it alone, lies the mystery, and is the stumbling block to the writer of the article. My experience in the use of a large number of tons of dynamite in blasting in every form, is that at its explosion it gives out its forces in every direction alike. Were it not so, would it not be contrary to the laws of nature and common sense? Dynamite, being inanimate, having neither intellect nor reasoning power, whence has it its choice of action? For choice it must have if it opposes the laws of nature.

A meteorite falls to the earth by "exertion," or by the law of nature? Water flows, moon travels east, earth revolves, hot air ascends, by "exertion" or the law of nature?

Dynamite's "force exerted in the direction from which the greatest pressure comes." Over-pressure of steam burst that boiler into fragments. Were there any two square inches of the inner surface of the boiler upon which the exact amount of pressure was not brought to bear? A wedge driven into a log forces off, say a rail. Give to the force of the wedge the credit given to the force of dynamite, i e, all on one side, and the log should be expected to travel sideways, as a one-sided force would be sufficiently great for the effect.

A spring of a trap presses 100 lbs. on the jaws. If it did not press 100 lbs. on the trap also, would not the trap, with either upper or lower pressure unevenly, either ascend or force its way into the ground? Dynamite has no power to act any other way.

A cartridge of dynamite two inches in diameter and ten inches long is "suspended against a wall." It must be noticed that a thread-like portion of it only touches the wall, and against the remaining space, of say 60 square inches, there is atmospheric pressure of fifteen pounds to the square inch. Pressure on the cartridge being 900 lbs., and the explosion being so incalculably rapid, not allowing a fraction of a second for the atmosphere to recede, it (the atmosphere) has proven as resistible as a solid wall. The cartridge was as a wedge then, so to say, between two walls. This argument must suffice for the cartridge "hung under or over an object."

Experiment—First, second and third cartridges exploded on a rock, failed to break it. On the fourth cartridge we placed a piece of iron several inches thick and having a flat surface fourteen inches square; the rock yielded into fragments. Was the few pounds of iron the cause? We think not. On the iron alone there were 2940 lbs. of atmospheric pressure, which more stubbornly resisted the explosive force and turned it on the rock.

Suspend a cartridge against a wall and, if it were possible to do so, create a vacuum on the same side of the wall to the extent that the atmosphere otherwise would be affected, and our fancy is (not assertion) that at the burning of the dynamite the volume would creep slowly off into the vacuum and leave the wall unmolested, owing to the absence of any resistance on the opposite side of the cartridge to the wall.

A few years ago a waggon load of dynamite mysteriously exploded near Lakefield, reducing men, waggon and its tires, horses and even their shoes, into atoms. It made a hole in the ground 10 feet deep by 30 feet across. The force on the atmosphere (?) shook windows, doors and crockery over 25 miles in every direction, and assuming the same effect reached but ten miles high, their figures prove no less than 25,000 cubic miles of atmosphere effected. The pressure, or force, of the awful blow struck on the atmosphere, defies computation, though it be attempted, by tens of thousands of tons.

To arrive at an approximate idea of the rapidity of the explosion of dynamite, I choose to use a borrowed expression, in print, by a notable manufacturer: Take a second of time and divide it into a million parts and you are in your initiative degree in computation. We claim that at the very instant of the "dissolution" of the dynamite, the atmosphere stubbornly contesting its right of possession, afforded resistance almost if not equal to the force required to cause the disruption named.

While I submit to the reader's judgment whether the article I attack, or my production is the "whim." I fully agree with one sentence in the article, viz., "Rapidity of explosion." Rapid. Yes, I think the writer will coincide with me when I claim that before the contortion, staggering and trembling of the atmosphere took place, and before the inner circular mile of atmosphere had, by its agitation, conveyed to the second, the effect of the attack, the hole was well under way, and ere the agitation had reached the limit of disturbance, the hole had been completed.

We ask the writer, if, in the above case, the dynamite, by choice, "exerted all its force downward," and a few frightened birds set into furious commotion twenty-five thousands of cubic miles of atmosphere? Reply invited.

Venezuela's Answer To-Day.

Caracas, Dec. 31.—President Castro arrived here yesterday morning. At 3 o'clock United States Minister Bowen called upon the President and communicated to him the recommendation that the issues between Venezuela and the allies be taken to the International peace court at The Hague. Venezuela's answer will be received to-day.

China Doesn't Play the Game.

Pekin, Dec. 31.—Confirmation was obtained here yesterday in despatches from the consuls at Shanghai to the Foreign Minister of the report that the Viceroy at Shanghai had refused to pay the January instalment of the indemnity on a gold basis, owing to the recent great fall in the price of silver.

POLITICS IS LIVELY.

Bye-Elections in North Norfolk, North Perth and North Grey.

THE LIBERALS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Mr. Little's Progress Imbues Liberals With Confidence of Success—North Perth Registration a Boomerang—Mr. Whitney Confesses His Inability to Find a Solution For the Temperance Question.

Courtland, Dec. 31.—The campaign in North Norfolk is in full swing, and Mr. A. M. Little's progress about the riding has imbued the Liberals with every confidence of success. His meetings commenced on Monday, December 22nd, and since then he has attended many gatherings throughout the riding. Everywhere he has been met by large and enthusiastic audiences.

In North Perth.

Stratford, Dec. 31.—The campaign in North Perth is being carried on with vigor by both parties. The registration has, of course, kept a number of workers on both sides engaged, but to-day will be the last day of the supplementary registration, and all of the workers will be free to engage in the ordinary work of campaigning. The Liberals state that the new registration, which was insisted on by Mr. Whitney, has resulted in a decided gain to them, and confidence is generally expressed that Mr. Brown will be successful.

IN NORTH GREY.

Mr. Whitney Confesses Inability to Solve Public Question.

Owen Sound, Dec. 31.—The hotel registers, the crowded streets and the activity of party men are visible signs of an exceedingly warm election campaign in North Grey. Both parties have entered into the fight as though the fate of the Government depends upon the result, as is the case to some extent. Prominent speakers and workers from distant parts have been brought in, and the electorate are burdened with printed and spoken argument. Each side has arranged a series of meetings, for which good speakers have been chosen, and party feeling and excitement are at a high pitch. Unfortunately the campaign has become one of denunciation and personalities rather than of appeals to reason, though the Liberals point with enthusiasm to their record and the policy of both their candidate, Mr. A. G. Mackay, and their leader, Hon. Geo. W. Ross. Mr. Mackay is an excellent speaker, and his powerful presentment of his case and his arraignment of the Opposition's weaknesses never fail to excite hearty responses. A close watch is being maintained upon the actions of the outsiders.

Conservative Leader's Visit.

As far as Owen Sound was concerned the Conservatives had their innings yesterday, when Mr. Whitney and Mr. Foy each addressed two meetings in the Town Hall. Mr. Boyd, the Conservative candidate, was present, but took no part in the proceedings at the afternoon meeting.

At the conclusion of Mr. Whitney's afternoon speech, a mild sensation was created. Rev. G. W. Hewett, pastor of Brooke Methodist Church, rose and said: "Mr. Whitney, you have not said anything about the referendum; will you kindly state your position?"

Mr. Whitney promptly returned to the front of the platform and said that it was a question on which he had said very much; it was a question he did not want to touch except with a pair of tongs, for he considered it a cowardly attempt to run away from the responsibility of a public man.

Mr. Whitney continued that his position was well known. He did not wish to ascribe political motives to the gentleman who asked the question, but was curious to know if he would ask Mr. Ross the same question on Thursday night. He believed that the leading men of the country should get together and seriously discuss the question. The question was one to be considered from bedrock up, and he reiterated that provincial prohibition was impossible. The possible effect of it should be carefully considered before any legislature took hasty action. He would consider the matter very seriously, and when he finally came to a decision he would make his announcement in twenty-four hours.

One more thing, a single question could not be made paramount to the general welfare of the province. If governed for the prohibitionist or liquor interests alone, it would fail. The general welfare predominated.

Truckers Get $500,000 a Year.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Eight hundred thousand dollars a year has been added to the pay of the 9,000 members of the Truck Teamsters' Union. It was reached by conferences between employers and men without a struggle, and is the greatest concession ever granted a union in Chicago.

Mother and Five Children Burned.

London, Dec. 31.—A small house in Stepney burned last night, and with amazing swiftness. When it became possible for the firemen to enter the building they found the charred bodies of the tenant's wife and her five children, the latter clinging to their mother as though depending on her to save them.

A Burden to Self and Others.

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it and thus become a burden to yourself and perhaps to others." When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory system in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. There is no medicine so generally used, and none so successful. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

THE MOROCCAN REBELS.

Triumphant, They May Force the Sultan to Surrender—Britain and France Will Stay Out of Melee.

Madrid, Dec. 31.—A despatch from Tangier, Morocco, yesterday announced that the rebels have cut the aqueduct which supplies Fez with water, and added that the city is now practically without water. It was further asserted that unless the Kabyle tribesmen from the south come to the succor of Fez the place must surrender within three days.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 31.—Foreigners in the interior of Morocco have been advised to make for the coast, as provisions are scarce and channels of communication are almost closed. The Pretender himself is reported to be twenty miles from Fez.

Madrid, Dec. 31.—Great Britain and France have notified Spain that they have no intention of taking any advantage of the situation in Morocco, and that they desire the maintenance of the status quo even in the event of the Sultan being dethroned and his place taken by the Pretender. These communications have reassured the Spanish Government, which thus is relieved of fears of international complications.

NOBODY IS EXEMPT.

A New Preparation Which Everyone Will Need Sooner or Later.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing that they can do for it, is to take some one of the many so called purifiers, which, in many cases, are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help, and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels, and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two Tablets—give them needed help, and you will have no trouble.

It's a common sense medicine and a common sense treatment and it will cure every time; not only cure the disease but cure the cause. Goes about it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However, Mrs. E. M. Faith, of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for I feel altogether like a different person. I do not doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. E. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says:—"Mr. White of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia from which he suffered for eight years. As I am a sufferer myself I wish you to send me a package by return mail."

Phil Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your Dyspepsia Cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from Dyspepsia, but am now entirely cured, and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost fifty cents to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide."

Another Fatal Head-On Collision.

Sharon, Pa., Dec. 31.—In a head-on collision on the Pennsylvania Railroad, one and a half miles west of West Middlesex last night, the engineer of the passenger train, Neal Daughterty, was killed, four were seriously injured and almost a score were hurt. The wreck was caused through a misunderstanding of orders.

Run Over by a Freight.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 31.—Gordon Pirie, aged 28 years, an I. C. R. brakeman, was run over by a freight train at Richmond yesterday and received injuries from which he died two hours later. He leaves a widow and one child.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

Lots of Good Cheer at Henry & Co's.

Now for the great feast day of the year! Do not let your New Year be blighted for want of good cheer. Welcome the coming guest right royally. If your custom is to have something good to drink, as well as something good to eat, in temperance and in moderation, leave your "requisitions" at Henry's. We have imported some very fine wines for the holidays, that will give zest to the meat. Also medicinal liquors for winter emergencies—sudden attacks of colds, chills, etc. A glass of Allen's cider is a nice drink. Get your New Year's groceries and fruits at Henry & Co's. All the good things which go to make up the holiday feast. Henry & Co.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Mr. H. S. Carpenter, of Collingwood, Married to Miss Jessie R. Cameron, of Town.

A quiet wedding took place at 7 o'clock last night at No. 441 Reid street, the residence of Mr. John Cameron, when his second daughter, Miss Jessie Ross, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Stanley Carpenter, B. A., Sc., of Collingwood. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with chiffon and applique, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean M., who was attired in pale blue silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. A. H. Robinson, B. A., Sc., of town.

At the conclusion of the wedding dejeuner which followed the ceremony, Rev. Dr. Torrance, in proposing the health of the bride referred to her many aimable qualities and mentioned the fact that it was the first instance in his ministry in which he had officiated at the wedding of one whose parents he had also joined in matrimony.

The newly married couple left at 9 o'clock per G. T. R. on their honeymoon tour. On their return they will reside at Gamebridge, where Mr. Carpenter is professionally engaged in connection with the Trent Valley Canal.

THE HEALTH ACT.

People Should be Careful as to Contagious Disease.

Now that there is considerable contagion existing throughout the town it might be well to direct the attention of the public to the following section of the Ontario Health Act:

Excepting the attending physician or clergyman, no person affected with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria or cholera, and no person having access to any person affected with any of the said diseases shall mingle with the general public until such sanitary precautions as may be prescribed by the local Board or attending physician, shall have been complied with.—Sec. 91; Chap. 248, R.S.O., 1897.

Persons recovering from any of the said diseases and nurses who have been in attendance or any person suffering from any such diseases, shall not leave the premises till they have received from the attending physician, or medical health officer a certificate that in his opinion they have taken such precautions, as to their persons, clothing and all other things which they purpose bringing from the premises, as are necessary to insure the immunity from infection of other persons with who they may come in contact; nor shall any such person expose him or herself in any public place, shop, street or public conveyance without having first adopted such precautions.—Sec. 96; Chap. 248, R. S. O, 1897.

The penalty for the violation of the above sections is a fine not exceeding $20.

Don't forget the turkey shoot at Chemong Park on New Year's Day. A large number of turkeys to be shot for.

AN EXPLANATION.

Mr. Allan McCarthy of Ashburnham, says that he was incorrectly reported on Monday, at the nominations. He did not say that "if he could not defend himself with his tongue he could with his fists." What he states he did say was that "when he could not defend himself with his tongue, he could defend himself with his fists," when sneering remarks were cast at him.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir, — I wish to thank the ratepayers of Ashburnham for the confidence that they placed in me while I was a resident of it, and a member for several years, of the council.

I should have been at the nominations on Monday, but owing to circumstances was hindred in doing so.

I therefore take this means of thanking the electors for their support, and the many happy relations that have existed between us, and I trust, always will, though I am a resident of the town now.

Wishing them the compliments of the season, I am,

Very respectfully,
W. J. JOHNSTON.

FOUND DEAD.

George I. Esson an old Settler of Harvey.

Mr. George I. Esson, who resided on Lot 8, concession 16, Harvey, was found dead in his house on Monday morning. The deceased was about 65 years of age, and since the death of his wife, about three years ago, he has lived by himself. He attended a Christmas tree entertainment on Wednesday evening of last week and that was the last seen of him alive. He was found on Monday morning by his son, Mr. George Esson. Death is supposed to have been due to heart failure. He leaves three sons. They are Messrs. Thomas and George, of Harvey, and Robert of Kinmount. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock to-day.

SPECIAL MEETING BOARD OF HEALTH.

An Emergent Meeting to Consider Existing Circumstances

Decided Action Taken—Visit of Provincial Health Inspector.

In pursuance of this letter the local Board of Health met yesterday afternoon in special session in the council chamber, with the following members present: Dr. Burnham, chairman pro tem., His Worship Mayor Corkery, Messrs. Eyres, McPherson, Schneider, Metheral, Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, and Chief Roszel, inspector.

Dr. Hodgetts, Provincial Health Inspector, sent down by the Provincial Secretary, to enquire into local health conditions, was also present.

Dr. Hodgetts said he was asked to inspect the sanitary condition of the town, and yesterday morning, after examining the register, found some thirteen cases of scarlet fever since December 7th. He said the epidemic had evidently begun in the usual way with mild cases, and increased gradually in severity until the disease had reached a very malignant type.

Dr. Bingham said that the scare was evidently caused by some hysterical and hot-headed persons, who had written to the Provincial Department to the effect that the local health authorities were not taking the proper precautions in isolating and placarding the cases. Continuing the doctor said that the medical officials here had done everything necessary for the public safety, as they had their profession at heart.

Dr. Hodgetts asked a number of questions as to the manner of isolation and disinfecting, and in conclusion made a statement somewhat as follows:

The disease had gone on until the present condition of affairs is serious. To have twelve houses quarantined is a serious matter. In one home visited five cases had developed at once, which pointed to a very malignant type. He thought that something should be done, and was sure that the Board would agree with him. The danger was that the infection existed in some unknown place, and it was the duty of the local Board to hunt this down, and destroy the cause of infection. Another thing was the matter of private funerals. These should be insisted on in all cases of contagious diseases. The Health Officer should insist on this, and it should not be a very hard thing to carry out in Peterborough, where all in the town strive to keep up the public health. In regard to the schools it seemed after much enquiry, that these places were not the cause of infection, but he would like to see the schools disinfected during the holidays. This would establish public confidence. In regard to disinfecting, the doctor's life is a busy one, but as the custodian of the public health, he should see that the disinfection was well carried out by doing it himself. Let the houses now placarded be disinfected from top to bottom, in view of the death rate, which though small, was serious to all parents.

Dr. Hodgetts said that he was not here in any dictatorial spirit, but merely to give any suggestions in his power.

Dr. Bingham again reiterated the statement that there was no need of anxiety, but Dr. Hodgetts insisted that there was cause for anxiety, when twelve or thirteen deaths of little ones had occurred in a fortnight or so.

PRECAUTIONS ADOPTED.

On motion of Mr. Eyres, seconded by His Worship Mayor Corkery, the Medical Health Officer was given orders to see that all funerals from contagious diseases must be private, and take place directly from where death occurred, and within 24 hours after death.

In regard to the disinfecting of the schools, it was decided that they should be thoroughly disinfected by the Health Officer in the manner suggested by the Provincial Health Officer.

After some discussion it was decided, on a motion, moved and seconded by Messrs. Eyres and McPherson respectively, to instruct the Sanitary Inspectors by daily visits to see that the quarantine is carried out, and and that the full penalty of the law should be visited on anyone infringing on the quaratine.

Dr. Hodgetts thought that every means should be taken to encourage people to go to the hospital with members of the family afflicted with contagious diseases, rather than be isolated in their homes. He also stated that he was sure the disease would, if necessary precautions were rigidly carried out, soon moderate.

The following letter was addressed to the Mayor of the town:

Dear Sir, — The Department is informed that the Town Council and the local Board of Health are not giving any attention to the proper quarantining of the families where the scarlet fever outbreak has been very severe, and that large numbers of persons are visiting the homes where contagious diseases exist, and attending the funerals of those dying from such diseases. As you are no doubt aware, this is not only contrary to the Act, but it is not in the public interest that it should be continued.

I am sending Dr. Hodgetts to Peterborough to-morrow to look into the matter, and to take such steps, with the approval of the Council and the Board of Health, as may seem to be necessary to prevent any further spread of the disease. I shall ask him to confer with you when in Peterborough, and hope you will assist him in seeing that the Health Act is absolutely enforced to protect the homes and families of the citizens of the town in general.

Yours sincerely,

J. R. STRATTON.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

A HAPPY NEW YEAR, the Examiner wishes to all its readers, and, generally speaking, to all the world at large. In material things the town of Peterborough and the county of Peterborough, will have a happy New Year if the coming twelve months bring as great material prosperity as the year whose hours will have been numbered when the bell strikes twelve to-night. Peterborough will be happy in material things if our merchants, business men and manufacturers have as fruitful a year as the last. We shall be happy if we can add to our industrial assets, a quartette of such industries, as the Cereal Company, the Cordage Company, the Otonabee Power Company, the Colonial Typewriter Company and — the new hockey rink, the whole representing a due proportion of work and play.

A NEW MAYOR such as Mayor Roger, backed by a new council, have it in their power to do very much in this direction if the necessary energy and promptitude are exercised. The conditions of the town do not promise any holiday for our town council this coming year. We have a big docket of local problems to deal with and other problems which will crop up, or should be made to crop up, which should be made local problems. The splendid facilities we offer for making homes for manufacturers, as well as for new citizens, should be further exploited.

TO MAKE THE TOWN attractive to residents, we must above all be careful to make it a healthy place to live in. To do this the most careful sanitary arrangements must be fully and persistently aimed at. This is a matter of the very first importance, far transcending the importance of manufactures and all other interests combined. To the vast majority of our citizens health is their only capital. Destroy or impair the capital of our merchants and manufactures and crash soon follows. In like manner the impairment or distruction of the health—the capital of our citizens—is proportionately fatal. The taxpayers look to the Council and Board of Health to do their share as the law empowers and compels them to do. If they fail a terrible responsibility rests upon them — the responsibility of sacrificing human life, and darkening homes with the sorrow and material stress that death and disease bring to, especially the humbler homes, in which means is limited.

IN THIS CONNECTION the special meeting of the Board of Health yesterday is significant. It is well that the special meeting was held, but it would have been better if it had been convened without a spur from the Provincial Board of Health. The conditions revealed by the proceedings of this meeting, while not alarming, perhaps, led to the adoption of the stringent precautions which were very properly decided upon. It is impossible to ascertain definitely to what extent the reporting of cases of contagious diseases and consequently the placarding of infected premises has been neglected, but it is certain that great negligence, in some cases, criminal in its character and fatal in its results, has been practiced.

IT IS STATED, semi-officially, that in one case a woman visited a residence placarded, stayed some time and then visited another house where there was a large family of small children. As a consequence—direct, it is stated—in due time, and a very short time at that, five children of the family were attacked with scarlet fever.

WHATEVER might have been the motive of these visits, they were fatally ill-timed and criminally lacking in judgment. The Board of Health and health officers may placard and disinfect till the crack of doom, but so long as careless persons sow broadcast the seeds of contagion, so long will the disease flourish and the harvest of death be reaped. It is easy to placard, disinfect and procure private funerals of victims, but it is difficult to supply common sense where it is lacking, and prevent indiscriminate intercourse between infected and healthy families. It may however be some help to inform the public that the law provides a heavy penalty for the carrying of infection by persons going from infected houses to healthy ones. And this provision of the law should be rigidly enforced, and every good citizen who values the health of his family and his obligations as a citizen, should promptly report every such instance. For the sake of the health, for the sake of the life of others, it does not seem a hard thing to do to abstain from visits or calls under conditions attended with risk to health and life.

WHILE THE EMERGENT action of the Board of Health is commendable, it is still inadequate. It "doth but skin and film the ulcerous spot." As Dr. Hodgetts suggested yesterday, the deeper cause must be sought and, no doubt, it will be found in the unsanitary arrangements and conditions of many dwellings. We have no plumbing bylaw, and there are, even where there is no plumbing, unsanitary conditions, which actually not only invite, but compel, diseases that are "dirt diseases,"—arising, that is from improper sanitary conditions. Here's a pertinent pointer for the programme of our new Mayor and our new Council. We must have a healthy town, and we must have the conditions to make it so.

A GOOD WATER WORKS system, and a good sewerage system, are the conditions. But there's a defect in our water works system, due to natural causes. Since the middle of December it is said that we have been without a water supply on three nights. This is not the fault of the commissioners or Superintendent. It is due to "anchor ice." This is a serious matter, in case of fire, not to speak of the inconvenience of water consumers.

A REMEDY must be provided. If the "anchor ice" cannot be overcome auxiliary power should be secured. It has been pointed out in these columns that owing to surrounding conditions the Otonabee Power Company is not troubled with "anchor ice"—no trouble has been experienced this year. The Examiner is advised that the Otonabee Power Company has offered the Water Commissioners to supply auxiliary electrical power on condition of certain concessions as to placing poles, the Commissioners to install their own generators at the pump house.

WITHOUT PRONOUNCING upon the feasibility of this proposal, something of the kind should be done. Anchor ice, it seems we have, like the poor, with us always, and the possible loss from a destructive fire occurring under conditions of lack of water supply, would far exceed the cost of some such arrangement.

MAYOR CORKERY'S first official act—calling a public meeting of the ratepayers to discuss municipal matters—is a good one. We can't discuss municipal issues too much. It is to be hoped the ratepayers will take the meeting seriously; that is go prepared to discuss the live issues before the people at the coming municipal elections, and not go for an evening's fun.

IMPORTANT ISSUES are presented to the voters next Monday. It will almost be necessary for the voter to take private lessons. The mental labour of deciding how to vote will be serious and the manual labour of marking the stack of ballots will be a pretty hard day's work. With three bylaws, three Water Commissioners and ten Councillors to vote for the voter will have a choice of 23 ways in which to make his ballot mark, while he will be required to make sixteen crosses after the difficult work of making up his mind.

EVERYBODY, however, can make up his mind to make his mark honestly, both on his ballot on Monday and on his life record through the year. If we do the latter, with charity and good will to all, we shall with more confidence close the pages of 1902 and wish everybody in 1903

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

Hon. Mr. Blair Orders $400,000 Worth of New Cars.

ROAD BETTER NOW THAN C.P.R.

Government Railway Has Now the Lion's Share of the Business Where It Is in Competition With the Canadian Pacific—Is Handling Export Cattle Shipments Very Satisfactorily.

Ottawa, Dec. 31. — Hon. A. G. Blair has given an order for box and freight cars, aggregating $400,000 in amount, to be divided between Messrs. Rhodes, Currie & Co., of Amherst, N.S., and the Rathbun Co. of Deseronto. Nearly 500 of these cars are required for the Intercolonial, and they must be completed early in the spring.

The Minister of Railways will consult his colleagues with respect to the purchase of additional Pullmans and dining cars for the Government line. So heavy was the tourist traffic last year that the line could have put into use many more of these classes of cars than it possesses.

The earning power of the Intercolonial has greatly increased since Mr. Blair commenced to improve and equip it on a modern basis. Taking the period from July, 1898, to November, 1902, each successive month has shown an increase over the corresponding period of the previous year ranging from $40,000 to $70,000. Taking the section of railway from Halifax, N.S., to Moncton, N. B., over which both the C.P.R. and the Intercolonial run, where was a time when 85 per cent. of the business originating between these points went to the C.P.R., via St. John, and only 15 per cent. to the Intercolonial. Now the condition of things is reversed, and the people's line gets the lion's share.

Handling Cattle Shipments.

Upon inquiry at the Railway Department yesterday as to how the Intercolonial Railway is handling the shipments of export cattle transferred to it. The reply was made that the work is being very satisfactorily done, and in consequence the shippers are highly pleased. The best time made by the C.P.R. to St. John was, it is stated, forty hours, whereas by the Intercolonial route, although the distance is greater, the best time was 34 hours, and the average from 35 to 36 hours. Moreover, it was claimed the C.P.R. cattle train consists of but fourteen cars, whereas the Intercolonial hauls from 33 to 35 cattle cars to a train. Thus, it was asserted, the Intercolonial hauls more cars over a longer distance in less time than does the C. P. R. over its shorter route.

Some More Arbitration.

Paris, Dec. 31.—France and Guatemala have agreed to submit to the International Arbitration Court at The Hague the French claims against Guatemala.

SENSATION IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Joseph Boone, Seven Years a Hopeless Invalid, Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Discharged From Hospital as Incurable. Given up by Doctors—He is now Back at His Work Again.

Cottel's Cove, Newfoundland, Dec. 29th.—(Special.) — Among the lobster fishermen here the wonderful cure of Joseph Boone, one of their number, has created a sensation. They look on it as approaching the miraculous.

"For eight years Joseph Boone was a hopeless invalid. For seven years he was unable to work. He was discharged from the hospital after seven months treatment as incurable. Several doctors tried in vain to give him relief from these terrible pains and aches arising from Kidney Complaint. The care of a friend by Dodd's Kidney Pills tempted him to try them. He used three dozen boxes and to-day he is working at lobster fishing and doing as big a day's work as any of his mates.

This in brief is the story of Joseph Boone. He has to tell it often to people who never expected to see him do a day's work again, and he always adds:

"I am still using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I find a great benefit in every box I use. I can scarcely believe it is myself at all, after seven years of such suffering from complicated complaint of the Back and Kidneys."

QUEEN OF THE HOME.

Woman as the High Priestess of the Hearth.

Educate her as we may, but do not take from her the highest attribute, her greatest privilege, her sacred duty as high priestess of the hearth. In spite of all exceptions, the man's share is to make the daily bread and the woman's to dispense it. She must be busy about her household if it is in any true sense to deserve the name of home. Do not let us grow too ambitious, too foolishly proud, to be called a ministering angel in our own house.

The women who have solved the problem of how to take full advantage of all the new privileges without losing any of the old have thrown a fresh splendor on the home. They have fitted themselves to enter into their husbands' interests, into their sons' pursuits and go hand in hand with their daughters along the new paths, with just that gentle, restraining influence which prevents the young feet from running too far and too fast.

They are women whose culture, breadth and sympathy have made and left them entirely womanly, true queens of home! There was lately disinterred in the Roman Forum a memorial tablet to a lady who during a full lifetime had served as priestess in the temple of Vesta, custodian of the sacred hearth fire. A beautiful truth underlay this old heathen retreat, this dedication of the best and purest of a nation's daughters, "vestals," to keep ever alight, ever burning clear, the flame which symbolized the hearths of Rome.

Let us have our "vestals," too—our beautiful daughters, who make home beautiful to us, not cloistered in any temple or cast adrift in the rush of the world, but ministering each at her own inglenook, dedicated in a better and higher sense to the unquenchable altar fires of home.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. Itching Piles Most Annoying.

Cause Uneasiness and Often Keen Suffering—There is one Positive Cure—

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a question whether there is another preparation for sale in this country that is so heartily endorsed by persons who have used it as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Professional and business men and women, farmers, mechanics, railroad men, miners, labourers, all classes of men and women, use and endorse Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only actual cure for piles.

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 382 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried very many treatments, remained uncured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mr. John Harvey, Mayor of Amprior, Ont., states:—"Only persons who have experienced the torture of itching piles can form any idea of what I suffered from this horrible disease. I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can positively say that it has completely cured me. I had tried very many so-called cures for piles, and can truthfully say that there is no remedy on the face of the earth like Dr. Chase's Ointment for this purpose. I would not be without it for any amount of money, and can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, as it is the best thing I ever used."

JUST A COLD SETTLED IN THE KIDNEYS, BUT IT TURNED TO DROPSY.

IT WAS CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Read of This Wonderful Cure. It May Do You or Your Friends Some Good to Know About It.

Miss Agnes Creelman, Upper Smithfield, N.S., writes:—About 18 months ago I caught cold. It settled in my kidneys, and finally turned into Dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet were very much bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had used half a box I could notice an improvement, and the one box completely cured me. I have never been troubled with it since, thanks to DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Price 50c. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25; all dealers, or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

FRAULEIN BARBARA RENZ.

She Is the Most Highly Educated Woman in the World.

Fraulein Renz is the most highly educated woman in the world.

This is perhaps saying a great deal, but it is extremely doubtful whether any other woman now living would care to announce herself as a rival for educational honors against this erudite German lady.

The amount of learning she has absorbed and digested would put to the blush the college bred women of America, and it is because of her polished education that she is Germany's first woman librarian.

To be appointed to a post in the great state library of Munich is an honor for which hundreds of men would be glad to compete, yet it was won by a woman. The classics, the sciences, the "ologies" and even the dead languages must be as familiar to the person occupying this position as the three R's to the schoolteacher.

But in spite of her learning her appointment to this ancient institution, one of the most famous libraries of the world, raised a mighty storm of objection in the conservative element of Bavaria.

Dr. Renz's opponents based their objections on the grounds that her studies had been carried on mainly out of Germany, that younger librarians were more desirable, Dr. Renz having reached the venerable age of thirty-eight, and that she lacked the necessary qualifications.

To the first objection Dr. Renz replied that, such a course of study as she wished to pursue not being open to her in any university in Germany, she was forced to seek opportunities elsewhere. To the second objection she answered that no younger women candidates for such positions would be forthcoming so long as such difficulties were put in the way of the young women students.

In answer to the third objection she enumerated the subjects in which she passed examinations at the University of Rome, in six of which she obtained the highest possible marks.

The list of subjects is a long one, covering fourteen branches, some on such abstruse objects as theoretical philosophy, philology, comparative grammar of the classics and Sanskrit languages, Italian and Latin grammar and moral philosophy. She adds casually that she further passed severe examinations in Greek and various scientific subjects in the United States, where she held several university posts. Furthermore, the examinations were all taken in Italian or English and not in her native tongue.

The American librarian, man or woman, might well be astounded at the qualifications required. The doctor, by this able reply, silenced her opponents. At least she won the position.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Cookery Problems.

Every housekeeper, if she is willing to admit it, has some cooking molehill out of which she makes a mountain. Many say that the word "stock" in a recipe makes it impossible to them; others go down before "things in aspic;" still others tremble at a "court" bouillon," and the simple operation of marinading discourages many others. It is a good plan to wrestle with any of these cookery problems. The marinading bath, for example, improves meat or fish that is put in it. If cold meat is to be used for salad or even warmed over in a "stew," the marinade gives it a flavor that it would otherwise lack. It is merely a dressing made from three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two of oil, a teaspoonful salt, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, one bay leaf, a sprig of parsley and a teaspoonful of onion juice. These proportions may be diminished or increased as needed. The meat or fish is put in this mixture for an hour or so before using, being turned several times to absorb the flavors. The cod, thus treated, then boiled, becomes a different edible, so greatly improved is its taste. It is quite worth while for housekeepers to experiment in directions that appear a little formidable, if only to discover that they are not so hard as they seem.

An English School For Wives.

In the English School For Wives at London the course of instruction covers a period of thirteen weeks, with the hours of attendance from 10 to 3 o'clock every weekday, except Saturday. In addition to practical lessons in cookery, needlework, housecleaning and laundry work there are lectures on the keeping of accounts, the relative values of different foodstuffs, the respective duties of mistress and maid, the selection of a site for a house, its sanitation, ventilation, etc., and numerous other minor though important points. The Duke of Bedford is the president of the institution, and Mrs. Charles Clarke is general superintendent. There is a corps of eighteen teachers, who instruct pupils divided into three classes—those who wish to become competent to manage their own homes, those who are preparing to become teachers and those who intend entering domestic service. The scope seems to be wide, and those who are advancing the new school's interests seem to think it will eventually solve at least one domestic problem and that the competition of different minds and characters will have desirable results. —Table Talk.

The Girl Who Didn't—A Fable.

Once upon a time a Girl Decided that she Would Go In for Health rather than Fashion and would be a True Woman such as Men Like to Talk About in the Abstract.

She wore Spring Heels on Number Seven shoes and Shivered at the Very Idea of Corsets. Her Waist measured Thirty-Six Inches, while her Hips and Bust were Only Thirty-two. She Wouldn't curl Her Hair, and as she Thought Powder Vulgar Her Face was always Red and Shiny.

Her Clothes were all Made to Hang From the Shoulders, and she never Sat on Her Spine. By the Time she was Twenty-Five Men ran when They Saw Her Coming or Going, they Never Knew Which, and Women Looked at her Through lorgnettes and Said she was an Unsexed Creature!

Moral.—The Easiest Way is always the best if you are a girl.—Life.

Mrs. Cora B. Ayling.

Among the women who have met with success and made a name for themselves in the business world is Mrs. Cora B. Ayling of Boston, who holds the position of business manager and is credited with receiving one of the largest salaries paid to any woman in Boston. Compelled at the age of seventeen to solve the problem of self support, she became interested in business affairs and from the first has commanded high salaries. In addition to performing her business duties in the most thorough manner, she presides over a charming home and is a member of two prominent women's clubs in her part of the country.

Bathroom Fixtures.

When getting nickel fittings for the bathroom, be sure to get those in which the nickel is put on a brass foundation. Where the fixtures are iron nickeled, when the nickel wears off, which it is sure to do in time, your towels and other articles will be rusted, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. It makes some difference in the first cost of these things, but it pays in the end. The iron fixtures are simply worthless when the nickel wears off. But those of brass will not in any way mark towels or linen.

Face Powder.

Almost every woman uses a little face powder occasionally, and as there are many injurious articles on the market it is well to prepare it at home. Mix one-half pound of powdered starch with two and a half ounces of powdered orris root, then run through a fine sieve. Put a little in a bag of thin flannel, and apply it by shaking it lightly on the face. The odor of fresh orris root is always liked and closely resembles violets.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

The Gentle Touch.

The young man was praising his dentist, who,
He said, knew exactly the thing to do.
"Is his touch very gentle?" inquired a maid
Who, like most people, was somewhat afraid.
"Indeed it is that," he replied, with a laugh,
"He touched me for only a dollar and a half."

A Sure Sign.

"Your servant girl seems to be in unusually good spirits this morning," said the caller. "I heard her singing at her work."

"Yes," said Mrs. Hauskeep, "I guess I'll have to look for another girl."

"The idea! Why?"

"She wouldn't be singing that way if she hadn't made up her mind to leave. That's the way they all do."

Setting Him Right.

She had promised to be his forever,
Till death or divorce should part;
Then the youth, full of sentiment, queried:
"Do these words come from your heart?"

"How absurd!" said the practical maiden.
"Don't you know very well that our tongues
Extract the words from our voices,
And voices come straight from the lungs?"

Signs.

First Tramp—Do you believe in signs?

Second Tramp—No more. I haven't had a bite to eat in twenty-four hours.

"What has that to do with it?"

"A good deal. I've been up against twenty doormats today with the word 'Welcome' on 'em."

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

An Ammonia Bath.

If after a hard day you feel tired out and fit for nothing, have a hot bath, to which ammonia has been added in the proportion of a teaspoonful to a gallon, the last thing before getting into bed. Don't stay in the water more than ten minutes at the outside; then, after a brisk rubbing, jump into bed as quickly as possible.

Study For Wrinkles.

A woman insists that study is a great wrinkle remover. There is nothing, she says, that promotes youthful appearance in women like unto it. It beats all the cosmetics, adds fire and animation to the eyes and countenance and is worth a ton of idle gossip at the nearest neighbor's or friend's house.

The Refrigerator.

Motives of economy as well as refinement are satisfied by keeping a scrupulously clean refrigerator or ice chest. One article that has been allowed to remain in the ice chest after it has lost its freshness will soon communicate the contamination to everything else in the box.

Wooden Utensils.

When wooden tubs or pails have been standing unused for some time, instead of filling them with water, which is sure to become stagnant, paint them carefully with glycerin. The wood will not shrink and the glycerin will dry in.

Pillows may be cleaned by putting them out upon the grass in a drenching rain. After being well soaked, they should be squeezed and hung in a shady place to dry.

If a piece of furniture is ink stained, six drops of niter in a teaspoonful of water applied with a feather will remove it.

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

The mother smiles at the childish game, and doesn't realize that it is a game she as a woman has perhaps played for a great many years.

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this same blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity. It dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"My disease was displacement and ulceration of the uterus, and I was in a terrible condition with pain and weakness and had given up all hopes of ever being well again," writes Mrs. Harry A. Brown, of Orono, Penobscot Co., Me. "Had doctored with four different doctors within four months, and instead of getting better was growing weaker all the time. I decided to try your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' as I had heard of the many cures resulting from their use. I bought five bottles and felt so much better after taking them that I kept on until I am as well as ever in my life, and to Dr. Pierce all the praise is due. I cannot say enough in favor of his medicines. Before I began taking your medicines I only weighed one hundred and twenty pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty pounds. I gained forty pounds in six months. I shall doctor no more with home doctors, as it is only waste of money. I am now in perfect health, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Dec. 31, 9.55 a.m.. — Bull sentiment continues to predominate, bu tit is recognized that this being the last day of the year there is likely to be a scarcity of call money owing to banks and trust companies being compelled to hold on to cash to meet Jan. 1st disbursements, which in N.Y. will approximate $130,000,000. With probability of higher call money rate prevailing, and extra demand for funds created from yesterday's buying movement, we are likely to see an unsettled market during the day. We do not however look for weakness as stocks are in strong hands, and broadening, and a higher market is anticipated when money becomes easier. In meantime, good trading market and somewhat higher tendency is expected to prevail.

M. & M.

Corn 1-8 lower to 1-2 higher. Wheat unchanged to 1-4 lower. Liverpool, —

New York closed to-morrow. Chicago will adjourn to-day at 12 noon for the holiday. London buying Norfolk; Black sold Norfolk; Strong and Sturgis also Content sold Erie Scattered buying.

M. & M.

11.30 a.m.—Mop sells ex-dividend on Friday; 2 1-2 semi-annual; loco. prfd. also ex-dividend Monday.

Wheat is easier on Government reports and failure of Liverpool to respond to our late steadiness. Local crowd generally bearish but no conspicuous selling. Commission houses not doing much. Corn easier on Government confirmation of Nov. figures.

DENISON.

Messrs. Haight & Freese to-day received the following despatches:

New York, Dec. 31.,— Developments favour some further improvement in prices to-day, barring unforeseen adverse news. There will not be so great a strain on the money market after to-day, and while the large disbursements will not return to the street at once, there should be no further extensive calling of loans in that connection. We would not ignore reasonable returns and are inclined to advise profit taking on further advances. Nor. & W. So. Ry., M.R. look inviting from the standpoint of the bull. London for Americans, strong.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

New York, Dec. 31st.—If the bullish programme be carried through the dying year will go out in a blaze of glory. 1903 will begin a peaceful career, no strikes, no political complications, plenty of prosperity, and infinite promise of higher prices are scheduled for all the coalers. Eries will continue to be conspicuous leaders. Hold Pacifics and buy N.Y.C. for a turn. Remember M.O.P. will open Friday morning ex. 2½-2 per cent. semi-annual dividend. Better get stocks. Keep long of the steels and copper. Insiders are persistently acquiring R.I.S. Standard Oil interests buying St. Paul.

JOSEPH.

New York, Dec. 31.—The ruling feature of the stock market at present is that there is no pressure to sell and prices are easily advanced, until realizing for profit appears. G. W. is favourably regarded in some quarters there seems to be a short interest in sugar, judging by the borrowing demand for that stock. Union and So. Pac. were also in demand in the loan crowd, and are not unlikely to advance a little to-day.

Water Commissioners.

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have accepted nomination for a second term as Water Commissioner for the Town of Peterborough, and respectfully solicit your support. During my past year of service I have as faithfully as I could, studied the relations of our Water Works to the interests of the citizens, and it will not be denied that a comfortable surplus does not indicate inefficient or careless management, under circumstances of changing control and changed conditions. If in your opinion I have shown satisfactory diligence and efficiency in the discharge of my duties, your support to place me on the Board of Commissioners for another year will be heartily appreciated as an endorsation of my past services and a new incentive to faithfully employ my experience as well as my best efforts to promote the interests of the citizens of Peterborough, as a member of the Board.

Very faithfully yours,

T. F. MATTHEWS.

Peterborough, Dec. 31, 1902.

TO THE ELECTORS

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Having again been favoured with the nomination for Alderman for the Town of Peterborough, I have consented to become a candidate. I think I can, with confidence, look to you for a further continuance of your kind support. My record in the Council for the past three years is before you. Should you do me the honour of electing me for another term, I will continue to aim at the general welfare and progress of the municipality as a whole. With thanks for your confidence in the past, I remain

Yours truly,

R. OLINKSOALE.

FOR ALDERMAN.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—At the request of many ratepayers largely interested in the welfare of the town, I have accepted the nomination for Alderman for 1903.

Should you again elect me to assist in the management of our municipal affairs, I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the Council. I believe in a progressive policy, and, for that reason, a liberal policy with respect to encouraging live industries to locate in our midst, without any sacrifice of the interests of the ratepayers. As my individual interests are all centred in the Town of Peterborough, it follows that whatever is for the welfare of the ratepayers, generally, will be my interest to assist. Being strongly opposed to the practice of canvassing for votes, I ask the ratepayers to accord me their voluntary support at the polls.

Respectfully yours,

J. J. TURNER.

Peterborough, Dec. 31, 1902.

ASHBURNHAM REEVESHIP.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Having been nominated as a candidate for the Reeveship of the Village of Ashburnham, I have decided to accept the same.

While I shall be pleased to have the support of the electors — freely and voluntarily bestowed — I wish to have it understood that I am opposed to personal canvassing, preferring to leave my candidature in the hands of the electors, without solicitation or promise.

If you think that my ability to serve you justifies you in according me your conscientious support, I shall, if elected, endeavour to justify your confidence by a faithful, economical and business-like management of our corporation affairs.

Wishing all the electors — whether they vote for me or not — and their families, a very happy New Year, I remain,

Yours truly,

GEORGE STEVENS.

Ashburnham, Dec. 30, 1902.

TO THE ELECTORS —OF THE— Village of Ashburnham

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been repeatedly urged to stand for Councillor for the Village for 1903, I have accepted the nomination tendered me on Monday last.

I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and support. You may rest assured that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure the very best service to the municipality at as little cost as is consistent with good work.

Among other things, I will favour the construction of granolithic walks on the principal streets of the Village, payment to be extended over a term of years, on the basis of a frontage tax.

Your Obedient Servant,

ALLAN McOARTHY.

KING ACCLAIMED EMPEROR OF INDIA

Climax of the Delhi Durbar Came New Year's Day.

THE MESSAGE FROM THE KING.

Liberties of the Indian People, Respect For Dignities and Rights, Interest in Advancement and Devotion to Their Welfare Supreme Aims and Objects of His Imperial Majesty's Rule.

Delhi, India, Jan. 2.—Tens of thousands of people from the city of Delhi and from villages far and near began gathering at daybreak yesterday morning on the great plain outside the city. There they waited patiently for the supreme announcement of the Durbar, that King Edward was Emperor of India. Soon the plain was filled with crowding masses of people and brightly colored clothing of the vast throng covered the space with gorgeous hues. The crowd on the plain was composed largely of the common people, but among it could be seen the retainers of the various Rajahs, who had assembled for the function. The attention of all was fixed upon the white amphitheatre in the centre of the plain, where the announcement was to be made. The amphitheatre was adorned with gilded cupolas and surrounded by batteries, squadrons and battalions of the Indian army. Beyond the amphitheatre in the distance could be seen great numbers of elephants, camels and horses. So vast was the multitude that the troops appeared as mere splashes of color.

The arrival at the amphitheatre of the Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Keddleston, and other dignitaries, and the Princes, was one of the brilliant episodes of the day. The Princes were clad in silks and adorned with jewels, and their horses and carriages were brilliant with trappings of gold.

The whole ceremony was favored with brilliant sunshine.

Lady Curzon was dressed in pale blue chiffon, trimmed with passementerie. She wore a flower hat.

Lord Curzon was in full political uniform, with cocked hat.

The Duke of Connaught had on a field marshal's uniform, and the Duchess of Connaught wore a costume of cream lace over white silk, with silver trimmings and a cream toque.

When the Curzons reached the dais the Viceroy and the Duke of Connaught saluted each other, and Lady Curzon courtesied to the Duchess of Connaught.

Lord Curzon spoke for 30 minutes, standing most of the time with one foot on a silver footstool. During the reception of the Princes, Lady Curzon and the Duchess stood behind their husbands, not participating in the ceremony, except in the case of the Begum of Bhopa (Ammohedian Princess), who was thickly veiled. After the presentation of the notabilities the Viceroy and the Duke of Connaught stepped forward and shook hands with Lady Curzon.

The spectacle within the arena was most striking and gorgeous. The Pathan chiefs and the Sirdars were resplendent in brilliant raiment. Soldiers, civilians and visitors from far distant countries were included among those within the amphitheatre. Upon the entrance of the veterans of the Indian mutiny there was tremendous enthusiasm, and as the arrivals marched to their places the bands played national airs. The carriage of the Duke of Connaught, who represents King Edward, was escorted by a detachment of cavalry, and as the Duke and Duchess were driven around the arena the assemblage gave them an enthusiastic welcome. Amid the acclamations of the people, the Duke took his seat at the left of the throne, while the Duchess proceeded to a place behind the throne. When the great amphitheatre was filled, and the hour for the announcement drew near, the multitude within and without awaited expectantly the first act of the proclamation ceremony.

Then the approach of the Viceroy was heralded Preceded by members of his bodyguard, clad in white, blue and gold, and under the command of Major Grimston, Lord Curzon appeared at the entrance of the arena in his carriage. The postilions wore uniforms of scarlet and gold, and the carriage was drawn by four bay horses. The Viceroy was escorted by Sir Pertab Singh. Alighting from his carriage, Lord Curzon mounted the dais to the throne, which was decorated with golden lions, and around which were placed massive silver footstools. The throne itself was surmounted by a canopy of white and gold. When the Viceroy reached the throne the National Anthem was played, and a salute of twenty-one guns was fired. When the spectators had resumed their seats after the anthem there was a flourish of trumpets from the heralds, and Major Maxwell, at the command of the Viceroy, read the proclamation opening the Durbar. The royal standard was then raised on high and the Imperial salute was fired. The massed bands marched by playing, bonfires were started by the troops outside, and it was announced that King Edward was Emperor of India.

There was another flourish of trumpets, and Lord Curzon arose and stood for a moment impassive. Then in impressive tones he delivered a speech and read the message from King Edward. In his address the Viceroy announced the coronation of the King; he extolled the loyal Indian people, and prophesied prosperity for the Indian Empire. He also said that it had been decided not to exact interest for three years on all loans made or guaranteed by the Government of India to the native States in connection with the recent famine. The Viceroy announced also the abolition of the Indian staff corps, which has long been an army sinecure. In the King's message, which was then read by Lord Curzon, His Majesty said that the Prince and Princess of Wales would shortly visit India. He regretted his absence from the Durbar, and sent his greetings to his Indian people.

In conclusion, King Edward said: "I renew the assurances of my regard for the liberties of the Indian people; of my respect for their dignities and rights; of my interest in their advancement, and of my devotion to their welfare. These are the supreme aims and objects of my rule, which, under the blessing of Almighty God will lead to the increasing prosperity of my Indian Empire, and to the greater happiness of its people."

As the Viceroy finished reading the King's words, the assembled people broke into cheers for the King and Emperor. The cheering was taken up by the multitude outside the amphitheatre and was long sustained.

There then followed the presentation of Indian Princes to the Viceroy and the Duke of Connaught, and political officers paid homage to the sovereign. This ended the ceremony and the royal cortege then left the arena, followed by the delegates from foreign powers and the Indian Princes.

Lord Kitchener, after the ceremonies, entered his carriage and was driven to Delhi.

SUTCLIFFE'S WILL CLOSE AT 9 P. M. SATURDAYS

Commencing Jan. 2nd

Until further notice this store will close each Saturday at 9 p.m.

We will thank those customers who find it necessary to do their buying Saturday nights to do so as early as possible and thus help us shorten the working hours of a long day which we feel will be much appreciated by our staff in general.

We are confident that our friends will help us take this forward step.

LARGEST IN YEARS.

Governor-General's Reception on New Year's Attended by Over 500.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—His Excellency the Governor-General's New Year's reception was attended by over 500, the largest for years. His Excellency was attended by a guard of honor from the local garrison, and Lord Dundonald, Lord Aylmer, and nearly all the headquarters staff were present, in uniform. Capt. A.D.C. and Major Maude accompanied His Excellency.

Uriah Wilson, M.P., Better.

Napanee, Jan. 2.—Mr. Uriah Wilson, M.P., was a little better yesterday morning, having slept some during the night. His trouble is catarrh of the stomach.

A REAR-END COLLISION.

Two Freights Crash Together and Wrecked Cars Blaze Fiercely Over St. Lawrence—Conductor Tremblay Killed.

Montreal, Jan. 2. — The Grand Trunk is really unfortunate, as a second grave accident took place Wednesday. By a rear-end collision on the Victoria Bridge, shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday, two Grand Trunk freight trains were brought together. Conductor Octave Tremblay was killed.

The wreck at once caught fire and blazed fiercely above the St. Lawrence.

The accident occurred at the west end of the bridge. The two freight trains were following each other slowly across the bridge, coming toward Montreal. The rear train pitched into the one ahead, the result being the smashup, in which Tremblay was killed.

Tremblay was the conductor of the foremost train. He was standing between the van and the next car and was in the act of disconnecting them when the collision took place, and he was decapitated. The dead conductor was a married man, and leaves a widow and one child. who resides at 39 Knox street. The trains were coming from St. Lambert, and the train in the lead stopped suddenly, without giving the rear train sufficient time to stop also. A general blockade of traffic on the bridge followed, but the line was clear at 2 o'clock p.m.

PRETENDER NEAR FEZ.

Provision Convoys Enter City and It Was the Morroccan Sultan's Policy to Go Out Against Rebels.

London, Jan. 2.—Further information showing how serious is the situation at Fez is given by The Times' correspondent at Tangier, Morocco.

The chiefs of the nothern tribes, he says, are not obeying the order of the Sultan to send irregular troops to Fez to aid in the defence of the capital.

Only Four Hours Away.

A despatch to The Times from Tangier says a courier who left Fez Dec. 26 has brought news that the Pretender was then four hours from Fez. All available troops had left the capital to defend the approaches to the city. The Christians in Fez were all reported to be safe.

Will Attack Rebels.

Madrid, Jan. 2.—The European inhabitants have quitted Tetuan, Morocco, fearing the rebels will attack the place. Despatches from Tangier report that several provision convoys have entered Fez. The Sultan's troops intended marching out from Fez Dec. 27 to attack the rebels.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto, Jan. 1st.—The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policyholders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results: Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

CHRIS. FOLEY WILL STAND.

Decides to Run in Burrard as Independent Labor Candidate.

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—Chris Foley, who contested Yale-Cariboo at last general election in the interests of miners' union, consented to stand last night as independent labor candidate for the Dominion at bye-election in Burrard. Chinese restriction will be one of his chief planks, and besides the labor vote he will be supported by a number of Liberals, opposed to Macpherson's candidature. D. McInnes announces his intention to remain in the field, so there will be a triangular contest.

Four Persons Shot.

Newark, N.J., Jan. 2.—Four persons were shot yesterday as the result of John Hackel's celebration of the opening of 1903. Hackels had discharged one barrel of his shot gun when it was prematurely discharged. The greater part of the charge entered the chest of Lena Neideff. She is dangerously wounded. The other victims were Mrs. L. Neideroff, shot in the face and head; Mrs. J. Harn and Peter Harn, both of whom were shot in the face.

Results from common soaps: eczema, coarse hands, ragged clothes, shrunken flannels.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Switzer Received a Couple of Arm Chairs.

(Omemee Mirror.)

It is to be regretted that Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Switzer have decided to leave Emily Township and take up their residence in Peterborough. Not that Peterborough is an undesirable town to live in, but on account of the loss to our Township caused by their removal. Mr. Switzer has been one of the best and most energetic men of the Township, having served several terms as Reeve and County Commissioner for the Third County Division. Both Mr. Switzer and his estimable wife were connected with the Methodist Church at Bethel, assisting in everything that was to its advancement, both spiritually and financially. Peterborough secures two more of our best citizens. We wish Mr and Mrs. Switzer every success.

To the Editor of the Omemee Mirror:

Dear Sir,—A large number of the friends and well-wishers of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Switzer met at their home, on Tuesday evening, the 23rd inst., to tender them a farewell, previous to their departure for their new home in the Town of Peterborough. A feature of the evening was the presentation of two magnificent arm chairs to Mr. and Mrs. Switzer and a beautiful gold bracelet to Miss Eva Switzer together with the following address prepared and read by Mrs. Jas. McCarrell, betokening in some measure the high esteem in which the family are held:

Dear Sir and Madam,—On the eve of your departure to your new home in Peterborough, we esteem it a great pleasure to have the opportunity of assembling here to spend this evening.

We, therefore, must express our most profound regret that the connections between us must be severed. No one will be more missed than yourselves, for in the varied experiences and incidents of the history of the neighbourhood, you have been ever constant in your devotion to its interests. For a number of years you have manifested such a faithful interest in the welfare of the community that you have easily won the esteem, admiration and respect of all who have laboured with you. We are fully aware that all this has demanded much of your time, thought and energy, which you have always given so cheerfully, even when in discharge of your duty, it meant much personal loss. It will, however, be a source of pleasure to you to know that to your constancy, abiding interest and persistent policy the present prosperous condition of the neighbourhood is largely due.

We wish, therefore, to convey to you as we herein do our heartiest appreciation and most grateful thanks for the long years of earnest and valuable service you have rendered us. You have not been without your laurels in all departments of life. In society and public circles you have been placed in the chair of honour, and your lives both public and private have always reflected great credit upon our community for which we are devoutly thankful We wish you further to realize another slight token of our appreciation of your services in the acceptance of those chairs.

We all join in wishing you much happiness in your future home and we do trust that for many years to come you may find circling around you ties of friendship as strong as those you now leave.

Our earnest prayer to God is that, you may both long be spared to enjoy the blessings of life and to continue the practical expression of your Christian characters.

We all join in wishing you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, and we will look forward with bright expectations to the privilege and pleasure of your presence with us from time to time.

Signed on behalf of the community,
WILLIAM DEYELL,
JOHN M'CARRELL,
T. M. CARDWELL,
JOSEPH BOYD.

Allow me Mr. Editor to add a word to the above. My acquaintance with Mr. and Mrs. Switzer and their niece, Miss Eva, has been of short duration and yet I have come to prize them very highly because of their general worth. And I have been impressed with the hold they have taken upon the hearts of the prople through their devotion to the interests of right and truth. Its no small tribute to right-living that they are appreciated as they are. And the thought has suggested itself to my mind that Mr. Switzer's unusual popularity which is the direct product of his geniality, neighbourliness, unselfishness, integrity, thrift, public service and godly life, might well prove an object lesson and an inspiration to many a younger man. Such a man is worthy of imitation and is a benediction to the neighbourhood in which he may live. With best wishes for the future of the family.

I am yours, etc.,
T. BROWN.

AN ENTERTAINMENT

By the Kindergarten and Primary Classes of St. Andrew's.

The Kindergarten and Primary Classes of St. Andrews held a very successful Christmas treat on Monday evening. The tea was served at 5.30, after which a very simple and interesting programme was given. The most important part of this was the distributing of the presents and boxes of candy from the brightly illuminated Christmas tree. The conduct of the children and the character of their work reflected great credit on the devotion and service of the teachers, Mrs. Laing, Miss Williamson and Miss Ethel Tully.

Tuesday night the Senior School had a highly successful concert. A large number assembled between 6 and 7.30. At eight o'clock there was a large assemblage of parents and friends, and all were very highly delighted with the excellent programme so well rendered by the scholars. "Words of Welcome" were most clearly and emphatically spoken by Myrtle Kennedy and a chorus by 21 girls under the leadership of Miss Aggie VanEvery was most appropriate to the occasion, and gave good tone to the evening's entertainment. Instrumental duets, well executed, were given at intervals by Misses VanEvery and Tully, Misses B. and F. Campbell, and Misses Lillian Barber and Aggie Hyde. The "Star of the East" was a most beautiful Christmas solo, sung in good voice by Norman Laing, and "Two Little Blue Shoes," sung by Lita Tully, was much appreciated. Mr. Thos. Petrie's songs with guitar accompaniment took the house with great force, and the continuous appeal of the school was responded to. Miss Nellie Davies, who is at home from the Presbyterian Ladies' College, delighted the audience with appropriate selections which called forth a very hearty encore. The great interest of the evening centred on the Fan Drill and Broom Drill, which gave every evidence of good training and a personal interest of the girls in the work at hand. Both numbers were asked to be repeated before the close of the concert. The girls as well as their tutors deserve great praise.

The evening's concert closed with a well arranged tableaux of the old time school, the carrying out of which caused much merriment to the audience.

EVANGELIST KENNEDY'S WORK

Record of What he has Done in the Algoma District.

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy has returned to Peterborough, after having completed a six months' revival service in Algoma district, and left Wednesday evening for Deseronto, where he will conduct a series of meetings.

The following is clipped from the Christian Guardian of last week:

"It is now some months since we first reported a gracious old-time revival in the Algoma District, which is still in progress. For the past six months Evangelist H. D. Kennedy has been labouring with us under the sanction and direction of the chairman of the district and the financial secretary. His work has been greatly blessed of God in the salvation of many souls and in the quickening of the churches during these months, and we regret that he is now leaving the district. Mr. Kennedy is a strong and original preacher, thoroughly possessed of the importance and sacredness of his work, and well qualified for it, both mentally and spiritually. His treatment of the great characters of the Bible, like Jacob and Samson, David and Judas, and many others, is so vivid and well-imagined, that these great types of character fairly live again in the imagination of the hearer. He is an expository preacher rather than doctrinal, but the grand old doctrines of repentance from sin, and regeneration of life through faith in Christ, are clearly and faithfully presented. His methods are thorough, and there can be no doubt of the permanence of the work, when followed up by a faithful pastor. As a direct result of the campaign about 450 persons have been led to definitely accept Christ as their Saviour, and have been added to the various Protestant churches. Methodism, of course, has reaped the lion's share, and nearly all of our churches along the north shore have been strengthened and established in their loyalty to Christ and to Methodism. We rejoice in this work, not only because of its direct results, but because such a revival spreading over these new settlements is fraught with so much importance for the future. The church that wins the country now is the church that will lead the hosts of the Lord when the resources of this new country are fully exploited. There is a steady and rapid increase in population and prosperity throughout these regions, and it will only be a few years until Algoma will be dotted over with flourishing communities and now is the time to plant the church on the firm foundation of spiritual religion. Such a campaign as has been carried on in this district would, if judiciously planned, and wisely carried out, be of great advantage to every mission district in New Ontario."

"W. G. WATSON."

AN ENTERTAINMENT.

A grand concert and gift tree will be held at Chemong Town Hall on the 8th January, 1903. An excellent programme will be furnished, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, dialogues, etc. Mr. J. K. Galvin, of Enniskmore, will render several comic songs. The North Smith choir is expected to enliven the meeting by furnishing vocal music. The chair will be occupied by Mr. A. E. Kennedy. Everybody is invited to take part in the decoration of the tree—free.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

HASTINGS WEEKLY BUDGET.

The Nominations for Municipal Honours.

Closing Exercises of the Hastings Separate School.

About a dozen citizens took enough interest in the nominations to be present at the council chamber on Monday at noon. Notwithstanding this fact a goodly number of candidates were proposed. The following were nominated:—

For Reeve—H. A. Wilson, T. R. Learmouth.

For Councillors—Jno. Welsh, T. R. Learmouth, J. Tracy, L. T. Huycke, Jos. Carter, sr., J. Murray, Dr. Berry, T. Coughlan, Jas. A. Fraser, B. F. Doxsee, W. M. Fowlds.

After the nominations short speeches were made by the nominees who were present, viz., Messrs. H. A. Wilson, T. R. Learmouth, T. Coughlan and Jas. A. Fraser, and by Dr. Coughlan.

Those nominated had up to Tuesday night at 9 o'clock, to resign, and all did so but the following:—

Reeve—H. A. Wilson, by acclamation.

Councillors—T. R. Learmouth, John Tracy, John Welsh, T. Coughlan and J. Murray.

There will be an election for Councillors.

ASPHODEL.

For Reeve—Wm. Oakman and P. McNulty.

For Councillors—F. Warner, George Magee, Jno. Francis and W. H. Comstock. Jno. McNaughton and M. Brown were nominated, but being school trustees they cannot qualify for councillors.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The closing exercises of the Hastings Separate school were held in their school room, on Dec. 22nd, Rev. Father McGuire presiding.

At the close of a short program of patriotic songs, marches, drills, etc., Rev. Father McGuire addressed a few remarks to the pupils, expressing his satisfaction with their progress in acquiring knowledge and complimenting them on the brightness and cleverness of their entertainment.

Miss Cassie Coughlan, who has been in charge of the junior department during the last two years and who purposes attending Normal next term, was, on behalf of the pupils of her class, presented with the following address, accompanied by the gift of a very handsome silk umbrella. Miss Coughlan although taken completely by surprise, made a suitable reply, thanking her pupils for their kind remembrance:

Dear Miss Coughlan,—The brightness of the glad Christmas time has been dimmed by the sad thought that on our return to school we shall miss the presence of our kind friend and teacher.

During the time you have been with us we have learned to know and love you well. Though we are but thoughtless little children we have not failed to notice your unfailing kindness, gentleness and patience—your zeal and interest in all that tended to promote our welfare and happiness.

We assure you, dear teacher, that your kindly efforts in our behalf will not soon be forgotten by us, and in asking you to accept this little gift as a token of our good-will we trust that you may cherish a kindly remembrance of

Your loving little children of St. Mary's School.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. John J. Hammond to Miss Rosa McGregor.

A pleasing event took place on Wednesday, December 24th, at five p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McGregor, of Smith, when their daughter Rosa, was united in marriage to Mr. John J. Hammond, of Attwood, Ont. Guests, numbering about 50, were present from Brighton, Attwood, Uxbridge, Toronto, Peterborough and other places.

While the wedding march was being played by Mrs. Dr. Kidd, of Attwood, the bride entered the drawing room escorted by her brother. She looked charming in a dainty gown of white organdie trimmed with Valenciennes lace and ribbon, and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms.

The bride was assisted by her niece, Miss Mabel Kidd of Attwood, who was prettily attired in cream cashmere. The bride's bouquet was of white carnations and ferns, while the bridesmaid carried pink carnations.

Mr. Gordon Mann of Smith, performed the duties of best man.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Brighton, uncle of the bride, the guests partook of a most sumptuous wedding repast, and then spent a very happy evening in games and amusements.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among which was a handsome set of silver dinner and tea knives and forks, presented by the congregation of the Gilmour Memorial church, where the bride has been a most efficient worker in the church and Sunday school.

The good wishes of her many friends will follow the bride to her new whome at Attwood.

A TEACHER REMEMBERED.

On Friday, Dec. 19th, at the closing exercises of the Westwood Public School, Mr. James Brackenridge, who is severing his connection with the school, was presented with a very handsome toilet and shaving set and a tie pin, accompanied by the following address:

Dear Teacher,—As you are about to leave us, we feel that this your last day of teaching school at Westwood, should not be allowed to pass without expressing our regret at your departure. We are all very sorry how for the trouble we caused you, and know now your punishment was to make us better boys and girls. We realize that you have tried to help, and in every way, to assist us. We therefore ask you to accept this token with our warmest wishes for your future happiness nad prosperity in whatever part of the world you may choose to settle.

Signed on behalf of the school.

Mr. Clara Bravender, who has been ill with an attack of appendicitis, is well enough to be about again.

On Friday last as Mrs. J. H. Sherin, Miss Sherin and Miss Alice Sherin were returning from Peterborough they tried to pass a sleigh, but in doing so their cutter upset and the horse ran away, leaving them to get home the best way they could. Fortunately no one was hurt, and Mr. Madill came along shortly after the accident and assisted the ladies home, little shaken up but not much the worse for their exciting experience.

YOUNG'S POINT.

The Church Services—Some Personal Mention—News Nuggets.

The villagers were pleased to see Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore in our midst again. Last Tuesday evening we were favoured with a visit from him in which he treated his choir to a drive, and a sumptuous fowl supper partaken of at the Carleton House. Rev. Father Phelan and other invited guests were present, and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Rev. Father Phelan sang high mass at midnight on Christmas eve in Keene, and Rev. Father Nayl, of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, said mass in St. Mary's church here Christmas day assisted by Rev. Father Phelan. During the impressive and solemn services of the day the Christmas music, in keeping with the festive season, was well rendered by the members of the choir.

Rev. Father Phelan was remembered by his congregation on Christmas morning with a well-filled purse.

Last Sunday was the dedication anniversary of St. Aidan's, (English church,) here. Appropriate services for the occasion were held in the morning and evening, and a large number attended.

Miss Mary McAulley is at present spending a couple of weeks at her home in Trenton.

Mrs. Jake Reid, who has been dangerously ill, we are pleased to say is somewhat improved.

Mr. A. Hoolihan, of Buffalo, N.Y., spent the Christmas holidays visiting his home here.

Mrs. Richard Heard is spending a few days visiting with friends in Peterborough.

Captain Scollard after spending Christmas at his home, has returned back north again.

Miss Ellen Anglesey, of Peterborough, spent a couple of days last week here, the guest of her brother, Mr. Richard Anglesey.

Miss Gertie May Blewett spent a few days last week visiting friends in Peterborough.

Mr. Jas. Northey has received word that his daughter Hattie, and his son, James, who were injured in the railway disaster at Wanstead, and were badly bruised, are much improved and are expected home soon.

The Farmers' Institute meeting will be held here on January 6th, addresses will be delivered by the delegates sent by the department and other gentlemen. A musical programme will be run off during the evening.

At the annual school meeting the same trustees were re-elected.

DEPENDS ON POWERS

Solution of Venezuelan Difficulty in Their Hands.

SO SAYS CASTRO IN AN INTERVIEW

Opinion in Berlin, However, Seems to Indicate That a Continuance of the Blockade Will Be Necessary to Keep Venezuela Up to the Arbitration Mark—President Has Accepted the Reference.

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 2.—President Castro was interviewed yesterday by The Associated Press correspondent regarding the rumors that he had refused to accept the proposals of the powers to refer the Venezuelan issues to The Hague court. The President denied the rumors, and said: "If a settlement is not reached, it will be because a settlement forms no part of the plans of the allies, in this case the prolongation of the present situation would be disastrous for all concerned. The solution of the present difficulty depends more on the allied powers than on Venezuela."

Blockade to Continue.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—President Castro's reply to the powers, through Minister Bowen, is substantially an unqualified acceptance of their proposals to arbitrate any of the accompanying conditions. The Foreign Office here received his answer yesterday, and is satisfied with its spirit. A further interchange of views, preparatory to signing the protocol, will take place in Washington.

The only really important question to be settled is what shall be done with the blockade. A continuance of the blockade is relied upon to hasten the conclusion of the arbitration preliminaries, especially on the part of Venezuela.

Easily Reconcilable.

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 2.—The arbitration propositions of the foreign powers and the counter-propositions of Venezuela, exchanged through Minister Bowen Wednesday, are said by a high Venezuelan authority to be easily reconcilable.

The Note Delivered.

London, Jan. 2.—Mr. White, the U. S. Charge d'Affaires, delivered to the Foreign Office yesterday afternoon the note of Secretary Hay, announcing President Castro's acceptance of the proposal to have the Venezuelan claims arbitrated by the International Court at The Hague.

The Note at Rome.

Rome, Jan. 2.—Foreign Minister Prinetti yesterday afternoon received, through Ambassador Meyer, Secretary Hay's note communicating President Castro's proposition.

Movement of Warships.

La Guayra, Jan. 2.—The former Venezuelan gunboat Zumbadeo, now transformed to a British warship, arrived here at noon yesterday.

The Italian armored cruiser Carlo Alberto arrived here at 1 p.m. yesterday.

THE WATSON BROTHERS.

Arrest and Preliminary Examination of Two Men Charged With Extracting Money From Them by Torture.

Brantford, Jan. 2.—Alfred Hanley and Edward Raye, the two Ancaster butchers, who were arrested on Sunday last on the charge of entering the home of the Watsons, near Middleport, on Nov. 22, and extracting $355 from them by means of torture, received their first hearing before Justice of Peace Leitch in this city Tuesday afternoon.

Only one witness, James Watson, was examined. He told the same story of the robbery and outrage of Nov. 22, as at the coroner's inquest. He positively identified Hanley and Raye as the two men who had done the robbery. He said he recognized them by their build, clothing and voices. Witness knew both men well previous to that time, as, on several occasions, they had fat cattle pasturing on the Watson farm.

Watson's evidence was the only evidence taken, and closed the case for the prosecution. The defence had about 25 witnesses present, from Hamilton and Ancaster, but were not called, owing to Crown Attorney Wilkes being called away. The line of defence will be to prove an alibi. The case was adjourned, and the men were allowed to go on bail.

HOLIDAY AT THE MINES.

Meriden Schools Closed a Week Longer on Account of No Coal.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 2. — The miners of the Wyoming Valley region kept New Year's Day as a holiday. Nearly all the colliers were idle, and what few were working were shorthanded. The output of coal yesterday was only a few thousand tons.

No Coal, No Schools.

Meridan, Conn., Jan. 2.—On account of lack of coal, the schools of the city, which were to have re-opened next Monday after the holiday vacation, have been ordered closed for at least a week longer.

Lack of Fuel Stops Work.

Barrington, R. I., Jan. 2.—Brickyards here operated by the New England Steam Brick Company have been closed for lack of fuel, and four hundred men lose their employment temporarily.

Coal Dealers to Be Investigated.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Coal dealers will have to answer for the scarcity and high price of the fuel coal. One hundred and fifty jobbers and dealers have been notified to meet the aldermanic investigating committee this afternoon. Attorney-General Hamlin and the aldermanic investigators assert that the railroads practically have cleared their skirts. It is "up to" the dealer, they say. Information declaring that an arbitrary increase in the price of coal was decreed by a meeting of soft coal dealers this week was laid before the aldermen Wednesday, and this evidence of a combination to rule prices will be investigated.

Canadian Pacific Land Department Breaks the Record.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 2.—The New Year of 1901 was a banner year in the business transactions of the Canadian Pacific Land Department, but the year of 1902 was better by nearly $6,000,000.

The sales for the month of December totalled 577,382.61 acres for $1,683,289.45, as against 131,-151.16 acres for $403,261.78 in 1901. For the year of 1902 the sales were 2,420,000 acres for $8,-140,000, against 831,922 acres for $2,640,000 in 1901. The increase in acreage sold is therefore 1,589,000 acres.

GREETINGS BY ALL-RED.

Premier Barton Replies to Sir Sandford Fleming's Cable.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—In reply to Sir Sandford Fleming's cable of New Year's greetings by the Pacific cable Wednesday evening, the following message was yesterday received from Sir Edward Barton, Premier of the Australian Commonwealth:

"Sydney, N.S.W., Jan. 1, 1903. — Your New Year's greetings heartily reciprocated by Australian partners in Pacific cable. May it prove an eternal bond of friendship between the two great British federations.

"(Signed) Barton."

NOBODY IS EXEMPT.

A New Preparation Which Everyone Will Need Sooner or Later.

Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the commonest thing that they can do for it, is to take some one of the many so called purifiers, which, in many cases, are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help, and they will right themselves. Cathartics irritate the sensitive linings of the stomach and bowels, and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and excretion of the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system in condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two Tablets—give them needed help, and you will have no trouble.

It's a common sense medicine and a common sense treatment and it will cure every time; not only cure the disease but cure the cause. Goes about it in a perfectly sensible and scientific way.

We have testimonials enough to fill a book, but we don't publish many of them. However, Mrs. E. M. Faith, of Byrd's Creek, Wis., says: "I have taken all the Tablets I got of you and they have done their work well in my case, for I feel altogether like a different person. I do not doubt if I had not got them I should have been at rest by this time."

H. E. Willard, Onslow, Ia., says:—"Mr. White of Canton, was telling me of your Dyspepsia Tablets curing him of Dyspepsia from which he suffered for eight years. As I am a sufferer myself I wish you to send me a package by return mail."

Phil Brooks, Detroit, Mich., says: "Your Dyspepsia Cure has worked wonders in my case. I suffered for years from Dyspepsia, but am now entirely cured, and enjoy life as I never have before. I gladly recommend them."

It will cost fifty cents to find out just how much Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you. Try them—that's the best way to decide."

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Dr. Amos H. Wood and Miss Ethel Bradburn, of Town.

An interesting event took place on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradburn, Union street, when their daughter, Miss Ethel Vivian, became the wife of Mr. Amos H. Wood, D. D. S., of town. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., and the nuptial knot was tied in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Foster, whilst Miss Gertrude Bradburn, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, and Miss Meta Middlebrook, a cousin, performed the duties of flower girl. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Mr. W. C. Bradburn.

The bride was charmingly attired in white marievelour, with trimmings of white medallions over white taffeta, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. White silk organdie over blue taffeta composed the becoming gown worn by the bridesmaid, who carried pink carnations. Miss Gertrude Bradburn's dress was of white muslin de soie over yellow silk. The flower girl was prettily gowned in white silk organdie over India silk. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaid, a pearl crescent.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood left by the 5.10 C.P.R. for Toronto and Buffalo, and on their return will reside on Union street.

END OF THE YEAR WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. J. S. Elson and Miss J. G. Booth.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. James Booth, 39 Stewart street, on Tuesday night, when his niece, Miss Janet Geneva Booth, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. James Sylvester Elson.

The bride wore a very pretty dress of pale blue cashmere trimmed with cream satin and was assisted by her cousin, Miss Mary Booth, who looked very becoming in a cream silk waist and steel grey skirt. The groom was asisted by Mr. W. J. Rome. Rev. J. H. Hannah, of the Park street Baptist church, performed the ceremony. After the ceremony was performed the guests repaired to the dining room, where an excellent supper was partaken of. After spending a few days in town the happy couple will go to their future home in Uxbridge.

THE FUEL SITUATION.

A Local Dealer Talks on the all-Important Question.

The fairly cold weather of the past few weeks has had a rather drawing effect upon the coal supply of the town and coal at the present time is a rather scarce article to say the least.

In an interview with the Examiner yesterday a prominent coal merchant said that half the supply coming into Canada had been cut off. The State of Michigan and the greater part of New York State are entirely out of coal and until the United States is relieved coal will be very scarce in Canada.

Several of the largest independent mines are flooded and out of repair and only about 75 per cent. of the coal that was mined a year ago is being mined to-day, and with a shortage of 30 million tons staring the people of the United States in the face we are likely to see coal very scarce all winter.

Our informent has been in Buffalo every week for the past five weeks and every wholesale coal office he went into he met dealers from all over Ontario begging for coal at almost any price. Fifteen dollars a ton was paid in some cases by dealers and again other retailers could not secure coal at any price. Our informant further says the coal sheds of the coal merchants of the town are practically empty and that the encouragement for a supply is not any too bright.

THE DAY AT THE "Y."

Building was Visited by Many Young Men.

Mr. Horace Ayers was Made the Recipient of a Presentation—Other Notes.

The Y.M.C.A. made a good beginning yesterday for another successful year. The building was visited by many young men yesterday and not a few citizens and visitors from out of town—all of whom were pleased with their reception and all they saw.

In the morning many of the boys of the town including members and non-members were present and enjoyed a good romp in the gymnasium.

The programme in the gymnasium in the evening was the feature of the day and was witnessed by a crowded gallery.

The physical director, Mr. H. E. Ayers, is to be heartily congratulated on the manner in which the different exercises were presented, reflecting his ability as an instructor.

For the first time the Intermediates figured prominently in a public exhibition and acquitted themselves well in a wand drill, the various movements of which were given with graceful precision.

The Beavers and a picked Intermediate team then contested for supremacy in a basketball match in which the latter won on a score of 4 to 2.

Three squads of intermediates under the leadership of Gordan Miller, Alf. Hodgson and Alex. Gillespie, gave an exhibition on the horse, parallels and high bars, which was warmly applauded. The work of the leaders corps was favourably commented upon by all.

Before the class was dismissed Mr. G. Fitzgerald stepped forward and read the following address to the physical director, accompanied by a Bible, which was presented by Mr. Murray Miller on behalf of the senior intermediates:

Peterborough, Jan. 1, 1903.

Dear Horace, — We, the members of your Senior Intermediate Gymnasium Class, take this opportunity of expressing to you how much we appreciate your faithful and earnest endeavours among us.

We feel that we owe you a great debt of gratitude, which can never be repaid, for the painstaking way in which you have laboured to bring us to our present proficiency. Your cheerful manner, and helpful disposition, have done much to encourage us, and not only that, but you have sought to enable us to make the most of these bodies which God has given to us, so that we might be more helpful and useful to those with whom we meet.

At this period of the year, when we all are looking forward to brighter and better things, we join with you in putting forth a greater effort than ever before to make this the most successful year in our history.

We ask you to accept this Bible as a token of the esteem in which you are held by us, and trust that you may be richly blessed in your future work.

Signed on behalf of the Senior Intermediates,

MURRY MILLER,
J. W. TULLY,
JAS. DOWNING.

Mr. Ayers was completely surprised and replied in a neat and feeling speech.

Then came the event of the evening—the basketball match between the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A, Boys Club, champion of Canada, and the the Peterborough "Brownies", in which the renowned home team brought another championship to Peterborough, and gave the West Enders their first defeat in four years.

The game was one of the most exciting every played here and the score was 16 to 13.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

Mr. Edward A. Duncan, of Cobourg, and Miss Ethel Gertrude Brown, of Town.

A pretty New Year's wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon, at 1.30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. C. Brown, No. 162 Smith street, when his daughter, Miss Ethel Gertrude Brown, became the wife of Mr. Edward A. Duncan, of Cobourg.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. E. F. Torrance, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, in the presence of about 35 intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attended by Miss Annie Patterson, whilst the groom was supported by Mr. A. R. Roberts of Cobourg.

The newly married couple will reside in Cobourg.

THE SCHOOLS

will not open until Monday, Jan. 12th.

The Board of Health has ordered a thorough fumingation of the Public and High Schools of the town, and in order that the work may be satisfactorily accomplished, and with a view of stamping out the contagion so prevalent in town, the schools of the town will not re-open until Monday, January 12th.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Some Notes From the Village of Ashburnham.

There is considerable discussion going on in regard to the proposed union of Peterborough and Ashburnham. Many seem to think that such a union would be very desirable.

The candidates for municipal honours are making good use of their time in soliciting the support of the electors on Monday next. Great interest is being takin in the contest.

The village seems to be escaping pretty safely so far, considering the prevalence of disease at present, especially among the children.

An Old Veteran Coming.

Mr. T. J. Wilkie, the veteran association secretary of Canada, will be the speaker at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at four o'clock. Subject, "First Things." All men are invited.

NEW LAW FIRM.

Mr. F. D. Kerr now with Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson.

As will b enoticed in the advertisement colums of the Examiner, Mr. F. D. Kerr, who up until the 1st of January was a partner in the law firm of Messrs. O'Connell & Kerr, has entered into partnership in the law firm of Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson. The new legal firm will be known as Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson.

Mr. Kerr, the new member of the firm, has been practicing in town for about six years and is looked upon as on eof the rising young barristers. Mr. Peck has been practicing in Peterborough since 1881, and Mr. Dennistoun since 1888. Mr. Stevenson has not been engaged in the active practice of law for some years, but still continues his connection with the firm. His duties are entirely taken up with the office of managing director of the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

Mr. O'Connell will continue to practice in the offices formerly occupied by Messrs. O'Connell & Kerr.

DOUBLED

And we have still greater AMBITIONS and PLANS for the near future. We recognize, as everyone must, that the LARGER the volume of business, the LOWER the cost of selling; the LOWER the cost of selling, the SMALLER the profit necessary on each sale. Therefore, the LARGER we can get this business, the

CHEAPER

we can sell. That's GOOD LOGIC, isn't it? and it works out in PRACTICE JUST AS WELL. Now, that's our story in short.

THAT'S WHY

1—We have added our Second Store.
2—We have doubled our former space.
3—These extensive alterations are necessary.
4—This Seasonable Alteration Sale begins

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3rd.

See dodgers and future ads. for prices. This Sale includes goods in both stores.

A NEW HALL.

Court Langton, Canadian Order of Foresters, has new Quarters.

The new society hall in the Schneider Block, over the store formerly occupied by Messrs. P. Simons Co., on the east side of George street, has been completed. It is already in the possession of the hall trustees of Court Langton, Canadian Order of Foresters, who secured a lease of the premises and had it fitted up according to their own instructions. Mr. Schneider has succeeded in a very creditable manner in completing a handsome, well lighted, and thoroughly ventilated and conveniently arranged hall. The ceiling is high and is connected with the walls by a neat design of metallic arched panels extending all the way around the hall. The walls are covered with a rich shade of blue ingrain paper, finished with a rich dado. Two metallic centre pieces in the ceiling add to the general up-to-date effect. There are two convenient ante-rooms at the back of the hall, in one of which an improved lavatory is installed.

Mr. Thos. C. Irwin, contractor, has had the work in charge, and to his good judgment and workmanship the new hall is to be credited with much of its excellent appearance.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mr. Thomas Rawlings Passes Away at a Ripe old age.

Mr. Thomas Rawlings, a long-time resident of Peterborough, entered the new world with the New Year — passing away at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. H. C. Bacon, at 31 Wescott street, on Thursday, Jan. 1, 1903, aged 83 years.

The deceased gentleman was a native of England, and has been a resident of Peterborough for about 35 years. He was a moulding potter by trade, and was employed in this capacity at different times by Messrs. Brownscombe, Goodfellow and Allin.

Mr. Rawlings was a man of unusual intelligence, a great reader of books, and a man of moral and upright life. In religion he was of the English church, and in politics a staunch Liberal. He has been a widower for about forty years, and leaves behind him to mourn his loss, Mrs. H. C. Bacon and George Rawlings, of town, and Elizabeth Rawlings of Buffalo.

Funeral from the residence of Mr. Bacon, 31 Wescott street, on Saturday afternoon, January 3rd, to the Little Lake cemetery.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Watch Night Service was held on Wednesday Night.

A large number of the congregation and others, gathered in All Saints to watch the old year out and the new year in. The service consisted of two hymns, a portion of Evening Prayer, and an address on the word, "Therefore," as introducing several Resolutions found in the fourth chapter of Hebrews. Just before midnight the congregation knelt in prayer for the forgiveness of the failures of the past year, and for grace to help in the year just dawning, and then arose and sang the Te-Deum.

A Prosperous Insurance Company.

Convincing proof of the prosperity of the West during the past year is the progress of its leading financial institution. The Great-West Life announces that it has just closed the most successful year in its history, having secured applications for insurance exceeding Four Million Dollars. The premium income of the Company is now over Five Hundred Thousand Dollars per annum, and its interest receipts have been more than fifty per cent. greater than in the previous year. Heretofore its whole Western business has been handled from Winnipeg, but branches have now been established at Calgary and Vancouver, in order to facilitate the the rapidly increasing work of the Western Agents.

THE PETERBOROUGHS WON.

An Exciting Basketball Match at the Y. M. C. A.

The Toronto Team Defeated After a Hard Fought Game.

Perhaps no match has created so much interest in a long time as the basketball match between the Torontos and the Brownies of town.

Those who did not see this event can get no idea of the contest from whatever may be said of it. It was a game that had to be seen to be appreciated, the evidence of which was given in no small degree by the loyal supporters. The game started about 9.15 with the Brownies throwing in the north goal. The game had just fairly started when a foul by Peterborough gave the Torontos a chance to score a point which was neatly done by Watt. Within two minutes from this a double foul occurred, neither side scoring. The play resumed again and by a quick pass from Ferguson to Miller the first basket from field went to Peterborough which sent excitement to the highest. From this on the game was practically even, neither side being more than two points ahead till half time, whhich showed a score of 7—5 in fa r of Peterborough. The

The boys of both teams had a slight rest combined with some palatable orange juice which revived any vitality that might have been lost. The game had scarcely started again when by a series of short passes the Toronto boys notched a goal and placed them in the lead. Toronto fouled and Boucher scored, making a tie. The play now became faster as the time got shorter and each side scored alternately until near the finish when Boucher secured a basket after trying a foul shot. After another foul by Toronto, Peterborough scored, making the total 16—13, and time was called, giving the Peterborough Brownies the game and the Canadian Junior Championship. It can safely be said that while the feeling of excitement was at its highest the players were most friendly. The game was characteristic of the closest checking, with but little combination on either side, accounted for by the evenly matched players. The Toronto boys are, without exception, the best shots that have ever visited the association, and if left alone for a fraction of a second they were bound to score. It would be unfair to eulogize any one player, because it was team play and not individual play that won the game. However, it looked as if it would be a foul throwers' battle between Watt and Boucher; but honours here were even also.

At the conclusion of the game the local team banquetted the visitors, and spent a social time together.

The local team was as follows: — Forwards, Norman and Gordon Miller.

Centre, Graham Ferguson.

Defence, Arthur Boucher and R. Hall.

Lots of Good Cheer at Henry & Co's.

Now for the great feast day of the year! Do not let your New Year be blighted for want of good cheer. Welcome the coming guest right royally. If your custom is to have something good to drink, as well as something good to eat, in temperance and in moderation, leave your "requisitions" at Henry's. We have imported some very fine wines for the holidays, that will give zest to the meat. Also medicinal liquors for winter emergencies—sudden attacks of colds, chills, etc. A glass of Allen's cider is a nice drink. Get your New Year's groceries and fruits at Henry & Co's. All the good things which go to make up the holiday feast. Henry & Co.

HOCKEY.

The Belleville Intelligencer, in speaking of the Queen's game and the splendid work of the Belleville team says:

"There was a good attendance at the rink last night, the game being the first of the season, and people wanted to see how Belleville's intermediate team would show up in fast company. It may safely be said that the boys made a good impression, although the game last night was not by any means a brilliant one. It looked as though the locals had hardly got into their stride. The material is there, that is easy to be seen, but the boys have not yet learned what dependence they can place in each other, which is something that nothing but a few hard matches will teach them. However, they managed to win last night's game with a creditable score, although it must not be supposed that they had a cinch with the lads from Queen's."

Yesterday All Saint's hockey team went down to Campbellford to play a game with a junior team at that town, which turned out to be none other than the Trent Valley League seven. Nevertheless the game was fast and quite interesting. The teams lined up before Referee Kerr in the following order:

Campbellford.	All Saints.
	Goal.
E. Shaw	W. Thornton
	Point.
H. Townsend	E. Dormer, capt
	Cover Point.
W. Taft	R. Craig
	Rover.
T. Blute	S. Plummer
	Right Wing.
P. Shannon	W. Gross
	Left Wing.
O. Shea	G. Nicholls
	Centre.
H. Lowery, capt	P. Adamson

The game was called at 2.30 and from the start off All Saints were the aggressors, but lack of practice and weight told against them, and enabled Campbellford to win out by a score of 5—0. All Saints boys all speak in high praise of the hospitality of the Campbellford team, and acknowledge that their defeat was caused simply by running up against a superior aggregation. For All Saints, Thornton and Gross played a remarkably fast game.

The Port Hope Guide says:—The Ontarios had their first practice of the season last night on the covered rink. The ice was in splendid shape except for a little strip at the north end and this was not used by the boys. About twelve players, juniors and seniors, lined up and fast practice followed for about an hour. A very large number were present to watch the practice and the "wise ones" were highly pleased with the showing made.

CURLING.

There will be a meeting of the Peterborough curlers in the rink parlours this evening, to make arrangements for the entertainment of the Scottish curlers, who will visit Peterborough on Jan. 21st. The meeting is called for eight o'clock, and it is requested that the curlers attend.

The Charlotte street rink was well patronized yesterday, and the match between the president and the vice-president resulted in the president winning by 35 shots. The following is the score:

President.		Vice-President.

The Toronto Telegram says: — It is said that a wicked war will be waged between Lindsay and Peterborough as to who will have the honour of entertaining the Scots. Both teams have representatives on the committee in charge—Peterborough, Edwards, Lindsay, Flavelle—who are quite able to look after their interests. But—right here let it be said that the Scots should never be allowed to go back home without seeing Lindsay. That's where they teach curling in the schools, preach curling in the churches, and talk curling in the summer time. The club down there has 127 members, "every one a curler and a man," and they stand around the rink in the winter time waiting for "next" like a Saturday night crowd in the village barber shop. By all means lets the Scots go to Lindsay.

Riverdale Sunday School Makes Contribution.

Mr. Peter Campbell, treasurer of the Children's Aid Society of the County of Peterborough, has received the following letter:

Peterborough, Dec. 25th.

Peter Campbell, Esq.,
Treasurer Children's Aid Society.

Dear Sir, — Please accept this small donation of two dollars and fifty cents from the Riverdale Sunday School as an appreciation of the interest we feel in the charitable institution you represent.

Yours truly,
A. W. MABEE,
Supt. Riverdale S. S.

The action of the Riverdale Sunday school, in contributing to the funds of the society, in the above mentioned manner, is much to be commended, and its example might well be followed by Sunday schools throughout the county.

BLAIRTON.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Christmas was enjoyed here with greater becoming merriment, exchanging of gifts, and with more substantial tokens accompanying "The compliments of the season to you," than for many years in the past.

Our annual Christmas tea meeting, which has been held in the C.M. Church here for 33 years without a break—save one—was as usual a great success. In the absence of invited speakers which could not be avoided, the musical parts and the grand plays so admirably given and performed by the choir and local talent, and which would have been acceptable in the metropolis, filled the whole bill to the pleasing astonishment of a crowded house.

Some instances of barefaced foolishness, with teams heavily-laden venturing on unsafe ice, have as usual occurred.

Belmont council for 1903 is as follows:

John Seeney and James Burgess resigned in favour of Jas. Covert and H. Chase, who, together with Mr. Scott and Mr. McCutcheon, two old members, form the council.

MR. BLAKE TO MR. FOY

Hon. G. W. Ross Discusses the Letter at Owen Sound.

TURNS SHARP SWORD ON EPISTLE

Why Was It Not Written to Mr. Whitney?—Mr. Foy and Mr. Blake, in Family, in Connections, in Record in Antithesis—A Magnificent Liberal Demonstration in Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Jan. 2. — When the Liberals of North Grey enter a contest which invites comparisons, they so far surpass their opponents as to make it a contrast. Thus it happened that they last night, as they had done in the campaign of May last, far outshone their Conservative friends in their enthusiastic welcase, as then, the Hon. Geo. W. Ross. Last night's gathering in the Town Hall was the pivotal meeting of the very warm bye-election campaign which is now being waged, and if any conclusion can be drawn from meetings it shows a wave of sentiment in favor of Mr. Mackay and the Ross Government which will roll the Liberal candidate high on the bank of victory, and shows the uselessness of the campaign of slander and misrepresentation which is being indulged in alike by the Conservative leaders and their side-line supporters.

The Premier's Effort.

Premier Ross was in his usual excellent mood, and starting in with gentle raillery, as he so often does, he gradually became serious, and for half an hour he turned the sharp sword of his intellect upon the letter recently issued by Mr. S. H. Blake. He showed that gentleman's past record and connections, the position of his family and that of Mr. Foy being in antithesis, and how he joined the party of such an undesirable past record, which he had himself condemned for half a century. Here is an effective paragraph or two of the manner the Premier dealt with the matter:

Mr. Blake's Letter.

"Now there is something very peculiar about the letter," said Mr. Ross. "In the first place, you will notice that Mr. Whitney's name is not mentioned in that letter from beginning to end. (Applause.) He says: 'My dear Foy, I am glad you came to see me yesterday. It affords me pleasure to hear you speak of the great need there is for most strenuously endeavoring to drive out corruption in connection with our elections, our election trials and the Government of our country generally. I rejoice to hear what you are hopefully looking forward to accomplish in this way. I will be only too glad to aid you in any manner in my power, although it may be in a small way, to the accomplisment of this end,' and closing by saying: 'I believe there are many to-day who are looking to you to aid in exorcising from our midst this demon of corruption, which is poisoning our national life.'

"Mr. Whitney is entirely overlooked. Mr. Blake has no confidence that Whitney would do thus and so? Why did not he write the letter to the leader of the Opposition? Does not that by implication condemn Mr. Whitney? Does it not show on the face of it that he has no confidence in Mr. Whitney? Why did not he address the letter to Mr. Whitney? The reason is plain. He says 'there are men sitting in high places who supplied the money to aid in the election,' and the election courts have evolved the fact that from someone in Toronto checks went out to four constituencies that we know of, $700 to Mr. Boyd to aid in carrying the elections against the Government. He would not write the letter to Mr. Whitney because he comes under the calendar of condemnation."

Mr. Whitney's Visit.

The Premier then dealt with Mr. Whitney's recent Owen Sound and Meaford speeches, and by apt quotations from public and official records proved the whole story of corruption to have been grossly exaggerated. Toward the close of his address Mr. Ross dealt with several features of his policy, appealed for encouragement in building up Ontario, and announced that the recent vote on the liquor act called for some action, but what that would be he could not say until he met his colleagues in Legislature.

Hon. F. R. Latchford and Mr. Mackay also contributed short, bright speeches. The hall was crowded to suffocation, even the platform being a mass of people, and hundreds stood in the aisles. Over the stage hung two mottoes, "Remember Ross" and "Mackay's Our Man." Hon. Mr. Ross will speak at Meaford to-day.

DID YOU SWEAR OFF?

Eating Rich Dinners or did you Decide to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Did you swear off? Did the dark brown taste in your mouth, the feeling of utter discomfort, the weariness that knows no rest, the heavy headache, and that sickening at the sight of food tempt you to forswear New Year's dinners and New Year's celebrations forever?

If you did no one needs to be told you have not used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are made just for such cases as yours. They are made to help the overworked stomach. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food almost without assistance from the stomach, and consequently the stomach gets that rest it needs.

You can rest assured that if there were no over worked stomachs there would be no Indigestion nor Dyspepsia. Give the stomach a rest. Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and the pains and aches will depart, the "blues" will go with them, and you will start the New Year feeling as if life was worth living and you could prove it.

One or two of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after each meal is an insurance policy against discomfort.

CHARGED WITH HUSBAND'S MURDER

Wife and Her Mother Locked Up in South Onondaga, N.Y.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 2. — Mrs. Maude Kiehl and her mother, Mrs. Addie Fenner, were arrested at their home in South Onondaga yesterday on a warrant charging them with the murder of William Kiehl, husband of Mrs. Kiehl. They were taken to Cortland. This is the outcome of the inquest, which was concluded at Cortland Wednesday, at which evidence was produced tending to show that William Kiehl died of arsenical poisoning. This is the second time Mrs. Kiehl, the 18-year-old country girl, has been arrested. Several months ago she was accused of poisoning Adam Kiehl, her brother-in-law, the theory of the prosecution being that she killed him to prevent his marriage to another woman. The examination caused widespread interest owing to the youth and beauty of the widow. She was freed.

THE ARGUMENT FINISHED.

Dr. Routledge Frequently Bought Drinks, Hence It Was Argued There Was No Corruption—Judgment Reserved.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—Argument in the East Middlesex election protest was continued yesterday at Osgoode Hall. A. B. Aylesworth, for the Liberals, dealt in his argument with the charges of treating against Dr. Routledge. He advanced the general habit of that gentleman of treating as an answer to the charge. Dr. Routledge had been for years in the habit of treating about the country. In his examination he had admitted that he might have spent from $2 to $4 a day. But he said that when the campaign commenced he had treated less than usual, because he considered people might think he was doing it for a purpose, but he was not doing it for any purposes of the election.

At the afternoon session of the court Walter Cassels, K.C., for the Conservatives, replied to Mr. Aylesworth, and the whole argument in the case was finally concluded.

Judgment was reserved.

PARTICULARS IN 800 CASE FILED.

Every Form of Corruption Alleged Against Andrew Miscampbell.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—The particulars of the petition against Andrew Miscampbell, the Conservative member-elect for Sault Ste. Marie, were filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon. Altogether ninety-nine charges are made against the return of that gentleman. Bribery, treating, hiring of rigs, intimidation and, in fact, all the forms of electoral corruption are alleged to have been committed by the candidate or his agents. There are in the list twelve personal charges of bribery, etc., made against Mr. Miscampbell. The case will be heard on January 13th.

Cause of Splitting Headaches.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache.

Ferrozone is Nature's own remedy for headaches; it is a blood strengthener and purifier of uncommon merit, a lasting potent tonic and the greatest invigorant and health maker known. Headaches never bother people who take Ferrozone after each meal. Buy a box from your druggist for 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

NERVOUS HEADACHE.

The Cause of Much Suffering to Women is Permanently Cured When the System is Built up by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headache powders relieve headaches, but they have never cured them, and they are not intended to make a lasting cure. Besides the risk run in using a drug that is strong enough to instantly stop pain, you may be sure that the reaction on the nervous system is most trying and injurious.

Mrs. Clancy, whose letter is quoted below, was subject to headaches for nineteen years, and in spite of all the headache remedies she used she could get no lasting benefit. She suffered so severely when the attacks would come on that she could not go about the house. She has restored her nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and her headaches have entirely disappeared.

Mrs. Jas. Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I have used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found them an excellent medicine. I was troubled more or less for nineteen years with severe headaches, which made me useless as far as accomplishing my work was concerned.

"The Nerve Food seemed to build me up generally, and so made a thorough cure of my old trouble. I would not think of being without Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house and would strongly recommend anyone suffering as I did to give it a trial. It succeeded in my case after a great many remedies had failed."

To the thousands of women who are victims of nervous headaches this letter should prove of inestimable value. If they will but follow the advice of Mrs. Clancy they can be certain of great and lasting benefit.

BAD BLOOD.

Miss Mary M. Allen, Acton, Ont., says.—For nearly a year I was troubled with pimples on my face. I tried several remedies but none of them seemed to help me until I got Burdock Blood Bitters. I think it is a great remedy for bad blood, and take pleasure in letting you know that it did me more good than all the other remedies I tried.

B.B.B. Cures Boils, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, and all Skin Diseases.

DYSPEPSIA.

Miss Alberta Murray, Campbellton, N.B., says.—For five years I was troubled with Dyspepsia, and whenever I ate anything I suffered untold agony. My parents got numerous medicines for me but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised and something seemed to say, "get a bottle." I did so, and to my surprise before I finished the bottle I found relief. I took all told 3 bottles, and have had no return of the trouble.

HEADACHES.

Mrs. Peter Bondreau, Glen Levit, N.B., says.—It is with pleasure and gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful power of Burdock Blood Bitters. My daughter was ailing for three years with headache and run down system. I tried several kinds of medicine but to no effect. At last a friend urged me to try B.B.B. for her, and after using two bottles she was like another being. I can never praise it enough. It is a God-send to all.

CONSTIPATION.

Miss Hollie Hoggan, Maringouin, N.B., says.—I was troubled with constipation for a year and tried different remedies but they did me no good. I then took Burdock Blood Bitters and it cured me so that I have not been troubled since.

Mr. Wharton Beckley, Morrisburg, Ont., says.—I took three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters for constipation and found a complete cure effected.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

FLAGS ON THE CAPITOL.

What It Means When They Are Flying at Half Mast.

The flying of flags over the capitol at half mast is regulated by the strictest rules. Whenever these flags are seen floating half way down the mast it is a sure indication that a vice president, senator or representative is lying dead or that the action is taken in response to a presidential proclamation ordering the flags on public buildings at half mast in respect to the memory of some prominent official of the government who has passed away.

When the sergeant at arms of the senate or house of representatives learns of the death of a member of either of those bodies, he at once orders that the flags over the senate chamber or hall of representatives be half masted. This is often done before the houses of congress themselves are officially notified of the death. A good deal of discretion is exercised in the manner of placing the news of a death of this kind officially before the senate or the house. Upon such an announcement it is customary for the houses to adjourn in respect to the deceased senator or representative, and in order that the current business may not be stopped early in the day the announcement is generally made just before the houses are ready to conclude their day's work.

Officers of the senate and house when they fly the flags at half mast in response to a proclamation by the president regard their action as one of courtesy, as they do not recognise the power of the president to order congress to do anything except to assemble in extraordinary session. They have always responded to the requests of such proclamations. It would be a nice question, if one could imagine that it could ever be raised, to know to what extent the president's authority would allow him to order flags at half mast on the capitol. While his authority would not extend over the employees of the senate and house, yet the capitol itself for many years was in fact controlled exclusively by him so far as the care of the building is concerned, and the superintendent of the building is today appointed by him without confirmatory action on the part of the senate.

As a matter of fact, the capitol has for years been under the direct control of the committees on appropriations of the two houses of congress, but that control has been accorded them by the failure of the president to give any orders to the architect or more lately to the superintendent of the capitol. If he should order that official to fly flags over the capitol at half mast and the order should be disobeyed, he would have power to dismiss him and appoint some one else in his place without the concurrence of either branch of congress, except so far as the appropriation for the official's salary would be involved. These are practically moot questions, but they occasionally form interesting subjects for fireside talks when flags are half masted in response to presidential proclamations.

Thumb Nail Pictures.

In collections, centuries old, to be seen in both China and Japan are specimens of the most remarkable drawings in the world, pictures of all kinds drawn with the thumb nail. The nails of the thumbs on the left hands of the artists of these are allowed to grow to an enormous length, sometimes to a foot or eighteen inches, and are then pared down to a pen shaped point. Dipping this oddly constructed pen in beautiful vermilion or sky blue ink, the only kinds of ink used in these sacred thumb nail drawings, the artist gracefully outlines his work.

Occasionally the bold touches from the studio of a master in this department of "high art" are life size and are sketched by a few sweeps of the artist's arm. Like other pictures and sketches of the orient, these sacred thumb nail pictures are mounted and rolled up like scrolls.

Some Words.

According to the late Richard A. Proctor, says the London Chronicle, the phrase "I guess," to English ears so ridiculous, is really identical with the old expression, "I wis," meaning "I know." The word "guess" has changed its meaning entirely in England, but has partly preserved it in America, where of course the native says "I guess" when he is more or less in a state of certainty. There are many other examples of words that have played fast and loose with "g" and "w," such as "guardian" and "warden," "guard" and "ward," "guichet" and "wicket."

A Conscience Jar.

"Did you ever stop to think, my love," said Mr. Micawber, gazing at his plate of lobster salad, "that the things we love most in this life are the very things that never agree with us?"

"Will you be so kind, Micawber," said Mrs. Micawber, straightening up, "as to tell me whether you are speaking of the salad or of me, sir?"

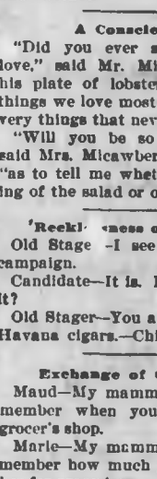
PATRIOTISM

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia.



The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier, and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"After I received the advice which you gave me in regard to my treatment," writes Geo. Dorner, Esq., of 1915 Pulaski Street, Baltimore, Maryland, "I used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' according to directions. After using four bottles I considered myself cured, as I have not felt any symptoms since. Had tried almost all remedies that I heard of that were good for dyspepsia, but without relief. Finally, I became discouraged, and wrote to you for advice, with the above result."

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEURALGIA.

If a person has neuralgia in their system this is the season when it will be felt. It is an ailment that may spring from a variety of sources. Anæmia or any depressed state of the bodily functions are frequent causes. The exhaustion resulting from rheumatism also makes it easy for neuralgia to get a foothold.

Any exposure to cold or dampness quickly causes an attack of the painful ailment and in some cases it will hang on almost continually during the winter months.

The medical world has for years recognized cod liver oil as being of great value in fortifying the body against neuralgia and against all conditions of bodily depression. It is a powerful agent for good in giving new life to the worn out nerve centers and building up the weakened tissues which are responsible for the ailment.

In Scott's Emulsion the pure cod liver oil is combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda, the latter contributing strength to the blood and bones.

As the principal mission of Scott's Emulsion is to give healthy, solid flesh, active tissue, pure blood and rich bone marrow it will be readily seen why Scott's Emulsion is so effective in driving out the causes of neuralgia.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.

A German Hotel Keeper's Opinions on Hotheaded Peoples.

"I think that the Americans are altogether too quick to pick a quarrel," said a German hotel keeper in Harlem who had just had a petty tussle in putting out an unwelcome customer.

"They are not to be compared with the French," said an American lawyer who happened to drop in. "Why, you know about those French apprentices, how they are always ready to fight and often lose their lives over a few words."

"I've heard about these apprentices," said the German. "We have them in our country. They roam around the country. But what of that?"

"Yes," was the answer. "A party of them, with a leader and representing some craft, will, for instance, meet another party of apprentices. They are organized into different societies, each intensely jealous of the other, and if two such bands are different societies there is a fight in an instant. First the leaders come to blows, and then the melee becomes general. They fight with fists and sticks until the road is littered with the wounded and sometimes the dead."

The German, not to be outdone by the French, said before he had thought twice: "That's nothing. Why, our students in the universities have fights. They belong to different societies and fight with sabers. Because of some little insult often one will have his head fairly cut open."

"And yet you complain about the Americans!" said the lawyer as he laughed to see how the German had stepped into his own trap.

A True Friend.

It takes a great soul to be a true friend—a large, catholic, steadfast and loving spirit. One must forgive much, forget much, forbear much. It costs to be a friend or to have a friend. There is nothing else in life except motherhood that costs so much. It not only costs time, affection, strength, patience, love—sometimes a man must even lay down his life for his friends. There is no true friendship without self abnegation, self sacrifice.

Born With Them.

"Mamma," said the little girl, her eyes wide with excitement, "I do believe the minister told a story!"

"Why, the idea!" said her mother. "You don't know what you are saying."

"But I do, mamma: I heard papa ask him how long he had worn whiskers, and he said he had worn them all his life."

A Synonym.

"What? Fifty cents a box for those pills!" cried the customer. "Why, it's robbery."

"I wouldn't say that," returned the druggist coolly.

"No?"

"No. Since pills are under discussion, I'd try to be humorous and call it 'pillage.'"

Visits, but Doesn't Put Up There.

"My boy Josh writes me that he is stoppin' at the best hotels," remarked Mrs. Cortotossel.

"Is he a commercial traveler?"

"No. He's drivin' a transfer wagon."

When Dame Fortune goes calling, she utterly disregards "at home" days.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS.

Immigrants For America Are Looked Upon as Cargo.

One of the biggest liners sailing out of France, with 900 steerage passengers aboard, was selected for observing the manner of handling steerage passengers bound for America.

A firm conclusion reached after the experience of that trip is that an immigrant of this class has to put up with much unnecessarily unpleasant treatment—first, simply because he is an immigrant and therefore in judgment meriting it, and, secondly, because, being what he is, he has not yet learned to protect himself. The picture conjured up by the term "immigrant" in the minds of those who have their care en route is not at all the color of the vision that arises before us with the word. Here in America we have a notion of a band of earnest and, it may be, if we are uncharitable, worn and unwashed men and women with families, though the family and the washing are really outside for the moment, hurrying from hard conditions of life—scant, underpaid labor, ignorance, oppression, misrule—pressing on to what they must conceive to be a bright land of promise or they would not be rushing here; to a glorious young country, where all men are free and equal and all that sort of thing. But the man who has to see that these immigrants are given food and bunk and that they do not fall sick below has no such fancies. His sympathy, he will tell you, is not for the immigrants, but for the country that is to get them.

Those in charge of the immigrant from southern Europe will tell you that he is not a desirable creature. They have handled many, many thousands of his kind, and they should know something of him now. The company transports him, it is true, but as to that, he is freight, freight of good profit. The company would take freight to the highest degree distasteful if so be the rates were paid. Indeed, yes, it is a business. There is a large profit in the immigrant—oh, yes—but as a fellow passenger he is—oh, well, repulsive, repugnant or whatever you say in your language.—James B. Connolly in Scribner's.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. To Clean Wall Paper.

It is said on good authority that no wall paper man can clean a wall paper more thoroughly or satisfactorily than you can do it yourself with a breadcrumb dough. Mix the crumbs with half a cupful of gasoline added to a quart of water, roll into a ball and rub the paper clean with it. Never, of course, use gasoline where there is a flame of any kind, and when one part of the dough ball is dirty turn it inside and begin again with the clean part. The cleaning of the pictures in the houses of parliament in Loudon has all been done by means of a cloud of breadcrumbs discharged through a tube by compressed air. The crumbs have been found to be the only process which will remove the dirt and soot without injury to the pictures. Artists erase incorrect work with a bit of bread rolled into a ball in preference to an eraser of any other kind.

Ox Gall For Carpets.

Although there may be many new liquids for freshening and brightening carpets, nothing will do better work than ox gall. Use one gill to a gallon of cold, soft water, stirring the ox gall into the water with a stick. With a soft brush rub the carpet, making a white lather. Two persons should do this work, one following the other and washing the lather off with clear water. The water should be changed often, and then the carpet should be rubbed with clean cloths until dry.

New York, Dec. 31. — Early prices showed evidence of heavy buying orders by various banking interests, believed to be due to confidence felt in the future. Ills. Cent., U.P., Man., G. W. scored good advances, the latter being one of the stocks we suggested to you for investment. Wasserman Bros. took a moderate amount of Erie, although not bidding for it as freely as the day previous. The market held exceedingly strong considering the advances that have already occurred, and a sharp reaction would only be natural. There is no doubt that some of the recent buying has been by actual investors who believe in higher prices in the near future. Stocks are very closely held, and it appears hard to accumulate any quantity of the standard issues without advancing prices. At the same time would not advise making heavy committments at the moment, as considerable of the present advance has been due to the operations of the pools, which will soon begin to realize on their holdings as the general public begins to come into the market extensively. The close was a fractional recession from the top prices of the day, and looks as if the upward movement would be resumed the coming year.

SANITARY CONDITIONS OF THE TOWN.

A Pertinent Letter on a Pertinent Subject.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—It has been very unfortunate for the town that we have not had a few more of the individuals whom the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Bingham, terms "hot-headed and hysterical," and that they had not become heated a little sooner, for if our town was in that sanitary condition that our health officer appears to think it is, why all this fever and diphtheria?

The fact of the matter is, our town is not in a satisfactory sanitary condition, nor is our sewerage system what it should be. No house can be said to be in a sanitary condition when the cellar has water in it a portion of the year, and damp at all times—so damp, that the carpets mildew on the floor, and the house is filled with musty odours. Our sewerage system in a great many places is not sufficiently deep to drain the cellars, particularly in those portions of the town where cellar drainage is most needed, but our present chairman of the Board of Works (whose only ambition seems to be chairman), and like the little boy will not play if he is not, will tell you that the system is not intended for cellar drainage. Yet, Mr. Allan McDougall says in his report that it may be used for this purpose, but gives due warning that it should be done in a proper and sanitary manner.

I would ask this father of our sewerage system if it was not intended for cellar drainage then how are those cellars which require drainage to be drained? The cellars in a number of cases have been more effective in draining the sewer than the sewer has been in draining the cellars.

Unsanitary conditions around the houses is the cause of the sickness. Many unsanitary connections have been made with the sewers. To be able to handle the pick and shovel is the only qualification required to make connection to the sewers, and many of them have been made in a criminally unsanitary manner—made in such a manner that sewer gas escapes into windows, etc., overflows from cisterns connected without being trapped directly with the sewer cesspools built within three or four feet of cellar walls.

Another fruitful source of disease is the common privy pit. Many of them are too close to wells, and built so large that they will contain a carload of deposits. One I know of is 6 feet square and 12 or 14 feet deep. A young lady living in an adjoining house drank of a near-by well and died from typhoid. The conditions are the same yet.

UNSANITARY PLUMBING.

There is a great amount of unsanitary plumbing in existence. (If it can be called plumbing.) I think tinkerism would be a more suitable name. From the manner in which the work is done, without plan or system, or a definite thing to figure on, the plumbing is made to suit the price, and not the price the plumbing, and frequently the man who has no knowledge or conscience in regard to the work to be done, gets the work. Bad plumbing is dear at any price, and is more likely to cost the possessor of it more financially and from a health consideration point of view than that which is done in a proper manner.

REASONS FOR THE PRESENT EPIDEMIC.

Many unsanitary conditions exist around our houses and in close proximity to them. The ground has been suddenly frozen at the surface, making it practically air tight, and confined all the odours and unsanitary conditions beneath its surface. Fires have been lighted in our houses and they have become flues for all that may be good or bad immediately surrounding our residences, and the children being more easily affected by these evil conditions have suffered, and are are likely to continue to suffer, until such times as the general surroundings are put in that condition they should be in.

SANITARY INSPECTION.

The sanitay inspection, as now in existence, is not what it should be. It is only skin-deep, and done by men who cannot be expected to have that knowledge of sanitary matters that a proper inspector should have. Much money is spent by our citizens in making unsanitary conditions through ignorance on their own part, and of those employed to do the work, while a little guidance and advice would save them both money and health.

ASHBURNHAM SIDEWALKS.

The Difference Between Permanent and Plank.

To the Editor of the Examiner

Sir,—Please allow me space in the columns of your paper to place before the ratepayers of the village a question concerning the cost and construction of sidewalks, which article some of our officials and ratepayers refused to hear on the day of nomination.

I must say the responsibility for the existing condition of our walks has been very properly placed. The property owners are, to the greatest extent, responsible for the bad condition of our sidewalks. The fact is that property owners of this village do not, as compared with other places, contribute sufficiently to the revenue to keep the several municipal services up to the standard of a thriving village as the one we have the pleasure of living in.

The fact is that in nearly all the large cities, the cost of sidewalks, whether plank or other material, is paid to a great extent by the property owners, while in this place the expense of laying plank walks is borne altogether by the corporation, the cost being taken from current revenue.

The following is a table showing the approximate cost in Toronto of concrete and plank walks varying in width from four to eight feet:—

	Width in feet.	Frontage per foot.	No. of Ann'l Payments.	Frontage Cost per ft. per annum
Concrete, light	...8	$1.36	10	16.7
" "	...6	1.00	10	12.3
" "	...5	.85	10	10.4
" "	...4	.67	10	8.2
Plank	...8	.52	3	13.7
"	...6	.39	3	14.
"	...5	.35	3	12.8
"	...4	.26	3	9.3

After carefully estimating the cost of plank walks at the present prices of material, I find that the plank walks cost six cents per square foot, while concrete can be laid down at eleven cents per square foot.

As one is a permanent walk, the other has to be replaced every eight or ten years, judge for yourselves which is the cheapest.

In the annual report of the City Engineer of Toronto, he says: "To compare the lifetime of concrete with that of plank sidewalks, the former is much cheaper. As I have carefully inquired, from competent workmen, concerning the cost of concrete walks, I find that Class B can be laid down for eleven cents per square foot. I trust that within two or three years the construction of plank walks will be entirely discontinued."

While it appears to be generally agreed, even in this village, that plank must give way to some material of a more permanent nature and that before many years the antiquated plank sidewalks will be entirely done away with.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space allowed me to place this article before the ratepayers of the village, which article some did not want to hear from the platform on the day of nomination,

Yours truly,
A. McCARTY.

Ashburnham, Dec. 30th, 1902.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

The council of the township of North Monaghan met on December 27th in the Review office, in Peterborough.

All the members were present, the Reeve presiding.

The following accounts were passed and ordered to be paid: Wills & Good, wood for Close family, $4.50; D. Trew, clearing ditch at Springville, 50 c.; G. H. May, rent of No. 2 school house for Liquor Act vote, $4; Peter Hamilton Co., repairs to grader, $8.15; A. H. Stratton & Co., shades for town hall windows, $11.80;; Thos. Williams, sanitary inspection for 1902, $5.

Moved by Messrs. May and Smith, that the taxes of Mrs. Wm. Close amounting to $3.09, be remitted, and that the collector is hereby allowed a rebate of that amount.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Smith and Dobbin, that the collector's returns showing all the taxes for 1902 paid in and certified to by the township treasurer, be hereby accepted, and that an order be issued for the sum of $48 salary and allowance of collector for 1902. Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and May orders be issued for the amounts of school moneys due each section as per requisition.—Carried.

Council then adjourned sine die.

FOR ALDERMEN.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—As I have once more been nominated for the position of Alderman for the Town, I take this opportunity of stating that I am in the field again as a candidate for 1903. My aim in the past has been to lean towards the most careful economy in the management of our municipal affairs. At the same time, if elected, I will always give my support to such measures as are calculated to build up and maintain the prosperity of our live and growing town.

Your Obedient Servant,
JOS. BATTEN.

TO THE ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—A large number of the citizens of the Town of Peterborough having requested me to be a candidate at the forthcoming elections for Aldermen, I have decided to comply with their request.

I most respectfully ask your support and I assure you that if I should be elected my time and attention will be unreservedly placed at the disposal of the town, and I will endeavour, to the best of my ability, to further its interests in every respect.

Wishing you a Happy New Year, I am,
Respectfully yours,
D. O'CONNELL.

TO THE ELECTORS

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Having again been favoured with the nomination for Alderman for the Town of Peterborough, I have consented to become a candidate. I think I can, with confidence, look to you for a further continuance of your kind support. My record in the Council for the past three years is before you. Should you do me the honour of electing me for another term, I will continue to aim at the general welfare and progress of the municipality as a whole. With thanks for your confidence in the past, I remain

Yours truly,
R. OLINKSCALE.

FOR ALDERMAN.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—At the request of many ratepayers largely interested in the welfare of the town, I have accepted the nomination for Alderman for 1903.

Should you again elect me to assist in the management of our municipal affairs, I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the Council. I believe in a progressive policy, and, for that reason, a liberal policy with respect to encouraging live industries to locate in our midst, without any sacrifice of the interests of the ratepayers. As my individual interests are all centred in the Town of Peterborough, it follows that whatever is for the welfare of the ratepayers, generally, will be my interest to assist. Being strongly opposed to the practice of canvassing for votes, I ask the ratepayers to accord me their voluntary support at the polls.

Respectfully yours,
J. J. TURNER.

Peterborough, Dec. 31, 1902.

ASHBURNHAM REEVESHIP.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Having been nominated as a candidate for the Reeveship of the Village of Ashburnham, I have decided to accept the same.

While I shall be pleased to have the support of the electors — freely and voluntarily bestowed — I wish to have it understood that I am opposed to personal canvassing, preferring to leave my candidature in the hands of the electors, without solicitation or promise.

If you think that my ability to serve you justifies you in according me your conscientious support, I shall, if elected, endeavour to justify your confidence by a faithful, economical and business-like management of our corporation affairs.

Wishing all the electors — whether they vote for me or not — and their families, a very happy New Year, I remain,

Yours truly,
GEORGE STEVENS.

Ashburnham, Dec. 29, 1902.

TO THE ELECTORS
—OF THE—
Village of Ashburnham

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been repeatedly urged to stand for Councillor for the Village for 1903, I have accepted the nomination tendered me on Monday last.

I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and support. You may rest assured that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure the very best service to the municipality at as little cost as is consistent with good work.

Among other things, I will favour the construction of granolithic walks on the principal streets of the Village, payment to be extended over a term of years, on the basis of a frontage tax.

Your Obedient Servant,
ALLAN McCARTHY.

Ashburnham, Dec. 31st, 1902.

SOUTH OXFORD APPEAL.

Court of Appeal Must Decide What Evidence Will Be Received at the Appeal Trial.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—It remains with the Court of Appeal what evidence is to be received at the South Oxford election appeal. Judges Street and Britton on Friday agreed that judges who have presided at an election trial have no jurisdiction to interfere in the appeal, or to say what evidence can or cannot be received by the Appellate Court.

The Liberals have appealed on two charges, upon which these two judges disagreed. They are that Donald Sutherland gave a hostler $1, with corrupt intent, and that an agent of Sutherland gave $2 to an elector for his vote.

In his judgment on Friday, Judge Street said: "No machinery has been provided either by the act or rules for the settlement of a case upon an election appeal. The result therefore appears to be that either party is entitled to treat the whole of the evidence as being before the Court of Appeal so far as it bears upon the subject matter of the appeal, and either party may ask the Court of Appeal to look at any part of the evidence taken at the trial of the petition which he may consider as relevant to the appeal."

Judge Britton in another judgment says: "I agree that no machinery has been given either by the act or rules for the settlement of a case upon an election appeal. That being the case, the trial judges, after having given their decision and made their report, have no jurisdiction to act further, and they cannot give any direction as to what part of the evidence given at the trial shall be submitted to the Court of Appeal."

Fourth Annual January White Goods Sale.

COMMENCING MONDAY, JANUARY FIFTH.

A bountiful gathering of White Goods of every description for this "greater growing" annual event—Sutcliffe's White Goods Sale. Never have we gathered so lavishly. Never have we had the opportunity to gather so bountifully. Not unsought for we assure you, were these numerous and big ranges, but a keen search after the best qualities and rare values, coupled with the manufacturer's knowledge of the big buying capacity of our own Syndicate Stores, have caused us to group under our roof the genuinely good lines which we will have to offer during our January White Goods Sale.

The first January we were in Peterborough we inaugurated what was then unknown to Peterborough—a January White Goods Sale. It was held on the ground floor. By the encouragement we received, we went into it the next season on a larger scale; and the second January we occupied much more room on the floor above, when a more liberal trade was given us.

The Third January, owing to the increased preparations, we were compelled to tear down partitions for that month (January), and elevate our workrooms to the third floor. The pronounced success of this, our third sale, gives us confidence to venture still more boldly into this.

Our Fourth January White Sale, when partitions have had to again come down, and temporary quarters found on the ground floor for our workrooms, fitting rooms, etc., and our Mantle and Millinery Depts. condensed in order to display

Over Thirty-one Hundred Garments of Whitewear.
Almost One Hundred and Ten Pieces of White Muslins.
Besides, White Cottons, Embroideries, Lace Handkerchiefs, Table Linens, Curtains, Curtain Ends, Etc.

Remember every Garment of the 3100 referred to, and every piece of the 110 pieces of White Muslins is new—just introduced to Peterborough within the past ten days.

The values our January White Goods Sale will offer cannot but command the attention of every wise woman.

Owing to the exceedingly large assortment of styles in Whitewear, and the detail work in getting list of descriptions, we are unable to give prices of same, as we expected in this issue. See Monday's paper for Whitewear list, or visit personally the Sale Monday.

MAY BE HOLY WAR YET

Moroccan Sultan May Renounce His European Leanings.

PROCLAMATION BY PRETENDER.

Says He Is Not Fighting For Himself or the Throne, But For the One-Eyed Mulai Mohammed, Brother of the Sultan Who Is Now Said to Have Released Him and Restored His Rank.

Tangier, Morocco, Jan. 3.—The pretender has issued a proclamation that he is not fighting for the throne for himself, but for the Sultan's imprisoned brother, Mulai Mohammed, surnamed the "one-eyed." It is now confirmed that the Sultan has ordered his brother's release, and that the honors of his rank be paid to him.

The Governor, at a recent conference with the Kabyle chiefs, pointed out to them that they were responsible for the safety of the roads running through their territory.

The Spanish sloop of war Infanta Isabel has arrived here.

The Portuguese cruiser Rainna Ametia arrived here yesterday.

Advices from Fez, under Thursday's date, have been received here. Guns were then being mounted on the walls for the defence of the city, but the rebels remained inactive; they have not sufficient supplies for expeditions at their headquarters. If the situation becomes more grave the Sultan will abandon the capital, return to Rabat and summon the border tribes to a holy war. The Sultan will then proclaim himself Sheref and Defender of Islam, renounce all European leanings, and then, at the head of new forces, attempt to re-take Fez.

French Troops Moving.

Paris, Jan. 3.—Telegrams received here from Oran, Algeria, announce that detachments of Zouaves, French troops, have been ordered to the Moorish frontier.

Spaniards Called Off.

Gibraltar, Jan. 3.—The despatch of Spanish reinforcements to Morocco has been countermanded. The latest advices from Fez, Morocco, say that city remains calm.

ENGINEER BIRD ARRESTED.

For One G.T.R. Accident—Did Not Use Reasonable Precautions to Avoid Danger, Say Jurors.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Samuel Bird is under arrest in connection with the Victoria Bridge accident.

"That we, the undersigned jury, declare that Octave Tremblay was killed in Montreal on Wednesday, Dec. 31, 1902, as the result of an accident on the Grand Trunk Railway, the locomotive under control of Samuel Bird, having struck the train that had stopped.

"We declare that said Samuel Bird did not take reasonable precautions to avoid danger by following too closely the train ahead, and, moreover, by not having his engine under complete control in order to stop it within a few feet."

Ten of the jury were in favor of the above verdict, and two dissented. Bird was detained on a warrant issued by the coroner, and will appear before the Police Magistrate.

TOWN MARSHAL MURDERED.

Half a Town Wiped Out by Fire Before the Deed.

Alexandra, La., Jan. 3.—About half of the town of Olla, La., on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway, forty miles north of this place, was destroyed by fire. During the excitement that followed Town Marshal Everett Smith was killed by unknown persons. About 6 o'clock, when the excitement over the fire was subsiding, Marshal Smith went to a saloon to order it closed, as the license had expired at midnight. Shortly after he entered shots were heard, and when outsiders rushed in they found Smith lying dead on the floor. He had been shot six times in the heart. Seven business houses were destroyed.

OVER THE FALLS.

Body Passed Over on Friday—Man or Woman?

Niagara Falls, Jan. 3.—A body passed over the American falls yesterday morning at 11.30 o'clock. It is not known positively whether it was the body of a man or woman. Several people saw it. To those on Goat Island the body looked like that of a man. Others in Prospect Park took it for the body of a woman. Just above the falls, on the main shore, footprints in the snow lead to the water's edge, and it is believed that the person jumped in from that point.

Self-Confessed Embezzler.

London, Jan. 3.—C. H. Elder was remanded at the Guild Hall Police Court yesterday, charged on his own confession, with embezzling $75,000 from his employers, Brown [illegible] & Co., the American bankers. The embezzlements have been going on for three years.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1903.

NATIONAL PROSPERITY.

At the outset of another year, a review of national business conditions is timely; and as things are now, such a review affords a showing which should be most gratifying to the Canadian heart. The tide of prosperity which has been on the flood for several years, still rises. The business of the past year has been the best, both positively and proportionately, in Canadian history. The outlook is no less good.

Many reasons exist, great or small, for the steady prosperity. One, the greatest there can be, is a succession of magnificent harvests. Not in some provinces only, with indifferent results in others, but in practically the whole country each year. And this year has capped the climax. The farm, orchard and dairy products of Ontario, the chief province of the Dominion, was in 1901, by far the largest on record up to that time, approximating $200,000,000, but this year it has been probably about $50,000,000 more. The grain crops of Manitoba, the chief western province, aggregated some 85,000,000 bushels last year; the figure this year is 100,000,000 bushels of grain of 25 per cent. better quality. The harvest is certainly worth $10,000,000 more to Manitoba this year than last; yet last year's crops were out of sight ahead of any previous years. The story is similar in nearly all the provinces of the Dominion. It would be impossible for Canada to be other than tremendously prosperous with such harvests, no matter what else was taking place.

But what is taking place otherwise is somewhat similar.

Take mining. The discovery of the Yukon gold fields a few years ago jumped Canada up to fourth or fifth place among gold producing countries of the world, led only by Australia, the Transvaal, the United States and Russia. The production has fallen off somewhat but it has averaged $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year, and at the same time all other mining has been increasing. Coal production has doubled in two or three years, owing to the fruitfulness of American capital in the soft coal fields of Nova Scotia, and to great coal discoveries in the Rockies.

* * *

Take the forests. The vast Canadian prairies of white pine have been becoming increasingly valuable, while a new source of wealth has suddenly become gigantic, namely spruce, to make into pulp for paper. For 20,000,000 acres in the far north of Quebec province, a bit that would hardly be missed by the province, of land considered worthless five years ago, American capitalists have within a month offered $25,000,000 to Quebec Government for the spruce that is on it.

* * *

Take manufactures. Far from being depressed by the reduction of the tariff since 1896, a reduction amounting to one-third wherever the British preference comes in, and considerably lower also on a good many American manufactures, Canadian manufacturers, spurred by the general prosperity, are gaining vastly. The exports of Canadian manufactures for the past fiscal year have been some fifty million dollars, almost double what they were under the best year of high tariff prior to 1896, when the Liberals gained power and started lowering the duties. The reductions actually seem to have had a tremendously stimulating effect. What $50,000,000 of exported manufactures means for Canada may be illustrated by saying that the United States exports of manufactured goods is $400,000,000 — in other words Canada with 5,500,000 ple, has an export of $9.00 per head in manufactures, whereas the United States, with 80,000,000 people, exports only $5.00 per head — and yet the American exports have been growing at a striking rate as compared with those of European countries.

* * *

To those who argue for tariff revision in the direction of lowering the tariff, and are opposed by the contention that established industries may be injured, it would appear to be a pertinent claim that since the revision of the Canadian tariff began in 1896, proceeding in such shape that now the rate of tariff as a whole, is on the average probably 25 per cent. lower, the exports of Canadian manufacturers have doubled. And manufacturing is at its best within Canada. The case is not merely one of exports. Manufacturers are unprecedently busy nearly everywhere, wages high, and labour scarce, over-time work the rule.

* * *

No wonder that the foreign trade of Canada has been growing by leaps and bounds.

* * *

For the last Dominion fiscal year, ending June 30, 1902, the foreign trade of Canada, aggregated $423,910,444. This was an excess of $37,000,000 over 1901, which was nevertheless greatly ahead of any previous year. The increase, too, was proportionately greater in exports than in imports which in the case of a young country, is unquestionably the best kind of showing.

Since June 30 the growth has continued without abatement. The figures up to the first of this month, completing the first five months of the present fiscal year, are as follows:

Exports (Domestic Produce Only.)

Five mo's to Dec. 1, 1902.....	$101,523,495
Five mo's. to Dec. 1, 1901.....	94,796,016
Increase ....$	6,727,479

Imports (for Home Consumption.)

Five mo's. to Dec. 1, 1902.....$	89,388,993
Five mo's. to Dec. 1, 1901.....	84,413,717
Increase ... ...$	4,956,276

Thus is seen an increased trade of nearly twelve millions in five months, considering purely the figures of direct Canadian production and consumption, and this although the last fiscal year was a record-breaker of big proportions.

The total foreign trade of Canada is now at a rate of over $450,000,000, or $75.00 per head. The total foreign trade of the United States, $1,800,000,000, is at the rate of but $23.00 per head.

* * *

A similar story appears in national revenue. The revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30 last was $58,024,229, which was $5,500,000 greater than for 1901; yet the revenue of the fiscal year 1902 is being highly outstripped by the receipts for the present fiscal year. For five months up to Dec. 1st, the first five months of the fiscal year, revenue is as follows compared with last year's:

Dominion Revenue.

Five mo's. to Dec. 1, 1902.....$	25,904,575
Five mo's. to Dec. 1, 1901.....	23,141,976
Increase ... ...$	2,762,599

On the other hand, expenditure is decreasing; for the past five months it has been a million and a half less than for the corresponding period of last fiscal year.

* * *

What are the most striking special features of the year in a natural business way? Two loom large. One is the large American influx into the Canadian Northwest. The other, a kindred one, is the proposition for a new transcontiental railway.

Over thirty thousand settlers from the United States have come into the Canadian Northwest during the past year, three times as great an immigration as recorded in 1901, and the movement seems multiplying. A lessening area of unoccupied fertile land in the States, and, an as yet, unlimited area in Canada and a succession of huge harvests explain the American influx. It is an omen of the greatest import to Canada, an omen agriculturally and industrially of only the greatest good. These are the best possible class of agricultural settlers for Canada, enterprising competent and open-minded. The movement, if it keeps on, will give soon to the far west of Canada, the marvellous progress which the western United States have shown.

Allied withh this, perhaps partly consequent of it, is the announcement, the most important in Canada in transportation matters since the Canadian Pacific railway was planned, that the Grand Trunk railway will build a new transcontinental line north of the C.P.R. A hundred million dollars is the probable cost, which means just that amount of additional British or American capital spent in Canada in the next five years, besides enormously increased transportation for the Northwest.

* * *

The rapid expansion of business is compelling a rapid extension of banking. The Canadian banking system expands automatically with business to a great extent, but the recent phenomenal industrial progress is putting a strain even upon the Canadian system.

The Canadian banking system consists of chartered banks, each with headquarters in one of the larger cities, and branch offices scattered throughout the Dominion in every city or town, and in many of the larger villages. Thus business in the smallest place has the advantage of large banking capital and security. To provide for circulation each bank can issue notes to the amount of its capital. The automatic provision of circulation is thus enabled in two ways, namely, first—that banks can take money from such of their branch offices throughhout Canada as are not over busy in order to provide money for the branches that happen to be unusually busy; and secondly, if a bank's affairs develop so greatly that more circulation is needed the bank can provide it by increasing its capital which gives it the right to issue more notes.

Under the pressure of Canadian business development of late, many banks have increased their capital and several new banks have started. Still pressure continues, and there is talk of the Dominion Government being asked to amend the banking act so as to permit of increased powers of note issue on some basis or other. There would be little danger in this, because by the banking act all the banks in Canada are jointly guarantors of the notes of each individual bank.

* * *

To summarise, there is hardly any line of Canadian business, whether agricultural, industrial or commercial, that has not been prospering greatly during the past year, nor is there any cloud on the horizon at present, even as great as a man's hand, to indicate that anything but increasing prosperity fills the near future. The enormous harvest of the past summer is not half marketed yet. Its proceeds ensure a rich tide of the life blood to business for many months to come, independent of almost anything that may happen. The most illimitable plains of the Northwest seem to be on the verge of a fruitful development something akin to that which has been a wonder of the world in the western United States. The average Canadian feels this to be a crowning promise to the rest of the extraordinary prosperity which is thrilling the natural vitality and giving to the Dominion from Atlantic to Pacific a pride and confidence unprecedented.—Ottawa Journal.

For consumption, bronchitis, weak lungs, and throat troubles, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is unequalled. It is pleasant to take and agrees with the stomach.

It is a combination of healing Petroleum, nerve-strengthening and tissue-making hypophosphites, and other curative agents well known to physicians. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion heals diseased membranes, allays irritation and inflammation, improves nutrition, regulates the stomach and bowels, and relieves diarrhœa and night sweats.

I was told by three doctors that I had quick consumption. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was prescribed and agreed with me perfectly. Within six months I had gained fifty-nine pounds in weight. My cough was cured, and I feel no more night sweats or hemorrhages. I am now in perfect health. —E. H. Walker, Medford, Mass.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years, prior to his death, never travelled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realized that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into Pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple anti septic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendancy to Pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburg writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded steam heated school room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room.

WE LOSE SIX MEMBERS

How the Redistribution Problem Strikes Ontario.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM ISSUED.

The Minister of Justice Figures on Proportions—The Northwest Territories and Manitoba, Under the British North America Act, Will Get the Representation Taken From the East.

Ottawa, Jan. 3. — In an official memorandum the Minister of Justice places on record his opinion as to the number of members to which each Province is entitled under the provisions of the B. N. A. act. Sections 51 and 52 of the act in question provide that after each decennial census the representation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is to be carried out in accordance with the following rules: Quebec is to have the fixed number of 65 members. To each of the other Provinces is to be assigned such a number of members as will bear the same proportion to the number 65 bears to the population of Quebec. In the computation of the number of members for a Province a fractional part not exceeding one-half of the whole number requisite for entitling the Province to a member is to be disregarded; but a fractional part exceeding one-half of that number is to be equivalent to the whole number. Paragraph 4 reads:—"On any such readjustment the number of members for a Province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the Province bore to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding readjustment of the number of members for the Province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one-twentieth part or upwards."

The Basis of Increase.

The number of members of the House of Commons may be increased by Parliament, providing the proportionate representation of the Province as prescribed is not thereby disturbed. By subsequent legislation it was enacted that the readjustment of members for Manitoba, British Columbia and Prince Edward Island should also be carried out under the provisions of the B. N. A. act. The representation of the Northwest Territories and the Yukon is not subject to these rules, but may be readjusted as Parliament sees fit. Applying the rules laid down by section 51 of the B. N. A. act to the figures under the new census, the representation of the Provinces in the readjusted House would be as follows:—

Losses and Gains.

Ontario, 86 members; Quebec, 65 members; Nova Scotia, 18 members; New Brunswick, 13 members; Manitoba, 10 members; British Columbia, 7 members; Prince Edward Island, 4 members, being a reduction of six members for Ontario, a reduction of two members for Nova Scotia, a reduction of one member for New Brunswick, an increase of three members for Manitoba and an increase of one member each for British Columbia and Prince Edward Island. If the Northwest Territories and The Yukon were dealt with in the same manner as the Provinces the organized districts of the Territories would be entitled to six members and the Yukon to one. This gives a House of 210 members instead of 214, as at present. The Minister of Justice calculates and compares the proportion of the population of Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in 1891 and 1901, respectively, to that of the Dominion in those years, and finds that these Provinces are not saved from a loss of members by the application of paragraph 4, section 51, of the B. N. A. act. In the case of Ontario, the proportion in 1891 is expressed by the fraction .437, which is the proportion of 2,114,321 —the population of Ontario—to 4,833,239, the population of the Dominion by the census of 1891. The proportion of the population of Ontario to that of the whole Dominion in 1901 was .406, the total being 2,182,947 for the Province and 5,371,315 for the Dominion. The proportion is, therefore, diminished for Ontario by .081, which is more than one-twentieth of .437, and Ontario is, therefore, not saved by paragraph four.

Died in South Africa.

Kingston, Jan. 3. — A telegram from South Africa reports the death of Capt. Varcoe, late of the Royal Military College. He was on the staff here, resigned on account of ill-health and went to South Africa. The change only brought temporary relief, and death came after a lingering illness. His family live in Toronto, and his death occurred at Johannesburg.

Thousands of Sick Ones

Every Week Write For My Book.

And to each one I send an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I let the sick one test it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word decides it.

You see this offer everywhere—all the time. Don't you realize that I must be curing the sick ones, else the offer would ruin me?

I care not for prejudice nor doubts, for they are quickly removed when a patient meets me or writes me. All I ask is that you who needs help—you whose health is at stake—will let me convince you.

When a physician — after a lifetime experience—has such faith in himself, you are wronging yourself not to learn what he knows.

I have perfected a treatment which strengthens the inside nerves. It is my discovery, and the sum of my whole life's work.

When any vital organ is weak, my Restorative brings back the nerve power that operates it — the only power that can make the organ do its duty.

With any other treatment we can only doctor the organ, and the best results are but temporary. My way restores the power that Nature gave the organ at the start. There are but few of these chronic diseases which can ever be cured in any other way.

I cannot always cure. Some of these troubles result from incurable causes, like cancer. But in the past 12 years I have furnished my Restorative on trial to over half a million sick ones, and 39 out of each 40 have paid for it gladly, because they were cured.

There are 39 chances in 40 that I can cure you, and I will pay for the medicine you take if I fail.

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Book No. 1. on Dyspepsia
Book No. 2. on the Heart
Book No. 3. on the Kidneys
Book No. 4. for Women
Book No. 5. for Men (Sealed)
Book No. 6. on Rheumatism

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by all druggists.

HIS WIFE A DRUNKARD.

Sir C. A. Lawson Obtains a Summons Against Her Under England's Strongest New Licensing Act.

London, Jan. 3.—The first notable case under the new licensing act which went into effect New Year's day came up in a London Police Court yesterday afternoon, when Sir Charles Allen Lawson, the Anglo-Indian newspaper editor and writer, applied for a summons against Lady Lawson, whom he described as a habitual drunkard. The summons was granted.

The new act enables either a husband or wife to secure a separation in the case of habitual drunkenness, and allows the police to arrest an inebriate anywhere, except in a private house, whether disorderly or not. After conviction, drunkards are blacklisted for the space of three years. If they attempt to obtain drink during that period they are liable to a fine, while the publican supplying them is fined $50 for a first offence, and $100 for a second offence.

Imprisonment is provided for drunkards while in charge of a child under seven years of age.

MEAFORD'S GREETING.

Ontario's Premier Welcomed by the Greatest Meeting in Its History.

Meaford, Jan. 3.—Two well-attended meetings were held yesterday in the Opera House in the interest of Mr. MacKay, the Liberal candidate in the coming bye-elections. The meeting in the afternoon was well attended, being composed principally of farmers. It was presided over by Alfred Gifford, who, after a short address, introduced Hon. John Dryden and Hon. T. W. Ross, who delivered, in turn, able addresses.

The speech by Mr. Dryden, who was the principal speaker in the afternoon meeting, was well received by the large audience present.

In the evening the candidate, with Mr. Ross, addressed the greatest meeting ever held in Meaford. Mr. Ross dealt principally with the attacks of the Opposition on the Government's policy. He repudiated the alleged dishonesty in elections. He was enthusiastically received by the audience.

AN OTTAWA MASON AGAIN AT WORK.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets completely cure him of a serious attack of Kidney Trouble and Backache.

WM. ST. GEORGES.

Inhalation of fine dust, heavy lifts, exposure to chilling winds—these are some of the things which make masons generally subject to attacks of kidney trouble and backache.

Mr. Wm. St. Georges, whose home is 651 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ont., is a stonemason by trade, and was so unfortunate as to become a victim of kidney complaint. The history of his case he gives as follows, in a recent letter:

"Dear Dr. Pitcher:—Permit me to write and thank you for your Backache Kidney Tablets which have done me so much good.

"I suffered for two long years from weak back and kidney trouble. Last year I was completely used up so that I lost all courage, and had no hope of recovering. No one could do anything for me.

"During the first week of April last, I met with a friend of mine and he advised me to take your Kidney Tablets. I thought I would try one box, and after I had finished this I felt so much better that I continued the Tablets until I had used in all six boxes. Every box I took made me feel better and stronger till now I am perfectly cured.

"I am now as strong and healthy as ever I was in my life and can attend to my work, which is very heavy, as I am a stonemason. I feel confident from the benefit I received that anyone suffering from lame back or kidney trouble will not be disappointed if they take your Tablets.

Yours truly,
WM. ST. GEORGES."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are the most effectual remedy known to science for promptly relieving and permanently curing backache, lame or weak back, swelling of the feet and legs, scalding or irritation of the urine, sediment, brick dust deposits, neuralgia, rheumatism, specks floating before the eyes, pain in the head, torpid liver, kidney troubles of old people, bed-wetting of children, and all forms of kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. Price 50c. a bottle or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

Reserve Colliery of Dominion Coal Co. Takes the Prize.

Halifax, Jan. 3.—The largest output of any single colliery in the world has the second time been attained by the reserve colliery of the Dominion Coal Company, the output for 1902 being 822,600 tons. The record made by this colliery for 1901 was 751,000 tons.

Fifteen Killed or Wounded.

Constantinople, Jan. 3.—In a recent fight between Bulgarians and Turkish troops at the village of Drenovo, in the Monastir district, fifteen of the latter were killed or wounded. The Turkish commander was among the killed. The Bulgarians, who were barricaded in a house, also sustained losses, but the survivors escaped.

A Galloping Medical Corps.

London, Jan. 3. — Sir Frederick Treves, speaking at Manchester yesterday, indicated a weak spot in the army medical service. This was the absence, he said of a galloping field outfit to follow a rapidly moving cavalry corps. It was a problem that must be solved, but it would be exceedingly expensive to the country.

Cause of Losses.

London, Jan. 3. — Lloyds' correspondent in The Times yesterday says that the curious story of the steamship Manchester Engineer explains to some extent why the Canadian authorities maintain that the losses in the St. Lawrence are due more to defects in steamships than to the inherent dangers of the gulf and river.

Twenty-Four Fatalities in 1902.

Hazelton, Pa., Jan. 3.—The annual report of the mine inspector of the fifth anthracite district, made public yesterday, shows that 24 fatal accidents occurred during 1902, leaving 13 widows and 36 orphans. In 1901 there were 60 fatal accidents. The long strike made the difference.

Price of Coal in New York.

New York, Jan. 3.—The price of soft coal advanced again yesterday, reaching $8.40. This is the wholesale price, freightage not included. The price for anthracite averages $10 a ton to the consumer.

Highly Protectionist.

Vienna, Jan. 3.—Increased tariff duties on both grain and manufactured articles are the most important feature of the new Anegleich, which, it is learned, is of a highly protectionist character.

Now Superannuated.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Benjamin Sulte, the well-known writer, and William Alexander of the Marine and Fisheries Department of the civil service, have been placed on the superannuated list.

Attempt to Kill Shah.

Vienna, Jan. 3.—Die Zeit yesterday reports that an Armenian, disguised as a woman, attempted to assassinate the Shah of Persia, at Teheran. The attempt, the paper says, was a failure.

Manitoba Cabinet Met.

Winnipeg, Jan. 3.—The Provincial Cabinet met in Council yesterday morning. President Mackenzie of the Canadian Northern met the Government and held a conference with them.

Judge Appointed.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—An order-in-council has been passed appointing Hon. Angus McGillivray to be a Judge of the County Court of Antigonish.

CASTRO'S CONDITION.

Had An Alternative Proposal to The Hague Tribunal.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT WANTED.

Venezuelan Ruler Thinks the Dispute Between His Country and the German and British Allies Should Be Adjudged by an American Tribunal—Washington Thinks Original Proposition Will Carry.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The condition which President Castro attached to his response to the allies' arbitration proposal was in the nature of an alternative proposition. Almost from the beginning showing an aversion to The Hague Tribunal, Castro, while accepting the principle of arbitration, asked that the case be tried by one of the American republics. As President Roosevelt already had declined to act in the capacity of arbitrator, and as some of the reasons which inspired him in his declination would apply with equal force to the chief executive of any other American State than the United States, he was obliged to withhold any endorsement of this proposition of President Castro. Therefore it may be dismissed from the field of possibilities, and unless Castro is unexpectedly insistent upon his own plan the original proposition of reference to The Hague Tribunal will carry.

A LETTER FROM SIR WILFRID.

Will Return January 10—Believes He Will Be Spared Several Years of Life and Work.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Writing to a friend here from St. Augustine, Florida, Sir Wilfrid Laurier says: "It is a decidedly good idea to pass a few weeks here at this season. I have received a great deal of benefit. I feel not only better, but very well. I believe in the fact that I will be spared several years of life and work, although I doubted it for a time. But after all give me Canada with its frosts and snow. My heart is there and with much impatience I await the moment to return to my own country. I hope to be back about the 10th of January."

GREATEST GOLD HOARD.

Over $600,000,000 in the Treasury of the United States.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The United States Treasury started the new year with more gold in its vaults than this or any other Government ever held at any time before. There is now in the Treasury building at Washington and in the various subtreasuries throughout the country, $615,319,367 in gold.

These holdings are four times as much as the present holdings of the Bank of England, one and a half times as much as held by the Bank of France, four times as much as the Imperial German Bank holds, and nearly twice as much as the imperial Bank of Russia possesses.

Only five countries other than our own have in their stock of money so much as $600,000,000 in gold. The average annual gain of the United States in the last four years in gold is $36,508,639 more than that of the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Russia combined. Taking all of the countries of Europe together, great and small, their net average annual increase for these four years is $95,425,000, which is $12,358,639 less than that of the United States.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

An Important Conference Held in New York Union Pacific Office.

New York, Jan. 3.—Another conference was held yesterday at the Union Pacific office in this city with reference to a settlement of the differences between the heads of the road and certain of its employes. The conferees included President Burt of the road, President James O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists; Thomas L. Wilson, fourth vice-president of the International Association of Machinists; John McNeil and E. T. Kennedy, representing the Boilermakers' International Union, and David O'Donnell, president of the Boilermakers' Helpers' Union. At the close of the conference it was said that no actual agreement had been reached, though matters were tending toward an amicable settlement. Another conference will be held next Tuesday.

DR. MACDONNELL DEAD.

Former Chief Factor of Hudson's Bay Company Dies in Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Dr. Angus C. MacDonnell, 74 years of age, at one time chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company, and Governor at Fort Temiskaming, died here yesterday afternoon. He was for more than twenty years a member of the consulting staff of Hotel Dieu.

New Yukon Governor.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—The opinion prevails here that Mr. F. T. Congdon, the Crown prosecutor of the Yukon, who is at present in the city, will be appointed to succeed Hon. James H. Ross as governor of the Yukon. Mr. Congdon comes from Halifax, N.S.

Arrives in Canada.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—A letter received at the Archbishop's palace yesterday morning states that Mgr. Sbaretti, the new Papal Delegate to Canada, will arrive at 11.30 this morning. An official welcome will be tendered to him on Sunday.

Reception to Marconi.

Halifax, Jan. 3.—Over 1,000 attended a public reception given to Signor Marconi by the Mayor and Town Council of Glace Bay in Victoria Hall last night.

Health and Hope.

"He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything." But hope flees at the approach of kidney disease with the dreadful pains which accompany it. With the flesh gradually failing, the back aching, and the despair which often comes to victims of this ailment, only the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will restore hope, confidence and health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

"NAME THIS CHILD."

Queer Things Which Happen at London Christenings.

From a Gainsborough clergyman comes the plea for the exercise of common sense by parents when naming their children. He protests against entering children for the race of life handicapped by bearing a name which may expose them to ridicule. Undoubtedly there is much cause for the appeal, though it may be thought to come strangely from a clergyman when one recalls that many curiosities of nomenclature have been drawn from the Scriptures. For, besides the bearers of the sensible if plain names of Peter, Paul, Luke, Matthew, and the like, and the corresponding multitude of Ruths, Marys, and Rebeccas, there have been a goodly number who answered to, but did not rejoice in, quaint names gathered from the tables of genealogy of the Old Testament, Scriptural names, however, are not now so common as they used to be; in fact, it is to be feared that modern mothers are more prone to select high-sounding names from novels than appellations from the Bible. But the clergyman's protest is rather directed against the growing inclination to give children "pet" names. The doting mother may think it pretty to call her child Kit or Popsie, but a grown man or woman hardly cares to sign these publicly.

Some curious reasons have been elicited in the endeavor to find out how and why children have come by unusual names. Gabriel and Ruth were babies of devout coolie parents. "Me call him Gabriel 'cause ob de great white angel who stan' at de doh' an' might look after him lil' namesake," said the mother, who "hoped for heaven" for her son and she called her little girl Ruth, because they wished that the story of the real Ruth might lead her to self-sacrifice. These parents carried the practice of selecting Biblical names to extremes, for their dog was yclept Moreover, after the animal of whom it is written: "Moreover, the dog licked Lazarus' sores."

There is not much piety, however, in the ordinary circumstances that determine baby's name. Eastward, in the direction of Shoreditch, Whitechapel and Stepney, where babies are plentiful and sometimes not much regarded, it frequently happens that parents bring their offspring to be christened without having determined upon the name it shall bear. Then the services of the clergyman are requisitioned, and, as a rule, another John or Mary is added to the register. Most Johns and Marys are Johns and Marys because their parents were so named before them; but when all the names of father and mother and uncles and aunts are exhausted, distracted parents resort to Ernestina, Hyacinth, Beryl, Agamemnon, Clarissa, Miranda, or catch thankfully at any current event which may help them in their dilemma. Thus arose the full crop of little Pretorias, Bullers, and Kitcheners.

It is sad to think of a small girl having to answer the attendance roll call at school to the name of Majuba Jenks, or, as one maiden will, Polly Paardeberg Mason. Poll's papa fought at Paardeberg, and her mother may be pardoned for wishing to record the fact, but the name will give away Polly's age in the days when she begins to be sensitive on the subject. In the war time Pretoria seems to have been first favorite, because less cumberous than Bloemfontein and the other tid-bits of Transvaal momenclature. Reminiscences of the craze remain in Colenso Cook, Kitchener Roberts Jenkins, and Victoria Ladysmith Brown—most registers had a share of this patriotic admiration. Not till actually glancing through the district registers is it realized how much environment influences the question of names. Mary Anns and Emmas, Emilys and Jacks, Bills, and Harrys grow up thickly in the neighborhood of the docks by Poplar and Limehouse, while naturally in the Jewish quarters of Whitechapel and Aldgate are found Joshua, Moses, Rebecca, Solomon, Isaac, Hannah reduplicated into monotony.—London Telegraph.

Australia's Climbing Frogs.

It is said that one of the great enemies of the overland telegraph line in Central Australia is the common green frog. In order to save the insulators from being broken by the lightning they are provided with wire "droppers" leading round them at a little distance to conduct on to the iron pole ib case of need. The frogs climb the poles and find the insulators cool and pleasant to their bodies, and fancy that the "dropper" is put there to furnish them with a back seat. After a nap they yawn and stretch out a leg until it touches the pole—result, sudden death to the frog, and as the body continues to conduct the current to earth we have a paragraph in the papers to the effect that "in consequence of an interruption to the lines probably caused by a cyclonic disturbance in the interior, we are unable to present our readers with the usual cables from England!"—Argonaut.

One of the Intelligent.

"Have you any scruples," inquired the prosecuting attorney, "against inflicting the death penalty in a case of willful murder?"

"Ort I to hev 'em," cautiously asked the talesman, "or not to hev 'em, if I don't want to set on the jury?"

A Phenomenal Artist.

"He is the only true musical phenomenon I ever saw or heard."

"Why do you say that?"

"Because he acknowledges that he tours the country for cash first and art second and that this isn't his farewell appearance."

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

NOVICES RECEIVE HOLY HABIT

An Interesting Ceremony at Mt. St. Joseph.

Five Young Ladies Who Have Received the Habit of St. Joseph Sisterhood.

Beautiful Mount St. Joseph was the scene of a very pretty ceremony this morning, when five novices received the holy habit of the Sister of St. Joseph. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Revs. Father McColl and Dr. O'Brien, celebrated mass, after which Ven. Archdeacon Casey preached an appropriate sermon on the obligations the Sisters assume, the various and arduous duties they are called upon to discharge and the daily sacrifices they must make in obedience to their holy vocation. After the sermon followed the beautiful and touching ceremony by which the novice is separated from the world and made a child of the Community of St. Joseph. The five young ladies who received the habit are Miss Delaney, of Montreal, in religion, Sister Mary St. George; Miss O'Brien, Douro, Sister Mary Geraldine; Miss Sibbald, Barrie, Sister Mary De Pazzi; Miss O'Leary, Douro, Sister Mary Marguerite; Miss Corkery, Lindsay, Sister Mary St. Fergus.

In the sanctuary were Revs. P. McGuire, Hastings and M. McGuire, Wooller, and Revs. J. O'Brien and Crowley, of the Cathedral.

The chapel was tastily decorated, and the music rendered by a choir of Sisters was very impressive.

CHURCH NOTES.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church—Announcement of Meetings.

Rev. Dr. Torrance will preach at the morning service to-morrow, and Rev. J. A. Wilson, in the evening.

Sabbath school and Bible classes as usual at three o'clock. Lesson:—"Paul and Silas at Philippi," Acts xvi, 22-34. As this is the beginning of a new series of lessons a good attendance is looked for, especially in the senior classes.

On account of the union services in connection with the week of prayer the usual mid-week prayer-meeting will be withdrawn. The Christian Endeavour Society will meet on Sabbath evening immediately after the regular church service, instead of on Monday. Subject: "How to Get a Fresh Start." Eph. iv, 22-32.

The monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild is also postponed until Tuesday evening of the following week, when an interesting debate will take place.

Rev. Mr. Yule of Bethany will preach at the preparatory service in St. Paul's on Friday evening next. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed on Sunday, Jan. 11, at the morning service.

RECEPTION AT ST. JOHN'S LAST NIGHT.

Tendered to Mr. Davies Superintendent of the Sunday School.

By the Officials and Teachers Last Evening.

Last night Mr. C. H. Davies, superintendent of St. John's Sunday school, was tendered a reception in the Guild Rooms. The reception included the bride of Mr. Davies, who was married in Stratford on New Year's Day.

The teachers and officials of the Sunday school made the reception the medium of recognizing Mr. Davies' services as superintendent, and also of recognizing the occasion of his marriage. About thirty-five or forty persons were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. During the evening a beautiful shower bouquet was presented to Mrs. Davies.

The rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, spoke in most appreciative terms of the splendid services of the teachers of the Sunday school, and referred to the privilege they enjoyed of having at their disposal the skill and energy as superintendent, of Mr. Davies, whom they all delighted to honour. Never before had there been brighter prospects before the Sunday school. Their attention must now be concentrated upon the Christmas entertainmen tof next Wednesday, 7th January, and also on the special Sunday school service on Sunday morning, June 10th.

Mr. Davies briefly expressed his thanks for the unexpected honour done him, and said that he felt it a privilege to direct a school in which such good work was going forward, and so much kind help was given.

Mr. Davies, who is with the firm of Messrs. Bradley & Co., and Mrs. Davies, have taken residence at the National Hotel.

THE FAMOUS BELL RINGERS.

The first appearance in this city in George street church on the evening of Monday, January 12, of the celebrated Almondbury Hand Bell Ringers of England, will be an important event to those interested in high-grade entertainments. They are the champions of Great Britain and the world in the art of bell ringing, having won the first prize three years in succession over all competitors. The rivalry is very keen, the judges are musicians of the highest standing and the work of the competing bands must be of the highest character. In the event of any band winning the first prize three years in succession each of the members is awarded a silver medal and the band is not allowed to again compete. Since the beginning of these events at Manchester, in 1885, when the Almondburys entered the contests, they have won nine first, eight second prizes and seven gold and ten silver medals, and have established themselves as the greatest company of bell ringers ever organized. This company, having won the first prizes in 1898, 1899 and 1900, were chosen by the old and reliable Redpath Lyceum Bureau of Boston, Mass., for their work in America. As Englishmen and as past masters of the art of bell ringing, they will, we are sure, be welcomed in Canada and in our city. Do not fail to hear them. A delightful entertainment. Prices, adults, 25 cents; children under 12, 15 cents.

An Old Veteran Coming.

Mr. T. J. Wilkie, the veteran association secretary of Canada, will be the speaker at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at four o'clock. Subject, "First Things." All men are invited.

DISCUSSED MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Last Night's Meeting in Bradburn's Opera House.

VERY SMALL ATTENDANCE.

Mayor Corkery in the Chair and Mayor-Elect Rogers one of the Speakers—Aldermanic Candidates.

The public meeting which was held in the Opera House last night for the purpose of discussing municipal matters and giving the candidates for aldermanic honours an opportunity of expressing their views, was not very largely attended. Those who were present, however, displayed a keen interest in the proceedings, and the various speakers were listened to with marked attention.

The chair was occupied by Mayor Corkery, who opened the proceedings without any preliminaries. He asked the nominees to take their places on the platform and the following gentlemen responded:

Mayor-elect Roger, and Messrs. M. A. Morrison, Joseph Batten, J. J. Turner, H. Best and R. F. McWilliams and D. O'Connell.

The chairman then introduced Ald. Roger, who was cordially received. He contended that the fact that he had been elected by acclamation should relieve him of making any remarks on the present occasion. Those who were seeking election should have the opportunity. He thanked them very heartily for their having elected him by acclamation to be Mayor of Peterborough, and he would do all in his power to administer the affairs of the town in the interests of all the ratepayers concerned. He thought that we were entering a year when we must either progress substantially or fall behind. The whole province is progressing and why should not Peterborough? Speaking as to matters of importance that might come before the ratepayers during the present year, Mr. Roger referred to the fact that the Peterborough Light and Power Company's contract with the town expires a year from this January, so that it might be well for the People of Peterborough to face the matter and see what provision they can make for the future, whether they shall renew their contract, light the town themselves or place the matter open to tender. The candidates for municipal honours should get an expression of opinion from the ratepayers in these matters.

The franchise of the Bell Telephone Company expires this year and there are several courses we could pursue on this line. There is also the live question of annexation with Ashburnham, and Mr. Roger reviewed the objections that had in the past been raised by the residents of both municipalities to their forming a union. He felt that such a union would take would take before long, however, without any doubt. Mr. Roger then touched upon the question of a municipal fuel yard. He said that the present condition of the fuel question was due to a cause which was beyond our control. The water works ownership is still in the experimental stage so that we should be careful as to whether we should attempt the fuel yard ownership. Mr. Roger next referred to the $20,000 that was asked for permanent improvements, but would leave the details of this, he said, to be explained by the chairman of the Board of Works, Mr. Best. He felt however that our streets were scarcely fitted for the traffic that is on them, and the expense of permanent roads and bridges should be spread over a number of years, so that those who may use them hereafter may be called upon to pay their share of the cost of construction. Mr. Roger said that from the excellent list of candidates he was sure that they could select a good strong council, which would ably look after the affairs of the town.

ALD. BEST,

who followed Mr. Roger, dealt with the matter of permanent improvements, first touching upon the Brock and Aylmer street bridge, which it was proposed to build of concrete walls and iron girders. He explained very fully the cost of laying various kinds of permanent road beds. Mr. Best went into the matter of storm drainage of the streets of the town, explaining how the surface water could be conducted away. He also reveiwed very fully the circumstances leading up to the construction of our present sewers which are all working properly. He suggested continuing a pipe down Aylmer street to relieve the Edison Works sewer.

MR. R. F. McWILLIAMS

said that he had hesitated on coming out on account of his youth, but consulted many friends, who recommended his entering the field. Most questions to be faced are questions of administration, and he supposed that good men are required to attend to the details. Permanent improvements, on the most used streets, are desirable and he thought that prompt repairs cost the least. The most important question is that of the encouragement to manufacturers, but they ought to be careful not to burden the general taxpayer. Exemption should be for a time on improvements. Dealing with J. J. Turner's bylaw, he thought that the bylaw should not have been submitted. He made reference to the town's exceptional advantages, central location, water power, railways, scenery, etc. The merchants, he understood, complained of unfair freight rates. The council and Board of Trade should deal with this question. The council should act as a conciliation board between capital and labour in any disputes. Mr. McWilliams concluded by asking the support of the payers.

J. J. TURNER,

in speaking as to his bylaw, claimed he had paid out $8,000 in wages and $40,000 in building this year. The bulk of his trade was done outside of the town. His firm had three salaried travellers on the road, and four office men. He paid good wages. He contended that he could have got

SLEIGH UPSET

And Broke a Young Lady's Arm Last Night.

Last night a load of young people left town to attend a party at Warsaw, but when they got within a few miles of that place the sleigh overturned, dumping them all into the ditch, and injuring a number of them. One young lady had the misfortune of having her arm broken near the shoulder. When the young people got back to town the fracture was reduced by Dr. Morgan.

THE LATE MR. CROLY.

His Demise Occurred at Nicholls Hospital Yesterday.

By the death of Mr. T. M. D. Croly, which occurred at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday afternoon, Peterborough loses one of its oldest residents. Mr. Croly was removed to the hospital some day ago to undergo an operation but unfortunately his condition was hopeless at the time and he did not recover.

Mr. Croly was well known to Peterborough people and in years past was prominently connected with the Orange order, and has been a member of the A.O.U.W. He was about 70 years of age and leaves a wife and grown up family.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, at 1.30 o'clock, on Monday, and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

A Prosperous Business of four years ago has been

DOUBLED

And we have still greater AMBITIONS and PLANS for the near future. We recognize, as everyone must, that the LARGER the volume of business, the LOWER the cost of selling; the LOWER the cost of selling, the SMALLER the profit necessary on each sale. Therefore, the LARGER we can get this business, the NORTH MONAGHAN WEDDING.

Miss Sadie Young and Mr. Bert Middleton are United in Marriage.

The residence of Mr. Geo. Young was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, when his youngest daughter Miss Sadie, was married to Mr. Bert Middleton, third son of Mr. Jas. Middleton, Smith. Rev. Dr. Torrence, assisted by Rev. Mr. Ross, of town, tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a number of their relatives and friends.

Miss Mary Payne, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Miss Reta Brealey, niece of the bride, was maid of honour. Mr. J. E. Middleton, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man. The bride was charmingly attired in white organdie with insertion and Valenciennes lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of pale blue silk voile with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of red roses and carnations. The little maid of honour looked sweet with her handsome basket of flowers in which she carried the wedding ring. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome sable muff, to the bridesmaid a brooch and to the maid of honour a dainty bracelet. The large number of presents testified to the high respect in which the young couple are held by their friends.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding feast.

The newly married couple were escorted to the train by a number of their friends, when they left for Rochester, N.Y., and after their return will reside at the homestead on the 2nd concession of Smith.

J. J. TURNER & CO. REPLY

To the Arguments of Ratepayer Against Proposed Exemption.

Claim That They Advertise the Town—That They are Justly Entitled to Exemption.

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—There have been some expressions of opinions in the daily papers re exemption of taxes on Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons factory.

We feel that the public are not conversant with all sides of the question and take this means of setting forth some facts which may commend our petition to your judgment, so that we may receive your support when voting on the bylaw.

In reply to "Ratepayer's" letter of Dec. 22nd, we beg to say,—"Because we have done well here," we return sincere thanks to the public for their patronage which we fully appreciate, but we would remind "Ratepayer" that the bulk of our trade is done outside Peterborough, there not being nearly enough here to keep our hands employed.

This outside trade is secured by advertising, by travellers, by agents. Of the latter we have thirty-one scattered throughout Canada to whom we must sell wholesale only, so that they may have the necessary retailer's margin.

We have seven travellers — three salaried men and four commissioned men, who look after our interests outside of Peterborough. We advertise freely and in this way secure many orders. The whole, we think, shows that we bring a great amount of trade to Peterborough through our efforts which would not come unless looked after and drummed up. This must mean expenditure of money for power, wages, light and fuel, and an increase of floor space to accommodate increasing trade.

This is what induced us to spend our money in a building which is at once a credit and an advertisement to the Town. We employ at present (which is not a busy season) nine girls and eleven men, eight of whom are heads of families. This does not include our commissioned travellers the number of which we mentioned was four.

There has been some talk of the bulk of our employees being girls, who receive a low wage. To this we reply that no girl works for us for one day even, for nothing. Her wages commence the moment she is engaged. The hours are shorter than usual, being from ten minutes to eight to twelve, and from one to six o'clock, with the exception of Saturdays, when they quit at four o'clock.

We pay good wages as evidenced some time ago when wages were high and different factories and stores were losing some help, we lost none, which speaks for itself.

Again, our factory could have been built on almost any out-of-the-way place at half the expense for land and style of building, which would not have interefered in the least with the bulk of our trade, but we were energetic and enterprising enough to endeavour to add to the appearance of our main thoroughfare and built in as conspicuous a spot as possible, and erected a building in keeping with the situation.

Had we applied for exemption before commencing to build we have no doubt but that it would have been granted to us, the same as other factories enjoy, but because we pushed ahead (unnecessarily, as we had an option of two more years in the old premises) relying on the same privileges being extended to us as was granted to others, we now hear some dissenters. Some who fail to appreciate an energy to bring Peterborough before the minds of the people as a great manufacturing centre.

It is unnecessary for us to enumerate the many advantages which accrue from a town being known as a good live town, further than to say that it induces people to locate here, increases the value of property, as evidenced by the way rents have advanced, and the number of houses which have been sold this past year to new residents who have been drawn to Peterborough by the free advertising given by its factories.

We regret that "Ratepayer" accuses us of such small principles as to use our position as a public servant to force our petition on the public. This is altogether unwarranted and unexpected, and while "Ratepayer" is accusing our Mr. Turner of such smallness, he also includes those who voted for the bylaw in council.

We believe that we have a reasonable claim for exemption from taxes, complying with the bylaw to employ at least twenty hands ten months of the year.

Because we do a large wholesale business.

Because we advertise the town.

Because we are endeavouring to increase our trade every year, and to do this we must bring more business to our factory, than in former years.

Because, had we asked for exemption before commencing to build, we would no doubt have had our request granted.

What better advertisement could Peterborough have, as evidenced by the advertisement and name our hospital tents made for themselves, so that we received an order from the Cleveland Board of Health, Cleveland, U. S. This was not solicited but obtained by merit.

Again, we export a large quantity of goods to London, England, which advertises Canada in general, and Peterborough in particular. This trade has not been built up in a day, but has taken thirty years to acquire, which period represents the years we have been in business.

In conclusion, we will continue to do all we can to advertise the town, and will appreciate the favour we ask the people to grant.

We commend our petition to you for your kind consideration and ask you to mark your ballot in favour of the bylaw granting us exemption from taxes, (School Taxes excepted.)

Wishing you, one and all, the compliments of the season, we are,

Yours sincerely,
J. J. TURNER & SONS.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

WRITE IT "1903."

• • •

LET THIS BE among your good resolutions for the coming year — though why the beginning of the new year should be any better time for making good resolutions, it is hard to understand. Our lives should be governed by principle and not impulse. A resolution to do better is in order at any time, but it is useless unless it is founded upon principle and upon an honest desire to carry it out. Its no use turning over a new leaf and leaving it blank. Do well, do better, because it is right and not because the calender happens to remind you that it is a new year.

• • •

SPEAKING OF GOOD resolutions, there is one resolution that every elector should make at the present time—not because it is the new year but because it is the time for electing Aldermen and other equally important officials. Let every elector resolve—carry out his resolution — to cast aside in casting his vote every other consideration, personal, society or political in voting for aldermanac and other candidates. Upon our council depends the good government of the town, upon the good government of the town depends its health, its prosperity and its progress. Is your neighbour; because he is a good fellow, but only because he will make a good man for the position; because he has the ability and the enterprising instinct and public spirit that will make him a worthy representative, a representative who will sacrifice all personal considerations in working for the welfare of the town. A man to make a good alderman must begin by making sacrifices. He must sacrifice his time; he must sacrifice, to a certain extent, his business interests; he must, to a certain extent, sacrifice his personal friendships, or at least, place them second to the interests of the town, if he makes himself useful enough to justify his election. Unless the elector is satisfied that his candidate will do this, he should not give him his vote.

• • •

BUT IT IS, perhaps, too much to expect this, in the present temper of the electors; that is, if the character of the public meeting convened in the opera house last evening, is any criterion. A meeting called to discuss the most vitally important interests of the town, was attended by a mere handful of electors, perhaps half a hundred, perhaps a few more.

• • •

IF THE ELECTORS take no more interest than represented by such a gathering, how can we expect that they will take any interest in selecting Aldermen? They will be likely to vote haphazard, elect a haphazard Board of Aldermen, and enjoy haphazard government during the year.

• • •

WE HAVE a good Mayor to begin with, and we should have a Council of similar character.

• • •

THERE SEEMS to be a disposition to adopt the permanent improvement principle. The letter of Mr. McCarthy of Ashburnham, upon this subject is worthy of careful attention. In all departments of activity or action, the old proverb, "What is worth doing, is worth doing well," is, generally speaking, sound. The increasing cost of wood, makes concrete pavements and steel bridges the cheapest in the end. And if the Council will follow out a policy of replacing decaying wood pavements with concrete, it would be in the end for the good of the town. The granolithic pavements laid down at the corner of George and Hunter streets, some distance in each direction, although laid down at a time of the year when good work was impracticable, have lasted nearly twenty years, and are in practically good condition now, and give promise of many years' further use.

• • •

THE LETTERS published in the Examiner from day to day, show that the public interest in the sanitary question is lively, and show also that the public have no excess of confidence in the way the health of the town is being protected — or, perhaps, neglected. And it cannot be denied that there is some ground for the feeling of unrest and uneasiness that exists. A man is not necessarily an alarmist because he sees the danger he is in from a vicious bull charging towards him across a pasture.

• • •

THE PEOPLE themselves are, to a certain extent, to blame for the conditions that exist. They seem to take as a body absolutely no interest in electing men to look after their interests, and thousands of citizens who know better, and can do better, neglect the most common sanitary precautions, and in many cases are loud in their complaints of the authorities, when they, themselves, are largely to blame.

SANITATION VERSUS DISEASE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir, — With the numerous cases of infectious diseases in our midst, and in order to endeavour to stamp it out, our Board of Health should wake up, and take some definite action in the matter. Firstly, our Board of Health regulations are a farce; the town expended a large amount of money to put in sewers, and yet only those who wish connect with same. Why not enforce a bylaw whereby every landlord must connect his premises with the sewer, and not have the yards as they now are, in seven cases out of ten, dumping grounds for all kinds of waste, sewage, and other garbage. If only some of the members of the Board of Health would take the trouble to walk into some of the backyards, they would see for themselves, and not be wondering from "Whence arises these diseases?"

It always seemed a farce to me the annual spring inspection of yards, when inspectors, who no doubt, meant well, but were ignorant of the source from whence germs arise, made a fuss over a few barrelsfull of manure, and ordered its removal, and yet the very ground on which they were standing was soaked with household slops, etc.

If the Board of Health enforced public sewerage connection, and proper dust bins in yards, which should be emptied every day or so, they would be doing something for the public benefit, in stamping out infectious diseases. What we want on the Board of Health, are active young men, who will not be afraid to speak out and put down any public danger when occasion arises.

As I don't believe in writing under a nom de plume, I sign myself fully,

"THE MINERAL BATH CITY."

Twenty-one miles north of Detroit is situated Mount Clemens,, a city known as "The Carlsbad of America," at which place thousands of people visit every year for treatment of different ailments; and the wonderful cures that are made with rheumatic sufferers are almost miraculous. Principal among the diseases cured are those that accrue from traces of uric acid in the blood. But the waters of the spring are a panacea and cure for billous and liver troubles, digestive troubles, nervous disorders, general debility, etc.

A handsome booklet giving all particulars with regard to Mount Clemens, can be had by applying to J. D. McDonald, District Passenger Agent, G. T. R., Toronto.

A LABOUR-SAVING MACHINE.

Combined Wood Sawing and Splitting Outfit.

A Long Felt Want Supplied at R. Hicks & Co's Wood Yard.

One of those long felt wants which the public have been waiting for has at last been supplied by Messrs. R. Hicks & Co., coal and wood merchants, corner Murray and Bethune streets. It consists of a combined wood sawing and splitting machine, capable of sawing and splitting cordwood any particular length desired, from 8 to 24 inches. Messrs. Hicks & Co. state that they have been induced to invest in the necessary machinery and plant for this purpose by the extra demand created this winter for short wood for use in coal ranges, instead of coal, at its present excessive high figure.

The new machinery installed for this combined outfit consists of an improved Gould, Sharpley & Muir steel galvanized sawing machine with movable saw table, to which is attached a 30-inch circular saw, that will cut up the wood as fast as it can be fed to it. This sawing machine is mounted in the centre of a heavy substantial wood frame, and on one end of this frame, convenient to the saw, stands a powerful Hildreth patent wood splitter, with a six-inch axe face, 24 inches long, and connected with an 800-lb. balance wheel. The machinery is driven by one of the Canadian General Electric Company's 10-horse power induction motors erected on the other end of the wood frame, the power being supplied by the Otonabee Power Company through two 220-volt transformers.

Mr. G. Walter Green of the Ontario Foundry, supplied and erected the machinery in a satisfactory manner, in accordance with the plans and instructions of Mr. Hicks.

Messrs. Hicks & Co. have also closed a contract with the Otonabee Power Company for lighting the whole of their offices, warerooms, sheds and yards, which should prove a great convenience to the public as well as to the firm.

HOME LIFE SACRED.

King Edward Annoyed at Publication of Gossip in the Papers—Line Now Strictly Drawn.

Much as he appreciates the pomp and circumstance of Royalty on public and State occasions, King Edward is annoyed by the publication of details of his private life, which have recently been constantly appearing in the daily and weekly newspapers.

After each visit of a theatrical company or individual performers to Sandringham or Windsor, the newspapers have been filled with interviews with the actors, who gave descriptions of the scenes. One actor described a conversation at a supper; another gave a kindly, appreciative account of the Kaiser's actions. An actress did much the same for the Queen. She also described how the customs in the Royal circle had been altered. The charity bob, as the short curtsey which was used in Queen Victoria's time was called, has disappeared, and all the women make sweeping curtsies. The slight bow over the Sovereign's hand has been replaced by a very low bow, almost as if a person were going to kiss the hand of the King.

His Majesty has now intimated to his friends that he is of the opinion that the privacy of his home life should be as sacred as that of the meanest of his subjects. At a dinner one day recently his Majesty declared that he disliked all interviews and personalities in the newspapers. Twice during the last two weeks King Edward has taken decisive steps to carry out the new plan. When "Quality Street" was performed at Windsor, it was intimated that no particular account should be given to the newspapers in addition to the officials one in the Court Circular. When the company returned to London it was noticed that every member refused to be interviewed. The exception was when the King gave permission for a special photograph of Sandringham for an illustrated magazine article, but he added that pictures should not be taken of any of the private apartments or the large reception rooms.

Sir Edward Russell, writing on this subject in The Liverpool Post, says:—

"I ought to be frankly pointed out that the most notable people in society themselves write paragraphs about our doings. I know at least five peeresses who do not scruple to tell their intimate friends that they drop a line every week to a journalist, intimating where they have been. Indeed, the passion for imparting information and self-advertisement is boundless."

DID YOU SWEAR OFF?

Eating Rich Dinners or did you Decide to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Did you swear off? Did the dark brown taste in your mouth, the feeling of utter discomfort, the weariness that knows no rest, the heavy headache, and that sickening at the sight of food tempt you to forswear New Year's dinners and New Year's celebrations forever?

If you did no one needs to be told you have not used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are made just for such cases as yours. They are made to help the overworked stomach. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food almost without assistance from the stomach, and consequently the stomach gets that rest it needs.

You can rest assured that if there were no over worked stomachs there would be no Indigestion nor Dyspepsia. Give the stomach a rest. Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and the pains and aches will depart, the "blues" will go with them, and you will start the New Year feeling as if life was worth living and you could prove it.

One or two of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after each meal is an insurance policy against discomfort.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

STARVES TO DEATH IN NEW YORK.

Stalwart Pole Falls to Pavement Crying, "I am Hungry."

New York, Jan. 2.—A stalwart young man died of starvation yesterday as he was wandering through Elm street looking for food. He has not been identified.

The man stopped before Ahearn's bar and restaurant, at Elm and Franklin streets. He opened the door and looked in. A score of men were sitting at little tables eating steaming soups and roast meats. The man saw a "bouncer" wave his hand toward the street, and went away.

Policeman Stephenson took him by the arm. "What's the matter there, friend?" he asked. The man turned his sunken eyes on the policeman and pointed to his body. "I'm hungry," said he in Polish. Ther he fell over on the pavement.

"I'm hungry," he said again. He was carried into a stable, where he died. The coroner decided that death was caused by starvation.

Has Been a Member of Red Chamber Since Its Inception.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 2.—Hon. T. E. Armand, the representative of the division of Repentigny, in the Dominion Senate, died in the city last night. Senator Armand was one of the few remaining members of the Senate who saw power applied to that body by royal proclamation on its organization in 1867. He had previously been a member of the legislative council of Canada. He was born at Riviere Desprairies, Que., in 1820. He was a Conservative in politics. This leaves six vacancies in the Senate.

LOBSTER FISHING INDUSTRY.

Newfoundland Will Renew Anglo-French Modus Vivendi.

St. John's, Nfld. Jan. 2.—The Anglo-French modus vivendi, governing the prosecution of the lobster fishing industry on the French shore of Newfoundland expired Wednesday. The colonial Government has agreed to renew this agreement for the present year in order to avoid complications during the consideration of the Bond-Hay treaty in Washington and London.

Wireless 'Cross Country.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 3.—Marconi, it is said, is preparing to instal a wireless transcontinental service through Canada. This city is to be the half-way house of the system.

Cable to Honolulu.

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—The Associated Press has received a message from Hawaii that the San Francisco end of the cable was picked up yesterday afternoon, and that the splicing will be completed about 2 a.m. to-day, when communication with Honolulu will be opened.

New York's New Chief of Police.

New York, Jan. 2.—General Francis V. Greene yesterday assumed the office of Commissioner of Police, succeeding Col. Partridge.

PRINCE OF WALES COMING.

Report Says He Will Visit United States With Lord Roberts.

Boston, Jan. 2.—The loyal Britons and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery were gladdened last night when it was announced that Lord Roberts would surely visit America early in the summer, and that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught and Earl Denbigh will come with him. Colonel Thomas Jefferson Olys of the Ancients said last night that preparations will be begun at once on an lavish scale to entertain the distinguished guests. The American itinerary includes visits to Montreal, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, West Point, New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH.

Aged Couple Lost Their Lives Two Miles From Gatineau Point.

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Phillias Pichette and his wife Marie, an old couple living about two miles east of Gatineau Point, were burned to death in their house Wednesday night. Mr. Pichette and his wife were about 60 years of age. Their family having grown up and married, they had been living by themselves.

Passed Dangerous Stage.

Boston, Jan. 2.—For some days no report warranting new quarantine measures has been received relative to the foot and mouth disease among Massachusetts cattle. This has strengthened the conviction of Dr. Peers, chief of the cattle bureau, that the disease in the commonwealth has passed the dangerous stage.

Cause of Splitting Headaches.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache.

Ferrozone is Nature's own remedy for headaches; it is a blood strengthener and purifier of uncommon merit, a lasting potent tonic and the greatest invigorant and health maker known. Headaches never bother people who take Ferrozone after each meal. Buy a box from your druggist for 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

NERVOUS HEADACHE.

The Cause of Much Suffering to Women is 'Permanently Cured When the System is Built up by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Headache powders relieve headaches, but they have never cured them, and they are not intended to make a lasting cure. Besides the risk run in using a drug that is strong enough to instantly stop pain, you may be sure that the reaction on the nervous system is most trying and injurious.

Mrs. Clancy, whose letter is quoted below, was subject to headaches for nineteen years, and in spite of all the headache remedies she used she could get no lasting benefit. She suffered so severely when the attacks would come on that she could not go about the house. She has restored her nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and her headaches have entirely disappeared.

Mrs. Jas. Clancy, 714 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I have used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found them an excellent medicine. I was troubled more or less for nineteen years with severe headaches, which made me useless as far as accomplishing my work was concerned.

"The Nerve Food seemed to build me up generally, and so made a thorough cure of my old trouble. I would not think of being without Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house and would strongly recommend anyone suffering as I did to give it a trial. It succeeded in my case after a great many remedies had failed."

To the thousands of women who are victims of nervous headaches this letter should prove of inestimable value. If they will but follow the advice of Mrs. Clancy they can be certain of great and lasting benefit.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

PATCHWORK PUZZLE.

Here's a Good Hour of Pure Fun For Boys and Girls.

Here is a puzzle which will tax your brains to solve and which will give you a good hour of pure fun when you try it, especially if you do it with some little friend. In the first place, the figures and their positions are so unusual and different from those you usually see that there is a lot of novelty in the ways you can arrange them. You should cut out each piece carefully and then fit them all together. When each piece is in its proper place, you will have a complete picture.

There are several ways of arranging the pieces and several pictures you can make out of them, and each one is very funny, indeed, as you will find when you have tried it.

The Spoon Game.

The spoon game is a pleasant amusement for a party where the guests are all known to each other.

The players form a circle, in the middle of which stands the spoon handler, blindfolded. The players join hands and move around to music played on the piano. Suddenly the music stops, and the players stop too.

Then the spoon handler, who holds a long wooden spoon, reaches out with it and gropes about until he touches one of the players. That player must then stand perfectly still, and the handler touches him all over with the spoon to try to discover who he is.

It is easier than many persons think to discover one's identity by spoon touching, and therefore the players should attempt some disguise to deceive the handler. It is allowed to tiptoe or to stoop a little, so that your height may not betray you. Boys may turn up their coat collars or put a handkerchief where the shirt front shows—any simple thing to make them different from what they were before the handler was blindfolded.

When the spoon handler makes a correct guess, the player named has to take his place.

A Snakelike Lizard.

In the reptile house of the zoological gardens of London is a case which contains several curious sand skinks and has lately also become the home of a curious relative of these four footed lizards. Living specimens of this species are seldom brought to the temperate zone. It is a native of Australia and Tasmania and is called the limbless or scale footed lizard. It is about twenty inches long, with shining scales of sober colors, but the under surface is pale, with a few dark dots and bars running around its body near the head. The small legs are entirely hidden under the skin, so that this lizard is as easily taken for a snake as is its English cousin, the blindworm, but the mild expression of its head is furnished with well formed eyelids, and the tongue is slight and thick and can only extend a short distance from the mouth. This lizard owes its name to the fact that where the body merges into the tail is a pair of narrow, scaly flaps, pressed tightly to their sides when the reptile is at rest, but used to propel it when in motion, and these flaps entirely cover the small toe bones.

Invisible Writing.

Write upon paper with a diluted solution of muriate of copper. When dry it will not be visible, but on being warmed before the fire the writing will become bright yellow. Write with a pure solution of cobalt, and the letters will be of a green color. With acetate of cobalt or with purified muriate of cobalt the writing will be blue. Draw a landscape with some colored ink and paint the foliage of the trees and flowers with muriate of cobalt, some of the blossoms, etc., with acetate of cobalt and others with muriate of copper. While the picture is cold it will appear to be merely an outline of a landscape or winter scene, but when gently warmed the trees and flowers will be displayed in their natural colors, which they will preserve only while they continue warm. This may be often repeated.

Belinda.

Belinda's eyes are china blue;
Belinda's nose is flat;
Belinda's hair is really hair;
She wears it in a plait.
It's true Belinda's made of rags,
But what is that to me?
Because I'm sure her hair must grow;
Her hair is real, you see.

And when I fasten on her clothes
And have to use a pin
She doesn't mind it in the least
How far I stick it in.
I'm sure she feels it, for, although
She doesn't seem to care,
There must be something in a doll
Whose hair is really hair.

Changed His Ticket.

An entertaining story is told of a railway manager in Wales whose identity was not known to the ticket collector of an outlying station. He was walking through the station door when the collector surprised him with a request for his ticket.

"My face is my ticket," he said, with much pleasantry.

"Oh," said the collector, "my orders are to punch all tickets!"

DRESS HINTS.

Always make underskirts about an inch shorter than dress skirts.

To prevent stockings wearing at the heels line the backs of shoes with a piece of black velvet.

To mend a tear buttonhole stitch closely around the edges once or twice, as the size of the rent may require, and then join the edges together.

Equal parts of ammonia and spirits of turpentine will take paint out of clothing, no matter how dry or hard the paint may be. Saturate the spot two or three times, then wash out in soapsuds.

It is never economical to wear a street dress in the house. Nothing stretches a bodice or wrinkles a skirt so much as lounging in it. Charming house gowns can be made of much less expensive materials than are required for street costumes.

Before stitching any bias seam of a dress skirt put a piece of tape between the goods and the lining of one side and stitch through it. This effectually prevents the stretching and drooping at the seams which so often entirely mars the appearance of an otherwise successfully made skirt.

The Baby's Ears.

Many children have ears that stand out. This is always more or less an eyesore to the mother and disfiguring to the child when older. With a little pains this may be overcome. First, never allow the child to lie on his side with his ear doubled over. Be careful when his cap is put on when he goes out that the ears are carefully laid back flat against the head. If the case is a stubborn one and the ears persist in standing out, take about a yard of gauze bandage one and a half inches wide, place the center of it on the forehead and bring the ends down on either side of the head, covering the upper part of the ears. Carry it down, crossing the ends at the back of the neck, and bring up over the ears a trifle lower than before and fasten just over where you started. This should be done every night when the child goes to bed. The bandage may also be worn during the day if necessary. Before putting this bandage on dust powder behind the ears to prevent chafing. The bandage should be put on quite tight.—Marianna Wheeler in Harper's Bazar.

Definitions of Home.

Recently a London magazine sent out 1,000 inquiries on the question "What is home?" In selecting the classes to respond to the question it was particular to see that every one was represented. The poorest and the richest were given an equal opportunity to express their sentiment. Out of 800 replies received seven gems were selected as follows:

A world of strife shut out, a world of love shut in.

The place where the small are great and the great are small.

The father's kingdom, the mother's world and the child's paradise.

The place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.

The center of our affection, round which our heart's best wishes twine.

The place where our stomachs get three meals daily and our hearts a thousand.

The only place on earth where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.

Industrial Life.

There has been in some quarters a disposition to regard the presence of women in industrial life as an abnormal condition of affairs, and, therefore, as something to be discouraged by all means possible. This opinion is the opinion of those who look at the question only superficially, those who are ignorant of economic history, who fail to comprehend the working of economic laws and the changes in industrial conditions which have taken place during the last half century. The industrial history of the last half century is not a history of the increased employment of women. It is simply a history of industrial readjustment. Women have always been workers, but changes have taken place in the conditions under which they work.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Odd Dish.

The next time baking is to be done if there is room in the oven try a recipe for baked soup taken from Dainty Dishes. Two pounds of lean beef, one head of celery, two turnips, one teacup of chopped parsley, four or five tomatoes (or half a can of tomatoes), one-half cupful of rice, pepper and salt, five pints of cold water. Cut the meat into dice, peel and chop all the vegetables, add the rice and seasoning and put into a strong earthen pot. Pour in the water, fit a cover on closely and set in the oven in a pan of hot water. Bake as long as possible. Six hours is not too long.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. Price, $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills.

Orange Flower Water.

Orange flower water is excellent for soothing a nervous baby. It is made of the leaves of the orange tree, contains no other ingredient and is absolutely harmless. Ten drops with sugar in a wineglass of water will make the baby's nerves quiet down, and a little stronger dose will do the mother good. It can be bought anywhere and should be kept in a cool, dark place.

The Soup.

Sometimes the soup is too greasy and there is no time to let it cool and remove the fat in the usual way. Every particle of fat can be removed from hot broth by passing it through a clean white cloth wet in cold water. All the fat will remain on the cloth and may be obtained by scraping or by putting the cloth into hot water.

A Story of Robespierre.

The story is told of Robespierre that at one time, when at the height of his power, a lady called upon him, beseeching him to spare her husband's life. He scornfully refused. As she turned away she happened to tread upon the paw of his pet dog. He turned upon her and asked, "Madam, have you no humanity?"

Revenge.

Small Boy—Give me a large bottle of the worst medicine you've got in your store.

Druggist—What's the matter?

"Well, I've been left all alone with grandma, and she's suddenly been taken sick, and I'm going to get even with her!"—Life.

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription."

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulks, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Children's Questions.

In dealing with children's questions mothers should be careful to discriminate between those which are asked from the desire to know and those which are the outcome merely of a childish love of talking. The latter are often best dealt with by saying quite gently, "If you think a little, dear, you will be able to answer that for your self."

To questions of the former class the mother should reply, if possible, as carefully as she would to an adult questioner. If the matter be beyond the child's comprehension or unsuitable for explanation to one of tender years, never make a foolish or evasive answer. Say simply: "I cannot explain that to you now, for you are not old enough to understand it. By and by, when you are older, if you come and ask me again I will do my best to tell you what you want to know."

If parents would speak thus to their children, instead of snubbing or laughing at their questions, they would keep their confidence.

Signing With the Cross.

Signing with the cross was first practiced by Christians to distinguish themselves from the pagans. In ancient times kings and nobles used the sign of the cross, whether they could write or not, as a symbol that the person making it pledged himself by his Christian faith to the truth of the matter to which he affixed it.

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

MAKE NERVOUS, WEAK, DISEASED MEN.

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body induced by heat and exposure are constantly wrecking the lives and future happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, at the blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless and melancholy existence. Others reach matrimony but find no solace or comfort there. The victims are found in all stations of life—the farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions. Nervous Debility and Seminal Weakness are guaranteed cured by our New Method Treatment or No Pay. You run no risk 25 years in Detroit. Bank security.

CURED WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED. We assess send without written consent.

"I am 33 years of age and married. When young I led a gay life. Early indiscretions and later excesses made trouble for me. I became weak and nervous. My kidneys became affected and I feared Bright's Disease. Married Life was unsatisfactory and my home unhappy. I tried everything—all failed till I took treatment from Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. Their New Method built me up mentally, physically and sexually. I feel and act like a man in every respect. They treated me six years ago. They are honest, skilful and responsible financially, so why patronize Quacks and Fakirs when you can be cured by reliable doctors."—W. A. Belton.

The above statement is considered excellent. Money 6 per cent.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago :

New York, Jan. 3.—Morning Letter.—Impossible to make forecast of statement owing to shifting of loans and uncertain currency ; but our opinion is, it will make fairly good showing. Although loan account may have proved to be increased, the banks have undoubtedly gained from deposits, and some gain from interior, which up to Wednesday night amounted to $3,000,000. Some setback in prices would not be out of order, and on any break, we think good stocks might be bought.

Banks gained $791,000 from Treasury yesterday.

M. & M.

New York, Jan. 3.—The week in stock markets has been noteworthy from outburst of bullish sentiment and active re-buying of stocks by commission houses and aggressiveness of some of the larger operators as well as trading element generally on bull side. Consideration of every favourable conditions surrounding market with every prospect of country's prosperity continuing for at least another year, and belief that money markets will work gradually easier from now on has encouraged this movement. Bullish sentiment prevails and most everyone appears to be expecting higher prices. While we believe underlying conditions favourable to a season of active bull speculation, it must be remembered that existing conditions are far different from those which prevailed three weeks ago. Prices since then have risen 10 to 15 points and short interest has been pretty well eliminated and the generality of professional traders, as well as outsiders, have been buying stocks back during the past fortnight from the capitalists and other large moneyed interests, which were forced to come in to market and protect it from running into panicky conditions during depressions, which continued up to middle of last month. The interests have such large profits on their holdings that they are inclined to secure them and as a consequence a continued good supply of stocks may be expected to come from these sources, especially at every bulge. Thus a setback in market would be only natural and could occur from the trading element and smaller speculators overbuying and being freightened into selling by any bad news, such as the spread of the U. P. strike or failure of expected easier money to materialize or advance foreign exchange to gold exporting rather than otherwise.

MUNICIPAL FUEL YARD.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner :

Dear Sir,—While there is a general feeling that the establishment of a town fuel depot would be premature, yet it seems to be desirable that a large vote should be polled, if only to show the coal and wood dealers that it would be unwise to enter into combination to keep up fuel prices and thus "kill the goose that lays the golden eggs." A combination of the people, if it is forced, is bound to be stronger than a combination of a few individuals. Such a vote would be a warning against forming a combination to keep up fuel prices as was done, I believe, two years ago as a result of which coal sold in Peterborough at from 50 to 75 cents a ton dearer than in surrounding towns with no better transportation facilities than Peterborough.

Yours turly,

"FUEL."

Peterborough, Jan. 3rd, 1903.

GRAND TRUNK EXHIBITION IN JAPAN.

The Grand Trunk Railway System through the Exhibition Commissioners, of Canada, at Ottawa, have just shipped a very fine and complete collection of their well known scenic views, depicting scenes along their line, to the land of the Chrysanthemum, for display at the fifth National Exhibition of Japan, which will open in the city of Osaka, March 1st, 1903. The collection includes some of the best pictures of the districts in the "Highlands of Ontario," and other summer resorts located on the Grand Trunk, as well as reproductions of several of the engineering feats on the line, such as the St. Clair Tunnel, the double-track, single arch steel bridge across the Niagara Gorge, and the more recent Victoria Jubilee Bridge, across the St. Lawrence, at Montreal. This series of pictures will make a very comprehensive display, and will be the means of bringing before the people of the Orient some of the charms of Canada which have hitherto been unknown.

The Stationary Washstand.

For the stationary washstand, which has not quite outlived its usefulness, the latest note is to have the back of stained glass and about eighteen inches high. Closet doors are also embellished by the addition of stained glass, a small panel usually consisting of six squares being placed near the top of the door.

DISCUSS MUNICIPAL MATTERS

exemption if he had asked for it before building, and he considered that his factory was an advertisement for the town, as his goods go all over the continent, and also to Europe. Mr. Turner considered that the T. V. C. should be agitated for until completed. It would be the means of greatly reducing freight rates on coal and other commodities. He thought we should have a postal delivery, and that the town should own its lighting facilities. The speaker said we had too many poles on our streets, and that the wires should go underground.

MR. D. O'CONNELL

claimed to be a young man, like Mr. McWilliams. He thought that Peterborough should be a city, and that its natural advantages had not been exploited in the past. Peterborough had unique advantages over every other trade centre in Canada, in position and water power. He claimed that the councils of the last had neglected to advertise the advantages of the town sufficiently. There was no necessity for undue bonusing, because of Peterborough's competing railways, the Trent canal, and central position. We have unlimited water power, which would compensate for lack of exemption and bonuses. Factories should have a fixed assessment. Increased population means increased trade, but also means increased taxes, which fall in the long run on the working man. Caution is therefore necessary in bonuses. He held that the water works had not benefitted the town as much as expected. People ought to get their water at lower rates, and get the benefit of any profit in operating the system. Working men in their unions have a right to the consideration of the council. The council should act a conciliation board whenever necessary. The working classes would benefit from this, as they suffer the most from strikes. He concluded with an appeal for the support of the ratepayers.

ALDERMAN BATTEN

said it was much easier to talk of what might be done than to do it. He claimed that Peterborough had made great strides during the past two years, and the aldermen had done their best to advance the advent of factories. The first question was that of bonuses and exemptions, and if these were not granted, promoters went to some other town.

A gentleman in the audience complained about the furnace in the Fire Hall not being, as he said, a union job.

Ald. Batten said that Mr. Adam Hall had received the contract, and the Hamilton Manufacturing Company made the furnace.

ALD. MORRISON

gave account of his stewardship and discussed the $20,000 bylaw for bridges and permanent improvements. The council he said, has only a controllable income of $15,000, out of $80,000. Last year $13,000 was spent on streets and bridges, leaving only $2,000 for other purposes. He advocated the construction of permanent works in the centre of the town. Regarding the fuel yard question, would the coal and wood be cheaper? he asked. He was in favour of municipal ownership if it does not impair the financial position of the town in selling debentures. It would cost $50,000 to establish a fuel yard, as they can't do things by halves. If we can't sell all the fuel required there would be no use in touching it. As to Mr. Turner's bylaw, he said that he objected on principle to bonuses.

Rev. J. C. Davidson moved a vote of thanks to the retiring Mayor and Council for efficient services rendered during the past year. He compared Peterborough's council with the councils of other towns. We wanted better roads, and generally a more beautiful town, if possible. He thought all classes should be represented on the council of the town, and he contended that people should be interested in the election and vote for the best men presenting themselves.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Layfield and carried unanimously.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. J. Boxall, of Woodstock, is in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarthy, Lake street.

Mr. Chas. H. Keefer, says the Ottawa, left last evening for Toronto and Peterborough, and will return on Sunday.

Dr. Perry Goldsmith, of Belleville, has been appointed specialist in eye and ear diseases at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville. The doctor is eminently qualified for the position, says the "Belleville Intelligencer.

Norwood Register: Miss Florence Miller, of Peterborough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Eaton..... Mr. Wm. E. Griffith, son of the late Wm. Griffith, of Belmont, who has been out west for some time past, and returned recently is now lying dangerously ill at his mother's residence in Havelock.....Mr. Chas. Blezard, youngest son of Mr. Thomas Blezard, ex-M.P.P., who has been employed as junior clerk in the Ontario Bank at Tweed, during the past two years, has been promoted to the position of teller.....Arrangements are being made with Crossley and Hunter, the well-known evangelists, to visit Campbellford the latter part of April or the beginning of May, and conduct special services for a few weeks.

FOR ALDERMEN.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

Ladies and Gentlemen,—As I have once more been nominated for the position of Alderman for the Town, I take this opportunity of stating that I am in the field again as a candidate for 1903. My aim in the past has been to lean towards the most careful economy in the management of our municipal affairs. At the same time, if elected, I will always give my support to such measures as are calculated to build up and maintain the prosperity of our live and growing town.

Your Obedient Servant,

JOS. BATTEN.

TO THE ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

Ladies and Gentlemen,—A large number of the citizens of the Town of Peterborough having requested me to be a candidate at the forthcoming elections for Aldermen, I have decided to comply with their request.

I most respectfully ask your support and I assure you that if I should be elected my time and attention will be unreservedly placed at the disposal of the town, and I will endeavour, to the best of my ability, to further its interests in every respect.

Wishing you a Happy New Year, I am,

Respectfully yours,

D. O'CONNELL.

TO THE ELECTORS

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

Having again been favoured with the nomination for Alderman for the Town of Peterborough, I have consented to become a candidate. I think I can, with confidence, look to you for a further continuance of your kind support. My record in the Council for the past three years is before you. Should you do me the honour of electing me for another term, I will continue to aim at the general welfare and progress of the municipality as a whole. With thanks for your confidence in the past, I remain

Yours truly,

R. OLINKSCALE.

FOR ALDERMAN.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—At the request of many ratepayers largely interested in the welfare of the town, I have accepted the nomination for Alderman for 1903.

Should you again elect me to assist in the management of our municipal affairs, I will use my best judgment in all matters that may come before the Council. I believe in a progressive policy, and, for that reason, a liberal policy with respect to encouraging live industries to locate in our midst, without any sacrifice of the interests of the ratepayers. As my individual interests are all centred in the Town of Peterborough, it follows that whatever is for the welfare of the ratepayers, generally, will be my interest to assist. Being strongly opposed to the practice of canvassing for votes, I ask the ratepayers to accord me their voluntary support at the polls.

Respectfully yours,

J. J. TURNER.

Peterborough, Dec. 31, 1902.

ASHBURNHAM REEVESHIP.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Having been nominated as a candidate for the Reeveship of the Village of Ashburnham, I have decided to accept the same.

While I shall be pleased to have the support of the electors — freely and voluntarily bestowed — I wish to have it understood that I am opposed to personal canvassing, preferring to leave my candidature in the hands of the electors, without solicitation or promise.

If you think that my ability to serve you justifies you in according me your conscientious support, I shall, if elected, endeavour to justify your confidence by a faithful, economical and business-like management of our corporation affairs.

Wishing all the electors — whether they vote for me or not — and their families, a very happy New Year, I remain,

Yours truly,

GEORGE STEVENS.

Ashburnham, Dec. 30, 1902.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF THE—

Village of Ashburnham

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having been repeatedly urged to stand for Councillor for the Village for 1903, I have accepted the nomination tendered me on Monday last.

I therefore respectfully solicit your votes and support. You may rest assured that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure the very best service to the municipality at as little cost as is consistent with good work.

Among other things, I will favour the construction of granolithic walks on the principal streets of the Village, payment to be extended over a term of years, on the basis of a frontage tax.

Your Obedient Servant,

ALLAN McCARTHY.

Fourth Annual January White Goods Sale.

COMMENCING MONDAY, JANUARY FIFTH.

A bountiful gathering of White Goods of every description for this "greater growing" annual event—Sutcliffe's White Goods Sale. Never have we gathered so lavishly. Never have we had the opportunity to gather so bountifully. Not unsought for we assure you, were these numerous lines and big ranges, but a keen search after the best qualities and rare values, coupled with the manufacturer's knowledge of the buying capacity of our own Syndicate Stores, have caused us to group under our roof the genuinely good lines which we will have to offer during our January White Goods Sale.

The first January we were in Peterborough we inaugurated what was then unknown to Peterborough—a January White Goods Sale. It was held on the ground floor. By the encouragement we received, we went into it the next season on a larger scale; and the second January we occupied much more room on the floor above, when a more liberal trade was given us.

The Third January, owing to the increased preparations, we were compelled to tear down partitions for that month (January), and elevate our workrooms to the third floor. The pronounced success of this, our third sale, gives us confidence to venture still more boldly into this.

Our Fourth January White Sale, when partitions have had to again come down, and temporary quarters found on the ground floor for our workrooms, fitting rooms, etc., and our Mantle and Millinery Depts. condensed in order to display

Over Thirty-one Hundred Garments of Whitewear.
One Hundred and Ten Pieces of White Muslins.
Besides, White Cottons, Embroideries, Lace Handkerchiefs,
Table Linens, Curtains, Curtain Ends, Etc.

Remember every Garment of the 3100 referred to, and every piece of the 110 pieces of White Muslins is new—just introduced to Peterborough within the past ten days.

When we tell you that our range of Whitewear consists of hundreds of styles, you will realize how impossible it would be to give you other than just a hint of the styles and values. We do no boasting when we state that our range of Whitewear is as comprehensive as the ordinary Whitewear manufacturers full lines, and we honestly believe that one could count on the fingers of one hand the manufacturers who show a bigger range of styles.

The values our January White Goods Sale will offer cannot but command the attention of every wise woman.

White Goods Values that will commend themselves:—

CASTRO'S ABDICATION.

Circumstances Against His Holding on as Venezuelan Executive Seem to Be Very Strong.

New York, Jan. 5.—A cipher message received directly from Venezuela Saturday night indicates that President Castro has either abdicated or is about to abdicate his post as the executive head of the Venezuelan Government.

Castro's Position Is Critical.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Herald's correspondent at Willemstad, Curacoa, says yesterday: President Castro's position is daily becoming more critical. Beset by foreign enemies afloat and by domestic foes ashore, the cordon is rapidly tightening around him.

Its treasury bankrupt, the Venezuelan Government is now absolutely without money, and the outlook in Caracas is ominous. When the end comes, which now appears inevitable, Gen Castro must probably yield to his enemies.

The National Bank of Venezuela has now in its coffers only $2,400 in cash and the other Government resources are about exhausted.

It has become impossible to serve adequate rations to the troops under arms, and for the first time since 1892 the soldiers in the field can neither be paid for their services nor properly fed.

If the financial outlook is bad, the military situation is hardly more flattering from the Governmental point of view. On Wednesday the Government troops, under Modesta, President Castro's best general, were disastrously defeated near Guatire by the revolutionary troops under Gen. Antonio Fernandes, the insurgent commander.

President Castro on Friday sent to the front 1,500 Andine troops, with two field guns, the entire force under the command of Gen. Campbell Acosta, who will try to check the further advance of the revolutionists toward the capital along that line.

There is no doubt that since the expiration of the armistice the revolutionary forces have been thoroughly reorganized and materially strengthened. Their armies are now marching upon Caracas from no less than three different directions.

The Government in this imminent crisis is short of ammunition as well as of money, the blockade of the allied powers having cut off all possibility of restocking its arsenals. Desperate efforts are being made to get cartridges through from Puerto Rico. There are only 2,000,000 in stock.

Unless the blockade be suspended immediately President Castro's fall from power, either by abdication or enforced deposition, seems inevitable.

Financial Panic at Caracas.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Jan. 5.—There was a financial panic at Caracas Saturday. A large number of small traders and private depositors went together to the office of the Bank of Venezuela for the purpose of exchanging the bank notes for silver. The bank refused to change more than $20 worth of notes for any one person and in the afternoon closed its doors.

Nothing Accruing.

Lamb—I have an investment there, but I have seen no interest on it up to the present moment.

G.T.R. FIREMEN KILLED

A. Desault and C. Waring Lose Their Lives at Merritton.

ANOTHER G. T. R. COLLISION.

The Engineers Also Seriously Injured But Will Likely Recover—The Chicago Morning Express Saturday Ran Into a Light Engine—The Express Car Telescopes and Envelopes the Tender.

St. Catharines, Jan. 5. — Two Grand Trunk firemen lost their lives and two engineers were seriously injured in a collision between the Chicago express and a light engine, about two miles east of Merritton station, about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The dead are:

Abraham Desault, Sarnia, fireman of the Chicago express.

C. Waring, London, fireman of mogul engine No. 975.

The injured—Thomas Buckpit and David Duke, engineers, both of Sarnia.

The collision occurred about forty yards west of the tunnel under the Welland Canal. At this point the track takes a sharp curve and is enclosed between high banks, making it impossible for the men in charge of the engines to see very far ahead of them. The westbound engine was running light to Merritton, and it is supposed that the engineer in charge, Thomas Buckpit, failed to carry out orders delivered to him at Niagara Falls. There is a telegraph station at St. David's, about midway between Niagara Falls and Merritton, and instead of taking a siding there he probably thought he could reach Merritton before the express was expected to arrive there.

Both engine and express were going at a pretty rapid rate, and the force of the collision was sufficient to cause the almost complete demolition of both engines. The boiler of one was driven into the other, and the bodies and trappings were twisted and broken, but the wheels remained intact and on the rails. An express car was telescoped by the tender, but the passenger cars were not damaged, and the passengers escaped with nothing more than a shaking up and a bad scare.

Fireman Desault was pinned between the head of the locomotive and the tender, with both legs cut off, while the engineer of the express and the fireman of the light engine were thrown about fifty feet. The engineer of the light engine was found on the bank.

Fire broke out shortly after the impact, in the express car, but it was soon subdued. A wrecking train from Niagara Falls arrived at the scene in an hour and a half and the line was cleared before night.

Fireman Desault was killed outright, and Fireman Waring died about half an hour after reaching the St. Catharines hospital, where the whole medical staff had assembled to render immediate aid.

Coroner Goodman empanneled a jury which assembled at 3 o'clock in the Merritton Town Hall, and after hearing the evidence of the deceased fireman, and Dr. Vanderberg, Grand Trunk physician, adjourned till Tuesday next.

Engineer Buckpit's collarbone is broken, his left knee joint fractured, and he has a deep scalp wound. Engineer Duke's most serious injury is a broken leg. He has also several cuts about the body. Both will likely recover.

1 Killed, 27 Injured.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 5.—In Saturday night's wreck on the Southern Railway, near this city, Engineer White was the only person killed. Twenty-seven passengers were more or less injured.

FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE.

Monsignor Sbarretti Given a Warm Welcome in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Monsignor Donato Sbarretti, Papal delegate to Canada, made his first public appearance last night at a reception held in the Catholic Cathedral here. The great church was crowded. Archbishop Duhamel welcomed the delegate on behalf of the Canadian Catholics.

Mgr. Sbarretti, who is a splendid speaker, in English, made an eloquent reply. He expressed thanks for the warmth of the reception tendered him, and said it manifested the great faith in the church displayed by Canadian Catholics. He would report to the Pontiff, whose representative he is, and the great head of the church in the midst of his trials would be pleased and grateful to know that the Canadians at least were loyal and faithful.

Hon. R. W. Scott was the only member of the Government present.

Difference of Opinion.

"How did that poem of yours turn out?"

"Oh," answered the author, "there was the difference of opinion that usually attends the production of a masterpiece. The postmaster insisted that it was first class matter and the editor insisted that it was not."

CONSOLIDATED RURAL SCHOOLS.

Prof. Robertson Makes a Tour of Investigation.

AN IMPROVED ATTENDANCE.

Pupils Conveyed to School in Comfortable Van.

Children Prefer the new System to the old Method of Small Local Schools—High School Work can be Done in Consolidated Schools.

Special Despatch to the Globe.

Ottawa, December 28.—Prof. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying, has returned from a visit of investigation and observation to a portion of the State of Ohio, where remarkable progress has been made in the improvement of rural schools by the plan known as that of consolidation or centralization. He had invited Mr. R. H. Cowley, inspector of schools for the County of Carleton, and Prof. Lochhead, head of the Department of Biology, at the Ontario Agricultural College to accompany him. Their destination was Trumbull County, Ohio, which lies about twenty miles south of Lake Erie, and adjoins the western border of the state of Pennsylvania. This district was chosen because the conditions of climate, roads, distribution of population and character of school system, are not materially different from those of the settled parts of Ontario.

The country in that part of Ohio is comparatively level. Dairy farming is the main occupation of the people. The chief crops are Indian corn, other cereals, hay and grass. A little fall wheat is grown, but scarcely enough for the home use of the farmers. The orchards and fences were for the most part souvenirs of the past. The farm houses, barns and fields were evidence that the people were fairly prosperous and well to do, but not so much so as in the more advanced rural districts in many counties in Canada. The townships are five miles square, intersected in both directions by central roads. Other roads run parallel to those every mile and a quarter in both directions. That marks the country into blocks each one and a quarter miles square.

PIONEER OF CENTRALIZATION.

Six years ago Gustavus Township became the pioneer in that part of the United States in the consolidation of rural schools. There were nine school districts in the township, and as many small schools. Then the districts were united into one, and a central school was erected at a cost of $3,000. It is a frame building, containing four well lighted class rooms, a small recitation room, and cloak rooms. Instead of nine teachers in little isolated schools, there are now a principal at a salary of $65 per month, and four assistant teachers at $32 or $30 per month in the united school. Nine nice-looking vans are used to convey the children from and to their homes. These waggons or school vans are supplied with comfortable seats running lengthwise of the vehicles, waterproof canvas covers and spring gearings. Before consolidation the average attendance at the schools in that township was 125. On the day of the visit of the three Canadians it was 143 out of an enrollment of 162. The year before consolidation the cost of maintenance of the nine schools of the township was $2,900. Four years afterwards the cost of the centralized school, including the conveying of the children, was $3,156, being an increase in the expenditure by the township on its school system of $256. However, the average attendance at the central school was so much greater than at the single district schools that the cost of education was decreased $1.59 per pupil on the average attendance. Morever, three years of high school work is carried on in the consolidated school, and the total cost of that is included in the $3,156.

The people in five adjoining townships have also consolidated their schools. Those of Gustavus Kinsman, and Johnston were selected for special scrutiny, as presenting typical phases of the system. The schools of Kinsman and Johnston Townships have been consolidated for two years. At Kinsman the enrollment of pupils was 146, and eight school vans were employed. At Gustavus 162 pupils were on the roll and nine vans were used. At Johnston 175 pupils attended school and ten vans were in service.

SCHOOL VANS.

The contracts for conveying the children to and from the schools are given to responsible persons. These are under bonds to provide comfortable, covered waggons, and to comply with the regulations of the school authorities. The vans hold from 15 up to over 25. The longest route traversed was about six miles. The vans arrive at the school at from 10 to 20 minutes before nine, the hour at which the forenoon session begins. The afternoon session closes at 3.30 o'clock. At the Johnston school, where the closing exercises were observed, the children were in the vans starting for their homes in less than five minutes afterwards. At Kinsman the eight vans are engaged at an an average cost of$ 2.07 per school day; at Gustavus the nine vans at an average of $1.25, and at Johnston the ten vans at an average of $1.27. The price of the vans was from $100 to $135 each. All the vans observed were drawn by two horses each. The drivers who were conversed with said that they had not known of any injury to any child. They said the regulations required them to wait for the children at any house for a period not exceeding two minutes, but as a matter of fact it was rarely necessary to wait one minute, and that a case where the children missed the van, or were left from being late, was very uncommon. The average attendance at the schools confirmed all that.

THE SCHOOL WORK.

The scope of the work in all these schools is substantially the same. Inspector Crowley reports that "the three lowest grades overtake the work ordinarily covered by the public schools in Ontario. The highest grade goes as far as our continuation class grade A being competent to accomplish about three years of high school work."

Through the courtesy of Professors Craig, Diehl and Crawford, the Principals of the three schools, the self-constituted delegation from Canada was enabled to test the system of consolidation in all its essential bearings, obtaining valuable information not hhitherto recorded on State reports. That included among other things the free expression of the opinions of the pupils themselves on the relative merits of the old and the new. This part of the inquiry was followed up particularly by Inspector Crowley, who gives a summary of some of the results as follows:

"About 5 per cent. of the pupils preferred walking to the old school rather than riding in a van to the new school. Almost without exception, these were pupils who now have four to six miles of a drive in place of a former walk of one mile or less. At the same time these pupils expressed a decided preference for the work of the consolidated school. The evidence of both pupils and teachers goes to show that riding in the vans is alike comfortable and free from injury to even the youngest children. The increased enrollment of pupils and the very high percentage of regularity in attendance struck the visitors as remarkable. For the past three months the daily average attendance at the Kinsman School, which is in that respect typical, was 91 per cent. of the number of pupils enrolled. More striking in this connection is the fact that the percentage of regular attendance among the youngest pupils—those of five, six and seven years—was as high as that of any other class."

IMPROVED ATTENDANCE.

Although the weather was rainy and the roads as bad as three inches of snow mixed with mud could make them, the children jumped out of the vans at Kinsman School with dry clothing and dry feet. Little boys and girls of six years came three and four miles in comfort. The teachers said they came regularly in all weathers. Under the small district system in the Township of Kinsman two years before the enrollment at the schools was 110; under the consolidated system it has risen to 146, without any appreciable difference in the total enumeration of children in the township. The high percentage of young children (six to eight years) and the large proportion of older pupils (from fifteen to twenty years) were eloquent of the gains in education during the first two and the later years of school life in a rural district.

The large class and large schools seemed to meet the social needs of the children better than the small, isolated schools. The older boys and girls grown into young men and woman, had opportunities for going on with a high school education without going away from home. There was said to be and there appeared to be a great development of a spirit of co-operation and of mutual goodwill and friendship from the wider and closer acquaintance of the children of the locality, and from the new interests created and recognized as being common to all and for the common good.

As far as could be learned there was almost unanimity of opinion among the ratepayers respecting the marked success and superior advantages of consolidation. While the scheme was brought into effect under vigorous discussion and considerable opposition, the adverse criticism has been disarmed by the results of experience. With few exceptions "the kickers," as they are designated locally, were ratepayers without children, or persons who feared some depreciation in the value of their own property, or, worse still, some increase in the value of the property nearest to the centralized school. Experience has proven the former of these two fears to be groundless.

Professor Robertson sums up some of the advantages afforded by the consolidation of rural schools and the free transportation of pupils.

1. It results in the attendance of a larger number of the children in the locality, particularly of those under the age of eight years and of those over fifteen years.

2. It brings about a more regular attendance of pupils of all grades of advancement.

3. It ensures the engagement and retention of some teachers of higher qualifications and longer experience in rural schools.

4. It creates conditions for a proper classification of pupils and for such a grading of the schools as permits the pupils to be placed where they can work to the best advantage for their own improvement.

5. It permits the time table to be so arranged that teachers can give each class and every pupil in the class more direct hhelp and supervision.

6. It provides the beneficial influences of fairly large classes of pupils of about equal advancement (a) by more companionship; (b) by friendly rivalries to excel; (c) by children learning from each other, and (d) co-operating under careful discipline, and (c) by class enthusiasms.

7. It makes it convenient for boys and girls in rural districts to obtain a high school education without leaving home.

8. It leads to the erection of better school buildings and more satisfactory equippment in all the requisites of a good school.

9. It makes it practicable for rural schools to enrich their courses for all pupils by nature study, manual training and household science, as well as by better music, and for advanced pupils by instruction in agriculture, horticulture and allied subjects.

10. It stimulates public interest in the schools and brings to the pupils of a township an institution in which all can have an equal interest and a worthy pride.

11. It may lead to an improvement of the public roads in the country parts.

12. It would facilitate the rural free delivery of the mail.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But it ha Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming foods, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kind of food that makes flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough, and generally too much, the stomach from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate, which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs and similar wholesome.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them, with marked benefit, as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people, strong, plump and well.

Trades Unionism Disarmed.

London, Jan. 5.—Capitalists in England have been reassured by the recent decisions of the House of Lords in the Taff Vale case, affirming the liability of trade unions for damages caused by picketing and other illegalities of labor revolts. Emiployers are now convinced that strikes have been rendered impossible and that trade unionism has been disarmed.

Alleged Conspiracy to Rob.

Edmonton, Alberta, Jan. 5.—A case of robbing the Strathcona freight shed is being investigated. Two young men employed in the shed are implicated and have confessed their guilt. One or more of the Strathcona merchants are mixed up in the business as receivers of stolen property. The thieving has been going on for some time.

GREAT STEP FORWARD

Conference May Pave the Way to a Settlement.

THE IRISH LAND PROBLEM AGAIN

Path Cleared For Final Legislation, Though the Conference Failed to Call For Compulsory Purchase—Ownership by an Occupant Suggested in the Report—Members of the Conference Pleased.

London, Jan. 5.—The Dublin correspondent of The Observer says the report of the Irish Land Conference does not call for compulsory purchase, but it clears the path for final legislation on the question. The report makes recommendations in favor of evicted tenants.

The members of the conference, continued the correspondent, are pleased with the result of their meetings, and there is a general feeling that a great step forward has been taken towards the settlement of the Irish question.

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 5.—The Irish Land Conference which was called by Lord Dunraven, Lord Mayor, and others interested in the Irish agrarian questions, with a view to arranging the sale of land by the landlords to the tenants, met again here Saturday. The only absentees were Lord Dunraven, chairman of the conference, who is sick, and John Redmond. A report was drawn up and signed by all those present and forwarded to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Dudley. The contents of the report have not yet been given out, and while the agreement regarding the report completes its present work it has been resolved not to dissolve the conference.

London, Jan. 5.—The Irish land conference has issued a voluminous report of its deliberations in which it is declared that the only satisfactory settlement of the existing land question is the substitution of an occupying, or proprietary ownership of land for the existing dual ownership. The report recommends that a settlement should be made between the owner and the occupier, subject to the necessary investigation by the State as to the title, rental and security.

MULAI IS AFTER HIM.

Pretender Is Fleeing—Official Story From Fez Touching Latest Phase of Rebellion in Morocco.

Tangier, Morocco, Jan. 5.—According to official news received here from Fez the adroit move of the Sultan in bringing his brother, Mulai Mohammed to the capital, has attained the desired object of depriving the pretender of his prestige and the latter has retired discredited to Taza. He has been deserted by a number of local tribes, who dispersed to make sure of their booty.

Buhamara, the pretender, having proclaimed the intention of enthroning Mulai Mohammed, his rebellion has no longer any reason to continue, as the Sultan has publicly reconciled himself with his brother, and Mulai Mohammed has made a solemn entry into Fez acclaimed by the populace.

The Sultan has announced the appointment of his brother as governor of the Province of Fez, thus disproving the rumors that Mulai Mohammed aspired to the throne. When this had been done, according to the official authority for these statements, the tribes around Fez swore fidelity to the Sultan and denounced Buhamara as an imposter, whom they would prevent from coming to Fez.

All immediate danger has disappeared. The routes from Fez to the coast are open. It is said the Sultan is now preparing a large expedition with the intention of crushing the rebellion.

Advices received here from Fez under date of Dec. 29, are that the Haina tribe, who were fighting for the pretender, have declared their allegiance to the Sultan. Twenty thousand troops have reached Fez from the Sus district. The Sultan has placed his brother, Mulai Mohammed, in commission of the expedition against Buhamara.

FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Premier Will Be Re-Elected—Ministerial Majority in the Senate Strengthened.

Paris, Jan. 5.—The Senatorial elections passed off yesterday without incident. Early returns indicate the re-election of Premier Coombes from the Charente Inferioure and of Finance Minister from the Alps Maritimes, thus strengthening the Republican majority.

Later returns show that the Ministerial majority in the Upper House has been strengthened. The Conservatives have elected five progressive Republicans; the Liberals 25 Republicans, 18 Radicals and 34 Radical Socialists.

The Ministry of Interior claims that the Government gained 15 and lost two, a net gain of 13 seats.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS

THE STAR OF INDIA.

Investiture a Scene of Splendor—Great Assault-at-Arms—"I Felt It," Said a Blind Soldier of the Durbar.

Delhi, India, Jan. 5.—A grand assault-at-arms in the Durbar arena was the feature of Saturday's festivities. Thousands of British and native soldiery participated in artillery and cavalry displays, tent-pegging and other feats of horsemanship.

Subsequently the Viceroy, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, and the Duke of Connaught received the mutiny veterans at the central camp.

Lord Curzon and the Duke spoke to every man of the battered column, whose rows of medals pinned on faded, old-time uniforms, civilian clothing, or flowing native garments, recalled the revolt of nearly half a century ago. To one blind, old soldier, Lord Curzon said: "I am sorry you cannot see the Durbar."

"Thank you, sir," came the reply, "I felt it."

It is said the chapter of Indian orders, held Saturday night, was one of the most brilliant functions following the durbar. It was attended by the Viceroy and Lady Curzon, the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess of Connaught and scores of native princes. Among the assemblage were nearly three hundred members of the order of Star of India and many Maharajahs. During the ceremony of investiture the bands rendered music from the balcony.

Sunday morning Lord and Lady Curzon and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and all the distinguished visitors attended the state divine service conducted on the Polo Grounds by the Bishop of Lahore. Thousands of troops were formed in line, music was given by the massed bands and the responses in the service were rendered by flag signals. A notable feature of the service was the singing through megaphones by the bandsmen.

Tried to Rob Jewel Room.

London, Jan. 5.—In a despatch from Delhi, the correspondent of The Daily Mail, says: "A body of Pathans made a bold attempt in broad daylight Friday to attack the guard and rob the jewel room of arts exhibition where gems valued at $1,250,000 were in keeping. Members of the police force and the jewelers present, after a scuffle, succeeded in foiling the attempt."

A LIBERAL VICTORY.

C. D. Rose Handsomely Redeems the Newmarket Constituency.

NEW M. P. WAS BORN IN CANADA

Son of Sir John Rose Overcame a Conservative Majority of 1,000—A Wonderful Worker—Covered Over 100 Miles on Polling Day in a Pelting Rain—The Alliance Against Venezuela the Meedoo.

London, Jan. 5.—The bye-election at Newmarket Friday to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of Harry McCalmont resulted in a Liberal gain. The polling was as follows:— C. D. Rose, Liberal, 4,419; L. Brassey, Conservative, 3,907. As the Conservatives at the previous election had a majority of upwards of 1,000. Mr. Rose's victory is notable. The contest in the great sporting centre was fought with remarkable vigor. Horse owners, trainers and jockeys joined with the politicians in canvassing the constituency, and motor cars were numerously used.

During Friday's polling no less than fifty motors brought voters to and from the polls, Mr. Rose on Friday, in a pelting rain, covered over a hundred miles in his final election tour of the constituency. Mrs. Rose, in a luxurious motor, also made a tour of the division in another direction.

Mr. Rose was born in Montreal. He is a son of Sir John Rose, long prominently identified with the English turf and other sports. In 1896 Mr. Rose challenged for the America's Cup with the Distant Shore, but afterwards withdrew.

In spite of Mr. Rose's popularity few people expected the victory. The Anglo-German alliance against Venezuela played a prominent part in the campaign, Mr. Rose vigorously opposing the alliance.

THOUGHT FAMILY IN WANT.

Peter Binkley, Wealthy Farmer Residing Near Waterdown, Committed Suicide Saturday—Was Mentally Deranged.

Hamilton, Jan. 5.—Peter Binkley, a wealthy and highly-esteemed farmer, residing near Waterdown, committed suicide Saturday morning by hanging himself with a rope tied to a rafter in his barn.

Binkley had been ill for nearly a year, and was seized with the idea that his affairs were in bad shape and his family in want. There is no doubt he was mentally deranged at the time he committed the deed. Deceased was 59 years of age, and leaves three sons and two daughters. He owned a 200-acre farm, well-stocked and with good buildings, besides having plenty ready money.

DEVOURED BY WOLVES.

Sad Fate of Eight Officials in Roumania Last Week.

Bucharest, Jan. 5.—Every day as the winter advances accounts are received of the ravages of wolves throughout Roumania. Every part of the country appears to be infested with these animals. Hardly a newspaper appears without reports of half a dozen cases where persons have been attacked and devoured by wolves.

Last Wednesday eight officials left Tulcea on their way to Galamz on three sledges. When their arrival was not reported the mounted police started a search for them, and on Thursday they found three broken sleighs. A number of empty revolvers and the trampled, bloody snow told the story of the tragedy that had happened. Even the harness had been devoured by the famished beasts.

FOUR MINERS WILL DIE.

Caught in Mine 2,000 Feet From Surface by Falling Coal.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—Four miners were probably fatally injured and a number of others badly burned and cut by falling coal in an explosion of mine dust in the Chicago-Virden Mine at Auburn Saturday. Three hundred and fifty men were in the mine at the time, but all except fourteen or fifteen who were caught in the entry, 2,000 feet from the surface, succeeded in reaching places of safety. The explosion was said to have been caused by a shot.

AFTER A YEAR AND A HALF.

Two Bodies Recovered From a Cave-in in British Columbia.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 5.—After being buried under a cave-in for over a year in No. 1 slope at the Union Mines, the bodies of the pumpman, T. Nickalls, formerly a sailing ship master, on coast vessels, and a Chinaman, have just been recovered. They were killed in company with two others during a fire in No. 1 slope in July, 1901.

Sable Island Heard From.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 5.—The Government steamer Aberdeen, which left Halifax on Dec. 24, with supplies for Sable Island, did not succeed in making a landing until Saturday morning. The steamer returned here yesterday afternoon. The 40 people on the island are well, and no marine disasters have occurred since the steamer's last visit.

AUSTRALIA NEEDS BREADSTUFFS.

Two Hundred Thousand Tons Must Be Imported.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3. — Two hundred thousand tons of breadstuffs must be imported from wheat-producing countries for Australia during the coming season to meet harvest difficulties says United States Consul Goding at Newcastle, in a report to the State Department, dated November 11. The crop in New South Wales, he says, will not reach 50 per cent. of the quantity reaped last year, and Victoria will require imports of 3,637,129 bushels of wheat to supply her needs. The situation is not so bad in South Australia, though there the crop is less than last year. Fifteen thousand tons of California flour are afloat for New South Wales, but the consul says the price of California flour has risen so greatly that the effect will be to divert a good deal of trade to Canada, which raises hard wheat of a class well suited to mix with California flour.

PANIC AT BULL FIGHT.

Lights Turned Out and Bulls Allowed to Stampede.

Madrid, Jan. 3.—A panic with fatal consequences occurred at a bull fight at the equestrian circus yesterday. The bull fight was a free one, given by the manager.

The spectators became enraged at one of the matadors who was unable to kill a bull and threatened to destroy the circus. The manager released two other bulls and turned out the lights. The bulls, bellowing furiously, stampeded through the circus. The spectators became panic-stricken, and in their efforts to escape trampled on each other. Finally, the police arrived and ordered the lights relit.

Three persons were killed and fifty-two others injured. The manager was arrested.

ANTI-TRUST LAW.

Bill Introduced Into the U.S. Congress to Regulate Corporations.

Washington, Jan. 3. — Senator Hoar yesterday made public his anti-trust bill. The bill provides for the appropriation of $500,000 to employ professional assistance for the prosecution of offences under the act. After June 10, 1904, corporations, must file a statement showing the amount of capital stock, its market value, how much paid in full in cash, or, if not in cash, what has been received in lieu thereof, the names of officers and directors, the amount paid in dividends, the amount of stock held in other corporations, and an undertaking that they will comply with the provisions of this and all other laws of the United States.

A WORD FOR A SINGLE CENT.

Wireless Messages at That Rate Across the Ocean in Not Distant Future Says Signor Guglielmo Marconi.

New York, Jan. 5.—The American yesterday printed the following from Glace Bay, Cape Breton:

"Two hundred words a minute at one cent a word and the general use of wireless telegraphy instead of the mails for a very large proportion of the personal correspondence that now passes between America and Europe are developments that I see in the near future," said Signor Guglielmo Marconi this morning.

"I shall leave Table Head in a few days for Cape Cod, where I shall put into operation at once the first trans-oceanic wireless station in the United States. There is nothing rash in that prediction, for, having solved the problem here, the success of the Cape Cod station means only the application of the same methods, and I expect within two weeks, or possibly a little longer, to have it in perfect working order,"

"How cheaply do you expect to be able to send messages across the ocean?"

"I spoke of a cent a word a few days ago," replied Marconi smiling. "That seems to have worried some of the business interests connected with the wireless telegraph companies." There was a twinkle in his eye as he mentioned the conservative capitalists. "I believe it will come, however, I know it will come. Of course, we shall not make any such rate as that at present. We are under contract with the Canadian Government to charge not more than ten cents a word, and that probably will be our minimum for some time, but with increased business and increased facilities we shall some day in the not far distant future, be sending messages across the ocean at a cent a word."

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

John Craig's House Destroyed—His Wife's Feet Frozen.

Belleville, Jan. 5.—A fire which had fatal results occurred near Madoc, Hastings County, when the residence of John Craig, farmer, were burned. The house and contents were totally destroyed. One of the family's little children was burned to death before assistance could be rendered. Mrs. Craig lost all her clothing, and had to flee to the barn in her night dress. On the way there she had her feet frozen.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

Roast Pig a la Lamb in China.

A correspondent of the North China Herald writes this dissertation upon roast pig: "How little western writers understand the Chinese! Who has not read and rejoiced over Lamb's 'Dissertation Upon Roast Pig?' It is not everybody who has the chance of seeing Lamb's fascinating story worked out in real life. In the beginning of the present Chinese year I passed through a busy market village where the people kept many pigs. In the middle of the night a fire broke out in the market village and destroyed the whole place. No lives had been lost, but most of the pigs had been roasted, especially those too fat to run quickly. Roast pigs! Burning houses! Lamb's story in real life! Quite naturally I remarked that some folk must have had a splendid meal of roast pork in those days. To my surprise the natives asked with disgust: "A splendid meal! Who would eat that stinking, smoky stuff? The palate of the Chinaman absolutely rejects smoky roast pork! All that magnificent epicurean description culminating in the one word 'crackling'—a delusion, a yarn, a lie! I gloated over that yarn when a boy and grew excited as the story went from one page to another. Now to find the whole thing go up in smoke!"

Solving It.

Patrick, a thrifty tradesman in the neighborhood of the Dublin docks, was, the story goes, a man who never spent a penny more than he needed to spend, but he was nevertheless as good a man at the making of an Irish bull as any who lived between Bantry and Ballycastle.

Having one day occasion to send a letter to a place some distance, Patrick called a messenger and asked him his price for going such a distance.

"It 'ill be a shillin'," said the man.

"Twice too much!" said Patrick. "Let it be sixpence."

"Nivver," answered the messenger. "The way is that lonely that I'd nivver go it under a shillin'."

"Lonely, is it?" said Patrick, scratching his head. "Faith, an' ye're right. Now, man, I'll tell ye what we'll do; make it sixpence, an' I'll go wid ye to kape ye company!"

The Privilege of Possum.

A Georgia darky arrested for stealing a possum from a white man said to the judge:

"I don't count it no stealin' 'tall, yo' honner, kaze de possum wus raise fer de nigger, des lak de mule wuz. Let de white man take de turkey en leave de possum fer de nigger is what I says!"

"But," said the judge, "the negro frequently takes the turkey too?"

"Not dis season, suh," was the quick reply. "Dey roostin' too high."

Mr. Moore Busy.

Mr. Archie Moore has just concluded engagements at a series of three balls which passed off very successfully. The first of the series was at Keene, which was followed by a grand ball at Westwood and another at Havelock. Mr. Moore was Master of Ceremonies on each occasion.

Trooper Brace Coming.

Trooper Brace, of the Third Mounted Rifles, has been touring Ontario telling his thrilling story of the war, and will be in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Monday evening, January 12th, under the auspices of the gymnasium classes. Trooper Brace has been greeted with crowded houses everywhere and his story is simply captivating. Lieut. Col. Miller has kindly consented to take the chair at the lecture. Trooper Bruce will address the Men's Meeting on the Sunday preceding.

First Things.

Mr. T. J. Wilkie, District Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. was the speaker at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, the meeting being well attended. His subject was "First Things." He started out with the story of creation and traced all down through the past how God had planned for the best welfare of man. The prominent excuses that men give as a refusal of salvation, were effectuvely dealt with by the speaker. He appealed to men of all kinds to come just as they were and accept salvation. Before the address Mr. E. A. Frowde sang "Calvary," which was most feelingly and impressively rendered. Trooper Brace will be the speaker next Sunday.

THE RINK.

It is now About Completed—Ice is in Good Condition.

Contractor Langford has accomplished a great lot of work on the new rink during the past week, and to-day it presents a decidedly finished appearance. The ice is now ready for use, the interior is wired, ready for the electric lights, and the seats along the side are being put in position. The dressing rooms, too, are being rushed to completion and the building will be thrown open to ticket bohlders in a day or two.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES

Will Re-open To-night, To-morrow Night and Wednesday, When all Will be in Full Swing.

The Y.M.C.A. gymnasium classes both for boys and men, including junior and senior school boys, junior and senior intermediates, and Young Men's, will re-open this week, starting to-night with the Intermediates. Those who did not take in the classes during the past three months should enroll at once. The work in the gymnasium will be varied somewhat during the next course and will be just the thing for the fellow not enjoying the best of health. Particular attention will be given to proper breathing during exercises.

A STIFF FIGHT

Being Waged in Ashburnham To-day—The Reeveship.

There is just as stiff a fight on in Ashburnham to-day, as one would wish to see for the Reeveship. The friends of both candidates claim that they have a majority, and every vote available is being polled. All those in the race for the council are keeping the fight going to the finish.

The candidates for the Reeveship are Mr. F. Adams, and Mr. George Stevens. Should Mr. Stevens be elected, Ashburnham will possess an entirely new council, as not one of the old councillors is in the field.

Save Your Pictures.

If you have any loose pictures lying around that are getting spoiled for want of a frame, telephone "The Metropole," and if you can't call, we will send for them, and have them framed as you desire. Our framing business has grown so well that we have had to lease additional room upstairs, and we now control the whole flat over the store. The stock of picture moulding is new, well chosen large and varied. Special attention given to fancy burnt wood work and designs; also, velvet leather for pyrography in many delicate shades. WAS ALMOST A DROWNING.

Samuel Fawcett, of Otonabee, Broke Through the Ice.

Was Rescued After a Desperate Fight for Life—How it Occurred.

Samuel Fawcett, a young man of about 21 years of age, who resides in Otonabee, a short distance below the locks, narrowly escaped death by drowning yesterday noon. Had it not been for the timely arrival of Mr. John Holmes, of Orchard Park Cottage, on the opposite side of the river, there would have been little chance for Mr. Fawcett's escape. When rescued the young man had been in the water for about 20 minutes during which time he fought determinedly for his life.

Mr. Fawcett was crossing the river at about where the sewer empties into the river—up until Sunday this point was freely used as a place of crossing, although the treacherous state of the ice just there, by reason of the current, is known to many. When Mr. Fawcett was in the centre of the river he broke through, but immediately proceeded to fight for his life. The ice broke about him every time he attempted to raise himself on top and at the same time the unfortunate man shouted for help, which for a while seemed as though it were never going to come. Finally his cries were heard by Mr. John Holmes, who lives on the Monaghan side of the river. He rushed to the hole in the ice which by this time had reached large proportions in size and after several unsuccessful attempts he succeeded with the aid of a pole in bringing Mr. Fawcett to shore. Mrs. Holmes also assisted in the rescue.

Mr. Fawcett's hands were badly cut by the breaking of the ice as he clinched frantically for support and he was much exhausted by the chilling experience.

It is a wonder indeed that more accidents do not occurr at this point, as it is a common crossing place for teams during the winter. As late as Saturday last teams crossed at this point.

WEDDED IN STRATFORD.

Mr. Charles H. Davis, of Town, to Miss Frances Abraham.

The Stratford Herald contains the following account of Mr. Charles H. Davies, of Messrs. H. E. Bradley & Co's, town:—

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Abraham, McKenzie street, was the scene of a pretty ceremony at high noon on New Year's Day, when their youngest daughter, Miss Frances, was wedded to Mr. Chas. H. Davies, formerly of Stratford, now conducting a gentlemens' furnishing store in Peterborough. The happy couple were united in the presence of about twenty friends. The home was prettily decorated with palms, evergreens, smilax, carnations and hyacinths. The Rev. Rural Dean Deacon performed the ceremony. The wedding march was played splendidly by Mr. Roger Roberts. The pretty bride wore a brown broadcloth tailor-made costume. The services of the best man and bridesmaid were dispensed with. After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served. Among those present were Mr. John Langan, attorney, of Chicago, Mr. Walter Davies, of Toronto, brother of the groom; Miss Davies, of Chicago, sister of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Davies left on their trip to Peterborough, where they will reside. The esteem in which they have been held in Stratford was shown by a handsome array of presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome seal coat with mink trimmings, and a muff to match.

THE CONVENTION

Of the Y. M. C. A. Provincial Association.

The 33rd Provincial Y.M.C.A. Convention will convene in Peterborough next month, the dates being Feb. 5 to 8 inclusive. The citizens of the town will be asked to entertain the two hundred delegates who are expected from all points of the two Provinces.

The theme of the convention will be "Our Opportunity" as considered from the point of view of the local and Provincial fields and of the whole world. Chief consideration will be given to the religious work department, including Bible study, Men's Meetings, personal work and Foreign work.

There will be a number of conferences to consider other special features.

Among those who will take part are Frank Yeigh, Rev. J. McNichol, Toronto; A. B. Williams, F. S. Goodman, New York; C. K. Ober, Chicago; Robt. Orr, Pittsburg, and Trooper Brace of the 3rd South African contingent.

The local arrangements are in charge of a strong committee, of which Mr. J. S. Knapman is chairman. The committee will meet this week.

A PRESENTATION

To Mr. Chas. McIntyre, of the C. G. E Co.

On New Year's Eve a number of the fellow employees of the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Company, assembled at the residence of Mr. Charles McIntyre, No. 171 Perry street, and presented him with an address and a beautiful rocking chair. The presentation was made by Mr. F. Carney on behalf of those present. The ladies of the party had provided refreshments and a delightful evening was spent in playing games, dancing, etc. Cawthorn's orchestra furnished excellent music.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

OVER ONE A DAY.

The Deaths for Last December Were Largest on Record.

Town Clerk Armstrong has just completed his returns of the births, marriages and deaths for the year 1902.

They are as follows:

	1902.	1901.
Births	221	215
Marriages	143	113
Deaths	133	109

It will be observed there has been a decided increase all round. There were 16 more births, 30 more marrages and 23 more deaths. The number of deaths for December of last year was 35, being over 1 a day for the month. This is the largest number for any one month ever registered in Peterborough.

PRODUCTS OF THE PRESS.

A Fruitful Recruiting Ground for Y. M. C. A. Workers.

Within the past five years four young men have passed from the newspaper composing rooms of Peterborough journals to enter into active Y.M.C.A. work.

They are Mr. G. W. Fisher, a compositor in the Times, who is now General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at New Glasgow, N. S.

Mr. H. E. Ayers, who graduated from the Examiner composing rooms, and is at present the efficient Physical Director of the town association.

Mr. Archie Frowde, from the Review, is assistant secretary, of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A., and is under training.

Mr. H. A. Pearson, also of the Examiner, who left on Friday to enter on preparation for active association work. He went to Toronto to attend the Y.M.C.A. training school, the first established in Canada, and he is the first enrolled student.

LAST TRIBUTES OF RESPECT.

Remains of the Late J. M. Macdonald Born to the Tomb.

The following is taken from the Winnipeg Free Press of Dec. 30th. It refers to the funeral of the late J. M. Macdonald, a brother of Mrs. J. W. Carey, of town. Mr. Macdonald was well known in Peterborough and was prominent in Masonic circles:

The funeral of Mr. John M. Macdonald, who recently died in Victoria, B.C., took place yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the residence of Mr. E. Thomson, 85 Hargrave street. The deceased was one of the best known men in Winnipeg and the west, and highly respected and held in warm regard by all who knew him, on account of his many lovable qualities and sterling attributes, and as a result, the obsequies yesterday was very largely attended, the funeral being, in fact, one of the largest that has been seen in Winnipeg in recent years, the deceased's friends and business associates turning out in great numbers to pay a last tribute of respect and to testify to the warm esteem in which he was generally held.

The funeral service, which was held at Mr. Thomson's residence, was conducted by Rev. Dr. DuVal, and the house was packed with many of Mr. Macdonald's former friends, who listened to the eloquent tribute paid to the deceased's memory by his late pastor. An unusually large number of floral tributes from Mr. Macdonald's late friends in the city and from friends and business associates in Victoria, Vancouver, Montreal and Toronto, were received and were placed on the casket containing the remains. These tokens of love were so numerous that many of them could not be placed in the hearse with the casket, and had to be put outside on the top of the funeral conveyance.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Jerry Robinson, John Leslie, D. Philp, Armstrong, Boyce and Mark Fortune. After the service at the house the remains were taken to St. John's cemetery for interment, a great many vehicles taking a place in the funeral procession. Sir Daniel McMillan, Mr. W. W. McMillan, Mr. E. Thompson and the sons of the latter attended as mourners.

Upon reaching the cemetery the funeral procession was met by Canon Coombs, who read the service at the grave, as the deceased was laid to rest for his last long earthly sleep.

Following is a brief sketch of the life of the late Mr. Macdonald:

John Mathieson Macdonald was born in Portree, Isle of Skye, Scotland, just about 53 years ago, and when very young came to this country with his parents, settling in Collingwood, Ont. There he first started his business career, working for the late James Lindsay, father of Lady McMillan and Mrs. David Philp, of Winnipeg. He rapidly advanced in the confidence of his employer and while still a youth was entrusted with the most important of Mr. Lindsay's affairs. Later he went into business with Mr. Hunter in Collingwood and the firm of Hunter & Macdonald soon afterwards merged into the firm of Frame, Hunter & Macdonald. It was while a member of this firm that he was wedded to Miss Isabelle McMillan, sister of Sir Daniel McMillan, Manitoba's Lieutenant-Governor. They were married in Knox Presbyterian church in this city and the union has been blessed by one child, Miss Eleanor Macdonald.

Shortly after his marriage Mr. Macdonald came to Winnipeg to go into partnership with Mr. W. A. Thompson, as manufacturers' agents. Soon after Mr. Thompson retired and Mr. Macdonald continued in the business and he has become one of the best known commercial men in northwestern Canada. His demise is mourned by all who knew him, for he was a man of sterling qualities, affable, engaging and lovable. His friends were counted by scores, and are second only to his immediate relatives in their grief. Besides his wife, daughter and other relatives in Winnipeg, Mr. Macdonald leaves a brother, Mr. James Macdonald, of Toronto; and sisters, Mrs. C. Stuart, of Duluth, Minn.; Mrs. J. W. Carey, of Peterborough, Ont.; Mrs. Wm. Foreman, of West Superior, Wis.; Mrs. Peter McPhee, of Guimpie, Queensland, Australia, and Miss Annie Macdonald, of Manitowaning, Ont.

James A. Stuart, of the Duluth News-Tribune, Mr. Macdonald's nephew, was in the city attending the funeral.

A TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD.

The Free Press further says:—

During the morning service in Knox church the Rev. Dr. DuVal made a touching reference to the death of Mr. J. M. Macdonald. "Last Sunday," said the doctor, "we sang 'Asleep in Jesus' in memory of Miss Short; a member of this church, who then lay dead in the city. At that very hour another member of our communion, Mr. James Haggart, lay dying in Kansas City, and Mr. J. M. Macdonald was seriously ill in a hospital in Victoria. It is some years since Mr. Haggart left Winnipeg, and many present will not remember him, though at one time he was an active worker with us, but Mr. Macdonald was familiar to us all; his family petty was here and his relatives and friends are with us to-day. He commended himself to all who knew him and he held a high place in the esteem of his friends. His sudden taking away is a great blow to us all. In the shadows of life we bear up in hope of the risen Lord. The years come and go and we pass away as the flowers of the field."

At the close of the service the congregation remained seated, while the "Dead March in Saul" was played by Miss Mayhew.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY

To be Built by the Mineral Range Iron Mining Co.

The Mineral Range Iron Mining Co. of Mayo township, Hastings county, where magnetic iron ore is mined, will construct an electric railway to assist in their enterprise. It will run from L'Amble station, on the Central Ontario Railway, and will be operated by electric power procured from the waterfalls in the vicinity. They also purpose erecting a large concentrator and have great faith in the future of their mineral, according to information received by W. E. H. Carter, secretary of the Mining Bureau.

MR. FROWDE GOING.

Will Attend the Y.M.C.A. School of Instruction at Toronto.

The Y.M.C.A. School of Instruction for men who are contemplating entering the work opens in Toronto next week and will continue until April. This is the first thing of the kind attempted in Canada, and it promises to succeed.

The Peterborough Association is making its contribution to the school in sending two students. Mr. Williamson, Secretary, is down for a series of lectures on Educational Work.

Mr. Frowde, who has for the past fifteen months acted as Assistant Secretary in the local Association, has resigned to attend the school, and Mr. H. A. Pearson, who has been a most active member of the Association and who has decided to enter the work, will also attend the school.

This makes five men to enter Y.M.C.A. work during the past five years from the Peterborough Association, the others being Mr. G. W. Fisher, Secretary at New Glasgow; Mr. Harry Frowde, who has for the past five years been Secretary at Sydney, and the popular Physical Director, Mr. Ayers.

It is a point worthy of note, too, that four out of the five were graduates from the local printing offices.

Messrs. Pearson and Frowde will be greatly missed from the local work.

DOURO.

The funeral of Mrs. Carlow of Dummer, aged 88 years at the time of her death, took place from St. Joseph's church, Douro, to-day. Rev. Father Keilty sang the mass and there was a very large attendance of of friends to show their respect to the memory of the deceased.

It is expected that there will be a large crowd from town go out to attend the T.A.S. concert and lecture by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, on Tuesday night.

There are several cases of scarlet fever in this township in different families.

Probabilities.

Cloudy to partly cloudy, and colder; some light snowfalls. Tuesday — Mostly fair and cold.

Lindsay curlers express great disappointment over the fact that the committee which had charge of the arrangements for the Scotch curlers did not select the Scugog town as a place in which to play. The Post grows indignant and says:

"It is almost impossible to describe the disappointment of the members of the Curling Club when Wednesday night's papers announced that the visiting Scotch curlers were not to play in Lindsay. They are billed to visit eight or nine curling centres in Ontario, (counting Ottawa and Niagara Falls for sight-seeing, ten in all.) We are sure that our citizens feel with our curlers that very shabby treatment has been received from the committee. We have no hesitation in stating that no town in Ontario takes such an interest in curling as our town does, and no curling club in the Dominion has made its name more famous in curling circles than has our own club. As the champion rink of Ontario the Lindsay Club is certainly entitled to some consideration from the central authities. Our townspeople have been looking forward to the visit of the Scotchman ever since the first announcement that their visit to this country had been settled, and when at the meeting of the Ontario Curling Association, Lindsay was mentioned as one of the five places that they would be sure to visit the curlers and their legion of friends and well wishers in town felt perfectly certain that we were to have a great gala day this winter in curling, so that Wednesday's announcement came as a complete surprise as well as a disappointment. Not only do we consider that the decision is very unfair to the club, but we feel that it is very unfair to the town. If the centres selected had all been more noted for the enthusiasm of their citizens in curling matters, or their clubs had obtained greater successes on the ice, then we would bow with good grace to the decision of those in charge, but viewed both from the standpoint of what our club has done in curling and from the standpoint of what the association owes to a town that has backed up her curlers with their support and sympathy, as Lindsay has, we again say that our club and our town have been treated most unjustly."

HOCKEY.

Hockeyists are asked to turn out at the new rink for a practice to-night at 7.30, dressing at the Y. M. C. A.

The first hockey match of the season in Peterborough is scheduled to take place here on Friday night, when the Lindsay team will play the Peterborough Club's Trent Valley team. The schedule as published in the local papers announced this match for Saturday night. As a matter of fact the game was originally scheduled for Friday the 9th, and Jan. 10th was a typographical error.

A. O. Y. W.'S PROGRESS

Rapid Growth During the Past Year—Paid out $8,000,000 in 25 Years.

The year just closed has been an exceedingly prosperous one for the Ancient Order of United Workmen. No fewer than 4,400 applications for membership were received and a snug total of $4,000,000 insurance written up. During the month of November, 1902, a total of 656 applications were received and in December there were over 700, the largest two months business in the history of this well known order. This is substantial evidence of the confidence and respect the order commands among the people of this province. This splendid result has been brought about notwithstanding the persistant competition of the line companies on the one hand and the sister fraternal societies on the other, and show clearly the position the A.O.U.W. occupies in the estimation of the people.

THE CANADIANS IN ENGLAND

What an English Sporting Paper Thinks of our Rugbyists.

The Canadians Certainly Created a Great Surprise—Canadians Play Fast and Open.

The Examiner has to thank Mr. Walter Stocker, for a copy of the Athletic News, the greatest English sporting paper published. Speaking of the Rugby match, Ulster vs Canadians, it says:

Frost having conspired to put an end to Canada's opening of their tour in Liverpool, Belfast was made the scene of their initial match, and according to the entertainments and attentions showered on our Canadian friends, they bid fair to be socially lionized ere they depart. Arriving on Thursday, what between dinners, receptions, and a visit to the Giants' Causeway, sandwiched between ere Saturday's encounter took place, they must think Belfast is a fairly hospitable city. Not since the Maorias visited Belfast, more years ago than I care to remember, was such an interest taken in the visiting team as this one, and as no opportunity previously, except reports, gave the Northern branch of the Irish Union any idea as what Canada could do, or sort of game they played, they decided to put the best available team against them. At the prettily situated grounds of the North East Agricultural Association, which is the home of all classes of Rugby functions now in Belfast, and as matters went events justified precautions, of which more anon. Several members of the original Ulster team selected, cried off owing to injuries and other causes. At the last moment Irwin, captain, and Reid, three-quarter, also. Consequently the team was not representative, but the substitutes were very capable. The Canadians are a very nice lot of fellows, several university men being among them.

It was a wet night, but the day turned out fine, and a large and fashionable audience was present. In the first half Canada scored twice, after fine play by Scholfield and Gillespie; Ulster once per Ernie Clements assisting. Canada were much the better team, playing for all they were worth, Ulster taking things too easy. In the second half Ulster had rather the better of the argument, but each side scored once, leaving the final result:

Canada, one goal, two tries.
Ulster, one goal, one try.

The Canadians certainly created a surprise, as good judges considered Ulster pretty certain of winning, but the game played by the Canadians was one of those fast open ones in which nearly every forward excelled. There seems no difference between their game and ours except that some forwards were slightly ignorant, and the halves inclined to offside play. Every man can run and kick and tackle well. What is more, every forward shoved. The three-quarters line out very close at times, and a quick team might easily get the better of them with a little judgment. Powers is a most difficult man to catch, and he and Craig run like deer. Very fair combination was shown, and their passing was wonderfully accurate. Gillespie and Scholfield were very capable halves, but the referee was far too lenient, which made the game very hard for the Ulster pair. The forwards are all good workers and it was a treat to see them handle the ball in the loose. One or two of them have still something to learn. The team as a whole play no stereotype game, but there is a wonderful understanding among them. They kicked rather too much in the first half with the wind, but in the second half they never kicked — a piece of good judgment. They ran always and fairly beat their opponents. In a short time, if they do not get stale, they should play a magnificent game, certainly a most attractive one. It is early as yet to prophecy, but most teams will have to go all the way to beat them, but if a quick heeling pack of forwards are against them and good backs to take advantage of the openings I am afraid that their defence might be beaten.

A HEAVY VOTE

Being Polled in To-day's Election.

A heavy vote is being polled in town to-day in the municipal elections. Owing to the fact that the ratepayers are asked to vote on three bylaws, for 11 Alderman, and 3 Water Commissioners, the work of taking vote is a little more onerous than it ordinarily would be. The officials are doing their work excellently, however. Five ballot boxes are required at each polling booth.

MARRIED AT ST. LUKE'S.

Mr. W. T. Hall and Miss Gwendoline Meade, Both of Town.

St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, was the scene of a quiet, though interesting event at 10 o'clock this morning, it being the occassion of the marriage of Mr. W. T. Hall, son of Mr. Adam Hall, to Miss Gwendoline Meade, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Richard Meade, of town. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen, and by Miss Agnes Hall, sister of the groom, whilst the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Llewellyn Hall, and Mr. Frank Bradburn.

The newly married couple left at noon per G.T.R. for Toronto and other points and on their return will take up their residence in Peterborough.

Mr. Hall holds a commission of captain in the 3rd Dragoons, and is well and popularly known. The bride is a member of one of Peterborough's oldest families and is very popular in social circles, where she will have the best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

ST. JOHN'S ENTERTAINMENT

Has Been Postponed—Yesterday's Services.

Owing to the prevalence of disease in town it has been thought necessary by the authorities of St. John's Sunday school, to postpone the entertainment, which was to have taken place next Wednesday evening. This is a matter of much regret to many, but the action was taken on the advice of several physicians.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson assisted in the morning service at St. John's yesterday, and in the evening Rev. Edgar Croly of Quebec, very kindly officiated.

Rev. J. C. Davidson reminded the electors that it was their duty to vote to-day for the candidates they considered the most capable of administering the affairs of the town.

FAMOUS DOGS ARE EXTINCT.

Last of Newfoundlands Are Disappearing From the Face of the Earth.

Dog lovers are discovering with regret that one of the finest canine species has become almost extinct. The Newfoundland is practically no more in this country and in England.

The fast-vanishing breed is native in the Island of Newfoundland, and old records say early settlers found the Indians in possession of magnificent specimens. It is generally supposed, however, that the Newfoundland was the result of a cross of some English strain and the native dogs.

At any rate, this particular animal is celebrated in history as the embodiment of courage and intelligence and kindness—the highest type of canine excellence. Landseer, in his famous painting, "The Child's Best Friend," rendered the species immortal.

In spite of this, it is a fact that the valuable dog, in its original habitat, is quite extinct. And he was most useful there, too, in saving drowning persons along the storm-swept coast, where shipwrecks are frequent. Nevertheless, it is charged that it was through starvation and neglect that these famous dogs died out in Newfoundland itself.

The British Government has lately been obliged to purchase for the Newfoundland life-saving station a new breed of dogs to take their places. These are the Leonbergs, a cross between Newfoundlands, St. Bernards and the Pyrenees wolf dog. They are the most powerfully built dogs in the world and stand more than four feet high. Those sent to Newfoundland the British Government paid from $250 to $400 apiece for, and some specimens have sold for as high as $500.

Ontario's Cut of Pine Logs.

An estimate of the probable cut of pine logs and square timber during the present season on territory held under license from the Crown has been prepared by the Crown Lands' Department. The report is based on figures received from agencies and shows a cut of some 884,500,000 feet, divided as follows:—

Sudbury	121,000,000
Parry Sound	171,000,000
Biscotasing	40,000,000
Whitney	50,500,000
Webbwood	150,000,000
Sault Ste. Marie	130,000,000
Port Arthur	13,000,000
Arnprior	40,000,000
Pembroke	100,000,000
Peterboro	44,000,000
Rat Portage	25,000,000

In addition there will be about 1,500,000 railway ties, telegraph poles, fence posts, etc., also a quantity of hemlock and hard wood. The total cut of pine in 1901 was 658,000,000 feet. The chief difficulty is sufficient labor but under any circumstances the cut will be very heavy.

Continually Misunderstood.

Mr. Archibald S. Hurd, of London, in a lengthy and very interesting article on "The Foreign Invasion of Canada," leads off with saying "Canada is the one colony which has been continually misunderstood in England. Just as the English people were awakening to its real character and were beginning to take an interest in its future, Mr. Rudyard Kipling checked the movement with a phrase. Canada is 'My Lady of the Snows' in the imagination of Englishmen. In the minds of nine out of ten persons in the old country Canada stands for the Siberia of the British Empire, a country in which residents suffer the most terrible hardships owing to the extreme cold which is supposed to wrap the country around for seven or eight months together, bringing all industrial and social life to a standstill."

Scorched.

Cannibal Chief—What was that I had for dinner?

Cannibal Cook—He was a bicycle rider, your excellency.

Cannibal Chief—I thought I detected a burned taste.

Cannibal Cook—Yes, your excellency. He was scorching when we caught him.

Raising His Salary.

"You told me last week that you would try to raise my salary," said Briggs.

"Oh, yes," replied his employer. "Well, I did. I raised it after some trouble. Believe me, I had a very hard time raising it this week."

Expensive Headgear.

Father (examining his son's expense account at college)—Young man, what do you mean by charging up half a dozen bottles of whisky to wearing apparel during last term?

Son—Oh, that's all right; I used that stuff for nightcaps.

Her Fear.

The Bore—I'm not feeling at all well this evening.

The Belle—I hope it's not a lingering illness.—Kansas City Independent.

It is not enough to be industrious; so are the ants. What are you industrious about?—Thoreau.

MORMONISM IN CANADA.

Another Utah in the Territories—Statements of a London Journal.

The rumor that the grandson of Brigham Young, now under arrest for a most brutal murder in New York, was married some time ago to a young Mormon woman in the Canadian Northwest, has attracted renewed attention to the followers of the Mormon faith in Canada, says The London Morning Leader. Every now and then one of the Canadian newspapers will publish an alarmist article about the astonishing influx of United States settlers into the Northwest Territory, and the danger there is of these settlers gradually obtaining the balance of political power, and some day or other using their influence in favor of annexation to the United States. In all these articles, however, the fact that the Mormons are gradually establishing a new Utah in the Territories is entirely missed. And yet that is what they are doing, and that is what is their avowed intention.

Headed by a visionary, but a visionary who, like a true prophet, sees his visions materialize, they have started to settle in the district around Lethbridge, and have founded a town called Raymond, which is destined, says a Canadian correspondent, to have a population of at least thirty thousand souls. They have selected a most fertile neighborhood and a country which will be immensely benefited shortly by the great irrigation ditch, which is now being constructed. The man who is at the head of the Mormon movement is Mr. Jesse Knight, a Mormon capitalist from Utah, who claims that in a vision he saw the possibilities of the Northwest country, and who founded a town named Raymond, after his son, which he says will be the modern Salt Lake City of the Canadian West. This vision, which he announced publicly, showed him his son Raymond leading the ten lost tribes into the colony. The banners they carried were sheaves of wheat, and their way lay towards a stately tabernacle, which is to be the principle place of worship of the Mormon church in the north, and where thousands were worshiping.

TRIALS OF AN OLD LADY.

Could Scarcely Walk, and Sleep and She Were Strangers.

Kidney Complaint was the Trouble—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured it and now she can Both Sleep and Walk.

Bear River, Digby County, N. S., Jan. 5th. — (Special.) — Of peculiar interest to aged people is the statement made by Mrs. Elizabeth Berry of this place. Mrs. Berry is over sixty-five years of age, and for eight years she was troubled with Chronic Kidney Complaint. She was so bad that she could scarcely walk from one room to another; she could not sleep and she required assistance even to dress herself. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is what she says herself:

"A friend advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took one box, but that not helping me I left off taking any more for three years. I at last got so that I could not dress or undress myself and could scarcely sleep more than five minutes at a time. Then I resolved to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a thorough trial. I took five boxes and they proved to be such a success, I took seven more boxes. Now I can sleep much better and am completely cured of Kidney Trouble.

"When I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I could only walk from Kidney Pills I could only walk from one room to another. Now I can walk a mile."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the old feel young again.

Can You See Air?

If air cannot be seen, what is it that we see quivering above a field on a hot summer day or even above a hot stove in the house? That question has puzzled many a head, both old and young. The answer usually given is that it is the heat, but heat cannot be seen, and therefore it is not the heat.

The explanation of the phenomenon is really quite simple, like all such things, when we hear it. As a matter of fact, it is air that we see quivering, but heat makes it visible. The quivering is caused by the upward passage, close by each other, of small currents of air of different temperatures in which the rays of light are irregularly refracted, and this makes the currents visible.

Value of Capital.

Once upon a time two utter bankrupts were considering ways and means of getting needed money.

"I know how we can make $9," said one.

"How?" asked the other.

"Raise a dollar note to ten by placing a cipher after the one."

"Where will we raise the dollar?"

Then the scheme failed for want of capital.

Moral.—The great financial difficulty is in raising the first dollar.

First After Dinner Speech.

"I wonder who made the first after dinner speech?" asked the philosopher.

"Adam," replied the wise guy promptly. "As soon as he got through with the core of that apple he said, 'The woman tempted me,' didn't he?"

The strong belief is rife
It dooms its victims all the time
To hard labor for life.

His Apology.

"Here, Mr. Yarder, that's the second time you have sent me this bill, and I paid it once."

"That's the fault of my new bookkeeper. He keeps books by the double entry system."

Flowers Before Botany.

When critics fuss o'er rules of art,
It only shows they do not see
That flowers bloomed upon the earth
Before there was a botany.

Cautious.

Dorothy—You seem to shrink whenever Mr. Perkins comes toward our part of the office.

Dora—Yes. I'm afraid he is going to stop and talk about football.

Football Fact.

Now, why is it that married men
Are not to football called?
The reason is that no one can Play football if he's bald.

Made the Best of It.

Talking about philosophers, we have this obituary line on the best of all of them: "Spent all his life in hoping for the best and wasn't disappointed when the worst came."

The Better Fate.

"So long I've been by woman bossed
I feel," poor Henpeck said,
"'Tis better to have loved and lost'
Than to have loved and wed."

No Joke.

"This," explained the superintendent of the hospital for infants, "is the colic ward."

"Ah," mused the visitor. "Cramped quarters, eh?"

"Dear me, that's what they always say."

The Surprised Statesman.

A mighty speech he paused to frame
And zealously displayed it,
And yet the world went on the same
As if he'd never made it.

It is remarkable how virtuous and generously disposed every one is at a play. We uniformly applaud what is right and condemn what is wrong when it costs us nothing but the sentiment.

An easy way to soften hard water delightfully is to throw orange peel into it just before the water is used.

Way the Audience Laughed.

At a public entertainment recently a conjurer had an experience which was highly comical, though quite disastrous from a professional point of view.

Having produced an egg from a previously empty bag, he announced that he would follow up this trick by bringing from the bag the hen that laid the egg. This little arrangement he left to his confederate to carry out. He proceeded to draw the bird from the bag, but what was his surprise on finding that the alleged hen was an old rooster, which strutted about the stage with ruffled feathers and offended dignity and set up as vigorous a crowing as if it had just awakened from its nocturnal slumbers.

The whole audience shrieked with laughter, and the unfortunate conjurer made a bolt for the dressing room.

The Tumbleweed.

The tumbleweed is a curious plant, indigenous to the western prairies. It grows in all directions from a central stem, making a large flat head, close to the ground. In the fall, after being touched by the frost or dried by the weather, the stem breaks off, the head becomes the sport of the wind and is driven off across the prairie, scattering seeds as it goes and finally bringing up against some obstruction which arrests its progress. These weeds have been seen piled ten feet high against a fence, driven there by the wind.

Jack Tar as a Critic.

At an auction art sale the other day a marine view was about to be knocked down at a handsome figure when a bluff sailor, who had happened to wander in, exclaimed earnestly:

"My stars, if there ain't a vessel drifting on to the rocks with a strong breeze blowing offshore!"

The artist took his work home to rearrange the wind.

She Was Surprised.

Mrs. Neighbors—What's that awful racket in the next room?

Mrs. Rounder—Oh, that's only my husband dressing to go downtown.

Mrs. Neighbors—Indeed! I've heard folk say he was a loud dresser, but I had no idea it was anything like that.

A Comparison.

"How'd ye like the lecturer at the town hall last night, Si?"

"Great! He was a Boston feller, an', I swan, I never laughed so hard in my life. He knew more long words than a negro minstrel."

"You married a rich wife, didn't you?" asked Jones of his friend.

"Yes," he sighed, "but she's not declared any dividend yet."

Eczema and Itching Skin

Defied Many Expensive Remedies but Were Thoroughly Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is a mistake to judge Dr. Chase's Ointment by the results obtained from the use of ordinary salves and ointments. It is not to be compared with any preparation on the market to-day.

Some of these remedies give temporary relief but they do not strike deep enough to eradicate disease. You need not be alarmed if Dr. Chase's Ointment causes a little irritation at first; this is necessary in order to root out the disease. When the cure is brought about the skin will be left smooth and clear, without scar and blemish.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when scratched the blood would come. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little girl, two years old, has also been cured of Eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we hand to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Miss Lavina Diotte, Clarence Creek, Ont., writes: "I suffered with eczema for over a year and a half and tried all the remedies I could hear of, some of them costing considerable money, and not doing me any good. I was enduring great torture when I read an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and resolved to give it a trial.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it has completely cured me. Though I do not need it any more I keep a box in the house in case of emergency. I hope that people who suffer as I did may read this testimonial and for this reason you have my permission to publish it. It is only just that such a good remedy for eczema and itching skin should be made known to those who suffer."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Eating Became a Dread.

HOW MANY PEOPLE ARE ALMOST AFRAID TO SIT DOWN TO THEIR MEALS?

YOU MAY BE ONE OF THEM. IF YOU ARE, THERE IS A CURE FOR YOU.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURES INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, SOUR, WEAK AND ALL STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mr. J. G. Clunis, Barney's River, N.S., tells of what this wonderful remedy has done for him:—It is with gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of B.B.B. I was so badly troubled with indigestion that whatever I ate caused me so much torture that eating became a dread to me. I tried numerous physicians, but their medicines seemed to make me worse. I thought I would try B.B.B., so got a bottle, and after taking a few doses felt a lot better. By the time I had taken the last of two bottles I was as well as ever, and have had no return of the trouble since. I recommend your medicine to the highest degree. B.B.B. is for sale at all dealers.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Mogie's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

ABOUT THE WAZIRIS

TRIBE FOR A LONG TIME TROUBLE ON THE INDIAN FRONTIER.

Their Country Is Another Switzerland, But the People Are Totally Different From the Swiss—They Are Born With the Instinct of Robbers—The Boast of the Waziris.

Shortly after Lord Kitchener arrives in India he may take to the field again for the purpose of punishing a nation or tribe that has for a long time been a source of trouble on the Indian frontier. The commander-in-chief will first attend the great durbar, when the peoples of India will participate in a sort of mock coronation, carried out on a very grand scale. Then he will lay plans and execute projects for the purpose of convincing the Waziris of the power and the might of King Edward's right arm.

It may be asked by lovers of peace why it is that Great Britain is sending its armies through the jungle to make war against an ignorant, semi-civilized tribe. The answer to this is that Great Britain has no option in the matter. The Waziris are making war against the British, or the country and tribes we are bound to protect, and we must face, meet them, and subdue them in self-defence.

The country of the Waziris is described as Switzerland over again. It is on the north-west frontier of India, a little to the north-east of Peshawur. It runs down the whole Indo-Afghan frontier line to the mouth of the River Hab. It is hilly and rocky, and densely wooded. There is no more difficult piece of country from a military point of view in all India. By military experts it is declared that if occupied by a people fighting with modern weapons, organized by trained officers, it would be practically unassailable. Of this country a recent writer says: "As Waziristan is approached from the hot and dusty plains of the Indus, barren, razor-like ridges give place to higher hills, terminating in precipitous cliffs, the uppermost slopes being dotted over with the smooth round bushes of the young ilex or oak tree. These give place again to a glorious range of mountains, culminating in two giant peaks—Shuidar and Pirghul—each of them rising 11,000 feet above the Plains of Indus, and standing like twin sentinels, guardians of the western passes of the country."

It is said of the Waziris that they are born with the instinct of robbers. In their own rough and rugged country cultivation is confined to narrow strips of land found along the mountain streams. From the natural strongholds which these people occupy they look down on the rich and fertile plains of the Punjaub with envy and covetousness. These plains are the traditional hunting grounds of the Waziris. They swoop down upon them, carrying such spoil as can be gathered in, and retreating with it to their mountain fastnesses. When one of these raids occur upon the country under British protection the Government of India has to send a strong and well-equipped expedition, as it is now doing, to discipline the Waziris. The raiders may escape, but the tribe is subjected to such punishment as is calculated to prove a warning for the future. After such an admonition there is peace for a time, but it is at best only a brief cessation of hostilities.

To these people war is merely one variety of sport. As we take to golf, ping-pong, and other pastimes to give interest and variety to life, the Waziris regard their raids on the country below them as excellent entertainment for old and young, which has the element of profit as well as of danger. Great Britain they despise as a young and consequently unstable concern. It is the boast of these people that kingdoms and armies have come and gone, but like Tennyson's brook, they go on forever. If they will leave British India alone British India will be well content to leave them alone. The Waziris are not the aborigines of the country. They have in years gone by overflown from the highlands of Central Asia—the roof of the world—and have partly absorbed and partly displaced the indigenous races. If they have a special pride in their antiquity that is their chief possession, and hence a war, however disastrous it may be, does not entail great losses and hardships upon them.

At frequent intervals these people break out and kill and rob their neighbors. An important campaign against them was undertaken by the British in 1881. On that occasion the Waziris had raided Tank, an Indian town in the Indus. Their leader there was one Mushaki. As he was held responsible for the affair the British demanded his surrender. Two columns were sent in search of him. After a slight engagement the enemy bolted. Much destruction was done to the Waziri villages. Finally the war was ended by the surrender of Mushaki, and peace was maintained for some years.

A few years ago, in June, 1897, there was another uprising. The Waziris surprised a small British force at a place called Maizar. Four officers were killed, three were wounded, and the British were compelled to retreat. There was at that time no hostilities in progress, and no justification for the attack. An expedition under General Corrie Bird was sent to Waziristan to administer punishment. It occupied the country and convinced the people temporarily of the folly of making war on the British.

Repeated acts of lawlessness and further raids have compelled the Government of India to send another expedition against the Waziris. There is a suspicion that the people are moved by Russian intrigue to make trouble for the British. This idea is scouted officially, and probably is unfounded. It is certain, however, that both money and arms are being supplied from outside for the purpose of encouraging hostilities.

The British expedition commanded by Major-General Egerton, which has been despatched to restore order, consists of six thousand men. It is divided into four columns of 1,500, and has already met with greater difficulties than had to be previously encountered. The commander of one of the columns, Col. Tonoohy, a soldier with a distinguished career, has been killed. There has been much fighting, many prisoners have been taken by the British, and it is clear that the campaign will be an obstinate one. Lord Kitchener, will, however, soon be on the ground.

This is Britain's notice to the Russians, and the Afghans, and the Waziris that Great Britain intends to protect and maintain her interests.

Physicians are calling attention to the fact that influenza or grip has come to stay. In the larger cities there has been a marked increase in diseases affecting the organs of respiration, which increase is attributed to the prevalence of influenza. Persons who are recovering from grip or influenza are in a weak condition and peculiarly liable to pulmonary disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs, bronchitis, lung "trouble" and other diseases of the organs of respiration. It is the best tonic medicine for those whose strength and vitality have been exhausted by an attack of grip.

It purifies the blood, cleansing it of the poisonous accumulations which breed and feed disease. It gives increased activity to the blood-making glands, and so increases the supply of pure blood, rich with the red corpuscles of health.

"A word for your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. E. A. Bender, of Keene, Coshocton Co., Ohio. "We have been using it as a family medicine for more than four years. As a cough remedy and blood-purifier there is nothing better, and after having the grip Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is just the right medicine for a complete bracing up."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs.

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

SOLOMON'S THRONE.

Lord Curzon to Sit on It During the Durbar

"Moreover, the King made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the best gold.

"The throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round behind; and there were stays on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the stays.

"And twelve lions stood there on the one side and on the other upon the six steps: there was not the like made in any kingdom."—I. Kings, x., 18, 19, 20.

An extraordinary rumor is in circulation in the Calcutta bazaars in connection with the archaeological researches of Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Viceroy of India. It is believed he has been searching for the throne of King Solomon, and it is now reported that it has been found, and it is stated that Lord Curzon will sit on it during the coronation durbar. It is then expected that some astonishing supernatural events will occur.

"A Voice From Japan."

Some time ago, says The London Chronicle, we described a remarkable postcard which had been received from a Japanese boy to the editor of the boys' paper of St. John's, East Dulwich. Now from Iwabuchi, Japan, comes from the same boy a letter that is really worth printing in full. We select a passage or two. The boy had received a copy of "Our Monthly Paper" he asked for. "In it I have found my bad English was published with the title 'A Voice From Japan,'" he writes. "This makes me very shameful, and I am afraid it might spoil your good innocent paper. . . I am a boy ignorant in every branch of learning, and not now a pupil of a school. My dwelling cottage stands at a remote hamlet—so much remote that I can hardly get any knowledge that is the best food to the mind of a boy. . . I am improving my knowledge by self-culture. Most of my poor stock of English has been reared by this way." Etsudo Miyadera—that is his name—writes out his name and address in Chinese characters for the benefit of his unseen English friend. And having described his feelings as a Japanese boy reading of the coronation, he continues: "In this Empire education is not so advanced as in yours. There are only two universities—at Tokyo and Kyoto—and six high schools, 258 middle schools, 80 girls' high schools and some colleges throughout the country. We have an elementary school in every village nowadays, where the poor and the rich are equally instructed. Speaking thus about the topic, I highly envy the civilization of your kingdom." If this extraordinary letter were not so ingenuous one would suspect the Japanese boy of chaffing our advanced education. It would puzzle us to find an English village boy who could write so good a letter in his own language, to say nothing of a foreign one.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirely revolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. Mr. Balfour's Kindness.

Added to the other virtues of the new Prime Minister of Great Britain is consideration for the least of those who ask his help. Mr. Justin McCarthy, tells in an interesting little story of Mr. Balfour's readiness to stretch out a helping hand.

Two or three years ago Mr. McCarthy learned that a certain lady who had won distinction as a novelist had fallen ill, and was suffering from the poverty that followed her inability to continue her literary work. Some of her friends thought that she should be assisted by a department of the state, and applied to Mr. McCarthy, who is both man of letters and politician, to bring the matter before the proper authorities.

There is a small fund at the disposal of the British Government for the relief of literary persons in distress. The fund is in the control of the First Lord of the Treasury. This office Mr. Balfour held at the time, and holds now.

It was just when Great Britain was in the most distracting period of the South African war, and Mr. McCarthy feared that a busy statesman who must have been passing many nights of sleeplessness in the midst of exciting news from the front would not be able to attend to such a small matter as the relief of an individual. It would have been natural for the overworked statesman to hand the case over to some minor official, who would allow it to come to a standstill, immovably entangled in the red tape of petty routine. But in spite of his lack of hope he wrote to Mr. Balfour.

The next day he received a reply in Mr. Balfour's own hand, expressing sympathy and willingness to help. Relief came soon after.

Although the case was deserving, and too much need not be made of it, yet Mr. Balfour would have had good reason for turning it over to some one else.

"I must say," concludes Mr. McCarthy, "that I think this short passage of personal history speaks highly for the kindly nature and sympathy of Arthur Balfour."

A Black Eye.

Provided there is no abrasion or cut of the cuticle, a black eye can be removed in one night by an application of an ointment of black hellebore. Rub some black hellebore powder up with some lard and apply, leaving it on all night. In the morning the discoloration has all gone and the swelling also, only leaving a slight wrinkle, which soon disappears by cold water applications.

A Bachelor's Cost of Living.

If the average bachelor, with a millionaire's income, not the fellow who goes in for extravagant fads, but the man who maintains good social position and who entertains liberally, were to balance up his personal account for the year, it might contain these charges without comparative extravagance:

House or apartment and service	$10,000
Valet	800
Clubs	1,000
Restaurant and entertaining	12,000
Clothing	3,000
Automobiles	5,000
Chartered yacht	10,000
Cards	5,000
Bad loans	3,000
Horses, coach, grooms, etc.	10,000
Total	$60,800

These are the more or less fixed items of expense, and any one who has ever attempted to keep a personal account knows that when you have put down the necessary expenses you may add almost as much for the thousand and one things that may be grouped conveniently under the head of "incidental expenses." In a general way it may be said that the millionaire bachelor who spends from $75,000 to $100,000 a year is living his life in accordance with the demands of the time on men of wealth.—Ainslee's.

A Catch Bet.

Turn round, and, with your back to the table, ask somebody to throw the dice. Then tell the person who threw them to double the number of the spots on the die on the left, and keep the number to himself. Tell him to add five, then multiply by five. To this figure have him add the number of spots on the die in the middle and multiply the product by ten.

Then ask him to multiply the number of spots on the third die and give you the aggregate sum. From the amount subtract mentally 250, and the remainder will show in the three figures the number of spots on each of the three dice. For instance, take three dice. Their numbers are three, five and two. Double the one on the left—five plus five equals ten. Add five, equals fifteen. Multiply by five, equals seventy-five. Add the number of spots on the die in the middle, three, equals seventy-eight. Multiply by ten, equals 780. Add number of spots on the third die, two, equals 782. Subtract 250 and 532 remains, which are numbers on the dice.

Awarded Rumford Medal.

The Hon. Charles Algernon Parsons, F.R.S., to whom the British Royal Society has just awarded its Rumford medal "for the successful application of its invention of the steam turbine to industrial purposes, and in navigation," is a brother of the Earl of Rosse, and a son of the builder of the famous Birr telescope. When Mr. Parsons built the Turbina in 1896, she was the first vessel to be propelled by the steam turbine. At the present time there is only one turbine-engined war vessel in the world. This is the British torpedo-boat destroyer Velox, and she has the distinction of being the fastest vessel in the world.

Didn't Go to Waste.

"It is utterly impossible," declares Hall Caine, "for me to accede to all the requests I receive for my autograph. At the beginning of my literary career I used to make it a point to respond to all who inclosed stamps. That soon became impossible, and for a long time afterward those stamps weighed on my conscience. Of course I could not think of using them and religiously threw them in the scrap-basket till one day I discovered that Mrs. Caine was as religiously sorting them out from among the waste paper and using them."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Jan. 5. — Americans firm, 1-8 to 1-2 higher.

M. & M.

Cotton—Spot easier, 4 points decline, mkt 470; sales, 9000; receipts 10,000. Amn 1,000; futures opened easier; 2 to 5 points off.

M. & M.

Saturday's bank statement was considered good. Banks more willing to lend money for reasonable speculation. Reported that U. S. realty will establish an office in London. Net earnings of T.C.I. for week ending Dec. 31, about $2,000,000, or 6 1-2 per cent. on common. 53 roads, third week December, average gross income, 13.55 per ct. Reported Westington will get the contract for the new Manhattan cars. Stocks plentiful to loan crowd. Expected that banks will relax pressure on exchange view of return of currency from interior, and gold exports therefore become probable

DOW, JONES & CO.

Some strength in London is expected from advance in London and sentimental influence of the better bank statement, than had been expected, but we do not think outsiders likely to be eager buyers, and there will be a continuance of selling by those who bought a week ago, and money is not as plentiful. There may be some set back, but on any good break we believe good stocks a buy.

M. & M.

Wheat and corn, 1.30.—Wheat is unchanged to 1-4 higher. Corn is unchanged.

Pansies.

"As for pansies, every one you pick shall have a different character. Some are perverse, like bashful babies, and will not look you in the face. Some are confiding, and some are even bold. Go and study them if you are an unbeliever, and you shall find that many things that we call human traits belong in almost equal proportions to plants and animals."

SUPPLY OF FARM LABOUR.

The Department of Colonization on the Matter.

Farmers' Institutes are Asked to Assist in the Matter—Questions That are Asked.

Mr. William Collins, Secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, has received several letters from Mr. Thomas Southworth, Director of Colonization for Ontario, regarding the necessity for a more adequate supply of farm labour for Ontario. Mr. Southworth's letter reads as follows:

Wm. Collins, Esq., Secretary West Peterborough Farmers' Institute:

Dear Sir,—It is becoming more and more apparent that there is not an adequate supply of farm labour in the older settled portions of the Province of Ontario, due to the movement of the people to the various parts of New Ontario and to the West.

For some years past quite a number of farm labourers arriving from the British Isles have been placed with farmers in older Ontario by the late Secretary of Immigration, Mr. Spence. The Commissioner of Crown Lands fully realizing the scarcity of this class of labour in the Province desires that the work of the Bureau of Colonization should be extended so as to embrace an employement office for this purpose, rooms for which have been secured in the Union Station Arcade, Front street, West. We are arranging with the Commissioner of Immigration in England to secure a large number of farm labourers for this Province during the coming year. In order to do this successfully, it is essential that we should be advised approximately as to the number of farm hands required to supply the demand for the coming season, and to that end we shall be glad to receive applications from the farmers who are in need of help throughout the Province at as early a date as possible.

We are sending you a number of envelopes addressed to this office with blanks to be filled out and mailed by the applicant. As you will see by the blanks, we desire information as to the kind of help and the date when required; whether the farmer has accommodation for a man and wife; whether he would be willing to employ a young man from the Old Country, who desires to learn farming. In the latter case, it is of course understood, that these young men are not trained and their work would not be worth as much as the regular labourers and we would expect the farmer receiving them to treat them well; of course requiring them to work, but giving them thorough information and training in the business of farming.

Experience has shown that in the case of immigrants from the Old Country, it is better for them to gain a year's experience on a farm in old Ontario before taking up land for themselves in our newer districts.

It has occurred to the Commissioner of Crown Lands that a good way to reach the farmers in this connection, would be through the agency of the Farmers' Institute, and I, therefore, with the approval of the Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, address you as Secretary, hoping that in the interest of all concerned you would take the trouble to see that this request is circulated as widely as possible in your districts, and have farmers in need of help supplied with the blanks sent you herewith.

Thanking you in anticipation for your co-operation in this matter, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,
THOS. SOUTHWORTH,
Director of Colonization.

Toronto, Dec. 23, 1902.

THE QUESTIONS.

The quesations to be answered by those requiring the farm help, are as follows:

I desire to procure farm help as follows:—

When wanted.....Farm hand, single, experienced, who can plow, milk, etc.....Husband and wife (without children); man, experienced farm hand, and wife to do house work.....An experienced farm hand with wife and family for whom cottage and.....will be provided.

Inexperienced hand (from seventeen years of age upwards) on a year's engagement to learn farming.....Any other class needed.....Other remarks.

Paul the Tyrant.

Paul I. of Russia was very deaf and also very tyrannical. One day an aid-de-camp, intending to please him, approached and cried in his ear, "I am glad to see, your majesty, that your hearing is much improved!"

"What is that you say?" growled the czar.

Raising his voice, the aid-de-camp said, "I am glad that your majesty's hearing is so much improved!"

"Ah, that's it, eh?" chuckled the czar, and then added, "Say it once more."

The aid-de-camp repeated the words, whereupon Paul I. thundered, "So you dare to make fun of me, do you? Just wait awhile."

Next day the aid-de-camp was on his way to the mines of Siberia.

Phonetic Spelling.

The teacher of a country school was "hearing" her spelling class recite. She had just "given out" the word "Aaron," which, according to her instruction, had been spelled in this fashion: "Big A, little a, r-o-n."

The next word was "gallery." The pupil said:

"G-a-l, gal—g-a-l, gal," two or three times and halted. Then, after hard thought, he added:

"Big gal, little gal, e-r-y, gallery."

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Syllabus of Services for This Annual Occasion.

Next week is to be observed throughout the Protestant churches of the Christian world as a week of prayer. The following arrangement has been made for the services in connection therewith in the Peterborough churches:—

Monday, Jan. 5th—St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Speaker, Rev. J. P. Wilson. Subject, "The Church Militant." Acts 20; 28-35. Eph. 2; 19-22, 5; 17-31. Heb. 12; 18-29. Rom. 10; 1-13.

Tuesday, Jan. 6th—Charlotte street Methodist church. Speaker, Rev. C. L. Thompson and Rev. J. A. Wilson. Subject, "Foreign Missions." Matt. 28; 16-20. Mark 16; 14-20. Acts 10; 9-20, 28; 14-18. Rom. 15; 8-19. II Cor. 10; 12-18.

Wednesday, Jan. 7th—George street Methodist church. Speaker, Rev. Dr. Torrance, also Mark street Methodist church. Speaker, Rev. J. G. Potter. Subject, "Home Missions, and all Gospel work in the Colonies and Outlying Settlements of all Nations." II Chron. 30; 1-12. Psa. 19. Eph. 4; 7-24. Phil. 1; 8-20. Rev. 3; 1-13.

Thursday, Jan. 8th — St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Speaker, Rev. J. Bastow. Subject, "For Special work among the young. For Families and Schools." Judges 13; 8-14. Psa. 144; 9-15. Prov. 2; 1-9, 4; 1-19. Matt. 18; 1-14. II Tim. 2; 1-9, 22-28.

Friday, Jan. 9th. — Murray street Baptist church. Speaker, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe. Subject, "Nations and their Rulers." Psa. 9. Psa. 138. Dan. 2; 44-49, 5; 17-29. Acts 9; 10-16. I Tim. 2; 1-8. Rev. 12; 15.

Sea Serpents.

In New Caledonia sea serpents are frequently seen and sometimes captured. They are curious creatures, the head being very small and scarcely distinguishable from the body and the tail being formed like an oar. In length they are generally between three and four feet.

In the jaw there are tiny glands containing poison; but, as the mouth is very small, it is difficult for them to bite, and the natives handle them fearlessly.

M. Kermogant, a European traveler, witnessed an experiment at Noumea which shows that under certain conditions the sea serpent can do deadly work. A rat was caught in a trap, and its tongue was grasped by a pair of pinchers and placed in the mouth of a sea serpent. The serpent immediately bit it, and the rat died in four minutes.

Character In the Ears.

Though there may be counteracting features and signs upon the face, ears that are disproportionately large, fat and red bespeak a coarseness of nature, sometimes sensuality and dissipation.

Ears that stand out from the head like flaps are often seen on religious men, but parsimony is apt to go with them.

A long shaped but small ear lying close to the head denotes refinement, delicacy or perception, but also timidity and sensitiveness. A thin, transparent looking ear shows delicacy and poetic feeling; a thick ear, the reverse. An ear set rather low on the head denotes good brain capacity; set high or on a level with the eye, a limited mental capacity is denoted.

Frank Census Returns.

British census returns are more informative than diverting, but the same cannot be said of the Indian. The Punjab returns include professional cricketers under the heading of "Clowns and Tumblers," regarding them apparently in the same light as Mr. Kipling. The Chenab has forty-six male, seven female and sixty-seven "dependent" piano tuners, and the inland state of Nahan rejoices in the possession of 205 shipowners. In the schedule also appear 117 "receivers of stolen goods" and 126 "witches, wizards, cow poisoners, etc." There is a frankness about these returns which is very engaging.—London Express.

Expensive Virtue.

A southern judge who had a fine lot of hogs one day met a colored man notorious for stealing and said to him: "Uncle Jack, I'll tell you what I'll do. You pick out two of those hogs you like best, and I'll give them to you, provided you won't steal any of the others."

The negro pondered awhile and finally said, "Jedge, you've always been a good neighbor, an' I likes yuh, an' I wants to do right by yuh an' so accepts de offer yuh makes, but I wants yuh to know dat I'll lose meat by it."

Ended the Dispute.

Two ladies at a tea party got quarreling about their respective ages. At last, to end the dispute, one of them said in a conciliatory tone of voice:

"Don't let us quarrel over the matter any more, dear. I, at least, have not the heart to do it. I never knew who my mother was, for she deserted me when I was a baby, and who knows but that you may have been that heartless parent?"

A Silent Man.

Jorkins—There's Perkins—you know Perkins?—entered into an agreement with his wife soon after their marriage, twenty years ago, that whenever either lost temper or stormed the other was to keep silence.

Bob—And the scheme worked?

Jorkins—Admirably. Perkins has kept silence for twenty years.

YOUNG WIVES, REMEMBER—

That necessities should be selected before decorative articles of furniture.

That it is not wise to provide too many pots, kettles and pans when furnishing a kitchen.

That it is always decidedly cheaper in the end to buy only good carpets and good furniture.

That, no matter how tiny the income, a small sum should be put aside regularly for the proverbial rainy day.

That a simple dinner well served is decidedly more enjoyable than an elaborate dinner poorly served.

That a practical knowledge of "economy of good cookery" will be absolutely necessary for the young housewife, no matter how much "help" she can afford to keep.

That all bills for marketing should be paid weekly or, better still, when the articles are bought.

That with care and economy a small amount of money will do wonders.

That it is important to be systematic in looking after the leftovers.

That all cold vegetables and scraps of meat may be used in soups and salads and croquettes and in many appetizing ways too numerous to mention.

That "where there's a will there's a way" even if the means are limited.

Candle Lighted Dining Tables.

Candle lighted dining tables are more popular than ever. Four candles are needed to light the smallest table, and four double branched candlesticks are better liked. Besides silver and brass, glass candlesticks in old English and colonial designs are seen. Cut glass is to be preferred, of course, but very good imitations may be had. There is one material which it is hard to understand ever came to be used for either lamps or candlesticks, and that is wrought iron. Possessing no powers of reflection or refraction, the light of even a strong flame is diminished at least one-half and a most depressing effect obtained. Candle shades are works of art, whether made of silk and trimmed with chiffon and beads or fashioned of paper and decorated with water color designs. Glass shades, cubes of opalescent material, jewel incrusted, are charming, as are also the parchment paper ones with old prints in delicate pink and blue tints inserted on one side. Candle shades should always be arranged to entirely hide the flame, as the glare so near the eyes is very unpleasant.

Beauty and Dress.

Beauty is the gift of nature, but one's bodily appearance is largely what one chooses to make it. A plain face is improved by careful dressing; a pretty one is partially spoiled by the lack of it. As a rule, plain women are the ones who study the art of dress and realize its full importance, although an occasional pretty woman is found to be well posted. "It takes such an awful lot of time to dress well and keep thoroughly trim," complained a girl the other day, as she carefully inspected her wardrobe with a view to repairs. Of course it does. It takes time to eat and sleep and enjoy oneself, but as we have all the time there is we might as well invest it to good purpose. It pays to look well, in satisfaction to oneself and in the opinion of others. The world always has and always will judge by externals, and a good appearance has a distinct financial worth.

Idea For an Invalid's Room.

A very pretty idea of bringing sunshine on dull days into an invalid's room is to arrange the curtaining in such a fashion as to produce the effect of sunshine and brightness even when the heavens are clouded. By doing this your loved invalid's room will not be a fidgety place, where the eye is worried by endless patterns on paper or walls. All will be restful and harmonious. For the big window it is best to have rose colored Indian silk curtains just to the sill. They are to be lined with ivory—if they can be said to be lined when that part of them is seen from the outside. This is done to prevent the sun from fading the brilliant hue too soon and will add a soft warmth to the glorious translucent color of the rose, which will make sunshine of itself on dull days.

Bachelor Cow Girls

The eight bachelor girl daughters of William Walker, the owner of a big cattle ranch in Oregon, do almost all the work of caring for the horses and cattle maintained by their father. Clad in picturesque but practical costumes of duck, buckskin and plain calico, they "cut out" cattle almost daily, break and train unruly horses and if night overtakes them in the mountains or far out on the prairies curl up in their saddle blankets and sleep the sleep that knows no fear. Withal these daring bachelor girls are quiet mannered and womanly, and they are only unmarried because every one of them is in love with her present lot.—Pilgrim.

Effect of Mixed Veils.

That women whose hair is beginning to turn gray make a mistake when they wear veils of mixed black and white is the report of New York milliners. These veils of a grayish tint are trying even on hair that has retained all its original luster and richness of coloring, and when they are drawn taut over locks that have a few gray streaks of their own the effect is enough to make any woman unhappy.

Wooden Salad Bowls.

Wooden salad bowls are pretty and appropriate. Burned wood has been rather overdone, but decoration in green leaves is especially attractive for these bowls. Carved and inlaid bowls are also seen. A wooden fork and spoon accompany the bowl, with decorations to match.

The Irish Curse.

An Irish authority thus defines as an expert the effects of a well delivered curse: "The belief among the ancient Irish was that a curse once pronounced must fall in some direction. If it has been deserved by him on whom it is pronounced, it will fall on him sooner or later, but if it has not then it will return upon the person who pronounced it. They compare it to a wedge with which a woodman cleaves timber. If it has room to go, it will go and cleave the wood, but if it has not it will fly out and strike the woodman himself, who is driving it, between the eyes."

There are three altars inside the cashel at Innismurray, Ireland, built square of rough loose stones and having on the top of them a number of curious, round, smooth stones. These have been used for cursing by turning them, and the natives are very superstitious about them.

One mode of averting the curse was for the person against whom the stones were turned to have a grave dug, to cause himself to be laid in it and to have three shovelfuls of earth cast over him, the gravediggers at the same time reciting rhymes.

Father and Son.

What a father can do, if he will, is to make his own experience and knowledge an inseparable part of the intellectual and spiritual equipment of his son, but he can do this only when he cares so much about it as to make it a daily, hourly object of his life, says the Cosmopolitan. So many fathers shirk the undertaking; so many of them stand aloof and let the precious years go by, willing to give anything and everything except themselves. The first and great reward of course is the one that comes when he sees the boy upon the verge of manhood going out into the world to face the inevitable dangers which confront the novice, for the life of a man differs from the life of a woman in this respect—that at some time or other, sooner or later, the time must come when he shall stand alone, relying on his own strength to conquer if he be sound and brave, to fall if he be weak and cowardly.

Where Connecticut Got Its Name.

It might be imagined that Connecticut is called the "land of steady habits" on account of the exemplary conduct of its citizens. But it obtained that title in a different manner. A citizen of that state explains the matter thus: "In the early colonial times it was the custom to provide every one who assisted at a dedication, church building or barn raising with a 'hooker' of good Jamaica rum. These functions, needless to say, were popular. When the charter creating Connecticut a crown colony arrived, there was, of course, a celebration. The first governor, John Winthrop, refused to provide rum and in his inaugural address deplored the custom of tippling, saying 'it did not lead to steady habits.' Thereupon the Nutmeg State had a title to hand down to posterity."

A Reason For Conversion.

Old Moses, who belonged to Judge J—— of Macon, Miss., "befo' the wah," was for many years sexton and a devout member of the Presbyterian church, says Harper's Monthly. Shortly after the war the colored Methodists of the community held a rousing meeting in which Moses loudly professed conversion and joined the Methodist church. Some days afterward the judge met him and asked: "How's this, Mose? I hear you have joined the Methodists. I thought I brought you up better than that."

Mose took off his hat and solemnly scratched his woolly pate as he replied: "Yes, sir, massa, dat's so—dat's so. De Presbyterian people am a mighty fine people, an' de Presbyterian church am a mighty fine church, but, massa, don't you t'ink it am powerful dismal fer a nigger?"

The Shillalah.

The shillalah is not a mere stick picked up for a few pence or cut casually out of the common hedge. Like the Arab mare, it grows to maturity under the fostering care of its owner.

The shillalah, like the poet, is born, not made. Like the poet, too, it is a choice plant, and its growth is slow. Among 10,000 blackthorn shoots perhaps not more than one is destined to become famous, but one of the 10,000 appears of singular fitness. As soon as discovered it is marked and dedicated for future service. Everything that might hinder its development is removed, and any offshoot of the main stem is skillfully cut off. With constant care it grows thick and strong upon a bulbous root that can be shaped into a handle.

Cows and Their Milk.

A professor in Konigsberg university has experimented to determine the effects of various foods on the odor given off by cow's milk. "Some cows give always, no matter what their food may be, a milk of strong or disagreeable flavor which is apt to cause digestive troubles. In vain is the food changed—the flavor persists. The taste of the milk depends in a certain measure on the cow's food, but in a degree more important on the peculiarities of the animal."

Lifebuoy Soap—disinfectant—is strongly recommended by the medical profession as a safeguard against infectious diseases.

Depositors in the Anderson Private Bank Will Get Little.

WIDE-AWAKE BANK OF HAMILTON

Chartered Institution Made Itself as Solid as Possible Before the Crash Came—Cyrus Anderson's $80,000 Swallowed Up—Depositors Determined to Have Bank of Hamilton's Mortgage Cancelled.

Oakville, Jan. 6.—There are 481 depositors, representing an aggregate of $240,000 in the bank of Anderson & Son, and not a cent remains to be divided! That is the condition revealed yesterday as a result of a conference of Assignee Clarkson and a committee representing the creditors. Every scrap of security, all available assets are in the vaults of the Bank of Hamilton. To-day the depositors will assemble in the Town Hall to receive the formal announcement of the broken bank's status from the assignee. Briefly, this is the dismal story of the finish of the Anderson private bank.

The committee which conferred with Assignee Clarkson yesterday was composed of John MacDonald, George Andrew and D. O. Cameron. At the Murray Hotel they went over the books and discussed the situation informally preparatory to giving to the depositors to-day the information. The books show that the assets are all in the hands of the Bank of Hamilton. They schedule $117,000, but the Cyrus Anderson residence here, and the farming land near Oakville, is put in at $45,000. The committee thought this would not sell for more than $15,000. Then $11,000 was scaled off of the securities which were thought uncollectable. This leaves $75,000 in the form of notes, mortgages and other collateral security held by the Hamilton bank.

The Bank of Hamilton bases its claim on an alleged payment of some $60,000 for the Andersons on the indebtedness of Anderson & Scott private bank at Palmerston, which was wound up a year ago, and an advance of some $20,000 since to tide over the Oakville bank.

To secure themselves the Bank of Hamilton took a blanket mortgage on all the Anderson real estate in Halton and Wellington Counties and in Hamilton and Toronto. This mortgage was executed Dec. 13, 1901, but was not filed for record until Dec. 11, 1902.

Those representing the depositors say this transaction will be inquired into at once. Suit will be brought requiring a full explanation.

A mighty legal effort will at once be made to force the assets back into the assignee's hands to be realized upon for the benefit of the creditors and depositors. Other litigation will develop in the form of suits for several thousand dollars of drafts alleged to have been sent by different people to the Bank of Hamilton on the Anderson Bank. These were held for two weeks to a month, it is alleged, and then returned dishonored.

As far as the books indicate, and their accuracy is said to be without question, the Bank of Anderson & Son never earned the money paid on deposits. The bank was paying 5 per cent. for money when it seems to be accepted that 3 per cent. was about all the best business men were able to make money earn.

When Cyrus Anderson opened this bank 16 years ago he put into the business $80,000. All of that has been dissipated.

The only thing the Bank of Hamilton forgot to take is about $4,000 worth of personal property, furniture, etc., left in the Anderson home. The depositors can have this to divide among themselves if they wish to throw the grey-haired man, whom they so long trusted, with his wife, into the street.

The heaviest depositors are the MacDonald family, John, George, Alexander, their wives, two sons, Alex. jr., and James, representing $15,000, and Mrs. Ferris Doty has $11,000, while he son Charles represents $4,000. The Oakville Navigation Company is in for $4,000. Other deposits range from $1,500 to $25. While the whole town has been hit pretty hard, it is not believed there will be any failures among the citizens.

The meeting of depositors held in the Council chamber last evening, to discuss a line of action to be taken at the general meeting to-day, was largely attended. According to the brief statement given out by the chairman, John MacDonald, the outlook is not very promising for big dividends. Mr. MacDonald stated that he, with Mr. Cameron and Mr. George Andrew, had been closeted with Mr. Clarkson, the assignee, all the afternoon, and from the statements shown him the depositors may expect but very little if any dividends at all. From what he could see at the present time there was only some $3,000 or $4,000 left for all the depositors. The Bank of Hamilton would scarcely have enough to pay their own claim. A motion was moved recommending committee to be appointed as inspectors at to-day's meeting, and take the very best advice possible to probe the whole matter to the bottom, and see where the money has gone. Mr. MacDonald pointed out if they could render invalid the blanket mortgage given the Bank of Hamilton over a year ago, when to all appearances the firm must have been insolvent, then there would be something for the depositors. To-day's meeting, it is expected, will be largely attended by the townspeople as well as the farmers all over the township. Everybody has been busy filing their claims for days, and a highly interesting time is expected.

Fined Him $50 and Costs.

Kingston, Jan. 6.—For attempted personation in the referendum vote on Dec. 4, Michael Cushion was fined $50 and costs by the police magistrate yesterday morning.

SUTCLIFFE & SONS' White Goods Sale

For itemized account of some of our Special offerings, we refer you to last night's issue of the "Examiner," a copy of which we have sent you to-day. If perchance it has not reached you, it would be worth your while to procure one at the store. They tell of numerous advantageously priced lines in Whitewear and Household Goods.

Let us urge the public to make an early choice. "Plums," such as we at the present time offer, cannot be picked up at our pleasure. It takes months of careful "market watching" by "our own syndicate buyers," to locate the whereabouts of these exceptional values.

How to Get Rich.

Take a quantity of silica costing one-fourth the price of oil; mix it with oil, and sell the compound to the public at the price of pure oil; offer "prizes" with the compound to make it sell. It is such a compound the public get when they buy common soaps. In Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—the public buy a pure and well-made soap. Sunlight Soap reduces expense by prolonging the life of the articles washed with it, which is much more profitable to the public, than common soaps with "prizes." 204

MARRIAGE OF MR. BRODRICK.

Mighty Public Interest Taken in the Event in Old London—Second Marriage of War Secretary.

London, Jan. 6.—The Right. Hon. W. Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, and Madelcine Stanley, daughter of Lady Jeune, were married at St. George's Church, Hanover Square, yesterday afternoon. The scene was brilliant.

Premier Balfour was the best man.

The bride, who was given away by her stepfather, Justice Jeune, was supported by seven bridesmaids dressed in ivory satin and wearing large pale blue picture hats. The bride's dress was of soft chiffon over Duchess satin, with full court train of old lace and chiffon.

There were upwards of six hundred presents. King Edward gave a massive silver gilt inkstand bearing the royal arms.

Among the guests in the church were Princess Christian, the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Lansdowne and other members of the Cabinet, Lord and Lady Roberts, Sir Henry and Lady Stanley and Mr. White, the United States Charge d'Affaires.

Public interest in the event was marked by the crowd outside, which was so great that people broke through the police lines, and almost mobbed the carriages containing Justice Jeune and the bride in their anxiety to see the latter.

This was War Secretary Brodrick's second marriage. His first wife, who died about a year ago, was a daughter of Lady Jeune, wife of the Judge Advocate, Sir Francis Jeune, by her first husband, the late Colonel Constantine Stanley.

REBELS WERE ROUTED.

Fourteen Hundred Defeated by 800 Venezuelan Troops.

Caracas, Jan. 6.—Fourteen hundred revolutionists under Generals Ramos and Penalosa attacked 800 Government troops under command of General Agosta Sunday morning, at a point near Guitere. After four hours' fighting the revolutionists abandoned the field and the town of Guitere. They had 57 men killed and many wounded. One of their guns was taken.

A prisoner captured by the Government forces is authority for the statement that the revolutionists still lack ammunition.

It is reported here that the leaders of the Matos movement are treating with the Government.

The answers from the powers to President Castro's counter proposition in the matter of referring the Venezuelan issues to The Hague tribunal have not yet been received here. They are awaited with considerable anxiety.

About 1,500 revolutionists are reported to be marching on Caracas.

Enforcing the Blockade.

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Great Britain and Germany came to an understanding four days ago to enforce the blockade of the Venezuelan coast precisely as though the negotiations for arbitration were not going on. It was doubtless in consequence of this understanding that the vessels at Porto Cabello were taken.

Signals Were Removed.

Merritton, Jan. 6.—The adjourned inquest into the cause of Saturday's railway wreck will be resumed at 3 o'clock to-day. It is said that block signals used to be in use on that part of the line where the accident took place, but had been recently removed.

Bogus Bills Circulated.

Hamilton, Jan. 6.—In spite of the fact that their numbers and description have been published, bogus Molsons Bank bills continue to be passed in this city. The police say that about $500 worth have been got rid of in the last two weeks.

A Writ For Divorce.

Dresden, Saxony, Jan. 6.—The German Consul at Geneva has received the necessary permission to serve a writ on the Crown Princess Louise in connection with the suit for divorce, brought against her by the Crown Prince of Saxony.

Ten Chinamen Caught.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—A United States officer passed through here yesterday with ten Chinamen captured at the "Soo," in the act of being smuggled into the United States. They will be deported at St. John's, N. B., the port of entry.

Death From a Fall.

Kingston, Jan. 6.—The wife of Edward Taylor, engineer, is dead as a result of injuries received by falling downstairs. The deceased was 38 years of age, and was born in Dundas, whither the body has been taken for burial.

To Come to Canada.

London, Jan. 6.—In March next a large party of emigrants organized by the Rev. Messrs. Darr and Lloyd will sail for Canada.

EMPEROR OF INDIA.

King Edward VII was proclaimed Emperor of India on New Year's Day at a ceremonial gathering at Delhi, of Indian potentates, troops and people surpassing in magnificence any on record. To grasp the deep significance of this event, one needs to read Lord Roberts" work on India, wherein a different scene is described that gave little promise of heralding the peaceful display at the recent Delhi Durbar. After announcing the coming visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, the King-Emperor says in his message:

"I renew the assurances of my regard for the liberties of the Indian people; of my respect for their dignities and rights; of my interest in their advancement, and of my devotion to their welfare. These are the supreme aims and objects of my rule, which, under the blessing of Almighty God, will lead to the increasing prosperity of my Indian Empire and to the greater happiness of its people."

THE OLDEST RAILWAY.

The traveller who leaves Plymouth for London by the Great Western Railway will notice, when he has proceeded two and three quarter miles and is passing the two hundred and forty-fourth mile post from Paddington, that the train crosses a single line of railroad, at a right angle on the level. To it immediately succeeds an over-bridge, and then, on the left hand, or "off" side may be seen the single lin gin question laid upon rough stone blocks, but presenting a decidedly out-of-date appearance. Perhaps a train of four or five little trucks loaded with square lumps of china clay and drawn by a couple of horses may be seen, but in half a mile the old line trends away northward and is lost sight of. It belongs to the oldest railroad company in the world.

The Plymouth and Dartmouth railway was incorporated on July 2, 1819, for "making and maintaining a tramroad or iron railway for the passage of wagons and other carriages" from Crabtree to near the prisons of War on Dartmoor. These prisons had been erected about ten years before on the loneliest and wildest tract of land that could be found, to accommodate the French prisoners of war who inconveniently crowded Plymouth Sound in hulks. The projector of the line, however, Sir Thomas Tyrwhitt had a great idea that Dartmoor was capable of cultivation.

The Plymouth and Dartmoor Railway Company was dissolved, and reincorporated by an act of 1865, for the purpose of bringing it under the provisions of modern acts as to using steam power, etc. The old rates were revised and power taken to carry passengers. It then owed 75,000 pounds to the mortgagees, Messrs. Johnson, who released it on being paid in shares. The company has since constructed some local lines near Plymouth, which are worked by the Great Western and the London and South-western; in fact it is virtually a joint line now. Still, although it owns no rolling stock, it has nominally an independent existence, receives its rent, maintains a London office, and may undoubtedly be considered the oldest railway company in the world.

REACHES SEAT OF TROUBLE.

Don't Try to Cure Hemorrhoids With External Application

When it is such a well known fact that hemorrhoids or piles is a disease originating in the morbid dilatation of the veins of the lower part of the rectum, it seems incredible that people afflicted with this painful trouble should go on doctoring with external salves and washes, when the diseased parts can only be reached by an inward application.

The suppositories used in Pyramid Pile Cure are composed of the most soothing and healing oils and lotions known to Materia Medica, and act on the diseased veins and surrounding tissues like magic, giving almost instant relief. The dilated blood vessels are relieved, the irritation of the mucous membrane ceases and bleeding is stopped.

The predisposing causes of piles are such as produce fullness of the hemorrhoidal veins and impede the return of blood from them, such as constipation, sedentary habits, city life, pregnancy, corsets, etc.; in fact the causes are all fully covered in a very interesting little book published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and the same will be sent free to any address upon application.

The general principles of treatment are, according to the evident causes, active habits, attention to diet, and other hygienic rules, etc., avoidance of constipation and each night the injection of a Pyramid suppository to heal and cure the afflicted parts.

That this treatment has been effective is instanced by the testimony of thousands of people who have been permanently cured and by the evidence of druggists; the case of Mr. Samuel Gouldie, 528 Moyamensing avenue, Philadelphia, is a fair sample.

"For twelve long years I suffered terrible torture from piles. I had been under two surgical operations, once in Cleveland, Ohio, in the year 1895, and once in Toledo, Ohio, in 1900, and also tried a number of salves and ointments from different doctors. I at last found a permanent cure by only using two fifty cent boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure. The first two or three applications gave me relief at once. I am now entirely cured and thank God for finding such a medicine as the Pyramid Pile Cure."

A RUSH FOR LAND.

Veterans Sending in Their Applications Just a Little too Late.

"We sent out 6,600 certificates to veterans who were entitled to land grants," said Mr. Brown, who is in charge of the work, the other day, "and since then we have received enough new applications to make up the 10,000. They have simply been pouring in on us for four weeks. We got 1,000 last week. We have been having 100 callers per day."

The veterans who are now applying had simply neglected the matter until some of their friends had flashed a certificate for 160 acres of land.

AMERICAN FARMERS FOR WEST

One of the features of the past year was the immigration of agriculturalists into the Northwest from the Western States of America. Though numerically not large, probably not exceeding 30,000 to 40,000, those new settlers may be compared to the first few drops of a coming copious shower. Their significance lies, however, in their indicating a reversal in the course of the flow of population, which, since Confederation, as it was for some previous years, was from Canada to the United States so much so as to be a source of weakness to this country that gave grave anxiety to successive governments. It is undeniable that the Dominion was steadily losing young men to such an extent as to threaten its future, for such an exodus year after year of the very flower of the population seemed destined to prevent Canada developing, and a nation with a stagnant population, like a tree that has ceased to grow, is near to the period of decay.

WORTHY NATAL.

The people of Natal, to protect whom was one main object of the war, have informed Mr. Chamberlain that they will, voluntarily, assume a share of the costs of the struggle, to the extent of about $10,000,000, in order to evidence their loyalty and gratitude to the Empire for saving the colony from conquest by the Transvaal Boers. This is one of the direct results of Mr. Chamberlain's mission to South Africa, and must be a source of the highest gratification to the whole Empire as showing how worthy were the people of Natal of the sacrifice made on their behalf.

RUSH POINT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The farmers around Rush Point, and the north of Belmont, are busy getting out wood. The sleighing has been better than for many years past and the roads are good for teaming. The demand for wood this winter will likely lead to a lot of cordwood being got out.

A case of assault between two neighbours of this vicinity came before Judge Edmison in Havelock last week. The trial was postponed until Tuesday of this week, as the time was too short to hear all the evidence. The assault grew out of the late Referendum election, the plaintiff being annoyed because the defendant had suggested his name as a member of the temperance committee for this section. Further particulars next week.

C. P. R. LAND SALES.

Record Receipts From Sale of Railway Lands.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, besides splendid traffic receipts, had heavier receipts last year from land sales than ever before. The sales for the month of December totalled 577,482.61 acres for $1,653,289.45, as against 131,151.16 acres for $403,-261.78 in 1901. For the year of 1902 the sales were 2,420,000 acres for $8,-140,000, against 831,922 acres for $2,-640,000 in 1901. The increase in acreage sold is therefore 1,589,000 acres. The returns not only enrich the Company, but give promise of such development in the Northwest as will add materially to the productive resources and trade of Canada.

A SPLENDID NUMBER.

January Edition of the Literature and Art Surpasses any Number Yet Presented.

The January number of Literature, Art and Music surpasses any number yet presented of that delightful magazine that we have been. Every month it seems to grow better and better, and no home should be without this periodical on its library table. The number has as its first article "College Education as an Aid to Success," handled in a practical, helpful way by J. Sherman White. "The Art of Motherhood" is a bright little sketch, illustrated by beautiful pictures by Patterson DuBois. "A Sojourn in Brittany," also illustrated, takes the reader in imagination into charming scenes and interesting countries. "The Care of the Voice" and "The Secret of the Singer's Power" are both well handled by Tali Esen Morgan and Frank H. Tubbs, two musical authorities. In the Art Department "A Glance at Present Day Illustrations," by John Henley Ross, "Artists and Famous Paintings," and "Stained Glass as a Mural Decoration," profusely illustrated, are choice reading. "In Music Fields" is a department that keeps the musician in touch with other musicians, concerts, recitals and the new music published. "In Art Fields" the same kind of department for Artists is carried out, keeping the Artist in touch with exhibitions, sales, works of interest and Artists. Both of these departments are of invaluable help to those they appeal to. A department called "Among Elocutionists" is promised for next month and will be on the same order. The pages for "Young Men," by James I. Vance, "Oratory," by Charles Wesley Emmerson," "The Mother and the Home," by Margaret E. Sangster; "Our Girls," by Cynthia Westover Alden, president of the Sunshine Society; "The Friendship of Books," by Daniel Hoffman Martin; and "Little Men and Women," are rich in their feast of interesting matter. Some particularly bright stories round out the number of this unusual magazine. Rarely, if ever, have the public had so much given them for their money, and they are not slow in appreciating it, as we understand the demand for it is phenomenal all over the country. If you cannot get it at your newsdealers send to the publishers, 22 Clinton street, Newark, N. J., for it. The subscription price is one dollar a year; ten cents a copy. The offer is being made by the magazine that to all subscribers whose subscription price is received by February 5, the October, November, (Thanksgiving,) and December, (Christmas,) numbers of the magazine, with an Art Study of Chrysanthemums in colours, and two sheets of beautiful music will be sent free. We would advise our readers to take advantage of this offer; you certainly will never have more offered you in choice reading matter in any magazine, outside of the fact that six Art Studies in colour and six sheets of music go with it as supplements throughout the year.

Died of Lockjaw.

London, Jan. 6.—Mr. Thomas Taylor died yesterday morning at St Joseph's Hospital. Deceased accidentally struck his thumb with a hammer on Christmas day. The injury did not seem serious at first, but it became critical, and Mr. Taylor was taken to the hospital, where he died of lockjaw.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion aids digestion, improves nutrition, and increases weight and strength. It is pleasant to take, and agrees with the stomach.

Thousands of well-fed people cannot digest and assimilate their food. They therefore get insufficient nourishment, and are slowly starving. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is for such. It helps digest and assimilate the food, cleanses the stomach and bowels, improves nutrition, tones up and invigorates the entire system and thus increases health, weight and strength. Physicians prescribe it for persons who are recovering from any illness that has left them in a weak, "run-down" condition. Get a small bottle, take according to directions and watch results.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is sold by druggists everywhere. Remember the name and insist on getting Angier's. Large size, $1.00. Small, 50c. ANGIER CHEMICAL COMPANY, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, U.S.A.

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumamatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

EX-PREMIER SAGASTA DEAD.

Former Adviser of the King of Spain Passes Away.

Madrid, Jan. 6.—Former Premier Sagasta died at 6.30 o'clock last evening. The news of Senor Sagasta's death created a painful impression throughout Madrid. King Alfonso displayed profound regret when he heard the news.

His Majesty had desired to visit Senor Sagasta during his illness, but was told that to do so would be contrary to etiquette. Senor Sagasta was born in 1827.

Senor Sagasta's intellect was unimpaired until his last hours. He talked to his daughter, the Presidents of the Senate and of Congress, and to Archbishop of Toledo. King Alfonso has written a touching letter of sympathy to Senor Sagasta's family, and during the former Premier's illness the Queen-mother and other members of the royal family frequently sent officials to enquire as to his condition.

CANADIANS ON THE FENCE.

Sir John Colomb Replies to Sir Charles Tupper's Criticism.

London, Jan. 6.—Writing to The Times yesterday Sir John Colomb denies Sir Charles Tupper's statement that he opposed the Pacific cable scheme. Sir John opposes the demands of Canada, and says the pockets of the English people are not to furnish contributions to carry out projects of commercial advantage to the Dominion, while the Kingdom is to bear the burden of protecting these undertakings in the event of war, and so long, Sir John adds, as Canadian statesmen are content to sit on the fence and the Dominion neither pays nor guarantees a brass farthing towards the British war fleet, he will feel it his duty to continue that opposition.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years, prior to his death, never travelled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realised that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into Pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple anti septic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendancy to Pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburg writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded steam heated school room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room.

THE LIBERAL PARTY.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, Makes Spirited Defence.

MR. BLAKE'S LETTER ANSWERED

The Writer Charged With Circulating Falsehood—Persons Were Prosecuted on a Charge of Tampering With the Ballots, and No Less Than Thirty Were Reported For Corrupt Practices.

Listowel, Jan. 6.—Two halls were insufficient to hold the crowds of North Perth electors who swarmed to Listowel last night from far and near to hear Premier Ross speak in support of the candidature of Mr. John Brown. No such demonstration had been expected, and when Macdonald's Music Hall had been filled to the suffocation point an overflow meeting in the Town Hall was hastily arranged, so that nearly 2,000 people were accommodated, and yet there were many who were unable to find a place to hear the speakers of the evening. It was a grand rally in testimony to the popularity of the Premier and Mr. Brown, and a solid protest against the carpet-bag method of influence, which is the greatest foe the Liberals of North Perth have to fear in this contest. The audiences were of a mature, intelligent, thinking class, who absorbed every sentence uttered, and at intervals gave vent to their enthusiasm and appreciation in loud bursts of applause.

Premier Ross' Speech.

Premier Ross, who was in fine form, as in his other recent meetings took a decidedly aggressive stand in reply to the slanders cast upon the party. On the letter of Mr. S. H. Blake he said: "Mr. Blake appeals in this letter in these terms to the people. He says:—'I hopefully expect the 7th of January as a day when shall be heard an unmistakable utterance on the part of the people, showing that they earnestly desire to cleanse and uplift our Province, to introduce truth, honesty and righteousness, which alone exalt and make great a nation.' I agree with Mr. Blake that truth, honesty and righteousness alone exalt and make great a nation. That is a fundamental principle, and the man who does not subscribe to that principle does not understand the basis of national prosperity. None would suppose that a man lying down that platform would himself speak anything but the truth. I am here to say that Mr. Blake's letter does not contain all the truth. I am here to say that there is a statement in this letter which discredits it from beginning to end; and there is a falsehood written over the face of the letter. (Cheers.) He says we have had no dismissals, no prosecutions, no determined attempt to end this reign of debasement. Would you be surprised when I tell you that, so far as there be no prosecutions to end this reign of debasement, the Government of which I am Premier brought before the courts no less than thirty persons who had been reported for corrupt practices?" Mr. Ross then read from a list the names of many who, of those convicted in South Ontario, Halton and South Perth, had been punished by heavy fines, and sometimes imprisoned. He called upon Mr. Blake to withdraw the letter.

A Spirited Defence.

Of the general position of the Liberal party Mr. Ross also made a spirited defence, and concluded by repeating the story of building up Ontario. The other speaker of the evening was Senator McMullen of Mount Forest, who, as usual, held the close attention of his audience while he gave facts at first hand. The approach of polling finds the Liberals in the northern townships exceptionally enthusiastic, with no cloud upon the horizon except the presence of a large number of mysterious persons who come and go in the shadows of the night, and leave no names on the hotel registers.

Mr. Whitney at Stratford.

Stratford, Jan. 6.—Every inch of sitting and standing room in the Opera House was occupied last night by a mass meeting of electors to hear Messrs. J. P. Whitney and J. J. Foy speak on the issues of the day. These gentlemen were escorted from their hotel by a band and procession.

J. C. Monteith, the Conservative candidate for North Perth, and A. F. MacLaren, M.P., gave addresses, and were followed by Mr. Foy.

Mr. Whitney was the last speaker, and the meeting concluded at a late hour.

John Charlton Spoke.

Waterford, Jan. 6.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Opera House here last evening in the interests of A. M. Little, the Reform candidate in the bye-election in North Perth. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Little. John Charlton, M. P., followed. He defended the policy and course of the Ross Government.

Meeting at Lasalette.

Lasalette, Jan. 6.—The political meeting held at Lasalette last night in the interest of the Liberal candidate, A. M. Little, was addressed by Hon. George McHugh and Hon. F R. Latchford, Minister of Public Works, who gave a lengthy address in the interests of the Ross Government, and financial standing of the Ontario Government

Financial World Shaken By Standard Oil Co.

Sensational Advance of $1 a Barrel on Fuel Oil.

BIG REFINERY DEAL IN KERN RIVER

Unanimous Vote of Directors of Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. Most Important in its History—Means Fortunes in Dividends to its Stockholders—Rapid Advance of Shares Predicted—The Public, Thoroughly Aroused, Realizes That Oil Investments Like Eastern Consolidated are Both Safe and Enormously Profitable.

The financial centres of the world were shaken to their foundation by the announcements made in New York papers on Dec. 29 and 30, that the Standard Oil Co. had sent the price of fuel oil up $1 a barrel!

This means millions of dollars annually to the oil business of this country.

The stock of the Standard Oil Co. has advanced $36 in less than three weeks!

This fact is of tremendous import to every stockholder or prospective investor in the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co., which has rich holdings in the heart of the Kern River district in California.

These properties are in the very heart of the richest oil section in the world. Six rich producing wells are already down on this property.

Standard Oil Co.'s Experience.

The history and experience of the Standard Oil Co. show that the richest profits of the oil industry are in oil refining.

Crude oil sells for a good profit, it is true, but when once it is refined and separated into illuminating oil, fuel oil, lubricating oil and the various by-products, such as the gasolene and naphtha group and asphalt, it is many times as profitable.

There the greatest, most urgent need of the oil industry is the need of oil refineries. What happened in the early days of the oil industry in Pennsylvania will happen again.

Eastern Consolidated's Opportunity.

The officers and directors of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. anticipated these conditions, and when the time came they were ready to act.

The Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. Already has Over 21,000 Acres of Rich oil Land, 114 Producing oil wells and a production of over 60,000 barrels of oil a month.

The fact that the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. already has this enormous production of oil and large acreage of oil lands (all practically paid for) puts it in a position to realize to the full the advantages to be derived from the erection of a big oil refinery.

Will Build Big Oil Refinery.

The officers were approached by capitalists who wished to organize a separate company and build a big refinery, but the plan was refused.

The officers of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. decided at once that if any one were to make these enormous profits from the oil of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co's Kern River wells, it should be the stockholders of the company and no one else.

No debt of any kind or any amount, however small, shall be incurred for the building of the Oil Refinery in Kern River.

A refinery will not only vastly increase the company's revenues, but render it practically independent. It opens the way to new success and greater dividends in the future.

Special Allotment of Stock.

At one of the most important meetings ever held in the history of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. the directors considered ways and means for building the refinery.

A Special Allotment of 100,000 shares of stock to be sold at 50c. a share, for the express purpose of building a refinery, and for no other purpose, was unanimously voted.

In order to appreciate the value of a refinery on the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company's Kern River property it should be remembered that the company already has six big producing wells on this tract, pouring forth oil at the rate of over 50,000 barrels of oil monthly!

As soon as sufficient funds have been raised for this purpose the stock will either be taken off sale entirely or advanced to par value—$1.00.

Now, while 50,000 barrels of crude oil at only 50c. a barrel represents the exceedingly tidy income of $25,000 a month, yet with a refinery that income can easily be augmented to over $100,000 a month!

Profits of Oil Refining.

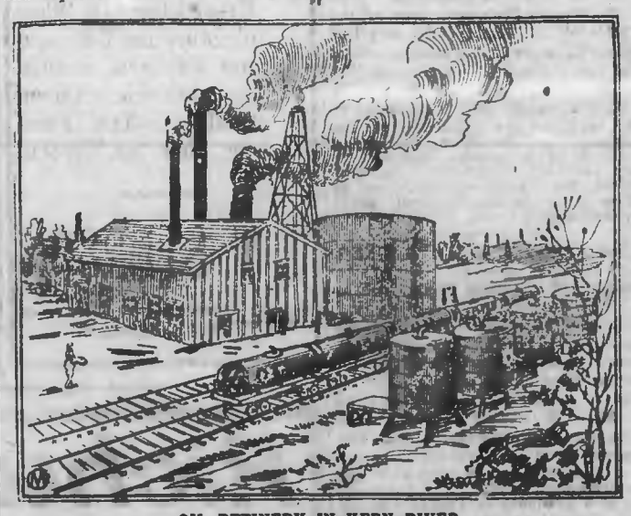
Crude petroleum oil as it comes from the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co's wells in Kern River, is now sold to other companies, such as the Standard Oil Co., which have big refineries.

The refining of crude petroleum separates its component parts into four general groups—illuminating oil, lubricating oil, gasolene or naphtha and asphaltum.

Any one of these products of the oil refinery is worth from 5 to 12 times the value of the original crude oil.

The following table shows roughly and approximately the proportion of the different distillates of 50,000 barrels of crude oil:

	Barrels.
Illuminating oil, about	17,500
Gasolene, about	10,000
Naphtha, about	10,000
Lubricating oils, about	8,500
Asphalt, about	3,400
Waste and loss, about	600
	50,000



OIL REFINERY IN KERN RIVER.

View of a typical Kern River Oil refinery, showing the usual arrangement of storage and settling tanks for the different distillants, and spur tracks for the filling of oil tank cars. The capacity of the refinery to be put up by the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. will be thousands of barrels of crude oil per day.

Refinery of Ample Capacity.

The new refinery will be of ample capacity and capable of refining into the different distillates many thousands of barrels of crude oil every day.

Should the production from the company's own well be less than the capacity of its new refinery, several of the largest companies in Kern River will be glad to turn their oil over to us for refining at a handsome profit.

The officers of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co., have already been approached by the officers of one company which was contemplating the construction of an expensive pipe line to carry away its crude oil. They are anxious to have the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. refine their oil, and will make advantageous terms.

Rapid Rise of Stock.

For a number of weeks we have been talking about the advance of the stock of this company from 50 cents a share to par value.

The intelligent and careful investor will understand and appreciate the reason for the present action of the directors. The issue of a new allotment of stock at the old price is made for a special and definite object, to build a refinery.

The refinery, once built, will so increase the company's revenues that the price of the stock will of necessity advance.

Within a few months the price of Eastern Consolidated Oil Co's stock will certainly advance, not merely to par, but in all probability to several dollars a share.

This allotment gives the careful, conservative investor one more opportunity to secure this stock at a price far below its actual value.

The Fiscal Agents.

The stock of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. is for sale only by the accredited fiscal agents, C. B. Heydon & Co., Rooms, 401 and 402 Manning Chambers Building, 72 Queen street west, corner Queen and Terauley streets, Court House Square, Toronto, Ont.

Remember, this is the stock which has paid the original investors 27 per cent on their investment in thirteen months.

LEAVING PETERBOROUGH.

Mr. J. W. Garvin Goes to Detroit to Accept an Important and Lucrative Position.

Last night Mr. J. W. Garvin, announced at the officers' mess of the 57th Regiment, that he had resigned his position in connection with the North American Life Assurance Co., and had accepted the managership for the State of Michigan, of the Manufacturers' Life Assurance Company, of Canada, with headquarters at Detroit. Though Mr. Garvin has accepted a position which will require him to spend a considerable portion of his time in the United States, he will still remain a Canadian citizen and a British subject. Mrs. Garvin will remain in Peterborough till the autumn, and at that time will probably, if Mr. Garvin's official duties permit it, take residence with the latter in Windsor, (opposite Detroit.) Mr. Garvin still retains his property and financial interest in Peterborough, and will remain a director of the Sugar Beet Company. He will also retain, till the next camp, his military connection of Quartermaster, with the rank of Captain, of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons.

Mr. Garvin will be accompanied by his brother, Mr. George E. Garvin, who has been district inspector of the North American Life, and will be chief agent of the Manufacturers for the city of Detroit.

Mr. Garvin's many friends, while regretting an arrangement which calls him away from Peterborough, heartily congratulate him on his promotion.

Mr. Fred W. Palmer and son, Mason, of Wheatland, North Dakota, are in town visiting, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Hall. Mr. Palmer is an old Peterborough boy, having left here about twenty-five years ago for the west, where he took up farming quite extensively.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. A GRAND MILITARY BANQUET

Tendered Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards Last Night.

He was Presented With a Handsome Pair of Field Glasses—The Speeches.

The officers' quarters of the 57th Regiment was the scene of an enjoyable gathering last night, it being the occasion of a complimentary banquet and presentation to Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, who recently retired from the command of the regiment.

The chair was occupied by Surgeon-Major Halliday, President of the Mess Committee, whilst the Vice-chair was occupied by Capt. L. M. Hayes, Secretary of the Mess Committee. Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, the guest of the evening, sat to the right of Lieut.-Col. Miller, whilst to the left of Lieut.-Col. Miller sat Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, ex-Commanding Officer of the 3rd Dragoons.

The toast of the King was duly honoured after which Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers in replying to the toast of the Canadian Militia, gave a number of personal reminiscences of his connection with the service.

Major Dennistoun proposed the toast of Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards and at the same time presented him with a handsome pair of field glasses on behalf of the mess of the 57th. Lieut.-Col. Edwards when he arose to reply was heartily received. He reviewed the history of the 57th and thanked the officers of the corps for the support they gave him during his term of Commandant. He hoped that he might still be of some service to the regiment and to the service.

Mayor-elect Roger and Alderman-elect McWilliams replied to the toast of the Mayor and Corporation, and Lieut. Bradburn and Lieut. Ackerman of the 14th Field Battery, and Major Young and Capt. Garvin, of the 3rd Dragoons, responded to the toast of sister corps.

The time-honoured toast of the press was conspicuously wanting, no members of the press having been honoured with an invitation. The gathering concluded about midnight.

The Regimental Band very kindly volunteered to furnish music during the evening and played several splendid selections.

DOING GOOD BY STEALTH.

How Mr. Cochrane of the Children's Aid Society was Surprised.

Mr. George Cochrane, agent of the Children's Aid Society, was surprised yesterday morning on opening one of the outer doors of his residence, to see on the floor a five dollar bill, with the request that it be placed to the credit of the Children's Aid Society, but no clue to the anonymous donor. It is perhaps incorrect to say that Mr. Cochrane was surprised, for within the past two or three weeks he has received $50.00 in this way.

NEW MEDICAL PRACTICIONER.

Dr. Chas. B. Coughlin Has Opened an Office on Hunter Street.

As will be observed in our advertising columns, Dr. Chas. B. Coughlin has opened an office for the practice of his profession at 224 Hunter street, the former residence of Mrs. Walter Paterson. Dr. Coughlin is an old Peterborough boy. He was born in Asphodel Township and at one time was a student at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. He is a graduate of Trinity University Medical College, and also took a post graduate course in New York, and recently took a special course in Chicago. He has for twelve years carried on practice in Arthur, Wellington County, and is well equipped in every way for the successful practice of his profession. The Examiner welcomes Dr. Coughlin to Peterborough and also Mrs. Coughlin, who is also a former resident of Peterborough.

RESULTS OF MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Eight of Last Year's Council Re-elected.

THREE BYLAWS DEFEATED.

Mr R. F. McWilliams Heads the Poll—Mr. Frank Adams Elected in Ashburnam—Other Places.

The municipal elections in Peterborough yesterday resulted in the return of eight of last year's council and three new members, Messrs. R. F. McWilliams, D. O'Connell and Jas. Finnie. The old councillors elected are Messrs. H. Rush, H. Best, Robt. Clinkscale, M. A. Morrison, James Edgecumb, Jos. Batten, Benj. Shortly and John Corkery.

Mr. William Pringle was elected over Mr. Wm. Langford for school trustee for Ward No. 4, and the three bylaws that were submitted to the ratepayers, viz., for the exemption of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons factory, for the establishment of a municipal fuel yard, and for the borrowing of $20,000 for permanent improvements, were defeated.

Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. H. Hill and T. H. G. Denne were elected as Water Commissioners.

The vote yesterday was a heavy one and much interest was displayed in the elections by the ratepayers. The fact that the ratepayers were asked to vote for 11 Aldermen, 3 Water Commissioners and on three bylaws caused a slight congestion of business at the noon hour, when so many desired to vote, but the deputy returning officers and poll clerks performed their duties admirably and the returns were handed out at a reasonably early hour. George street in front of the Examiner office, all evening, was packed with people who were eager to learn the results of the various contests. The returns were given out as quickly as they could be compiled and by 9 o'clock the composition of the various municipal bodies was known.

The feature of the contest yesterday was the election of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who sought Aldermanic honours, by a vote of 822. Mr. McWilliams headed the poll, being 116 votes above Mr. Joseph Batten, who came second in the running. Mr. Best came third, polling a vote of 696, whilst Mr. Rush holds fourth place, having a vote of 669.

It is generally conceded that the new council is made up of representative, energetic and progressive material, the members of which will lend Mayor-elect Roger valuable assistance in pursuing the forward policy so much in evidence with the work of the council of the past few years.

As to the new members none of them have yet been in municipal life, and they will have an opportunity of showing their worth within the next 12 months. The old councillors who were defeated were Mr. J. J. Turner and his desk-mate, Robert McGregor.

The voting on the bylaws resulted as follows:

MR. ADAMS ELECTED

Over his Opponent Mr. George Stevens by 101 Majority.

There was a stiff fight put up in Ashburnham both for the Reeveship and for Councillors. Mr. Frank Adams, a former reeve of the village, was elected for that position over Mr. George Stevens, by a majority of 101. The vote stood, Adams, 255; Stevens, 154.

Mr. Wm. Scott made an excellent run for the council, polling a vote of 289 Messrs. Wm. Faint, Wm. Gibbs and James Hourigan were the other councillors elected.

CONTEST IN SMITH.

Mr. Wm. Elliott won out in an Exciting Race for Reeveship.

There has not been a contest for the Reeveship in the Township of Smith for 29 years till the election of yesterday which aroused great interest. The candidates were Messrs. E.M. Elliott and Samuel Stenson, both of whom put up strong fights. Mr. Elliott came out victorious by a vote of 355 to 257—a majority of 98. The last contest for the Reeveship of Smith was 29 years ago when the late Isaac Garbutt was elected. Since that time the various reeves of the township were elected by acclamation, but the elections for councillors have been quite frequent. This year, however, the council was elected by acclamation, and is composed as follows: Messrs. Wm. Bell, Jas. A. Fowler, Robert J. Duff and R. Scott.

Mr. H. C. Garbutt has dropped out of the council after a connection with that body of 25 years. At the nomination proceedings he was given a hearty vote of thanks and three cheers and a tiger on his retirement in recognition of his services.

The vote for the Reeveship was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	To'l
Elliott	77	85	98	41	54	355
Stenson	101	77	41	14	24	257

Majority for Elliott 98

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The election for a representative for the Norwood Division of the County Council, resulted in the election of Mr. W. T. Buck, Asphodel, and W. T. Curtis of Havelock. The other candidates were Messrs. Pearce, Jeffs, Andrews and Anderson.

DOURO.

The elections here yesterday resulted in the return of Mr. John Quinn as reeve, over Mr. McCliggott, by a majority of 15. The councillors elected were Messrs. John Allan, Jas. Condon, Charles Curtis and Patrick Ryan.

MILLBROOK.

Mr. W. S. Given was elected reeve over Mr. Isaac Needham.

VERY GRATIFYING.

Our customers have taken us fairly by storm again this winter. Never before have we been favoured with so much selling of so much of the better class of Furs to such a large class of influential and desirable patrons.

The store is still bountifully full of HIGH-CLASS FURS—altogether different to what is ordinarily offered. And yet the prices are not different to the extent of being extravagant. You will be surprised at the many handsome things you can get with little-priced tickets on them.

TURF.

THE RACES.

Great interest is being centred in the winter race meet of the Peterborough Turf Club, which will be held in the driving park on Jan. 21st and 22nd. It is expected that some fast and exciting events will be witnessed. The races fall on the same date as the visit of the Scottish curlers, so that people from outside places may take in the races in the afternoon and the curling at night.

BOYS CHASED THE PUCK

In the Brock Street Rink Last Night.

Quite a Number of Citizens Were Present to Witness the Practice—Ice was Good.

Peterborough's new rink was last night throw open to the hockeyists of the town for the first time. The rink presented a very attractive appearance, and it was visited by many townspeople. The six arc lights sent a great glow of light over the large sheet of ice, and the clash of the hockey sticks re-echoed throughout the building. The ice was in fair condition, and the boys had a two hours' work out.

Amongst those who were seen chasing the puck were Roly Glover, Harry Morgan, Fred Whiteroft, Chris. Graham, Jack Crough, Bert Cameron, Vic. Hamilton, and Bob Parker. They all went into the game with great determination, and Secretary McPherson looked on approvingly.

The seats at the sides and the dressing rooms are being rushed to completion, and by Saturday night the rink will be in fit condition for general occupation. Those who visited the rink last night were highly pleased with the appearance of the interior.

The T.A.S. and the Peterborough teams will practice this evening. It is understood that the T.A.S. team have completed arrangements whereby they will occupy the Brock street rink this winter.

The Trent Valley match, which was to have been played in the new rink on Friday night next, between Lindsay and Peterborough, will likely be changed from here to the Scugog town.

FORMAL OPENING.

The grand opening of Peterborough's new rink will take place on Saturday night, when Peterborough will play Varsity. The game should arouse considerable interest, as the Varsity team is in excellent condition, and has been playing a number of exhibition games throughout the province. It is expected that the seating accommodation will be perfected by Saturday night. The general admission is 25c., reserved seats, 35c., and balcony, 50c.

ELECTIONS MONDAY FOR 1903.

Ald. Thomas Urquhart, Who Unsuccessfully Contested West Toronto Against Mr. Crawford, M.P.P., Last Elections, in the Reform Interest, Mayor of Toronto on a Public Ownership Platform.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—Yesterday the counting of the ballots disclosed a surprise to many. notwithstanding the fact that two years ago the city had shown its regard by giving a by-law to secure control of the gas monopoly a majority of over 7,000 votes, in the election of Ald. Urquhart. who came out at almost the last moment for Mayor on a purely public ownership platform. Only the Telegram supported him, which added to the surprise. His majority over Mayor Howland is about 750, with Lamb third double that number of votes behind the winning candidate. C. C. Robinson and Woodley polled less than a thousand votes each.

Civic Ownership Progressing.

Outside of Toronto there was nothing startling in the elections in cities, towns, villages and municipalities. So far, as can be seen politics entered very little more than usual into the fights. The most pronounced feature of the day was the carrying of numerous bylaws looking toward improvements throughout the province.

Guelph carried bylaw to buy the Light and Power Company. This shows how the idea of civic ownership is progressing.

Listowell also falls into line and will take over the electric light and water works.

Belleville also decided to place the management of the water works in the hands of the City Council.

Brussels carried Lotteridge bylaw, providing for a loan of $5,000 to the Lotteridge Bros. to put in operation the Brussels woollen mills.

New Hamburg carried a bylaw to raise $2,500 to build Shade street bridge.

In Windsor the vote granting exemption from taxation for ten years to the Erie Tobacco Company was defeated for want of a sufficient percentage of the total votes.

In Merritton the bylaw to build granolithic works was defeated by 7.

Orillia carried a bylaw putting into force the county road system.

Beaverton carried a bylaw to build a new town hall.

Waterloo carried a bylaw to loan Schierholtz & Co. $5,000, and give them a free site and tax exemption for 10 years. The firm will build an upholstering factory.

Dunnville carried a bylaw to grant a loan of $15,000 to J. D. Pennington of Dundas to start a refrigerator and wood working factory.

Port Hope carried a bylaw to raise $10,000 for the establishment of the Standard Ideal Sanitary Company's works.

Markham Village carried a bylaw to exempt the Lount Brush Handle from taxation.

Three bylaws were carried in Goderich for public library, for mill exemption, knitting factory exemption.

Chatsworth decided to have the village incorporated.

A bylaw was submitted to Belleville electors, which provided that the balance of the $50,000 bonus, originally granted to Messrs. Abbott & Mitchell, to construct and operate the rolling mills, namely, $30,000, should be paid to Mr. T. M. Kirkwood, in instalments of $5,000 per year, providing he rolls 7,000 tons of iron or steel per year, or a less amount pro rata, providing not less than 3,500 tons are rolled. A large vote was polled, the bylaw being in the opinion of the city clerk, carried. The figures are: For 1,490, against 88.

Peterboro defeated bylaws for the exemption of J. J. Turner & Sons, the establishment of a civic fuel yard and the raising of $20,000 for permanent improvements were defeated.

Collingwood carried the county good roads bylaw. a bylaw to grant a bonus of $25,000 to the wire and nail factory, a bylaw to buy for $25,000 the Toner & Gregory mill property, and a bylaw to expend money to improve the harbor.

The bylaw voted on in London for a grant of $2,000 to purchase a site for the Carnegie public library was carried. The bylaw to grant $40,000 for good roads was defeated.

Toronto carried a money bylaw to buy a new pumping engine by a large majority.

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish, and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

HER DOWER PROTECTED.

Mrs. Anderson's Name Not Attached to Bank of Hamilton Mortgage.

Oakville, Jan. 5.—A statement will be submitted to the depositors of the banking firm of C. W. Anderson & Son at a meeting to be held on Tuesday. On Saturday a deputation interviewed the Bank of Hamilton to ascertain the amount of their claims and their securities. It is understood that little or nothing is left for the creditors. One of the deputation stated that the name of Mrs Cyrus Anderson is not attached to the mortgage on the Oakville property. If this is the case Mrs. Anderson's dower is protected. Its cash value would be between $10,000 and $15,000

Financial Journals of England Report Bumper Half Year.

London, Jan. 6.—The Financial News says there can be no question but that the Grand Trunk Railway Company has enjoyed a bumper half year.

The Financial Times says there was a recent revival of the old-fashioned suggestion of a leakage of information regarding the earnings of the Grand Trunk, but it fails to find any confirmation in the traffic statement of the past ten days of the half year.

BURNED TO DEATH.

TRIALS OF AN OLD LADY.

Could Scarcely Walk, and Sleep and She Were Strangers.

Kidney Complaint was the Trouble—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured it and now she can Both Sleep and Walk.

Bear River, Digby County, N. S., Jan. 5th. — (Special.) — Of peculiar interest to aged people is the statement made by Mrs. Elizabeth Berry of this place. Mrs. Berry is over sixty-five years of age, and for eight years she was troubled with Chronic Kidney Complaint. She was so bad that she could scarcely walk from one room to another; she could not sleep and she required assistance even to dress herself. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is what she says herself:

"A friend advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took one box, but that not helping me I left off taking any more for three years. I at last got so that I could not dress or undress myself and could scarcely sleep more than five minutes at a time. Then I resolved to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a thorough trial. I took five boxes and they proved to be such a success, I took seven more boxes. Now I can sleep much better and am completely cured of Kidney Trouble.

"When I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I could only walk from one room to another. Now I can walk a mile."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the old feel young again.

The first publication will occur the end of this month.

Protest Against Gown.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—A deputation of about forty members of Dominion Methodist Church waited on Rev. Dr. Rose last night to protest against his wearing a gown. It is understood the interview was unsatisfactory. The deputation after the pastor withdrew formed an association to oppose the introduction of "undesirable innovations in the Methodist Church." W. J. Pain was elected president, J. S. Eagleson secretary.

Due to Middleman.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 6.—(C. P. R. despatch.)—There are nearly 7,000 cords of wood in the railway yards here awaiting dealers, the blockade is not due to any fault of railways, but is the result of inactivity on the part of cord wood middlemen who neglect to unload cars.

Found Dead in Bed.

CHAMBERLAIN AND MILNER.

Met at Charlestown, Natal, Where Their Greeting Was Impressive—A Zululand Seaport—At Pretoria Now.

Charleston, Natal, Jan. 5. — Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa, and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain had an impressive meeting here Friday in the presence of a great crowd of soldiers and civilians, many of whom came miles across the veldt to witness the reception of the commissioner by his chief.

Lord Milner and his staff mounted the steps leading to Mr. Chamberlain's special train, and there was a look of decided pleasure on the thin features of the Colonial Secretary as he grasped Lord Milner's hand.

There were cheers and loud calls for a speech, but Mr. Chamberlain contented himself with briefly thanking Lord Milner for the welcome, and the two officials entered the observation car of the train, which steamed off towards the Transvaal, followed by the cheers of the crowd.

An Important Announcement.

Ladysmith, Natal, Jan. 5. — Col. Sir Henry McCallum, the Governor of Natal, made an important announcement at a banquet in honor of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Saturday night. He said that the Government had decided to establish a new seaport at Umslatuzi, Zululand, and in this way connect the coast with the newly annexed territories of Vryheid and Utrecht. Thence connection would be made with the Transvaal and there would be no occasion for using Delagoa Bay, the seaport of Portuguese East Africa.

Now at Pretoria.

Pretoria, Jan. 5.—The special train bearing Mr. Chamberlain and his party arrived here last midnight. The Colonial Secretary met with an enthusiastic reception.

Do You Look on the Dark Side?

Are You Blue, Discouraged Irritable and Depressed?—It may be Your Nerves are Exhausted and You Need

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Irritability and mental depression, sometimes amounting to melancholy and despondency, are marked symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

In the beginning you feel languid and tired, find it impossible to concentrate your thoughts. The tasks of the day are put off till the morrow, little things worry you, you forget your blessings and look on the dark side of things.

At times there may be nervous headaches, spells of dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness and general weakness of the body. You dread what the future may bring to you and feel the work and responsibilities of life more than you can bear.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"For some years I was troubled with indigestion which developed into nervous dyspepsia and besides suffering from nervousness, strange, dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed and as a result of its use I am quite restored to health."

The wonderful medicinal power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been demonstrated in thousands of cases. Gradually and certainly it creates new nerve cells, builds up the system, and overcomes the weakness which gives rise to nervous ailments and feelings of depression and despondency. New hopes, new confidence, new vitality are instilled into the body and health and strength take the place of disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 4

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Micht's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

LIKE A CITY PARK.

Trees Flourish in the Experimental Farm at Brandon—What the Farmers Are Doing in This Direction.

Superintendent Bedford of the Brandon, Manitoba, Experimental Farm, has made his six hundred and fifty acres like a city park, so many and so flourishing are the trees. He has gone into hedges, too, and has accomplished wonders along that line. He has a small plot devoted to fruit trees, and he is quite confident that some day Manitoba apples will grade up alongside Manitoba No. 1 hard. He sees no reason why some of the firm-fleshed apples, crossed with the crab, should not do well in the north country.

The Manitoba Experimental Farm is working hand in hand with the forestry department. In 1902 one million soft maples were distributed. There are orders for twice as many next year. Manitoba is going to have a garment of verdure that will vie with old Ontario. The countryside is to be garnished with soft maple, elm, Russian poplar, ash, and balsam, all of which do well under these skies; the river willow, the white poplar, and the scrub oak, hardy endogens that they are, have approved their right to live on. The quickset hedge will counterfeit old England. The Asiatic maple makes a beautiful leafy barrier, a veritable wall of boscage against which storm and wind chafe in vain.

And yet you must not imagine that Manitoba can ever grow trees like British Columbia, or like Eastern Canada, for that matter. The prairie soil will brook no tree that puts the wheat out of countenance. The wheat must be the dominant note in the landscape, the trees a mere accompaniment. Manitoba trees do not tower. They do not aspire to be lofty or noble. Their duty is to bloom, be sturdy, and look pleasant. They are little trees to the Eastern eye, and a hedge of Asiatic maple can easily outtop the tallest. Still, they are trees, with shade under them and shelter beneath them. The birds will sing in them, and lovers will walk in lanes of them. The experimental farm pays for itself when it accomplishes this tree mission. It is gratifying to know that the rough-and-ready West will spend some of its opulence on appearances.

The Manitoba farmer may well laugh at the Easterner who conceives that a Western landscape is featureless. If the land happens to be flat, look at his illimitable horizons, the burnished sun, the blue dome of the sky, the hoary majesty of the moon, and the brilliancy of the stars. Picture the oceans of grain surging green in the spring, and golden in summer. And when the harvest ripens, what can be more beautiful than the tender yellow of the barley, the gold of the wheat, and the white of the oats, great chequers of color which please the eye with their tints, satisfy the mind with their orderliness, and tickle the heart with their promise of plenty. If his eye is not filled with that, he looks at the black band of summer fallow, or further on to the unbroken prairie sod, spangled with the gentle and the flame-like flowers that the poet sings about. Even the broken sod, with the murdered flowers thrusting their heads above the furrows, carries sentiment with it. Poor flowers, your day is over! Happy, laughing soil, your pleasuring is done! You must work now, and put the glad clothes aside!

And still the half hasn't been told. The Manitoba farmer casts his eye over the landscape again, to see his fat, contented cattle browsing on prairie hay or brown grass. No stalled ox has such juicy fare. Perhaps there is a little sag in the prairie, and at the foot of it, a land-locked pool, fringed with sedge and reeds. It bristles with duck, mallard, teal, widgeon, blue bill, spoon bill, and a dozen others. The prairie chicken makes his covert in the edges of the wheat fields and gorges on the fat, red grain. Be sure the busiest farmer will find time to pot a few of these toothsome little robbers. And if a man is keen on the shoot there is always the busy little gopher to stimulate marksmanship.

The fact is that Manitoba is rich in those sentimental adjuncts which men affect to despise, but secretly long for—H. F. G., in Toronto Star.

Beaver in Manitoba.

One of our exchanges, noting the fact that colonies of beaver are still to be found in Manitoba, a quantity of new dams being in evidence in Boggy Creek, which, we believe, is on the northeast slope of the Riding Mountains, states, says The Boissevain Recorder, that few outsiders are aware of the fact that there are still beaver in Manitoba. The position which some of these interesting animals occupy on the banks of the Souris, near the town of Hartney, and along the Assiniboine and Souris Rivers those who are interested can find in many places evidences of their presence, although the exigencies of the situation have compelled them to abandon the smaller streams and their habits of building dams and becoming what is known as bank beavers. A halfbreed recently informed us that a beaver had been killed last fall on the Willow Creek, a tributary to the Souris, which is on the Dakota side of the Turtle Mountains, and if the laws could be strictly enforced there is no reasan why they should not increase and again occupy some of the favorable positions which abound throughout the wilder districts of Manitoba.

Canadian Cartoonists.

The first of the famous Canadian cartoonists was, of course, Mr. Bengough. Fun formed a large ingredient, especially in his earlier and much-prized plates. Sam Hunter is a happy successor. Mr. Hunter grows more felicitous the more he draws. Some of his most recent efforts have been particularly well conceived, and when it is remembered that the modern cartoonist is called upon for three or four cartoons for every one that Nast drew it must be admitted that he of to-day must live at higher pressure than the draughtsman of a quarter century ago.—Toronto Globe.

THE PINES.

By Charles Mair.

"O heard ye the pines in their solitude sigh,
When the winds were awakened and night was nigh?
When the elms breathed out a sorrowful tale,
Which was wafted away on the wings of the gale;

"When the aspen leaf whispered a legend dread,
And the willows waved darkly over the dead:
And the poplar shone with a silvery gleam,
And trembled like one in a troublesome dream;

"And the cypresses murmured of grief and woe,
And the linden waved solemly to and fro,
And the sumach seemed wrapt in a golden mist,
And the soft maple blushed where the frost had kissed;

"And the spectral birch stood alone in the gloom,
Like an unquiet spirit uprist from the tomb;
And the cedar outstretched its lone arms to the earth,
To feed with sweet moisture the place of its birth;

"And the hemlock, uplifted above the crowd,
Drunk deeply of mist at the brink of a cloud;
And the balsams, with curtains of shaggy green,
Like tents in the distance were dimly seen.

"I heard the pines in their solitude crying,
When the winds were awakened, and day was dying;
And fiercer the storm grew, and darker its pall,
But the voice of the pines was louder than all—

Song of the Pines.

"We stand all aloof, for the giant strength
Craveth naught from lesser powers;
'Tis the shrub that loveth the fertile ground,
But the sturdy rock is ours!
We tower aloft where the hunters lag
By the weary mountain side,
By the jagged cliff, by the grimmest crag,
And the chasms yawning wide.

"We commune with the stars through the paley night,
For we love to talk with them;
The wind is our harp, and the marvelous light
Of the moon our diadem.
And when lovers are breathing their thousand vows,
With their hearts and cheeks aglow,
We chant a love strain amid our boughs,
Of a thousand years ago!
* * * * *
"Sublime in our solitude, changeless, vast,
While men build, work and save,
We mock—for their years glide away to the past,
And we grimly look on their grave.
Our voice is eternal, our song sublime,
For its theme is the days of yore—
Back thousands of years of misty time,
When we first grew old and hoar."

Sketch of Mr. Charles Mair.

Mr. Mair is best known to Canadian readers as the author of "Tecumseh," a dramatic poem of great interest, well conceived, and containing many fine passages. Recall the lines in act IV., scene 4, in which the American General, Hull, is asked to give reasons for his proposed withdrawal from Canada (1812), and explains that his proclamation to the Canadian people had not met with the response he anticipated. One of his officers remarks:

Why, yes; there's something lacking in this people,
If we must conquer them to set them free."

Mr. Mair's verse is robust in quality and breathes the broadest patriotism, writes Pharos in The Globe. A characteristic specimen, ringing in measure, is his "Open the Bay," an appeal for the short route to the Canadian Northwest by Hudson Bay. The most reflective and finished of his poems is "Dreamland," which entitled his first volume, published in 1868. Mr. Mair is a Canadian by birth, and was educated at Perth Grammar School and Queen's University, Kingston. He was early a contributor to the press, and while living at Fort Garry acted as correspondent for The Montreal Gazette. He was one of the founders of the "Canada First" party in 1870, and his recent volume containing his complete poems, under the title of "Tecumseh; A Drama, and Canadian Poems," is dedicated to the "survivors" of that association. Mr. Mair is now resident in Winnipeg.

IT MUST COME.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and relieves the mental anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Coffee Co., Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicines for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my Poor-house. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum combined. Your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life.' I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also guaranteed that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent for it. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Doctor Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to give them back their money and charge it to me. I have not once been called upon to refund. I have never found anything to equal the 'Favorite Prescription' for diseases of women."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Woman and Plow.

An Iowa traveler back from the new northwest frontier, relates some of the hardships of life there. He says: "I saw a colony of Galicians in Saskatchewan, and they gave me the most extraordinary exhibition of human patience and fortitude I ever beheld. I saw from a dozen to fifteen women hitched two and two on an 18-inch breaking plow, and they marched straight ahead through the tough ground with that plow, tearing up five acres a day on an average. There was a man holding the plow. The work these people did was as effective as could have been done by horses or oxen. The women seemed to take to their hard labor as a matter of course. They are very cheerful over it. I am told that scores of these women who draw plows all day have vitality enough left to dance through the greater part of the night."—Pearson's Weekly.

Cramps are Like Burglars.

They come unexpected and when least welcome. Be armed with a one-minute cure in a bottle of Nerviline, which relieves cramp and stomach pains in five minutes. In Colic, Summer Complaint, Diarrhoea, Indigestion and Nausea, Nerviline is a remedy of remarkable potency, and acts promptly and satisfactory at all times. The composition of Polson's Nerviline expresses the highest medical progress of the age, which accounts for its superior merit. Price 25c.

TAKEN OVER BY GREAT NORTHERN.

Great Falls and Canada Railway Goes to J. J. Hill.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 5.—A Great Falls special says the Great Falls and Canada Railroad went out of existence Saturday night, being formally transferred to the Great Northern. This line taps the coal deposits of the Crow's Nest field, which will supply fuel for the roads of the Northern Securities Company.

Heretofore shipments over the Great Falls and Canada Railway have involved two transfers, at Lethbridge from the C.P.R. to the narrow guage road and at Great Falls to the Great Northern cars. With the change just completed freight can be shipped over the Crow's Nest Southern, the Great Falls and Canada and the Great Northern without transfer.

Crow's Nest Coal Output.

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—The Calgary Herald states that extensions to the Crow's Nest Pass Coal mines will shortly be made, which will give them a daily output of 5,000 tons, compared with the present output of 2,000.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Jan. 6th, 9.45 a.m.—Amalgamated strong and generally higher. Easier money conditions are reported as the cause for strength in all departments.

Cotton—Prices easier, 6 points decline, Mids. 6¾, sales, 2,000, receipts 25,000. Amn. 27,000. Futures opened easier and at 12.32 eamy 5 to 6 points decline. These cables fully as low as expected by traders, indicate that little confidence placed in the government crop report, and that more stress is being laid on technical situation.

2.00 p. m.—Futures now quiet at 5 to 6 decline from yesterday.

M. & M.

Liverpool opening, wheat 1-8 higher Corn 1-4 higher.

M. & M.

Sentiment in immediate future course of market after close of yesterday much mixed up. As many re-actionists as bulls, with many traders looking for a setback this morning, on absence of much short interest, is general theory that after 3 or 4 days rather steady advance, re-action is due. London comes strong, and easier money, with fear that Morgan people are bullish and looking for easier money here, indicates some further improvement, likely to-day. We advise caution in loading up at present, and believe it better policy to buy stocks on any break.

M. & M.

New York, Jan. 6 — Stock market opened strong by confidence shown in London, and general belief financial interests were relaxing their restrictions in lending money. C. P. R, advancing easily on London buying. It was said commission business in Northwest had converted conservative sentiment in directorate to more more liberal dividend policy. Norfolk strong on covering of shorts.

M. & M.

11.30 a.m. — Market has taken a great deal of long stock from profit taking, and also considerable selling by re-actionists. The absorbing power is much of a surprise. It is attributed by brokers to considerable increase in commission house business and bull operators and various pools. London is a good buyer of stocks on balance.

M. & M.

C. P. R. closed at 139 in London.

M. & M.

Liverpool closing, wheat 1-8 higher, corn 3-8 to 3-4 higher.

M. & M.

Car Foundry put on 4 per cent basis, 1 per cent. quarterly.

M. & M.

Messrs Haight & Freese have received the following despatch.

New York, Jan. 6th. — There is too much reactionary talk this morning; according to surface indications everybody is working for a recession, but stocks seem to be absorbed around present prices, without difficulty. We are inclined to look for a resumption of a moderate advance, at almost any time. Room traders are working for a reaction and they may be successful to a small degree, but we believe it will be more in the nature of specific declines and that in the meantime speciality advances will be witnessed. The best information points to a bull market for the remainder of the month unless conditions suddenly change and we understand that manipulators are turning their attention to the low priced stocks, such as Chicago, G.W., Rubber Goods, com. Chicago and Alton, and Wab. preferred. There are bull points out on Sugar again.

The biggest men in the street and country are hopeful of further improvements and are lending their money and other best efforts in this direction; the low priced stocks are the ones to buy. Tex., Kans., and Tex. Great Western, O. W., Wab., Erie will do better. Buy Copper and Mex. Central.

JOSEPH.

New York, Jan. 6th.—After a little hesitation at the opening, prices again renewed their upward tendency. Manhattan, Amalgamated Copper and St. Paul being leaders. Low priced issues were also taken in hand and advanced to higher levels, notably—Texas Pacific, Alton, Colo. Southern and Toledo, St. Louis South-Western common. Baltimore & Ohio is becoming more active and should do better. Canadian Pacific is another stock that is well thought of and it is expected the pool in this stock will soon begin operations on a heavy scale, as houses with Montreal and Toronto connections, have been quietly picking it up for some days. There was considerably outside buying to-day, and with the prospects of easier money, the sentiment on the street favours higher prices. The support on the slight declines has been excellent. Think the low priced issues should be picked up on weak spots. Amalgamated offerings are being readily asborbed, notwithstanding it has had a rise of about thirteen points. On fair re-actions would buy moderately, as the insiders seem to be willing to see the price considerably higher. During the noon-day session the market was inclined to dullness with holders firm and very little long stock coming out. Time money worked rather easier, call rates from 5 to 9 per cent. It will be some days before the disbursements owing to the dividends and interest are over. In meantime prominent interests propose to hold the present improvement, and advance specialties here and there. The close was steady at about the best prices.

Chicago.—Wheat and corn fluctuated inside of small fractions. The tendenct seems to be upward, but as yet there has been no decided movement in that direction. We still remain bullish on May wheat and corn. Closing prices, wheat, May, 75 3-8; May corn, 43 1-3; May oats, 34 1-8; May pork, 15.95; May lard, 9.30.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Is the System of Despatching Trains or its Application to Blame.

The inquiry into the cause of the recent terrible accident near London, has served to show that the despatching system on railways is deefective, or its application is very poor.

It appears to have been shown that a message from the despatcher at London, to Operator Carson at Watford, was misunderstood by the latter. Carson declares that the message read, "bust it," referring to a former order given in relation to the unfortunate train, No. 5. The despatcher says that he sent the words, "may bust it." The railway officials are inclined to hold Carson responsible for the disaster. They declare, it is said, that the despatcher's words "may bust it," should have conveyed to Carson the meaning, may possibly bust or destroy it, and there was no plausible excuse either for his failure to hear the whole phrase or for his misinterpretation of it. As to this view opinions will differ.

The accident has attracted the attention of some American papers, and they are commenting upon the results of the inquiry and pointing a moral therefrom. The New York Sun believes that "four operators out of five would have done precisely as Carson did under the circumstances, whether they had heard the whole of the phrase or only a part of it."

Commenting further on the terrible affair the Sun says:

"The point of the matter, however, is this: Should the lives of people travelling on railroads, and particularly on single track railroads, be endangered by such slip-shod methods as those now prevailing among despatchers? No reason is apparent why the "may bust it" expression should have been made at all unless the despatcher intended it for a command.

"A little more than a year ago a wreck on the Wabash Railway in Michigan, in which between sixty and seventy persons were killed and a hundred injured, was caused by the failure of an engineer, to see, or the neglect of a despatcher to transmit, two words of an order, which changed its meaning completely. Many other serious railroad accidents in America have been due to causes very similar to the two in question. Effective steps should be taken immediately to render impossible fatal misunderstandings like those in the past between operators and trainmen."

On the immense net-work of railways which gridiron Great Britain, last year the record is that not a single passenger of the millions carried was killed, while the railways of this continent have thousands of victims every year. There seems to be altogether too much carelessness, too much indifference to the sacredness of human life. Dividends seem to be the first care of railway companies on this continent.

Saleslady's Backache.

There is many a young woman serving behind a counter who can hardly stand on her feet on account of the excruciating pain that catches her in the small of the back.

Must be cheerful and obliging though the back be ready to break, the head almost bursting and the whole body racked and worn.

Constant standing affects the kidneys, disturbs their blood filtering functions, then the back aches, the head throbs and you feel unfit for work or pleasure.

It is wonderful in these cases how a few boxes of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets start the kidneys acting properly—they carry off the poisons from the blood, then the back ceases to pain, the head stops aching, and you feel yourself an altogether different woman.

SURPRISING BENEFIT.

Miss Lizzie Nix, whose address is 333 Adelaide Street West, Toronto, Ont., says: "When I commenced to use Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets I was tired of doctoring, for my troubles were severe and of several months' duration, and every previous treatment I took proved unavailing. I had a weak back and kidney trouble, and was nervous and run-down. At first I was skeptical about obtaining any benefit from Dr. Pitcher's Tablets. To say that I was surprised at the results that followed their use is putting it mildly. I was astonished, for from the first few doses I commenced to improve, and to-day finds me a well woman. Every trouble has disappeared, and with my general improvement in strength and weight I consider myself in sound health."

Pope's Silver Jubilee.

New York, Jan. 6.—On Feb. 20 next Pope Leo XIII. will celebrate his Pontificial silver jubilee. It is proposed on that day by the International Committee having in charge the celebration, that each family, parish, diocese and nation, shall observe that day as a day of thanksgiving to God for the long and successful reign of His Vicar.

How to Fight Typhus.

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Prof. Robert Koch has delivered a lecture here upon typhus. He claims this disease can be combated successfully through isolation, as cholera is combated, for the reason that typhus is only contracted by contact with a person already infected.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

CARD OF THANKS!

To the Electors of Peterborough

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I take this, the first opportunity of cordially thanking the large number who, by their support yesterday, elected me a Water Commissioner. I shall endeavour to faithfully discharge the duties of the position in the interests of the citizens of the town.

Very respectfully yours,

W. H. HILL

Card to he Electors

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I take pleasure in expressing my thanks to all who, by their support in yesterday's election, helped to elect me as Alderman for 1903. I have special reason to feel grateful at the result, seeing that this is the fourth year you have expressed your confidence in me for a similar position.

Your Obedient Servant,
ROBT. OLINKSCALE

January 6th, 1903.

CARD OF THANKS!

To the Electors of Peterborough

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I desire to gratefully acknowledge the hearty support accorded me in electing me Alderman for the year 1903. I shall try to so discharge my duty as to fully justify the confidence you have again reposed in me.

Very respectfully yours,
H. RUSH

January 6th, 1903.

Thanks to the Electors

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Permit me to heartily thank all who, by their votes and active support, assisted in again electing me as Alderman for the Town of Peterborough. The support shown me is all the more gratifying to me, seeing that it was bestowed voluntary and unsolicited.

Very respectfully yours,
JOHN CORKERY

January 6th, 1903.

TO THE ELECTORS

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I desire, in this public manner, to convey my thanks for the hearty support which resulted in my election as Alderman for 1903. I shall endeavour in the discharge of the important duty imposed on me, to fully justify your confidence.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

A VERY BAD MESS. THE BANK SMASH.

Creditors of Anderson Bank at Oakville Hear Their Fate.

"PRIVATE" BANKERS BIG LOSSES

Over $100,000 Totally Gone, With No Apparent Method of Accounting For the Same—Bank of Hamilton Held Not to Have Right to Hold All the Securities But $4,000 Worth.

Oakville, Jan. 7.—A meeting of the depositors in the private bank of C. W. Anderson & Son was held in the Town Hall yesterday afternoon. A goodly assemblage greeted the committee, consisting of John Macdonald, D. O. Cameron and George Andrew. Assignee E. R. C. Clarkson and Secretary Davis were on the platform. Mr. Macdonald was moved into the chair. Of the 502 depositors there were present about 150.

Mr. Clarkson is continued as assignee.

In seconding the motion to continue Mr. Clarkson in office, Mr. Macdonald said that the business was in a very bad mess, and the statement found expression in gloomy looks on the faces at the meeting.

C. L. Young was added to the committee on a standing vote.

As a result Messrs. Geo. Andrew and John Macdonald retired from the committee, on the ground that they had given a great deal of time to the matter. Mr. Clarkson regretted the turn affairs had taken, and asked Mr. Young to resign. Mr. Young refused to withdraw, saying that he had worked hard for the settlement of the matter and that he and his father held $40,000 in deposits.

Mr. Macdonald opposed Young's appointment. He said that the committee had worked hard in this matter and were thoroughly acquainted with the affair. The work of straightening up the wreck, and a wreck it was, was difficult. They had cleared up some $11,000 in two hours, on notes and securities.

Mr. Taylor wanted to know what the objection was. He wondered whether anything was dark and wrong. A hubbub arose and strong personalities were indulged in. Mr. Andrew refused to act with Mr. Young and the latter reciprocated. Mr. Young then withdrew and Messrs. Andrew and Macdonald were then located.

Mr. Clarkson gave a rapid survey of the business at Palmerston and Oakville. The former was begun about 15 years ago, with $25,000 furnished by Mr. C. W. Anderson, and the latter in 1887, with $12,000. He did not think that the Palmerston securities were worth much. This list was not yet in. The customers' paper, amounting to $42,000, was considered by the committee to be worth $31,000. The $11,300 on Palmerston real estate $8,000, and Oakville real estate, valued at $47,100, at $31,000.

The assets held by the Bank of Hamilton amounted to $22,825, while there is about $4,000 left to satisfy the claims of the depositors. $235,982 only $188,000 was account

Mr. Shaw said that of a total of $235,982 only $188,000 was accounted for. He wanted to know where the money went.

Mr. Cameron accounted for a great deal of the loss by the holding of bad paper. He thought that $40,000 would account for the loss. They had lost $2,000 a year on this bad paper. The books had not been kept in such shape as to let them know how the firm stood. These bad bills had always been kept on the books and gave them a fictitious strength.

Mr. Andrew said that only about $800 in bad bills had been unearthed, whereas he felt sure that there must be a big stack of them somewhere. It was impossible yet, whatever might be done in the future.

Mr. W. H. Young believed that the bank had made money, and he wanted to have a thorough investigation so as to make it apparent whether the depositors had come honestly by the loss.

Mr. Clarkson said that the Bank of Hamilton did not hold more than sufficient to pay their claims. Unless the Bank of Hamilton's claim could be successfully contested by the depositors the latter would not have more than $4,000 to meet their claims.

The idea was general that the Bank of Hamilton had grabbed everything in sight. He said that they had begun in 1900 to secure themselves. In 1900 they took a note for $15,000, in 1901 another for $60,000, and in September, 1901, had secured a blanket mortgage, which was not registered until December.

The committee had carefully considered the question and had concluded that the Bank of Hamilton was not entitled to hold all these securities, and advised the meeting to engage such a man as S. H. Blake to contest their right. If the general creditors could win this fight from the Bank of Hamilton the depositors would secure 20 to 25 cents on the dollar. If they lost they would receive practically nothing. In 1898 the bank of C. W. Anderson & Son showed a profit of $4,300, in 1899 $3,900, in 1900 $4,000, in 1901 $4,400, while last year the profit was taken in carrying stock.

The loss in stocks of $16,000 was taken from Mr. Bert Anderson. He had not been able to find what had been lost in stocks from any other source. The books showed no loss in this way.

Mr. Macdonald said that the firm had evidently been in trouble in 1894 when they transferred their account from the Imperial Bank to the Bank of Hamilton. He wanted an investigation reaching to the bottom.

The meeting adjourned to re-assemble on January 27, at 2 p. m.

Mr. Macdonald said after the meeting that the Palmerston branch had paid only 25 cents on the dollar on its failure, whereas it was generally understood that it had paid 100.

CANADIAN FIRE VICTIMS.

Mrs. E. T. Perry and Her Two Children Burned or Smothered to Death in Chicago—Husband's Name Saunders.

Chicago, Jan. 7. — Three persons lost their lives and a fourth was fatally injured in a fire at the Hotel Somerset, an eight-storey brick structure, at Wabash avenue and Twelfth street, early yesterday. Three of the victims, Mrs. E. T. Perry, aged 35, and her two daughters, eight and nine years old, respectively, were burned or suffocated to death in their room on the fourth floor. The fourth victim, a woman, whose name has not been learned, jumped from the window of a room on the same floor to the street and was fatally hurt. William A. Parker, a guest, jumped from the window of a room on the fourth floor to the roof of a two-story building adjoining the hotel. He sustained a broken ankle and severe bruises. The financial loss was about $2,000.

The fourth victim, believed to be Miss Ethel Saunders, died on the way to the hospital.

Although the woman and her daughters who perished were registered under the name of Perry, Edward Saunders, a coachman, declared them to have been his wife and daughters. Saunders is said to have been known in Toronto as Perry, where he lived formerly, and assumed the former name when he came to Chicago. The young woman who died on the way to the hospital is now believed to have been another daughter of Mrs. Perry.

Whole Family Snuffed Out.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—The entire family of Albert Finkelstein, consisting of four persons, was asphyxiated Sunday night by illuminating gas. Their bodies were found yesterday.

A DAZZLING PICTURE.

The State Ball After the Durbar at Delhi, India—5,000 Guests of Viceroy and Lady Curzon.

Delhi, India, Jan. 7.—The State ball, following the Durbar, which was held last night in the palace of the Grand Mogul, proved to be one of the most attractive features of the Durbar festivities. The European dance among the columns and pillars of the palace was a strange and wonderful sight. When a fanfare of trumpets announced the arrival of the Viceroy, the scene was one of unexampled brilliancy.

The halls were filled with brilliant uniforms and dresses, and there was a profusion of flowers and jewels. Lady Curzon was clad in a dress of gold brocade, and wore a magnificent tiara and necklace of diamonds, with four big rubies that one had belonged to the King of Theebaw. The Duchess of Connaught wore a handsome white dress festooned with flowers.

Some 5,000 guests were present, among them were the Duke of Connaught, Lord Kitchener and all the prominent personages in India, and the Duchess of Marlborough and numerous other Americans. The hall of public audience was converted into a ball room, and the adjacent hall of private audience was used as a supper room. The two halls were almost elaborately decorated and illuminated with electric lights. During the evening military bands played in the galleries.

Lord and Lady Curzon and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, seated on the royal dais, received and conversed with scores of native princes, whose jewels and costumes outshone the creations of the best known continental costumers. Hours after the royal party had departed the ball and supper room still presented a dazzling picture.

No Evidence Taken.

St. Catharines, Jan. 7.—The inquest to ascertain the exact manner of the death of Fireman Charles Warring of Delhi, Ont., who was instantly killed at Merritton tunnel Saturday morning last in collision between the Chicago Express and a mogul engine running light to Hamilton from Niagara Falls, was resumed before Coroner Goodman of this city last evening at Merritton.

The coroner read to the jury two letters he had received, one from Dr. Greenwood, the other from Dr. McMahon, both of the staff of the St. Catharines General Hospital, certifying that the injured men, Engineers Duke and Duckpitt, under treatment in the hospital, will be unable to attend the inquest and give evidence for some weeks. The inquest was adjourned till Jan. 31, no evidence being taken.

Creates a General Staff.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The House yesterday passed the bill for the creation of a general staff for the army by a vote of 158 to 52.

Killed by Soft Coal.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 5.—Annie Orr, aged 16 years, was asphyxiated during Friday night by gas from a soft coal stove.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The official returns of the vote at the general elections on the 29th May last showed the election of 50 Liberals and 48 Conservatives. The results of the election trials to date have been to unseat three members, the first being Mr. J. C. Monteith, Conservative, in North Perth; second, Dr. Snider, Conservative, North Norfolk, and the third, Mr. A. G. Mackay, Liberal, North Grey. It is to fill these three vacancies that the elections that are being held to-day. The death of Mr. J. W. Munro, who was elected in North Renfrew, has also reduced the Liberal total by one. The standing of the parties at the present moment, therefore, is unchanged, from May last, so far as the majority is concerned: Liberals 48, Conservatives 46; Liberal majority 2.

The election petitions yet to be disposed of are as follows: Sault Ste. Marie, against A. Miscampbell, Conservative, trial fixed for January 13th; North York, against Hon. E. J. Davis, Liberal, trial fixed for January 20th; Centre Bruce, against Hugh Clark, Conservative, trial on January 27th. Appeals in the petitions against Donald Sutherland, Conservative, South Oxford, and Dr. Routledge, Liberal, East Middlesex, have yet to be heard and decided by the Court of Appeal. If the Liberals are successful in the three Norths, the result will be to increase its present majority to 5. On the other hand if the Opposition win all three the result will not put the Opposition in a position to accept the responsibility of Government.

The following was the results of the voting in the ridings in which bye-elections are being held: North Perth, Monteith, Conservative, was elected by a majority of 2. In North Norfolk the majority for Snider, Conservative, was 23. In North Grey the majority of McKay, Liberal, was 5.

THE GOSPEL OF GOOD ROADS.

In another column will be found an interesting article upon the construction, or rather deflection and partial construction of a leading road through Otonabee to the Town of Peterborough. Without pronouncing upon the feasibility of the scheme so ably and fully propounded by Mr. Armstrong, the article itself is worthy of very careful perusal. The writer has evidently given the subject a great deal of consideration and has gone to considerable trouble and to some expense to make the subject clear.

In the abstract there is no other subject that is so worthy of the attention of the farmers as that of good roads. Given good crops and bad roads and the farmer would not perhaps have in the long run as much clear profit as he would gain from a medium crop and first-class highways. There is hardly any use discussing the value of good roads; every farmer with half a head can see that there is great profit in good roads — saving of time, saving of wear and tear of teams, vehicles and harness, and the profit of hauling larger loads. A reasonable expenditure to make the leading roads of Otonabee to the market town, first-class, would be soon recouped to the tax-payer, and in no way could a better way of paying taxes be found. The farmer, it would appear to an ignorant person, is committing a great waste in throwing good seed into the ground, but his experience teaches him that the returns will be fifty or a hundred fold. In the same way good money thrown into the ground to build up good roads, is sure to bring a large return. No one will question the utility and the absolute necessity of good roads. Bring the roads of Otonabee or any other township, back to the condition they were in fifty years ago, and the value of farms, the comfort of living, would decrease fifty per cent. Mr. Armstrong's letter is worthy of very careful reading.

LEADING HIGHWAY THROUGH OTONABEE TO PETERBOROUGH.

A Very Able Article Contributed by Mr. Samuel Armstrong.

PLAN PLAINLY PRESENTED.

Features of Mr. Armstrong's Scheme Illustrated—Interesting bit of History—An Appeal to Otonabee Council to Take Action—Urged to Take Advantage of Government Grant —The Situation Fully set Forth.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Being a resident of the old and wealthy township of Otonabee, I beg leave to trespass on your space to bring a matter to the attention of the newly-elected council, and the ratepayers generally, viz., a good road from the east to Peterborough.

While nature has dealt very generously with Otonabee in giving her beautiful hills and fertile valleys, these very hills make it a difficult and expensive matter to make, and keep up, good roads.

Consequently we have as our part of the leading road from Norwood to Peterborough, a road on which there is a very heavy traffic, the worst main road leading into the town.

I do not wish to cast any reflection on the work of our civic fathers, either past or present; on the contrary, on her highways generally the grading and gravelling will take second place to none in the county, and to few in the province.

Now, there are several reasons why this is an opportune time to bring up the question of the improvement of this road.

The first is, the action of the ratepayers at the nominations at Keene, in requesting the council to take action towards securing their share of the million dollar grant for the improvement of the highways.

Another reason is also owing to a new condition of things.

Having two parallel lines of railway running through the district served by this road, and having a live and energetic lot of grain and produce buyers at the different stations who are prepared to handle everything we have to sell, we have not felt the necessity for a good road as we otherwise would, but the advent of the American Cereal Company is changing all this. Peterborough is rapidly assuming the status of a city, and becoming a great grain centre, hence the need for a better road.

Another reason I wish to mention is in connection with the proposed sugar beet factory. Wherever this factory is built, it will be an absolute necessity to build the best possible kind of a road a few miles out, owing to the very heavy traffic to and from the works, and the time of year in which it takes place. Now there is a possibility of the works being located in the south end of the town of Peterborough, and if so, the road suggested below will lead directly to them.

A LITTLE HISTORY.

The Norwood road has an interesting history. As far as I can find out, it is about as follows: Its beginning is veiled in tradition. The earliest settlers, almost a century ago, had a bridle path from the head of navigation on the Otonabee river, towards the east, from hill to hill, which in turn, according to statements made by the late Jas. Cameron, who assisted in the original survey of the township, followed an old Indian trail. Some time in the thirties, after the settlers became able to open a road to Peterborough, already the commercial centre of the district, none of the original road allowances being found passable, the officials of the Newcastle District engaged the late Mr. Birdsall, C. E., who had previously surveyed the township, to lay out a road across the township. He spent all one day looking for a route somewhere near the route suggested below. He came back at night as far as the residence of Mr. Robert Carter, and pronounced that route impracticable for the time being. The next day, assisted by Mr. Carter, he started to lay out a road from the Indian River to the Otonabee, along the bridle path, going around the hills where possible and where they could not; going up and down at an angle, avoiding the swamps as far as possible. This was a fairly level road but a very crooked one. It was chopped out and used for a number of years.

Some years later the land becoming valuable and the zig-zag road, not being found suitable, an engineer was again employed to lay out a road from the sixth line to the west. He simply straightened the road somewhat—putting it over the hills instead of around them—giving us the road which is used to this day.

About the year 1858 the road was built on road allowance from the sixth line to the east, and the old trail road closed up. Very large sums have been spent on this road cutting down the hills, but we have a hilly road still and it must remain so.

WHERE TO BUILD THE ROAD.

Now where to build this road has been a bone of contention for over seventy years, some of the settlers having built a rival road clean across the township, about two miles south of the present one. It was used for about twenty-five years, but the concession lines being opened up, and the land through which this road passed becoming valuable, it was gradually closed up.

From time to time during all these years agitations have arisen, petitions and deputations have been sent to the council asking them to build a better road to Peterborough. The council have at different times grappled with the question and have had routes surveyed, but the expense involved in purchasing the right of way has appeared so great that the ratepayers at the next election have said, most emphatically, "We won't have it." So it has come to be an accepted fact among our municipal fathers, that they had better leave the changing of the route of the Norwood road alone or be turned out of office for their pains. Now the question arises, Should this condition of things continue to exist? We think not.

It seems to me that the million dollar grant offers us an opportunity to end this condition of things, and get a good road such as is not likely to come again. The Act for the Improvement of Highways, 1901, states that any council wishing to benefit by its provisions must first prepare and submit a scheme of road improvement to the Department of Public Works of the Ontario Government, for their approval, before any aid will be given.

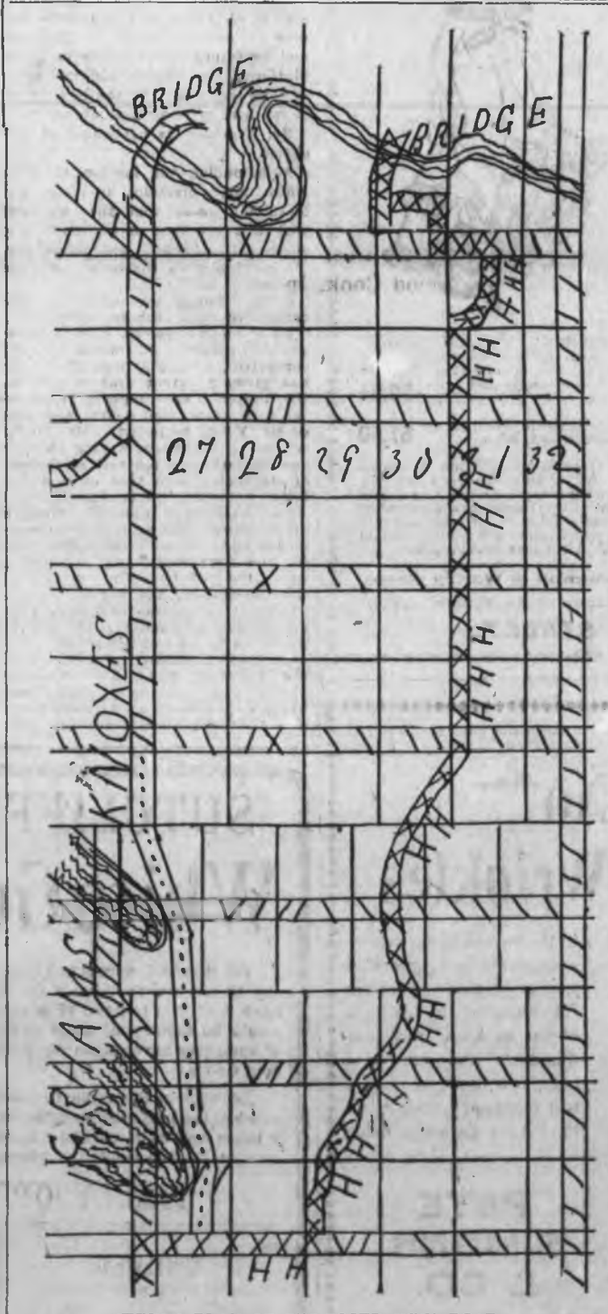
Now, I am informed that two of the conditions required by the Department are:

1st. It shall be when finished, what is known as a three-ton road—that is, a road on which an average team of horses can haul a load weighing three tons at any season of the year.

2nd. It shall be applied on roads leading from one centre of population to another.

Now, I beg leave to submit to the earnest consideration of our council a scheme which will exactly meet these conditions.

It is in brief a stone road leading from the Locks bridge to the 6th line.



SKETCH PLAN OF PROPOSED NEW ROAD.

The accompanying cut shows the road allowance south of lot 27, where the road should go; it shows Knox's Hill, which is impassable, and Graham's Hill, which has been improved at great cost, and is in use. To the north it shows the road we use, with nineteen of its worst hills marked with the letter "H." It also shows by the dotted line where an almost level road could be built very cheaply, if the right of way were purchased through the 7th, 8th and half of the 9th concessions.

REASONS GIVEN.

My reasons for suggesting this particular route are as follows:

On the north road it would cost much more to cut the hills to make a three ton road than it would take to buy the right of way in the south, besides it would not benefit nearly so many farmers.

With regard to Graham's Hill, I have in the past strongly advocated completing the road over it, and have probably driven more heavy loads over it than any other single individual, and can bear ample testimony to its great superiority over the north road, but after fifteen years' experience I have come to the conclusion that it would not be the wisest course to pursue to build a three-ton road over it, while a level road could be bought, therefore I would suggest that the road leave the sixth line, through the property of Mr. William Anderson, M.P.P., opposite the gate of Mr. Andrew Shearer, thence in almost a straight line to the old barn on the Knox estate, thence at an angle till it strikes the road allowance in the middle of the 9th concession.

From the sixth line to Norwood is a fairly level and good road. From Salem church to Peterborough is a level road, which could be easily built to the required standard.

Will the ratepayers favour it?

They ought to do so, for the reason that over one third of them would use the new road every time they went to town, while more than another third would use part of the road nearer town, and would like to see it improved.

As it will probably cost more to buy the right of way than to build the road across the 7th, 8th and 9th concessions, I would suggest that the Council asks the Department to use the grant in purchasing the right of way, on the ground that neither the original road allowance, nor the route bought by our fathers, is capable of being used for a three-ton road; the Council on their part agreeing to purchase a stone crusher, (which will have to be done in the near future owing to the gravel beds becoming exhausted, grant or no grant,) and build the road up to whatever standard the Department requires.

Our County Council having adopted the system of giving special grants to townships for roads that will benefit adjacent townships, we can with justice, ask them for a large grant, for this road, for the following reason:

ADVANTAGES TO BE GAINED.

If we complete the proposed links, we will have a good road, a road which can be easily kept up, as there is an abundance of stone and gravel all along its route, a road in which there are very few hills to wash out with the rains, or to break out in the spring of the year, a road over thirty miles and leading from Peterborough to more villages and centres of population in the county than all the other roads leading out of the town, combined.

Now if the work could be carried out in this way, and spread over a number of years, we would scarcely feel the additional taxation, and, besides, have the best road in the county.

What shall the opportunity bring forth? Shall the residents in the east continue in the future to use the road over the hills projected by the red men of the forest, or shall they not rather use a level macadamized road along the valleys, projected by the Otonabee Council of 1903, with their 20th century intelligence? We hope so.

THE NEW BABY

From the moment a child is born the question of nourishment becomes of great importance. A right start avoids a lot of trouble later on; it's so easy to begin right, too. Many women cannot or will not—chiefly will not—nurse their children. It's a sad commentary on modern social conditions that this latter tendency should be so general. The best thing to do under the circumstances is to help the bottle babies all we can—they're at a big disadvantage at best. We know positively that nothing will do them more good than Scott's Emulsion—a few drops in the bottle. It seems to furnish just the right quantity and right kind of nourishment needed by babies and growing children.

The women who are willing but unable to properly nurse their children will find Scott's Emulsion a great help—a two-fold help in fact. It has a direct and immediate effect, not only feeding and sustaining the mother, but insuring also a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby. Thus Scott's Emulsion strengthens the mother and goes naturally through the milk and strengthens the child.

These claims are not made off-hand. We know from nearly thirty years contact with such cases that Scott's Emulsion will do just what we say it will do. We will be glad to send you a sample free so that you can judge for yourself.

CALLED CRONJE TO HER.

Mrs. Chamberlain's Tact Is Giving Her Husband Prestige.

Pretoria, Transvaal, Jan. 7. — All doubts as to whether the Boers would participate in the entertainments given in honor of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain, were dissipated by the appearance of Generals Botha, Delarey, Cronje, and Smuts, at the garden party given by the Governor Sunday. The attendance of the town Boers, however, was not large.

Mrs. Chamberlain is tactfully aiding the Colonial Secretary in his pacificatory mission. When General Cronje was introduced, she at first did not catch his name, but immediately after she heard it was General Cronje, Mrs. Chamberlain sent for him and engaged in a lengthy conversation with the noted general.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But it ha Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming foods, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kind of food that makes flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough, and generally too much, the stomach from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate, which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs and similar wholesome.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them, with marked benefit, as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people, strong, plump and well.

CAMPAIGN ROORBACH

Story That Hon. E. J. Davis Had Resigned His Seat.

AN AUTHORITATIVE DENIAL.

Rumor Probably Arose From Reported Conditions of Settlement of the North York Election Protest—Hon. Mr. Ross Denies Another Canard—A Day of Roorbachs in North Perth—Mr. Stratton Denies.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Early yesterday morning the Conservative press bulletined and published special editions with scare heads announcing that the Hon. E. J. Davis had resigned his seat in the Legislature. The evident intention of these statements was to injure the chances of the candidates of the Government in the three constituencies that will select members to-day. No time was lost by the Opposition in sending the news out into the country with the obvious intention of creating the impression that there were dissensions in the Government. It was officially stated at the Premier's office at the Parliament buildings that the rumor that a Minister of the Crown had resigned his seat was entirely without foundation.

An Explicit Contradiction.

Shortly afterwards the following telegram was sent out from the office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands:—

"Contradict absolutely the rumor that I have either resigned my seat in the Legislature or the Government.

"E. J. Davis."

In the afternoon it was stated that the rumor probably arose from the negotiations for the settlement of the North York election case. The solicitor for Mr. Lennox, the petitioner against Mr. Davis, stated that an agreement had been reached between the parties, subject to certain conditions, for the holding of a new election in North York. The twisting of this reported agreement into a fantastic story intended to do duty in the bye-elections was a decidedly ingenious move which was as promptly checkmated by the statement of Mr. Davis.

Clerk Received No Resignation.

Col. Clarke, the Clerk of the Legislature, announced before closing his office yesterday afternoon that he had not received the resignation of any member of the Legislature.

Yesterday was the last day for filing particulars in the North York case, but by an agreement between the solicitors the time was extended a week.

The Court of Appeal will this morning begin hearing argument in the Lennox and South Oxford protests.

Premier Ross Denies Another Canard.

Premier Ross reached the city from Listowel shortly after noon yesterday, and was soon at work at his office. He appeared well pleased with the outlook in the ridings he has visited. When shown a statement in The Mail that he asked Hon. Edward Blake for letter, asking Liberals to give him support, he said the statement was totally untrue, as he had never asked for such a letter.

Roorbachs in North Perth.

Stratford, Jan. 7.—The last day of the campaign has been a day of roorbachs in North Perth. The rumor that Hon. E. J. Davis had resigned his seat was published in the local Conservative paper last night without Mr. Davis' emphatic contradiction, which was included in the G.N.W. press despatch. The report was given the widest circulation possible, and extra copies of Toronto evening papers containing the report were sent here. A telegram from Herbert Lennox was also posted conspicuously, and every means adopted to induce belief in the story, which was contradicted both by Mr. Davis himself and by Mr. Stratton, who was in the city.

TO-DAY'S BYE-ELECTIONS.

Particulars of the Ridings Interested and Their Candidates.

North Norfolk—Candidates, Dr. S. F. Snider, Conservative; A. M. Little, Liberal. In the general election Dr. Snider had a majority of 27 over former member, E. C. Carpenter, who, when he was elected, had a majority of 250.

North Perth—Candidates, J. C. Monteith, Conservative; John Brown, Liberal. In the general election Mr. Monteith had a majority of 2 over John Brown, who previously had been elected with a majority of 160.

North Grey—Candidates, G. M. Boyd, Conservative; A. G. Mackay, Liberal. In the general election Mr. Mackay had a majority of 10 over Mr. Boyd, who had previously been elected by a majority of 127.

Death of Ex-Ald. Steiner.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—Ex-Ald. Newman L. Steiner died suddenly at his home, 116 Pembroke street, shortly before 12 o'clock last night of heart failure. Deceased was 73 years of age and was born in Bohemia, Austria, in 1837, and was the 11th child of a family of 14. As a rebel in the Kossuth rebellion he was sentenced to death, but escaped to Canada.

John R. Costigan Dead.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 7.—John R. Costigan, one of the best known lawyers in the west, dropped dead at his home Sunday night. Death came without warning. Mr. Costigan was a son of Hon. John Costigan. He came to Alberta about 15 years ago, and since then has been practicing his profession at Calgary and MacLeod.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Given Last Night by the C.D.A., in Foresters' Hall.

The dance which was given in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, last night by the C.D.A., of Peterborough, passed off most successfully. The affair was attended by about 100 young people, the only married persons present being the patronesses and their husbands. The hall was most attractively decorated in purple and white, the colours of the club, and the floor was in excellent condition. The lodge room proved to be an ideal sitting-out place. The music was furnished by the Misses Hurley, who were very generous in their encores. Mr. Harry Long catered in his usual very excellent style, and the arrangements were complete in every detail.

The patronesses of the dance were Mrs. R. H. Bradburn, Mrs. E. M. Pousett, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. T. A. S. Hay and Mrs. A. H. Stratton. The Hon. Secretary of the dance was Mr. George E. Revell.

TEACHER REMEMBERED.

Miss Kennedy, of S. S. No. 8, Douro, Leaving.

A very pleasing surprise was tendered Miss Kennedy on her departure from S. S. No. 8, Douro, where she had been teacher for the past two years. After the programme, which consisted of chorus, songs, and recitations by the pupils, three of the pupils came forward, and on behalf of the school, Miss Josie Condon read a very kindly worded address to the teacher, while Miss Mary Farley and Miss Zita Moher presented the teacher with a very pretty ladies' companion. Miss Kennedy replied in suitable terms. Both children and teacher felt keenly the sorrow in parting from each other's happy and profitable company, which they had enjoyed together for several years.

BIBLE SOCIETY.

Rev. J. G. Potter Draws the Attention of the Collectors and Friends to Matter.

The Rev. J. G. Potter, Secretary of the local Branch Bible Society, desires to call the attention of friends and collectors to the fact that the Society's year closed Dec. 31st. Owing to the change, some little inconvenience has been caused just for this year, and therefore a further period of two or three weeks may be taken to finish the canvass. All returns should be in the hands of local treasurer, Mr. John Crane, Ontario Bank, on or before Jan. 31st.

To Branches outside of the Peterborough Branch the same is applicable, only let the collectors make returns to their own local treasurers, so that all moneys can be forwarded to Toronto by Jan. 31st.

It is earnestly hoped that all Christian people will assist in this great work.

Champions of England.

Lovers of good music should not fail to hear the famous Almondbury Hand Bell Ringers, the champions of England, in the George street church on Monday evening next, Jan. 12th. The company perform on their fine peal of 162 bells, made by Mear, of London, expressly for their concert use. They are the winners of nine first and eight second prizes, and seven gold and ten silver medals, which is ample evidence of their proficiency and musical ability. These are undoubtedly the best company of bell ringers in existence. Following are a few expressed opinions on the merits of the company: "I cannot imagine their failing to please any audience. Their work is very beautiful and artistic. We certainly would like to have them again."—C. H. Wevill, Philadelphia, Pa., March 19. "This entertainment was one of the best, if not the best, that we had in our course this season. Most emphatically they are a success."—Frank Cheney, Elkhart, Ind., March 20, 1902. "Gave universal satisfaction. The press spoke of the company in the highest terms." J. R. Lowry, Punxsutawney, Pa., March 24, 1902. Admission, 25c.; children under 12, 15c.

A LECTURE

Under the Auspices of the Peterborough Fortnightly Club

The members of the Peterborough Fortnightly Club, and the public in general, are reminded of the lecture under the auspices of the club, to be given in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Thursday, Jan. 15th, by Hon. J. W. Longley, Attorney-General, of Nova Scotia. Mr. Longley's subject will be "Met I Have Met."

Save Your Pictures.

If you have any loose pictures lying around that are getting spoiled for want of a frame, telephone "The Metropole," and if you can't call, we will send for them, and have them framed as you desire. Our framing business has grown so well that we have had to lease additional room upstairs, and we now control the whole flat over the store. The stock of picture mouulding is new, well chosen large and varied. Special attention given to fancy burnt wood work and designs; also, velvet leather for pyrography in many delicate shades. "The Metropole," 144 Hunter street; 'phone, 159.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade for the election of officers, was held last night. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Treasurer—J. Gibbs.

SONS OF ENGLAND

Held a Very Enjoyable Evening in in Their Rooms Last Night.

At the regular meeting of Lansdown Lodge, No. 25, S.O.E. B.S., held Monday, Jan. 5th, 1903, the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing term, by Bro. H. L. Beal, District Deputy:

Bro. Frank Turner	W. P. P.
" J. J. Turner, Jr.	W. P.
" J. Richardson	W. V. P.
" G. G. Prattley	W. F. S.
" D. Curtis	W. C.
" C. Wood	W. T.
" Wm. Taylor	1st Com.
" J. A. Brown	2nd Com.
" W. Crane	3rd Com.
" F. Kitney	4th Com.
" T. J. Stenton	5th Com.
" R. F. Bunten	6th Com.

After the business was through the brethren adjourned to the dining room, where a good spread had been prepared by the Worthy Caterer, Bro. Wm. Taylor, which as usual was up-to-date. After satisfying the inner man, a pleasant time was spent in song, recitations and speeches from the newly elected officers, and a pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

THE LATEST FROM KEENE.

First Citizens' Concert on February 2nd.

Lakefield and Keene Played a Hockey Match—Bachelors' Ball was a Great Success.

Master Alex. Kerr, of Smith, is visiting friends in the village.

Mr. Dan McFarlane, after an absence of eleven years, is visiting the scenes of his youth. Dan looks exceedingly well and one gets the impression that the world goes well with him. He spent two years at Cape Nome, Alaska.

Jas. Campbell has returned to Toronto Medical College.

Master Allison Mather and Master Lex. Seccombe are attending the Norwood High School.

Mr. Will Campbell has returned to duty at Royal Military College.

Miss Kitty O'Keefe, of Loretta Abby, spent Christmas holidays at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walsh, of Toronto, are here for a few days.

Miss Willene Miller has gone to Toronto, where she has secured a position.

Mr. James Martin, of the "Soo," is visiting friends here.

Miss Mary Andrews, of Toronto, spent the Christmas holidays here.

Miss Lillian Howson, of Campbellford, spend a few days with Miss Eason.

Mr. D. Eason was home for New Years.

Mr. Stuart Fife, of Edmonton, is home for the winter.

Miss Lillian Bull has returned to St. Margaret's, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryce, of Toronto, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Grasse and Master Robert, who have been guests at the manse, have returned to Toronto.

Mrs. H. J. Cruikshanks, of Toronto, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. Campbell.

Miss Powell, of Hill Farm, Norwood, spent New Years with her aunt, Mrs. Read.

Mr. Jack McIntyre will referee the game at Campbellford, Campbellford vs. Sterling, on Friday night.

Dr. McWilliams spent New Years in Toronto.

The first citizens' concert will be given on Feb. 2nd, when Mr. Spafford, the celebrated cartoonist, will amuse and instruct during the entire evening. Tickets for sale by Committee.

The local seven will journey to Campbellford on Friday night to play the seven of that place in a Trent Valley Hockey League game.

The rink is a very attractive place this winter, as shown by the attendance. The first carnival will be on the 16th inst.

The bachelors' ball on Tuesday, Dec. 30th, was in every way a success. All spent a very enjoyable time. Excellent music was furnished by the Misses Hurley of Peterborough.

But Court Otonabee, I.O.F., can not be outdone in providing an enjoyable evening, as shown last Friday night, when they treated themselves and their friends to an entertainment, an oyster supper and a dance. Such a houseful of mirth and fun would be hard to equal. Success to Court Otonabee!

Things were on the move in general on Monday. Mr. Thos. Laing, who has given up the blacksmithing business, moved to the house above the post office. Mr. Jack Bennett, who has purchased the business of Mr. Laing, moved in.

The first hockey match of the season was played here on Tuesday evening, between the local seven and Lakefield. The players were as follows:

Lakefield.		Keene.
	Goal.
M. Quigley
	Point.
W. Stabler		J. McCarthy
	Cover point.
E. Murduff		J. Dickson
	Forwards.
C. Blomfield		H. Quinn
G. Ridpath		G. Laing
K. McInnis		F. Walsh
F. Gracey, capt.		W. McCarthy

Umpires, W. Watson and T. Wallace; referee, J. R. McIntyre.

Score at half time—Lakefield 1; and Keene, 5.

Second half—Lakefield, 4; Keene, 6.

Game—Lakefield, 5; Keene, 11.

Timekeepers—Bert McIntyre and W. Leonard.

The Lakefield boys played an A1 game and had they played less individually, the score would have been different. They are certainly a gentlemanly lot of boys, and we hope to hear good results from them before the season is over. The Keene boys played excellent combination, and used good judgment in their shooting. Look out for the first league game!

FIGURES AND OBSERVATIONS

By the Local Official Weather Observer.

The Year 1902 was a Peculiar one—The Year Opened With High Wind.

A few figures and observations furnished by Mr. Walter Peters, the official weather observer for Peterborough, concerning the weather for the past year, will be of interest to many of our readers.

The year 1902 was a peculiar one in many respects, as regards the weather, and there certainly appeared to be some justification for the statement frequently heard, that "the weather was out of joint."

The year opened with a high wind, and very cold, being seven degrees below zero. On the 1st of January there was good sleighing, with about 6 inches of snow on the level. This depth was not increased materially until the 22nd, when a tremendous snowstorm occurred. Snow fell continuously for 30 hours, and when it ceased there was over three feet on the level. This observation is written after the date, 23rd, in the register: "Never saw so much snow on the level as at present."

High winds during the first week in February caused this large amount of snow to badly drift, and for some weeks the roads were in very bad shape, in fact, for some days, almost impassable. At the end of February there were still 20 inches on the level, but the first week of March finished the sleighing, and by the middle of the month all of "the beautiful" that was visible, was in the fence corners.

January had 13 days with zero, or below; February, 6 days, and March, strange to say, none. December had 8 days.

The first spring-like day was February 21st, and the balance of that month was quite mild. At the end of the month ditches were running freely.

March generally was a very fine month, many days being more like May than March. Wheeled vehicles made their first appearance on 1st March; robins on the 14th; blackbirds on the 16th; and the bicycle received its first airing on the 19th.

Though spring apparently set in early in March, April did not fulfil promise, and at the end of that month growth was no farther, if as far, advanced, as in ordinary years. At the end of the month there were a few buds on some trees, but others were practically bare. Swallows arrived on April 17th.

May opened fine, and by the 7th the Maples began to send forth their leaves; it was not until the 23rd, that they could be considered in full leaf. This was about 10 days later than usual. There was frost on the 20th, and vegetation generally was backward.

June was a cold, wet month. Rain fell on 16 days, and the latter half was quite chilly.

July was an extraordinary month for rain, it having a rainfall of 8.65 inches, being a record for this town. On the fifth of the month a succession of thunderstorms gave a depth of 2.41 inches. July 7th was the warmest day of the year, the thermometer registering 96 degrees. This looks quite cool compared with 96 and 97 degrees of preceding years.

August was fine and dry, but cool, and the same applies to September. The first white frost was on September 5th.

The first snow—a few flakes—was seen on October 8th; first ice was formed on October 10th.

November weather was normal. Cutters were out for the first time on the 26th. Good sleighing did not begin, however, until December 10th.

December 9th marked the coldest day of the year, viz., 16 degrees below zero, and some unseasonably cold weather was experienced from the 8th to the 15th. Sleighing was fairly good after the 7th. Though 16 below zero is quite sharp, yet that figure has been exceeded every winter for a dozen years back.

The following was the rainfall for the different months. Ten inches of snow is considered equal to one of rain. The totals for each months are expressed in inches and hundredths.

	Inches.
January	4.50
February	2.44
March	2.82
April	2.54
May	3.06
June	3.87
July	8.65
August	1.16
September	2.40
October	3.62
November	2.06
December	3.87
	37.73

The total for the year is but slightly above average.

A DAKOTA BLIZZARD

Windows and Skylights in the State Capitol Smashed.

CAPITOL ROOF PARTLY TORN OFF

South Dakota's Blizzard Is Raging at 90 Miles an Hour, and It Is as Bad as That of 1888—Only One Wire to Sioux Falls—The Snow Driven in Sheets—Much Suffering Will Be Caused.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 7.—This city is in the midst of the great midwinter hurricane, in which the wind reached a velocity of 64 miles an hour. Hardly had the State Legislature adjourned when the windows in the House and the Senate Chamber were driven in by the wind. Heavy glass in the skylight rotunda narrowly missed several persons. Decorations for the inaugural ball were ruined, a portion of the Capitol roof was torn off, and the cupola windows beaten in. Many narrow escapes of individuals were reported throughout the city from flying glass, signboards and brick. Chimneys, windows, fences and smaller buildings in all parts of the city were wrecked.

Sioux Falls, S.D., Cut Off.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—Meagre reports have reached St. Paul of a terrific blizzard which raged last night in South Dakota and was moving rapidly eastward. It is as bad as the blizzard of 1888. Sioux Falls, South Dakota, is almost entirely cut off from the world, as but one wire is working between that place and Sioux City, Iowa, and is used exclusively by the railroads for train orders.

The storm struck Sioux City soon after dark, starting in with a fine rain, which quickly turned to snow. The thermometer sank rapidly and the wind rose almost to hurricane velocity, one report putting its speed at 90 miles an hour, and before it the snow was driven in sheets, making traffic of any kind an impossibility.

It is thought the railway service will be practically at a standstill by morning, and fears are entertained for settlers in the country. Fuel is scarce in some sections, and the cold wave which naturally will follow the blizzard will cause much suffering.

AGAINST SUNDAY CARS.

Deputation Asks Attorney General to Stop Their Operation on Kingston Road—Residents Oppose Deputation.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—The Attorney-General, Hon. J. M. Gibson, was waited upon yesterday by a deputation from the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance, requesting that the operation of the cars on Kingston road on Sunday be stopped, and pointing out an alleged breach of privilege by the Berlin and Bridgeport Electric Railway Company, which involves a nice point of law.

In the matter of the Kingston road request, the Attorney-General said that a petition had been received, signed by 180 residents of the locality, through which cars pass, asking that the law be not exercised, as the cars were a great public convenience and used largely for church-going and other purposes. The Sunday traffic is done by two cars and four men. The deputation argued that the petitioners did not express public sentiment aright, and were acting for the railway company, and contended that the law should be enforced.

In connection with the other question, it was claimed that while the Berlin and Bridgeport Railway had the right, under its charter, to operate on Sunday, yet this charter did not give them the right to do so over two miles of track recently constructed to connect with the village of Bridgeport, for which a later charter had been secured. Both matters will be given consideration.

Another deputation from the alliance asked to have a stop put to the publication and sale of Sunday newspapers, and the sale of refreshments on the Sabbath.

TRIALS OF AN OLD LADY.

Could Scarcely Walk, and Sleep and She Were Strangers.

Kidney Complaint was the Trouble—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured It and now she can Both Sleep and Walk.

Bear River, Digby County, N. S., Jan. 5th. — (Special.) — Of peculiar interest to aged people is the statement made by Mrs. Elisabeth Berry of this place. Mrs. Berry is over sixty-five years of age, and for eight years she was troubled with Chronic Kidney Complaint. She was so bad that she could scarcely walk from one room to another; she could not sleep and she required assistance even to dress herself. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is what she says herself:

"A friend advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took one box, but that not helping me I left off taking any more for three years. I at last got so that I could not dress or undress myself and could scarcely sleep more than five minutes at a time. Then I resolved to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a thorough trial. I took five boxes and they proved to be such a success, I took seven more boxes. Now I can sleep much better and am completely cured of Kidney Trouble.

"When I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I could only walk from one room to another. Now I can walk a mile."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the old feel young again.

JACK'S LAST SAD MESSAGE.

News Agent Found Dead in a Hamilton Street.

Hamilton, Jan. 7.—About 8.10 last night the dead though still warm body of a man was found on Simcoe street. Examination of pockets showed nothing but a comb, a news agent's badge bearing the number 308, and two notes written on the backs of aldermen's cards: "Dear Mother and Wife.—It is poor Jack that has done this. Bury my body in Toronto." The second card bore these words: "I took my last drink at Harry Deen's, Hamilton." Inquiry at Deen's Hotel showed that a man answering to the description had bought a glass of whiskey there between 7 and 8 o'clock. Late in the evening Tom Nepham, identified the man by the badge and description as his brother-in-law, John Cardwell, who lives at 82 Ferry street. Deceased had a wife and small child. Yesterday he gave up his position as news agent on one of the G.T.R. trains, saying he was going to get a job in Copp's Foundry. The inquest will be held at noon today.

GERMANY HOLDING BACK.

Refuses to Join With Britain in Dardanelles Protest.

London, Jan. 7.—Great Britain's protest in the matter of the passage through the Dardanelles of the torpedo boat destroyers creates considerable interest, and it is expected as not unlikely to lead to the virtual abrogation of that clause of the treaty of Paris, which closes the Dardanelles.

The London daily papers are greatly concerned at Germany's refusal to associate itself with Great Britain, although she is a signatory of the treaty.

Irritation in Russian Circles.

Constantinople, Jan. 7.—Great Britain has vigorously protested to the Turkish Government against the permission granted in September last to four unarmed Russian torpedo boat destroyers to pass through the Dardanelles, into the Black Sea, under the commercial flag of Russia.

The protest has caused irritation in Russian circles.

2,500 CARS OF ANTHRACITE.

Big Movement of Black Diamonds Began on Saturday.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 5.—By last midnight the Reading Company expected to have transported to market for the preceding 48 hours, 3,500 cars of anthracite coal. This movement of coal began Saturday morning, and in forwarding this great quantity the company is breaking its record. Yesterday every locomotive of all classes was pressed into service, and all available freight crews were called on to lend a hand. Most of the 3,500 cars referred to were moved yesterday.

Do You Look on the Dark Side?

Are You Blue, Discouraged Irritable and Depressed?—It may be Your Nerves are Exhausted and You Need

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Irritability and mental depression, sometimes amounting to melancholy and despondency, are marked symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

In the beginning you feel languid and tired, find it impossible to concentrate your thoughts. The tasks of the day are put off till the morrow, little things worry you, you forget your blessings and look on the dark side of things.

At times there may be nervous headaches, spells of dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness and general weakness of the body. You dread what the future may bring to you and feel the work and responsibilities of life more than you can bear.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"For some years I was troubled with indigestion which developed into nervous dyspepsia and besides suffering from nervousness, strange, dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed and as a result of its use I am quite restored to health."

The wonderful medicinal power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been demonstrated in thousands of cases. Gradually and certainly it creates new nerve cells, builds up the system, and overcomes the weakness which gives rise to nervous ailments and feelings of depression and despondency. New hopes, new confidence, new vitality are instilled into the body and health and strength take the place of disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 4

A TOURIST CAR
WHAT IT IS

A Canadian Pacific Tourist Car is similar in general appointments to this Company's Palace Sleepers. It is large, airy, perfectly ventilated, handsomely finished and upholstered.

Portable section partitions, which firmly lock in place at night, make an open interior with no obstructing berth supports by day, and insure perfect seclusion to each berth by night.

Any Canadian Pacific Agent will gladly give you further particulars and secure you accommodation in one of these cars.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

SNOWSHOEING.

One of The Globe's Most Sporting Articles —Good Exercise for the Pleasure-Loving Canadians.

Snowshoes were originally used by the Indian as a means of travel and in the pursuit of game. While they are still used for the same purposes by his white successor, it is as a means of enjoyable exercise that the resources of snowshoeing are inexhaustible.

The use of snowshoes is confined more particularly to the country and small towns of the north, and it is to be regretted that the young people (and the older ones also) living in our larger cities are so handicapped by their surroundings that they cannot enjoy the pleasures which this sport offers to its devotees. For the enjoyment of this pastime parties are formed, and, as in most sports, the companionship is the great secret of its popularity. Each member of the party is not only physically benefited by the exercise, but is also socially benefited by the companionship.

In snowshoeing districts evening parties find particular favor. A number of young people meet, and, having gone for a long walk over the snow-covered fields, they return, and, after several minutes of brushing and drying, having discarded "toque and centre sash," their host entertains them with luncheon and games. A moonlight night is the ideal night for such a party. What could be more sublime than the picture presented by the silver moon, the fleecy clouds and scintillating snow? Far away looms the dark woods, and nearer the shadowy movements of straggling members of the party. Here and there in the distance is seen the twinkling light of a lonely cottage; and over and around it all the stillness—the solemn stillness of a winter's evening—broken occasionally by the baying of a distant watch-dog.

It is the custom on the afternoon of New Year's Day to form parties, and the beauties of the sunset viewed from across the level expanse of snowy whiteness more than repays the pleasure-seeker for any slight fatigue he may feel after the prolonged walk. A sunset in winter is pencilled in harder lines and dyed in deeper colors than a summer sunset, but the deep crimson of the clouds and the darkening haze of the horizon make a picture which any lover of nature cannot fail to appreciate.

A level expanse of snow is the easiest battle ground for a beginner, but as he becomes more proficient he adds to his enjoyment the climbing and descent of hills and long wanderings through the fields. Snow is white—and white is the emblem of purity—and nothing is more beautiful than a wide expanse of spotless snow, unbroken in its sameness, save for here and there a straggling fence with its fringe of alders and withered mullen stalks, and occasionally a solitary tree, rising up as a monument to the beauties of the summers which are past and a herald of these which are past and a herald of these which are yet to come.

The best stretch for an easy run is over the snow-covered ice of a lake or stream. Traveling in the woods is next to impossible because of the danger of tripping over underbrush, but by following the windings of a stream in its sinuous course through a forest one has the double advantage of traveling on the level and of seeing the beauties of the woods on either hand. The lower boughs of the evergreens, snow-laden, dip down to touch the snow beneath and sometimes a limb high up loses its fleecy load, which, falling softly, scatters into a silver shower as it descends. All is still save for the breathing and laughter of the snowshoers and the crackling of an occasional twig. Sometimes the dry leaves still clinging to a beech rustle in the wind like the whisperings of the dead. A "pee-wee" twitters from a brush heap, and on the colder days, when the smaller forms of life are quieted, the crack of the frost in the trees serves to show us that nature's forces are not dead, but only sleeping.

Snowshoeing, like other pastimes, has its accidents to add zest to the sport—just enough danger to keep the snowshoer wide awake. The beginner usually has the habit of walking on his own shoes and precipitating himself headforemost into the soft, yielding snow. His frantic efforts to free himself of his shoes and extricate himself from the snow appear very ridiculous to the less unfortunate members of the party, and the victim himself usually appreciates the situation and has a good, hearty laugh at his own expense. Even the experienced, if they are not cautious, may trip over a hidden brush or come to grief in climbing a fence. It is an old trick for a snowshoer a few feet in advance of the other members of the party, when passing under a tree, to shake down a shower of snow on those behind.

Snowshoeing embodies all the healthful exercise of walking, with the additional development of those muscles particularly employed in walking with snowshoes. Besides giving us a good exercise at the time of the year when it is most needed it also develops the pleasure-loving and humorous sides of our natures. The delights of a long walk in the exhilarating atmosphere of a winter's day are not soon forgotten and the mirth-provoking incidents linger long after. Snowshoeing, teaching us to control our bodies and our minds, holds a foremost place among the winter sports, and some there are who say that it is king.—W. C., in The Globe.

SLANG AT OXFORD, TOO.

English Words as Made Over at the English University.

The slang of the Oxford student may not be so picturesque as that of American manufacture, but it is amusing and some of it would be valuable if imported--which is the excuse for offering some notes on it here.

Here is the Oxford student's ordinary method of making slang. He simply cuts his word in two and tacks on an "er." Thus: Breakfast is brekker; lecture, "lekker"; exercise, "ekker." These are used both as verbs and substantives: "Where are you brekkering this morning?" "What sort of ekker are you taking now?"

Roll call is "roller"; bonfire, "bonner"; chapel, "chagger." "Bedder" is the Oxford term for bedroom, but at Cambridge a "bedder" is a woman who takes charge of the college rooms. At Oxford where there are no women caretakers, a man so employed is called a "scout." At Cambridge he is a "gip."

Manh Oxford students live in lodgings outside the college. These are termed "diggings" or "digs"; the maid who looks after one in "diggings" is a "skivvy." There is also a verb "to dig"; "he digs with me," or "we dug together last term."

The slang terms for the various colleges are sometimes startling, and many show this same effort after an "er" ending thus: Jesus is "Jaggers"; Queens, "Quaggers"; Balliol, "Belial"; Corpus Christi, "Corpidge"; Pembroke, "Pemmy"; Worcester, "Wuggins"; Christ Church, "The House." This last comes from the Latin name of the college, "Aedes Christi."

Unions, of which there are many, are called "Uggers." the Oxford Union being popularly "The Ugger," and the Musical Union, "The Mugger Ugger."

A young girl who wears her hair down her back is a "flapper." As soon as she is old enough to do her hair she becomes an "ex-flapper."

"To swat" is to study hard; "screw" is salary; "oof" is money.

To say that a man is "squiffy" means that he is slightly intoxicated.

A proctor is called "progging." When he is out on duty he is "progging." He then carries a staff and is followed by four servants who are called "bulldogs" or "bullers."

There is a particularly expressive word to describe the meal of the man who rises so late that it is too near lunch time to eat breakfast and yet too long to wait for luncheon. He takes, therefore, a combination meal which he calls "bruncheon"; in other words, he "brunches."

Draws a Belgian Annuity.

Although the hereditary pension granted by the British Government to the first Duke of Wellington, and amounting to $20,000 a year, was limited to three lives only, and expired with the death of the late and third Duke, yet the present and fourth Duke of Wellington, a grandson of the victor of Waterloo, continues to draw a pension of $18,000 from the Belgian Government, and his descendants will, so far as can be seen, continue to draw this annuity from the Belgian exchequer indefinitely. Few people, even in England and Belgium, are aware that the Duke of Wellington receives this sum each year from the Belgian Government, and it was by mere chance that the fact was brought to public light the other day, owing to some legal proceedings being necessary in order to cut a road through the land which, ever since the year 1817, has been affected to the payment of this annuity. The latter was voted to the first Duke and to his successors by the Dutch Government, along with the grant of the Dutch title of Prince of Waterloo, in recognition of his victory over Napoleon in 1815. At that time Holland and Belgian formed one kingdom, and when in 1830 they fell apart and became separate kingdoms the duty of paying the annuity fell to the 16t of Belgium, owing to the fact that the property the revenues of which were assigned for the purpose were situated within the Belgian borders, and not in Holland. The result is that although the Duke of Wellington of to-day is a Dutch Prince, yet he receives a Government annuity as such from the Belgian exchequer. The Duke has large estates in Spain, which were presented to his famous grandfather independently of the pension given to the great soldier, and has likewise some landed property in Portugal given to the first Duke, along with the title of Duke of Vittoria, by the Portuguese Crown.

The powder puff may help to hide the ravages of time but it avails little to hide the ravages of disease. When the face is disfigured by eruptions, the treatment must go below the surface to the blood, which is corrupt and impure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disfiguring eruptions which are caused by impure blood. It cures scrofulous sores, erysipelas, boils, pimples, eczema, salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases which impure blood breeds and feeds.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. Etta Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "Could not walk at times nor wear my shoes. Thought there was no help for me—at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it; once. For fear that I might neglect it my friend sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and used 'All-Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine about eight months.

"I would say to all who read this; try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

Orenges Cheap in London.

An orange in the morning is said to be an appetizer, so I don't know that an already hungry person would derive much appeasement of his hunger by eating an orange; but if the luscious fruit were a satisfying hunger one then starvation would at least be unknown now, as fine oranges can be purchased eight for a penny.—London Correspondence.

She Repudiated the Charge.

At the men's service in a Yorkshire parish the vicar tried to convey the lesson that the truest heroes and heroines are those who do noble deeds in the secret corner of the home, where none can see or applaud.

"Few of you seem to think," he concluded, "that your wives staying at home uncomplainingly to mind the children and prepare the meals are heroines, and yet their touching devotion to duty proves them to be so."

It certainly hadn't struck one old farmer in this way before, and as soon as he got home he promptly told his wife that the vicar had called her a heroine.

"Whatever does that mean?" asked the good lady.

"Oh, it means a woman who stays in t' house instead of goin' art to show hersen," explained the farmer vaguely.

"Then I'm not a heroine, an' I'll thang t' vicar to mind what he's sayin'," snapped the wife. "I go to his church as much as t' other women do an' he must be blind if he can't see me. Why, I'd five different colors in t' bonnet I wore last Sunday!"—London Answers.

Mark Twain's First Earnings.

Mark Twain was once asked by a friend if he remembered the first money he had ever earned.

"Yes," answered Mr. Clemens, puffing meditatively on his cigar, "I have a distinct recollection of it. When I was a youngster, I attended school at a place where the use of the birch rod was not an unusual event. It was against the rules to mark the desks in any manner, the penalty being a fine of $5 or public chastisement.

"Happening to violate the rule on one occasion, I was offered the alternative. I told my father, and, as he seemed to think it would be too bad for me to be publicly punished, he gave me the $5. At that period of my existence $5 was a large sum, while a whipping was of little consequence, and so"— here Mr. Clemens reflectively knocked the ashes from his cigar—"well," he finally added, "that was how I earned my first $5."

Other advices add five thousand bales to yesterday's sales of spot in Liverpool, and entire situation assumed an appearance of strength unexpected by those planning and hoping for an improvement in market.

Bullish sentiment so pronounced after close last night that big opening generally expected. London however comes as disappointing that this is not likely to be the case. It was this general buying which gave the market its final burst of activity and buoyant close. There was very little demand for stocks in loan crowd, and a canvass of street shows there is nothing like the outside buying that the upward trend indicates, but on the contrary this business was comparatively small, and some of the commission houses had actually sold stocks on balance. Nothing bearish in news over night or in the present market condition. When the reaction does come it will come when entirely unexpected.

CO-OPERATIVE TESTING IN DAIRIES

As Successfully Carried on in Denmark.

AS TO TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Their Objects—Growth of the Associations—A Sample Result—Advantages.

The farmers of Denmark have evolved a very successful co-operative system of testing dairy cows, which has proved of great value in raising the standard of their herds. A short sketch of the plan which they have followed may prove of interest to Canadian dairymen, who might well imitate their Danish competitors in this particular at least.

THE OBJECTS OF TESTING ASSOCIATIONS.

Four chief objects are kept in view in organizing these testing associations:

1. That the feed given the cows must, as much as possible, be weighed, or measured.

2. That each cow's daily milk yield is weighed once per week, or at least sufficiently often so that accidental influences may not have any serious effect.

3. That the percentage of fat in each cow's milk yield is tested sufficiently often to eliminate accidental influences.

4. That an exact account is kept in such a manner as to show the relation between the butter yield and the food consumed.

The original association, that of Vejen, had 13 members, aggregating 300 cows, and the first year's expense was $175, but the Government recognized at once the importance of this movement and gave them a grant of $62.50. Some of the bylaws of the original association declared that:—"The object of the association was to build up a race of cows which would give a large yield of rich milk. The membership should be limited temporarily to 12 or 13, who agreed to let the milk of each cow be tested every 14 days. The expenses should be distributed in proportion to the fat tests made, and collected twice a year. Three directors should be chosen, one of whom should resign every third year after the first two years, and who should elect a president and secretary-treasurer. The association should continue for five years and no member should withdraw before the time, unless on account of removal from the district." The directors of the association engaged a tester who took samples and tested the milk of each cow, and for whose use reliable apparatus was bought. The tester, among other duties, kept exact records of the yield of each cow and the feed consumed in proportion to the yield of butter, and also prepared tables showing the comparative value of the various individual cows and herds as economical producers, so that those cows having special values for breeding purposes might be selected.

GROWTH OF THE ASSOCIATIONS.

At the close of the first year's work the Government appropriated $2,500 to be divided between associations which made proper reports, and the plan spread very rapidly. By 1897 it had been clearly demonstrated that the "testers" were also useful in securing better milk for the creameries, and the dairy paper "Maelkert Tidende" soon had frequent discussions as to the work of these associations, notably as regards securing uniform reports from the various associations. Joint meetings were held and several weak features of the scheme pointed out. In 1898 $4,250 was appropriated for the support of the various associations, and in 1899 the Vejon association again took the lead in including a report as to the raising of calves and hogs. In the same year at a general meeting of all the local agricultural associations, the blank forms for the test associations were fully discussed and uniform methods agreed upon.

In 1900 we find four distinct associations comprising in all about 240 test associations, and the results compiled from the reports of the various districts furnish a great deal of valuable information. For instance, the old notion that a larger flow of milk must necessarily give a lower percentage of fat was disproved. Most important of all a co-operation was effected between the test association and the breeders' associations, (bull associations,) and a chief inspector was appointed in one district, who helped to select the cows entitled to be bred to certain bulls and to supervise the keeping of the herd books.

The "Maelkert Tidende" sends blanks to the associations, and when these are filled, publishes them and sends copies to all the members. Indeed everyone interested in dairying helped the plan along, and this explains why there are now over 250 such associations.

A SAMPLE RESULT.

As an example of the practical results obtained, three years' work of the Faarup Association may be quoted. According to the "Maelkert Tidende" the average results per cow in the herds tested were as follows:

Year.	lb. milk.	lbs. butter.	per cent. fat.
1899—1900	5,152	191	3.34
1900—1901	5,394	202	3.44
1901—1902	6,104	228	3.60

This shows an improvement in the average yield of 47 lbs. butter per cow by testing and selecting in three years. The work of these associations is evidently the keynote of cheaper milk production, and the co-operative plan offers the only means of securing systematic testing.

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR CANADIANS.

In my opinion something along the above lines should be worked out in Canada, with the creamery or cheese factory as the nucleus of the movement. The tester would make the factory his headquarters, and if the farmers were trusted to do the weighing of the milk and taking of the samples, it would be possible for one man to do the work for all the farms sending milk to the average factory. He would require to visit each farm before the test started; take note of all conditions, record the number, age, etc., of each cow, feed used, etc.; show how the weighing and sampling should be done; enough two ounce bottles with initials of farmer and numbers stamped thereon to take separate samples of two milkings, also blanks for filling in feed records every two weeks. Having thus prepared his patrons they would send in to the factory on certain days the sample bottles, of which the tester would be able to test a large number daily, and still have time enough for an occasional surprise visit to the farms. There would be no reason for the farmer to weigh or take samples incorrectly, as the total average of each herd would be known by the patron's daily delivery and factory test, and any trickery would soon be discovered.

There is another advantage to this plan and that is that the factory can well afford to pay part of the expenses, because the tester's visits to the farms will also encourage better care of milk, better sanitation in the stables, etc. In any case the main point is to include in the test at least for figuring the average—every cow and heifer being fed on the farm, whether they are dry or in milk—that is the crucial test; the rest is simply a matter of book-keeping. The food cannot be weighed out to each cow, that would be too expensive, but fortnightly estimates, tested by the scales now and then, should be recorded. This idea may not be of direct benefit to the professional breeders, nor to the progressive farmers owning large herds who may do their own testing; but the latter may be public spirited enough to join with the small farmers and thus make the establishment of such a system possible. Nevertheless the professional breeder of pure bred dairy cattle would soon find an increased demand for his bulls, when the necessity for better cows had been impressed upon the farmer by the testing system.

CARD OF THANKS!

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough,—

Ladies and Gentlemen, — Permit me to return my sincere thanks for electing me to the town council again this year. I appreciate highly the confidence you have shown in me by electing me ten successive times to this position, and especially as your support has been given to me without any effort on my part. I shall continue to endeavour to show my appreciation by giving you my best services.

Yours sincerely,
HENRY BEST

A Chance to Tender.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—The Department of Agriculture received a cable yesterday morning from the Imperial War Office stating that tenders were to be called for a year's supply of fresh beef for the army in South Africa. The War Office is desirous that the tender should be secured by some one within the Empire, and has asked the Canadian Government to advise them of likely Canadian firms. The matter will be attended to by the Trade and Commerce Department.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

His Egg Sauce.

"Well, my man," said the visiting physician of a Dublin infirmary to a patient, "how do you feel this morning?"

"Purty well, sorr," was the reply.

"That's right. I hope you like the place?"

"Indeed and I do, sorr!" said the man. "There's only wan thing wrong in this establishment, and that is I only get as much mate as wud feed a sparrow."

"Oh, you're getting your appetite, are you?" said the doctor. "Then I'll order an egg to be sent up to you."

"Arrah, docther," rejoined the patient, "would you be so kind as to tell thim at the same time to send me up the hin that laid it?"

ANSWER RECEIVED.

Britain and Germany Agreeable to Conference Re. Venezuelan Arbitration.

Washington, Jan. 7. — Secretary Hay has received the British answer to President Castro's last proposal relative to arbitration. The note is interlocutory, but in substance states that if Venezuela wishes a conference with a view to submitting the differences between the two countries to arbitration Great Britain and Germany will accede.

Off to the Capital.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Hon. Mr. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, accompanied by Mr. Creelman, superintendent of Farmers' Institute, left last evening for Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, which will be held there during the next two days.

Terrifying Blaze in Chapel Royal.

London, Jan. 7.—There was considerable alarm at the Chapel Royal, St. James' Palace, yesterday morning owing to the sudden outbreak of fire in the Christmas decorations above the altar. The chapel was crowded, the occasion being the annual Epiphany service, at which the King's offering of frankincense and myrrh is made. The draught carried the flame of a candle to the decorations, but before the blaze had made much headway the officiating clergyman mounted the altar and tore down the burning holly.

Wife Was Also Arrested.

Windsor, Jan. 7.—Charles A. Mahoney returned to Windsor yesterday morning from Regina, where he went to take charge of Austin M. Powell of Simcoe, charged with embezzling about $2,000 from Frost & Wood. Mrs. Eabina Powell, his wife, was arrested yesterday morning charged with complicity. Mrs. Powell, who has been living in Detroit, since her husband's flight, crossed to Windsor to visit him. Detective Mahoney arrested her on the charge of abetting her husband in the embezzlement. Husband and wife will be taken to Simcoe.

Played at Victoria's Coronation.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—There died at the Home for Incurables yesterday, in his 84th year, a member of His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, who had performed good and loyal service for the Empire. F. McQueen, late of the Second Battalion Rifle Brigade, was probably the only man living in Toronto who played in the band at the coronation of Queen Victoria, and he was also a veteran of the Sikh war of 1848.

Discrimination of Railways.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Representatives of the Pittsburg Glass Company testified before the Inter-State Commerce Commission yesterday in substantiation of the charges that the railroads are discriminating against American manufacturers in their import and domestic freight tariffs.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

Her Blessings.

When a man begins to count his blessings, he can generally find plenty to be thankful for, although sometimes he may include things which might not be regarded by other people as altogether joyous.

"I'm thinking about the wonderful progress the world has made and how much we've got to be thankful for," said Mrs. Matthews, rocking in her old stuffed chair, with a pair of knitting needles in her hands and a placid smile on her face.

"It is wonderful," admitted her niece.

"Seems as if everything turned to good. There's lightning, now. If it hadn't been for that, I never should have had those fine rods on the house and barn that make me feel so safe in a thunderstorm. And there's smallpox. If it hadn't been for that, we never should have known the blessings of vaccination, and if there hadn't been nearsighted folks nobody would have thought to invent magnifying glasses and specs. I declare, there's a sight of things to be thankful for."

Should Be Bigger and Better

AND SO IT IS.

By the flattering encouragement given each of this store's Annual White Goods Sales (each sale being better than the former) we are now in a position to handle quantities of lines and styles that fasten upon us the attention of the Whitewear Manufacturers. We use this attention of the Manufacturers to give the ladies of Peterboro the very best values to be obtained in Canada.

Could We Crowd this Store

Each winter's day selling Whitewear—White Muslins and White Goods generally—if we did not have the exceptional values that we are offering? No! Since this sale commenced a steady run of customers, which demanded the full strength of our reserve selling staff, and yet we could not wait on all the people.

DON'T IMAGINE that we wish to boast of our Sale—not so, we but desire to acknowledge with gratefulness the assured success of this January White Goods Sale for which we expected much. We knew we should have a big sale. We bought lavishly and must sell lavishly—and so we are, and we're pleased, but our pleasure does not cause us to pause but to forge ahead to even greater success.

WHITNEY'S DEFEAT COMPLETE.

Toronto, Jan. 8. — Mr. Whitney goes down to complete defeat in the bye-elections, accompanied by "My Dear Foy" and Hon. S. H. Blake, whose letter against political corruption, accompanied as it was by an elaborate sneer at Mr. Ross' new Ontario policy, afforded the chief campaign material for the Conservative speakers. How ineffective it was, when set in the balance against the lucid speeches of the Premier and his lieutentants upon the issues of the day, is made apparent by the returns.

The Government went into the election with one seat out of the three. They emerged with North Grey, North Perth and North Norfolk, all in the Liberal column by safe majorities. This is the answer to Mr. Whitney's long continued boasts that the result of the bye-elections would be to place him in power. Once more Dame Fortune has eluded the Opposition leader, and he must rest content to see Premier Ross adminster the affairs of Ontario for three years more at any rate. It is a significant fact that upon this occasion Liberal speakers returning from the constituencies state that Conservative campaigners swarmed in unprecedented numbers, that there was apparently no limit to the Conservative campaign fund, and that every device, legal or illegal, known to political warfare was resorted to to accomplish the defeat of the Government. The Liberals felt almost overweighted in the campaign by the tremendous machinery of the Conservative managers, and the victory is undoubtedly largely due, as the Premier states elsewhere, to the very full and frank discussion from the public platform of the issues in the campaign, and of Mr. Blake's letter especially. The pivoted points in the election were Owen Sound in North Grey, Stratford in North Perth and Waterford in North Norfolk. In each case the Liberal candidate resided in these towns. It is a matter to congratulate Messrs. Mackay, Brown and Little upon that their own neighbors, and those who know them best, contributed most effectually toward their return to the Legislature.

Fierce Fight in North Norfolk.

Simcoe, Jan, 7.—The Liberals of North Norfolk have redeemed their riding after one of the fiercest fights they ever have experienced, and what will probably go down as one in which the Government candidate was opposed by the best organized and most unscrupulous bands of Conservative campaigners on record in this constituency. The majority of 55 for Mr. A. M. Little, taken with 23 of a majority which the Conservative candidate had in May, makes a total gain of 78.

A Horde of Outsiders.

The Liberal campaign was conducted entirely by local workers, who feel jubilant at the discomfiture of the horde of outsiders who worked for Dr. Snider under the direction of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt in his bedroom at Teeter's Hotel. It is known from careful computation that throughout the riding there were 150 persons, including M. P. P.'s, and ex-M.P.P.'s and a number of lawyers from Toronto and Hamilton. The defeat of these workers is interpreted as an emphatic avowal of the riding that it wants clean campaigning, and that it also continues its faith in the competency of the Ross administration.

The Envelope Trick.

The reports received are largely those of majorities. The total cannot be obtained until to-morrow. It is evident however from the figures that the vote was a heavy one. The polling was devoid of any incident with one exception. In Division 9 of Townsend a Conservative worker from South Norfolk, tried to work the envelope trick, and being detected, was chased out of town. In his haste he left his overcoat behind. The envelope trick is as follows: A voter is given an envelope a few days before the election. On it is a square marked X. When voting he places his ballot upon this square; marking heavily makes a mark on a ballot form inside the envelope. He gives this to the man outside and, if he has voted correctly, receive his stipulated reward. The results in North Perth and North Grey were heard here at an early hour, and the Liberals of Simcoe took many hours to work off their enthusiastic delight.

North Perth Redeemed.

Stratford, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—The Liberals redeemed North Perth today by the magnificent majority of 221, the largest Liberal majority ever cast in the riding for either Provincial or Dominion Parliament. To-night the streets are filled with rejoicing men, women and children; a huge procession has marched from end to end of the town, with band playing, brooms burning and rockets exploding at every corner. There has never been such a demonstration in Stratford before, and the enthusiasm is all the greater because the result has been taken, as Mr. Brown said to-night, not alone as a tribute to him personally, but as a vindication of the policy and record of the Ross Administration.

Stratford's Great Change.

Stratford converted a Conservative majority of 92 into a Liberal majority of 138. The result in Stratford is partly due to the exceedingly good Liberal organization for the city under the direction of Mr. R. T. Harding, which brought out the Liberal vote early and systematically. It is gratifying to know that no charges of personation or of any similar offences are made on either side. A Liberal named Dawson, an employee of the Whyte Packing Company, found that someone had voted in his name. He put in a tendered ballot. It is supposed to have been simply a case of a man voting at the wrong poll. There is some talk of corruption on both sides, but no specific cases are mentioned. The most ridiculous election rumour on record comes from the north, where it is said $10,000 was stolen from a man who intended using it corruptly.

Mr. Brown's Thanks.

The Liberals received the returns in the Opera House, and as it became evident that Mr. Brown would head the poll by a great majority the enthusiasm of his supporters passed all bounds. When Mr. Brown rose to acknowledge their cheers of victory the din of cheering, whistling and horn-blowing became simply deafening. Mr. Brown said: "Gentlemen, the work to-day shows what Liberals can do when they make up their minds to it. In this bye-election, knowing that the fate of the Government depended on it, the Liberals in North Perth have done nobly, as they can always be depended on to do when there is a crisis.

Message of Condolence.

Listowel, Jan. 7. — The following telegram was sent to Hon. S. H. Blake:

"Eight thousand of your letters were circulated in this riding. The result is over 200 of a Liberal majority. Please advise Mr. Foy.

"Liberals of North Grey."

The North Grey Fight.

Owen Sound, Jan. 7th. — Splendidly led by their candidate, A. G. Mackay, the Liberals of North Grey to-day closed a well conducted campaign by obtaining a majority of 269 over their opponents. Mr. Mackay's opponent was the member in the last Legislature, Mr. G. M. Boyd, and owing to the closeness of the contest in May last in this riding more than usual interest was taken in the contest, not only here but all over the province. The Conservative party, not only in the Legislature, but in

THE PREMIER'S VIEW.

Premier Ross received the returns of the bye-elections at his house. When seen by a press representative, the Premier, after expressing his great satisfaction with the results of the elections, said: "I had very little doubt from the outset of the campaign how it would terminate, as I was confident that the course taken by Mr. Whitney would not meet with the approval of the electors. I hope, now that the Government majority places its continued existence for the present Parliamentary term beyond doubt, there will be a disposition to return to the traditional mode of discussing politics, rather than to continue the methods that prevailed so strongly during the last election. I felt that from the first the Liberals had a good cause, and if it could only be kept before the people, there could be but one result. The majorities in Perth and Grey were rather larger than expected at one time, and in Norfolk somewhat smaller.

"Great credit is due to the Liberal workers in the three ridings for the enthusiasm they manifested and the self-denial they exercised in working late and early in support of the Government. Great credit is also due to the candidates for the energy with which they conducted the contest. So far as I have learned, no mistakes were made either on the platform or in the general work of organization. Where there was so much bitterness of feeling it is to the credit of the party that the contest was conducted with so much prudence and tact.

"Now that the elections are over, I hope to be able to devote my time to the preparation for the session rather than to the distracting work of an electoral campaign. I regard this evidence of confidence as an additional reason why I should endeavour to give to my Province and to my party the best service in my power for the building up of Ontario."

That Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, has recently made a number of analyses of soaps, and reports that "Sunlight Soap contains that high "percentage of oils or fats necessary "to a good laundry soap."

What every woman does not know is that in common soaps she frequently pays for adulterations at the price of oils and fats. Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will see that Prof. Ellis is right. He should know. 200

Many women and doctors do not recognize the real symptoms of, derangement of the female organs until too late.

"I had terrible pains along my spinal cord for two years and suffered dreadfully. I was given different medicines, wore plasters; none of these things helped me. Reading of the cures that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought about, I somehow felt that it was what I needed and bought a bottle to take. How glad I am that I did so; two bottles brought me immense relief, and after using three bottles more I felt new life and blood surging through my veins. It seemed as though there had been a regular house cleaning through my system, that all the sickness and poison had been taken out and new life given me instead. I have advised dozens of my friends to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Good health is indispensable to complete happiness, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has secured this to me." —Mrs. Laura L. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1903.

MARRIED IN EMILY.

Mr. R. J. Weir to Miss Ella Fee, of Emily Township on Dec. 31st.

The residence of Mr. Frances Fee, on the 4th concession of Emily, was the scene of an interesting event on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 31st, it being the occasion of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Ella, to Mr. Robert John Weir, of Omemee. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Kannawin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Omemee, in the presence of about 150 friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by her father. She was gowned in cream silk and was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Fee, who wore a dress of blue silk. The groom was supported by his brother, Wm. Weir.

The bride was the recipient of many very handsome and costly presents, the groom's gift to her being a $50 bill.

Amongst the guests present were the groom's parents and brothers and sisters from Lang; Thomas Lowes, Manitoba; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fairburn and family, Bobcaygeon; Mr. John Wylie, Toronto; Mr. Wm. Fee and daughter, Miss Gertrude, of Lindsay; Mr. John Fee, Bowmanville; Mr. and Mrs. A. Bell, Warsaw; Miss Jessie Bell, Peterborough, and Rev. Mr. Wesley, Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir will reside in Omemee.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

Cavan Township Sunday School Convention—The Churches.

The congregation of the Methodist church here was delighted with the sermon given by their pastor on the 4th Jan., 1903. His text was "For of His Fulness We All Received, and Grace for Grace." It is edifying to listen to an intelligent discourse delivered by one who makes a thorough search of the truth.

The discourse at the Presbyterian church given by their pastor was suitable for the 1st Sunday of 1903, which brought vividly to the memory of the congregation the many losses sustained by the war in South Africa, the death of our beloved Queen Victoria, and many other prominent individuals who occupied high positions in the church, the awful sudden destruction of 30,000 individuals in a few moments, and the death roll of 28 persons and as many more who received injuries on the G.T.R. on the 20th Dec., 1902. The foundation tion of his sermon was taken from the text: "But thou art the same and thy years shall not fail."

The Sunday School Convention of the Township of Cavan will be held in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday the 13th Jan., 1903. There will be as usual the afternoon and night sessions.

We regret to hear of the illness of the son of Mr. Thos. Gardiner.

Mr. E. Adams, of Omemee, was in town this week visiting the trade. We wish Ed. a happy and prosperous year.

The winter now is very favourable for those who are short of fuel, and the sleighing is splendid. Farmers are busy marketing their produce, and depositing the large surplus of cash received by them.

We are glad to see Mr. Robert Bord recovered so much that he was able to act as Deputy Returning Officer at our Municipal Election for Ward No. 5, Township of Cavan.

THANKS TO THEIR FRIENDS.

Generous Donations to House of Providence.

The Sisters Offer Their Sincere Thanks —Those who Deserve Special Mention for Good Cheer.

The Sisters of the House of Providence, Ashburnham, beg leave to offer sincere thanks to their kind friends and benefactors, who donated so generously towards the institution during the Christmas festivities. Their kind remembrances made good cheer amongst the inmates, and many a fervent aspiration was wafted to the Giver of all good gifts for their goodness and charity towards them.

Amongst those who deserve special mention are: Rev. Father O'Connell, $5; Rev. J. O'Sullivan, $5; Rev. F. O'Sullivan, $2; Mrs. P. Kennedy, Burleigh Falls, $2; a friend, $5, Rev. J. Sweeney, $5; a benefactor, $5; a friend, $1; a friend, $1; Mount St. Joseph, one ham, bacon, and reading matter; Mr. J. Lynch, eight boxes of choice candies; Mr. Carrol, one turkey; Mr. Hunter, one turkey; Mr. Leplante, quarter beef, bag of flour; Mr. Jas. Doris, one turkey, and vegetables; Minnicola Bros., Christmas decorations; a friend, $1; benefactor, $2; Mrs. Rutherford, flowers, candy and almonds; Mrs. Moloney, large box of candies; a friend, one turkey; Mrs. Delaney, one turkey; Mrs. Crowley, eggs, butter, jelly, cakes, and several loaves of bread; a friend, a quarter of beef; Mrs. T. Lynch, headcheese, cream, cheese, sundries; Mr. T. Leplante, a quarter of beef; Mr. Atkinson, a quarter of beef; Mrs. McGrath, 12 lbs. of sugar; Mr. Potvin, two fruit cakes, eight dozen various kinds of cake, candy; Mr. Nugent, druggist, $5; Mrs. Coughlin, Aylmer street, a fruit cake, currant bread, oranges, candy; Mr. John Kincoff, turkey; Miss Sullivan, one ham, bacon; Notre Dame Convent, candy; Mrs. Dr. O'Sullivan, turkey, a large quantity of canned fruit, catsup, marmalade and candy; Mr. Fair, a large number of useful articles for Christmas tree; A friend, $1. Several other donations for candy. Miss Byers, banjo, dolls and bugles. Misses Pauline Hayes and Nanno Stuart deserve much credit for the dainty way their beautiful box of toys and candy was arranged, which afforded to the children much amusement for several days. Mr. McClellan, one ton of coal. We have also to thank Venerable Archdeacon Casey for his friendly call and generous donation. The editor of the Examiner deserves special thanks for his liberalty in giving the Examiner gratis for use of our people. Dr. McGrath is to be thanked in a special manner for his untiring attention to the inmates of the institution at all hours free of charge. Dr. McCollough has kindly offered his services to the House, gratis. Both gentlemen have our sincere and heartfelt goodwishes for their goodness in our regard. We are grateful to all and extend our good wishes for a happy New Year.

We also take this opportunity to thank our kind benefactors for the annual collection which amounted to $200 for the last year.

NORWOOD WEEKLY BUDGET.

Mr. Joun Finley was Elected to to the Reeveship.

Personal Mention—Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Booth Moving From Town—Schools Re-opened.

Mr. Dan McCarthy, of Kingston, has been in town for the past few days calling on friends.

Mr. Claude Peugelly, of Toronto Junction, was in the village last week.

Miss Madge Cameron, of Peterborough, is spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. John E. Roxburgh.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Booth will be sorry to learn that they are about to leave our village. Mr. Booth has secured a good position in the insurance business in Guelph and intends to leave for that town in a few days. We join with their many friends in wishing them God speed.

Miss Clara Sanderson, an old High School scholar, has been spending a few days in town, the guest of the Misses Calder.

Mr. J. L. Squire is again busy getting out a supply of ice for the Swift Company's big ice house at Havelock. During the past week he has shipped sixty-five car loads.

The Norwood High and Public Schools re-opened for the winter term on Monday.

Our skating rink is now running in full blast, and is head quarters for our curling and skating enthusiasts.

The pulpit of the Presbyterian church was occupied on Sunday last by the Rev. Mr. Renney, who delivered two very interesting and instructive addresses. While in town Mr. Renney was the guest of Mr. John Finlay.

Mr. G. S. Roxburgh returned to Toronto on Saturday evening last to resume his duties at the School of Practical Science.

During the past week a good deal of shipping has been done here. Messrs. John Finlay & Son shipped a car of hubs to Markham, a car of carriage goods to Woodstock and a car of wheels to Guelph. Messrs. Roxburgh & Son a car of oats to Peterborough. Messrs. Buck & Walsh a car of cattle to Toronto. Mr. D. Hurley and Mr. J. W. Rorabeck two each, Mr. J. D. Buck one car of wood to Peterborough. Besides these Messrs. Finlay & Son have received a car of spokes from Toledo, and a car of rims from Cincinnati. Mr. C. E. Pakenham a car of Manitoba wheat, and Messrs. R. W. Waters & Son a car of salt.

The municipal officers for the village for 1903 were all elected by acclamation, being as follows: Reeve, John Finlay; Councillors, Messrs. E. P. Caffe, A. J. Robertson, A. Cunningham and M. Howley.

Mr. D. H. Booth disposed of part of his household goods by auction sale on Saturday. The remainder he has shipped to Guelph.

CORRESPONDENTS WRITE

Regarding the Article Signed "Dynamiter" in Last Week's Issue.

The article signed, "Dynamiter," which appeared in the Examiner last week, has drawn forth the following replies:

To the Editor of the Examiner

Dear Sir, — Having noticed in your valuable paper of Jan. 1st, an article, signed "Dynamiter," and having been a railroad foreman and contractor, and had a long experience in blasting with dynamite, I must and do, uphold "Dynamiter's" argument. Dynamite, when exploded in any form, will spend its explosive force in every direction alike, but the weakest point within the circle of its explosive force, is the first to yield, and not the "point from which the greatest pressure comes," as says the article attacked by "Dynamiter."

Thanking you for your space,
Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I notice with great interest in your paper of Jan. 1st, an article on dynamite by a Blairton correspondent. Reply being invited, will you kindly allow space for a few remarks on the subjects.

The article attacked by the Blairton correspondent, when going the rounds in the papers, staggered us to no small degree. Having used a large quantity of dynamite I never was favoured with the funny experience of its working "one-sided," or with the exertion of its explosive force on the "object of greater resistance." I think that "Dynamiter" proves his case very clearly, and puts the blush on the writer of the article attacked. For instance, a hole is drilled in the face of a rock cut. Perhaps fifty tons of rock are allotted for the blast to throw out. Then if the article attacked be true the charge of dynamite would choose to leave the burden of the blast undisturbed, so to say, and tear up the irresistible solid mass behind it.

Or charge a cannon moderately with dynamite, and if the writer of the beforementioned article be correct, then behind the cannon and not in frout of it, would most certainly be the most dangerous position.

Yours truly,
ANOTHER DYNAMITER.

CHANDOS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

There has been nothing around here but election talk lately.

Mr. Robert Johnston, Peterborough, is visiting his friends at Clydesdale.

At the school meeting of S. S. No. 8, Mr. Robert Tanner was elected trustee at No. 1.

Mr. Maurice O'Brien, our late school teacher paid us a visit on New Year's, and his old friends were glad to see him back again.

Mr. John Burke spent New Year's at Clydesdale.

The boys have all gone back to the camps after spending the holidays at home.

A party composed as follows drove from Peterborough to spend New Year's in Chandos: Misses Lizzie Hobbins, Kate Scott, Norah Scott, Nellie Scott, Laura Scott, and Messrs. Frank Sullivan, John Burk Maurice O'Brien.

Mr. Fred Wilson was in Bancroft on New Year's Day.

Mr. Simon Mahoney and Patrick Menogue were the guests of Mr. J. Scott on Sunday.

A very pleasant evening was spent at Mr. James Scott's on New Year's evening when a very large number of guests were present. The evening was spent in dancing and games, and we hope that our Peterborough friends will spend another New Year's evening with us.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

BLAIRTON.

Mr. Roy Taylor of Keene, who taught our school during 1902, and who has been appointed to teach at Young's Point during 1903, was on leaving here presented with an address, expressing appreciation of his services, and of their deep regret at his departure. He was also made the recipient of a beautiful writing desk.

At the annual meeting of the public school here, Mr. J. L. Aunger was re-elected trustee and secretary treasurer. This is his 25th consecutive year.

Some ratepayers from the north arrived at the town hall, it is said, quite in time for the nominations, according to their watches, but to their disappointment, and according to the watches of others, the time for nominations had closed, and all had gone home.

Blairton has been fortunate in securing Miss Ellen Kyle as teacher in the public school for the present year.

Mr. Fred Aunger of this place, has a wonderful reputation as an expert in deborning cattle. Whether it be right or no, Fred's manipulations are of such precision and dexterity as to forcibly remind us of an old "salty" working by the job, knocking barnacles off his ship in drydock after a voyage of seven years.

A very sad event occurred on the evening of Jan. 1st, viz., the very sudden death of Mrs. Pearce, wife of Mr. J. W. Pearce, member for West Hastings, at the family residence, at Marmora.

IN MEMORIAM.

Of Milton Nelson, who died September 21st, 1902.

At eve ere the sun was set,
Angels surrounded his bed and whispered,
"Tired heart, cease beating!"
Safe upon the heavenly shore.
Done with pain for ever more.

Weariness and weakness o'er up yonder,
On the loving Saviour' breast;
It is better than earth's best, up yonder—
Where loved ones meet to part no more,
And angels sing for ever more.

The prayer of our pastor was answered,
"Amen!" our dear boy said,
Was the last word he uttered
Ere his spirit was borne
To the mansions of the blest

There to meet those loved ones
Who before him crossed the flood,
And join them in praises
To the Saviour whom they loved.

Sweetly his form now is sleeping
Low in the dark silent tomb,
Waiting that morn when Heaven's brightness
Shall scatter away the gloom.

No more we will greet him in his parental home,
Where he was loved and adored.
His chair at Christmas was empty,
The home with his brightness is o'er,
Our hearts cry in sorrow, "Would God we loved him more."

We will strive to meet thee, dear Milton,
Across on that bright golden shore,
Where all saved by grace will gather,
And loved ones are parted no more.

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the new Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirerevolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. DAIRYING PROFITABLE.

President Derbyshire of the Eastern Ontario Association Places 1902's Product at $45,000,000.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Eastern Ontario began at the Normal School here yesterday, the president, D. Derbyshire, in the chair. There was an attendance of about 150 delegates. Among those present were: Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy branch, Department of Agriculture, and Mr. A. R. Creelman, superintendent of Farmers' Institutes of Ontario.

In his annual address President Derbyshire said: "Very few in this division realize the importance of our work. We made about 2,500,000 boxes of cheese in 1902, valued at $21,000,000, and 613,846 packages of creamery butter, valued at $9,000,000. So our make of cheese and butter in 1902 came to $30,000,000, consisting of what we exported from the first of May, 1902, to the first of January, 1903, and had on hand at that date, not counting what we consumed. If we add our hog products, $15,000,000, to our cheese and butter, which should be done, we have a nice sum of $45,000,000 that our dairymen have produced in 1902. We feel proud of this record, and we are certainly in a fine position to do better work in 1903."

At the afternoon session, Miss Livingstone, instructress in household science at the Normal School, Ottawa, gave an address on "Domestic Science."

Dr. Saunders, Director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, gave a voluminous account of the work on the farms.

At last night's meeting, Mayor Cook presided, and gave the city's welcome. The convention was formally opened by His Excellency the Governor-General, who expressed himself as heartily in sympathy with the aims of the association, and urged the development of the industry by the production of the best possible article to suit the demands of the foreign markets.

PREMIER IN OTTAWA.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier Are Home Again.

WARMLY GREETED BY FRIENDS.

"Glad to See You," Said the Premier, "and Pleased to Be Home Again"—They Had a Short Stay in Montreal En Route—Sir Wilfrid Now in Excellent Health and Ready For Work.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier reached the Capital to-night on his return from Hot Springs, Virginia, where he went for rest and health. While no formal reception was tendered him, there were quite a number at the station. Sir Wilfrid specially requested that no reception be tendered him. Among the Cabinet Ministers to greet him were Messrs. Prefontaine, Mulock, Fielding and Scott.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier wasted no time at the station, beyond extended greetings to their friends. They drove immediately to their home on Theodore street.

"Glad to Be Home Again."

Montreal, Jan. 8. — "Well, I am glad to see you, and pleased to be home again. What news have you, and how are all the friends?" was the hearty greeting extended to the group of personal and political friends who went to Bonaventure depot last evening to welcome the Prime Minister of the Dominion back to Canadian soil. There were present: Hon. Senators McKay and Dandurand, Judge Lavergne, Hon. P. Brodeur, General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk, Mr. Morse of the same company, Mr. Arthur Danzereau, Private Secretary Boudrault, Mrs. Langlois of La Patrie and the Misses Danzereau.

The train bringing Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived shortly after 4 o'clock. The Prime Minister gave a hearty hand-shake to all who entered his car. All, of course, were interested in the Premier's health and satisfaction was expressed when it was seen that, although the Liberal leader had apparently gained no flesh, he seemed alert and vigorous and that his voice had regained its wonted strength. He said he was ready to go to work again.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier described the beauties of the southern clime he had left, but added: "Give me Canada." The Premier then spoke of his aged mother whom he had not seen for some time and said he must pay her a visit.

PROVED THEIR ALIBI.

Edward Raye and Alfred Hanley Were Tried on a Charge of Robbing James and Samuel Watson.

Brantford, Jan. 8.—The trial of Edward Raye and Alfred Hanley, the two Ancaster Township butchers who were charged with robbing James and Samuel Watson, near Middleport, took place yesterday, and they were honorably acquitted by Justice of the Peace Leitch yesterday afternoon, the case being abandoned by the Crown authorities.

A good deal of evidence was called by both sides, the stories of the Watson brothers being to the effect that they recognized beyond the possibility of a doubt the two defendants as the men who robbed them. The men were masked, but they knew them by their voices, their clothes and their actions.

For the defence witnesses were called, and it was proved that both men were seen on Saturday in places other than Middleport at the time that the robbery is said to have taken place, so that it would be impossible for them to be guilty.

The Crown was satisfied after a few of these witnesses had been heard that the wrong men had been apprehended, although it was believed that the Watson brothers honestly thought that they were the men. The authorities think now that they know who the guilty parties are, but on account of the positive identification already made by the Watsons, two material witnesses against the perpetrators are lost, and it will be a very difficult matter to secure a conviction.

Raye and Hanley were honorably acquitted, and the judgment was received with applause by the large crowd of spectators who gathered in the court room.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years, prior to his death, never travelled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realized that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into Pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple anti septic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendancy to Pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburg writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded steam heated school room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

Dr. D. E. Salmon Says It May Be Lifted Within Two Weeks.

Boston, Jan. 8. — Dr. D. E. Salmon, Chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, expresses his belief that, before the end of this week, all cattle suffering from the foot and mouth disease in Massachusetts will have been destroyed. It is expected that, within two weeks, the cattle embargo will have been lifted from New England.

Jamaica Against Us.

Ottawa, Jan. 8. — The Canadian commercial agent in Jamaica writes that that island has forbidden the landing of cattle either from the United States or Canada, on account of the foot and mouth disease. The Government will take measures to let Jamaica know that our herds are perfectly healthy.

HINTS FROM BURKE.

On How to Sell Canadian Goods in the Island of Jamaica.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Mr. Burke, Canada's commercial agent in Jamaica, comments severely upon the method of Canadian business men, producers and manufacturers, and warns them that to cultivate trade successfully in Jamaica their procedure and expectations must be revolutionized and made more in keeping with the customary conditions. In one or two instances, especially in the case of butter and cheese, and boots and shoes, Mr. Burke notes that some attention has been paid to his oft repeated advice, with the only possible result; that those few who have departed from old-fashioned lines and methods have been, and are still, amply rewarded.

Government Seed Distribution.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—The Department of Agriculture will make a distribution this season of the most productive sorts of grain to Canadian farmers for the improvement of seed. The samples will consist of oats, spring wheat and barley, sufficient to sow one-twentieth of an acre, and of Indian corn and potatoes to the weight of three pounds. Every farmer may apply, but only one sample in all will be sent to any one household. Applications should be sent to the director of experimental farms at Ottawa before March 1. Mention should be made of the sort of variety preferred.

Fisherman Is Lost in Lake.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 8.—Captian Joseph Ankli, sailing master of the fishing tug Hoffnung of this port, was drowned in midlake, off Kenosha, yesterday morning, after having struggled for his life in the freezing water for more than 15 minutes. A terrific sea prevailed, and the boat had been taken out to lift the nets. Ankli was washed overboard.

Boers After More.

Pretoria, Jan. 8.—The Boers are holding out for more from Great Britain. They are slow at coming to the conclusion that they have been liberally dealt with.

First Winter Fair.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Officials of stock associations are here arranging for the first winter fair ever held in Eastern Ontario, which is to assemble here from Feb. 9 to 13.

KILLED IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Hugh Burns, Formerly of Ontario County Struck by a Train.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Albert Burns, 7 Isabella place, yesterday received word of the death of his brother, Hugh, at Bathgate, N. D. Accompanied by a man named Ryan, they were driving home, when a train struck their buggy. Ryan was killed instantly, and Burns was so severely injured that he passed away the same night. Hugh Burns was born in Scott Township, Ontario County, in 1858, and removed to the west in 1888, in which year he married Margaret Gibbeney of Scott Township. He leaves three children.

WILL BE HANGED.

Armenian Pedlar, Who Killed Sian Lundore at Tenny Cape Mines.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 8.—Sian Azuabally, the Armenian pedler, who killed Sion Lundore at Tenny Cape Mines on Oct. 22, was found guilty of wilful murder last night at Windsor, and sentenced to be hanged on March 18.

Herbert Awaiting Judgment.

London, Jan. 8. — The prisoner, Walter Herbert, who is so widely known for having confessed his guilt as an accomplice in the alleged Sifton murder case, is to appear before Chief Justice Sir William Meredith at the assizes, which commence on Monday next. The prisoner does not stand for trial, since his confession stands as a verdict against himself. He is simply awaiting the passing of judgment.

Boy Hanged For Double Murder.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 8.—Paul Woodward, aged 17 years, was hanged at the Camden jail yesterday. The drop fell at 10.05 o'clock, and Woodward was pronounced dead 10 minutes later. He showed remarkable nerve. The crime for which Woodward was hanged was the murder, on Oct. 1 last, of John Coffin, aged 11, and Price Jennings, aged 14.

Scores Drowned in Floods.

Vienna, Jan. 8.—About a score of lives have been lost in Austria as the result of floods caused by the breaking up of the ice in the rivers, due to rains, and the melting of the snow, in consequence of unusually mild weather.

Card of Thanks

To the Electors of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Permit me to tender my sincere thanks to those who voted for me for the Council on Monday. The fact that I was not a candidate, and was not seeking election, makes my gratitude all the more keen. I may state that I had intended to have my name withdrawn, but overlooked doing so until too late. I have the honor to be, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of seasons affects pianos as well as everything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with twenty-eight years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

Reading Circle.

The Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T.A.S. will hold their first meeting of the new year on Friday next, January ninth. An address on "Shakespeare," will be delivered by Mr. Earle, and a very interesting evening is looked forward to.

Electric Carnival.

There was a departure from the run of entertainments at the Grand Opera House last evening, says the Ottawa Citizen, when the Pan American Electric Carnival, a moving picture attraction, was put on. It provided an abundance of varied and interesting entertainment enjoyed by a large audience. An endless field for exploration is evidently furnished the amusement manager by the picture "show" and in this particular instance he has made good use of his opportunities.

This entertainment will be put on at the local Opera House on the 12th and 13th.

Save Your Pictures.

If you have any loose pictures lying around that are getting spoiled for want of a frame, telephone "The Metropole," and if you can't call, we will send for them, and have them framed as you desire. Our framing business has grown so well that we have had to take additional room upstairs, and now control the whole flat over the store. The stock of picture mouulding is new, well chosen large and varied. Special attention given to fancy carved wood work and designs; also velvet leather for pyrography in many delicate shades. "The Metropole," 144 Hunter street; [illegible]

SOCIAL EVENING.

The A. R. M. Club Entertained Their Friends Last Night.

The A.R.M. Club entertained 35 of their friends in the parlours of the Y.M.C.A. last evening, and a most pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Social games, a good programme and refreshments contributed to this end, together with the spirit of good fellowship.

Mr. Robert Reid with his talking machine, provided the larger part of the music. Mr. James Browne sang several well rendered selections, Mr. George Schneider presiding at the piano. Messrs. Sorsoleil and Williamson added recitations.

The "Penny for your thought" game was the amusing feature of the evening, and much merriment was caused in dividing the contents of the chocolate box between the ten successful guessers.

Dr. Jeffs, of Norwood, was present, and gave an appreciative address. Messrs. Sorsoleil and Williamson also made a few remarks. The evening concluded with the fellowship hymn and prayer.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Annual Meeting of the Charlotte Street Ladies' Aid Society.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon in the church parlours. After the regular business the annual reports were presented. The Secretary's report was very satisfactory. During the year eleven regular meetings were held and four special. Twelve new members were added, making now a total of 45. The Treasurer's report showed a gratifying state of affairs, the receipts for the year being larger than those for many years.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, resulting as follows:

President—Mrs. S. Clegg.
Vice-President—Mrs. Thos. Drew.
Secretary—Mrs. James Wharton.
Assistant-Secretary—Mrs. Nicol.
Treasurer—Mrs. Mary B. Lyle.

All the above officers were re-elected, the treasurer being chosen for the eleventh term.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Meetings That Have Been Arranged—Communicants' Class.

The teachers' study class will meet in the church parlour this evening at a quarter past seven, for the study of next Sabbath's lesson.

Communicants' class in the vestry at half past seven.

Service in connection with the week of prayer will be held in the church at eight o'clock. Rev. Mr. Bastow will speak. Subject, "Special Work among the Young, Families and Schools." A large attendance is looked for.

The Session of St. Paul's church will meet at the close of this service.

Preparatory service will be held to-morrow evening in the church. Rev. G. Yule of Springville and Bethany will preach.

THEIR ANNIVERSARY.

The Mark Street Sunday School Held a Social Gathering.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 6th, the anniversary of Mark street Sunday School was celebrated by a social gathering of the pupils and their friends. The chair was occupied by the Superintendent, Mr. M. W. Matchett, who extended a welcome to all.

A short but interesting programme was rendered, after which cake and coffee were served. The presents from the tree were then distributed, and each child received a bag of candies and nuts.

The programme was as follows:

Prayer ....
Chairman's address ....
Recitation ....Pearl Brisbin
Anthem ....Choir
Chorus, "Jack Frost" ....
Solo ....Susie Duffis
Recitation ....Cecil White
Chouruses, "Merry Christmas Bells,"
"Funny Old Man."
Recitation ....Martha Murray
Chorus ... ... Miss Davies' class
Solo ....Georgie Long
Chorus, "Hunting for Santa" ... .

HOCKEY.

LAST NIGHT'S PRACTICE.

Last night's hockey practice was attended by all the senior players, and the boys had a good work-out. In future the forwards will attend more strictly to combination play in practice, as for periods last night one would hardly think the team knew anything of combination. Cavanagh will practice on the wing to-night along with Morgan, Whitcroft and Roy Armstrong, against Watson, Graham, McGrath and Hamilton. The other defence will be composed of Comstock, Craig, or Vic. Hamilton and G. Lee.

T. A. S.

The T.A.S. team had a splendid practice last night, and they will go up to Bobcaygeon on Saturday night confident of winning. They will have another practice this evening, and to-morrow night they will be inactive. The game in Bobcaygeon will be refereed by Dr. Aldous, of Fenelon Falls.

"JIM" AS A REFEREE.

Mr. Jas. McCabe refereed the game in Cobourg last night between Port Hope juniors and Cobourg. The home team were victorious by a score of 11 to 4. McCabe is developing into one of the crack referees of the province.

BELLEVILLE ALL THE WAY.

Well, sir, it was like stealing coppers from a baby's bank, the way the Belleville hockey team banged the Varsity boys around last night, and scored almost at will, says the Intelligencer of that city. People expected the local team to win, inasmuch as the visitors had been beaten 11—3 in Port Hope, but as the Varsity team had been strengthened for their match here, it was thought the game would be fairly even. It was not. It was like the proverbial jug handle, and the Collegians were outscienced and out-skated, getting the little end of a 16—3 score. Shocking, wasn't it.

* * * *

Harold Armstrong was out last night for the first time, and is, if anything playing faster and stronger than last year.

* * * *

A general practice of the Peterborough players will be held at the conclusion of the practice of picked teams this evening.

Miss Edythe Burnett, of Presbyterian Ladies' College, Toronto, is visiting Miss Mona D. Cavanah, Brock street, for a few days before returning to Toronto.

WHEN APPLES WERE APPLES.

Sold in Peterborough at $6.00 and $7.00 per Barrel.

Mr. F. J. R. Mitchell, yesterday turned up a memorandum book of his late father, Mr. Geo. D. Mitchell, under date of 1864, when the business was carried on on the corner of George and Hunter streets, now occupied by Mr. Madill as a drug store. In the book was recorded the purchase of 168 barrels of apples at $3.75 per barrel. The apples were purchased at Charlotte, New York State, and schoonered across the lake, and sent on from Port Hope to Peterborough by the old Port Hope, Lindsay and Beaverton Railway. The freight and other expenses brought the price of the apples to the Peterborough consumer up to $6 and $7 a barrel. The shipment mentioned consisted of Rhode Island Greenings, Northern Spies, and Russets.

Conditions have greatly changed since that time. We can now grow at home better apples than ever imported, and in favourable seasons consumers can buy these apples which less than forty years ago cost $6 and $7, at $1.00, or $1.50 per barrel.

TRIPLE LIBERAL VICTORY.

Three bye-elections yesterday, three Government supporters elected, a triple Liberal victory, succinctly states the situation. Practically, the ability of the Liberal Government to continue their wise and effective administration, was at stake. The electors appreciated the importance of the issue, and nobly responded to the call. The result shows that when the electors are confronted with the direct choice, concretely placed before them in the contest of yesterday, between a Government with a good, strong progressive policy, and a leader with no policy, but one of slander and office seeking, they do not waver, and this was exemplified yesterday, when the Government made a clean sweep, and carried three seats by aggregate majorities which represent a total gain in the Liberal vote of 565 in three ridings. This result is not to be regarded as a snap verdict, for never, perhaps, in the history of the province, was a more determined fight put up by both parties in an election contest. The advantage was with the Government candidates, who had something to offer the people in the way of good government and effective development of our resources, in the way of a policy that appealed strongly to a progressive and public-spirited people. Mr. Whitney had nothing to offer but his everlasting corruption cry. To employ the language of parable, the red-handed murderer appealed to the people to be made the guardian of the sacredness of human life. Mr. Whitney, the leader of a party, which has to its debit the blackest record of political debauchery and corruption, appealed to the electors to be made the champion of the work of purifying political methods. The people repudiated such a grim joke, the supreme absurdity of Mr. Whitney's claim, set the electors thinking seriously of their duty, and the noble manner in which they did their duty in three ridings, is no doubt a type of the way in which the province would have spoken had the opportunity offered. The country is now assured of four years more of strong, effective, progressive government.

GENERALLY SPEAKING.

If "My Dear Foy" spoke with the elegant brogue of his country, he would say that a Blake wind blew from the North yesterday, and struck his South cold.

* * *

The wise men came from the East, but the wise electors come from the North—the three Norths, in fact.

* * *

North Perth did it up Brown yesterday, North Norfolk went a Little better, and North Gray chipped in to Mackay solid trio of "Men from the North."

* * *

The thermometer was right — it was a cold day for Mr. Whitney yesterday.

* * *

The Globe didn't say anything about "whacking Whitney," but it came just the same.

* * *

Mr. Whitney can tell Captain Bernier what the temperature at the North Pole feels like.

* * *

Mr. Ross cleared his throat, and sang with pleasing execution his pibroch war-song, "Men of the North."

* * *

Mr. Whitney finds the "cold shades" colder than ever.

* * *

Hon. "Sam" Blake has done many clever things, but he never shone as a boomerang builder before.

* * *

Four more years of good Government ahead of the best Province in the Confederation.

* * *

Build up Ontario.

* * *

"Promotion cometh not from the east nor the west," but three good solid "Grits" come from the three Norths.

* * *

"Carried, on a division"—Government majority—5.

* * *

Mr. Blake won't talk Helen Iron Mine any more, but he thinks Helen—etc.

* * *

Owing to a severe cold, Mr. Whitney will be unable to appear in his pathetic song,—"John Brown's Body Lies Mouldering in the Tomb,"—that would be tomb much.

* * *

Having the able assistance of "Hon. Sam" Mr. Whitney in the bye-election contests didn't Miscampbell—that will possibly come later.

* * *

The "Fair Maid of Perth" didn't listen to Mr. Whitney's windy wooing.

* * *

Mr. Whitney finds that his "corruption" platform is as rotten as the electoral record of his party.

* * *

Build up Ontario.

VERY GRATIFYING.

Our customers have taken us fairly by storm again this winter. Never before have we been favoured with so much selling of so much of the better class of Furs to such a large class of influential and desirable patrons.

The store is still bountifully full of HIGH-CLASS FURS—altogether different to what is ordinarily offered. And yet the prices are not different to the extent of being extravagant. You will be surprised at the many handsome things you can get with little-priced tickets on them.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Conductor Cook Found Under Body of Baggagemaster.

SEVEN LOSE LIFE IN TRAIN WRECK

Rear-End Collision on a Pennsylvania Railway Very Disastrous, Besides the Dead Many Suffered Injuries—A C.P.R. Head-on Collision at Sherbrooke Results in Loss of One Life.

Pittsburg, Jan. 8.—As a result of a collision between a passenger train and the rear end of a freight train on the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railway last night at Cochrane Station, just above Duquesne, several men are dead and one is dying, and five others are injured.

The dead: C. E. Stroud, baggagemaster, accommodation train, Homewood; C. M. Boehner, brakeman of accommodation, Pittsburg; John Stewart, passenger, residence unknown; two unknown foreigners, killed outright; two unknown foreigners, died on way to hospital.

Among the injured is T. D. Cook, conductor, accommodation, who will probably die before daybreak.

The passenger train in the wreck was the west Elizabeth accommodation, which left Pittsburg at 3.20 p. m. It was on time and had a clear track, according to signals displayed. At the siding at Cochrane it ran into the rear car of an extra freight which had taken the siding, but failed to clear the main line. The officials of the road attribute the disaster to the failure of Patrick Quinn, the rear brakeman of the freight, to see that his train had fully cleared. Up to 11 p. m. Quinn had not been located.

All of the victims were badly burned. Conductor Cook was found unconscious under the charred body of Baggagemaster Stroud.

COLLISION AT SHERBROOKE.

Locomotives Remained on the Track, But a Fireman Was Killed and One Brakeman Was Injured.

Sherbrooke, Jan. 8.—On the Canadian Pacific, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, a head-on collision of two freight trains occurred, about a mile and a half from Sherbrooke, just as they reached a 15-foot embankment. The locomotives remained on the track, but most of the cars went over. One of the firemen was killed and one brakeman injured.

An Accident at Tweed.

Tweed, Jan. 8.—Yesterday morning, while a freight train was passing Tweed, a large steel frame, in shipment to Montreal, rolled off a flat car, derailing it, and smashing the axels of several pairs of trucks, the result of which was that the passengers from Montreal, Ottawa and Peterboro did not reach Toronto until five hours behind the regular time.

O'NEALE'S MARVELLOUS ESCAPE.

Dragged 200 Feet by an Engine and Only Scratched.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 8.—Harry O'Neale, G.T.R. sectionman, had a miraculous escape from an awful death yesterday morning. When sweeping snow out of a switch an engine knocked him down between the rails. After the ash pan of the engine passed over him, he grabbed hold of the cross-bar and held on, screaming. The engine dragged him 200 feet and he crawled out with a few scratches and bruises.

ONE MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Isaac Jenkins Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Now he Advises Others to do Likewise.

How often have you heard the remark, "I would like to eat some of that, but I am afraid to." You may depend upon it that the person who talks that way is living in constant terror of his stomach; that the pleasure of eating is spoiled by the fear of what may follow.

Thousands of people live and die in that hopeless condition. They are victims of their own scepticism. They refuse to believe the testimony of thousands of others who have suffered similarly, but who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and been completely and permanently cured. Isaac Jenkins of 116 Dundas street, Toronto, is on eof the latter, and he says:

"I had been trouble dwith Dyspepsia for one year and I could not get any relief. I would have a sour stomach and heartburn and could never touch any fish food. I was told that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets would cure me, and I tried them. I only had need to use half a box when I was cured."

You can't find a dyspeptic who has ever used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Six Senate Vacancies.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—Reckoning the seat of Senator Masson, who has been absent for two years, as vacant, the death of Senator Armand leaves six appointments to be made to the upper chamber. When these are filled the Senate will consist of 42 straight Liberals and 39 Conservatives, a Government majority of three.

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish, and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Monkey Brand Soap makes copper like gold, tin like silver, crockery like marble, and windows like crystal.

Danger in Delay.

Only a little backache
'Tis the first symptom
Tells you the kidneys are sick
They are crying for help
Neglect—delay—
The ache increases
Then 'tis serious
Urinary troubles follow
Retention of the urine—
Excessive discharges—
Painful passages
Don't wait until too late
The early symptoms are easily cured
But it's a hard fight
When diabetes sets in
When Bright's disease
Has taken hold
TAKE DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS.
With the first sign of kidney ills
Relief will be prompt—cure certain

IN NORTH ONTARIO.

Conservative Ex-Finance Minister, Hon. George E. Foster, at Last Secures a Chance For a Seat.

Beaverton, Jan. 8.—The Liberal-Conservative Convention was held here yesterday to select a candidate to fill the vacancy in the riding of North Ontario, caused by the death of the late Angus McLeod.

The chair was taken by President Dr. Gillespie, who was surrounded on the platform by the stalwart Conservative local leaders.

The nomination was given to the Hon. G. E. Foster.

Mr. Foster's Acceptance.

Cannington, Jan. 8.—Hon George E. Foster addressed a meeting in the Town Hall here last night, at which he responded to and accepted the nomination of North Ontario tendered him at the Conservative Convention held at Beaverton yesterday. Mr. Foster was met at the station by a deputation, and was escorted to the hall.

Mr. Foster, after the resolution was read, said he desired to thank the members of the convention and the Conservative party for their action, not in a personal way, but on behalf of the party, for the nomination. He went on to say that he accepted it, and with their co-operation would fight an up and down battle.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Believed That Austria-Hungary and Italy Will Join Great Britain.

Constantinople, Jan. 8. — Great Britain's protest against the permission granted in September last to four unarmed Russian torpedo boat destroyers to pass through the Dardanelles into the Black Sea, under the commercial flag of Russia, will, it is believed, be followed by similar action on the part of Austria-Hungary and Italy, while Germany and France will remain aloof. Germany's aloofness was in consonance with her traditional policy not to embarrass the Porte, while France, naturally, abstains from acting against the interests of her ally, Russia.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Poison's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

BONUS TO SHAREHOLDERS.

Bank of Montreal Decides to Issue $2,000,000 Additional Stock.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 8.—At a special meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal, held yesterday, it was unanimously decided to issue $2,000,000 worth of new stock.

Senator Drummond, vice-president of the bank, announced that it was the intention to allot the new stock to the shareholders at 70 per cent. premium on its par value.

As this will mean a distribution of one share for every six now held, and as several shares of Bank of Montreal stock were yesterday morning sold at a premium of 273 per cent., this will mean a very substantial bonus to the shareholders.

It was also decided to apply for legislation to subdivide the entire capital stock into shares of $100 each, instead of $200, as at present, and to change the date of the annual meeting from June to December.

Some men will get out of bed at 1 o'clock in the morning and run to a fire who can't be induced to get up at 7 o'clock to start one in the furnace.—Chicago News.

"Exactly Suited To My Case"

Says Mr. Baker, and He Voices the Opinion of Hosts of Kidney Sufferers Regarding

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It frequently happens that people who are cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have previously experimented with other medicines without obtaining the desired results, and consequently a great many make use of this expression, "exactly suited to my case."

The action of this great medicine is so wonderfully prompt and direct, and the effects so marked that people naturally feel that it is particularly suited to their case. Time has proven the merits of this preparation, and consequently it has attained an enormous sale.

Mr. John Baker, Deseronto, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say that they are perfect in their work. I was subject to pain in my sides and back. At times I had to lay off work, and feared that I would never get rid of the ailment which was causing my sufferings. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to me, and I found them to be exactly suited to my case. Since using them I have never had a return of my old troubles."

Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 641 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering.

"I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally take a pill in order to keep my bowels regular."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

Almost Racked to Pieces.

MISS SADIE E. RUSK, OF RUSKVILLE, ONT., HAS A TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Ruskville, Ont., March 1st, 1902.—It affords me much pleasure to testify to the excellency of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. About a year ago I was attacked by a hacking cough. It was so distressing that I was almost racked to pieces by its violence. I saw DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP highly recommended for coughs like mine, so I purchased a bottle, and it completely cured me. I find it equally beneficial for colds in the head, and any obstruction of the nasal passages. It is an excellent preparation, and too much cannot be said in its favor.—Sadie E. Rusk.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP contains all the essential lung healing principles of the pine tree, and is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pain or Tightness of the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

Price 25c. Bottle, at all Dealers.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

THE PIONEER WOMAN

THE FIRST WHITE WOMAN IN THE DOMINION OF CANADA.

The First Home Established in Canada Involved a Tragedy—Alone on the Isle of Demons—Story of the Punishment of Marguerite de Roberval by the Viceroy, Her Uncle, in 1542.

Twelve years before the Pilgrim Fathers disembarked at Plymouth, in 1620, the lily-strewn banner of France was planted on the headlands of Quebec. To the infant colony came, from time to time, a few women from the mother country. These heroic souls, the pioneer women of Canada, had as romantic lives, were as noble in aims and as fervent in sacrifice as the nineteen women of the Mayflower. The history of many of the Canadian women can never be written, for they left no record of their endeavors. The annals of a few have been preserved, but they are little known outside the land wherein they labored and died. Hard and unlovely as was their lot, the aroma of romance as well as mystery lingers about their names, now all but forgotten.

Miss Mary Sifton Pepper has gathered into "Maids and Matrons of New France," all that can be gleaned from history relative to these heroic women, who left the luxuries of France to endure the rigors of Canadian winters among savages. Their coming was due to the urgent cries for women's help sent back to la belle France by the missionaries, and most of these who came were actuated by the purest of religious motives.

The first home established in Canada involves a tragedy, that of Marguerite de Roberval, which has been preserved to us in the writings of Andre Thevet, who gives it in these words:

"One beautiful spring day in the year 1542 a haughty viceroy's ship was pursuing its way across the Atlantic. Suddenly it stopped opposite a lonely island. The viceroy had just been informed of a guilty intrigue between his niece, Marguerite de Roberval and a young cavalier of his company, abetted by the old nurse, Bastienne. His punishment was swift and terrible. A boat containing the two women, a few stores and four French harquebuse, was lowered and pushed away. The lover jumped overboard, swam diligently in its wake, and reached the shore of the island at the same time as the occupants of the boat. Then the three exiles, turning their faces to the sea, saw with agonized hearts the forbidding hulk of the viceroy's ship move off and leave them to their fate. On to the shores of Newfoundland, the viceroy, the great Sieur de Roberval pursued his way, there to meet the master pilot of his age, Jacques Cartier, and with him found a colony which would perpetuate the name of France in the New World."

De Roberval's attempts at settlement proved disastrous and the following year he returned to France, sailing past the Isle of Demons—as it came to be called—regardless of the fate of the exiles they had left there.

Marguerite had seen a representation of the island in an old chart which hung on the walls of the chateau in Picardy, where she had lived with her uncle. "Devils, with horns, wings and tails, stalked about and flew like bats through the air; horrible monsters floated in the waters; even the savages hurried fearfully past. Basque fishermen in search of cod had heard strange sounds there—wailing voices, groans, fiendish shouts and bacchanalian revels—which caused them to cross themselves and flee in terror. Many a time Marguerite had stood fascinated before this picture and had lifted up her heart in thankfulness to the Virgin that the great ocean rolled between her and this haunted spot.

"Yes it was here that she and her lover, with no priest to consecrate their union, established their home. Their number was soon augmented by the advent of a child. But after a few months death left Marguerite alone to battle with her fate. She hollowed out with her own hands the graves of husband, child and nurse and then began a struggle for life."

By day she roamed in search of game, with her gun over her shoulder; by night she barricaded her cabin door to keep out the bears that roamed the island and the demons she thought she saw peering through the chinks of the wall. Once she saw far out at sea a canoe of Indians approaching. But their savage, painted faces and gleaming tomahawks filled her with greater terror than the demons and she fled shrieking to her cabin. The Indians, too, turned swiftly back. They thought her the wife of the Manitou, the source of all their ills.

Two years passed and Marguerite still remained alone upon the island. Her stores were long ago exhausted; she was frequently obliged to bite the fresh young twigs of the trees in lieu of better food. One October day some Maloine fishermen, setting out from the banks on the homeward journey, saw smoke curling up from the shores of the haunted island. They could dimly discern the figure of a woman clad in ragged skins. She was beckoning to them. She might be an evil spirit luring them to destruction. Then an old sailor recalled the story of De Roberval's niece, and they hastened to the island.

Thus was Marguerite de Roberval rescued after an exile of two years and five months. Her uncle's wrath still pursued her on her return to France, and she was obliged to hide herself in an obscure village until De Roberval's second expedition to the new world, from which he never returned. After fear of his return was quite over she came from her seclusion and lived to a good old age in peace and happiness.

Such was the history of the first white woman resident of Canada.

In 1608 Champlain founded Quebec, the first permanent settlers in Canada. One of the most prominent of the emigrants who settled there was Louis Hebert, whose wife, Dame Hebert, accompanied him among the first colonists who came to make New France their home. Their daughter, Anne Hebert, married a young trader named Stephen Jouquest. This was the first marriage ceremony performed in Canada, and it occurred two and a half years earlier than the first marriage celebrated in New England. Hebert's second daughter married Monsieur Couillard two years later, and many prominent Canadian families claim descent from Guillemette Couillard, whose family name is perpetuated in Couillard street, one of the ancient streets of old Quebec.

The Sieur Hebert took up a tract of land just outside the fort and was probably the first farmer of New France. He prospered, and when Quebec capitulated to the English, in 1629, the Heberts were among those who accepted the victors' offer of twenty crowns apiece to all the French colonists who would remain. They had already a well built and substantial farm house, gardens and grain fields. The Hebert homestead was a rendezvous for the Recollet friars, whom Champlain brought over to Christianize the Indians. The Huron Indians were also frequent visitors, and were allowed to warm themselves at the kitchen fire, though the dame complained she never dared trust them out of her sight for "they stole with their feet as well as with their hands."

When in 1632 the treaty of St. Germain was signed, which again placed all Canada under the lilies of France, and Cardinal Richelieu's expedition sailed up the St. Lawrence to the rocky promotory of Quebec, the only thrifty house in the place was the Hebert house. They were the only French family settled in Canada.

Dame Hebert was a mother to all the discarded Indian waifs in the country, piously acting as sponsor at the baptism she insisted upon. It is said that by far the greater number of children who received this sacrament during her life were held in her arms. She usually took them afterward and cared for them till they died or were claimed by their parents.

The same year that the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock a second woman came to New France with the intention of making it her home. This was Helene, wife of Samuel de Champlain, who gave his name to the beautiful and historic Lake Champlain. She was the daughter of the Sieur de Boulle, secretary to the king's chamber, and she was betrothed to Champlain at the age of 12. Her little dowry of 4,500 francs was turned over to her at once, and she remained in France with her parents, while with the money thus obtained he returned to Quebec to further the fortunes of his colony. When Madame de Champlain arrived, what did she behold. Her historian answers "A few dirty, half-clad Indians, who looked at her in stupefied amazement that anything so beautiful had consented to come among them. Instead of the manorial estates and gallant cavaliers she had pictured in imagination she saw only the homely cottage of the Hebert family and the crude, irregular habitation of Champlain, neglected and half in ruins. She took up her residence in the dilapidated habitation with the three maids she brought with her and began to face a life of exile with a husband 30 years her senior."

Monsieur de Champlain soon discovered that his young wife professed the Huguenot faith of her father. He lost no time in setting about her conversion. Public prayers were said at intervals during the day. While the family were at breakfast an attendant read aloud from some sacred book; in the evening there was more "Lives of the Saints." Morning, noon and night the Angelus was rung to admonish the little colony of the duty of silent prayer. These influences soon had the desired effect. Helene accepted the faith of her husband; more than that, she desired to become a nun.

For four years she devoted herself to the instruction of the Indians, who, we are told, would have gladly worshiped her instead of the unseen mysterious deity of whom she told them. At last lack of the comforts to which she had been accustomed so wore upon her health, and domestic unhappiness and homesickness upon her spirits that her husband took her back to France. She determined never to leave her native land again, and soon put into execution her desire to become a nun. She founded a convent and died at the age of 56 "in the halo of saintship." Her husband's heart seemed to hold his colony somewhat dearer than his young wife, though in his voyages he discovered an island in the St. Lawrence which he named after her l'Ile de St. Helene. It bears the name to this day, and is a pleasure resort for the people of Montreal.

A WOMAN'S PRAYER.

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great remedy for womanly ills has well been called "A godsend to weak and sick women." It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "My urine was like brick dust, and I had pain all over me and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes, even. In the year 18?? I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I found a little book. I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no backache, no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing just as good.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—sent free on receipt of stamps to cover expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers; or 50 stamps for the cloth bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW MANY WOMEN HAVE TO DO THIS FROM DAY TO DAY?

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS are a blessing to women in this condition. They cure Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Palpitation of the Heart, Faint and Dizzy Spells, Weakness, Listlessness, and all troubles peculiar to the female sex.

Mrs. James Taylor, Salisbury, N.B., in recommending them says: About eight months ago I was very badly run down, was troubled greatly with palpitation of the heart and would get so dizzy I would have to leave my work and sit down. I seemed to be getting worse all the time, and a friend advised me to try MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. I can truthfully say that they do all you claim for them, and I can recommend them to all run-down women.

Smoky River Pass a Myth.

Mr. Armstrong, the C.N.R. surveyor, has returned to Edmonton from an exploration trip on the Smoky River and Yellowhead Pass, which has occupied him since October 1st. The result of his explorations proves that the so-called Smoky River pass on the map is a myth of the mapmakers. The Smoky River heads in the same glacier as the Grand Forks of the Fraser at the western end of the Yellowhead Pass. There is a small river called the Porcupine, which comes out of the mountains about where the Smoky River pass is shown. Mr. Armstrong did not explore it, but by reports from the Indians, who say it is too difficult to have horses in, he believes the difficulties of railroad construction through it would be even greater than those encountered by the C. P. R. in the Kicking Horse Pass. There is another stream called the Sheep Creek, which joins the Smoky about 15 miles up stream from the mouth of the Porcupine. The pass through which it runs is easy on this side, but very difficult on the western slope.

Time Tables as Geographies.

"I never realized the value of time tables until I got hold of a class of boys old enough to take an interest in geography," said a New York public school teacher. "So far as the study of maps goes, I can get better results from the use of time tables than from all the geographies in the market. Maps that have been prepared for the purpose of cultivating the youthful mind in the matter of locality are shunned as bugbears by all except the studious few. But just set a dozen boys around a pile of time tables and tell them to locate certain cities, lakes and rivers, and they will work like beavers and come out letter perfect every time. For most children time tables and accompanying maps are a source of unfailing interest both in and out of school hours. It is true that this unorthodox method may give the boys exaggerated ideas as to the importance of certain railroads, but they seem to get enough good out of the investigation to counteract such impressions."

DRS. KENNEDY & KERGAN

The Leading Specialists of America. 25 Years in Detroit. Bank Security.

Nine out of every ten men have been guilty of transgression against nature in their youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant he may be. The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only escape from its ruinous results is proper scientific treatment to counteract its effects. The DRAINS, either by nightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated, the blood must be purified, the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed, the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. We invite all the afflicted to call and consult us confidentially and free of charge. Cures Guaranteed or no Pay. Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Jan. 8—An attempt to drive prices down a little further is not unlikely to-day. There are indications that good buying will be witnessed on any declines. Conditions favor irregularity to-day with an occasional specialty advance. A warning from the bankers that the market was advancing too fast is responsible for the reaction. We favor St. Paul, Sug., Great W., R. I., L. N. and B.R.T., based on good bullish information. London market for Americans was irregular.

TOPICS.

New York, Jan. 8.—No Trust legislation at Washington this winter is likely. Senator Hoare bill dead and other measures will be buried. The market fundaments are sound consequently on any further moderate recession the low priced active issues including KT Tex. Pac. Rries and OW should be taken hold of. The buying of Southern Pac. M.O.P. and U. P. is really representative. S.P. is a cinch at 66 to buy and to hold. The Standard Oil crowd is lending money freely and believes that funds will work easier. The manipulation of Copper is for the stock. Can. Pac. and the soft coalers will lead on rallies.

PREMIER ROSS COCK O' THE NORTH

the House of Commons, concentrated its energies in this riding, at least fifty prominent and experienced Conservative workers helping Mr. Boyd. Thus equipped the Opposition entered the fight confident of victory.

Unwelcome Strangers.

The Liberals, nevertheless, were undaunted, and every stranger who appeared, be he a member of Parliament or a gentleman at leisure, was followed both on and off the platform, with the result that several gentlemen found their usefulness in the riding gone and sought the quiet of their own homes. In May, 1902, the Conservatives got a large majority in Owen Sound, but upon this occasion, owing to the vigilance of the young men of the town, the Liberal majority rolled up to 58, instead of a minority of 137, as was the result in the town in May last.

Watched the Bell-less Sleighs

The night before polling the young men saw to it that men who went about the town by stealth had to give an account of themselves, and as several rigs came along without the merry tinkle of the sleigh bells this silence was considered a sufficiently suspicious circumstance to demand an explanation. The effect of this policy was noticeable to-day when the results began to be announced. The first two or three returns showed that the town was going with a swing for Mackay, and it was not long before the people were informed Mackay's majority in the town was 58, or a gain of 195 over the May vote. Other returns began to pour in, and the crowd took to the Town Hall, demanding that Mackay address them.

Mr. Mackay Gives Thanks.

The address was forthcoming, and it was one of the finest speeches ever delivered in Owen Sound. Before resuming his seat the member-elect read scores of congratulatory messages from all parts of Canada, expressing great pleasure at the result and predicting a fine future in the political life of the country for the member of the Legislative Assembly for North Grey. James Conmee, M.P.P., R. Holmes, M.P., and C. M. Bowman, M.P.P., spoke briefly, but all congratulated the people of North Grey on their excellent representative, and predicted for him rapid advancement. The meeting dispersed, and a procession was formed through the streets.

Mr. Whitney Mum.

Mr. J. P. Whitney was seen by a representative of the press at the Queen's Hotel last night. He said:—"I have received the returns in a general way, but I will have nothing to say as to the result until I hear some details. That will be probably to-morrow."

A FIELD NIGHT FOR DOURO T. A. S.

Highly Successful Entertainment in St. Patrick's Hall.

A Creditable Presentation of the Irish Drama "Handy Andy," Before a Very Large Audience—Mr. Moloney was Honoured.

Douro leads them all! Last evening the Total Abstinence Society of St. Joseph's Church, Douro, presented the celebrated drama, "Handy Andy," in St. Patrick's Hall, to the largest audience that probably ever entered the building. The gathering was made up of the good people of the township as well as delegations from all the adjoining municipalities together with a good sprinkling from the County of Victoria.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting, and the entertainment provided was of such a meritorious nature as to reflect the highest credit on the young people taking part.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, acted as chairman of the evening, and in opening the proceedings delivered a brief, but practical address. He congratulated the Total Abstinence Society on the good work it was doing in the township. They all knew his views on temperance, and he was proud of the splendid organization in his own parish. He urged upon the men of Douro to join the T.A.S., and closed by wishing the society all success.

Then followed the drama of the evening, the caste of characters being as follows:

Handy Andy ... ...B. Leahy
Squire Egan ... ...G. S. Buck
Squire O'Grady ... ...M. Walsh
Mr. Murphy ... ...M. J. Leahy
Dick Dawson ... .Fred Walsh
M. Furlong ... ...L. Bolin
Edward O'Connor ... ... Jas. Walsh
Simon ... ...Wm. Hayes
Ruffians ... Thos. O'Brien & G. O'Connor
Oonah Rouney ... ... Miss M. O'Brien
Mad Nance ... ... Miss M. Sullivan
Fanny Dawson ... ...Miss E. Powers
Accompanist ... .Miss A. Flaherty

The play was capitally put on by the young people, and each role was portrayed very creditably. The young ladies in the caste delineated their respective characters in an admirable manner. Of course every body expected a great deal from Handy Andy, (Mr. B. Leahy,) and no one was disappointed. The droll and witty sayings as well as his ludicrous mistakes kept the house in roars of laughter. Mr. Stanley Buck, as Squire Egan, portrayed the character very faithfully. The work of the young people certainly deserved the warm praise bestowed by the reverend chairman at the conclusion of the production.

The different scenes in the drama were interspersed with capital specialties. Mr. F. Mober, baritone, contributed two capital solos, and a duet by the Misses Barry was beautifully sung. Miss Lillie Bell, of Keene, contributed two vocal numbers sweetly rendered by this talented vocalist. Messrs. Sam Houlihan and Joe Guerin, the two clever buck and wing dancers and coon song singers brought down the house with their numbers, and will get a warm welcome should they visit Douro again. A beautiful tableau "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," concluded the evening's programme. The young ladies taking part in the tableau were Misses A. Flaherty, A. Walsh, and M. Sullivan, and this number was a beautifully conceived scene, and reflects considerable credit upon Miss Flaherty who arranged it.

The committee in charge of the entertainment are to be congratulated on the successful outcome of the affair. It was a grand success financially, and was a delightful success from a literary and musical standpoint. The committee consisted of Messrs. L. Bolin, B. Leahy, and G. S. Buck.

Miss A. Flaherty, the talented organist of St. Joseph's church is also deserving of the highest praise for her work in connection with the successful outcome of the evening's entertainment. The programme was virtually under her capable management, and during the evening she also presided very acceptably at the piano.

During the evening a very pleasing incident took place. Mr. Dennis Moloney, President of the Douro T. A. S. was recently elected by acclamation to represent Douro and Dummer in the County Council, and between one of the scenes in the drama, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, Township Clerk, appeared on the stage and read the appended address:

To Mr. Dennis Moloney, County Councillor, Douro:

Dear Mr. Moloney,—It is with no ordinary pleasure, and we hope with pardonable pride, that your numerous friends and well-wishers of Douro, approach you this evening to offer you our most heartfelt congratulations on your recent appointment to the responsible position of County Councillor, and at the same time to couple with the pleasures of this evening's entertainment the still greater pleasure we experience of testifying our deep appreciation of your past services to our Township, whether as Reeve, Councillor, Trustee, or President of our T.A.S. In each and every capacity, we could not fail to recognize your sterling worth, and the wisdom, generosity and foresight you have ever displayed in all your private and public dealings, justly entitle to our esteem and gratitude, and qualify you in every respect for the more onerous duties which your new position will call upon you to fulfill. True worth will always tell, and we are well aware, that in doing justice to you, we are only doing honour to ourselves. We know your earnestness and ability, and the deep interest you have always taken in everything pertaining to the good of our Township and our parish, and we trust that the past is a safe guarantee of what we may hope for in the future. Wishing you the compliments of the season, and assuring you once more of our best wishes, for a bright and prosperous new year.

We subscribe ourselves, your friends in the cause of temperance.

WILLIAM MOHER,
Vice-President.
JAMES BARRY,
Treasurer.
WILLIAM O'BRIEN,
Secretary.

Douro, Jan. 6th, 1903.

Mr. Moloney replied as follows:

Rev. Father, Ladies and Gentlemen,—I can hardly find words in which to express my gratitude for that kindly worded address, and the flattering remarks that are made in it. I don't think I am at all deserving of such praise. I am proud to be a member of the T.A.S., and I think it has done a great good in this parish. I hope I will always be able to uphold the principles for which it was founded, and it will be a pleasure for me to do anything I can to further its advancement.

In your address you referred to my election to the County Council. I know you were proud to hear of my promotion. I hope I will be able to fill the office with credit to the society and the division I represent. And again I thank you one and all—the members of the Total Abstinence Society—for your very kind address.

The proceeds totalled a handsome sum, which will be devoted to fitting up St. Patrick's hall. The Douro T.A.S. at present has a membership of 160.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Meeting Largely Attended at George Street Church Last Night.

The service in the George street Methodist church last night in connection with the Week of Prayer was very largely attended, and the proceedings were heartily entered into by all present.

The address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's, his subject being "Missions." Rev. J. C. Davidson, of St. John's, read the lesson, and Rev. J. Bastow led in prayer. This evening's service will be held in St. Paul's church.

Friday, Jan. 9th. — Murray street Baptist church. Speaker, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe. Subject, "Nations and their Rulers." Psa. 9. Psa. 138. Dan. 2; 44-49. 5; 17-29. Acts 9; 10-16. I Tim. 2; 1-8. Rev. 12; 15.

Trooper Brace Coming.

Trooper Brace, of the Third Mounted Rifles, has been touring Ontario telling his thrilling story of the war, and will be in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Monday evening, January 12th, under the auspices of the gymnasium classes. Trooper Brace has been greeted with crowded houses everywhere and his story is simply captivating. Lieut. Col. Miller has kindly consented to take the chair at the lecture. Trooper Brace will address the Men's Meeting on the Sunday preceding.

Action to Settle When the Twenty-Year Term Expires.

PREMIER BACK AT HIS DESK

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Pleased to Be Home in Canada Again—Paid His Respects to the Governor-General—Canadians in South Africa—When Do Their Terms Expire?—The Question Raised.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—A very interesting point has arisen as to when the term of service of Canadians in the South African Constabulary expires. It was originally intended that Canadians who desired to enter the force should go to Cape Town and enlist there. It was pointed out, however, by the Canadian authorities, that this would be most inconvenient, and that comparatively few would be able to avail themselves of the offer. The War Office then agreed to permit enlistment in Canada, and 1,100 men were accordingly enrolled and transported at the British Government's expense to South Africa. No re-enlistment took place on arrival at Cape Town, and apparently enlistment in Canada proved quite satisfactory. The men enlisted in January, 1900, for three years, and their period of service has apparently now expired. Some of them want to leave, in order that they may get back to Canada and resume their farming occupations in the early spring. The British officers, however, insist that the period of enlistment dates from the men's arrival in South Africa, which was in April, and that they have still three months more to serve. One of the Canadian troopers has written to the Department of Militia, reciting the facts. He states that he and several of his companions have saved sums ranging from $500 to $2,000, and are desirous of returning at once to farm life in Canada. The Militia Department has referred the point raised to the Department of Justice for decision.

Should Be Bigger and Better

AND SO IT IS.

By the flattering encouragement given each of this store's Annual White Goods Sales (each sale being better than the former) we are now in a position to handle quantities of lines and styles that fasten upon us the attention of the Whitewear Manufacturers. We use this attention of the Manufacturers to give the ladies of Peterboro the very best values to be obtained in Canada.

Could We Crowd this Store

Each winter's day selling Whitewear—White Muslins and White Goods generally—if we did not have the exceptional values that we are offering? No! Since this sale commenced a steady run of customers, which demanded the full strength of our reserve selling staff, and yet we could not wait on all the people.

DON'T IMAGINE that we wish to boast of our Sale—not so, we but desire to acknowledge with gratefulness the assured success of this January White Goods Sale for which we expected much. We knew we should have a big sale. We bought lavishly and must sell lavishly—and so we are, and we're pleased, but our pleasure does not cause us to pause but to forge ahead to even greater success.

Attend this Sale During January

PREMIER STEPPED BRISKLY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Back at His Desk and Glad of It.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The Prime Minister was at his office bright and early yesterday morning. He came up from his residence on a car, and walked up from Sparks street to the eastern departmental block. It was zero weather, and the Premier stepped out briskly. His fur cap was pulled well down over his ears, and his cheeks glowed under the nipping influences of the keen air.

Meeting a couple of newspapermen, Sir Wilfrid shook hands heartily, and inquired in a bantering style, "What's the news?" After chatting for a minute Sir Wilfrid passed on, with the remark: "It's good to be back again. There's nothing like Canada."

The Premier received a number of callers in his office, and made the statement that he felt quite well. At noon he went down to Rideau Hall and paid his respects to the Governor-General. Sir Wilfrid did not make any stay in Montreal on his way back from New York, but will go there to-day or to-morrow.

TAXING C.P.R. LANDS.

Question of Their Liability Will Be Argued in Court.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—Mr. Howell, K. C., of Winnipeg, is here making arrangements for the reference to the courts of the question whether C.P. R. lands in the West are now liable to taxation provided in the deed of gift by Parliament expires.

A township in North Cypress is to be taxed, and the company will raise the issue on this case. No obstacles will be placed in the way of getting the case tried. It will come before the courts at Winnipeg. That much has been settled. Mr. Howell is arranging the remaining part of the terms, and after conferring with the officers of the Justice Department here left for Montreal to see the C.P.R. officials. He will return in a day or so.

Want a New Governor.

London, Jan. 9.—The Times' correspondent in Wellington, N.Z., says that the Maoris are signing a petition to the Crown praying that Premier Seddon be appointed to succeed Lord Ranfurly as Governor of New Zealand. The leading papers are urging that Premier Seddon discountenance the movement on the ground that the appointment of a Governor of a colony should be purely a prerogative of the Crown.

Police Used Revolvers.

Barcelona, Spain, Jan. 9.—The carmen's strike for higher wages is resulting in serious collisions with the police. Revolvers were used in the streets yesterday, strikers threw petroleum on the premises of the Northern Railroad with the intention of setting fire to them, while hidden bombs were discovered near the city, leading to the belief that dynamiting was contemplated.

30,000 Troops in Delhi.

Delhi, India, Jan. 9.—The review yesterday by the Viceroy, Lord Curzon, of 30,000 British and native troops, lead by Lord Kitchener, was the last important event of the coronation Durbar. Of all the soldiers reviewed none made a better impression than the native volunteers.

Urging Ratification.

New York, Jan. 9.—The Chamber of Commerce yesterday passed a resolution urging the Senate to ratify the convention which has been negotiated with Great Britain for improvement of the commercial relations between the United States and Newfoundland.

New Kind of Vessel.

Birmingham, Eng., Jan. 9.— The Post yesterday asserts there is reason to believe that designs have been made and are now under consideration by the Admiralty for the construction of a new kind of vessel intended to completely nullify the attack of the submarine vessels. The details are necessarily kept a profound secret.

For an All Canadian Fair.

Montreal, Jan. 9.— The Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association passed a resolution yesterday endorsing the project of an all-Canadian Fair at Toronto next year, and Robert Munro was appointed a delegate from here to proceed to Ottawa to ask for a Federal grant.

Lake Shipbuilding Last Year.

Toledo, Jan. 9.—The annual review of lake shipbuilding shows that 62 vessels are being built for the lakes and that the aggregate value will be $18,491,500. Of these, but four are passenger steamships. The combine has 39 boats under way, and of these only three are other than steel cargo steamships.

Baden-Powell to Retire.

London, Jan. 9.—It is announced that General Baden-Powell will retire from the command of the South African Constabulary for a better post, though his future movements are not settled.

Official Declaration of Mr. Little's Majority in Norfolk.

PREMIER CONGRATULATED.

Government's Victory Attracted Widespread Attention—Premier Ross Says There Is No Truth in the Rumor That Mr. Davis Is Going to Retire—Mr. Davis Will Issue Statement re. North York.

Toronto, Jan. 9. — Premier Ross was early at his office yesterday, where he was greeted by many friends, who personally congratulated him on the splendid results of the bye-elections. He declared his intention of entering immediately upon the work of preparation for the session, the date of which he would not be in a position to announce for some time.

No Truth in the Rumor.

On being shown the rumor in a Conservative morning paper that Mr. Davis intended to retire, the Premier said:

"There is no truth in the rumor that Mr. Davis is going to retire, either from public life or from the Government. During my Premiership," Mr. Ross added, "I have been supported most loyally and ably by my colleagues, and the present victory is largely owing to the attention which they gave to the organization and to the discussion of the public questions before the electora."

Mr. Davis' Statement.

Hon. Mr. Davis also denied the rumor of his alleged retirement from public life in the most emphatic manner. Respecting the North York case, Mr. Davis issued the following statement:—

"I am not in a position to say anything at present, but a little later on I will be at liberty to make a full and complete statement with reference to the North York protest, and I have reason to believe it will be one that will be eminently satisfactory."

Transferred to Toronto.

By consent of both parties yesterday an order of the court was made transferring the place of trial for the hearing of the petition and cross-petition in Mr. Davis' case from Newmarket to Toronto, the date being fixed for the 20th inst.

Congratulations.

Hon. G. W. Ross was the recipient of quite a number of congratulatory telegrams yesterday. Among them were telegrams from the Premiers of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Quebec, and Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Solicitor-General.

The Liberal Majorities.

The official declaration in the North Norfolk bye-election was made yesterday by A. J. Donly, returning officer. Mr. Little's majority is 100. Revised figures in North Perth give Mr. Brown these majorities; North Easthope, 299; Stratford, 188; Mornington, 16—total, 453. Mr. Monteith's majorities are: Elma, 92; Wallace, 98; Listowel, 52; Milverton, 2—total 244. Majority for Brown, 209, with Ellice not reported.

Mr. Whitney Surprised.

Mr. J. P. Whitney, M.P.P., the leader of the Opposition, is at the Queen's Hotel. During yesterday he had many callers, who came to discuss the somewhat gloomy situation created by the results of the bye-elections. To a reporter he said:

"I am somewhat surprised at the result of the contests in the bye-elections, because my observations led me to believe, as I still believe, that the Government has lost ground with the people. It is too soon to go into any detailed explanation of my reasons, which I may do later on."

The Lennox Argument.

Argument on behalf of the petitioner in the Lennox election appeal was concluded yesterday. The Whisken personal bribery charge was thoroughly thrashed out and judgment was reserved. The bribery charge against James Wilson, on which the trial Judges disagreed, was argued by Mr. Watson, but Mr. Cassels will not reply until this morning. The livery cases and the charges of hiring men on election day are in the same position.

Mr. Sifton in Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 9.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior of the Dominion of Canada, and his party arrived here yesterday, and were entertained at dinner at the Kansas City Club. Mr. Sifton is investigating the work of Canadian agents working in this part of the country, with a view to increasing immigration to the Northwest.

THE LIBERAL VICTORY.

Seldom have bye-elections awakened the general interest manifested in all parts of the province during the past two weeks. The returns were eagerly awaited on Wednesday evening, wherever the telegraph service was available. It was felt that the three open constituencies—North Norfolk, North Perth and North Grey — could fairly be regarded as reflecting the general opinion of the province, and that their decision would reveal the sober, second thought of the electors, after having had time to digest the contending arguments of the recent general election. A keener and more practical interest was awakened by the narrow majority of the Government in the Legislature, and the possibility of it being either wiped out or strengthened beyond the point of uncertainty. The electors in the open constituencies were steadied by the feeling that they were virtually deciding the fate of the Government. The return of three Liberals is a gratifying proof that when the electors are confronted with the question of a change of the administration they prefer to place their confidence in tried men. Mr. Whitney and his followers chose to rely on a campaign of vituperation, supplemented by the free expenditure of money and the employment of a perfect swarm of election workers, who came from no one knows where. But the constituencies which have just rendered their decision, were too honest to be tempted by "the reptile fund," too intelligent to be deceived by the corruption cry, and too vigilant for the swarm of outsiders to accomplish any injurious purpose. The result simply shows, what the Opposition should have realized long ago, that catch cries and plausible pretences can never win the confidence of the province. The politics of the electors rest on a higher plane than is appreciated by the men who conduct a campaign of slander while remaining cautiously silent on the issues which determine the decision of intelligent electors. It is to be hoped the lesson will not be lost, and that the Opposition will see the need of a complete change of policy and the anandonment of such campaigns as have just come to an ignominious end. If men fight for a principle, and lose, they still have the satisfaction of having acted worthily, according to their light. But a campaign of hollow pretence yields neither profit nor satisfaction, and it is to be hoped that we have had the last of its kind.

The cry of corruption had grown very flat and stale when momentary life was infused into it by Mr. S. H. Blake's spectacular denunciation of the Government and his adoration of Mr. Foy as the apostle of electoral purity. But the tableau was too grotesque to hold the serious attention of the electorate, and before the day of polling it had gone the way of all hollow pretences. It is to be regretted that Mr. Blake allowed himself, through personal pique, to be drawn into the campaign. But when election contests draw near we must be prepared for surprises. In North Grey Mr. Alex. Mackay has again defeated Mr. Boyd, so the decision of the constituency remains the same as at the general election. The constituency had formerly a Conservative record, and the narrow majority of five at the general election has been strengthened by a substantial gain. Mr. Mackay makes his first entry in the Legislative field, but has given abundant proof of his ability and earnestness during the two campaigns in which he defeated his experienced opponent. He will be a material addition to the strength of the Government side. Mr. John Brown, who has won back his constituency—North Perth—was first returned at the general election of 1898. He was popular in the Legislature, and municipal experience made him a valuable member. His return for a second term is a sign that the constituency is now thoroughly redeemed. Mr. A. M. Little, who has carried North Norfolk, is, like Mr. Mackay, gaining his first experience in the Legislative field. The constituency has a Liberal record, and the defeat of Mr. Carpenter at the general election was due to an unusual combination of circumstances. Mr. Little gives every assurance of a useful career in the Legislature. The uncertainties surrounding the Government's position are now happily removed. The people of Ontario will feel an assurance that was not possible while the custody of the natural wealth of the Province was in doubt. The coming four years should be marked by a continuation of the policy of advancement and expansion so effectually carried on in the past. If the Government is open to criticism it is in the line of the faults that are likely to develop through the absence of a strong Opposition. The party under Mr. Whitney's leadership has not been weak numerically, but has been lacking in all the qualities that give strength in the development of a Legislative programme. It is to be hoped Mr. Whitney and his followers will not let the lesson be wasted, but will realize that their position gives a wider sphere of usefulness than the perpetuation of meaningless election cries.—Globe.

NOT AT THE HAGUE.

Reasonable Prospect That Venezuelan Trouble Will Be Settled Out of Hand—Venezuela Accepts Castro's Replies.

Washington, Jan. 9.—U. S. Minister Bowen transmitted to the State Department yesterday another reply from President Castro touching the arbitration proposal. As heretofore, President Castro expresses willingness to submit the matter to arbitration, and, in addition to his former communication, he is now willing to recognize the propriety of submitting the claims referred to in the British and German protest to The Hague, something that he has not up to this point been willing to do.

It now appears there is a reasonable prospect that the trouble can be settled without invoking the machinery of The Hague Tribunal. When the commission meets here it is stated they will have instructions from the principals to endeavor to adjust the dispute out of hand at Washington.

Bowen to Washington.

Caracas, Jan. 9.—It has been learned from an authoritative source that United States Minister Bowen has received orders to leave Venezuela next Saturday for Washington, where he will present the Venezuelan case to the British-German Commission.

After two stormy meetings of the Cabinet, all the conditions set forth in the replies of the powers to President Castro's last proposal in the matter of settling the Venezuelan dispute through arbitration have been accepted by the Venezuelan Government.

THE TERMS GENEROUS.

Colonial Secretary Displeased That Burghers' Address Did Not Recognize What Britain Had Already Done.

Pretoria, Transvaal, Jan. 9.—Mr. Chamberlain, yesterday, replying to the address of the burghers, said the terms already granted were decidedly generous, and that there was no prospect of a general amnesty.

The cases of the burghers now in Europe would be considered individually on their merits, said Mr. Chamberlain, and these burghers should prove their loyalty by accounting for the gold taken to Europe.

He declared he would have been better pleased had the address of the burghers, instead of consisting merely of demands, contained some recognition of what His Majesty's Government had already done for the Boers.

ON THE MAIN STREET.

Train Collision at Ada, O., Kills Three and Injures 14.

Ada, Ohio, Jan. 9.—Three men dead and 14 or more persons injured, one fatally, is the result of a collision between two trains on the Pennsylvania system on the main street of this city. The accident was highly sensational in all its details, occurring as it did on the main street of the town, at a time when the thoroughfare was crowded with people. The scene about the wreck was frightful.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But it ha Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming foods, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kind of food that makes flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough, and generally too much, the stomach from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate, which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs and similar wholesome.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them, with marked benefit, as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people, strong, plump and well.

That Third Year

The second important stage in a child's life is reached about the third year. It has begun to walk then and there are greater demands on its bones, muscles and tissues. A great deal depends upon proper nourishment right at this time. The utmost care is necessary in the matter of feeding, particularly if the child has been brought up on the bottle.

The majority of children with rickets either are or were bottle-fed, hence their food should be reinforced by something to make them less liable to this distressing disease. Years of experience prove that Scott's Emulsion is the most effective food-medicine for children who are of the rickety age.

The symptoms of this disease manifest themselves in the slow and imperfect growth of bone and muscle. The teeth are delayed in appearing and cause unusual trouble. The bones of the legs yield when walking and bow-legs are the result. The spine is weak and tends to curvature. The bones of the head are soft and the whole frame-work of the body is affected. Even prolonged nursing will cause rickets as well as breathing impure air, unsanitary apartments and improper care generally. But in spite of these numerous causes it is a simple matter to avoid and cure rickets. Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most effective remedy known. It makes new bone, new flesh and rich blood. It puts children on the right path to healthy growth and vigor. It is always a reliable help.

These claims are not made off-hand. We know from nearly thirty years contact with such cases that Scott's Emulsion will do just what we say it will do. We will be glad to send you a sample free so that you can judge for yourself.

PROTECTED BY SOLDIERS

Rad Start Left Four Horses at the Post—Crowd Riotous.

Marseilles, Jan. 9.—Troops, with fixed bayonets, had to be called upon to disperse a riotous mob at the race course. In one race a bad start was effected, and four horses were left at the post, whereupon the angry public broke the barriers, invaded the course, demanded the money bet in the pools, and committed serious depredations. The police were powerless until reinforced by the soldiers. In a subsequent race the starter had to be protected by police and soldiers.

Niece of First President.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Catharine Thompson, an aged woman of Waukegan, Ill., who claimed to be a niece of George Washington, has been found dead at her home. She had lived alone, and from indications had been dead a week when found. She was in poor circumstances, and had recently received aid from the county. She had refused to go to the poor house, saying that a neice of the first President of the United States should never be sent there.

THE COAL STRIKE FAMINE.

A Congressional Investigation Carried by the U.S. Senate and Even Now Is Under Way.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9. — In spite of every effort to head it off, congressional investigation of the coal question, and particularly of the reasons for the existing high prices, is now assured. Without any previous notice, and, in fact, before the members of the Senate fully realized what they were doing, a resolution, offered by Mr. Stewart of Nevada, was passed, which provides for an immediate investigation into the entire question of coal supply and the relation between wholesale and retail prices in the District of Columbia.

Congress has absolute control of the district, and it can pass any law it chooses without regard to any constitutional prohibition bearing upon infringement upon the rights of the states. The resolution offered by Senator Stewart provides for an immediate investigation in the interests of humanity, and the result is that a dozen of the principal coal dealers were cited to appear before the District of Columbia Committee. This investigation proceeds at once with all the authority of Congress, and it is certain that enough will be elicited to throw a great flood of light upon the coal famine and the extraordinary prices not only in Washington but in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and every other large city where anthracite is an important item of fuel.

Owing to the peculiar relations which Congress sustains to the District of Columbia there is absolutely no limit to the scope of this investigation.

Discipline of Union Men.

Phialdelphia, Jan. 9.—The principal feature of the proceedings before the Coal Strike Commission yesterday was the exception taken by President Mitchell to a remark made by Chairman Gray, that he would "like to see the Miners' Union come up out of the mire that is around the baser parts of it into the sunlight."

Outside of this incident, the entire day was taken up in hearing the stories of the non-union men or their relatives, on alleged persecutions.

Doctor Calls For Coal.

Toledo, Jan. 9.—A physician's certificate is now required by local coal dealers before they will sell even a ton of coal. It must show illness in the home of the would-be purchaser, and that coal is necessary as a safeguard for the patient.

THE DAIRYMEN.

300 Delegates Attended the Eastern Association Meeting Thursday—Addresses by Experts in Butter and Cheese.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—There are about 300 delegates at the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Convention. Yesterday's sessions were devoted to addresses by experts in butter and cheese, followed by interesting discussions.

C. C. Publow, of the Kingston Dairy School gave an address on cheese making.

Dr. Connell, bacteriologist of the Kingston Dairy School, gave an exposition of the scientific cheesemaking.

J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy division of the department of Agriculture, gave an address on the cool curing of cheese, showing how the curing room should be constructed.

Prof. J. W. Robertson spoke on the transportation of dairy products, dealing with the improvements in the cold storage equipment on vessels, the agitation carried on and the prospects for the future.

Hon Sydney Fisher at the afternoon session made a brief address, promising that the Government would co-operate as far as possible with the association, in raising the standard of the Canadian products.

REACHES SEAT OF TROUBLE.

Don't Try to Cure Hemorrhoids With External Application

When it is such a well known fact that hemorrhoids or piles is a disease originating in the morbid dilatation of the veins of the lower part of the rectum, it seems incredible that people afflicted with this painful trouble should go on doctoring with external salves and washes, when the diseased parts can only be reached by an inward application.

The suppositories used in Pyramid Pile Cure are composed of the most soothing and healing oils and lotions known to Materia Medica, and act on the diseased veins and surrounding tissues like magic, giving almost instant relief. The dilated blood vessels are relieved, the irritation of the mucous membrane ceases and bleeding is stopped.

The predisposing causes of piles are such as produce fullness of the hemorrhoidal veins and impede the return of blood from them, such as constipation, sedentary habits, city life, pregnancy, corsets, etc.; in fact the causes are all fully covered in a very interesting little book published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and the same will be sent free to any address upon application.

The general principles of treatment are, according to the evident causes, active habits, attention to diet, and other hygienic rules, etc., avoidance of constipation and each night the injection of a Pyramid suppository to heal and cure the afflicted parts.

That this treatment has been effective is instanced by the testimony of thousands of people who have been permanently cured and by the evidence of druggists; the case of Mr. Samuel Gouldie, 535 Moyamensing avenue, Philadelphia, is a fair sample.

"For twelve long years I suffered terrible torture from piles. I had been under two surgical operations, once in Cleveland, Ohio, in the year 1895, and once in Toledo, Ohio, in 1900, and also tried a number of salves and ointments from different doctors. I at last found a permanent cure by only using two fifty cent boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure. The first two or three applications gave me relief at once I am now entirely cured and thank God for finding such a medicine as the Pyramid Pile Cure."

ONTARIO'S OIL.

One Well Earns Over $350,000 Yearly.

Greatest Oil Well Ever Discovered in Canada.

The Standard Oil Company Pays for This Oil $1.93 Per Barrel at the Well.

Not since the days of Petrolia, forty years ago, has there been such an addition to the material wealth of the Dominion as has been demonstrated in the oil discoveries of the past few weeks in the Raleigh Township Oil District.

We say "demonstrated" advisedly, for when the Standard Oil Company rushes a special pipe line to the nearest railroad, and constructs at the railroad immense storage facilities for this output, it gives the most practical proof positive that it recognizes the richness of the field. "Actions speak louder than words;" and no Corporation in the world is run with a keener eye to business, first, last, and all the time, than the Standard. It has already expressed its intention of taking the ENTIRE OUTPUT of this field, and is paying $1.93 per barrel for it at the well. THE INDEPENDENT REFINERY OF PETROLIA IS ALSO A BIDDER at $2 per barrel, and is now connecting the field to the Michigan Central line, so as to secure a share of the product. The Gurd Gusher flows 20 barrels an hour, or at the rate of 175,200 yearly, which at the above price will yield THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS as an annual income from one well alone.

Not another well on the American continent can make such a showing; in addition it is a fact that, unlike the Texas and California fields of the United States the producer is not subject to the onerous freight rates which in many cases even prohibit the shipment of the product.

The Dominion Oil Company, Limited, has been organized under the Ontario Companies Act, with a capitalization of only $850,000, though its known assets would justify a far higher figure, and is formally licensed by the Provincial Government to carry on the business of producing and selling oil.

This company presents to even the smallest investor an opportunity to secure an interest in the richest oil territory and the greatest oil well ever discovered in the Dominion, and under such conditions of net cash earnings from the start and permanency of the field as render the investment AN ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY.

The property through which the company is enabled to offer this opportunity consists of the 1530 ACRES, comprising the cream of the Raleigh Oil District, INCLUDING THE GURD GUSHER. Its land surround this well in one solid block, so that NO COMPETITORS can come near enough to pump its supply through their own wells.

The DOMINION OIL COMPANY, Limited, will pay from its net earnings, one per cent dividend the 1st of each month, to all stockholders of record the 15th of the preceeding month COMMENCING FEB. 1st 1903. This means 12 PER CENT. PER ANNUM on the PAR VALUE of the stock, and at the price named for the present issue of stock,

35c. Per Share,

it means to the investor who goes in NOW an assured 36 per cent. annually, or practically 3 per cent. every month on his investment.

There is not in all Canada, and we doubt if there is anywhere, another oil company which has the advantage of such a competent and thoroughly oil-trained management as the Dominion Oil Co., Limited. Its president, Mr. M. J. Woodward, has been for years connected with the Standard Oil Company's great English competitor, the Shell Transportation Co., and since then with the Anglo-Russian Oil Co., at Baku. Mr. Alfred T. Gurd, is an oil operator of 35 years' experience, whose discovery of the Gurd Gusher, is the climax of his long and successful career in the oil business.

The active management of the company's affairs in the field is mainly in the hands of these three men, and no more substantial indication could be given of the certain success awaiting its operations than the shrewd and able management thus assured.

The present offering of stock is a very limited issue only of its $400,000 of treasury stock for the purpose of immediately sinking additional wells and building tankage, thus more rapidly advancing the full producing power of the property.

On an excessively conservative estimate of this power, supposing only one-tenth of the property should prove producing, and the wells average only one-tenth the yield of the Gurd Gusher, the company will realize over five million dollars, allowing each well only one year's life. Any oil man will recognize the fact that this estimate is as stated, excessively conservative.

Condemnation of "Corners."

Chicago, Jan. 9. — The Appellate Court yesterday, in a sweeping decision, sustained the injunction by Judge Chytraus against eight Board of Trade members charged with operating a "corner," and sustaining the contention against the "cornering" of the market. The court holds that under the laws of the State dealers cannot be forced to settle trades upon the basis of an artificial value created by a corner.

Deal Involving $200,000.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 9.—A syndicate of St. John lumbermen, including the Hilyards and George McKean, have purchased from George Moffatt, ex-M.P., of Dalhousie, his extensive lumber properties, including timber lands, mills, steamboats, etc. The deal is one of the biggest in the lumbering business of the province, and the price paid is said to be in the vicinity of $200,000.

Grievances of Westerners.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 9.—A special general meeting of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association has been called for the middle of this month, for the purpose of discussing the Manitoba Grain Act, as it affects the distribution of cars.

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish, and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Burned to Death.

Montreal, Jan. 9.—Agte Gosselin, a servant, employed at the residence of Mr. Alexander Lacoste, died at the Notre Dame Hospital last night, after suffering terrible agony from burns. She was lighting the furnace of a gas stove yesterday when her dress took fire and she was terribly burned.

Obituary.

The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday, of Patrick O'Meara, of Douro, at the age of 78 years. The deceased has been a resident of Peterborough for a long time. The funeral took place this morning from St. Joseph's Hospital, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The Weather.

A sudden cold wave arrived last evening, which sent the thermometer down with a rush. At ten p.m. last night eight below was marked, during the night twenty-one below was reached, and at 6.30 this morning fourteen below was the figure. It gradually moderated until at noon to-day twelve above zero was registered. Another cold dip is apparently coming this way.

INSTALLED OFFICERS

A Delightful Evening Spent—Luncheon, Music etc.

Court Peterborough, Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, No. 423, last night had a very pleasant evening of social enjoyment. A considerable number of Friends assembled, and after the conclusion of the business of installation of officers, a very pleasant social hour was spent. Light refreshments, coffee, sandwiches, cakes, etc., were served. During the course of the luncheon, several members of the company entertained the feasting Friends with musical selections, consisting of instrumental duets, solos, quartettes, etc., which added a decided charm to the social features of the evening. The company separated, feeling happy in realizing that they are among the Chosen Friends of Peterborough. The public are requested to remember the gift concert on Thursday, Jan. 22nd, and to watch the daily papers for further announcements.

PETERBORO'S NEW DAIRY COMPANY.

Dr. Halliday has Been Elected as President.

R. M. DENNISTOUN, SECRETARY

What the new Company Propose Doing—Co-operation of the Milk Vendors is Promised—Board of Directors.

"The City Dairy Company of Peterborough, Limited," is the name of a new syndicate that was organized at a meeting which was held last night in the offices of Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson. The officers of the new company are as follows:—

President—Dr. Halliday.
Vice-President—Jas. Stothart.
Secretary-Treasurer — R. M. Dennistoun.

Directors—Messrs. John Carnegie, R. A. Wilson, A. A. Cox, W. H. Middleton, W. J. Cox, R. J. Munro, Dr. Boucher, John Nugent and J. J. McBain.

The promoters of the Company advance many very strong reasons for its existence.

In the first place the milk men realize that they are not giving an efficient service to the public at the present time. There are some 20 milk vendors, all of whom are trying to cover the same ground, whereby they waste a great deal of time and energy. They have therefore come to the conclusion that it would pay them better to deliver milk at one central depot and allow it to be distributed by the Company.

On the other hand it is well known that contagious diseases such as typhoid fever, tuberculosis, scarlet fever and many other diseases are constantly traced to the milk supply. The prominent citizens who are associating themselves with the company have determined to provide pure milk, delivered in bottles, which have been sterilized by super-heated steam. The milk will be purchased from producers whose cows are given pure water, properly fed and kept in clean stables. Each cow will be subject to examination by the Company's veterinary surgeon. The milk will be clarified at once and cooled at once and kept in a cold storage station until delivered, cool and sweet.

The Company also proposes to supply fresh cream, buttermilk and other milk products. A building will be constructed and equipped with the most modern machinery and the product of the establishment will be turned out according to the best hygenic and scientific process.

It is a fact realized by all that the practice of taking the milk from open cans in hot, dusty weather, and in mal-odorous back lanes is a great source of disease.

The Company estimate that about 3,000 quarts daily is required to supply the demand for fresh milk and with the co-operation of the milk men, which has already been secured, and that of the general public, which it is exepcted will be cheerfully given, it is anticipated that there will be a handsome profit to the shareholders. It is the present intention of the directors to retail milk at the same price as now sold, viz., five cents per quart. They also propose to pay the milk men three cents per quart for milk delivered at the depot. The difference will be sufficient, it is thought, to pay running expenses, and to enable the directors to declare a dividend. The company is not organized in opposition to the present milk men, but to co-operate with them, and to relieve them of that portion of the business, which they all admit, does not pay, and is not satisfactory to the customers.

The directors have decided that $10,000 is necessary before any active steps are taken in the matter, and they intend to have a canvass taken of the town, when it is hoped that all citizens who are interested in having a supply of pure milk, will subscribe for the stock. Shares have been placed at $25 each.

It is expected that the new company will be able to add cold storage chambers which are required with the milk business and may be extended to afford cold storage facilities for general purposes. A grant for this purpose is made by the Ontario Government and it will be a source of convenience to the public and benefit to the town to have cold storage where cheese, butter, fruit, poultry, eggs and other produce may be stored during the summer. The expense of equipping a cold storage plant would require more capital than $10,000, as before mentioned, but it is felt by the directors that Peterborough should follow the example of Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and other places, and equip the establishment in the most modern way.

At the meeting last night, at which the provisional directors were elected, $8,000 was subscribed and Mr. C. H. Moore was appointed to solicit stock for the Company.

Trooper Brace Coming.

Trooper Brace will give his thrilling story of the war, in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The chair will be taken by Lt.-Colonel Miller. The following press comments are a few of many: "For two hours Trooper Brace held the large audience spellbound as he graphically related the story of the closing struggle of the war." — Dunville Chronicle. "A vivid picture of the war, and a lecture well worth hearing." — Newmarket Era. Tickets, 15c.; two for 25c. Proceeds in aid of the Y.M.C.A. Gym. Fund.

Save Your Pictures.

If you have any loose pictures lying around that are getting spoiled for want of a frame, telephone "The Metropole," and if you can't call, we will send for them, and have them framed as you desire. Our framing business has grown so well that we have had to lease additional room upstairs, and we now control the whole flat over the store. The stock of picture mouldding is new, well chosen large and varied. Special attention given to fancy burnt wood work and designs; also, velvet leather for pyrography in many delicate shades. "The Metropole," 144 Hunter street; 'phone, 150.

THE NEW RINK.

Great Preparations for Monday's Grand Opening.

The new Peterborough skating rink on Brock street will be thrown open to the public for skating on Monday night. The 57th Regimental Band will be in attendance and the event promises to be a memorable one in skating circles in Peterborough. The waiting rooms are about completed, the ice is in splendid condition and the seating accommodation will be excellent.

The first hockey match of the season will take place on Saturday night, when Varsity and Peterborough will play an exhibition game. The public are reminded of the fact that the west side of the rink will be reserved. The seats are not yet numbered, but no more tickets will be sold than the seating space will hold. There must be no smoking on this side of the rink. Gentlemen are asked to bear this in mind. Tickets for Saturday night's game are now on sale at Messrs. Ormond & Walsh's and at Mr. John Nugent's drug store, or may be had from the Secretary of the Club, Mr. McPherson.

ST. PETER'S T.A.S. THIRD ANNIVERSARY

Fittingly Celebrated by the Members Last Evening.

REV. F. J. O'SULLIVAN SPEAKS.

An Admirable Address on Catholic Emancipation—Rev. Dr. O'Brien Presented With an Address, Accompanied by a Chalice and Purse of Gold.

St. Peter's T.A.S. celebrated the third anniversary of its organization last evening, and the lecture hall was packed to suffocation by the members and friends of the society. They had a three-fold object in turning out in such large numbers. They had come to listen to an address on a subject dear to their hearts, to welcome the beloved and highly-respected organizer, and father of the society, Rev, Father F. J. O'Sullivan, and to assist in expressing in a tangible manner their deep and heartfelt gratitude to Rev Dr. O'Brien, for the noble and self-sacrificing efforts he was making on behalf of the members of the society, and for the cause of total abstinence. The evening's proceedings were a beautiful tribute to two popular priests, and long be remembered by all.

The chair during the evening was occupied by Mr. R. J. Begley, and an excellent musical programme was presented, consisting of an instrumental duet by the Misses M. McCabe and M. Doherty, vocal solos by Mr. Walter Stocker, and two recitations by Lt.-Col. Miller.

The address of the evening was a masterly and convincing one, and was a fair and honest history of a mighty struggle of a desperate people. It was clothed in chaste English, and was delivered in a manner that was instructive and interesting to a remarkable degree.

Rev. Father O'Sullivan opened his address by thanking the members of the T.A.S. for their kindness in inviting him to deliver an address, and congratulated the society on the wonderful progress it had made. He did not think three years ago when he planted the little mustard seed, that it would develop into a mighty tree. It was all due, he asserted, to the nourishment and care it received from Rev. D. O'Brien, together with the blessing of the Almighty.

Continuing, Rev. Father O'Sullivan, said that he had intended speaking to them on some Canadian subject, but he had ascertained that they had been treated to some excellent discourses on the history of this country, and he commended them for their good taste. The subject he had intended speaking on was suggested to him when gazing on the picture of the grat Irish liberator, Daniel O'Connell, standing before the bar of the British House of Commons, as the member for County Clare, and demanding the emancipation of the Irish Catholics from the curse of the penal laws, (which he described in full), and denouncing the oath which he was asked to take as false and damnable. Incidentally the reverend speaker remarked that O'Connell's victory of emancipation was one of the greatest moral triumphs that the world has ever seen. Before dealing with the subject proper, Rev. Father O'Sullivan took his audience back in Irish history to the year 1691, when the celebrated Treaty of Limerick was framed. The Irish people looked upon this as the Magna Charta of their civil and religious liberty, but the treaty was basely broken, and disregarded, and is known in history as the Broken Treaty. This act of deception drove the brave Sarsfield and 20,000 Irish soldiers into the French Army, and they were afterwards known in history as the Irish Brigade. The iniquitous Test Act was fully and clearly described by the reverend lecturer, who in tracing up the wrongs under which the Irish Catholics suffered, touched upon the Irish parliament of 1692, and referred to the oath taken 9by the members of both Houses—the peers and commoners—in which they were obliged to denounce Transubstantiation, and the invoking of the saints and the Blessed Virgin as idolatry. The speaker, in excellent language very eloquently described the efforts of the noble band of Irish statesmen — Grattan, Swift and Edmund Burke, whose fervent eloquence and great ability was taxed to its utmost in their efforts in the Irish Parliament to have the odious law repealed. This led to the passing of the Poyning's Law, which granted the Irish Catholics some concessions, inasmuch as they were recognized as subjects of the King. The great rebellion of '98 was first touched upon by the speaker, and Henry Grattan's grand victory in obtaining an Irish Parliament on College Green was described in such a manner as to rouse the enthusiasm of the audience. The reverend gentleman, however, excelled himself in his eloquent and beautifully worded recital of Daniel O'Connell's grand fight for emancipation. The Duke of Wellington—the hero of Waterloo—back from the field of Waterloo, saw the mighty O'Connell with the Irish race at his back—united as they never were before or since—rapping at the door of the British House of Commons, and demanding the right to worship according to the rights of a God-given conscience, and the freedom which is the heritage of every man. King George was appealed to by the Iron Duke to either grant emancipation or face civil war, and the reverend speaker described minutely the consummation of O'Connell's grand fight when in 1829 the Parliament of England granted to the Irish Catholic emancipation from wrongs and injustice from which they had suffered for ages.

In conclusion Rev. Father O'Sullivan urged upon his audience to be proud that emancipation had been achieved, and recounted many blessings that followed in its wake. They should further thank God as members of the T.A.S. that they were emancipated from a great evil. Another great Irishman, he continued, (Rev. Father Theobald Matthews) lived and laboured for the Irish at the time of O'Connell, and it was owing to this great priest's work in the cause of total abstinence that O'Connell was able to bring about the unification of the Irish, and as a result the triumph of Catholic emancipation.

The speaker's closing words took the form of an appeal to the young men to shake off the apathy and indifference with which they were apparently encumbered—to take advantage of the opportunities before them—develop the talents and abilities with which they were endowed, and take a deeper and more practical interest in their duties as Canadians. Above all let them never surrender one iota of their faith, but in all their actions bear in mind the glorious example of the Irish hierarchy and O'Connell in the fight for emancipation, and their defence of their religious principles.

Alderman Daniel O'Connell in an eloquent address, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker of the evening, which was seconded by Mr. T. J. Begley.

Short addresses followed of a eulogistic nature by Rev. Fathers McColl. Dr. O'Brien, J. O'Brien and T. B. Crowley and Messrs. J. H. Burnham and Alderman R. F. McWilliams.

The next number on the programme came as a surprise to the popular Spiritual Advisor of the T.A.S., and when a committee from the society ascended the platform, and surrounded him, his surprise was intensified. The secret, however, was revealed when Mr. F. McAuliffe, president of the society, stepped forward and read the following address, and Mr. Wm. Crowley placed a handsome chalice and purse of gold in Rev. Dr. O'Brien's hand:—

Reverend and Dear Father,—We take this opportunity the third anniversary of the organization of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society of expressing to you in a tangible manner our appreciation of your labours among us.

When you took charge as spiritual advisor of this society on the departure of the Reverend Organizer and Lecturer of this evening, many looked askance at the young Priest, who having been raised in the Town was supposed to hold some opinions which would develop into agressiveness and who would use an iron glove in dealing with these outside the pale of the church. However as time rolled your agressiveness has developed, but not in the dreaded line. The enthusiasm displayed by you in promoting the cause of Temperance manifested in the securing of the banner in competition with the whole of America gives great satisfaction to this Society which has every reason to congratulate itself upon the agressiveness of its chaplain.

Judging from the public press you may think you are without honor in your own country, but if you do not hear it is because you are not seeking worldly honor. We can assure you however there is not a man in the district, whether Catholic or not but deems it an honour to be counted among your acquaintances as to have your acquaintance is to have you for a friend. As a contamporary puts it, it takes a greaat soul to be a true friend—a large, catholic, steadfast and loving spirit. One must forgive much, forget much, forbear much. It cost to be a friend or to have a friend. It not only costs time, affection, strength, patience, love—sometimes a man must even lay down his life for his friends. There is no true friendship without self-abnegation, self-sacrifice. The love and respect shown by your fellow Priests show clearly their estimation of you as a confrere.

Many of us here present and others in the town and surrounding country must acknowledge that by your influence we have been lifted by a hand of God's servant to a secure footing when we had abandoned ourselves to a downward path. Many an aged mother or wife, sister or brother when offering their devotion to the Almighty remember you in thanksgiving for the saving of a reckless son or husband, brother or even a sister from an evil course as you are ever ready to sacrifice your time and unbounded labour to save the souls and make them good useful citizens of the State, looking both to our spiritual and temporal needs.

In your estimation no fellow being is so lowly or even degraded that you would not seek him and by kindly advice and gentle admonition, which none can use more effectively, stir in him that manly spirit long dormant, thereby following in the footsteps of our Lord and Savour when on this earth.

In conclusion we again sincerely thank you for your many acts of kindness and favours shown us. Hoping you will be spared many years to comfort your well-beloved parents and to be our Chaplain we ask you to accept this Chalice and purse of gold as a token of our sincerity. We trust you will ever remember us in offering up the holy sacrifice of the Mass.

Signed on behalf of Committee,

It was some time before Rev. Dr. O'Brien could find words to express his gratitude. He said that he claimed to be conversant with all that was transpiring in the rooms of the society, but in this particular instance he admitted that that a march had been stolen on him. It was, he continued, a complete surprise, and he could not find words to express his gratitude. The address itself was of a very flattering nature—it gave him credit for accomplishing so much, but what could one man do without the hearty co-operation and assistance of the members of the T.A.S. The chalice given him, he assured them, was a handsome one, and when using it in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, he would in his prayers remember the members of the society. His heart and and soul was in the society, and when absent from town he was always anxious to be back again mingling with the members of the T.A.S. It was his privilege every Monday morning to offer up a mass for the living and deceased members of the society, and that mass, he assured them, was one of the most fervent of the week. He would never forget their gratitude, and in concluding he he again returned his heartfelt thanks and hoped God would bless them one and all.

Addresses dealing with the grand work done in the cause of temperance by Rev. Dr. O'Brien were made by the clergy present, as well as Messrs. J. H. Burnham, R. F. McWilliams and D. O'Connell.

The proceedings terminated with the singing of the National Anthem.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

TRUE BILL FOR MURDER.

New Brunswick Woman Charged With Poisoning Her Husband.

Fredericton, Jan. 8.—The York County Grand Jury yesterday found a true bill against Mrs. Annie Marston of Meductic, charged with poisoning her husband, and she was arraigned before Judge Gregory on the charge of murder. She pleaded not guilty.

The prisoner, who is a young woman, did not give indication of being at all worried over the proceedings. The trial was postponed until Jan. 27, at the request of Attorney-General Pugsley, who wants time to get a witness from the lumber woods. Bail for the prisoner was refused, and she was taken to the County Jail. L. A. Curry, K. C., of St. John, has been retained to defend her.

FROM LAND OF REVOLT.

Threatened Movement in Honduras Becoming More Serious.

Panama, Colombia, Jan. 8.—News has reached here that the threatened revolutionary movement in Honduras is becoming more serious.

Manuel Bonilla was elected President of Honduras by a large majority last October. Hierra, however, refused to turn over the parliamentary power to Senor Bonilla, and is continuing his efforts to persuade the Honduranian Congress to declare the election of Senor Bonilla null and illegal.

Senor Bonilla is at present on Amapala Island, where he waits the decision of Congress. He has a considerable quantity of munitions of war at his disposal, and is supported by the military commander of Amapala. His partisans declare they will protect their leader in his rights by force, should this be necessary.

ONE MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Isaac Jenkins Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and How he Advises Others to do Likewise.

How often have you heard the remark, "I would like to eat some of that, but I am afraid to." You may depend upon it that the person who talks that way is living in constant terror of his stomach; that the pleasure of eating is spoiled by the fear of what may follow.

Thousands of people live and die in that hopeless condition. They are victims of their own scepticism. They refuse to believe the testimony of thousands of others who have suffered similarly, but who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and been completely and permanently cured. Isaac Jenkins of 116 Dundas street, Toronto, is on eof the latter, and he says:

"I had been trouble dwith Dyspepsia for one year and I could not get any relief. I would have a sour stomach and heartburn and could never touch any rich food. I was told that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets would cure me, and I tried them. I only had need to use half a box when I was cured."

You can't find a dyspeptic who has ever used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A Complicated Case.

A country "squire" is often called upon to settle questions which tax both his knowledge and his ingenuity. One such matter was presented to Squire Prescott of Banbury.

"Square," said a solemn faced man, stopping the lawyer one day as he was leaving the postoffice, "there's a point I want you should settle, and whatever you say I'll abide by it, whether you think as I expect you will or not."

"Well, let's hear what it is," said Squire Prescott good naturedly.

"It's just like this," said the man, stepping closer and speaking in a lower tone. "Hen Rogers wants to trade farms with me, but we can't quite agree on terms. His cow pasture is better than mine, but I've got twice as many blueberry bushes as he has; his corn is all started, and mine isn't, but I've got screens to five windows and two doors; there's less stones in his meadow land than there is in mine, but there's more bog.

"Now, I won't tell you which is which, but one of us thinks Hen's collie dog had ought to be throwed into the barter, and the other one thinks that my heifer would just about even up. Now, what should you say was the fair thing?"—Youth's Companion.

When Tissot Was Satisfied.

An interesting story is told of Jacques Tissot, the great French painter. While in England he painted a beautiful religious picture and, meeting a countrywoman, asked her opinion of his work. "It's a chef d'œuvre," she replied, giving a remarkably just and detailed appreciation of the various merits of the painting.

"Are you satisfied?" asked a friend. Tissot answered in the negative. He entirely repainted his picture, working night and day.

When finished, he sent again for his fair critic, who pronounced it admirable and remained silently admiring it with smiling criticism.

"Are you satisfied?" asked the friend again when the lady had departed. "No," replied the artist, and he set to work for the third time.

When the Parisienne saw the new painting, she gazed at it for some moments with evident emotion and then without a word sank softly to her knees and began to pray.

"Are you satisfied now?" whispered the friend, and Tissot said "Yes."

A Genial Chief Justice.

Sir John Madden, Chief Justice of Victoria, is a genial Irishman. The other day he read in court a letter from a man who asked to be excused from serving as a juror on the ground that he was to be married on the morrow, and was engaged in preparation for the happy event. "I cannot accept that excuse," said the Chief Justice, with a twinkle in his eye; "I can only wish him joy and fine him a shilling. But in order to avert ill-omen, I will present the shilling myself to the bride to ransom her husband."

THE LENNOX ARGUMENT.

Argument Began at Osgoode Hall on Wednesday, But Was Not Concluded When the Court Rose.

Toronto, Jan. 8. — An appointed argument in the Lennox election petition was commenced at Osgoode Hall yesterday morning, the court consisting of Chief Justice Moss, and Justices Garrow, MacMahon, Maclaren and Meredith. George Watson, K.C., and Grayson Smith represented the petitioner, and Walter Cassels, K.C., and Edmund Bristol the respondent. At the outset Mr. Cassels raised the question of the jurisdiction of the court, holding that it had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal where corrupt acts were to be gone into. He held that if the appeal was heard it should be limited to those cases on which the judges had disagreed. It was decided by the court to hear the argument, subject to the objection.

Mr. Watson first argued his case, and Mr. Cassels followed. He was still in the course of his argument when the court adjourned at 5 o'clock.

The argument will be continued this morning. In order to facilitate the hearing, the court has decided to have the one argument cover the rest of the four charges that are to be brought against the respondent.

China Is Warned.

Pekin, Jan. 8.—At a meeting yesterday of the Foreign Ministers, except Minister Conger, signed the joint note informing the Chinese Government that failure to fulfil its obligations (in refusing to pay the war indemnity on a gold basis), as provided for by the peace protocol, would entail grave consequences.

The Russian customs negotiations still continue. The British and Japanese representatives have advised the Chinese to reject the proposals and the Chinese say they will do so. The Russian representative suggested modifications of the original scheme with the object of securing control of the Manchurian customs. Chinese ability to resist Russian pressure in his connection is doubtful.

A Simple System.

Teacher—In what year was the battle of Waterloo fought?

Pupil—I don't know.

Teacher—It's simple enough if you only would learn how to cultivate artificial memory. Remember the twelve apostles. Add half that number to them. That's eighteen. Multiply that by 100. That's 1,800. Take the twelve apostles again. Add a quarter of their number to them. That's fifteen. Add what you've got. That's 1,815. That's the date. Quite simple, you see, to remember dates if you will only adopt my system.

Making Sure.

This hunting story comes from Scotland: When the beaters came out of the covert, one of the guns said to the keeper, "Have you got all your beaters out?"

"Aye," said the man, astonished.

"Are you sure? Have you counted them?"

"Counted them?" said the keeper. "Aye, they're all right."

"Then," said the shooter, with a sigh of some relief, "I have shot a roe."

Irritating Form of Itching Piles

A Source of Continual Worry and Annoyance—Sleep and Rest Impossible Until Relief and Cure Came With the Use of

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

All classes of people are subject to piles, but especially those who are exposed to dampness. Teamsters, farmers, railroad men and labourers suffer greatly from this distressing ailment.

While there are plenty of remedies recommended as a treatment for piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and guaranteed cure. It truly wonderful how the merit of this preparation has become known throughout this continent and Europe.

But when a person has endured the torture of piles, the itching, stinging sensation, the sleepless nights of misery, the annoyance during the day, when going about the daily work, he feels grateful for the relief and cure brought by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and does not forget to recommend it to his friends.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

(Early Morning.)

Earth has not anything to show more fair:
Dull would he be of soul who could pass by
A sight so touching in its majesty:
This city now doth like a garment wear
The beauty of the morning: silent, bare,
Ships, towers, domes, theatres and temples lie
Open unto the fields, and to the sky;
All bright and glittering in the smokeless air.
Never did sun more beautifully steep
In his splendor valley, rock or hill.
Ne'er saw I, never felt, a calm so deep!
The river glideth at his own sweet will:
Dear God: the very houses seem asleep;
And all that mighty heart is lying still!

SLANG AT OXFORD, TOO.

English Words as Made Over at the English University.

The slang of the Oxford student may not be so picturesque as that of American manufacture, but it is amusing and some of it would be valuable if imported—which is the excuse for offering some notes on it here.

Here is the Oxford student's ordinary method of making slang. He simply cuts his word in two and tacks on an "er." Thus: Breakfast is brekker; lecture, "lekker"; exercise, "ekker." These are used both as verbs and substantives: "Where are you brekkering this morning?" "What sort of ekker are you taking now?"

Roll call is "roller"; bonfire, "bonner"; chapel, "chagger." "Bedder" is the Oxford term for bedroom, but at Cambridge a "bedder" is a woman who takes charge of the college rooms. At Oxford where there are no women caretakers, a man so employed is called a "scout." At Cambridge he is a "gip."

Manh Oxford students live in lodgings outside the college. These are termed "diggings" or "digs"; the maid who looks after one in "diggings" is a "skivvy." There is also a verb "to dig"; "he digs with me," or "we dug together last term."

The slang terms for the various colleges are sometimes startling, and many show this same effort after an "er" ending thus: Jesus is "Jaggers"; Queens, "Quaggers"; Balliol, "Belial"; Corpus Christi, "Corpidge"; Pembroke, "Pemmy"; Worcester, "Wuggins"; Christ Church, "The House." This last comes from the Latin name of the college, "Aedes Christi."

Unions, of which there are many, are called "Uggers." the Oxford Union being popularly "The Ugger," and the Musical Union, "The Mugger Ugger."

A young girl who wears her hair down her back is a "flapper." As soon as she is old enough to do her hair she becomes an "ex-flapper."

"To swat" is to study hard; "screw" is salary; "oof" is money.

To say that a man is "squiffy" means that he is slightly intoxicated.

A proctor is called "proggins." When he is out on duty he is "progging." He then carries a staff and is followed by four servants who are called "bulldogs" or "bullers."

There is a particularly expressive word to describe the meal of the man who rises so late that it is too near lunch time to eat breakfast and yet too long to wait for luncheon. He takes, therefore, a combination meal which he calls "bruncheon"; in othe words. he "brunches."

Draws a Belgian Annuity.

Although the hereditary pension granted by the British Government to the first Duke of Wellington, and amounting to $20,000 a year, was limited to three lives only, and expired with the death of the late and third Duke, yet the present and fourth Duke of Wellington, a grandson of the victor of Waterloo, continues to draw a pension of $18,000 from the Belgian Government, and his descendants will, so far as can be seen, continue to draw this annuity from the Belgian exchequer indefinitely. Few people, even in England and Belgium, are aware that the Duke of Wellington receives this sum each year from the Belgian Government, and it was by mere chance that the fact was brought to public light the other day, owing to some legal proceedings being necessary in order to cut a road through the land which, ever since the year 1817, has been affected to the payment of this annuity. The latter was voted to the first Duke and to his successors by the Dutch Government, along with the grant of the Dutch title of Prince of Waterloo, in recognition of his victory over Napoleon in 1815. At that time Holland and Belgian formed one kingdom, and when in 1830 they fell apart and became separate kingdoms the duty of paying the annuity fell to the lot of Belgium, owing to the fact that the property the revenues of which were assigned for the purpose were situated within the Belgian borders, and not in Holland. The result is that although the Duke of Wellington of to-day is a Dutch Prince, yet he receives a Government annuity as such from the Belgian exchequer. The Duke has large estates in Spain, which were presented to his famous grandfather independently of the pension given to the great soldier, and has likewise some landed property in Portugal given to the first Duke, along with the title of Duke of Vittoria, by the Portuguese Crown.

Oranges Cheap in London.

An orange in the morning is said to be an appetizer, so I don't know that an already hungry person would derive much appeasement of his hunger by eating an orange; but if the luscious fruit were a satisfying hunger one then starvation would at least be unknown now, as fine oranges can be purchased eight for a penny.—London Correspondence.

Cautious.

Mother—Come, Willie, this is Miss D'Arcy, your new governess. Won't you give her a kiss? Willie—N—no, ma; I'd rather not. Papa kissed her yesterday, and she slapped him.—Melbourne Weekly Times.

We Know What

Is going to happen to the little boy who is stuffing himself with green apples. A grown man couldn't be induced to try that experiment; and yet the grown man will overload himself with indigestible food for which he will pay a greater penalty than colic. It is this careless and thoughtless eating which is the beginning of stomach trouble and all its painful consequences.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other forms of "stomach trouble." It restores the weak and run-down man or woman to sound health.

"Some time has elapsed since I have written you in regard to the treatment I have been taking under your instructions," says Mr. L. F. Cingolara, of Minneapolis, Minn. "When first I commenced taking your remedies I was under treatment of a well-known specialist in this city (and had been for four months), for catarrh, and especially stomach trouble, and I was rapidly getting worse. Got so bad that I could not eat anything that did not distress me terribly, and I was obliged to quit taking the doctor's treatment entirely. I was greatly reduced in flesh. As a last resort I wrote to you and stated my case, and, after receiving your instructions I followed them closely. After taking five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets' I commenced to improve, and decided to continue the medicines and observe your instructions regarding hygienic treatment. It is now nearly six months since I commenced your treatment and I can say that I am well and never felt better in my life. Am very grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

TOLD OF AN AUTHOR.

Why James M. Barrie Is Not Popular in Thrums—The Old Janitor of the Town Hall Expresses Himself.

James M. Barrie is persona non grata in Thrums, or Girriemuir, which you must pronounce Kirriemuir if you do not wish to be regarded askance by the Thrums "fowk." Barrie drew from life and must share the opprobrium that attaches to prosaic things—in the minds of the prosaic people pictured.

"Do I ken Jeems Barrie?" said the old janitor of the town hall. "Oh aye, I ken 'im as I kent his father an mither afore 'im."

"Have you read his books?"

"Oh, aye!"

There was a reservation in the tone which piqued the visitor's curiosity.

"Don't you like them?"

"I'm nae thinkin' muckle aboot them. Hey! I know mony a story that my gran'mither told me that's be better than ony o' Jeems Barrie's."

Girriemuir is a weaving town. That is how Barrie happened to call it Thrums. The thrums are the ends of the threads which remain in the loom after the finished web is cut out. They go only to the ragbag, and that seems to be at the bottom of the village grievance against Barrie. The pride of the native seems touched because, as they insist, they have been represented as thrums—a thing useless and worthless.

No amount of argument can make them see it in any other light; hence Barrie's unpopularity in his own town. Perhaps Mr. Barrie doesn't care; perhaps he does. The author of "Sentimental Tommy" is quite a philosopher. He can be delightfully whimsical at times, too—almost as whimsical as in his latest story, "The Little White Bird."

It is told of Mr. Barrie that on meeting a famous fellow author for the first time he responded to the other's compliments by saying:

"It's all very well to be able to write books, but can you waggle your ears?"

The ability to do so is one of Mr. Barrie's many accomplisments. When the late Henry Drummond was lecturing to a class of students on natural science, he mentioned that the power of moving the scalp and ears was one of the few characteristics of our simian ancestors occurring occasionally in men, and immediately several of the students gave practical demonstration of it, much to Drummond's delight.

Kitchener Anecdotes.

Lord Kitchener's tenderness to the wounded is not generally known. He does not court the apotheosis of the picture paper. One instance will suffice to show how he does Christian things which are heard of only by those affected. A young officer in Pretoria was getting convalescent when Lord Kitchener, who knew nothing of him, came to his bedside and asked where he was wounded and how he was getting along. "All you want now is fresh air," Lord Kitchener is reported by the young officer himself to have said: "My carriage shall call for you in the morning," and Lord Kitchener, the story goes, walked, while his carriage was given up to men who had no other claim on him than that of having suffered hurt in the discharge of their duty.

Lord Kitchener has been a sort of emergency man in Africa. He clinched his chance at the time of the outbreak of the Egyptian war in 1882, by a ruse which is second best to Nelson's blind eye. He was on leave of absence in Alexandria. In order that he might not have to depart just when war was imminent, he wasted time by sending a telegraphic request that his leave should be extended. The war had begun before he got the reply recalling him; his knowledge of Arabic made him invaluable to the British general. If he had not so readily detected and so eagerly grasped his opportunity he might not have been known today as conqueror alike of the Khalifa and the Boers. In the Soudan he conquered with the railway, every length laid being another nail in the Khalifa's coffin: in South Africa he achieved a similar end with the aid of the blockhouse. Military operations were simplified in the one case as in the other by mechanical contrivance. In India the scientific northwest frontier is likely to be made more scientific still when Lord Kitchener is its warden.—Public Opinion.

Gloomy Predictions for 1903.

Old Moore's Almanac for the first six months of 1903 has just been published in London, and some very gloomy predictions appear in it.

In January, it says, there will be troubles in the east and a conspiracy in Ireland. In February there will be trouble and bloody riots in Spain. In March both Great Britain and Spain will meet with serious losses, the former in the Transvaal and at the Cape and the latter at home. In April there will be political assassinations in England, furious conflicts in China and conspiracies in Turkey. In May there will be a famine in India and a civil war in Spain, and in June a prosperous epoch will begin for England and one of misfortune for Germany.

Feeding the Children.

Last year 184 "necessitous" schools were assisted, an average weekly number of 2,085 children being fed, the total average weekly meals provided being 47,000, over 300 children being fed each week at some of the schools. Head teachers supply information as to how many children are underfed; enquiry is then made into the home condition of the little ones and a list of names prepared.—London correspondent Toronto Telegram.

A sale of postage stamps at the Hotel Cecil, London, fetched big prices. Among the stamps sold was a Newfoundland 1s and a 6d color carmine-vermillion that sold for 11 guineas.

Cause of Splitting Headaches.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache.

Ferrozone is Nature's own remedy for headaches; it is a blood strengthener and purifier of uncommon merit, a lasting potent tonic and the greatest invigorant and health maker known. Headaches never bother people who take Ferrozone after each meal. Buy a box from your druggist for 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

How the Flood Came.

The aboriginal blacks of Australia have a queer tradition about the flood. They say that at one time there was no water on the earth at all except in the body of an immense frog, where men and women could not get at it. There was a great council on the subject, and it was found out that if the frog could be made to laugh the waters would run out of his mouth and the drought be ended.

So several animals were made to dance and caper before the frog to induce him to laugh, but he did not even smile, and so the waters remained in his body. Then some one happened to think of the queer contortions into which the eel could twist itself, and it was straightway brought before the frog, and when the frog saw the wriggling he laughed so loud that the whole earth trembled, and the waters poured out of his mouth in a great flood, in which many people were drowned.

The black people were saved from drowning by the pelican. This thoughtful bird made a big canoe and went with it all among the islands that appeared here and there above the surface of the water and gathered in the black people and saved them.

Curran Met His Match.

Curran, the famous Irish advocate, was a master of repartee, but he did not always score, though he enjoyed an encounter none the less if he was fairly beaten. One day, in a gay mood, he stopped and chatted with a certain Father O'Leary. "Ah, father," said the advocate, waiting for an opening, "how I wish when I die that you had the key to heaven!"

"Why?" said the priest, for he guessed a trap was laid.

"Because you could let me in."

"Ah," said Father O'Leary, "it would be better for you if I had the key of the other place, for then I could let you out."

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Jan. 8.—Sugar was helped by considerable short interests and a rather aggressive bull party. It was believed a western operator of some importance had bought about 5,000 shares in recent past. Buying in Car Foundry was considered good. Western crowd manipulating L.N.

M. & M.

Car Lots. Wheat 31, Corn 395, Oats. 165. Cotton;—Liverpool closes 4 to 5 points decline.

Manhattan directors meet on Jan. 14th, when it is stated that an announcement would be made regarding the final decision, regarding the disposition of rights and extra new stock recently authorized; also date and terms of its issue. Insiders have continued bullish on Man.

M. & M.

L.&N. has been worked up by the brokers who usually trade for the large interests which wrested control of property from the Belmonts. Directors about to meet and to act on its semi-annual dividend. Few, if any, expect that any such interest in the dividend rate for distribution will be made.

New York, Jan. 9, 9.45 a. m. — Stock market comes strong at good net gain. Erie the feature up. 2 per cent. sterling reacted after early firmness. Call money ruled at 4 1-2 yesterday. Alton, Ills., S. R., admitted to membership in Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. American Beet Sugar Association has withdrawn opposition to ratification of Cuban reciprocity treaty. U.S. Steel profit sharing plan is an assured success.

We advise purchases of cotton on any approach to the 810 cent basis.

M. & M.

London, Market after opening strong for Amns., and steady for home; rails remain steady.

M. & M.

There is little change in situation, and outlook this a.m., bullish sentiment predominates, and there is some increase in outside business. Underlying conditions continue favourable for upward movement, with still easier money conditions, the most potent factor. The chief danger now lies in the fact that small operators are likely to over-trade and the long side is congested. Outlook for good statement has been partly discounted, and we do not think the unconfirmed report that Chamberlain has been shot in Africa, should have an adverse influence on the market.

M. & M.

Buying of the very best kind.

M. & M.

London large buyer of stocks at the opening but in last twenty minutes has been selling. Traders selling market looking for a reaction. With all the talk of different companies interests being bought by N.Y.C. and Tunnel Terminal Improvement, N.Y.C. stocks will take a big jump some day.

J. M. SHAW.

In exchanging views with one of the commercial editors of our journals he says, "I have canvassed a score of the most prominent traders in big houses and about 18 out of the 20 agreed that the market was entitled to a reaction, but the most significant fact is that the very same operators who claim a set back are buyers of the market, and one trader after telling me the market should turn and go down, no sooner had the words left his lips, he turned around yesterday and gave orders to his brokers to buy 1500 Erie at 40 1-8 on stop.

M. & M.

New York, Jan. 8th.—To-day's trading, while not as active and heavy as the past few days, plainly indicates that the controlling interests in the market have the situation well in hand, in consequence no liquidation of importance may be looked for at present. There was very little outside buying and the pools appeared to be satisfied to quiet down on the theory that another advance to-day would induce too large a following, as they are not ready to distribute their holdings, preferring to await a more opportune time, and higher prices. Moderate reactions only may be expected for some time on which would make moderate purchases. Expected that the banks will end the week with heavy gains in cash, as money is flowing in freely from the interior, they have also gained in treasury operations since last Friday a million and a half dollars. Money is working easier and with a steady in-flow of money to this centre the monetary situation will continue to improve from now on. Erie and American Car Foundry were lifted to record levels on the present movement and will do better as the demand for these shares come from very good sources. During the latter part of the session heavy buying appeared in the coal issues, in which good advances were made. We can see nothing as yet to cause any serious set-back to the market and present activity with advancing prices will likely continue for some time.

Chicago.—Wheat and corn were strong to-day and under heavy purchases by shorts and good demand rallied sharply. On any further rally would take profits with the view of repurchasing on the reaction. Closing prices...—Wheat, May 76; May Corn, 43 7-8, May oats, 34 5-8, May pork, 16.35, May lard, 9.52 1-2.

WRESTLING.

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your issue of Dec. 8th, John McDonough stated that he was desirous of having a wrestling match with me for $75.00 or $50.00 a side. I desire to accept his challenge and will meet him on Friday night, Jan. 16th, for $25.00 and the gate receipts, winner to take all, after expenses of match have been paid. The match to be best 2 in 3 falls, catch-as-catch-can. Arrangements have been made whereby the Opera House can be secured for that date.

GEORGE GAUTHIER.

HOCKEY.

The Peterboroughs had another good practice last night, and their work-out was watched by a hundred or more supporters. The full senior seven were on the ice, and Crough, who played in goal, gave excellent satisfaction. He is pleasing his friends wonderfully. "Watty" Watson, of the Bank of Montreal, is swinging into line and may surprise a few before the season is over, while Jas Hamilton, too, was a conspicuous figure. The boys will have another practice this evening, and will be in fine shape for their first game in Belleville on Jan. 16th.

• • • •

The T.A.S. boys went on the ice at the conclusion of the Peterborough's practice. They are getting into fine condition and their friends are expecting a victory in Bobcaygeon on Saturday night. The T.A.S. team will play Lakefield here on the 16th of this month.

• • • •

Belleville plays Port Hope in the latter town this evening. The game promises to be fast and furious.

• • • •

The team for to-morrow night against Varsity has been arranged as follows: During the first half the line up will be:— Goal, Crough; point, Cavanah; cover, H. Armstrong; forwards, Graham, Morgan, Roy Armstrong and Whitcroft. The second half will be: Goal, Crough, point, Glover; cover, H. Armstrong; forwards, Cavanah, Roy Armstrong, Whitcroft and Morgan.

• • • •

The practice to-night will be from 8 to 9.

• • • •

The Peterborough team that will battle for championship honours on the Trent Valley League will have on its strength such players as Jack Comstock, who has been elected as captain of the team, Robertson, Best, McIntyre, "Tic" Thornton, Watson and others. The boys will play in Fenelon Falls on the 16th, and will likely play in Lindsay on the evening of the 15th.

• • • •

The Peterborough juniors are getting into condition. The junior seven will very likely be made up of Lee, Craig, Innes Hamilton, "Bob" Parker, Bruce McFadden, Tom McGrath, W. Vanevery and Thornton.

• • • •

The T. A. S. Team which will leave the T. A. S. Rooms on Saturday at one o'clock, for Bobcaygeon, will be made up as follows: Goal, McCoy; point, Meagher; cover point, Crowley; right wing, W. George; left wing, Fred McGrath; centre, W. Parnell; rover, Geo. Lynch.

• • • •

Varsity Hockey team will visit Peterborough to-morrow evening. The game should draw a large attendance. Puck faced at 8.30 o'clock.

• • • •

The following matches have been scheduled to take place at the Brock street rink, during the month of January:

THE SALE OF A WIFE.

A Very Peculiar Bigamy Case Tried at Cobourg.

HUSBAND GOT A $15 WATCH

George Albert Reynolds Will Also Have to Spend Three Months in Jail For His Share in Marrying His Brother to His Wife — They Get Four Months Each—The Deal Is Off.

Port Hope, Jan. 9.—A case, new in the criminal records of Canadian courts, was tried at Cobourg yesterday in the County Court, before His Honor Judge Benson. That a man in this enlightened age should sell his wife for a watch seems almost inconceivable. But such is the fact which proves the charge brought by Crown Attorney Kerr against Albert Reynolds, of Percy Township, near Dartmouth. Reynolds was yesterday convicted of inciting to commit bigamy, and his brother and wife were convicted of bigamy.

On Dec. 10, 1900, George Albert Reynolds and Annie Clark were married by the Presbyterian minister at Norwood. They lived together as man and wife until last fall, when an elder brother, Walter Reynolds, aged 26, came home from Michigan.

He revived a former intimacy existing between himself and George's wife. George resented this alienation of his wife's affections, or else he was tired of her, and offered to sell her and his household effects to Walter, the consideration being a watch bought in Michigan for $15.

A bargain to this effect was made, the marriage license procured, under false pretences by the two brothers, at Rosmeath, and husband No. 1 took charge of his two children while his wife and brother were being married by the Methodist minister at Warkworth, in November, 1902.

The husband No. 2 took immediate possession of his brother's wife, two children and household furniture.

The affair culminated yesterday, when Walter Reynolds and Annie Reynolds, who were defended by E. C. S. Huyckle, K. C., of Cobourg, pleaded guilty to charges of bigamy, and received sentences of four months each, in the county jail at Cobourg. George Albert Reynolds, the first husband, who was defended by J. B. McColl, M.P., was convicted of inciting his brother and wife to commit bigamy, and received three months in the same place.

In passing sentence, His Honor pointed out that the lightness of the sentences was due to the ignorance of the parties concerned, and that their offence against society and morality had affected no innocent party, injuriously.

The parties in this unique domestic mix-up remain unaffected in their relationship, husband No. 1 promising to take back his wife and children he had sold as soon as their sentences expires.

FIRES IN TWO CITIES

$40,000 Lost at Hamilton and London Loses $50,000.

McCLARY'S STOVE WORKS.

Stanley Mills Departmental Store at Hamilton Gutted—Other Buildings in the Ambitious City Damaged—The Machinery at McClary's Saved at London—Firemen Worked Under Severe Difficulties.

London, Jan. 10.—One of the most disastrous fires that has visited London in years, with the possible exception of the burning of the opera house, some years ago, occurred last night at the McClary Works. Just how it started is a matter of conjecture, but it is generally believed to have been through the carelessness of an emp,oye. About 5 lessness of an employe. About 5 ing department, who was engaged in passing sheet iron through oiled rollers to prevent it from rusting, ignited a match to light the gas. After he had used it, instead of blowing it out, he carelessly dropped it into a vat of oil. Immediately there was a terrific explosion, and a huge sheet of flame shot high into the air Panic-stricken at what he had done, the boy fled and gave the alarm.

It is probable that, had the necessary equipment been at hand at this time, the conflagration could have been extinguished with little or no loss, but although the alarm was turned in at once, and notwithstanding the fact that the central fire station is but a block distant, it was almost ten minutes before the first reel arrived. Even then nothing of any practical benefit was accomplished.

About 5.30, after a valuable half hour had been wasted, water commenced to pour in from the tops of two aerial ladders and it began to look as if the fire was under control.

In a few moments, however, the roof east of the fire wall, on the west of which the fire had started, ignited from the falling cinders, and in a moment that portion was also doomed. Two streams were at once transferred to the new point of danger, but all efforts were unavailing, and the most that could be done was to prevent a further spreading.

When it was seen that the hose was accomplishing little where it was, one stream was taken up to the roof, where it continued to play through the greater part of the night. About this time the intense heat compelled the withdrawal of the men on the ladders.

It was hardly a moment too soon. No sooner had they relinquished their dangerous position and crawled down the icy ladders to safety than a great pile of red hot metal pails and other articles of tinware that had been piled perilously near to one of the windows took a sudden lurch forward and commenced to fall in a perfect shower to the pavement below. Had the men been n the ladders, they must inevitably have been badly burned. Shortly afterwards the roof went in with a crash, and almost at the same moment a great crack appeared through one of the windows in the fireproof separating wall.

Beyond continuing to pour water on the adjoining portions of the building, the firemen made but little further effort, and by 7.30 or 8 o'clock the fire had pretty well burned itself out. The hose was kept turned on it all the time, however, and at midnight there remained but a blackened, smouldering ruin.

Only two accidents occurred. One of the firemen had his lip split by a piece of the falling cornice, in such a way that two stitches were required to close the wound, and Chief Roe was also hit by a falling timber, and knocked down. He was not seriously injured.

A representative of the McClary Mfg. Co. said: "The fire did not go below the second floor, and, as all the heavy machinery was on the first floor, it was not damaged other than by water. There is not a machine there but what we can have in shape in a few days. The work that was done in the upper parts of that building was similar to what is done in an ordinary tinshop, and, in less than a week, all the men who were employed there will be at benches in other parts of the works."

Questioned further as to the actual loss, he refused to make any definite statements, but said that it would be almost entirely covered by insurance. The damage probably amounts to $50,000.

BIG FIRE IN HAMILTON.

Departmental Store of Stanley Mills & Co. Burned Out.

Hamilton, Jan. 10.—One of the most disastrous fires of many years visited Hamilton last night, resulting in a loss of about $40,000. About 8.25 o'clock an explosion was heard in the big departmental store of Stanley Mills & Co., East King street, and, in a moment, volumes of flame and smoke were soaring heavenward. The Fire Department was summoned, and, in a few moments, the entire brigade was on the spot. For a short time it looked as though it would be impossible to cope with the massive sheet of flame that was slowly eating its way through the entire building, but, by effecting an entrance to the store from the west by North James street, the Fire Department soon had a number of streams playing on this fiery furnace.

It was indeed a fiery furnace, for the front of the building showed none of the fire which was gradually consuming the inner portion of the store. The fire gained, even with the immense amount of water which was poured inside, and spread to the adjoining buildings, occupied by Norman Ellis, jeweler, and J. A. Zimmerman & Co., druggists.

The chief damage in this direction was caused by water. Their stock was completely covered by insurance, so that there will be but small loss by this firm.

The Stanley Mills Company's loss is unknown. Mr. Mills was seen at a late hour last night, but was totally unable to give an estimate of the loss to the building or stock.

Their loss, however, was not as great as it might have been, their stock being low, owing to the holiday trade having just passed. The firm recently added a wing to their store.

Just after the explosion occurred, P. C. McDonald and Coulter were standing in front of the store, and were slightly injured by breaking glass.

DAIRY OFFICERS.

Eastern Association Re-elects Mr. D. Derbyshire President—Will Give the Dairymen the Best in Him for 1903.

Ottawa, Jan. 10. — The following officers were elected at yesterday morning's session of the Eastern Dairymen's Convention: President, D. Derbyshire, Brockville; first vice-president, John McTavish, Vancamp; second vice-president, L. L. Gallagher, Wilton; third vice-president, John Echlin, Carleton Place; directors, Division No. 1, E. Kidd, North Gower; Division No. 2, William Eager, Morrisburg; Division No. 3, J. R. Dargavel, Elgin; Division No. 4, James Whitton, Wellman's Corners; Division No. 5, T. B. Carlow, Warkworth; Division No. 6, Henry Glendinning.

Mr. Derbyshire expressed his thanks for unanimous re-election, and said that in the coming year he would give the association the best that was in him.

The morning was devoted to receiving reports from instructors of cheese factories.

Frontenac Farmers Prosper.

Kingston, Jan. 9.—A Conservative lawyer states that for the past two years there has hardly been any demand for mortgage loans. The farmers, he says, are all prospering on account of the dairy trade.

AN AGREEMENT FOUND.

Cyrus Anderson's Personal Estate Liable to Bank of Hamilton.

Oakville Jan. 10.—Yesterday the record of an instrument was found which sheds a good deal of light upon the relations between the Andersons and the Bank of Hamilton. It is an agreement signed by Cyrus Anderson, president of both the Palmerston and Oakville Banks, making his personal estate liable for any claim held by the Bank of Hamilton against these two private banks. Under this document, which is dated March, 1894, the Bank of Hamilton could have taken the personal estate of Cyrus Anderson without receiving the blanket mortgage, over which there has been so much dispute.

Claim Is Quite Legal.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Developments in the affairs of McFarland, Gray & Southgate, Limited, yesterday indicate that settlement will probably be arranged out of court. The firm, doing a clothing jobbing business at 41 West Front street, is in course of liquidation, by direction of the court. The liabilities are $134,622.87 and the assets are $124,819,00, leaving a deficit of $9,802.90. The firm offered a settlement on the basis of fifty cents on the dollar, which was refused.

The protest of the creditors arose through the claim of two members of the firm for a share of the assets, equalling $40,000. The claim is now conceded to be quite legal.

Love and Hunger Suicides.

Vienna, Jan. 10.—Statistics for 1902 demonstrates that Vienna continues in the front rank of the European capitals in the number of suicides Last year's records show that there were 453 deaths from suicide and 467 attempts at self-destruction The number of women suicides increased in ten years from 57 to 124. Most of the deaths are attributed to love and to hunger.

Numbers Increase.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—The work of the Farmers' Institute goes along steadily increasing. There are now 24,711 members, an increase of 3,252 over the number of last year. The membership fee is only 25 cents, and ensures to the members the receipt of the Government bulletins on agriculture.

To Contest Banff.

Calgary, N. W. T., Jan. 10.—C. W. Fisher, a merchant of Cochrane, has announced himself as the Government candidate for the riding of Banff, a seat vacant by the elevation of Hon. A. L. Sifton to the bench. Mr. P. J. Nolan, advocate, it is said will oppose him.

Burning Beans For Fuel.

Detroit, Jan. 10.—A South Bend, Ind., despatch says: In South Bend anthracite or bituminous coal cannot be had at any price. People are burning beans at $1.50 a bushel, and are satisfied that they are getting the worth of their money, as the beans make a hot fire.

From Imperial Sources.

London, Jan. 10.—A letter just received by the Agent-General of New South Wales from the War Office indicates that the British Ministers intend to comply with the recommendation of the Colonial Conference that British army supplies be obtained from British Imperial sources where possible.

Toronto's Fire Losses in 1902.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—The annual report of the Fire Department, published yesterday, places the total losses by fire last year at $422,809, an increase of $200,453 over the total of 1901, which was phenomenally low. Six men were killed during the year. Insurance paid amounted to $387,457.

THE LENNOX APPEAL

Argument Has Been Concluded and Judgment is Reserved.

SOUTH OXFORD POSTPONED

Appeal in Election Protest Fixed For January 20—In the Lennox Argument, on Conclusion, Judge Moss Complimented Counsel—Official Figures Give Mr. John Brown in North Perth 206 Majority.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Argument in the Lennox election appeal was concluded before the Court of Appeal yesterday and judgment was reserved.

On the opening of court the Chief Justice announced that owing to the duration of the Lennox case and the fact that Judge Osler, who is a member of the court for the South Oxford case, will be at Sault Ste. Marie hearing the election trial, it had been thought best to postpone the hearing of the South Oxford appeal until Tuesday, January 20, at 11 o'clock.

The Lennox Argument.

Mr. Cassels replied to Mr. Watson's argument on the charges that were left open on Thursday. He argued that there was no proof of any overcharge in the livery charges. The James Wilson bribery charge he called ridiculous. In the first place there was absolutely no evidence of Wilson's agency. He also laid stress on the relative social position of Wilson and Parkinson, claiming that Wilson was much the more acceptable witness.

The Smith and Jones charges, Mr. Cassels argued, proved that the dragnet which one of the trial judges said had been spread over the riding must have had a very small mesh. He took the position that the provision of the act prohibiting the hiring or paying of men to procure the votes of other electors applied not to such acts as the payment of men for driving rigs, but the payment, for instance, of a sum of money to a foreman in a factory to induce him to influence the votes of the men under him.

Mr. Watson's Reply.

Mr. Watson in reply pointed out that the livery may admitted lumping the charges in the account so as to cover election day rigs. He contended that the provisions of the law were most stringent in regard to the hiring of rigs and all such payments on election day. Mr. Watson submitted that the appeals had been well taken and should be allowed.

Mr. Justice Moss—And well argued also.

Mr. Watson (laughing)—Yes, my Lord.

The court then adjourned.

Mr. Brown's Majority Is 206.

Stratford, Jan. 10.—Sheriff Hossie, returning officer for North Perth, yesterday officially announced the result of the bye-election. His declaration was that John Brown (Liberal) had received 3,627 votes, and John C. Monteith (Conservative) 3,421 votes, Mr. Brown's majority thus being 206. There were 33 rejected ballots, of which Stratford contributed 11.

Following are the official figures upon which Brown was declared elected.

Stratford—Brown 1,217, Monteith 1,079.

N. Easthope—Brown 421, Monteith 122.

Ellice—Brown 394, Monteith 397.

Mornington—Brown 405, Monteith 389.

Elma—Brown 503, Monteith 595.

Wallace—Brown 304, Monteith 402.

Listowel — Brown 293, Monteith 345.

Milverton—Brown 90, Monteith 92.

Total—Brown 3,627, Monteith 3,421.

EVERYTHING TO ARBITRATION.

President Castro's Reply to the Powers Delivered in London.

London, Jan. 10.—President Castro's reply to the powers, accepting the arbitration conditions of the allies, was delivered to the Foreign Office yesterday afternoon by Craig Wadsworth, third secretary of the United States Embassy. The reply is regarded as having much more finality than expected, and as definitely settling the submission of all the difficulties to arbitration.

It was said at the Foreign Office that President Castro's reply was entirely acceptable to Great Britain. The question of the time for raising the blockade of the Venezuelan coast has not been decided, but is now being discussed at London and Berlin.

Venezuelan Rebels Checked.

Caracas, Jan. 10.—The port of Tucacas was re-occupied yesterday by forces of Venezuela, after a fight with the revolutionists of one hour's duration. The march of the rebels upon Caracas, via Guatiere, has been completely checked.

Dutchmen on the Watch.

The Hague, Jan. 10.—In view of the events in Venezuela, the Dutch cruiser Holland has been ordered to remain in West Indian waters and the battleship De Ruyter is proceeding to Curacoa.

Breathing Disease.

Infectious diseases are breathed into the system from those affected with disease or from bad smells; yet how many women breathe daily the offensive steam from common soaps made from rancid fats, and keep their hands for hours in such solutions, and the clothing from such soap suds is worn next the tender skin. No wonder disease and eczema are prevalent! Users of Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—know the difference between that and the pure, healthful smell from the vegetable oils and pure edible fats in Sunlight Soap. 105

Home Duties

The real heroines of every day are in our homes. Frequently, however, it is a mistaken and useless heroism.

Women seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and keeps the nervous system unstrung? Irritability takes the place of happiness and amiability; and weakness and suffering takes the place of health and strength. As long as they can drag themselves around, women continue to work and perform their household duties. They have been led to believe that suffering is necessary because they are women. What a mistake!

The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will banish pain and restore happiness. Don't resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy for women is always within reach.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

For proof read the symptoms, suffering and cure recited in the following letters:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express to you the great benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My trouble was female weakness in its worst form and I was in a very bad condition. I could not perform my household duties, my back ached, I was extremely nervous, and I could not eat or sleep, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. My husband spent hundreds of dollars to get me well, and all the medicine that the doctors prescribed failed to do me any good; I resorted to an operation which the physician said was necessary to restore me to health, but I suffered more after it than I did before; I had hemorrhages of the womb that nothing could seem to stop.

"I noticed one of your advertisements and wrote you for advice, I received your reply and carefully followed all instructions. I immediately began to get stronger, and in two weeks was about the house. I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and continued following your advice, and to-day I am a well woman. Your remedies and help are a Godsend to suffering women, and I cannot find words to thank you for what you have done for me."—MRS. LOTTIE V. NAYLOR, 1328 N. J. Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

"I was suffering with falling of the womb and could hardly drag about, but after taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was completely cured. I am now a well woman and able to do all my work.

"I think your medicine one of the best remedies in the world."—MRS. J. M. LEE, 141 Lyndal St., Newcastle, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done a great deal for me. I suffered so much from falling of the womb and all the troubles connected with it. I doctored for years with doctors and other remedies but received only temporary relief.

"I began taking your medicine, and had not taken it long before I was feeling better. My husband said that I should keep right on taking it as long as it gave me relief from my suffering, as I could not expect to be cured by one or two bottles. I did so and am now able to be on my feet and work hard all day, and go to bed and rest at night. Thanks to your Vegetable Compound I am certainly grateful for the relief it gave me. It is themother's great friend. I would not be without it in my house, for when I feel tired or out of sorts I take a few doses and feel all right.

"I would recommend your medicine to all tired mothers, and especiall to those suffering as I was."—MRS. R. F. CHAMBERS, Bennet, Neb.

THE LIBERAL HAPPY FAMILY.

Like of thousands of domestic circles in the land, the Liberal family after the political holidays is enjoying a happy re-union. In the Senate they are at home at last or will be when a few vacant seats are filled. In the Dominion House everything is lovely. Sir Wilfrid Laurier "the daddy of them all," has returned home again in renewed health and is again in harness. In the Ontario House the Liberal members are again around the hearthstone, except two or three to come in later. The Liberal family is happy and united and ready in all departments to enter upon the business of giving the country—Dominion and Province—first-class administration. There's generally a rift in the lute, a fly in the ointment—a prodical son has left the house of his fathers and taken lodgings in the house across the way and has tried, but happily without success, to cause trouble in the family. But the Liberal party is all right and begins a new year equipped at all points—in members, in spirit, in energy and enterprise—for business.

NO POLICY.

The Ontario Opposition are Bourbons to the end. They refuse to learn anything. They went into the bye-election contests on a hypocritical cry — they forced the issue on the corruption charge. The people in the three ridings repudiated their claims to fitness for cleansing political methods, and supprted the Ross Governmennt on its record of wise administration, and its policy of progress. Now the Mail comes out with the claim that all three seats were "stolen," and Mr. Whitney claims that a change in the votes of the electorate of 615 in the three ridings does not indicate any change in electoral opinion. If the bye-elections had gone Conservative, no doubt Mr. Whitney and his organ would have exclaimed that it was the voice of the people. Why will the Mail and Empire continue to harp upon the threadbare string, "corruption," "stolen seats," etc. Its hypocrisy in so doing, in the face of the fact that the three ridings swarmed with Conservative heelers and members of the Conservative boodle brigade, is only equalled by the hypocrisy of Mr. Whitney, the leader of a party with a rotten political record, posing as the apostle of purity, and the redresser of wrongs against the integrity of the franchise, or by that of Mr. Blake in selecting for his championship the leaders of the Conservative party. Will the Opposition never learn that the people are not fools, who will accept Mr. Whitney's windy ipse dixit as gospel? From the days when a brother of Hon. Sam Blake was the first Liberal Premier of Ontario, the Opposition have had no policy, but have contented themselves with trying to divide the electorate on side issues of little relevance to the question of rightly administering public affairs in the interests of the country. In the administrative record of the Liberal Government, which has not, being human, been perfect, there may have been some points upon which an Opposition leader, with any sense of public responsibility, might have taken issue with, if not success, at least self respect, and the acquirement of credit for some desire to do something for the benefit of the country. But during a period of a generation, the Ontario Opposition has shown, in general, evidence of only one thing—desire for office. In this they were careless whether, in the mad quest for spoil, they destroyed the harmony of the people by appeals to sectarian passions, or whether they did injury to the material interests of the province, by buying up a Legislature to compass the introduction of the American method of dealing with our Crown domain, which would have long since caused the disappearance of our forest resources, which, under careful Liberal administration, have in the years since Confederation yielded a gross revenue of nearly fifty millions of dollars, and are still good for a million dollars a year or more. In the bye-elections Mr. Whitney cantered his crippled Rosinante — his corruption policy—through the side lines, but the people simply laughed at his his histrionic hysterics, and marked their ballots for Ross. If Mr. Whitney is honest, he will begin by purifying, purging fumingating and disinfecting his own camp of its corruption; then he can, with some show of consistency, demand that purer election methods prevail. If Mr. Whitney would hope to reach the treasury benches, he must adopt some policy that will appeal to the electors more strongly than the alert, wide-awake, go-ahead, all-Ontario, policy of the Ross Government. But here he is confronted with another difficulty. He can devise no policy for the better administration of public affairs, for the better development of our resources, for the advance of all the interests of the province, than that now being applied, and to be applied four years longer, by the Ross Government. Mr. Whitney and the Mail should take private lessons in political economy.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

THE REJECTED SELECTED.

Hon. George E. Foster has received the Conservative nomination for the Commons in North Ontario. He is certainly a capable man, and badly needed by his party at Ottawa. Will Sir Mackenzie Bowell welcome the prodigal home and kill the fatted calf to celebrate his return, or will he be inclined to kill the head incubator of the "nest of traitors?" He will probably be spared the trouble, for the electors of North Ontario will attend to that; their feeling for a local representative in an intelligent riding like that, will make the most hide-bound partizan reluctant to elect the rejected of King's county — the "Wandering Willie," of New Brunswick. North Ontario is no political foundling, to want the services of a Foster-father.

EDITORIAL NOTES

When will Mr. Whitney learn that pea-nut politics are less adapted for practical purposes than for party pic-nics?

The Mail and Empire asserts that the Senate vacancies are sadly worrying the Government. These vacancies don't worry the Government half as much as they do the organ and its party. They will be filled with Liberals and the long-time obstructionist Conservative majority will not be available to crush progressive legislation. Sir Mackenzie Bowell will not be the autocrat any longer.

It is significant, remarks the Brantford Expositor, that in the township of St. Vincent in North Grey, in which four ballots are said to have been tempered with in May last, the Conservative majority has been reduced. Evidently the electors in that township, knowing the high character of the deputy-returning officer against whom the charge was made, have accepted the opinion of Mr. Justice McLennan that the ballots in question were spoiled by the voters themselves before being placed in the ballot box.

There are still several ridings to be dealt with. There will be an election in North Renfrew. There are petitions to go on in Sault Ste. Marie, against A Miscampbell, Conservative, trial fixed for January 13th; North York, against Hon. E. J. Davies, Liberal, trial fixed for January 21st; Centre Bruce, against Hugh Clark, Conservative, trial on January 27th. Besides there are appeals in South Oxford, against Donald Sutherland, Conservative; in East Middlesex, against Dr. Routledge, Liberal; and in Lennox, against T. G. Carscallen, Conservative.

OMEMEE.

Miss Carrie White, of Peterborough, Made a Splendid Impression as an Entertainer.

The lively holiday season is now ended, and all are now face to face with their new year's duties. All the merry visitors have left for their respective places and callings.

The New Year's tea and entrtainment proved a grand success, and the Presbyterians are to be congratulated on having the most successful event of the season.

The municipals elections passed of lively on Monday, with the following results:

Reeve, Omemee, T. J. Parsons.

Councillors, J. E. Vairs, Redmond Carey, Samuel Skenee, J. E. Adams.

The sleighing was never better between here and Peterborough.

Our hotels are unusually particular in observing the law since the referendum vote. Not a sign of a drunken man was to be seen during the holidays, or election day.

Carris White, reciter, made a great hit here as an entertainer at the New Year's concert under the auspices of the Presbyterian church. The audience was much better pleased with her than with some of Toronto's costly talent.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

A Genial Chief Justice.

Sir John Madden, Chief Justice of Victoria, is a genial Irishman. The other day he read in court a letter from a man who asked to be excused from serving as a juror on the ground that he was to be married on the morrow, and was engaged in preparation for the happy event. "I cannot accept that excuse," said the Chief Justice, with a twinkle in his eye; "I can only wish him joy and fine him a shilling. But in order to avert ill-omen, I will present the shilling myself to the bride to ransom her husband."

When Others Fail

Write Me a Postal---I'll Send You a Way to Get Well.

Send no money—just a postal card, stating which book you need.

Then I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month to prove what it can do. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

No matter how difficult your trouble, nor how many treatments have failed. My way does not fail, save when some cause like cancer makes a cure impossible. I am willing to take the risk, and trust you to be fair.

Why not stop common treatments for a little while and learn what my way can do? If I have enough faith to make such an offer, is it not pretty certain that I know how to cure? If my way often failed the losses would ruin me.

In the past twelve years I have furnished my Restorative on trial to more than half a million patients. My records show that 39 out of 40 have paid for the treatment gladly, because they got well.

I worked a lifetime on my Restorative before I ever made this offer. I perfected it until it will always strengthen the inside nerves. It brings back this nerve power which alone operates every vital organ.

When an organ fails in its duty, the fault seldom lies in the organ. It is like a weak engine; it needs more steam. My Restorative brings back the power that it needs and makes it as strong as it ever was.

In these chronic diseases there is rarely any other way to a cure. And this way doesn't fail in any case that is curable. Try it for a month at my risk, and you'll know.

Simply state which book you want, and address to Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by all druggists.

THE NON-UNION CASE.

150 Witnesses Testify Before Strike Commission in 8 Days.

EVIDENCE OF GEN. GOBIN.

Commander of the Pennsylvania 3rd Brigade of the National Guard of the State Gave in Evidence That He Meant the Shoot-to-Kill Order—Grave Charges Against a Miners' President.

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—After occupying eight days, during which they presented 150 witnesses, the non-union men closed their case yesterday before the Coal Strike Commission.

The principal witness yesterday was Gen. Gobin of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, who was in command of the third brigade during the time the troops were on duty in the hard coal fields. From his observations, and from reports made to him by his officers, it was his opinion, he said, that an excited state of lawlessness existed in the regions, that disturbances were numerous, that the presence of the troops was absolutely necessary to preserve law and order, and that it was difficult to maintain the law, even after all the troops in the state had been placed in the disturbed territory.

The witness said that when he first went into the coal regions he was unable for a time to get vehicles to carry his supplies, teamsters refusing to furnish them. After his brigade had been called out the general said the situation became extremely serious in several parts of the strike territory, and he feared he could not cope with the situation if it grew worse. He so informed the Government.

The now famous "shoot-to-kill" order issued by him after his soldiers had been attacked by stones, was touched upon by Mr. Darrow, counsel for the miners. The general said it meant every word it contained, and the issuance of the order had a salutory effect upon the communities which his soldiers covered.

Among the witnesses called were two who testified to certain statements made by William H. Dettrey, who was Wednesday at Hazelton elected president of District No. 7 of the Miners' Union in place of Thomas Duffy. One of them said that Dettrey in his presence after the strike remarked that anybody who had worked during the strike should have his throat cut. The other declared that Dettrey in a meeting of a certain local union made a speech, in which he said that all men caught working should be given a "good thumping." The testimony of a number of witnesses during the morning session was along the same line as that presented during the last eight days of the commission's sessions.

EXCRUCIATING LUMBAGO PERMANENTLY CURED.

A severe case which proves the power of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets to cure so that you stay cured.

There are very few people in Havelock, Ont., or vicinity, who do not know Mr. William Reynolds, the popular C. P. R. brakesman, whose picture appears here.

About two years ago he was laid up with a severe attack of lumbago, which caused him excruciating pain, so that to stoop over or turn in bed was agony.

He heard of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets being a splendid remedy for such complaints as his. He took the Tablets and they cured him. Since then Mr. Reynolds has had no return of his old trouble, and has recommended Dr. Pitcher's Tablets to many men on the road, such as firemen, engineers, conductors and fellow-brakesmen, all of whom, from the nature of their occupation, are liable to bad backs and kidney trouble, and, in every instance, the Tablets have proved effectual.

STATEMENT MAY 31st, 1900.

This is what Mr. William Reynolds had to say about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets on May 31st, 1900, just after he was cured:

"I had lumbago so bad when I got Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from A. C. Denike, the druggist, that I could hardly move. It was most painful to turn in bed. There was a dull nagging aching in the small of my back continually, and to stoop or assume an upright position after sitting was extremely painful. This was not the only time I suffered that way; my case was becoming chronic, and the remedies that formerly gave me relief did not help me now in the least. I found, though, that as soon as I started taking Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, they helped me at once. They have removed the whole trouble. I have neither pain nor lameness now. I cannot say too much for them, and I heartily recommend them."

(Signed) WM. REYNOLDS.

STATEMENT MARCH 29th, 1902.

When our representative called on Mr. Reynolds, recently, he did not hesitate to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and the permanent cure they had made in his case. Said he: "I have never had any return of that lumbago and kidney trouble which attacked me so severely in the spring of 1900. Dr. Pitcher's Kidney Tablets made a complete and thorough cure then, and I have never been bothered since."

ENDORSATION OF A. C. DENIKE, DRUGGIST.

Mr. A. C. Denike, Phm. B., the well-known druggist and optician of Havelock, who sold Mr. Reynolds the Tablets, writes:

"I am acquainted with Mr. Wm. Reynolds, brakesman on the C. P. R., and know that about two years ago he suffered greatly from lumbago and kidney trouble. He purchased Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from me, and claims that they were the means of curing him, and I believe this to be the case. I understand from him that since Dr. Pitcher's Tablets cured him he has had no return of the trouble."

(Signed) A. C. DENIKE.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a bottle or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

COLLISION ON BIG FOUR.

Two Passenger Trains Collide Head-On Four Miles West of Mero, Ill.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.— Two passenger trains on the St. Louis division of the Big Four collided last night, four miles west of Mero, Ill., and one mile east of Bethalto. They met head-on. Both engines are lying on their sides, one man is missing, and one man is known to be badly hurt. Engineer King of the eastbound, living at Matton, Ill., is reported badly hurt. The fireman on the westbound train is missing. None of the passengers have been reported here as injured.

The crew of the eastbound train have not reported.

Reading Output Is Big.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 10.—The daily coal run on the Reading companies main line this week averaged between 1,500 and 1,600 cars. It is expected that the output of the companies mines for the week will aggregate 270,000 tons.

A FIENDISH DEED.

Four Young Manitoba Farmers Poured Whiskey Into a Halfbreed Boy Until He Collapsed—He Is Since Dead.

Winnipeg, Jan. 10.—It was all a joke. Four young farmers were in Neepawa for a good time. They had Henry Spence a halfbreed boy, aged 18, with them and decided to get him drunk.

Henry was willing, and now it is all a tragedy. The boy died last night. Being roused to consciousness a couple of hours before his weak heart gave its last beat, he told as much as he could remember of what happened to him. Last night a coroner's jury held an inquest over the remains and the four men implicated are held on charges of manslaughter.

It was last Monday night that the foul work was done. As long as Spence was able to hold himself together he yielded to brutal persuasion and swallowed whiskey in large doses. When he became unable to help himself his associates further amused themselves by holding his head back and pouring the fiery liquid down his throat. Not until the boy completely collapsed did the disgusting spectacle end. The victim was taken home insensible, and he lingered in a semi-conscious state till last night, when he died.

ILLNESS OF ALFRED BEIT.

Famous Financier of South Africa Has an Apoplectic Stroke.

Cape Town, Jan. 10.—Alfred Beit, the well-known South African financier has had an apoplectic stroke at Johannesburg, and is reported to be dying. Dr. Jameson passed through Queenstown yesterday morning on a special train bound for Johannesburg.

London, Jan. 10. — The firm of Wernher, Beit & Company of this city confirmed the announcement from Cape Town of the serious illness of Mr. Beit, and said the latest reports regarding his condition are more reassuring.

Johannesburg, Jan. 10.—Mr. Beit is taking nourishment, and is better, but the doctors cannot pronounce him out of danger.

Kaffirs Were Weak.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Kaffirs were weak on the Bourse yesterday, owing to the unfounded rumors of the assassination, in South Africa, of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain. This rumor was denied at the same time that it was announced that Alfred Beit, the South African financier, was dying at Johannesburg. The South African shares partially recovered, but closed weak.

Fake Story Killed.

London, Jan. 10.—There is absolutely no foundation for the report published in the United States, that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has been assassinated in South Africa, or for rumor that he has been shot at.

BAD BLOOD.

The Root of Most Troubles That Afflict Mankind.

Bad blood is the mother of fifty diseases. It causes disease wherever your body is wasted. Perhaps you suffer from pimples, pale cheeks, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, or general decline. In each case the cause is the same—bad blood. Strike at once at the root of the trouble by renewing and enriching your blood supply with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to give you new, rich, red blood, that will carry healing to every part of your body. Among the thousands who have proved the truth of these statements is Mr. Neil H. McDonald, Estmere, N. B., who says, "I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills all that is claimed for them. I was completely run down my appetite was poor and I suffered much from severe headaches. The doctors' medicines gave me no relief so I decided to try Dr. William's Pink Pills. A few boxes have restored me to health and made me feel like a new man." Give the pills a fair trial and you will find new health and strength. Don't take a substitute or anything else said to be just as good. See that the full name, "Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around the box. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Personals From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Sir William Mulock has accepted an invitation to a banquet to be given by the Collingwood Board of Trade on the 19th inst.

The Prime Minister goes to Montreal to-day. He will spend Sunday in that city, and afterwards proceed to Quebec, returning to Ottawa early next week.

Baron D'Elpene of Belgium is here to promote better trade relations between Canada and his country.

Baron Pirbright Dead.

London Jan. 10.—Henry DeWorms, Baron Pirbright, died yesterday. He was born in 1840. The late Henry DeWorms was the first Baron Pirbright, a title created in 1895. He was educated as a barrister-at-law and sat as a member of the House of Commons from 1880 until 1895, when he entered the House of Lords.

Lord Roberts Will Not Come.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—The regular meeting of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society was held last evening. The secretary read a communication from Field Marshal Lord Roberts, in which he stated that he "does not see his way to come to Canada at present."

Jailed on Suspicion.

Winnipeg, Jan. 10.—Wasyl Harney, the young Galician who is held under suspicion of having caused the death of a fellow-countrywoman by shooting in the settlement north of Teuton, has been brought to the city and is now lodged in the Provincial jail.

Uriah Wilson, M.P., Better.

Napanee, Jan. 10.—Uriah Wilson, M. P., is a little better, and his speedy recovery is expected.

FIGHTING THE DISEASE.

New England Farmers Want Full Value of Animals Killed—Dr. Salmon's Report.

Washington, Jan. 10.—In a report received yesterday by Secretary Wilson, Dr. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who is in Boston directing the campaign against the foot and mouth epidemic, says that the disease will be stamped out this winter, unless it has been carried to some other part of the country, where it is yet undiscovered. The experts have only two herds on hand, which were reported within the last two or three days. The largest of these herds was to have been killed yesterday.

Dr. Salmon speaks of anxiety among the farmers to receive as recompense the full value of the animals killed, but says the Government methods were endorsed in a resolution passed by the Stockholders' Association of Massachusetts at Worcester.

Complaints of damage to the milk supply, caused by disinfection, are being filed, and hereafter barns where the milk cattle are housed will be disinfected in such a way as to leave as little odor as possible.

BIG DIVIDENDS and BIG ADVANCE IN STOCK

Did you ever think of the enormous profits the Standard Oil Co. pays its stockholders in dividends from the refinery business alone?

This special issue of stock at 50c a share is for the purpose of building a big oil refinery in Kern River without incurring a dollar's indebtedness.

This is the stock that has paid to its stockholders 27 per cent. on the investment in thirteen months—prospects of richer dividends to come.

The Public Thoroughly Aroused! Large Orders Cabled From Europe, Over-Subscription Inevitable.

Do you realize that there are several companies to-day whose only asset is a single refinery, paying handsome dividends and whose stock could not be bought for several dollars a share?

Did you ever stop to think that Eastern Consolidated would be cheap at $5.00 a share with its immense oil properties, big production of oil, refinery of 60,000 barrels capacity and practically not a dollar of indebtedness?

With the extraordinary profits of oil refining added to the present large income the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co's stock is certain to jump to several dollars a share with the opening of spring activity.

We Will Refine 2,000 Bbls. a Day From Our Own Wells in Kern River

50,000 barrels of Kern River Oil is worth about $25,000. When it is refined it's worth nearly $100,000.

High grade illuminating oil from our 107 oil wells in Ohio sells for about $1.25 a barrel—Thousands of barrels monthly.

Fuel oil is making a new epoch in oil industry—Greater fortunes than ever are to be made now in oil.

Eastern Consolidated Oil Co

Thousands of dollars in trust funds invested past week in E. C. Oil Stock—Trust companies know a million dollars in assets and practically no indebtedness mean absolute security

Eastern Consolidated closely follows footsteps of the Standard Oil Co. Those who had foresight to buy even a few shares of Standard Oil Stock in the early days are rich men to-day.

A Wall street syndicate of brokers has asked for lowest figures on the entire 100,000 share allotment. This offer was refused, as blocks of this size will not be sold to any one interest.

"I'M GOING!"

How Death Came to William Burgess at Mimico Thursday.

Toronto, Jan. 9. — "I'm going," ejaculated William Burgess of Mimico at 5.30 p.m. yesterday as he dropped back into the arms of Messrs. Waites and Guild, and died.

He had called at the Victoria Industrial School to see Principal Ferrier. He entered the school in excellent spirits and passed the time of day with the school attendants, when suddenly the hand of death reached out and touched him. His heart gave out. William Burgess was a market gardener, aged 58. He leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters. His mother, who is 92, is prostrated with grief. He was the town's former assessor.

About Drainage

You know the deadly consequences if a house is badly drained. Only a madman or a criminal would himself incur the risk, or subject others to it, for one unnecessary minute.

But do you realize the danger of a badly drained body? Are you aware that it poisons the blood, the very fountain of life?

A TALK ON SHAKSPERE.

St. Peter's T. A. S. Reading Circle met Last Night.

As was expected, the talk on Shakspere, by Mr. Barton Earle before the Ladies' Reading Circle of the T.A.S. last evening was a literary treat of the highest order. Not monstrate the transcendent genius of the great dramatist, but he also gave an intensely interesting history of the origin of the drama. It is to be hoped that Mr. Earle will be soon heard again on this subject.

At the conclusion of the talk the speaker was tendered a vote of thanks moved by Messrs. T. J. Begley and Dr. McNulty.

Miss Abearn filled the chair very acceptably and the musical programme presented was a pleasing feature of the evening.

—Keep Monday night open for the Almondbury Hand Bell Ringers in George-st. Church.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH NOTES.

The address at the 11 a.m. service at St. John's to-morrow will be directed particularly to the Sunday School scholars and young people and children generally. The attendance of scholars at church or school from houses where infectious diseases prevail is prohibited.

In the evening municipal and other public questions will be discussed before the Mayor and Aldermen-elect, Town Officials and members of public bodies.

All Saints' Church.

Sunday will be celebrated as the first anniversary of the formation of the parish. Holy Communion will be administered at 8.30 a.m., when it is hoped all the members will unite in corporate communion. Rev. Canon Richardson, M.A., of London, will preach both morning and evening, and lecture on Monday evening. A special offertory will be taken to reduce the debt. The music will include the Te Deum, by Custance; Jubilate, by Nevin; Evening Service, by Ebdon, and the Anthems,—"The Anthem Celestial," and "Brightest and Best." Seats are all free.

A public banquet will be tendered the Sovereign Bank officials and staff of the Havelock branch in the Town Hall, Havelock, on Thursday evening of next week. A large number of prominent and influential gentlemen will be present and will speak in response to toasts.

The bank has only recently opened a branch in Havelock.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Held in Havelock on Tuesday Afternoon—The Cases.

Judge Edmison, of Peterborough, held court in the town hall, Havelock, on Tuesday afternoon. The first case on the docket was that of F. Spinks vs. I. Zufelt, for assault on December 20th. Zufelt pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs. The next was a double header, H. Alley vs. Geo. Cochrane and Geo. Cochrane vs. H. Alley. Both cases were for assault committed on Nov. 30th. The Judge found them both guilty and they were fined $10.00 and costs. Geo. J. Sherry for Alley and R. F. McWilliams for Cochrane. Third case was for assault also, Mrs. L. Vardy vs. H. Vardy. It was enlarged until Friday.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. Harry R. Moore to Miss Eva May McNeish.

On Wednesday of last week, the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McNeish, Millbrook, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, the contracting parties being their eldest daughter, Miss Eva May, and Mr. Harry R. Moore, son of Mr. James F. Moore of Lakefield. The ceremony, which took place at 2.30 p.m. was performed by Rev. Mr. Kenny, in the presence of about fifty guests. Miss Ella Moore, the bride, entered the room leaning on the arm of her father. The bride wore a costume of white silk, trimmed with chiffon applique, and ribbon. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ada McNeish, who was attired in white silk, trimmed with pink ribbon. Miss Rose Moore, sister of the groom, acted as maid of honour, and wore a dress of white silk, trimmed with chiffon. Mr. Emmerson Moore supported the groom.

After the ceremony the guests partook of the usual wedding dinner, the happy couple leaving for Lakefield about five o'clock.

The bridal couple left on Thursday for Toronto, Ottawa and other places, where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will take up their residence in Whitney, Ont. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and valuable presents, testifying to the respect and esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome silver service. The happy couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future happiness and prosperity in their new Ontario home.

At the evening service the pastor will preach from John vii, 53; viii, 1, "A Thrilling contrast in the life of Christ." Offering throughout the day for mission funds. All are welcome; seats are free.

ST. LUKE'S ENTERTAINMENT.

Annual Concert was a Success Last Night.

Mr. Armstrong, the Organist was Made the Recipient of an Address and Presentation.

The Sunday school room of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, presented a very pretty appearance last night, it being the occasion of the annual Christmas entertainment of the Sunday school. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the pupils and their friends. Prizes were distributed, a splendid programme was rendered, and a pleasing feature of the proceedings was the presentation to Mr. John L. Armstrong, the organist, of an address, and an armchair.

The following programme, which proved decidedly interesting to all, was presented:

Carol, "See amid the Winter snow"... ... ... The school
"Hunting for Santa" ... ...Kindergarten
Song..... ....Susie Duffus
Recitation... ... ...Katie Leary
Duet... ...Janet Quinn and Clara Adams
Recitation... ... ...Zetta Jameson
Recitation... ...Harold and Wilfrid Adams
Instrumental solo... ... ...Janet Quinn
Vocal duet... ... ... Edith and Lulu Scott
Recitation,..... .... Reta Gaskins
Recitation... ... ...Blanche Alcombrack

Before the distribution of prizes, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, in a brief speech, spoke of the excellent work that had been done in the school during the past year, and stated that the school had never been in as prosperous a condition as at present. He then presented Mr. J. L. Armstrong with a magnificent arm chair of solid oak, together with a beautiful china fruit dish. The following address accompanied the presentation.

Dear Sir, — The Rector, the members of the choir and other friends, desire to express to you their appreciation of your faithful services as organist of our church. We wish to assure you that the music such as you render it, adds materially to the beauty and heartiness of the church services, and we are fully aware that we possess in you an excellent organist. We ask you to accept the arm chair for yourself and the china fruit dish for Mrs. Armstrong as a mark of our regard and esteem.

Faithfully yours,
E. A. LANGFELDT.

Mr. Jos. Ball, sexton, was then presented with a handsome silk umbrella, with the compliments of the Young Men's Guild, and Mr. J. J. Turner was the recipient of a beautiful Persian lamb cap given by his Sunday school class. The other teachers of the Sunday school were also presented with gifts by their classes.

The prizes to the scholars were then distributed, consisting of prayer books, hymn books, Bibles, and other books of benefit to the scholars. There were 84 of such scholars. There were 84 of such prizes given besides a number of special prizes given by the Rector and Mr. Peck.

The following are the names of those on the honour roll of the school for the past year, and who received special rewards. To be thus enrolled it was necessary to obtain at least 300 out of the possible 312 marks. All on this list attended every Sunday of the year: Carrie Whittaker, 312 marks; Addie Mitchell, 312; Florence Howden, 312; Hollie Howden, 312; Percy Crane, 311; Violet Whittaker, 311; Mabel Oliver, 310; Kathleen Long, 309; Eva Crane, 308; Charles Crane, 306; Samuel Whittaker, 305; Hazel Crane, 302. Those who attended 51 Sundays are Nellie Maniece, 306; Muriel Scott, 3044; Alice Scott, 300. The record of these scholars is a very creditable one, and their prizes were well deserved.

The entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

The Bowmanville Statesman of Dec. 24th in refering to the departure of Miss M. E. Howson, daughter of W. R. Howson, of Norwood, who has been teaching school in that vicinity for some years past, says:—

Very many friends in Bomanville and Salem district regret the leaving of a most popular and successful teacher in the person of Miss M. E. Howson who left yesterday for her home in Norwood. Outside of her school duties her activity in church and Sabbath school and her influence at all times over the young people of the section been most highly appreciated and she will be greatly missed.

At the closing concert in the Salem school on the 12th inst., Miss Howson was presented with an address accompanied by a watch chain and hat brush The address was read by Rev. J. S. McMullen, and the presentation made by Misses Katie Stephens and Lily Fitze. Miss Howson made a very suitable reply, accepting the presents as a momento of the Salem friends, and would cherish them dearly to life's close. The address was as follows:—

Miss Howson,

Dear Friend,—During your six years residence in Salem community, as our Public School Teacher, you haave won such a place in our esteem and friendship, as cannot be forgotten, and we would indeed be ungrateful if we allowed you to depart from our midst without some expression of our regard. Our friends we must prize and appreciate while they are with us. True friendship can only be found to bloom in the soil of a noble and self-sacrificing heart; and a true friend does not appear every day; and when in reality we have found one we must value the boon and be thankful.

We have very much admired your self-denying efforts and generosity in assisting every branch of church work and every benevolent enterprize of this community. We as a congregation, gratefully remember your painstaking and efficient services, as Organist, Sunday School Teacher, aand League worker. We can also assure you, in behalf of the little ones of our homes, that as a patient teacher, a wise counciller, and most excellent instructor, you will ever be remembered by them with feelings of highest regard and esteem.

Remembering the years made pleaant by your association, and as a very slight token of our esteem and regard, we ask you to aaccept this watch chain and hat brush and accompanying address, and with them our Christmas greetings, our good wishes and prayers for your future success, making request that when amid new fields of labour and usefulness, when other faces light up at your presence and other lives feel (as we have) the transforming charm of your Christian spirit aand character, that you sometimes think of and pray for your devoted Salem friends.

Signed in behalf of Salem community
J. S. McMULLEN, Pastor;
R. H. COLLACUTT, Choir Leader;
A. F. CARSCADDEN, S. S. Superintendent;
F. L. SQUAIR, P. S. Trustee.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS

Will be Discussed in St. John's Church on Sunday.

It is proposed to hold a special service in St. John's Church on Sunday next, 11th inst., at 7 p.m., when municipal matters will be discussed from a Religious standpoint. The Mayor and Aldermen-elect have been invited.

MISS BOOTH COMING.

She Will Arrive on the 5.10 p. m. Train To-day.

Commissioner Evangeline Booth, leader of the Salvation Army in Canada, arrives this evening on the 7.30 train from Toronto, accompanied by her staff;—Lieut.-Col Pugmire, Staff-Capt. Page, Staff-Capt. Morris, Adjt. Welsh and last, though by no means least, Willie and Pearl, two of Miss Booth's adopted orphans, and very sweet singers. Brigadier Turner also arrives on the 5.10 p. m. train from Montreal.

The first meeting is of a private nature, a soldiers' council at 8 p.m., in the barracks. The meetings on Sunday are open to all and commence at 11 a.m.; 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Miss Booth's purpose in visiting Peterborough is simply to give impetus to the local work and her discourses will be of a purely evangelistic character.

Special Meetings.

You are invited to special meetings in the Gospel Hall, corner of George and Brock streets, town, on Saturday, the 10th inst., at 10 a.m., 2.30 and 7 p.m., and on Sunday, the 11th inst., at 2.30 and 7 p.m. Evangelists from various places are expected to be present, and will give addresses on Scriptural subjects. Come and bring a Bible.

WE SHOULD BE A CITY.

What Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell Thinks of Peterborough.

He Thinks That we are not Advertised Enough—What he is Doing for the Town.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I was not only disappointed, but, I must confess, disgusted, when looking at the reports of the municipal elections throughout Ontario, in the Toronto press, to find Peterborough, not among the large typed list of cities, but instead find that grand and enterprising municipality among the small-typed list of towns and villages. What a poor advertisement for Peterborough that was. Neither did I see a tag attached to the name "Peterborough," that Peterborians were proud to say that it stood as the largest "town" in Canada, and yet more than large enough to be a "city."

I am sure most people in Canada simply thought that our "town" was not eligible to be in the city class for want of population.

I read so much in the Peterborough press of some one here and some one there saying this and that business, and this and that organization, is doing so much in advertising Peterborough, but I think I am safe in saying that the grandest advertisement, and the most spectacular, too, would be the announcement to the world that Peterborough has been made a city. It would be prima facie evidence that we are progressive and have become a large community, for which there must be some good reasons.

To show how little Peterborough is really known to be what it is, one of the largest manufacturers in Canada — a public man, too — told me lately he was informed that the only factories of any account in Peterborough were the Cereal and the Electric factories! I certainly astonished him when I enlightened him about our other large works, such as the William Hamilton Company, the Cordage Works, the Auburn Mills, Matthews Packing House, Peter Hamilton Works, etc., etc. Who is to blame for this lack of knowledge of the outside public?

I noticed by the press reports that our esteemed alderman-elect, Daniel O'Connell, stated in his nomination speech, that he thought Peterborough should be a city. It should be up to him to see that it is made so, and he is a man, who is able, I am sure, to carry the matter to a successful issue.

Let us make the world forget our youth, and recognize us as "grown up" and as a progressive and large community, for manufacturers find it well to locate in a populated centre so that they can secure a choice of labour.

It may not be out of place here to mention that I have arranged (informally as yet) with a large and influential society—whose profession is wrapped up in the progress and prosperity of this country—to hold this year's convention at Peterborough, on the opening of navigation, and on my return to Peterborough I intend conferring with Mayor Roger and the council as to some sort of official reception to that society. I shall take it upon myself to show them what nature has done for us back of Peterborough, and no doubt others will be ready to join in showing them the sights of—I hope to say—the City of Peterborough.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS DISINFECTED.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Every school in town has now been thoroughly disinfected with Formaldehydo Gas. The most approved apparatus for generating the gas has been used, and the instructions of the Board of Health and of the Provincial Inspector have been carefully carried out, and now with the hearty cooperation of the people, we may hope that the town will soon be free from infectious diseases.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Clementi Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Lakefield, Spend a Pleasant Evening.

Lakefield News: The regular monthly meeting of Clementi Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was held in the Lodge room on Tuesday evening last. The members turned out in large numbers, as the business before the meeting was of an unusual character, the installation of officers elected for the ensuing year taking place. It was also the official visit of the D.D.G.M. for this district. Owing to Right Wor. Bro. Simpson, D. D. G. M., being unable to be present, he was represented by R. Wor. Bro. Walkey, of Peterborough, who also conducted the installation ceremonies. He was assisted by a number of the Peterborough brethren. The following officers were installed:

Committee on Benevolence — W. Bros. Dr. J. R. Fraser, G. B. Hilliard, J. W. Ridpath, J. E. Kelly and W. H. Casement.

The business of the evening being concluded an adjournment was made to the dining room of the Craig House, where a splendid spread had been prepared by Mine Host Craig. After the inner man had been thoroughly satisfied a number of toasts were proposed, all of which were duly honoured and replied to. A pleasand hour was spent in speeches, songs atc., the gathering breaking up an an early hour, those present being unanimous in the opinion that it was one of the most pleasant and enjoyable gatherings held for some time. A number of visiting brethren from Toronto, Peterborough, and other places, were present, and partook of the hospitality of the lodge.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

WE HAVE a brand new council of twelve members, elected at the beginning of the New Year — the time of good resolutions. They are elected to serve the people, and in the name of the people, we might say just one or two things which would conduce to the improvement of the deliberations of our representatives.

• • •

IN OUR NEW COUNCIL we have three lawyers. One is placed in a position where little speaking is required. "Many words darken speech," it has been said. There is enough occasion for serious discussion, and it should be the aim of the council to prevent, as far as possible, discussion of frivolities, and leave as much time as possible for doing things.

• • •

THE OLD COUNCIL wisely dispensed with the dreary formality, which formerly preceded every meeting — the "reading of the minutes." The plan was adopted of having the minutes of a meeting typewritten, and distributed to members for perusal in the intervals of meetings. When a meeting opened the minutes were "taken as read," and then the council went to work.

• • •

IMPROVEMENT in a similar direction may be suggested to facilitate work. Much time is wasted in receiving accounts, which are referred to the Finance Committee. Meetings of council are held monthly. It often happens that a day after a meeting an account is presented. It is held till the next meeting, a month ahead. It is then referred to the Finance Committee, which reports at the next meeting—another month—so that it may easily happen that by a little absurd red tape a creditor of the town is kept out of his money for two months.

• • •

WHY NOT EMPOWER the town clerk to pass every account sent in to him, to the Finance Committee at once? Accounts can be considered and investigated, and, if approved, be passed at the next meeting of the council. This would save a lot of time, and facilitate the payment of just accounts. There is no necessity for these accounts being "received," and "referred," with all the petty pomp of a civic circumlocution office.

• • •

THEN, AGAIN, a great deal of time is wasted in dealing with communications. These are "received" and "referred," with all the dull pomposity of "moved," "seconded," and "carried," with no better result than delay, which often keeps important matters dragging.

• • •

WHY NOT GIVE the Clerk power when he receives a communication, to at once send it to the proper committee? We have a capable and experienced town clerk, whose training has given him better judgment of where they belong than the average alderman, especially one new to the business. If this were done, and the committee made their reports, matters would be settled much more quickly, and in respect of the great majority of communications, the matters would be settled at the meeting at which they are first made known.

• • •

IF THESE THINGS were done in these or some similar ways, more time would be left for the consideration and discussion of really important matters, for, in spite of a little pleasantry it is important, that matters of moment should be thoroughly discussed. Half a score of men discussing a subject would bring out nearly all the points, and there would be time left for serious discussion if so much time were not taken up by fussy routine with comparatively frivolous matters.

• • •

THE COUNCIL FOR 1903 have several important questions to engage their attention, and they should prepare themselves for the work by eliminating as far as possible the elements of routine and red-tape, which, under the present system, consume so much valuable time at the beginning of a meeting, and relegate really important matters to the late hours when members want to get home and are naturally disinclined to give them the attention they deserve.

• • •

TO CHANGE THE SUBJECT. Are you going to attend the Longley lecture under the aegis of the Fortnightly Club? Mr. Longley, Attorney General of Nova Scotia, is a clever lecturer, and his subject "Men I Have Met," is not a heavy one, and is sure to be treated in an interesting way.

• • •

WHY IS IT that the people of Peterborough seem to shun subjects, which threaten to make them think? The Fortnightly Club is not encouraged by its experience in bringing clever lecturers to Peterborough. In respect of patronizing something "heavy" or intellectual, the people of this town, are much behind those of Lindsay. There they have maintained with great success a literary institution which has been favoured with crowded houses to listen to the greatest men in letters and oratory in Canada. An ambitious programme is prepared for every season and a hearty public patronage brings success.

• • •

LET THE PEOPLE by a large attendance at the Longley lecture on January 15th show that we can appreciate something above the level of burnt-cork comedy, manslaughterous and mephitic melodrama, cake walkers and high kickers.

• • •

"DO LIKEWISE" is suggested by the incident of some unknown benefactor of the Children's Aid Society, who shoved $5 under the door of Mr. Cochrane, agent, without leaving a clue. That is real charity, on principle, not for glory of having a name paraded in public as a generous donor, though that is not without its merit if it tempts others to make gifts for good objects. The "widow's mite" can turn up in many forms and in the sight of Heaven weighs more than a "King's ransom" while the heralded gift of a million by a Rockefeller becomes as light as the chaff of the threshing floor or the dust of the balance. Money, red with the blood of toiling thousands at whose expense it is amassed, is not the most acceptable gift to lay on the altar of charity.

SCARLET FEVER SITUATION.

The announcement made in the Examiner last evening that the opening of the schools is deferred for another week on account of the continued prevalence of scarlet fever in town, reveals a serious condition of things and suggests the inquiry as to whether all is being done by the health authorities to confine the disease and stamp it out. It is a disease that can be stamped out, for it is infectious, not sporadic.

In view of the seriousness of the situation the Examiner consulted one of the leading and oldest physicians of the town, who agreed that the closing of the schools was justified, and considered that the precautions as to quarantine and isolation should be more rigidly enforced. This has not been done in the past. In the first stages of the out-break there was failure to report cases and consequently to placard houses; and all along there has been the most open disregard of quarantine and isolation. It seemed that a "Scarlet Fever" placard was no bar to outgoing of inmates or in-coming of callers. Fancy the criminal disregard of the public health involved in a person calling and taking dinner in the evening at an infected residence, as shown by the placard, and going from there to church. Fancy children from an infected house house going to neighbours' houses where there was a family of small children, who whether in consequence or not, at least following such a visit took scarlet fever and there is no assurance that fatal results may not follow. Precaution to prevent such intercourse may be considered frivolous by those who cannot subordinate their desire to please themselves to undergoing a little temporary inconvenience in the interests of the health and perhaps life of others. But, scarlet fever is an insiduously infectious disease and too stringent precautions cannot be taken.

The Chief of Police, health inspector, informs the Examiner that means are being taken to enforce isolation. He says that a member of the police force visits each of the placarded houses daily and assurances have been received that no member of the family who ventures out of the house has any communication with the affected member of the family. This seems to be all very well, but if this duty is perfunctorily performed, the deadly infection may easily escape and infect some person and form a new centre of spread. The Chief of Police says that only a dozen houses are placarded, that new cases have ceased to develop and that the out-break is on the wane and under control.

This seems to be re-assuring, but it does not indicate the wisdom of relaxing one iota of precaution. The same physician the Examiner consulted asserts that while scarlet fever is dangerous in the matter of infection it is most contagious at at the time of desquamation, or peeling. The patient is apparently recovered, and unwise and foolishly indulgent mothers, will allow "the little darling, who has been shut up so long," to go out and play — the very time when her contact with her playmates threatens to be the most fatal. The public are urged to be careful, and not expose the children of their neighbours to infection, that may end in death.

In connection with this phase of the matter, the physician referred to, spoke of the urgent necessity of thorough fumingation and disinfection. Unless this is properly and thoroughly done there is danger to members of families who have been sent away from home for safety, taking the disease. Infection has been known to linger in houses and be communicated to persons, after the lapse of months, and after what was considered sufficient disinfection. Private persons cannot be trusted, no matter how good the will, to properly and efficiently disinfect houses where scarlet fever has occurred. The work must be done thoroughly, and by persons having full knowledge of the way and means to disinfect properly, such as a Medical Health Officer, who will take no half measures, but see that the disinfection of the house is thorough, even if the inmates have to be temporarily evicted for the purpose. The people look to the Board of Health and authorities, to do their duty. We have elected a Mayor and Aldermen to look after our interests, and no interest is more vital than the health of the people.

It is to be hoped that the Council and the Board of Health will do their duty, without "fear, favour or affection," that they will see personally that the roseate view of the Health Officer is justified, and personally see that we are lulled into no false security. The people expect this from them, and will hold them responsible for any failure of duty that prevents the spread of the prevailing disease. There is need for vigilance yet, for when the Inspector's favourable report was mentioned to a clergyman this afternoon, he shook his head doubtfully, and expressed the fear that the disease was not at an end, but there was need for continued vigilance. At any rate vigilance for a time yet, will not do any harm, but may save some great suffering and many lives.

Very Gratifying

Our customers have taken us fairly by storm again this winter. Never before have we been favoured with so much selling of so much of the better class of Furs to such a large class of influential and desirable patrons.

The store is still bountifully full of HIGH-CLASS FURS—altogether different to what is ordinarily offered. And yet the prices are not different to the extent of being extravagant. You will be surprised at the many handsome things you can get with little-priced tickets on them.

PRIMITIVE PUMPS.

The Mechanism Used In Ancient Egypt and In China.

A representative piece of mechanism occurs frequently on the sculptures of early Egypt. It has the appearance of and is generally believed to be that of a portable pump. The hydraulic screw is also attributed to this people, but their main reliance seems always to have been the shadoof, seen everywhere along the banks of the Nile, an invention so simple and so well adapted to their needs that it remains today substantially the same at it has been through all the centuries since history began.

The same may be said regarding the chain pump in China, an invention the origin of which antedates the Christian era. This simple machine, which seems never to have been improved upon, is in such common use that every agricultural laborer is in possession of one. Where irrigation is conducted on a larger scale the chain pump is made proportionately larger and moved by a very simple tread wheel, and still larger ones are operated by yoking a buffalo or other animal to a suitable driving machine.

The application of steam to raising water is of uncertain origin. Long before the Christian era certain applications of fire to vessels containing water, by which effects were produced calculated to astonish ignorant worshipers, were practiced by the priests of Egypt, Greece and Rome, but their knowledge seems never to have been turned into any channel of secular usefulness.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 10.—Another cannery combine in British Columbia, with a capitalization of $5,000,000, the largest yet negotiated here, is almost an assured fact. Mr. D. Munn of New Westminster, has returned from England, where he secured the option of the stock and good-will of the English-owned canneries outside of the B. C. Packers' Association combine. He has options of 80 per cent. of all canneries in the northern waters and the Fraser River, which are not controlled by the association financed by Aemilius Jarvis last summer.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.

When you Grow Weak and Your Cheeks Lose Their Colour.

This Means Anaemia, and if Neglected Consumption may Follow—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the Only Certain Cure.

Anaemia, or poor or watery blood, is a trouble from which most growing girls, and many young boys suffer. It comes at a critical period of the young person's life, and unless prompt steps are taken to enrich the blood and thus strengthen the system, decline, and most likely consumption will follow. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that acts directly upon the blood and the nerves, promptly restoring the ailing one to complete health and strength. The following statement from Mrs. Lena M. Ryan, of Welland, whose daughter was a victim of anaemia, gives the strongest proof of the value of these pills. Mrs. Ryan says: "About three years ago the health of my daughter, Birdie, became so bad that I was seriously alarmed. She was pale and almost bloodless; had no appetite, lost flesh and suffered from severe headaches. I took her to a doctor, and although his treatment was followed for some time, it did not benefit her. I then tried some other remedies, but these also failed, and she had wasted away to a mere shadow of her former self. At this stage I was advised to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she began this treatment. Almost from the outset these pills helped her, and as she continued their use, the colour came back to her cheeks, her appetite improved, the headaches ceased to trouble her, and by the time she had taken eight boxes she felt stronger and better than she had ever done in her life before. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed for all ailments of this kind, and strongly recommend them to other mothers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure all cases like the above, but also cure all other troubles arising from poor blood or weak nerves, such as rheumatism, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, indigestion, kidney and liver troubles, scrofula, and eruptions of the skin, etc. These pills are also a direct cure for the ailments from which so many women suffer in silence. Give the pills a fair trial and they will not disappoint you. The genuine are sold only in boxes that have the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. If your dealer does not have them, send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Any person caught whistling in the streets of Buenos Ayres is liable to be arrested. The police alone have the right to whistle.

Economy In Eggs.

When eggs are expensive, it is well to remember that it is not necessary to boil a whole egg to get a yolk for garnishing. Separate white and yolk without breaking the latter and poach it hard in salted water. The white is saved for glazing or meringue, etc.

"NAME THIS CHILD."

Queer Things Which Happen at London Christenings.

From a Gainsborough clergyman comes the plea for the exercise of common sense by parents when naming their children. He protests against entering children for the race of life handicapped by bearing a name which may expose them to ridicule. Undoubtedly there is much cause for the appeal, though it may be thought to come strangely from a clergyman when one recalls that many curiosities of nomenclature have been drawn from the Scriptures. For, besides the bearers of the sensible if plain names of Peter, Paul, Luke, Matthew, and the like, and the corresponding multitude of Ruths, Marys, and Rebeccas, there have been a goodly number who answered to, but did not rejoice in, quaint names gathered from the tables of genealogy of the Old Testament, Scriptural names, however, are not now so common as they used to be; in fact, it is to be feared that modern mothers are more prone to select high-sounding names from novels than appellations from the Bible. But the clergyman's protest is rather directed against the growing inclination to give children "pet" names. The doting mother may think it pretty to call her child Kit or Popsie, but a grown man or woman hardly cares to sign these publicly.

Some curious reasons have been elicited in the endeavor to find out how and why children have come by unusual names. Gabriel and Ruth were babies of devout coolie parents. "Me call him Gabriel 'cause ob de great white angel who stan' at de doh' an' might look after him Ill' namesake." said the mother, who "hoped for heaven" for her son and she called her little girl Ruth, because they wished that the story of the real Ruth might lead her to self-sacrifice. These parents carried the practice of selecting Biblical names to extremes, for their dog was yclept Moreover, after the animal of whom it is written: "Moreover, the dog licked Lazarus' sores."

There is not much piety, however, in the ordinary circumstances that determine baby's name. Eastward, in the direction of Shoreditch, Whitechapel and Stepney, where babies are plentiful and sometimes not much regarded, it frequently happens that parents bring their offspring to be christened without having determined upon the name it shall bear. Then the services of the clergyman are requisitioned, and as a rule, another John or Mary is added to the register. Most Johns and Marys are Johns and Marys because their parents were so named before them; but when all the names of father and mother and uncles and aunts are exhausted, distracted parents resort to Ernestina, Hyacinth, Beryl, Agamemnon, Clarissa, Miranda, or catch thankfully at any current event which may help them in their dilemma Thus arose the full crop of little Pretorias, Bullers, and Kitcheners.

It is sad to think of a small girl having to answer the attendance roll call at school to the name of Majuba Jenks, or, as one maiden will, Polly Paardeberg Mason. Poll's papa fought at Paardeberg, and her mother may be pardoned for wishing to record the fact, but the name will give away Polly's age in the days when she begins to be sensitive on the subject. In the war time Pretoria seems to have been first favorite, because less cumberous than Bloemfontein and the other tid-bits of Transvaal momenclature. Reminiscences of the craze remain in Colenso Cook, Kitchener Roberts Jenkins, and Victoria Ladysmith Brown—most registers had a share of this patriotic admiration. Not till actually glancing through the district registers is it realized how much environment influences the question of names. Mary Anns and Emmas, Emilys and Jacks, Bills, and Harrys grow up thickly in the neighborhood of the docks by Poplar and Limehouse, while naturally in the Jewish quarters of Whitechapel and Aldgate are found Joshua, Moses, Rebecca, Solomon, Isaac, Hannah reduplicated into monotony.—London Telegraph.

Australia's Climbing Frogs.

It is said that one of the great enemies of the overland telegraph line in Central Australia is the common green frog. In order to save the insulators from being broken by the lightning they are provided with wire "droppers" leading round them at a little distance to conduct on to the iron pole ib case of need. The frogs climb the poles and find the insulators cool and pleasant to their bodies, and fancy that the "dropper" is put there to furnish them with a back seat. After a nap they yawn and stretch out a leg until it touches the pole—result, sudden death to the frog, and as the body continues to conduct the current to earth we have a paragraph in the papers to the effect that "in consequence of an interruption to the lines probably caused by a cyclonic disturbance in the interior, we are unable to present our readers with the usual cables from England!"—Argonaut.

ONE MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Isaac Jenkins Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Now he Advises Others to do Likewise.

How often have you heard the remark, "I would like to eat some of that, but I am afraid to." You may depend upon it that the person who talks that way is living in constant terror of his stomach; that the pleasure of eating is spoiled by the fear of what may follow.

Thousands of people live and die in that hopeless condition. They are victims of their own scepticism. They refuse to believe the testimony of thousands of others who have suffered similarly, but who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and been completely and permanently cured. Isaac Jenkins of 116 Dundas street, Toronto, is on eof the latter, and he says:

"I had been trouble dwith Dyspepsia for one year and I could not get any relief. I would have a sour stomach and heartburn and could never touch any fish food. I was told that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets would cure me, and I tried them. I only had need to use half a box when I was cured."

You can't find a dyspeptic who has ever used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Physicians say nothing is so helpful for throat and lung troubles, whether acute or chronic, and for wasting diseases, as Angier's Petroleum Emulsion with Hypophosphites. It is pleasant to take and agrees with the stomach.

It relieves congestion and irritation, soothes and heals the bronchial tubes, makes breathing easy, changes the character of expectoration, and cures the cough. Its effects are rapid. It aids digestion, helps assimilate the food, and has a healthy action upon the bowels. Pills and aperients are unnecessary.

I was troubled with bronchitis for ten years, being frequently unable to work for months at a time. I tried many remedies with poor results. I used Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and feel like a new man. I have not been so well for many years.—Robert Weir, Toronto, Canada.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is sold by druggists everywhere. Remember the name and insist on getting Angier's. Large size, $1.00. Small, 50c.

NATURAL HISTORY.

All animals ruminate which have horns and cloven feet.

The offspring of two rabbits might in ten years number 70,000,000.

Flying fish have been known to jump ten feet above the surface of the sea.

The puffin is the most punctual of birds in the matter of its annual migration.

The moose deer has the largest horns of any animal. They often weigh from fifty to sixty pounds.

The boa and python have the largest number of ribs of any animals, the number being 320 pairs.

Some few birds, notably the bluethroat, accomplish the whole of their migratory journey in one stupendous effort.

The reindeer can endure more than any other draft animal except the camel. A reindeer has been known to pull 200 pounds at ten miles an hour for twelve hours.

Malt Breakfast Food

A Perfect Food for Promoting Perfect Digestive Vigour.

"I love Malt Breakfast Food." This is the verdict of the thousands of young and old who have used this perfect health food.

Malt Breakfast Food differs from all other breakfast foods because it contains the great digestive agent—malt diastase. This healthful agent causes the food to digest easily and quickly, and gives a delicious flavour of which you will never grow tired.

Children thrive fast on Malt Breakfast Food. Nervous people, dyspeptics, brain workers and invalids like it because of its fine flavour and remarkable strength giving qualities. It is a perfect food for all kinds of people, weak, or strong, young or old. Ask your grocer for it.

The First Skaters.

It is very doubtful which race first skated, for traces have been found among prehistoric remains all over northern Europe indicating that the art was practiced by primitive peoples. The Eskimo of the farthest north are also found to be in possession of runners carved from whalebone.

Skating is mentioned by a Danish historian about 1134, and Fitzstephen in his "History of London" says that in the twelfth century young men fastened the leg bones of animals under their feet by means of thongs in order to slide along the ice. This statement is confirmed by the pair of bone skates of the period now in the British museum. It is likely, however, that these early Londoners got the idea from Holland, probably via Lincolnshire, where skates have been used on the frozen fens from very remote times.

The Only Exception.

"She's unusually conscientious, you say?"

"Yes, indeed; even in the smallest details of life."

"Able to resist any sort of a temptation?"

"Unquestionably."

"Has she ever been to Europe?"

The champion of woman looked startled.

"Oh, well," he said, "of course, if she had a chance to smuggle a few gowns into the country, why—why—that's a different matter."

The Eyes and the Temper.

There are experts on the eyes who hold stoutly to the theory that troubles in vision often cause serious lapses from a well ordered life among children and that disobedience, ill temper, cruelty, wanton destructiveness and hysterics are frequently due among youngsters to aberrations and to ailments which affect the sense of sight. Such a theory may appear to be carried so far as to be almost a fad, yet there may be something in it.

The Anchor.

"Sailors are awful forgetful, ain't they?" asked little Elsie.

"Why, what makes you think that?" inquired her papa.

"Because every time they leave a place they have to weigh their anchor. If they weren't forgetful, they'd remember the weight."

IMPROVED ON NATURE.

A Point That Won a Lawsuit For William McKinley.

A year or two after William McKinley had begun the practice of the law at Canton, O., he distinguished himself in a humorous fashion in one of his first successful cases. As often happens in court, the humor was not merely for the sake of the joke, but for serious purpose. Mr. Edward T. Roe in "The Life Work of William McKinley" tells the story.

The case was a suit against a surgeon, whom the plaintiff charged with having set his leg so badly that it was bowed. McKinley defended the surgeon and found himself pitted against John McSweeney, one of the most brilliant lawyers of the Ohio bar.

McSweeney brought his client into court and had him expose the injured limb to the jury. It was very crooked, and the case looked bad for the surgeon. But McKinley had both his eyes open, as usual, and fixed them keenly on the other man's leg.

As soon as the plaintiff was turned over to him he asked that the other leg should also be bared. The plaintiff and McSweeney objected vigorously, but the judge ordered it done. Then it appeared that his second leg was still more crooked than that which the surgeon had set.

"My client seems to have done better by this man than nature itself did," said McKinley, "and I move that the suit be dismissed, with a recommendation to the plaintiff that he have the other leg broken and then set by the surgeon who set the first one."

Revolution in Newfoundland.

Since the introduction into Newfoundland, of the now Inhaler Remedy, "Catarrhozone," the treatment of catarrhal diseases has been entirerevolutionized. The old-time snuff and internal medicines have been cast aside and everyone is inhaling Catarrhozone; it clears the head and throat in two minutes, and is very agreeable and pleasant to use. Catarrhozone is a wonderful cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Deafness. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. We advise our readers to try Catarrhozone. Price, $1; trial size, 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Salt Habit.

Orientals, who understand the niceties of eating from a hygienic standpoint much better than we of the occident, always take salt with their cheese. After one becomes addicted to the salt and apple habit he feels that apples should never be eaten in any other way.

Fossil coral, found in Fiji, is the best building stone in the world. It is soft when first cut, but hardens to the consistency of firebrick after a few months' weathering.

Only For Pleasure.

In a grand old city in the southwest of England, one so grave, so solemn, that it cannot see its own jokes, may be read on the notice board of a grassy inclosure: "Pleasure Grounds. Notice—These grounds are for pleasure only. No games or play allowed!"

Nerve Disorders of Women

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

A WEAK HEART.

Hill Climbing or Stair Mounting Will Strengthen the Organ.

It is not many years ago that the belief prevailed that a sufferer from heart disease was in constant peril whenever he moved and that the nearer he approached absolute rest the better it was for his heart. This is still true in respect to certain forms of heart disease—those due to actual disease or degeneration of the heart muscles—but when the disease is in the valves, as it is in the majority of cases, the modern teaching is that properly regulated exercise is beneficial. This is founded upon the common sense view that the heart is like other muscles in that it can be strengthened by exercise to meet increased calls upon it.

When the valves of a pump get out of order, it requires greater force to move a given quantity of water. If this force can be applied, it will make up for the defect in the valves. The same principle holds good in the case of the diseased heart; the valvular defect must be made good—"compensation" is the medical term for this process—by increased strength in the heart muscle.

The heart must be able not only to meet the ordinary, everyday extra strain—this it does automatically, as it were, by the unaided efforts of nature—but it must be stronger than necessary, just as it is in health, to meet some extra strain caused by illness, a sudden nervous shock or some absolutely necessary exertion. It is evident, therefore, that a diseased heart must to assure the safety of the patient be strengthened beyond the requirements of a quiet life.

This is accomplished in various ways, but none is better for the purpose than hill climbing or stair climbing, the former for pleasant days, the latter for bad weather. The exercise should, of course, be taken under the direction of a physician, for it can easily be overdone, in which case one of the bad conditions against which it is the object of the exercise to provide will be artificially produced and the heart will be overtaxed before it is strong enough to withstand the extra strain.

A CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY.

Mr. James Ross, of Montreal, Managing Director of the Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron and Steel Companies.

Mr. James Ross of Montreal, whose portrait is here given, is without doubt one of the greatest of Canadian captains of industry. As Managing Director of the Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron & Steel Companies alone, Mr. Ross controls an army of men who are transforming Cape Breton from an almost forgotten corner of remote Nova Scotia into one of the greatest centres of coal and steel production in America. This represents, however, but a small part of Mr. Ross' activities. He is one of the controlling forces of most of the street railway systems of Canada, in company with Mr. Wm. Mackenzie, including those of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and St. John. He completed the C.P.R. across the plains and over the Rockies. He built the Calgary & Edmonton line and the Regina & Long Lake Railway, important feeders of the transcontinental system. Away back, almost a quarter of a century ago, he built the Credit Valley Railway in this Province. The mere mention of his work since he came to America thirty years ago would make a lengthy article. Mr. Ross was born in Cromarty, Scotland, in 1848, and is therefore still a long way on the sunny side of sixty. He has promised to devote his energies largely to the development at Sydney, C. B., and his name will in the future be intimately bound up with the Canadian Pittsburg.

MR. JAMES ROSS.

Where Microbes Thrive.

Microbes live longer in dimly lighted than in sunny rooms and Gaffky suspects that the lessened sunshine is one reason why disease germs flourish better in winter than in summer. He notes that influenza epidemics have never occurred in Germany except when the weather has been long cloudy. He has found that in droplets such as are expelled in speaking or coughing the typhoid bacillus retains its vitality twenty-four hours in daylight, the diphtheria bacillus twenty-four to forty-eight hours in daylight and five days in a cellar, the tubercle bacillus five days in daylight and twenty-two days in a cellar, the boil microbe eight to ten days in daylight and thirty-five says in a cellar and anthrax spores ten weeks in daylight and at least three months in a cellar.

The Earth.

If the earth were equally divided among its present inhabitants, each of us, man, woman and child, would get twenty-three and a half acres.

School Gardens.

In many of the continental cities and in some few American cities gardens are laid out in the neighborhood of public schools, and the children are taught to cultivate them.

Neuralgia

is Rheumatism of the face. Uric Acid left in the blood by disordered kidneys lodges along the nerve which branches from the eye over the forehead, and across the cheek to the side of the nose. The cause is the same as in all Rheumatism—disordered Kidneys. The cure is likewise the same—

H. O. STABLER

TOLD OF AN AUTHOR.

Why James M. Barrie Is Not Popular in Thrums—The Old Janitor of the Town Hall Expresses Himself.

James M. Barrie is persona non grata in Thrums, or Girriemuir, which you must pronounce Kirriemuir if you do not wish to be regarded askance by the Thrums "fowk." Barrie drew from life and must share the opprobrium that attaches to prosaic things—in the minds of the prosaic people pictured.

"Do I ken Jeems Barrie?" said the old janitor of the town hall. "Oh, aye, I ken 'im as I kent his father an mither afore 'im."

"Have you read his books?"

"Oh, aye!"

There was a reservation in the tone which piqued the visitor's curiosity.

"Don't you like them?"

"I'm nae thinkin' muckle aboot them. Hey! I know mony a story that my gran'mither told me that's be better than ony o' Jeems Barrie's."

Girriemuir is a weaving town. That is how Barrie happened to call it Thrums. The thrums are the ends of the threads which remain in the loom after the finished web is cut out. They go only to the ragbag, and that seems to be at the bottom of the village grievance against Barrie. The pride of the native seems touched because, as they insist, they have been represented as thrums—a thing useless and worthless.

No amount of argument can make them see it in any other light; hence Barrie's unpopularity in his own town. Perhaps Mr. Barrie doesn't care; perhaps he does. The author of "Sentimental Tommy" is quite a philosopher. He can be delightfully whimsical at times, too—almost as whimsical as in his latest story. "The Little White Bird."

It is told of Mr. Barrie that on meeting a famous fellow author for the first time he responded to the other's compliments by saying:

"It's all very well to be able to write books, but can you waggle your ears?"

The ability to do so is one of Mr. Barrie's many accomplishments. When the late Henry Drummond was lecturing to a class of students on natural science, he mentioned that the power of moving the scalp and ears was one of the few characteristics of our simian ancestors occurring occasionally in men, and immediately several of the students gave practical demonstration of it, much to Drummond's delight.

Kitchener Anecdotes.

Lord Kitchener's tenderness to the wounded is not generally known. He does not court the apotheosis of the picture paper. One instance will suffice to show how he does Christian things which are heard of only by those affected. A young officer in Pretoria was getting convalescent when Lord Kitchener, who knew nothing of him, came to his bedside and asked where he was wounded and how he was getting along. "All you want now is fresh air," Lord Kitchener is reported by the young officer himself to have said: "My carriage shall call for you in the morning," and Lord Kitchener, the story goes, walked, while his carriage was given up to men who had no other claim on him than that of having suffered hurt in the discharge of their duty.

Lord Kitchener has been a sort of emergency man in Africa. He clinched his chance at the time of the outbreak of the Egyptian war in 1882, by a ruse which is second best to Nelson's blind eye. He was on leave of absence in Alexandria. In order that he might not have to depart just when war was imminent, he wasted time by sending a telegraphic request that his leave should be extended. The war had begun before he got the reply recalling him; his knowledge of Arabic made him invaluable to the British general. If he had not so readily detected and so eagerly grasped his opportunity he might not have been known today as conqueror alike of the Khalifa and the Boers. In the Soudan he conquered with the railway, every length laid being another nail in the Khalifa's coffin; in South Africa he achieved a similar end with the aid of the blockhouse. Military operations were simplified in the one case as in the other by mechanical contrivance. In India the scientific northwest frontier is likely to be made more scientific still when Lord Kitchener is its warden.—Public Opinion.

Gloomy Predictions for 1903.

Old Moore's Almanac for the first six months of 1903 has just been published in London, and some very gloomy predictions appear in it.

In January, it says, there will be troubles in the east and a conspiracy in Ireland. In February there will be trouble and bloody riots in Spain. In March both Great Britain and Spain will meet with serious losses, the former in the Transvaal and at the Cape and the latter at home. In April there will be political assassinations in England, furious conflicts in China and conspiracies in Turkey. In May there will be a famine in India and a civil war in Spain, and in June a prosperous epoch will begin for England and one of misfortune for Germany.

Feeding the Children.

Last year 184 "necessitous" schools were assisted, an average weekly number of 2,085 children being fed, the total average weekly meals provided being 47,000, over 300 children being fed each week at some of the schools. Head teachers supply information as to how many children are underfed; enquiry is then made into the home condition of the little ones and a list of names prepared.—London correspondent Toronto Telegram.

Well Sold Stamps.

A sale of postage stamps at the Hotel Cecil, London, fetched big prices. Among the stamps sold was a Newfoundland 1s and a 6d color carmine-vermillion that sold for 11 guineas.

Cause of Splitting Headaches.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache.

Ferrozone is Nature's own remedy for headaches; it is a blood strengthener and purifier of uncommon merit, a lasting potent tonic and the greatest invigorant and health maker known. Headaches never bother people who take Ferrozone after each meal. Buy a box from your druggist for 50c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

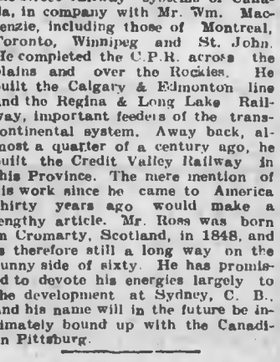
The Spitting Snake.

A snake found in Africa is called the spitting snake by the Boers. It is between two and three feet long and is especially bold and active, readily attacking every one who approaches it. In confinement it is very savage, opening its mouth and erecting its fangs, from which the poison may be often observed to drop and even sometimes to be forcibly ejected; whence the name given it by the Boers.

Sources of Alcohol.

Some terribly potent liquors, it is said can be distilled from the innocent looking banana and also from the milk of the cocoanut. The Japanese make a beverage from plums and from the flowers of the motherwort and the peach. The Chinese produce several qualities of spirit from rice and peas, all of them intoxicating, besides which they can make an alcoholic drink from mutton.



Mirth is an almost infallible sign of good health. A sick woman may force a smile or at times be moved to laughter. But when a woman is bubbling over with mirth and merriment she is surely a well woman.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength. It establishes regularity and so does away with monthly misery. It dries debilitating drains and so cures the cause of much womanly weakness. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures the bearing-down pains, which are such a source of suffering to sick women.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weakness," writes Mrs. Samuel Permenter, of Pacific Store, Shelby Co., Texas. "I was troubled with bearing-down pains in my back and hips for six years, and I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. I tried his Favorite Prescription and six bottles cured me. I feel like a new person and I thank Dr. Pierce for my health. Life is a burden to any one without health. I have told a great many of my friends about the great medicine I took."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

COMPOSED UPON WESTMINSTER BRIDGE.

(Early Morning.)

Earth has not anything to show more fair:
Dull would he be of soul who could pass by
A sight so touching in its majesty:
This city now doth like a garment wear
The beauty of the morning: silent, bare,
Ships, towers, domes, theatres and temples lie
Open unto the fields, and to the sky;
All bright and glittering in the smokeless air.
Never did sun more beautifully steep
In his splendor valley, rock or hill.
Ne'er saw I, never felt, a calm so deep!
The river glideth at his own sweet will:
Dear God! the very houses seem asleep;
And all that mighty heart is lying still!
—William Wordsworth.

Taking a Chance.

He looked happy enough as he walked up to the postoffice box, set a huge bundle on the floor and began taking pretty square envelopes therefrom, dropping them by twos and threes into the box.

"Big lot of letters," remarked the policeman. "Nice day too."

"Letters?" said the happy man. "My dear fellow, these are not letters. They are wedding invitations."

A stern look came over the face of the hitherto friendly policeman.

"My friend," he said, "I am sorry to disturb you, but I must do my duty. Come with me."

"Arrested?"

"Yes."

"On what charge, sir? This is an outrage."

"Not at all. You are advertising a lottery through the post."

The man went along.

A GUARANTEED CURE
For all Forms of Kidney Disease.

We the undersigned druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys.

"Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after the use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

The Rose.

Old as the history of the world itself is that of the queen of flowers. The ancient Greeks and Romans reveled in roses. They were used lavishly at their feasts. In the time of the republic the people had their cups of falernian wine swimming with blooms, and the Spartan soldiers, after the battle of Cirrha, refused to drink any wine that was not perfumed with roses, while at the regatta of Baiæ the whole surface of the Lucrine lake was strewn with flowers.

It Muddled Him.

"It gets me," confided the intoxicated individual who was gazing into the florist's window—"it gets me! I d'know wezzer a chr'chr'chr'sannemum looks like a Skye terrier or wezzer a Skye terrier looks like a chr-chr-izziannium."

But the policeman got him just then, and the problem ceased to get him for the time being.

Sought Bargain in War.

Edward III. had just announced his intention of beginning the Hundred Years' war.

"But," sobbed Queen Philippa, "can't you reduce it to ninety-eight?"

Maddened, however, by this request for a bargain, he rushed out at once and pawned their crowns to pay the troops.

FIRST DOSE RELIEVED.

I had a very severe cold and used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The first dose gave relief, and part of the bottle completely cured me. At the same time my mother had such a severe cold and cough that she was confined to her bed. She also used the Syrup and it gave her almost instant relief. I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from coughs and colds. MRS. FRANK E. HARVEY, Harleyville, N.S.

Corticelli SPOOL SILK

For dressmaking and family sewing Corticelli Silk is the best silk made. For hand or machine use it has no equal.

Corticelli Silk runs smoothly in the needle; it is always even in size, and always full length and full strength. Ask your dealer for "Corticelli," and patiently, but firmly, refuse all substitutes, which some clerks may say are "just as good." You may be sure they all lack the many excellent qualities of the genuine Corticelli Silk.

Corticelli Asiatic Dyes Wash Silks
In Patent Holders
The Colors Are Fast — The Silk the Best

Put up in Patent Holders, which prevents waste by tangling or soiling—keeps each shade separate, and automatically measures a correct needleful. Recommended as "the only proper way to get up Filo and Floss silks," and used by Art Societies everywhere. Over four hundred different shades to select from.

Corticelli Skirt Protector
DOUBLE WEARING QUALITIES
PERFECTLY STRAIGHT SELVAGE

Corticelli Skirt Protector is of Arm Knit even texture. When soiled a sponge or brush washes it clean again, and no damage done. Corticelli Skirt Protector is a great favorite with fashionable and careful dressers.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self-abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."

Sales to noon, 320,900.
*Split

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co. from McIntyre & Marshall, of New York and Chicago:

New York, Jan. 10th, 1. p.m.—There was a continuation of activity in market to-day, with sales to noon 700,000 shares well distributed throughout the list. Buying power shows no relaxation notwithstanding further and plain evidence of profit-taking by some important interests, and a break in Reading of four points under a continuation of what appeared to be heavy selling by operator, formerly very bullish on this stock. Bank statement better than generally expected. That the loan account should show a decrease after such a week of activity is surprising. Advantage was taken of favourable statement to further realize profits and with this selling movement spreading to trading element market closed in extremely irregular condition. B. O., B. R. T., R. G. and S. P. were the stocks which showed the heaviest pressure along with the Eries, M.O.P. and the Grangers. London sales were estimated at 50,000 shares. The speculation and general character of trading is much the same, about half of which obtained in bull movement in spring of 1901. Then the bull campaign which was conducted by the large market interests followed a policy of taking up one group of stocks after another and when the general list showed signs of a sharp set-back from over-buying and profit-taking sales, another new group of stocks would be taken in hand and bid up with them. This is the way the market has been acting since the inauguration of present bull movement. It would seem as though some re-action is now in order and we therefore advise greater caution against overtrading and discrimination in purchases.

LOST IN HOTELS.

Queer Things That Absentminded Guests Forget to Take Away.

Every hotel in New York has a storeroom for articles left behind by guests. It is one of the important departments of the establishment and often earns the gratitude of travelers whose unfortunate habit of forgetting leads them to look for things that are missing. In hotels a book is kept in which are jotted down descriptions of articles forgotten. When a hotel does a large transient business, it is frequently with difficulty that lost articles are arranged for identification.

The integrity of servants must be relied upon to a large extent. The chambermaid takes immediate possession of a room upon the guest's departure. She picks up anything that appears to have been left unintentionally. A note describing the article and giving the name of the guest, the room number and the time of departure is taken to the clerk. The property is turned over to the housekeeper and by her to the "lost" department.

Said the clerk of one fashionable hotel: "I remember a singular case of a man who didn't respond at once to the hall boy's call for an early train. The result was that when he did get up he had to run. From the station we got a call on the telephone:

"'Hurry to my room,' he shouted, 'and on the table you'll find a very valuable package. It's my eyes. Send them to the station.'

"Sure enough, we found two glass eyes on the dressing table in a plush case. One was for daily use and the other for an emergency. Guests often forget their false teeth, but that was the only case I ever knew of a man leaving his eyes."

Rings and pins are often found on the washstand. Valuable pins are found everywhere, the window curtains being a favorite depository. Watches and revolvers bob out from under pillows. Of course when the owner's address is known and anything valuable is left he is notified and the article sent to him. If not called for in a few months, the forgotten article usually becomes the perquisite of employees.

A Great Bridge Span.

In the valley of Petruffe, in Luxembourg, Germany, stands the largest single span of any masonry bridge in the world, with a length of 277 feet and a height of 102 feet.

A Monster Gold Nugget.

There is a monster gold nugget lying at the bottom of the Atlantic. It was shipped from Santo Domingo to the king of Spain 400 years ago as a tangible proof of the value of Columbus' discovery, but was lost in a storm, together with 30,000 ounces of smaller golden specimens.

Lemon Extract.

In Sicily machines are used for extracting essence from lemon peels. Each machine has a capacity of 16,000 half peels a day. The women and boys who do the work get 16 cents for ten hours.

Lions Kill a Panther.

At a menagerie in Paris three lions managed to make their way into a neighboring cage, in which a panther was lodged. A terrible fight ensued, and despite the efforts of the keepers the panther was literally torn to pieces by the intruders.

Naples Laborers.

Since 1860 the wages of laborers in Naples have doubled, but the taxes have trebled. Even now wages are only from 10 to 25 cents a day.

The Earth's Diameter.

Although the diameter of the earth has been roughly known for many years, it has only been accurately ascertained after thirty years' labor. It is 7,926 miles at the equator and 7,899 from pole to pole.

It is stated that some of the donkeys in Persia have their nostrils slit almost up to their eyes. This is done to facilitate their breathing in warm weather.

A Tiresome Person.

"No," said Mr. Biggins; "I haven't any use for philosophers."

"Why not?"

"My idea of a philosopher is a man who pretends he enjoys hard luck."

LATEST IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Varsity Hockeyists Play Here To-night.

Some Curling Notes Interest—The Visit of the Scottish Curlers to Peterborough.

Lindsay is going to have a visit from the Scottish curlers at last. The matter has been see-sawing for some time, but arrangements have been finally completed whereby the visitors will run up to Lindsay per special train and come back the same evening. The arrangement whereby Lindsay will be honoured with a visit from the Scotchmen, was the result, to a great extent, of the action of Lieut.-Colonel E. B. Edwards, chairman of the Visiting Committee, and is generally looked upon as simple justice from the local curlers to the Scugog men. There should be no disappointment expressed by the Peterborough Curling Clubs over the arrangements. Lindsay is by long odds the greatest curling town in Canada, and the curlers of Peterborough should view the matter, not from a selfish standpoint, but in a broad-minded way, and be pleased to see the men from across the sea meet the club which has done so much for the grand old game of curling in this province. The Scottish curlers will be in Peterborough from 5.10 o'clock on Tuesday evening until some time on Wednesday afternoon. They will return again on Wednesday night, per special train, and will be here until Thursday morning. What more could Peterborough expect? It would be very fine to have them play here on both Tuesday and Wednesday nights, but it would be unreasonable to have them do so at the sacrifice of a visit to Lindsay. By conceding a little in such a matter it will do more to cultivate a friendly spirit amongst the curlers of the two towns than all the inter-club matches that can be arranged for the next five years.

* * * *

The visit of the Scottish Curlers to Peterborough should not be looked upon as an occasion on which the local men should centre all their energies on merely defeating their opponents. Their ambition should not, and we hope will not, be that alone. The visit of the Scotchmen should be one of National importance. They are men of prominence on their respective communities and the occasion of their visit to Peterborough as well as to other portions of Canada should be taken advantage of by Canadians to impress upon their minds the greatness of our centres of industry, the loyalty of His Majesty's subject here, and the hospitality of our people. The curling feature should be conducive to a more intimate degree of personal friendship. Outside of the programme of curling events, the Scotchmen should be shown the sights around Peterborough, we should endeavour to impress them with the advantages Peterborough possesses as a great manufacturing centre, and they should be entertained in a manner that will impress upon their minds for many years to come their visit to the banner town of Canada.

HOCKEY.

Several 'bus loads of rooters accompanied St. Peter's T.A.S. hockey club to Bobcaygeon to-day, where they will play their first game in the Trent Valley League Series.

* * * *

The hockey-loving public should have an opportunity of seeing what should prove to be a fast game of hockey, in the Brock street rink this evening, when the Varsity seven, of Toronto, and the local team will face each other. The game will commence at 8.30 o'clock, sharp. The doors of the rink will be thrown open to the public at 7.30 o'clock. The west side of the rink will be reserved and no smoking will be allowed there. Smoking will be permitted on the east side of the rink. It is requested that as many as possible obtain their tickets at Ormond & Walsh's before the game in order to avoid a congestion of business at the wickets.

ANOTHER STIRRING CLOTHING SALE
..AT..
H. LeBrun & Co's

$35,000 Worth of High-Class Winter Clothing and Furnishings, also Cloths for Suitings and Overcoatings and Trouserings, to be sold at Reductions ranging from 15 to 33⅓ per cent.

This Sale has been forced upon us because business has increased so much since we moved into our new double store that we are compelled to begin extensive alterations for refitting the interior with improved glass counters, show cases and fixtures for saving more room.

YOU WILL REMEMBER

that last year, about this time, we held a most successful Red Letter Reduction Sale. It was our first genuine clearing sale in twenty-nine years. And the people tried us, tested us, and took away proof that we do as we advertise. Now we come forward with another event. This Genuine Refitting and Radical Reduction Sale will be conducted along the same square and fair lines as before. The decks must be cleared and the stock reduced. We have the backbone and the reputation to make the reductions genuine and sweeping.

Sale Begins Saturday, Jan. 10

We take stock February 1st and before that date Winter Goods must go. Come and bring your friends if you want solid, safe Bargains in OVERCOATS and SUITS, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HATS, CAPS, etc.

IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

The head of the largest meat packing industry in the world, for many years, prior to his death, never travelled without his physician; everywhere he was accompanied by his medical adviser; he hired him for his exclusive attendance by the year and considered the large salary paid for such service as a part of his business investment. He did not do this because he was a hypochondriac, in constant fear of illness and death; on the contrary he was an exceptionally robust man, but he realized that the principal asset in his enormous business was his own personal health, and to keep physically and mentally well and strong was a business proposition, pure and simple.

It is so with every business man and woman. A slight cold in the head or throat may pass off in a few days, or it may develop into Pneumonia, Chronic Catarrh, or an irritating throat trouble; in any event its departure should be hastened by some simple anti septic preparation like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach and destroy the germs of Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the inflamed mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

To burden the stomach with drugs and stimulants is a foolish and often dangerous way to combat a cold, because stimulants are always followed by corresponding depression and where there is any tendancy to Pneumonia increases the danger by increasing the heart's action.

A popular school teacher in Pittsburg writes: "I am a walking advertisement for Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; the change from a crowded steam heated school room to a raw, chill out doors kept me nursing colds in the head and throat from fall to spring. Throat irritation made it difficult for me to read or speak and conduct my classes. My druggist with whom I spent a large part of my salary for cough lozenges and potash tablets one day advised me to try Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and I shall never cease to thank him. I still catch cold occasionally but I stop it in a day or two with the tablets, and I have done missionary work with my pupils to such an extent that coughs and colds are almost unknown amongst the youngsters in my room.

BARRISTER WON

His Action for the Recovery of $100 Commission on Sale.

This case was a claim of $100 commission earned on selling the hotel business of the McGregor House for the late proprietor, Mr. J. A. Macdonald, to Mr. John White, of Peterborough. The trial took place at the sittings of the Second Division Court held in Norwood on the 19th of November. Judge Edmison reserved judgment at the time and subsequently handed out a written judgment in Mr. Ghent's favour for the full amount o the claim, and costs, which judgment become effective on the 30th December. — Norwood Register.

The Tranquil Mind.

Who does not love a tranquil heart, a sweet tempered, balanced life? It does not matter whether it rains or shines of what misfortunes come to those possessing these blessings, for they are always sweet, serene and calm.

That exquisite poise of character which we call serenity is the last lesson of culture; it is the flowering of life, the fruitage of the soul.

It is as precious as wisdom, more to be desired than gold—yea, than even fine gold. How contemptible mere money wealth looks in comparison with a serene life—a life which dwells in the ocean of truth, beneath the waves, beyond the reach of tempests, in the eternal calm!

How many people we know who sour their lives, who ruin all that is sweet and beautiful by explosive tempers, who destroy their poise of character by bad blood! In fact it is a question whether the great majority of people do not ruin their lives and mar their happiness by lack of self control. How few people we meet in life who are well balanced, who have that exquisite poise which is characteristic of the finished character!

Heedlessness.

Heedlessness may not be one of the seven deadly sins, but could the perpetrator oftener witness the result of his act a whole list of casualties would become obsolete. A little Italian boy, lightly clad, was recently helping to sort out bottles from a city dump heap. In trying to remove a stopper from a condensed milk jar he accidentally broke the glass, and a powerful acid poured down his side. The child fell screaming to the ground, terribly burned. He will be crippled for life. The person who, after finishing some experiment or process, corked the cupful of innocent looking acid in the bottle and threw it into the ash barrel "didn't think."

Repulsed by Bees.

A striking incident of the relief of Cawnpore was the rout of the Ninth lancers by a swarm of bees. A village in the line of march was found to be defended by a hastily improvised stockade, on the top of which a number of hives were stuck. Into one of these a young officer jabbed his sword, with a result that in far less time than it takes to tell it the whole advance guard was racing for dear life to the rear, and Sir Hope Grant hastily formed line of battle, believing it repulsed by the mutineers in force.

Rice Stuffing.

Rice stuffing for roast chicken or turkey is considered preferable to the usual breadcrumbs. To prepare it brown one chopped onion in a tablespoonful of butter and mix with it four cupfuls of cold boiled rice and one cupful of breadcrumbs that have been moistened in one cupful of milk. Season with sage, parsley or other sweet herbs, as desired. Add half a pound of sausage meat or finely chopped salt pork and salt and pepper to taste.

FATAL GOSSIPING.

Mother Hanged Her Two Boys and Then Took Her Life.

Palmira, Wis., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Amelia Roller of this place hanged her two children, Arthur, aged three years, and Clarence, aged five, Saturday, and then committed suicide by hanging herself. She is supposed to have been insane. In a note written to a friend before the tragedy, Mrs. Roller said: "I am driven to it by gossips of Palmira."

EUROPEANS LEAVING.

Conflicting News Regarding Situation at Fez.

SULTAN ARRESTS BROTHER

Moroccan Sultan Is Suspicious of Mulai Mohammed—Keeps Loyal Horsemen From the South Around His Person Instead of Sending Them Against the Rebels—Foreign Consuls to Leave at Once.

London, Jan. 12.—A despatch to The Daily Express from Tangier, Morocco, says all the Europeans of Fez have now left that place, and that the foreign consuls there will follow immediately.

Re-Arrests His Brother.

Madrid, Jan. 12.—A despatch to El Liberal from Tangier, Morocco, says: Official reports from Fez declare the Sultan has rearrested his brother, Mulai-Mohammed.

Sultan Suspects Brother.

Tangier, Morocco, Jan. 12.—The departure of five women missionaries, four of whom are English and one American, from Fez, January 8, for Tangier, had long been meditated and was not an outcome of new developments.

Many sensational reports are current here of affairs in Fez, but there is little reliable news to be had. It is considered a satisfactory feature, however, that the tribes to the south of Fez are remaining quiet.

Some Jews have been murdered in the Haina region.

The Sultan is reported to be suspicious of the movements of his brother, Mulai-Mohammed. His Majesty keeps the loyal horsemen from the south around his person, instead of sending them against the rebels.

Sultan Again Defeated.

Paris, Jan. 12.—A despatch to The Journal from Tangier says a Moorish courier who left Fez Jan. 7 brings news of a battle between the Sultan's troops and the rebels, in which the former were defeated. The Sultan has made known his intention, according to the correspondent, of abandoning Fez and taking refuge at Rabat, where he will establish his capital. A letter received from Fez says the foreign consuls there left for Rabat or Casablanca.

NO REGULAR MARKS.

Mining Man Found Cairns, But No Alaskan Boundary Monument.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 12.—Harold E. Canavan, a mining man, who was a member of the Alaskan boundary surveys of 1893-4-5, speaking of the stone monuments reported from the north, said Saturday that his party found cairns in many places, both in the Rockies and Southeastern Alaska, but they were placed in no conformity, or regularity, and could not possibly have been boundry marks. They were found in out of the way places and were widely scattered. The cairns ranged from 4 to 5 feet high, and were about 6 feet in diameter. They had obviously been built by human agency, but why and how was a mystery to the party, for some were found in most inaccessible places, on mountains which were climbed by the surveyors to get their triangulations.

COST OF THE DURBAR.

Indian Government Will Pay $3,750,000 —Total Cost $10,000,000.

London Jan. 12.—Cable despatches received from Delhi Saturday announce the departure from there of the Viceroy, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, and Lady Curzon, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and other notabilities, and the end of the Durbar display. People are now beginning to estimate the cost of the festivities. According to one estimate, cabled from Delhi, the Indian Government will have to pay over $3,750,000, and Lord Curzon himself is supposed to have spent many thousands of pounds sterling in entertaining his personal guests. Among the native princes, the Nizam of Hyderabad heads the list, with expenses of $500,000. The total cost of this unparalleled show is estimated at considerably over $10,000,000.

VENEZUELA IN DISTRESS.

Mr. Bowen Reports That Caracas Suffers From Blockade.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Minister Bowen telegraphed the State Department Saturday that he would leave Venezuela Sunday for the United States He says there is great suffering in Venezuela on account of the blockade. This suffering is especially pronounced in Caracas, where there was much distress caused by the revolution and stagnation of business long before the trouble with the powers came to a head. Minister Bowen and his wife have for four or five months fed a hundred Venezuelans at the American Legation every day. American missionaries in Venezuela have sent appeals for aid of the suffering to this country.

Loss Nearly $75,000.

London, Jan. 12.—The loss at the McClary Manufacturing Company's fire Friday night is now estimated at between $65,000 and $75,000; fully insured.

TOWN COUNCIL'S MEETING.

Mayor and Aldermen Were Sworn in This Morning.

Some Communications Were Read—Accounts Passed—Committees.

The inaugural meeting of the Peterborough Town Council was held at 11 o'clock this morning.

The clerk read a communication from the returning officer stating that the following had been elected:

Mayor, G. M. Roger; Aldermen, Messrs. H. Best, J. Corkery, Jos. Batten, Robt. Clinkskale, R. F. McWilliams, Jas. Finnie, H. Rush, M. A. Morrow, B. Shortly and Jas. Edgecumbe and D. O'Connell.

The Clerk also announced that the newly elected members had subscribed to the usual oath of office.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and disposed of as follows:

From John Fanning and Frank Range, applying for remission of statute labour tax, they being ratepayers.

From the Post Master General, re town postal delivery.—Received.

From the Orillia Board of Trade, enclosing a copy of a resolution that was passed by that body, and forwarded to the Ontario Government, asking the legislature to pass legislation absolutely prohibiting bonusing.—Received.

ACCOUNTS

were received and referred to the Finance Committee as follows:

COMMITTEES.

Ald. Corkery moved, seconded by Ald. Shortly, that the following committee be appointed to strike the Standing Committees: — Messrs. Best, Shortly, Edgecumbe, Morrison and Corkery.

Ald. Morrison moved in amendment that the Mayor be given power to select the Standing Committees. He thought that the Mayor was in a position to know who should go on the various committees.

Mr. Edgecumbe thought a good deal along the same line as Ald Morrison. He thought that it might be wise to have the Mayor select the chairmen of the various committees, and that the chairmen then select the committees.

Mayor Roger did not wish to assume this authority, however.

Ald. Morrison withdrew his motion, and Ald. Corkery's motion carried.

Ald. McWilliams thought that the council might reduce the number of committees. It was not absolutely necessary that every alderman should have a chairmanship. He reviewed the make-up of the various committees, endeavouring to show that several committees might be amalgamated.

Mayor Roger suggested that the committee be given power to recommend the appointment of auditors and report to the council this evening.

Council then adjourned.

ACCIDENT IN RAILWAY YARD.

Conductor Alcott Seriously Injured in Lindsay on Tuesday.

(Lindsay Post.)

A serious accident occurred in the yards here yesterday afternoon. An extra freight train was being made up, and Conductor Jas. Alcott was looking after the placing of the cars by the yard engine. While making a flying shunt, and hanging on to the side rods of the car, he leaned too far out and his head came in contact with the disc of the switch. He was knocked off the car by the force of the blow, and his head was very badly cut.

Greetings by Wireless.

Washington, Jan. 12.—President Roosevelt yesterday consented to prepare and have transmitted over his signature the first formal message from the United States by wireless telegraphy across the Atlantic Ocean. It will be directed to King Edward. The message will formally open the Cape Cod Marconi Station, which it is expected, will be ready in about 10 days.

Sir Richard Smoked Out.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—Fire Saturday night did about $2,000 damage to the house of Sir Richard Cartwright on O'Connor street. It originated in a grate, and the parlors and most of the upstairs were badly damaged. Sir Richard is the guest of Hon. Mr. Blair, who lives immediately opposite.

THE TWO EXTREMES

About the time children begin to go to school they are liable to be confronted with one of two extremes—they may either grow too fast or not grow fast enough. In the former case nature makes unusual demands upon bone and blood; vital organs are overtaxed and growth continues out of proportion to their age. Here is where Scott's Emulsion finds scope for its best workings.

It nourishes the bones,—the hypophosphites of lime and soda do this; it feeds and enriches the blood—this through the pure cod liver oil; it strengthens the whole system, providing firm, healthy flesh and fortifying the tissues so that they are better able to stand the extra strain upon them.

When a child is not growing as it should—undersize, underweight, there will be found in Scott's Emulsion the very elements needed to aid in proper development. Bone food for the bones, blood food for the blood, tissue food for the tissues—that is how Scott's Emulsion provides for each demand of the body. There is a uniform change for the better wherever there is need of new strength and more and better nourishment.

These claims are not made off-hand. We know from nearly thirty years contact with such cases that Scott's Emulsion will do just what we say it will do. We will be glad to send you a sample free so that you can judge for yourself.

LOUD TALK VS. REAL RESULTS.

"All three seats were stolen," says the Mail and Empire. "The Ross Government bought all three seats," says the Hamilton Spectator. "That statement," it adds, "will surprise nobody. The record of the Grit machine is such that no deviltry it may be guilty of can excite surprise."

One thing is quite certain: The Province of Ontario and the constituencies, one by one, are losing good names by this incessant talk of robbery, bribery and corruption. Perhaps there never was in any country such a deluge of talk about electoral fraud as the Opposition speakers and newspapers in Ontario have indulged in for a couple of years past. The air has been sulphurous with it.

It is about time the Conservative party made good its charges. If these three bye-elections were either bought or stolen, the mass of the people, without regard to their party leanings, want to have the thing proven.

In the meantime, men of independent mind may find it interesting to examine the results, so far as they are gathered in, of the enquiries into the election methods of both parties in the last general elections.

A Conservative has been unseated in North Perth.

A Conservative has been unseated in North Norfolk.

A Liberal has been unseated in North Grey.

Elections have since been held in these three constituencies, and in all of them Liberals have been elected by large majorities.

But other proceedings are to follow, growing out of the general elections, against—

A Conservative in Sault Ste Marie;
A Conservative in Centre Bruce;
A Liberal in North York.

Here again are two Conservatives being attacked and only one Liberal. The same thing is found in regard to cases going to appeal. The appeals are against—

A Conservative in South Oxford;
A Conservative in Lennox;
A Liberal in East Middlesex.

How can the unprejudiced onlooker reconcile this showing with the wholesale accusations made by Mr. Whitney, his lieutenants, and his newspapers? So far one Liberal has been unseated and two Conservatives. Of the election trials still to be held, one is against a Liberal and two against Conservatives; of the appeal cases, one is against a Liberal, and two against Conservatives. There is nothing here to show that the election methods of the Liberals were worse than those of the Conservatives.

Is it not high time that Mr. Whitney and his followers made good their wild talk? So far they have not justified their charges. They come worse out of the courts than the Liberals that they denounce so fiercely. They charge successful Liberal candidates with the most heinous offences, and then saw off petitions and drop proceedings.

They indulge in brag, bluster, fury and defamation, but fail to make good the charge that they were robbed. When they do get into the courts, as in the legal actions following the general elections of last May, they are hit harder, as we have shown, than the Government, whose methods they so furiously denounce.—Toronto Star.

WEDNESDAY'S BYE-ELECTIONS.

The Opposition Fail to Live up to Their Professions.

Toronto Saturday Night.

The result of Wednesday's byetions is to give the Government a majority of five, with one vacant constituency, North Renfrew. The latter can be carried by the Government, and so can any other ridings which may be opened, judging from the results in Grey, Perth and Norfolk. This means that there is an end for the present, as there ought to be an end, to the state of political turmoil and deadlock which was becoming chronic in this province, and which threatened to become intolerable. The gentleman from Morrisburg and his followers, must go back into the wilderness for yet another term of penitence and trial; the promised land of power is not yet for them. If they are wise, they will profit by their reverses and avail themselves of this opportunity for sincere self-examination, to ascertain whether they have deserved victory; however much the Government may have merited punishment. No party can expect to win on the mistakes and shortcomings of its opponents; it must have some saving grace, and at least, a few scattered virtues of its own.

Though Mr. Whitney has come so near to the prize for which his party has struggled unsuccessfully for thirty mortal years, he is now, perhaps, further from it than ever before. In street parlance it will probably be found that henceforth he is a political "dead un," for no party can afford to ignore public opinion by persistently carrying the thrice rejected and discredited on the front seat of the band wagon. If the Opposition had been able to create any genuine enthusiasm or to have fired the imagination of the people, they would not find themselves conducting a disastrous and hopeless rear-guard action. But they sought to fix attention on the sins and shortcomings of the administration instead of developing qualities of their own which would command not only and compel respect. While complaining of widespread electoral fraud and corruption they were themselves not unspattered with political dirt. Could anything be more sickening than their late course in compromising with the evil that they had denounced, instead of turning on the light, as it was their duty to do, both to the public and to themselves, if they were sincere in their professions, and honestly determined to expose and exterminate the "machine?" How could they expect to be taken seriously in their outcry against political crookedness when they were industriously seeking their own safety in the disreputable game of "saw-off," and compounding the felonies which they alleged in more than one constituency, by accepting the abandonment of seats as ample expiation for the offences charged, thus burking investigation, and burying the truth?

Everyone is sick of the Conservative cry of "Foul play!"—not because the conscience of Ontario is callous, but because the men who whiningly repeat this parrot phrase have done so little to justify its reiteration. The Mail comes out the morning after the bye-elections, and heads its editorial on the result with the words "Every Seat Stolen." The old tune is grown musty, its catchiness is on the wane, and the organ will have to grind out a new jig if it wants to gather a crowd. I do not suppose for one minute that the bye-elections were clean on either side. Possibly, and even probably, there was more wrong-doing on the side which had everything to lose and possessed the resources and organization of government, than on the part of those who were virtuous only because they were poor. But, however, this may be, the Conservative party can no longer expect to create a stir by general charges of the sort the Mail advances. They had their opportunity, if at all, after the elections of last May, but they signally failed to live up to their professions as probers and punishers of corruption.

TALKED OF RECIPROCITY.

Hon. Mr. Sifton Discusses Subject With Free Trade Minnesotans.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 12.—International reciprocity between Canada and the United States was the theme of a conference Saturday between the Hon. Clifford Sifton, Canadian Minister of the Interior, and a committee of Minnesotans, representing the National Reciprocity League.

The committee was strongly in favor of reciprocity, and some of its members went so far as to advocate absolute free trade between the countries.

Mr. Sifton said that when the Reciprocity Commission went away disappointed from Washington five years ago, it was a sad blow to reciprocity sentiment in Canada.

He thought that an educational campaign must first be undertaken in America before public sentiment could be aroused to a point where the matter could be urged to a definite conclusion.

DOMINION REVENUE.

Shows an Increase of $3,579,007 Over Same Period Last Year.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—During the six months ending December the revenue shows an increase of $3,579,007 over the same period last year.

The current expenditure was increased by about half a million dollars.

As compared with the six months last year there was a decrease in the capital expenditure of $2,577,238.

Thus the total expenditure is $2,109,776 less.

THE LIBERAL GAINS.

GAINS GENARAL IN HIS RIDING

Liberals in North Grey in at Least 80 Per Cent. of the Sub-Divisions All Over the Riding—Made Gains in Five Townships and Losses in Only Two—Blanket Charges Answered.

Toronto, Jan. 12.—The victorious Liberal candidate in North Grey, Mr. A. G. Mackay, M.P.P., arrived in the city on Saturday and had a brief interview with Premier Ross. When reminded of Mr. Whitney's statement that the Liberals had only gained in Owen Sound and that the victory did not represent the general feeling of the riding, Mr. Mackay at once took issue and said:—"The returns have not yet been accurately tabulated, but the indications were that we gained in at least 80 per cent. of the sub-divisions all over the riding. According to municipalities the Conservatives gained 25 in Meaford and only 8 in Derby Township, while the Liberals gained some 20 in St. Vincent Township, 50 in Sydenham, 10 or 12 in Sarawak, about 20 in Keppel, and 195 in the Town of Owen Sound. Our majority was 269 altogether. In other words, we gained in five municipalities and only lost in two, and those losses were slight.

As for outside assistance there is no room for doubt that the Conservatives had at least two men in the riding for our one. As to the general charge of Mr. Boyd that the riding was bought up, that is but a continuation of the cry raised last summer, which was dealt with by the courts, and there is nothing in it."

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But it ha Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump, it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming foods, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kind of food that makes flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough, and generally too much, the stomach from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate, which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beef steak and eggs and similar wholesome.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them, with marked benefit, as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people, strong, plump and well.

THE BOVRIL BEARER COMPANY. (From Army and Navy, London.)

London, Dec. 23.—Acting on the authority recently given by the War Office to form bearer companies for field hospital work as independent units attached to each Volunteer Brigade Bovril Limited, the well-known makers of army rations, and concentrated foods, have just formed a company of their own employes for service with the Fourth, or City of London, Brigade of Volunteers. The company was inaugurated by Major-General Sir Arthur Turner, C.B., R.A., who complimented the men in the highest terms on their smart and soldierly appearance, and spoke of the enthusiasm, patriotism and promptitude with which they had responded to their country's call for better equipment in this most important branch of the service. The new company has just been inspected by Colonel W. L. Gubbins, M.B., the principal medical officer for the Home District, accompanied by Captain Douglas, V.C., R.A.M.C., at its headquarters in Holborn Town Hall. The full strength of the Bovril Bearer Company was on parade, under command of Surgeon-Captain A. C. Tunstall, and was put through company and stretcher drill by Surgeon-Major R. E. Wilson. The men were also examined very closely by Colonel Gubbins upon "first aid," and the various modes in the treatment of the injured. At the close of the review, Colonel Gubbins, remarking that he was not given to flattery, praised the new company for its equipment, drill and general knowledge of field and hospital work. He closed by saying that he expected to be able to report the organization, after the next annual inspection, as one of the best Bearer Companies in the Home District.

SATURDAY'S COLLISION.

Freight Trains Meet Near Port Robinson —Fireman McHarg Killed—Engineers Slightly Injured.

St. Catharines, Jan. 12.—Another wreck occurred on the Grand Trunk Welland division at Port Robinson, about 6.10 o'clock Saturday morning between two freight trains, a double-header Grand Trunk and a Wabash. Up to 5 p.m. the main line was still blocked, although auxiliaries from Niagara Falls and Fort Erie had been working all day.

The accident happened just south of the Port Robinson Station at what is known as the "Gauntlet," very close to the Chippewa River. The double-header was going south on the Grand Trunk, engines No. 760 and No. 725, and Wabash engine 1,482, going west from Niagara Falls, crashed together.

The fireman on the Wabash, Robert McHarg, of London, was instantly killed and both G.T.R. engineers were slightly injured.

The wreck occurred at a point overlooking a steep embankment and both engines of the Grand Trunk train were hurled downwards. Several cars of both lines are piled up in a heap, two rolling in the river.

The accident is supposed to have been caused by the air brakes of the G. T. R. train failing to work. The weather was bitterly cold, the thermometer being about zero at the time of the accident. The dead fireman was terribly mangled and it is a miracle that more deaths did not occur. The other train hands jumped and saved their lives.

A Switchman Killed.

Winnipeg, Jan. 12.—Hugh McIntyre was killed while switching cars in the C. P. R. yards Saturday morning. When found he was alive, but died in a few moments. He was 27 years of age and unmarried, coming here six months ago from St. Thomas.

Killed by an Engine.

Middletown, N.Y., Jan. 12.— Seymour Carpenter, an air-brake inspector on the Ontario & Western Railway, was struck by an engine and killed here yesterday.

THE OPERATORS' SIDE.

Witness Testifies Against the Weekly Pay Day—1,700 Cars a Day.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12.—The coal companies opened Saturday before the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission. General Wilson presided.

The proceedings were opened by the Delaware and Hudson Company, the Independents counsel, James H. Torrey of Scranton, representing the company. After presenting the case of the company he represents in an address indicating what the company will try to prove Mr. Torrey called to the witness stand Charles S. Rose of Scranton, superintendent of the mining department of the company. Witness said that prior to the 1900 strike, the relations between the company and the men were cordial. After that strike most of the company's men joined the Miners' Union, which resulted in considerable discontent among the men and the breaking up of discipline in and about the mines. The witness stated it would be unwise to have weekly pay days.

On cross-examination by counsel for the miners, Mr. Rose said that prior to 1900 the contract miners earned $550 to $650 a year. He considered eight hours a fair day for the miners, but firemen should work 12 hours. While the law permitted 12-year-old boys to work on the breakers, he did not think boys of that age should be there. Two years ago he did not think the 10 per cent. increase given the men was fair, but he had since changed his mind. He could not, however, reconcile himself to the increase now asked.

More Than in Years.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 12.—The Pennsylvania & Reading Railway officials claim that for the week ending last night more anthracite coal was taken down the main line than for any previous week in years. The total is 10,200 of all classes of cars, or an average of 1,700 cars for each working day for the week, equal to nearly 225,000 tons. This was distributed in the company's yards as far as New York and along its branch in this State and elsewhere.

Thousands Without Work.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 12.—The Pennsylvania Steel Works, at Shelton, was closed down indefinitely on account of the lack of fuel, throwing several thousand men out of work. The company is crowded with orders, and efforts are being made to secure enough fuel to resume operations next week.

"Get Coal" Agitation.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The "Get Coal" Committee appointed in Detroit last fall met here Saturday and decided to call a national convention at Washington for the purpose of impressing on President Roosevelt the urgent need for immediate relief from the stringency of the coal situation.

Pastors Help Confiscation.

Arcola, Ill., Jan. 12.—Yesterday was a day of rare excitement in Arcola. For two weeks the city and surrounding country have been in the throes of a fuel famine. This was broken Saturday when an Illinois Central train, consisting of sixteen cars of coal billed for Chicago was stopped by a crowd of 200 citizens and confiscated. On the crowd were two pastors of local churches.

Anthracite Coal in Canada

New York, Jan. 12.—The Tribune says: Anthracite coal of a desirable quality has been found in New Brunswick, Canada, and a company has been formed to mine it and prepare it for market, according to J. R. Fennell, St. John, N. B.

Poison Caused Death.

Hamilton, Jan. 10.—The inquest on the death of John Cardwell was continued last night. After hearing evidence for over an hour and a half, the jury retired, and in a few minutes brought in this verdict: "The deceased came to his death from the effects of a virulent poison, but whether taken accidentally or otherwise there is no evidence to show."

The body was yesterday removed to Toronto for burial.

250 MEN GO ON STRIKE.

Moulders and Annealers in McKinnon Works, St. Catharines, Ont.

St. Catharines, Jan. 12.—About 250 employes of the McKinnon, Dash & Metal Works Co., went on strike Saturday morning, and as a result the company's works are closed down. The trouble centres in the moulding and annealing rooms, where the men ask for a better scale of wages and better regulations. The moulders ask that a schedule of prices for piece work be arranged so that a first-class moulder will not average less than $2 per day. The 33 annealers are receiving 12½ cents an hour, but demand 15 cents per hour.

The men working in the other departments went out on strike in sympathy with their fellow-workers.

WINDSOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Mrs. William Belsom, With Her Clothing in Flames, Rushes Through the House Screaming For Help.

Windsor, Jan. 12. — Mrs. Belsom, wife of Mr. William Belsom, of this city, Saturday night while descending the cellar stairs at her home on Windsor avenue slipped and fell, scattering coal oil all over her clothing from the lamp she was carrying. With her dress ablaze the unfortunate woman managed to climb the steep stairs into the dining-room, and rushed past the table, the cloth of it catching fire. In her excitement, and wild with pain, she threw herself into a cane-bottom chair, and the bottom was burned out of it. Continually screaming, she managed to get into the parlor, where she fell on the floor. All of this took place in a few seconds, so rapidly that by the time her daughter, Miss May Belsom, who was on the second floor, could reach her mother her injuries were such that efforts toward saving her life were seen to be useless. Two men on the street also heard the woman's screams and rushed in, but Mrs. Belsom was dying when they arrived. Her face and hands wer burned black, and the carpet where she fell was destroyed.

Another heartrending feature of the accident was the fact that her husband, who is chief engineer on the Grand Trunk Railway transfer, which was stuck in the ice on the Lansdowne, was on board that boat river, and not until yesterday morning did the terrible news reach him. Mr. Belsom is a member of the License Board and a retiring member of the School Board. Beside the husband and daughter Mrs. Belsom leaves a son, William Belsom, jun.

Millionaire's Daughter Burned to Death.

New York, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Florine Henry, the wife of Philip S. Henry, a wealthy coffee merchant, and daughter of the late millionaire banker, Leonard Lewison, was burned to death early Saturday in a fire that almost entirely destroyed the residence of the family on East Fifty-sixth street.

NEW ARCHBISHOP SCOTCH.

Rev. Dr. Davidson's Appointment Meets With General Approval.

London, Jan. 12. — While Ireland seems bent on getting as much out of her partnership with England as possible, Scotland is not behind hand in appropriating any good things that may be going. Balfour is Scotch, Sir Robert Finlay, the Attorney-General, who probably will be the next Lord Chancellor, is Scotch, and Davidson, the new Archbishop of Canterbury, also is Scotch.

Dr. Davidson's appointment meets with general approval. He is a man of infinite taste, discretion, and courtesy, is moderate in his ecclesiastic views, and will administer wisely and justly. He enjoys the confidence of the King and Queen in a measure accorded to no other cleric. Queen Victoria regarded him as a close personal friend.

Dr. Davidson retained Queen Victoria's confidence till her death. He was present at her side when she passed away at Osborne, and it was he who preached before the King at Whippingham the first Sunday after her death. As Dean of Windsor, for many years resident chaplain to Her Majesty, he was the confidant of all her private griefs and her counsellor on many occasions of grave anxiety.

MR. HANBURG'S IDEA.

Demand For Imposition of Duties on Agricultural Produce.

London, Jan. 12.—The President of the Board of Agriculture, Mr. Hanbury, speaking at Leicester Saturday, promised the agriculturists every assistance which the Government was in a position to grant them. He said that while the demand for the imposition of protective duties on imported agricultural produce was like "crying for the moon," it was interesting to see how far the foreigner could be made to pay on many of the articles he exported without injuring the home consumer. The existing grain duty was an object lesson in its line.

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish, and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Street Car Men Strike.

Waterbury, Conn., Jan. 12.—All the motormen and conductors employed by the Connecticut Lighting and Power Company in this city, numbering about 140, went on strike at midnight Saturday night, and since then no cars have run in the city. The discharge of three men for violation of rules was the cause of the strike. The employes demand their reinstatement and a new wage scale. Trolley connection with Naugatuck, Waterville and Oakville is cut off.

Infants to Aid Tests.

Washington, Jan. 12. — Dr. Wiley will establish an infant class to aid the Government in its test of food preservatives. The babies will be nourished at the public expense for three or four years.

Boers to Fight With British.

Pretoria, Jan. 12.—One hundred men, including twenty former Boer soldiers, will leave here for Somaliland to-day to join the British expedition against the Mad Mullah.

Permanent Cure for Neuralgia.

Experienced sufferers state that no remedy relieves neuralgia so quickly as a hot application of Polson's Nerviline, the strongest liniment made. Nerviline is certainly very penetrating and has a powerful influence over neuralgic pains, which it destroys almost at once. Nerviline is highly recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Toothache. Better try a 25c bottle; it's all right. No Pills like Dr. Hamilton's.

DOMINION OIL CO., LIMITED,

Of Petrolia, Ont.

CAPITAL $850,000

Divided into 850,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable.

TREASURY STOCK--WORKING CAPITAL.....$400,000.

No Bonds, Preferred Stock, nor Indebtedness.

THIS COMPANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED under the Ontario Companies Act, in accordance with all the requirements of the law, and formally licensed by the Provincial Government to carry on the business of the production and sale of oil. Since the company has been formed and will be conducted solely as a strictly commercial enterprise, the capital has been placed at the business figure of only $850,000, though its known assets would amply justify a far higher amount.

THE PROPERTIES in which it is interested comprise 1530 ACRES in the heart of the Raleigh Oil District, nine miles south of Chatham, Ont., and INCLUDE THE FAMOUS GURD GUSHER, the greatest oil well ever discovered in the Dominion.

THE OIL STRATUM on this property lies only from 300 to 450 feet below the surface, thus making the expense of drilling wells very much less than in the deep fields of Texas and California. The oil itself is an exceptionally high grade illuminating oil, for which there is always a demand far in excess of the supply.

THE STANDARD OIL CO. is now purchasing this oil at $1.93 per barrel at the well, having immediately upon the discovery constructed a pipe line to the field, and extensive storage facilities at the railroad. The Independent Refinery at Petrolia, is also now making connections with the Michigan Central R. R. tracks to the field, in order to secure a share of the output, for which it offers TWO DOLLARS per barrel. The Dominion Oil Co., Limited, therefore has a CASH MARKET IMMEDIATELY AT HAND FOR ITS ENTIRE PRODUCT, and NO TRANSPORTATION CHARGES to interfere with its distribution.

THE SHREWD INVESTOR will instantly note the wide contrast between a property like this, with cash customers eager to absorb every barrel of the output at a high price, as against the Beaumont Fuel Oil at 5 cents, and the Kern River product at 20 cents a barrel, with almost prohibitive freight rates.

THE GURD GUSHER flows 20 barrels an hour, which, at the price now paid for it assures the company a yearly return from one well alone of over $350,000.

THE MANAGEMENT is in the hands of practical oil men of large experience and fully acquainted with all the details of the oil business. Mr. M. J. Woodward, the president, is a graduate from the Shell Transportation Company, the Standard Oil Company's great English rival, and also has a record of valuable service rendered in the Anglo-Russian Oil Company. Mr. Alfred T. Gurd, an active director, is one of the oldest oil men in Canada, having 35 years' experience in the business, and it is entirely to him and to Mr. Woodward that the full appreciation and development of the Raleigh field is due. In the hands of such men the advancement of this company's affairs to the fullest possible success is assured.

A LARGE NUMBER OF WELLS will immediately be drilled and thus develop as rapidly as possible the full producing power of this property. For this purpose the sale of a limited issue of the Treasury Stock has been authorized by the directors, and the same is now offered to the public at the extremely low price of 35c. Per Share.

THOSE SECURING AN INTEREST in the company at this price will realize profits equal to if not exceeding those of any other industrial enterprise ever placed before the public.

CASH EARNINGS FROM THE START are among the unusual advantages enjoyed by this company. It could declare very much larger dividends at once, but the directors deem it better business policy to distribute only a small portion of the profits in this manner at present; therefore monthly dividends of ONE PER CENT. on PAR, (equalling THREE PER CENT ON THE CURRENT PRICE), will be paid on the first of each month to all stockholders of record the 15th of the preceding month, COMMENCING FEB. FIRST, 1903.

Call or send for prospectus and full information, free on request.

Make all checks, drafts, etc., payable to the order of the Fiscal Agents.

Made a Hit.

The Omemee Mirror in speaking of the appearance of Miss Carrie White, of Peterborough, in that town says:—"Miss Carrie White, of Peterborough, a little Miss of ten years, captivated her hearers by her elocutionary efforts. Possessed of a wonderful quickness of movement and power of memory, this young lady gives her recitation in a very unique way and with an ability, sometimes lacking in those, who are older. All her renditions were excellent but especially did she please the audience with her rendering of 'Johnny Canuck.'"

MISS BOOTH'S VISIT TO TOWN

Large Crowds Greet her in the Salvation Army Barracks.

Her Address Last Night was Most Interesting—A Rousing Reception.

The visit of Miss Evangeline Booth here has been looked forward to with much interest by the people of Peterborough. She was met at the local station by a delegation from the Peterborough corps, and escorted to the Simcoe street barracks.

A large crowd greeted Miss Booth when she appeared at the barracks on Saturday evening. Her text was "Watchman, what of the night?" to which she did justice, with her usual power and eloquence. The meeting concluded at an early hour, and Miss Booth was afterwards entertained by Adjt. Moore.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, a fair audience gathered in the barracks, and though somewhat fatigued by the previous evening, Miss Booth was equal to the occasion, and gave an excellent address.

Again, at three o'clock the hall was filled. Staff-Capt. Page presided at the piano. Lt.-Col. Pugmire rendered a vocal selection entitled, "Follow me." Staff Capt. Morris led the singing with his cornet. Miss Booth based her subject on Romans 1, 8, and spoke of the duty of Gratitude, referring to an experience in her early life as an example of thankfulness. When visiting a slum district in London, England, she found a man cold, sick, and dying. When she entered the room he begged her to hand him a crust; on doing so, he ravenuously put it to his mouth, then suddenly stopped, put his bony hands together, and asked a blessing on his food. She also spoke on the power of faith, as illustrated by the examples of the martyrs.

During the afternoon, Adjt. and Mrs. Moore of the Peterborough corps, were promoted to Staff-Captains, and many kind words spoken of their faithfulness in their past work.

At 7 p.m., needless to say, the throng that attended the meeting was almost too large for all to find accommodation. Steps and platform were crowded. No one was disappointed, for the last sermon was all that the previous ones had been. The gathering dispersed at a late hour.

Miss Booth and her party took the 7.12 train this morning for Toronto, with the good wishes of the people of Peterborough.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Held a Meeting This Morning—The Visitation of Schools.

At the regular monthly Ministerial Association meeting held this morning Rev. Dr. Torrance gave an epitome of the book "Ecce Deus." The discussion which followed was participated in by the various local ministers, and by Rev. Canon Richardson, of London, who was present.

The arrangements re the weekly visitation of schools will come into effect shortly after the re-opening.

The Association again had up for discussion the matter of late shopping on Saturday nights, and steps are being taken to help miminize this evil as far as possible. Further reference to this matter will be made in another issue.

VARSITY WAS DEFEATED.

First Grand Match in Peterborough's New Rink.

The Score was 10 to 8—Peterborough Team not yet in Best of Form.

The defeat of the Varsity hockey team on Saturday night by the Peterborough seven was nothing more than was expected in view of the fact that the touring Collegians have been trimmed most elegantly in every town they have visited on their eastern tour. However, many may have thought that the score of 10 to 8 would be more one sided and the result of the game has set many of the local fans wondering as to the probable strength of the Peterborough seven as compared with Belleville and Port Hope. The Examiner will venture no predictions. Peterborough has in former years played the game on the ice and not on paper as is frequently the case with the teams of other towns not 1,000 miles away.

The game commenced at about a quarter to nine o'clock, with Mr. Jim McCabe as referee. The Varsity boys were slightly the heavier of the two teams and are a fleety lot of players. They work hard, check close and heavy and shoot from far out on the ice which on Saturday was very effective. They have had the advantage of more practice this year than the locals of course, and this served them to good advantage as the game progressed.

The locals were not in their best form by any means and showed clearly the lack of team play which was impossible to obtain until recently owing to the lateness of the completion of the new rink. The seven was composed of five of last year's team, — Glover, Armstrong, Roy Armstrong, Whitcroft and Morgan. In addition to these there was Orough who played goal and Bill Cavanagh, who is not new to the hockey loving public of Peterborough. It might be said at the outset that the Peterborough team must put up a greater degree of combination play than was in evidence in Saturday night's game.

INDIVIDUAL PLAY.

It would be unjust to accuse the Peterborough players of playing to the galleries as was customary in years past, and the individuality which characterized the game throughout was most likely due to the fact that the boys have not become accustomed to each others play. Roy Armstrong and Whitcroft had a tendancy in this line and appeared somewhat selfish at times. Glover appeared to interfer with the work of Orough in goal and seemed to miss the services of Wasson who was always ready with suggestions that were effective. Harold Armstrong at cover point in first half showed up with his old accustomed energy but the lack of training was in evidence most decidedly towards the close of the game. It is not unfair criticism to say that Harold held the puck a little too long at times considering his condition. However, his play was pretty and aroused all the old time enthusiasm in his friends who look forward with confidence to his work on the ice this season. Morgan endeavoured more than any other man perhaps to put up combination play and on the whole played his reliable easy, though effective game, whilst Cavanagh, who re-appeared after two years' absence, caused the spectators to marvel at his bullet-like shots on his opponent's goal. He had a slight desire to play off side, however. He might have been quicker in returning when he lost the puck and should play a little more up on the line. It was something new to see Cavanagh on the forward line. His weight proved to be a great help to the team and he will no doubt soon be in prime condition. Orough, the deaf mute, who was tried out at goal was given a fine chance and was not disappointing. The shots he stopped, strange to say were those that were the closest, whilst those from well up the rink went in the net. He will be given another opportunity, most likely to demonstrate his ability against Belleville on Friday evening next.

LOCATING THE NETS.

The entire Peterborough team appeared to have difficulty in locating the nets. Shot after shot skimmed the net just a triffle outside and the Varsity umpire looked amazed as the puck left Cavanagh's stick and struck the boards to the rear. But the Peterborough team had a desire to take the puck offside, which was not for a moment countenanced by the referee. The game was not by any means rough. Only one man adorn the fence, Whitcroft going off for two minutes for slashing an opponents stick after the puck had gone down the rink. During the game Evans of the visitors had to retire to waken up his leg which had gone asleep by reason of its having been laced too tight, and Morgan went off to even up. The game was pretty to watch, but the public have not yet been awakened up to their full pitch of enthusiasm. The visitors were well pleased with their treatment and expressed a wish to return to Peterborough at an early date.

Varsity scored the first goal, but at half time the score was 5—4 in favour of Peterborough, and at no time throughout did it look as though the visitors were going to win out.

The teams were as follows:—

Peterborough — Goal, Crough; point, Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, W. Cavanah, Roy Armstrong, Morgan and Whitcroft.

Varsity — Goal, Lush, point, Evans; cove rpoint, Wright; forwards, Gilbert, Houser, Wood and Dillabaugh.

Referee, Jas. McCabe, Peterborough.

POLICE COURT.

Woman Charged With Keeping House of ill Fame.

Mrs. Sutherland, of 48 Cedar street, was arrested this morning, charged with keeping a house of ill repute. Mabel Smith was charged with being an inmate of the same. They were both remanded until Friday next.

MR. McCALLUM GOING.

Is Now Chief Engineer of the Canada Foundry Co.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. A. C. McCallum will, while rejoicing in his good fortune, regret to learn that he is leaving town to accept the position of Chief Engineer for the Canada Foundry Company, Toronto. Mr. McCallum has been a resident of Peterborough for the past 14 years, during which time he has been connected with the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company. Mr. McCallum will be greatly missed in Peterborough, having been prominently identified with Y.M.C.A. work. He will move his family to Toronto at once.

—Hear the Best company of Bell Ringers in existence at George-st. church, to-night. 25c and 15c.

WAS A GRAND OPENING.

1500 People at Peterborough's New Rink.

The Attendance was More Than Surprising—Accommodation was Excellent.

Peterborough's new hockey rink was opened to the public patronage for the first time on Saturday night, the occasion being an exhibition hockey match between the Toronto University seven and the Peterborough seniors, last year's champions of the O.H.A. Intermediate series. The locals were victorious by a score of 10 to 8.

The opening of the new rink, for hockey purposes at least, was attended with great enthusiasm on the part of the public, and the management of the company have reason to be satisfied with the results of the first night's attraction, which, if taken as a criterion of the season's business would indicate that the erection of a new rink in Peterborough was not only justified by the requirement of better facilities for accommodating the crowds that attend matches in Peterborough, but by the belief that it will be a paying investment to the stockholders. The match was attended by over 1500 people. When one considers that the match was only an exhibition contest, and the public has not as yet become fully enthused over the game this season, it must be concluded that before the season's close the new Brock street rink will have its capacity of 2,000 people, taxed to the utmost. On Saturday night the doors were not thrown open to the public until 7.30 o'clock. Long before that hour, however, many people swarmed around the corner of Brock and George streets, and a solid mass of humanity waited impatiently for admission. When the doors swung open there was a general rush, and the door keepers were kept on the hustle.

Those who attended Saturday night's game were much struck with the contrast between the old
